Wilkerson Gets Comodity Distribution Job

Mr. Reese Wilkerson of Denver City, Texas was selected by the State Representative, Mr. Johnson, as the Supervisor for Yoakum County in the U.S.D.A. Commodity Distribution to needy persons. Mr. Wilkerson will have a few days of instructions, and the date will be given later for the dates to begin applying for the commodities.

Commodities for welfare distribution will be shipped to and stored at some prearranged place in the county for subsequent allocation and delivery to eligible commodity distributing agencies on a monthly basis. Yoakum County has agreed to meet any storage or transportation expense incurred after the commodities arrive at the storage place and not otherwise cared for.

Mr. Wilkerson will have full authority to act in all matters pertaining to the Commodities' Program.

Yoakum County will provide the office space, equipment, supplies, forms, etc., incident to determining the initial eligibility and continuing eligibility of individuals or families to receive commodities.

The county must define the standard of eligibility on which basis commodities will be granted or withheld. The standard of eligibility adopted by a county or city may not exceed the limitations of the State Standard of Eligibility as specified herein. The county must maintain adequate records reflecting the establishment of eligibility these to include:

1. A case record giving data as to family composition, ages and other pertinent information having a bearing on eligibility to receive commodities to the end that the basis for the decision as to eligibility is clearly reflected and that indicated necessary verifications have been made.

The commodity applicant will be required to have an interview with competent source either in person or by telephone, whichever is possible. When an interview with collateral source is not feasible or practical, the applicant may be required to obtain and present written verifications.

The types of written verifications which may be required include: (1) a doctor's statement when unemployment is attributed to illness or incapacity; (2) a statement from the unemployment or employer when a layoff or the amount of wages must be verified; (3) a current registration slip from the employment office representative when inability to find employment is alleged; (4) tax receipts, rent receipts, etc. when residence is a questionable factor; (5) tax notices or receipts when property nature or ownership is involved; (6) naturalization papers when citizenship is a questionable factor; (7) when the value of property other than a homestead is to be determined a statement from a realtor; (8) a statement from a livestock dealer when the value of livestock other than that necessary to provide home, produced food is to be determined; (9) a statement from the appropriate insurance agent or company when the cash surrender or loan value of insurance above $1,000 per person is to be determined; (10) bank statement, pass books, etc., in determining amounts on deposit in banks, savings institutions, credit unions, provident or savings funds and the like.

2. Identification card for each family or individual certified to receive commodities.

INCOME AND RESOURCES
The governing body of the county shall establish the level of income and resources to be followed in determining eligibility to receive commodities. In this connection, it is required that all Boosters attend this meeting in order to help make all final plans for the banquet.

EDITORIALS
PROGRESS ESSENTIAL

City government is a difficult and complicated affair in any city, and is always wide open for criticism. The smaller the city the more severe and excruciating the pressures become.

It has been said that, "Every one would be a better citizen if they served one term on the city council". This is hardly possible but if everyone would try to take a councilman's view of things before they rendered a complaint there would no doubt be less complaining.

A new pump was installed at the number one water well increasing the capacity and pressure needed for top service. A major project of this past year in equipment repair was the cleaning, repainting and relining of the city storage tank, a costly but essential project.

The largest Water Tupelo tree in the United States is located on the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation, 17 miles east of Livingston, Polk County, Texas.

Our Apologies

In our last issue we reported that there was no opposition to the incumbents in the City election. The ink had hardly dried when we found that we were in error.

While this information was not brought to the Review office we do apologize for our laxity in reporting this news. Mr. Graham is a farmer and has resided in Plains for several years.

Water Tupelo Tree

Located in what is called the Tupelo Swamp on the Big Thicket Tour Trail at the Indian Village Tourist attraction, guests can see this National Champion tree as they trek into the area on special built vehicles, enjoying a narrative by an Indian guide.

Texas' only Indian Reservation had 15 State Champion trees, two of which have received National Championship awards from the Texas and United States Forestry Service.

The late Winter spectacular scenes are unique in that all of the foliage is off the trees and excellent candid photography can be enjoyed.

Friendly Chats with Faye McConnell

"Agree with the best in a man if you would disarm his worst."

Verda Lee Robertson came into our office the other morning telling about her scavenger of a dog that brings in bones or anything he can find and the other day he brought in someone's wig.

I told her that she was not the only one that had a scavenger for a dog. Our yard is always showing up with something that we have never seen before, and the last time, it was someone's good saddle blanket.

Friday afternoon I went into the sheriff's office for a cup of coffee and saw Mr. Barron Blair in there. He told me to tell the editor that I had seen him and that he was jumping and laughing because of the good rain that was falling and had been since 12 o'clock midnight.

If Mr. Bill Overton didn't come once in a while to see us at the newspaper, I would never have an interesting anecdote to tell you. This time, he was telling about finding an old 1953 Plains Newspaper, and in it was an ad by Cogburn-Young Hardware selling stoves at $50.00 each.

An archaeologist from the University of Texas turned up proof that the Chinese and Irish laborers working alongside each other to build the early Texas railroads, kept themselves strictly segregated off the job.

Eleven of the old construction campsites, several of which are remarkably well preserved after nine decades, are located along the Pecos River between Comstock and Langtry.

The Proof: There were no Chinese rice bowls found near the campsite of the Irish, and no whiskey bottles found at the campsite of the Chinese.

Comedian Jan Murray claims he went shopping with his wife, and tried to buy $1 worth of potatoes. "I'm sorry," the clerk allegedly replies. "We don't slice them."

This morning the editor and I were discussing the subject of the school busses that had been turned over by the white people in South Carolina a few days ago, and he asked: "What is the answer? We complain about the way our government is being run, the way our children are belligerent and nonconforming our cities are being burned down, even the Capital of the U. S. is one of the worst crime ridden cities in the United States.

My answer was that we must stop judging other people, and stop trying to run each other's lives. There is too much telling the other fellow how to live. People are not satisfied with running their own lives, but try to push their ideas onto neighbors, and neighboring countries; that we must let each nation and neighbor live as they see fit.

We need less protest against evil and more faith in human goodness; less fault-finding and more truth-finding; less picking at personalities and more reverencing of personalities; less reforming of others and more transforming of ourselves.

It is better to give love. Hatred is a low and degrading emotion and is so poisonous that no man is strong enough to use it safely. The hatred we think we are directing against some person or thing or system has a devilish way of turning back upon us.

Texas Education Agency

AUSTIN -- An evaluation of the Texas plan for employing teaching assistants in the public school driver education program was submitted to the State Board of Education meeting in Austin March 2nd. The Safety Management Institute of Washington, D. C., recommends continuation of the teaching assistant program on a controlled basis.

"Scoutreach"

Operation "Scoutreach", an effort to organize more units so more boys can be Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers is planned for March 23, according to the project chairman, Colonel Clyde J. Morganti, Wing Commander at Reese Air Force Base.

Sanctioned by the executive board of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America this program is being conducted throughout the twenty county area served by the Scout Council.

The heads of prospective sponsoring institutions are being invited to bring several men to a "Scoutreach" dinner at the First United Methodist Church in Lubbock to hear the story of Scouting and to learn how they can serve boys by sponsoring Scouting units.

Bob Bass, coach of the Texas Tech University basketball team will be the keynote speaker and it is expected that he will be accompanied by other Tech coaches who support Scouting as a positive way to lead youth.

The South Plains Council president, the Honorable Halbert O. Woidward, has joined Colonel Morganti in urging organization and institutions to accept the invitation to the March 23 dinner.

More than fifty churches, civic clubs, P. T. A.'s and veteran and fraternal groups are being invited. Any other groups which have an interest in organizing Scouting units, and would like to be included, are asked to contact the Boy Scout office at P. O. Box 3055 in Lubbock, Morganti said.

Teaching assistants help regular instructors in the classroom phase of driver education and conduct behind-the-wheel, multirange, and simulator training under the direction of a certified supervisor.

Nine school districts, most of them located in major cities, and five regional education service centers have employed teaching assistants in their driver education programs. During the evaluation by Safety Management Institute, students taught the laboratory phases of driving by assistants were compared with students instructed exclusively by certified teachers.

While these preliminary results are too random to be conclusive, the Institute does recommend additional use of teaching assistants and a later more complete evaluation of the program.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ

There is a story told around the Internal Revenue Service office in Dallas that there is a little Internal Revenue Service Groundhog. This little fellow comes out of his hiding place every February 2. He's not very good at forecasting the weather, because he gives dual forecast.

Probably the oldest educational institution in the world is the University of Kairouan in Fez, Morocco, founded in 859 A.D.

Veterans Administration

The Veterans Administration reported today that some 6,100 wives and widows of veterans and servicemen are taking advantage of educational assistance.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson said certain wives and widows became eligible for benefits under the law when it became effective December 1, 1968.

The law makes educational assistance available to wives and widows of veterans with service-connected total and permanent disabilities, and widows of veterans or servicemen who die of service-connected causes.

Also eligible are wives or widows of veterans who die of non-service-connected causes while totally and permanently disabled. In addition, the law covers children of such veterans and servicemen.

Johnson also reported that one trainee in six was under 25 years of age when she entered training.

The VA chief added that more than half of the wives and widow trainees, about 54 percent, pursued their education in college, while about one in 12, just over 8 percent, studied in graduate school.

Almost half of the college trainees, 48 percent, were enrolled on a part-time basis, while just over 85 percent of those studying below college level did so on a full-time basis, Johnson said.

He urged persons interested in applying for such benefits to contact their nearest regional VA office.

Choose Tax Help Carefully

(Dallas, Texas) -- Need help with your income tax return? If the answer is yes and you seek professional help, be sure to select only qualified and reputable advisors.

A taxpayer can have someone else prepare a return, but it is the taxpayer who is responsible for the accuracy of the data entered and for the full payment of any additional tax, penalties, and interest charged.

While most tax practitioners are competent and honest, be alert to these potential danger signals:

Never sign a blank return; Do not sign a tax return prepared in pencil, it can be changed later;

Avoid the advisor who "guarantees" refunds, wants a percentage of the refund, or supposedly knows all the angles;

Be on your guard if it is suggested that your refund check be mailed to the advisor.

A professional advisor should sign the tax return he prepares on the line provided and you, the taxpayer, should record his name and address for future reference.

When you're not like yourself,

Lydia Pinkham understands

All of a sudden you might feel you're changing-not a good feeling. You're tired, edgy, out of sorts and that's not you. Lydia Pinkham understands.

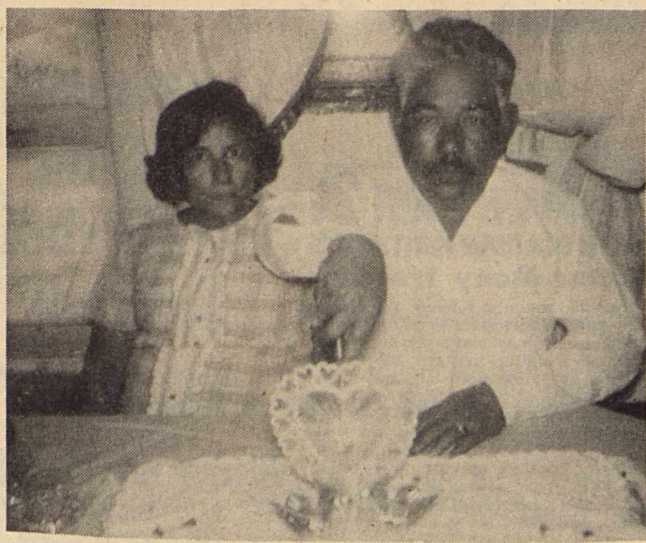

A long time ago, when ladies couldn't be as frank as we can today, Lydia Pinkham recognized the problem and set about finding a remedy. She knew it was not natural for woman to have to suffer with what was obviously a natural process.

So she turned to nature for a remedy. She developed a marvelous compound of medicinal roots and herbs that turned the trick for the women she knew. Because it is a natural answer to your natural problems, it can turn the trick for you, too.

Try Lydia Pinkham's root and herb remedy to help you feel better, more like yourself.

Women's News

"Status of Women"

"Status of Women" was the subject discussed at the regular meeting of the Tsa Mo Ga Club held in the Club House on Monday evening, March 9th. Mrs. J. W. Moore, Jr., Caprock District Status of Women Chairman, acted as Program Director.

The rights and privileges of women in Texas and the United States were defined and discussed. Mrs. Jack Hayes talked on "Marriage as an Economic Partnership."

Mrs. Billy Winn discussed "Family Support and Protection of the Rights of Children" and Mrs. J. C. Chambliss presented "Denial of Rights of Married Women."

Mrs. Moore then gave a summary on "Women as People, Mothers and Wives." Mrs. Ty Field gave a commentary on the "Status of Women in Other Countries," from her observations on her trip around the world in the summer of 1969. She stressed the evolution and the emancipation of the women in Japan, who hold the Women of the United States as their ideal example. She then called attention to the Jewish women in Israel as the place where everyone works. She concluded her talk with "This is a man's world and however a woman fits into it is her problem and privilege."

Mrs. C. C. Perkins closed the program with the scripture reading from Proverbs, "A Virtuous Woman."

During the business session Mrs. Wayne Davis volunteered to sit with the children of the adults attending the Literacy Class, on Thursday evening, March 12th. Mrs. Wendell Norman is to take the chore on Thursday, March 19th. Mrs. Norman presented the club with a beautiful antique punch set of pressed glass consisting of bowl, platter and twenty-five cups.

The refreshment table was decorated with spring flowers in shades of pink. Mrs. Edmund Vickers, Mrs. Wendell Norman and Mrs. Ruth O'Neal were hostesses.

NEW CANON PLAN

LONDON (AP) — English Catholics will have lay men and women as canons if a plan of reforms produced by the Cathedral Commission of the Church Assembly gets Church of England approval. The lay canons will be voluntary and not members of the cathedral chapters or governing bodies like clerical canons. But they will assist in the administrative and financial affairs of England's 41 cathedrals.

Accent on Health

Did you ever hear of emphysema or chronic bronchitis? Chances are you have since it is one of the hazards of cigarette smoking.

The problem of chronic obstructive lung disease isn't new, but its prominence in the field of health is making itself known by the rapidity with which it is disabling people from one part of the state to the other.

Pulmonary diseases are the second most common cause of disability in the state and the number of cases is rising rapidly.

And here's another fact. In the past 10 years the gross mortality from emphysema and chronic bronchitis has more than quadrupled in the United States and continues to grow faster than for any other disease. Put another way, deaths from emphysema and chronic bronchitis in this country have just about doubled every five years since 1952.

Why should this be of importance to you? You may be a candidate for a pulmonary disease even though you think you have no problem. Statistics gathered during a National Health Survey indicate that some three million Americans have limited activities due to emphysema and chronic bronchitis. And... the number is growing annually.

It has been estimated that some 25 per cent of those over 40 have abnormal lung function. Although women and younger people suffer from emphysema, there are 10 men victims for every woman. Most of the more than 10 million victims are men past 40. And here's another shocker for you who haven't concerned yourself with emphysema: There are more suffers from emphysema in the United States than from lung cancer and tuberculosis combined.

What marks you as a candidate as a sufferer with emphysema or chronic bronchitis? Frequent colds... a lingering cough... increasing shortness of breath with normal activities... frequent respiratory infections... general weakness and a tendency to tire easily... a feeling of tightness in the chest. These are signs which should not be ignored but all too often are ignored until serious problems develop.

Hopkins Co. Pig Production

DALLAS--A $150,000 program to produce pigs is getting under way at Sulphur Springs in Hopkins county.

Pigs from 330 sows will be made available to buyers who want to feed them out to a weight of about 220 pounds each.

One big reason for developing the new program is so that dairy farmers can use their feed mixing and handling equipment for another source of income. Dairying last year provided a whopping $19 million income in Hopkins county.

This pig program is described in the April issue of The Texas Farmer-Stockman. The project was originated by the Hopkins County Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee.

The capital investment of $150,000 for buildings, one year of operating cost and breeding stock was raised by selling shares for $1,000 each. Some 67 Hopkins county people bought one or more shares and financial institutions in Sulphur Springs cooperated.

The organization is named Hopkins County Pork, Inc. Rayford Stinson of Como is chairman.

The facility is expected to produce 2 1/3 to 2 1/2 litters per sow per year, with an average of about 9 pigs per litter--or about 20 pigs per sow per year. Breeding will be arranged to supply a steady flow of pigs.

'70 Crop Prospects

by Leo L. White, CAA
When rains come in March and put a good sea on in the ground for planting, it makes the farmer look toward the bright side of things. Just one more shower about the 20th of April would set things up pretty near. Local farmers are able to reduce the cost of making an irrigated crop by $4,00 to $8,00 per acre when they have sufficient moisture at planting time without having to put on a pre-plant application of water.

The pre-plant application is not as meaningful to Yoakum County farmers as it is to producers who farm the heavier soils in the area north of Lubbock. They have soil in that area that hold a supply of water for plants to use during the latter part of the growing season. Our soil does not store up very much and what it does store is easily lost during the season of high winds just ahead of planting.

Our best crops are made when we get enough rain just prior to planting to cause the seeds to germinate and then have a few local thunder showers during the growing season. About two well timed showers during the growing season can do wonders for our dry land grain sorghum.

The recent rains will do some-ething else in 1970 that doesn't happen every year. The beef cattle people are smiling because they know we will have some early grass. We can also be thankful that the shinnery will be putting out as soon as the weather warms up. Cattlemen are already talking about shinnery season. It starts about the first of April and lasts from four to six weeks. This year, with the moisture we have, all the shin oak should come out at the same time and the poisonous season should be shorter than usual. Poisoning problems are not as great as years when there are some annual weeds and grass available at the same time that shinnery is coming out.

Eventhough crop prospects look good, we must remember that the most successful farmer is the one who plants his crop just like every year is going to be a dry one. Too often, we get in trouble by planting a crop of feed too thick. One and one half to two pounds of seed per acre will produce a stand thick enough to make a good crop in a wet year and thin enough to withstand a drought on dry year. Irrigated farmers can plant as much as five pounds of seed per acre, but we learned last year that eight pounds was too much.

ling salted water for 10 to 15 minutes, or until tender. Drain, add butter, lemon juice and parsley. Serve.
ORANGE AND CARROT GEL-ATIN SALAD
2 tbs. gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
2 cups boiling water
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tbs. sugar
1 tbs. lemon juice
2 tbs. tarragon vinegar
1 cup orange juice and pulp
1 cup grated raw carrots
Soak the gelatin in the cold water for five minutes. Add to the softened gelatin the boiling water, salt, sugar, lemon juice, vinegar, orange juice and pulp and chill. When partly jellied, stir in the carrots, pour into wet individual molds and put in a cold place to set. Turn out into lettuce leaves and serve with mayonnaise or cream salad dressing.

Fodder for Females

Two mouths are almost cheaper to feed. Per capita food spending by persons living alone will come to an estimated $82 this year. Family food spending will average about $1,802. That amounts to $495 a member of the average statistical family of 3.6 persons.

For an easy, economical dessert, try mint pears with pudding. Heat syrup drained from a can of pears to boiling and add a little mint extract. Add the pears and heat slowly. Chill pears in the syrup and serve chocolate pudding topped with drained pear halves, whipped cream and chopped nuts.

Two food companies now are marketing individual servings of fruit and pudding items. These were developed because statistics showed that 20 million lunch bags are packed each week day for school children, workers, campers, etc. First items on the market were diced peaches, chocolate pudding and vanilla pudding in tear-off topped aluminum cans. Look for fruit cocktail, chocolate fudge pudding, lemon pudding and butterscotch pudding later.

Add $15.00 for each additional person.

Public Assistance cases or households are defined as those composed solely of persons who are receiving assistance under the Public programs administered by the State Department of Public Welfare (Old Age Assistance, Aid to the Blind, Aid to Dependent Children and Aid to the Permanently and Totally Disabled) and their normal dependents which may consist of an ineligible spouse, minor children or mentally or physically incapacitated adult children living with and dependent on the head of the household or those households composed solely of persons receiving assistance under a program financed with funds provided by the local political subdivisions, or a combination of the two i.e., State and local assistance. This will have the effect of limiting Public Assistance households to those in which the income and resources of all members have been considered in determining eligibility.

Inspection Deadline

"With the April 15 motor vehicle inspection deadline five weeks away, only about 50 per cent of the registered vehicles have been inspected," stated Captain Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspection Supervisor of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"Unless there is a rapid increase of inspections, it appears that many vehicles will not be inspected before the April 15 deadline. Any driver operating a vehicle displaying an inspection sticker on the right-hand side of the windshield after April 15 will be operating in violation of the inspection law," Johnson added.

Johnson noted that this will be the last April 15 inspection deadline, because on September 1, 1969 the Texas Legislature adopted a year-around inspection program. Inspections will come due one year after the current month of inspection. This will establish an anniversary month for each vehicle to be inspected at one time.

The new inspection sticker will be placed on the left-hand side of the windshield. The number of the current month of inspection will appear on the sticker.

★ Sudie Thompson CHDA Says...

The deep-orange or orange-red color of carrots is a sign of good health.

Why? Because this color is due to carotene, a chemical substance which your body converts into vitamin A. This vitamin helps prevent impaired vision and night blindness. Each carrot that is about 5 1/2 inches long and inch thick provides only 21 calories--but more than 100 percent of the daily vitamin A recommended for adults by the National Research Council.

GINGER CARROTS--provide an out-of-the-ordinary dinner vegetable.
12 medium-size carrots, scraped
4 large stalks celery, cut in sticks
2 tsp. sugar

1 1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. ginger
1/2 stick butter or margarine, melted

Cut carrots and celery into sticks 2 inches long and 1/8 inch wide. Place vegetables in six-cup greased casserole. Sprinkle with seasonings and drizzle with butter or margarine. Cover casserole and chill until one hour before serving time. Oven bake at 350 degrees for one hour. Serves six.

CARROTS IN PARSLEY BUTTER
8 to 10 medium-size carrots
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 cup butter
2 tbs. lemon juice
1 tbs. finely chopped parsley
Wash and scrape the carrots and cut them in slices or dice. Cook in small quantity of boi-
