Karen Willis Wins Spelling Bee

Karen Willis, Plains 7th grader, was named winner of the Yoakum County Spelling Bee Friday, February 20th, in the Denver City Auditorium. Karen, spelling the 101st word called in the Spelling Bee, was pronounced champion by Mr. W. D. Norman, Denver City Jr. High Principal. Karen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Durward Willis, will represent Yoakum County in the April 4th Regional Spelling Competition at Smylie Wilson Jr. High School in Lubbock. The winner of the Regional Contest will move to national competition in Washington, D. C. Jeff Gentry, son of Mrs. W. O. Spencer, will be the alternate for the Regional Meet, Sponsoring Jeff and Karen were Jr. High English teachers, Mrs. Edmund Vickers and Mrs. Jim Warren. Pronouncing the words for the spellers was Mrs. Harry Webber, a Denver City teacher. Judges were Mrs. Edmund Vickers of Plains and Mrs. Virgil Kelley of Denver City.

Stock Show Awards Program

Eight trophies and four animals were presented to show exhibitors during the noon hour Saturday and just prior to the beginning of the sale. Jimmy Taylor was selected as the best lamb shown although he was not present to receive the trophy donated by Anderson Grain Company. Jimmy had been injured on Friday when a spooked calf put him out of commission. The best swine showman was Kreig Blount and he received the trophy given by Johnnie L. Fitzgerald. In the beef calf division the best showman was Tony Spears. Tony received a trophy donated by Pat Henard. Mrs. Alma Lynn McGinty and her daughters are sponsors of the Rusty McGinty Memorial Award which goes to the best showman and herdsman in at least two of the show divisions. Mike Blount was the recipient of this much sought after award.

Perhaps the first award to be presented last Saturday was the loving cup that Mr. G. W. Cleveland provides for the winner of the beef calf gain contest. Lynne Fitzgerald is now the proud owner of that cup. Mr. Eddie Courtney, owner of the Cowboy Stores in Levelland and Brown-

Lynne Fitzgerald Wins Gain Contest

A big white calf named Dream Whip was the highest gaining calf in the weight-gain contest sponsored by Mr. G. W. Cleveland. Dream Whip was a crossbred steer owned by Lynne Fitzgerald and his total gain was 715 pounds during the 279 day feeding period. The calf looked like a straight Charolais but the breeder, Mr. Alvin Brecken of Tatum, reported that he was part Hereford and part Angus. His average daily gain during the period was 2.56 pounds. The calf gained from 236 pounds in May to 951 pounds at show time.

Dale Cleveland ran a very close second with his heavy Hereford steer named Pet. Pet gained 691 pounds and needed 24 more pounds for a tie.

As has happened several times in past years, some of the slow gaining calves were ranked high in their individual classes at the show. We think we would be raising the kind of cattle that the same calf would win the gain contest and also win the show. This year the gain contest winner stood in second place in a class of eleven animals. Thirty of the thirty four calves in the show were in the gain contest. The thirteen calves that exceeded a two pound per day average gain are: 1st, Lynne Fitzgerald, 715; 2nd, Dale Cleveland, 691; 3rd, Bill Anderson (Hereford), 654; 4th, Keith Beck, 641; 5th, Bill Anderson (Angus), 616; 6th, Sue Cleveland, 614; 7th, Lynne Fitzgerald (Hereford), 612; 8th, Gayle Hobbs, 601; 9th, Bob Sims, 595; 10th, Rhonda Bearden (light weight), 592; 11th, Tony Spears (heavy weight), 589; 12th, Gwen Fitzgerald (Crossbred), 586; Gwen Fitzgerald (Hereford), 578.

This is the first time to have steers in the show that were crossed with the Charolais breed. The modern steer that beef cattle breeders are trying to produce is one that will continue to grow and develop heavy muscles without putting on excess fat. The Charolais breed evidently has some of these desirable characteristics. Just recently, the Fort Worth Show and also the Chicago International were won by steers that were part Charolais.

Plains State Bank Contributes to Exhibitors

For several years the Plains State Bank has made a cash award to each exhibitor in the Yoakum County Junior Stock Show rather than purchasing animals in the sale. Word has been received from Mr. R. M. Carothers and Mr. Cordell Huddleston that an increase in line for the show exhibitors this year. The new rate is $7.50 for calves, $3.50 for barrows and $3.00 for lambs.

The money will be made available at the annual meeting of the association which is usually held in March. Each exhibitor is urged to be present at the meeting in order to accept the check in person. Exhibitors who have more than one animal in the show will be paid on the one animal that is due the highest amount. Unofficial estimates show that the Plains State Bank will spend $446.00 by giving awards to exhibitors.

Sherry Pippin Show Queen

The Blue Sage 4-H Club's entry in the queen contest, Miss Sherry Pippin, was declared the winner over the field of six girls who were in the race. The contestants were selling memberships in the Yoakum County Livestock and Improvement Association, the organization sponsoring the annual show and sale. The membership fees of $5.00 per year are used to pay the prize monies to the exhibitors, purchase the ribbons and banners and meet the other expenses of the show. Sherry had sold $480.00 worth of memberships by the closing time Saturday morning. Runner-up in the queen contest was LaGatha Thompson representing the Lucky Clover 4-H Club. Others in the race were: Sue Provence, Eager Beaver 4-H Club; Donna Long, Green Clover 4-H Club; Amy New, Denver City FFA; and Gail Ancinac, Plains FFA.

Alvin "Cotton" Howell being presented the Fireman of the Year Award by the Fire Chief, Jim Barnett.

Fireman's Banquet

The Plains Volunteer Fire Department held their annual banquet in the GOLD ROOM at the Cowboy Grill, Monday evening.

A fine steak dinner was served the firemen, their wives and guests. During the dinner a ballot was taken for the fireman of the year. Following the dinner, Fire Chief Jim Barnett opened the program with the presentation of The Fireman of the Year Award to Alvin L. (Cotton) Howell. Chief Barnett then introduced the speaker for the evening, Mr. C. A. Dempsey, Safety Officer of the Safety Education Service of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The subject of Mr. Dempsey's discourse was "Law and Order".

He discussed some of the problems that are confronting both the peace officer and the citizen, in regard to law and order in our country today. Statistics were presented showing the ever increasing rate of crime today and a comparison of crime increase in various localities. Mr. Dempsey's talk was very interesting and quite enlightening.

STOCK SHOW RESULTS

Matt Lindsey, Kenneth Altman, Bryan Lambeth and Tommy Guy Box won Championship honors at the 18th Annual Yoakum County Junior Fat Stock Show held Friday and Saturday at Plains. Reserve Champions were exhibited by Steve Holland and Kreig Blount.

Young Lindsey exhibited a Hereford steer named Circle 7 to the top place in the medium weight class and then went on to be named the Grand Champion Steer of the 1970 Show. The Official Judge, Mr. Travis Allen of Portales, New Mexico, selected Matt's calf over the other two first place winners in the final judging for Grand Champion. Matt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Lindsey of Plains. He is 9 years old and this calf was his first 4-H Club project. The 857 pound steer was purchased last May from Mr. R. K. Field, owner of the Circle 7 Hereford Ranch at Bronco.

Kenneth Altman drove his Hampshire barrow to the top spot in the Swine Division on Friday afternoon. His 198 pound barrow was named the Grand Champion Barrow of the show over five other first place winners by Mr. S. W. Duffy of Lovington. The barrow was one of two purchased from Mr. Bowen Stephens of Plains. The two barrows placed first and second in class 3 of the swine show.

Bryan Lambeth and Tommy Guy Box carried away the top honors in the Lamb Division. Lambeth's lamb was the first place winner in the only class of fine wool lambs and was automatically made the Champion Fine Wool Lamb of the show. The Hampshire lamb exhibited by Tommy Guy Box had to compete with the winner of the Light Weight Mutton Class before it received the title of Grand Mutton Lamb. Bryan is the son of Mr. & Mrs. Jerry Lambeth and Tommy Guy is the son of Mr. & Mrs. Tom Box. The Fine Wool Champion was bred by Mr. Tommy Johnson of McCamey and the Hampshire lamb was bred by Mr. Donald Preston of Welch.

The 833 pound Hereford steer owned by Steve Holland stood second in the Medium Weight Class and was allowed to compete for reserve honors after the Grand Champion had been named. The official Judge used sufficient time in making up his mind but he seemed to be having no particular problems. The Holland steer received the nod and Steve displayed the rosette which signified that his steer was the Reserve Champion of 1970 show. Steve is a freshman in the Denver City High School with three more years to go as a pattern setting member of the Denver City FFA. Steve has been working under a handicap for several

The Well Spring of Gratitude

"Bless the Lord, O my soul, and all that is within me, bless His Holy name, Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His Benefits." Psalms 103:1-2

In the practice of gratitude, the eyes should open in the morning with a rendering of thanks. Gratitude should be expressed for the mercies and blessings of the day just born. Give thanks that you have faith in God, that you can depend upon Him for the day's guidance and strength and supply. And when, apparently we have nothing else to give, that is just the time to give thanks for a thankful heart is born of God and a thankful heart is therefore with God. In it He plants the seeds that spring up to immortal life.

Verily, the ungrateful heart has its reward; fear, torment, frustration, misery, satiation, boredom, "They soon forgot his works; they waited not for His counsel."

Verily, the thankful heart has its reward; Fearlessness, joy, appreciation, peace, growth, and enthusiasm - the qualities of eternal life.

"Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord?
Or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart, who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully." Psalms 24:3-4

LIONS CLUB PROGRAM

Lion Murrell Thompson, district conservationist, brought the program for the Lions Club in Plains last Thursday. Along with a discussion of the water needs of the State of Texas, Mr.
Thompson showed a color slide film of many places in the state.
The film is one produced by "Water Incorporated."

The film covered the farm and livestock industries, oil and mining industries and recreational areas of the state.
The film is quite entertaining and picturesque. The scenes of the fine crops grown in Texas and those of the recreational areas were particularly inspiring. However, the scenes showing the dust storms and untended areas of the state were a bit discouraging. The contrasts emphasized the importance of irrigation in the state's economy. It was stated that 85% of Texas irrigation is now supplied from ground water, and that at the present rate of population growth and industrial expansion, that within the next twenty to fifty years there would be insufficient ground water to supply the needs.

The primary purpose of the film is to educate Texans to the fact that one day the State economy would be sorely incumbered without the importation of water from out of state sources, and that the Texas Water Plan for importation of water from Mississippi River be implemented at once.

A bond issue of $3.6 billion to finance this plan was voted down by the voters of Texas last year.

Friendly Chats with

Faye McConnell

The best reformers are those who commence on themselves.

Everyone seemed surprised when a little snow began falling Friday.
But it melted as it hit the ground. Saturday was a very misty cold day and at one time, we had a nice shower of rain. However, this did not dampen the enthusiasm for our Junior Fat Stock Show. The hogs, lambs and beef cattle brought really good prices, which I am sure will give our 4-H Club Members and Future Farmers of America more interest in their work. These boys and girls had really worked hard with their projects, and are to be highly commended.

It was a pleasant surprise to walk into Alma's Restaurant Sunday night after church for a cup of coffee and piece of pie to see Jimmy Taylor with his mother and friends. Mrs. Neil Taylor had just come in from bringing Jimmy from the Hospital. Jimmy's 700-pound calf broke loose late Friday afternoon, knocked him down and then stepped on him.

Jimmy was immediately taken to a private clinic in Denver City to see a Doctor for emergency treatment, and then, was admitted to the Yoakum County Hospital, where he stayed until Sunday night. A friend of Jimmy's showed his calf Saturday at the Fat Stock Show.

The "generation gap" may not be as wide as many people think.
According to a recent authoritative opinion survey, adults and teen-agers agree on a number of important points concerning college student demonstrations. Both teen-agers and adults think that the colleges have been "too easy" on student demonstrators. Teen-agers and adults agree in the belief that the demonstrators are breaking the law. A substantial percentage of both teenagers and adults believe that law-breaking student demonstrators should be taken to court. Each group agrees to a substantial extent that demonstrations are the work of small groups of trouble makers on campus. The draft and opposition to the Viet Nam war are seen by teen-agers and adults alike as primary causes of student demonstrations, and most agree that at these demonstration people have been misled by ulterior motives, born from some who are trying to break down our democratic form of government.

We must have law in our country or our way of government will break down. I have wholeheartedly backed the Chicago Judge in his sentencing of the Black Panthers and their lawyers for "contempt of court." Something drastic must be done if our way of life is to continue. There must be law and it must be obeyed.

Perhaps the gap of understanding between youth and adult is not as wide as has been popularly assumed.

Rumors persist of financial difficulties facing many publications.
When such respected institutions as the late Saturday Evening Post find it impossible to make both ends meet, people cannot be blamed for wondering if the written word is to become a thing of the past.

One authority gives an encouraging answer to the contrary so far as newspapers are concerned. The dean of the school of journalism of a large university observed that, "Only the newspaper, of all the news media today, can fully live up to the challenge of providing the people with the news they are searching for... Nobody can fight City Hall... if City Hall has to be fought... like a crusading city editor. Nobody knows where the body is buried like a good reporter.
Nobody can interpret the news in meaningful fashion like a good editorial writer. Nobody can be closer to understanding the impact of the news on the people of the community than a working publisher who is part of the life of that community."

The archives of the local newspaper constitute the only printed record of community life. Learning to read is a useful achievement, and will remain so.

However, for a newspaper to continue in a town, it must be backed by its readers and merchants, and the Editor and I feel very fortunate in having this backing. Many thanks to our readers and merchants.

By Wilson Duke, Soil Conservationist

More and more we are hearing the term minimum-tillage.
Just what is minimum-tillage? To some people it may mean reducing the number of tillage operations performed before planting the succeeding crop. To others it may mean just one operation performed before planting the following crop.

Generally the proper use of crop residue ties in with minimum-tillage, so the two practices generally go hand-in-hand. So another definition of minimum-tillage could be stated "To limit the number of tillage operations to those that are essential in leaving the maximum amount of residue on the surface of the soil.

Research studies have come up with 10 reasons why minimum-tillage makes sense. Here are the reasons: saves time, lowers production cost, controls water erosion, reduces wind erosion, conserves soil moisture, improves soil structure, offers new crop rotations, increases land use, increases yields and offers higher profits.

There may be other reasons for practicing minimum-tillage, but at any rate the term is catching on and is beginning to be put into use by more and more farmers.

one case a childless old man adopted three of his relatives, each one middle-aged. After the man died several other relatives went to court to challenge the adoption.

"There is nothing humanitarian about the whole thing," they argued. "It is merely a device to cut us out of the estate leaving these three as the only heirs."

But the court ruled that even if this was true, it did not invalidate the adoption.

"This motive," said the court "is a perfectly proper one." Nevertheless, critics fear that the mere possibility of an adult adoption may lend encouragement to fortune hunters.

In another case, a widower adopted his youthful housekeeper just before he died. This meant she could share in the man's estate along with his natural children.

But in a court hearing, the children pointed out that the young woman had also been her father's mistress, that he had become mentally infirm, and that she had wielded excessive power over him.

The court thereupon decided the adoption was null and void.
The judge said an adult adoption, used as a substitute for a will, should—like a will—be free of undue influence.

Those New Tax Forms
A year ago, a poll of business owners asked whether they favored a major change in the Federal income tax — one to make calculation much simpler for many taxpayers.

The idea was an alternative in which the taxpayer could waive all deductions and exemptions to which he is entitled, and simply pay a tax on his entire income. The rate would be considerably lower, but the resulting amount would be about the same.

Simplicity itself. No need for hours of deliberations, receipt gathering, arithmetic, and checking back and forth in the instructions.

Perhaps surprisingly, businessmen turned thumbs down on the idea. Why? Because, in practice, it would benefit those filing Form 1040A, a card which already made taxpayers pretty simple for millions of Americans.
Most businessmen felt that millions of others should get some relief.

Now, a year later, Internal Revenue has "simplified" the tax return. There's no longer a simple 1040A, and the package of forms has been increased. They call it a "building-block" system and Commissioner Randolph Thayer is trying to convince everyone that it is "simpler."

CHECKS ON CHEQUES

"Losers-keepers, finders-weepers" may not be the way children learn the expression, but it's what's happening. Computers are coming to the aid of people who lose things.

This is especially good for travelers, over a million of whom lose some or all of their spending money each year. Now—even on holidays and weekends, when banks are not open—the loser of American Express travelers cheques can telephone an agent in New York who sits in front of a TV screen that is hooked up to a computer.

The screen helps the agent to verify a refund claim, and he is able to arrange an emergency refund—all in the space of a single phone call.

The emergency system works this way: The traveler goes to nearest telephone, dials "Operator", and asks for Western Union Operator Number 25. She can give him a special phone number to call for a direct connection with the American Express Inspectors Office. There an agent on duty will take down the facts and give the cheque-loser the address of the nearest Western Union office that is open at that time.

He will also call or wire that same office authorizing an emergency payment.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Adopting an Adult

In the mind's eye, the word "adoption" conjures up a vision of dotting parents taking possession of a gurgling infant—theirs at last to raise as their very own child.

That is, indeed, a typical scene in an adoption court. But there is another, quite different kind of adoption. In most states it is just as lawful to adopt an adult as to adopt a child. Furthermore, in terms of legal formalities, it is even easier.

For example, it is usually not necessary to get the consent of the adult's natural parents, as it is with a child, or to go through a waiting period before the adoption becomes final.

Why would anybody want to adopt an adult? Obviously, it is not to "raise" him. In most cases, the purpose is simply to make him the heir of the adopting parent or parents.

In fact, the procedure has been attacked for just that reason. In

RECORD SALE

by Leo L. White, CAA
The old record of $22,000.00 plus, set in 1956, was broken last Saturday when 189 animals sold for the new record of $25,582.46. The 33 calves weighed 27,725 pounds and brought $12,211.48 for an average of $44.05 per hundred weight. The average price paid for calves a year ago was $47.52 when only 18 head were sold. There were 94 barrows that went through the auction ring and 12 that sold at the floor bid. The total sales on 106 head amounted to $9,372.72 and the average price paid for barrows this year was $42.97 cwt. This figure compares with $41.63 in 1969. The average price paid for lambs last Saturday afternoon was $39.44 cwt, which may be another record. The fifty lambs accounted for $3,998.26 of the total.

Floor prices were up over last year and livestock numbers always change so it is rather unfair to make comparisons with past years. When calf numbers increase, as they did this year, it makes a big difference in the total value of the livestock. When lamb numbers change, it doesn't make quite as much difference. The figures on the 1970 sale include two calves, twelve barrows and three lambs that were sold at the floor bid. The buyers at the auction sale paid $9,972.97 more for the 172 animals than they were worth at the floor value. Johnnie L. Fitzgerald set the floor under the steers with a bid of $28.40. The barrows were sold to Farm Pac Kitchens of Lubbock on a bid of $29.80, and the Olan Wise Hog Company of Lamesa was the final bidder on the lambs at $29.25.

Many people have made comments about the sale and they are real proud of the fact that it was a good sale and that a record was broken. Most of all, they are proud that the prices paid for the animals were so uniform. Everything sold good, nothing went real cheap, and nothing went real high.

The first animal in the ring, the Grand Champion Calf, was sold to the Lovington National Bank for 95¢ per pound. The 857 pound Hereford steer owned by Matt Lindsey brought a total of $814.15. The Brownfield State Bank purchased the Grand Champion Barrow at $1 per pound. Kenneth Altman had the total figure of $198.00 figured in his head before he got the Hampshire barrow out of the sale ring. The two Champion Lambs demanded $1.70 per pound and Auctioneer Hank Mathews insisted that the two animals bring the same price. Mr. Ty Field of Bronco was the buyer on the Fine Wool Champion owned by Bryan Lambeth. The Bronco Gin Company of Bronco was the purchaser of the Champion Mutton Lamb owned by Tommy Guy Box.

The Reserve Champion Calf went to the Yoakum County State Bank of Denver City on a bid of 90¢ per pound. This firm has always been a good buyer at the sale and they have bought many of the Grand Champion Calves. In this case, Steve Holland will receive $749.70 for his 833 pound Hereford steer. The Reserve Champion Barrow, Kreig Blount's 209 pound Hampshire, was sold to South Plains Feed and Seed of Seagraves for 90¢ per pound. Mr. Kenneth C. Newcomb, owner of the Seagraves firm, also purchased some other animals in the sale.

Following is a complete list showing the name of the seller, the weight of the animal, the name of the purchaser and the price paid per pound:

BEEF CALVES:

Steve is the son of Mr. & Mrs. J. C. Holland who have a farm machinery business at the West edge of Denver City.

It appeared that Mr. Duffy had his problems in the drive for Reserve Champion Barrow. Although he never showed any signs of being confused, the fans could easily tell that the competition was keen. Kreig Blount was driving his Hampshire barrow that had previously been named the winner of Class 4 and there were five other top barrows in the ring. All the exhibitors were working hard and doing a good job but Kreig was the one who was getting the pressure put on him because the judge continued to notice that particular animal. After thoroughly convincing himself, the judge announced the 209 pound Hamshire, bred, owned and exhibited by Kreig Blount as the Reserve Champion Barrow.

Kreig is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kreig Blount of Plains. They have a small farm northwest of Plains where they keep some livestock and produce some irrigated crops along with holding full-time jobs and Mr. Blount is also one of the volunteer adult leaders in the county 4-H Club program.

Texas Heritage

Members of the Tsa Mo Ga Club met in regular session at the Club House on Monday Evening, February 23rd. The President, Mrs. Bob Blundell presided. Mrs. Alma Been and Mrs. Norelle Sloan were hostesses. The refreshment table was laid with patriotic colors, red, white and blue. The center piece, a miniature cherry tree, called attention to the recent anniversary of the birth of our first President and the Father of Our Country, George Washington. Sandwiches, jelly salad, cheese and olives, cherry tarts, coffee and tea were served. At the order of business, Mrs. Tom Warren and Mrs. Darrell Lindsey were elected to represent the Tsa Mo Ga Club at the Caprock District Meeting to be held in Lubbock on March 20-21.

The program on Texas Heritage was opened by Mrs. P. W. St. Romain, District Chairman of Texas Heritage, with these words, "Born in Texas and Texas born in you. Sell Texas to the WORLD." She introduced

Mrs. R. B. Jones, who talked on the "Ten Travel Trails of Texas." These Trails, The Plains Trail, Forts Trail, Lakes Trail, Forrest Trail, Brazos Trail, Independence Trail, Hill Country Trail, Tropical Trail, Pecos Trail and Mountain Trail cover our state and are mapped to include points of historical interest, water ways, wild life and places of outstanding beauty. Consider: Texas' nearly 6,000 square miles of inland waters are exceeded only by Alaska's glacier-locked expanse. And, to realize the importance of the vast East Texas Piney Woods, whose acreage almost equals the combined forest areas of the New England States. The Brazos Trail moves through beauty and history, revealing sylvan panoramas and a gracious way of life. Probably no facet of the colorful history of Texas is brighter than the State's years as an independent republic. Although their land was annexed by the United States in 1845, Texans proudly recall the years of independence, and treasure their epic heritage. The Texas Tropical Trail takes on an international air as it skirts the Republic of Mexico and investigates the colorful heritage we share with that friendly neighbor. The modern Pecos Trail highways will cross and recross the one-time river barrier surveying portions of the Edwards Plateau and Rio Grande Plain as bygone travelers did. The Pecos was once a fearsome challenge to travelers. Explorers, Stage drivers and wagoners faced a river 65 to 100 feet wide with a swirling current as deep as 10 feet over treacherous footing. The Pecos was a river, a region and a state of mind. Even today geographers and weather men refer to the Trans-Pecos as a region to itself. The Texas Mountain Trail visits secluded canyons, unspoiled parks and the weathered sites of living history. Along the trail the rising land thrusts 90 peaks more than a mile high. Maps and brochures of these Trails have been carefully prepared for free distribution by the Texas Highway Department, Austin, Texas. The program was closed with a scripture reading by Mrs. Grace Clinton.

Trends in the '70s

by Sudie M. Thompson, CHDA

What is ahead in the new decade for food products and processes? How will consumers spend their food dollars? What they want?

For one thing, the home-maker wants and is willing to pay for "instant" heat-and-serve and ready-to-cook foods, says Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist at Texas A & M University.

Criteria for convenience foods is changing to quick serve and instant foods instead of foods to which only some degree of preparation has been added.

For example, a packaged pudding mix which requires stirring in milk and cooking is too old hat and too much bother. So canned and frozen instant puddings are high style.

Canned soups to which water must be added are losing an increasing percent of their market to the soups with water in the can.

The second trend which the specialist lists is that Americans will eat more meals away from home in the 1970's.

Institutional food sales rose 36 per cent from 1960 to 1966. During this same period sales in food stores rose only 14 per cent. Forecasters say 40 per cent of the food dollar will be spent for meals away from home by 1978.

In 1962, about 25 per cent went for meals away from home.

School Receives Color TV

Harold Holloway and Don Laventz, representatives of the "permasep" division of E. I. DuPont de Nemours Co. Inc., were in town last week checking the operation of the Plains "Permasep" water softening plant.

While here they presented the Plains School with a portable color TV set. On August 19th, 1969 during the dedication of the Plains "Permasep" Plant the Plains School auditorium was used by DuPont to show films of the development of the "Permasep" permeators and other scientific developments. In appreciation for the use of the auditorium, this presentation was made.

The set had been in the office of Du Pont Co. during the installation of the Plains plant. After the dedication of the office was closed and the set being portable the Company felt it could serve a universal purpose in the school.

Both Mr. Holloway and Mr. Laventz are quite well known in Plains. Mr. Holloway has been working with the Plains Project since its first inception and Mr. Laventz has been in charge of operations of the plant since installations were commenced.

"The Apple Kingdom" to Perform in Plains

Portales (Special) -- "The Apple Kingdom," a play with a message for the young at heart, will be performed at 2 p. m. on Tuesday, March 3 in Plains Auditorium as part of the 16th annual Children's Theatre Tour of the Eastern New Mexico University School of Speech and Theatre.

The comedy by Carol Lynn Pearson humorously tells a story of greedy people who are enlightened by two children. The youngsters cause problems when they tell the villagers of Apple Kingdom that an applephoo (typhoon to adults is coming which will destroy all the apples. Since apples are their only food, the people greedily pick all they can. In the process they all get stiff arms and are unable to eat. Many hilarious attempts are made at bending arms or eating without hands. In the end, it is the troublemakers who feed each other and show the people the meaning of unselfishness.
