SERVICE TO PLAINS, TEXAS

New Plains Farm Supply Service Center located at Denver City.

NEW FARM MACHINERY SERVICE OPENED

The Plains Farm Supply of Plains held an open house at the new farm machinery service center two miles west of Denver City last Friday. The service center occupies a new building recently constructed by the company. The center consists of a large stock of parts and supplies for the John Deere line of farm machinery as well as many supplies for general machinery users such as oils, greases, tools and many other items. A large supply of bolts, nuts and storage batteries occupy a large portion of the floor space in the front room. In addition there is a large well equipped shop with a capacity sufficient to service from 6 to 8 tractors at one time.

Opening Friday morning with coffee and doughnuts for everyone the Farm Supply played host to a goodly gathering of approximately 75 customers and visitors and John Deere officials throughout the day. At 5:30 p. m., a drawing was held of the names of the guest that had registered. Henry Ramos, the nine year old son of Manual Ramos, drew the lucky names from the box. Those receiving door prizes were: M.M. Hand, Loop, Tex., 5 gallons of transmission oil; James McNew, Seminole, Tex., a hand grease gun and pressure oil can;

Annetta Graham, daughter of Buster Graham of Plains, Tex., a John Deere toy set; Doyle Roland, Denver City, Tex., one box of gun grease and box of oil filters; Wilson Duke of Plains, Tex., a diesel fuel filter.

Mr. Loyd Alsop, Owner and Manager of this fine store personally was present to greet the visitors and display the Center. The new Center, in addition to the large store and shop at Plains, places the Farm Supply in a position to give excellent and complete service to its many customers in this territory.

INVITATIONAL 4-H PLAY DAY WINNERS

By Leo L. White, CAA
Cochran County 4-H Club was the winner of the trophy presented to the visiting county making the most points at the Yoakum County Invitational Play Day held Saturday, August 23, in the Plains Rodeo Arena. Four-H Club members from five counties participated in the events. A total of 43 boys and girls were competing in four age groups. The 258 points given in the six events were divided by counties as follows: Yoakum, 99; Cochran, 81; Terry, 79; Gaines, 60; and Bailey, 39. Twenty of the 43 contestants were Yoakum County 4-H members who had been participating in the local play days. The visiting counties were represented by their top performers. Terry County entered eight, Cochran and Gaines Counties entered six each and Bailey County had three entries.
Twenty four individual trophies were presented during the day, one to the first place winner of each contest. Yoakum County 4-H'ers were able to keep eight of the trophies. Cochran County won six; Terry County won five; Bailey County, three; and Gaines County, two.
Mr. Darrel Lindsey of Plains did a very commendable job of judging the western pleasure classes and the reining classes. Mr. Billy Winn, the president of the Yoakum County 4-H Horse Leaders, put in a long day and was responsible for a very successful invitational play day. Many other 4-H adult leaders worked at the many jobs that have to be done for a program such as this to be a success. The arena was in excellent condition for the play day after the big tractor and tandem disc from Plains Farm Supply was used to work up the wet ground.

ANNUAL FARM TOUR PLANNED

The Annual Tour of field crops in Yoakum County is scheduled for the morning of Friday, September 2. The route of the tour is not definite but it will be a show of many of the crop demonstrations and up-to-date practices used in producing grain sorghum and cotton.

The 1969 tour is scheduled at an earlier date than usual in order to be able to see the grain sorghum crops before they are harvested. Another reason for moving the date forward is to get ahead of a very popular television program. The tour has been held during the first week in October and it sometimes conflicted with a world series baseball game which kept many people at home who would have otherwise been on the tour.

We hope you will keep this date open and make plans to attend.

DAN SMOOT TO SPEAK AT LUBBOCK

The American Party of Texas will hold a special $10.00 plate dinner at the Ko Ko Palace in Lubbock August 29th, at 7:30 p. m. The speaker for the occasion will be Dan Smoot of Dallas, Texas, author and publisher of, "The Dan Smoot Report," a widely circulated radio and television news report and commentary.

Mr. Smoot, who received his B. A. and M. A. degrees at Southern Methodist University, is truly a Texan. After studying for a doctorate of philosophy in American Civilization at Harvard, he served 9 years with the FBI, 3 1/2 years of which were on communist investigations. For two years, he was on the FBI headquarters staff in Washington. On leaving the FBI, Mr. Smoot spent four years on the staff of Facts Forum in Dallas, where his broadcasts were heard over many radio and television stations. Mr. Smoot resigned from the Facts Forum in 1955 to start his own publication, The Dan Smoot Report.

Mr. Smoot is described as a "Political Constitutionalist", who feels that we must decentralize governmental power and re-establish the American federation of sovereign states, held together in union by a federal government, whose powers are clearly specified and limited by the constitution.

RALPH DUCAN TO SPEAK AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Mr. Loyd Alsop, President of the Plains Chamber of Commerce has announced that a special meeting of the board of directors and committee chairmen of the chamber will be held September 9th at 3:00 p. m. at the Plains State Bank. Mr. Ralph Duncan, membership director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will be present to speak at this meeting. Mr. Duncan will present a general outline of the West Texas Chamber's program and discuss the problems confronting the local board in its reorientation and reorganizing of the local organization.

The Plains Chamber of Commerce is very fortunate in having Mr. Duncan present for this meeting as well as being fortunate in having the cooperation of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The early morning Chamber of Commerce meeting last week at Alma's Restaurant was an interesting and informative meeting. Mayor Edwards reported on the Du Pont dedication of the Plains desalination plant, describing the program and the many dignitaries who were present to participate in the dedication.

Garland Swann discussed the need for more market for farm produce and some of the possibilities of obtaining such markets. Tom Barnes of Goodpasture Grain described a few of the obstacles to be overcome in the grain price field and Hoss Newsom related some of the delicate problems related to the vegetable market.

Mr. G. D. Kennedy, superintendent of Plains Schools, outlined some of the requirements for a County Junior College stressing the need for volume of attendance for such a project in a community. After a general discussion of the subject it was voted unanimously by the membership that the Plains Chamber of Commerce should go on record as opposing the establishment of a Junior College in Yoakum County as a county institution.

The president of the Chamber, Mr. Alsop, again emphasized the importance of the organization within the community. He explained that the Chamber of Commerce is not merely a city organization of businesses, but a community organization of all businesses, farmers, gin companies, stock raisers and feeders, and every one interested in community growth and progress. Mr. Alsop asked that all board members and committeemen realize the importance of their position and lend their efforts in making this organization a live and active one.

As the determination and enthusiasm of the new leadership of this group is absorbed, important and progressive changes will be noted in the Plains area. For when people of a community move together, they move forward.

PLAINS VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Texas State Department of Health has announced that the week of October 5th through 11th will be Fire Prevention Week throughout the state.

S. L. Tingle, Fire Marshal for the Plains Volunteer Fire Department, stated that starting that week, all schools, churches and other public buildings will be inspected for fire hazards. All who are in charge of these buildings are advised to start now to prepare for this inspection. Home owners too are advised to check their premises for any trash that may have gathered about furnaces stoves or hot water heaters.

The Fire Marshal offers a bit of sagely advice which seldom would come to attention. He states that if all clothes hangers in the closet were hung with the hooks pointing the same way a fireman attempting to remove the clothes from a burning house could more quickly remove the clothing thus saving much that might otherwise be lost.

As the Marshal stated, it is people not things that causes fires and a bit of prevention can save a great loss.

he and his family will become residents in the near future. There will be a grand opening and drawing at the laundromat on September 6th at which a large turkey will be given away. Trent Laundromat and Dry Cleaners are also located in Brownfield and Denver City. It is the aim of the managers of these business to maintain a clean, efficient one stop laundry and dry cleaning establishment.

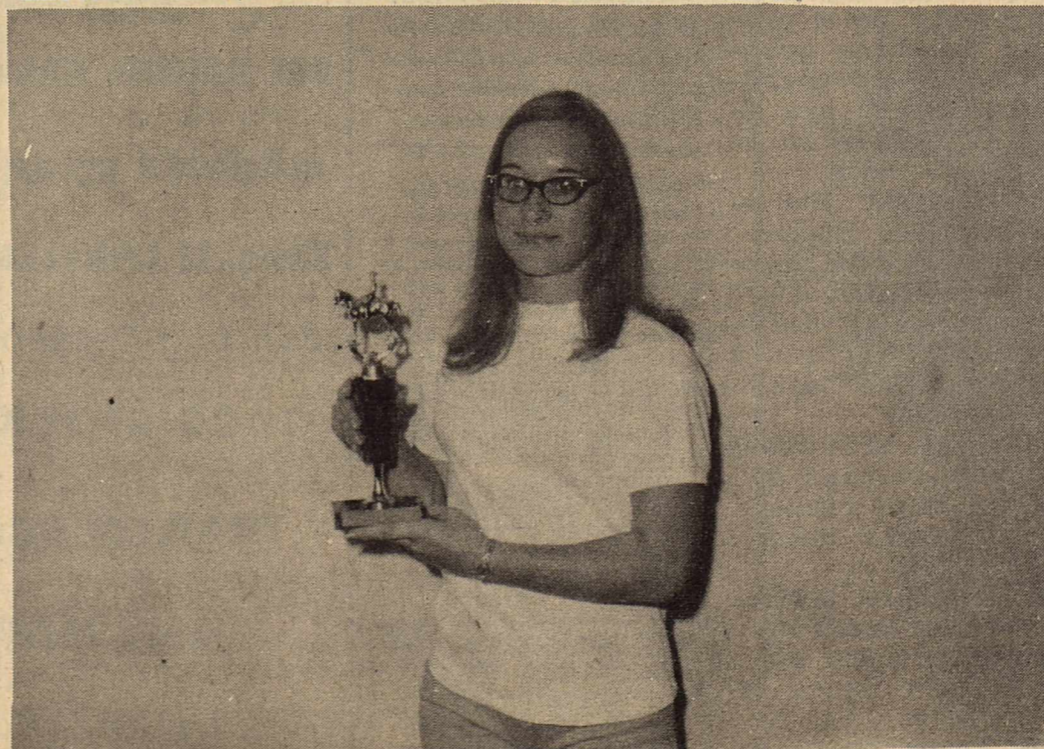

SIX COUNTY COMMITTEE DISCUSS FARM PROGRAM

A six county committee comprised of five men from each county met at noon August 20th at the Johnson House Restaurant in Lubbock.

Congressman George Mahon and Under Secretary of Agriculture, Clarence Palmby met with them to discuss the problems of agriculture in these six counties. The counties represented were Yoakum, Terry, Hockley, Bailey, Lam and Cochran. Chairman of this committee was Don Hamil. The committee was broken into five groups composing of cotton, Joe Pate, Chairman; Feed Grain, Clarence Christain, Chairman; Labor, Truman Bridges, Chairman; Finance, Thad Mc Donnell, Chairman; and Agriculture Business, George Seagler, Chairman.

This committee is composed of bankers, businessmen and farmers. The committee told Congressman Mahon and Mr. Palmby that until such a time that cotton and feed grains could receive a price comparable to other segments of the economy, we have to have government support. With our further extension of the farm programs, as we know

 NEW WATER

The age-old problem of scarce water and unfit water supply is giving way to the growth of modern, city-style water and sewer systems in small towns and farm areas of Texas.

The opening August 19 of the Madera Valley water system linking eight small communities in Reeves County south of Pecos, will mark the 500th water system completed in Texas' Rural Water Facilities (Poage-Aiken) Program. Development is carried on by local governments and non-profit corporations, with financing through the Farmers Home Administration, a U.S. Department of Agriculture agency. Texas leads the nation in the program, with 5,000 projects built or approved in the nation to date.

The first system in Texas was located at Golinda, in Falls County south of Waco. Golinda's system supplied 27 homes when originally built in 1959, now serves 70 after 10 years of community growth nourished by the water lines.

The Madera Valley system takes water from a deep well near the Ft. Davis Mountains in Jeff Davis County and distributes it northward to the vicinity of Pecos. A 127-mile pipeline system reaches the communities of Toyahvale, Baragosa, Brogoda, Saragosa, Verhalen, Alamo, Hoban and Valley Farm. Four hundred homes, farms and other establishments will be served. The new system ends their dependence on water hauled from points such as Pecos and Balmorhea--only towns in the area previously equipped with water systems.

The Madera Valley system was built with a $571,000 Farmers Home Administration insured loan to the nonprofit Madera Valley Water Supply Corporation. With its completion, the advantage of modern water service has been brought to 250,000 rural Texas people in the past 10 years.

SLOW-POKE DRIVERS

AUSTIN, August 25 - "Slow-poke" drivers - a longtime hazard and source of irritation on the state's high-speed roads - will soon have to speed up or keep right when traveling on divided highways in the Lone Star State, the Texas Safety Association noted today.

Under the new law, going into effect Monday, September 1, vehicles traveling at less than the normal speed of traffic on divided highways must be driven in the right-hand lane or as close as practicable to the right-hand curb or edge of the roadway -- except when passing.

In commenting on the new law, the Safety Association expresses hope that the traffic measure will be a practical solution to the mounting problem of slow drivers who tie-up traffic on heavy traveled roads and are frequently a contributing factor in traffic crashes.

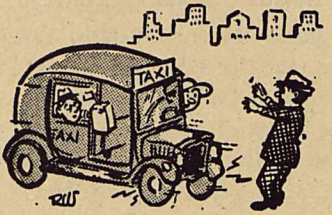

The new law should also ease the tension of drivers who use the high-speed inside lanes on divided highways and not only find it mechanically difficult, but also emotionally difficult to cope with such drivers, the Safety Association continued.

Many drivers become quite irritated when there is no safe way to pass a slow driver. They often take risks that they would not ordinarily take and wind up in trouble.

Another provision of the new traffic law calls for all moving traffic to stay right of the center line on roadways having four or more lanes of traffic -- making left turns into or from an alley, private roads or driveways, regardless of whether there is a double yellow stripe or not.

While waiting for a bus on New York's Fifth Avenue, I noticed a woman looking another over from head to toe. When she finally completed her appraisal, the victim smiled and asked cheerfully "Well -- what's the verdict?"

A tourist was being taken for his first New York taxi ride. The cabbie wheeled wildly in and out of traffic, honking his horn and cursing other drivers. Suddenly a pedestrian stepped off the curb against the light and the cabbie slammed on the brakes to miss him. Apparently figuring such unusual courtesy called for an explanation, he turned around to the passenger and said: "If you hit 'em, you gotta fill out a report."

Entertaining three applicants for a choice job, Thomas Edison based his choice on the results of the test. The three were seated in a circle facing each other. Each was told that either a black or a white dot was to be placed on his forehead.

ALL 3 DOTS WERE BLACK! At a signal, each was to begin tapping on the table if he saw a black dot on any forehead, and to stop tapping only if he could determine the color of the dot on his own forehead. After a few moments one stopped. He correctly had determined his was black. How did he know!

A FLYING TRIP

In this space age when men travel by air to the moon any thing is possible, but round trip travel between Plains, Texas, and cities on the coast of California are not common occurrences. In fact, it is doubtful if any one from Plains has ever accomplished the feat before Tuesday of this week, when Joe Curry of Curry Pharmacy and George Blount of George's "66" Station made such a "Flying Trip."

These two Plains men having business in Oakland, California, and both needing to be in Plains Wednesday, flew from Lubbock Municipal Air Port at 8:55 a.m. Tuesday to Oakland, transacted their business, flew to Los Angeles for a short visit and layover, then flew back to Lubbock arriving at the Lubbock Air Port at 12:30 a.m. and were at home in Plains at 2:00 a.m. Wednesday morning.

Actual time in the air was approximately 12 hours. This is not an incredible trip but rather an unusual for Plains folks.

Joe reported a nice flight all the way, and from the smile on his face it could be assumed that the business transactions were satisfactory.

RATHER EAT PAKISTANI AHMEDABAD, India (AP) — An eight-member family eats in Pakistan but sleeps in India, according to a local political leader.

Their house is so situated in the Barmer border district of Rajasthan that the kitchen is in Pakistan but the bedroom is in India.

Socialist Party leader Laddi Mohan told a news conference he learned of the unusual house while on a tour of the border areas.

The head of the family prefers his kitchen to be in Pakistan because the foodgrains are cheaper there, Mohan said.

Refusal to Have Children

During his romance with Myrtle, Jack often spoke tenderly of the children they would have once they were married. But after the wedding, he changed his tune. In fact, he insisted on the use of birth control measures.

Finally Jack confessed that he had never intended to have children in the first place. Myrtle promptly sued for an annulment on grounds of fraud, and the court awarded her a decree.

Annulment of a marriage is not granted lightly. But it is granted, as a rule, if one of the parties was deceived during the courtship about something "essential" to the marital relationship. And having children is considered essential—that is, part of the very foundation of the marriage.

Suppose the subject of having children had simply never been discussed before the wedding. Could the wife who wants children still complain that she had been deceived, even though her husband had never made her any promises?

Yes, because that kind of commitment is implied in the marriage contract. As one judge put it: "Affianced parties do not generally exact from each other a promise that they shall have offspring. Procreation, though not discussed, is taken for granted."

On the other hand, complaints of being deceived are relatively easy to fake, as an easy way out of matrimony. For that reason, the court may refuse an annulment if the complaining spouse's story is not convincing.

In one case, a woman sued for an annulment after 12 years of childless marriage. After all this time, she said, her husband had finally admitted he had deceived her from the very beginning and had never meant to have a family.

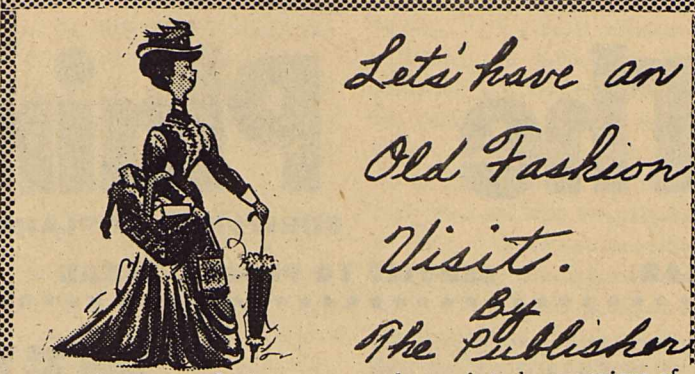

But the court decided that the woman herself could not have been any too eager for children. Denying an annulment, the judge said: "She allowed 12 years of their life to slip by without insisting on her right to a family. I do not think she can be heard to complain at this late day."

ITEM: You can easily check the comparative root behaviour — and the health of your pot plants. Dump the root ball gently from the container. If the plants are in clay pots you'll notice that roots extend all the way out to the porous walls of the pot. That's because roots must have air which they get continuously in clay pots. Roots of plants in synthetic non-porous containers become ingrown at their center for lack of air at the walls of the pots.

ITEM: If the manufacturer's label on a garment states "hand washable," follow his instructions. A manufacturer who labels his merchandise "hand washable" usually has a valid reason for so doing.

One of the worst faults a man can have, is to be conscious of none.

Our mother is back home from the hospital and is just as chirpy and happy as if she had not been seriously ill for a few hours. It is wonderful to see her beautiful grin and hear a happy laugh coming from deep inside her being.

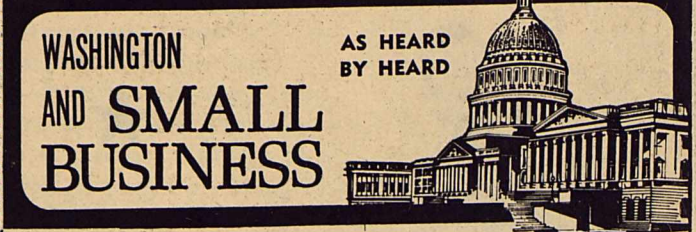

Have you visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Overton lately? While they were gone a few days ago, some unknown person rigged up a scarecrow and placed in the one watermelon vine that Bill and Burve have growing among their flowers. It is rather a handsome scarecrow, which indicates that whoever did it was trying to tell the world that Burve was the one that most of the gardening at the home. By the way, the one vine has three huge melons on it.

Speaking of Bill Overton, he has worked with the farmers of our county so long and studiously in helping them have better crops by soil and water conservation ideas that he was getting lonesome for an old time carelesseed. So he persuaded Mrs. Overton to let him grow one in her flower beds. This picture of Bill and his carelesseed will let you know that he may not help Burve very much with her flowers, but he has certainly tenderly cared for his carelesseed.

"Let every man honor and love the land of his birth and the race from which he springs. It is a pious and honorable duty. But let us have done with British-Americans and Irish-Americans and German-Americans, and so on. If a man is going to be an American at all, let him be so without any qualifying adjectives. And if he is going to be something else, let him drop the word American from his personal description."

If the Census Bureau, for the nation-wide nose counting next year gets away with adding still another Paul Fry question to the list that will be asked, Congress should perhaps cover census takers with combat pay, insurance for engaging in a hazardous occupation, and perhaps even be prepared to award Purple Hearts for injuries suffered while on duty.

For it is very possible that some over-zealous census questioners are going to be in line for a fistful of knuckles in the mouth, if not worse.

The chief Paul Fry of the Census Bureau has now told Congress that it intends to ask for the precise legal relationship of people living together. It is perhaps conceivable that those who are living together in what is known legally as an illicit relationship, or in the common vernacular are "shacking up" will not be bothered too much by this question.

After all, it can be presumed in most of these cases the flouting of convention that results in setting up housekeeping sans clergy will not cause them undue embarrassment in describing the relationship. At least not as much embarrassment as the penalty of a $100 fine, or two months in jail, or both.

And perhaps this question is justified. Taking the census is rather a boring procedure for the interviewers. Presumably, the more prurient among the census takers will at times get titillated over the replies.

But it is difficult to ascertain how this particular new question will help the mattress manufacturers determine their future market potentials. After all, a mattress is a mattress, regardless of the legal position of those occupying it. But perhaps the Census Bureau is also infected with the current ultra-leftism and is seeking statistical data to prove that fornication is an institution guaranteed by the Bill or rights.

The (Presbyterian) Church of Scotland wants the law changed so that at least one party to the marriage must have lived for six months in Scotland. At present 15 days' residence and "crying" of the banns from a pulpit are all that is needed.

THE BOX TOPS TO APPEAR

LEVELLAND (Special) in an attempt to present to the student body of South Plains College a well-developed and well-rounded student activity program, the Student Activities Office plans to present a series of concerts and convocations throughout the academic year. An attempt will be made to select artists and speakers that will appeal to a broad spectrum of the student body as well as the faculty and community.

The first program in this projected series is scheduled for Thursday, September 18 at 8:00 p. m. in the Texan Dome. The program will feature the highly popular and nationally known recording group "The Box Tops".

"The Box Tops" have been on the national recording scene for about four years—a long time by modern standards when groups come and go. The group had had several million selling records including one that is currently in the top ten in the nation entitled "Soul Deep." Their top record of all time and one of the biggest sellers in record history for any artists was "The Letter" from late 1967. It sold about four million copies and was the number one song of the entire year 1967. Other hits have included "Neon Rainbow," "Cry Like A Baby," "A Whiter Shade of Pale," "Break My Mine," "I'm Your Puppet," and many others.

The concert performance will be approximately two hours in length with a fifteen minute intermission about half way through. Ticket information will be released within a few days and may be purchased in advance or at the door. Places to secure advance tickets will be disclosed in future publicity. The general public is invited to join the student body of South Plains College in enjoying this concert and all others in the future.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ

If the credit men's association had an annual award for the outfit that collected the greatest percentage of accounts there wouldn't even be a contest. Internal Revenue would have to be declared the winner by a wide margin every year. It sounds like the tax folks are fumbling around when you read stories about the millions declared "uncollectible." When you take a look at the Internal Revenue's record of 2/10 of 1% declared "uncollectible" out of $168 billions collected, it looks a little different. However, getting on the "uncollectible" list is only a temporary blessing. If Internal Revenue has your tax account marked "uncollectible" about the only way that you can keep it that way is to die—or never earn any more money—because as soon as you become able to pay, Internal Revenue is usually able to collect.

QUARTER HORSE YEARLING SALE

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N. M. (Special)—While elaborate plans are being made for the eighth All American Futurity Sale, a history making precedent was established August 30, 1962, at Ruidoso Downs Race Track, when 68 head of quarter horse yearlings were sold... all eligible for the 1963 All American Futurity Sale. From this fledgling beginning, the sale has grown to unprecedented popularity, with last year's sale, the seventh, grossing nearly double the sales prices of the first infant sale.

In 1968, a total of 130 head were sold for $541,800.00 for an average of $4167.00. This year's All American Futurity Sale, to be conducted in the Chaparral Convention Center, Ruidoso Downs, on August 29-30-31, will again offer the world's finest quarter horse pedigrees. Bargains, such as Dixie Man, Quincy Rocket, Go Coon Go, Turf's Best, Talent Bar, and Art's Model are certain to be found among the 195 yearlings being offered by such outstanding sires as Go Man Go, Rocket Bar, Good Bird, Little Request, Scooper Chick, Jet Deck, Rebel Cause, The Ole Man, and many more. All the yearlings in this year's sale are eligible for the 1970 All American Futurity.

Also in the field are the great Quincy Rocket, Yankee Rob, Sugar Sabre, Clovis Rocket, and Miss Dinah Chick.

The 10th race is in honor of the popular race track, Sunland Park, and is a three-year-old allowance. Going 6 1/2 furlongs, the favorite is probably Breathing Fury, carrying 120 pounds with Jockey J. Palmer in the irons. Also in the race is lightweighted Pero Pecos, then Rush Home, with jockey J. CLAIM PREJUDICE FOSTERED

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—South African schools face children with the injunction "Thou shalt be prejudiced," former Transvaal Province Teachers' Association President F. E. Auerbach thinks. Auerbach said in a lecture that history lessons in particular encourage "group pride and animosity against other racial and national groups." Much of the prejudice is not deliberate. Badly selected works such as Shakespeare's "The Merchant of Venice" reinforce race hate, he said.

RX: VALUABLES

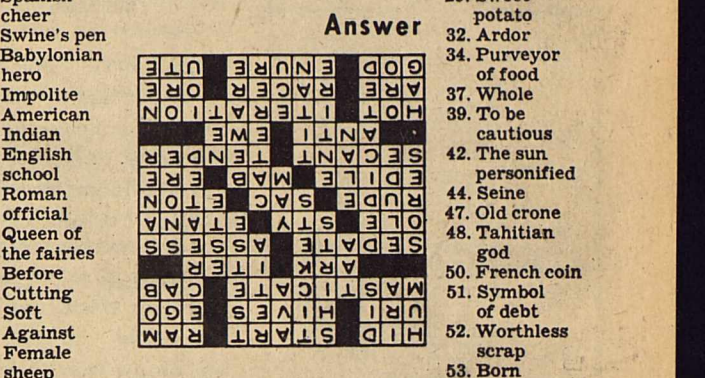

NEW DELHI (AP)—She was wearing a white coat and a stethoscope, and a look of concern and efficiency. That is how neighbors saw her as the doctor went up the three flights of stairs to an apartment in a residential block.

Then somebody suddenly remembered having seen the third-floor-apartment family go out a little while before and wondered whom the doctor had come to see. They followed her and saw her examining the door lock with a hairpin.

The police later described the 19-year-old "doctor" as a notorious burglar.

Her veil of silk illusion was topped by a delicate lace flower touched with tiny beaded pearls. For the traditional something old, the bride wore a gold wedding band belonging to her great-grandmother. The bridal bouquet was white roses encircled with yellow pom pom mums and accented with white picot-edged bridal satin streamers tied with love knots. The bride also carried two red roses which she gave to her mother and mother-in-law as a symbol of love. Wedding guests were registered by Miss Robbie Taylor of Plains. ★ Sudie Thompson CHDA Says...

Want to put extra zest into the family dinner menu? Then put onions on your food shopping list, and serve them often. Look for hard or firm onions which are dry and have small necks. They should be covered with papery outer scales and be reasonably free from green sunburn spots and other blemishes.

Avoid onions with wet or very soft necks. These onions are usually immature or affected by decay. Also watch out for onions with thick, hollow, woody centers in the neck or with fresh sprouts.

Try some of these recipe ideas for onion-eating pleasure. ONION-CUCUMBER SALAD. Cut onions and cucumbers into wafer-thin slices. Cover with salted ice water and let stand in refrigerator several hours. Drain and add 2 parts sour cream and 1 part tarragon vinegar. Serve on a bed of salad greens with a sprinkling of chopped chives.

EGGS AND ONIONS. Sauté thin onion slices in peanut oil for five minutes. Stir into scrambled egg mixture, then pour mixture into pan to cook.

ONION STUFFED ONION.

Cook peeled onions in boiling salted water until most tender. Remove centers, chop and cook in butter a few minutes. Mix with chopped peanuts, bread crumbs and parsley, adding poultry seasoning, salt, pepper and cayenne to taste. Stuff onions with this mixture. Sprinkle with grated parmesan cheese. Put in shallow baking dish with a little water and bake in hot 400 degree oven about 30 minutes.

Commercial onions fall into three general classes. Globe onions are the most common group, and are considered primarily cooking onions. They are available in quantity during the late summer, fall and winter. Their taste is rather pungent.

Granex-Grano are available during the spring and summer, coming from the warmer growing areas. Rather mild in flavor, they are considered ideal for slicing and eating raw and good for cooking.

Spanish onions are mild in flavor, and are often called "sw-

SEALY AND SMITH EXCHANGE VOWS

United in Holy Matrimony on Thursday, August 14th, was Janet Sealy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Sealy of Plains, and Mr. Larry Ray Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith of Plains. The double ring ceremony was performed in the Plains First Baptist Church by Rev. Jim Mosley, with Sheila Taylor of Houston, sister of the bride, acting as Matron of Honor, and Jimmy Smith of Denver City, brother of the groom, acting as Best Man.

The Matron of Honor wore a street length dress of yellow crepe, white heels and a cluster of yellow daisies and illusion veil as the headress. The bride wore a traditional gown of white silk organza and hand run alencon lace. The fitted bodice featured a portrait neckline and 3/4 length sleeves. Appliques of the lace outlined the neckline and defined the waistline with natural scallops. Lace medallions were sprinkled over the bell shaped skirt, which was complemented by a chapel length train attached at the shoulder line with a bow. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses to complete her color scheme of yellow and white. Something old was her grandmother's Bible, something new, her dress, something borrowed, a necklace, and something blue, the traditional garter. As a good luck charm she carried a penny in her shoe.

The groom's parents were escorted and seated by Bobby Taylor of Houston, brother-in-law of the bride. The bride's mother was escorted and seated by James Storie of Plains.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the Church fellowship hall where the bride's sisters, La Vern Davis and Lynda Camley of Lubbock, served punch and wedding cake to the guests. After the reception the bride changed into a two piece going away dress of navy and white.

After a short honeymoon the couple are at home in Denver City at 512 W. 4th. Mr. Smith is employed by the John Deere Company in Denver City.

for dessert. Provide spoons for eating filled papaya boats. The classic Hawaiian serving is papaya with a lime half, for breakfast. A very healthful way to start the day because a papaya half has twice the Vitamin C of an orange, as much Vitamin A as a carrot and lots of B1 and D. Papayas are easy to digest and low in calories.

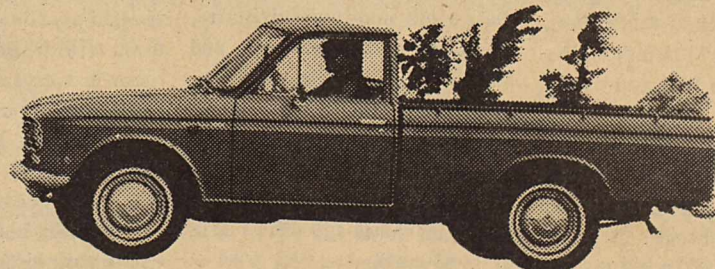

Papayas are available year round, but they will be especially plentiful from now on through the summer months.

HAWAIIAN PAPAYAS PLENTIFUL NOW

Papayas, those luscious yellow-green pear-shaped fruits from Hawaii, are being seen in local markets more often now. Growers in The Islands have planted more papaya trees to fill the mainland demand, reports Calavo Growers. Homemakers here like the sweet and delicate papaya flavor; many say it is like a melon in taste.

In the store, you may see papayas ranging in color from green to yellow. They change colors as they ripen at room temperature. Store green ones in a fruit bowl and watch them ripen. When more than half yellow and softened like a pear, papayas are ready to eat. Once ripened, they keep extremely well in the refrigerator. When ready to serve, cut papayas in half and scoop out the black seeds. Then peel and dice or slice for salads or desserts. Or leave skin on and serve "papaya boats" filled with ice cream

GRAIN PRODUCERS TO HELP BUILD PORK INDUSTRY

The High Plains and Panhandle Grain Sorghum Producers are looking forward to the time when their area will become the leading pork producing area of the nation. Following approval of the grain sorghum referendum in October, one of the major market development programs will be to help establish the pork industry in West Texas.

Elbert Harp, Executive Director of Grain Sorghum Producers Association said, "As grain farmers, we realize our best markets for grain are our local markets. We do not have to pay freight on this grain, as on grain shipped from the area. GSPA has been very active in the development of the cattle feeding industry on the High Plains and Panhandle and we feel this same area is also a natural for development of a pork industry."

Roy Poage, Lubbock swine breeder and President of West Texas Pork Producers Association reported, "Texas is importing about 70% of its dressed pork from other states. We have about the best climate for hog production in this area that is available anywhere. With the feed supply that is plentiful in West Texas, there is no reason why we cannot build it into the nation's top pork producing region. As it develops additional packing companies will move in, and other deficit areas will begin looking to us for their supply of pork."

Harp added, "In addition to all the grain being fed to cattle, we still produce enough grain to fatten almost 10 million head of feeder pigs. One reason GSPA is sponsoring the referendum in October is so all

COVER CROPS ON DIVERTED ACRES

By C. Murrell Thompson District Conservationist

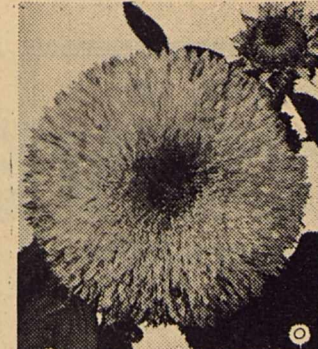

There are increasing numbers of acres in the Yoakum SWCD every day that does not have sufficient cover, or any cover at all, to protect the land next spring when the BLOW season gets here. There is still time to get a cover of millet or small grain, rye, wheat or barley planted and get enough growth before cold weather to protect the soil next spring. Dead cover of course is best, grain sorghum residue, forage sorghum, sudan, or any other annual that will produce about 2500 lbs per acre in 40' rows or 1750 lbs per acre if drilled. Small grain cover of course, will hold our soil but we must have winter moisture or irrigate to get any growth. It doesn't take much growth though to give lots of protection as little as 1250 lbs per acre of green growth growing broadcast or drilled will get the job done.

There are several conservation farmers who are planting a cover crop on their land for winter and spring protection. Some of them are Jerome Head, Royce D. Kelly, Bob Long, R. W. Adcock, Kenneth Hancock, and Bill Moore. There are many others who will drill or aerial broadcast a cover of Millet or small grain on what would otherwise be an eroding field that contributes sand and dust to make us uncomfortable and damage or destroy that land.

Another possibility of land damage is the use of grain sorghum for grazing, which many are doing, due to the dry weather. We should be very careful if we let livestock graze these fields as we may be robbing PETER to pay PAUL as the saying goes. $4.00 worth of grazing and then a $4.00 or $5.00 plowing job to try and stop the sand from blowing. Crop residue left on the land for protection will add organic matter to the land that is worth several dollars per acre. Take the case of cotton burs, it has been proven that they are worth over $8.00 per ton and other residue is just as valuable.

Red (just one word) has blossoms of varying shades of red: brick, bright or crimson, solid or in combination with yellow. This same strain also has yellow flowers suffused with red. Plants grow 5-6 feet high. Double-flowered kinds include Chrysanthemum-Flowered, with 6 to 8-inch-wide blossoms that look like their namesakes, on plants nearly seven feet tall. And Sungold, lower-growing, only to five feet, with golden-yellow blossoms.

Two dwarf varieties are particularly useful. Dwarf Sungold looks like the tall variety and also has big flowers, but grows only 15 inches high. Teddy Bear forms bush-like plants three feet tall but each individual bloom may reach five inches in diameter.

This big, double blossom belongs to Sungold, one of the new kinds of sunflower.

Say the word "sunflower" to the average gardener and he immediately conjures up a vision of a 15-foot-tall plant with huge, single, yellow blossoms.

Gardeners in the know no longer think that way. They are familiar, through the seed catalogs, with the ornamental sunflowers of today.

While the seeds still furnish food for chickens or birds, the plants aren't huge and the flowers are not necessarily yellow.

So, if you're looking for a hedge or background plants, try one of these: Red and Gold hybrids have single flowers of bright red, tipped with gold and on 6-foot stems.

CERTIFYING CROPS: We want to again express our sincere appreciation to all farmers for their splendid co-operation in certifying their crops and land use acreages. All operators made their report by the close of the August 15th final date. Crop reporters are now checking the required number of farms which is every sixth cotton farm and every sixth complying feed grain farm and in addition all county committeemen and employees farms must be checked.

In making the required compliance checks of every 6th farm for cotton and 6th farm for feed grain it will require a visit to be made to measure the crops on approximately one-third of the county's complying farms. Farm spot checks as of this date indicate that farmers did a good job of reporting their crop and land use acreages. We sincerely hope that no farms are found to be out of compliance.

DIVERTED ACRES: Operators of farms that are complying with the wheat and feed grain programs are reminded that diverted acres are to be maintained in an acceptable manner for the entire year. We urge all operators to take a good look at their diverted land and take whatever steps are necessary to keep the land in good shape. From reports we have, a good shredding job needs to be done on many plots. Some ACP funds are available and we are now taking applications for cost sharing for approved small grain cover. Farmers that destroyed crops to get in compliance by the August 15th final date should take a new look at the land and see that the crops are well destroyed.

PROGRAM PAYMENT CHECKS: Program payment checks are being mailed out when received. However, several weeks will be required to transmit all the required data to the New Orleans office where the payments are computed and the checks made.

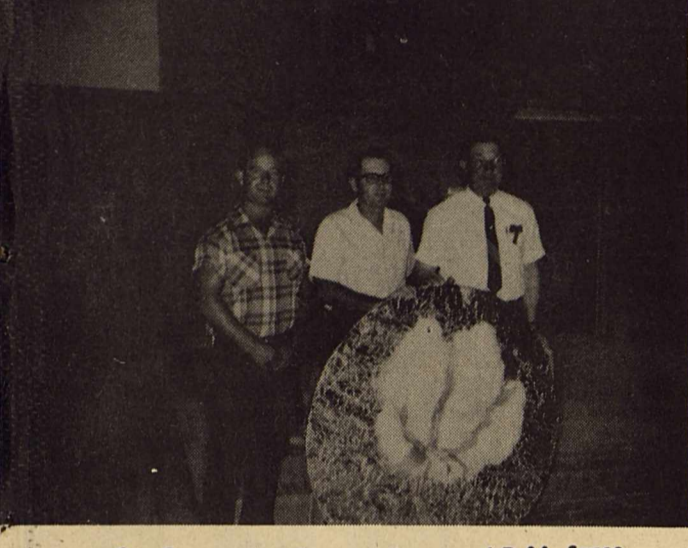

COMMITTEE ELECTION: ASCG Committee election where producers elect one member and two alternates will be held in September. The ballots will be mailed the first week in September and must be returned by September 17th, 1969 to be eligible to be counted. A September 17th post mark will

CO-OP BARBECUE HUGE SUCCESS

The annual meeting of the Yoakum County Co-op Gin was held at the high school cafeteria on August 7th in conjunction with a barbecue that was described as a huge success. 327 people were liberally hosted to a tastily barbecued dinner accompanied by the many fine dishes, relished and delicacies that always accompany a good Yoakum County festival of this kind.

Joe Crump, Lee Roy McCravy and R. M. Jones, Those retaining their position on the board were T. J. Bearden, Billy Winn, Wendell Norman and Earl Kiser.

Mr. Stowe stated that in spite of the severe drought this summer the Yoakum County Co-op can look forward to a pleasant and successful gin season.

The program for the occasion consisted of first the business meeting, then the barbecue dinner followed by a style show presented by the Yoakum County Cotton Promotion Club. An election of officers was held at the business meeting. David Stowe was retained as manager and three new members were elected to the board of directors. The three men

The 13th annual field day of the High Plains Research Foundation, Halfway, will be held on Thursday, September 11, also beginning at 1:00 p.m.

L. D. (Don) Anderson, Crosbyton farmer and President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., which provides financial grants in-aid each year to many of the research projects at both the research centers, is urging all PCG members to attend the field days and avail themselves of the latest advancements in farm technology.

"Of all PCG activities, Anderson said, our support for agricultural research has provided and continues to provide some of the most profitable returns to our members. And these returns could easily be doubled if it weren't for the serious lag between the development of new and improved farming techniques and the field application of those techniques by farmers."

At the Texas A & M facility on September 9, tours will show more than 40 varieties of cotton growing side-by-side under identical conditions. All the new varieties being introduced to the High Plains will be seen, including the new Tamcot 788 which was developed at the Center and promises to play an important role in future cotton production on the Plains.

Visitors to the Lubbock Center also will have the opportunity to view and discuss test plots of narrow-row or "broadcast" cotton, one of the greatest departures from standard cotton production practices ever made, and one which offers dramatic possibilities for lowering production costs and increasing yields. Researchers say the system offers earlier maturity, higher micronaire and greater fiber uniformity, plus yield increases to 10 to 25 percent.

Other points of interest will include grain sorghum performance test plots of 75 hybrids, discussions and demonstrations of week and insect control measures and a tour of the laboratories and greenhouses that play a vital role in agricultural research at the Center. The field day at Halfway will begin with tours of research plots of a wide variety of crops and a tour of the Foundation's offices and shop facilities.

Of special interest to farmers will be new studies of minimum tillage seedbed preparation for cotton and grain sorghum, various applications of herbicides and fertilizers, the continuing studies on soybeans, sunflowers, castors and corn, plus a showing of the latest developments in farm machinery.

An added attraction on the evening program will be an address by U. S. Representative Bob Price of Pampa.

PCG research grants to the two centers this year, totaling $20,650, were concentrated on cotton variety breeding work; disease, insect and weed control; temperature studies, fertility levels, soil moisture conditions and conservation of rainfall and irrigation water.

The 1969 grants-in-aid brought PCG's accumulated investment in agricultural research since the organization was formed in 1956 to $369,200, which PCG officials say has attracted at least an equal number of dollars from outside sources. Anderson commented "Without these funds, supplied largely by High Plains cotton producers through PCG, many of the advanced cultural practices and improved cotton varieties being used today would still be in the future."

it now, the entire economy of rural America will falter. Hence, the entire economy of America will falter. Congressman Mahon and Mr. Palmby promised their support of the farm program until such a time as agriculture can operate on a free market system that will deliver a fair return on the dollar invested for American Farmers.

The committee also urged Congressman Mahon and Mr. Palmby to help in any way possible in a campaign to educate the people of America of the need for a farm program that in reality subsidize the consumer and not the producers.

The summer of the committee was delivered by Gene Benham, banker, from Morton. Special guest included Archie Fowler, District Director of FHA, Jay Naman, President of Texas Farmers Union, Joe Rankin, Vice-President of Texas Farmers Union and H. L. (Hub) King, State Director of Farm Bureau.

Those from Yoakum County were Rowe Stephens, Lee Roy McCravey, Bob Loe, Bob Rucker, Jerome Head and Jim Barron.
