COWBOY COUNTRY

Cowboy Spirit is something that few people really know the meaning of. It's really quite simple. Two words can define it, but only Cowboys and completely dedicated fans can understand and appreciate it. The two words are VICTORY and DEFEAT. Victory is for the Cowboy that lives by it, and Defeat is for the foe that must play against it. Last Thursday, the Cowboys traveled to Tatum, New Mexico, and demonstrated the art of "stuffing a coyote" to a bewildered, but attentive band of wolves.

The wolves played a good game, but as happened last week, the overpowering Cowboys fought just a little bit harder and stayed with it just a little bit longer.

Statistics are hard to beat for cold facts, so this week, instead of trying to tell everyone how great the Cowboys are, I'll just let the facts speak for themselves.

The Cowboys picked up 273 yards on offense to only 133 for the Coyotes. On first downs, Plains hauled in ten, to Tatum's five. Overall, the Cowboys scored five touchdowns, while Tatum had to settle for one. One interception marred the otherwise impressive passing attack of the Cowboys. The Plains secondary made up for that by picking off two Coyote aerials. McRae pulled down his second interception in the same number of outings. This is usually rare for a linebacker, but he's a Cowboy. The other interception came from Shelly Simpson. Simpson is just a junior and handles himself very well. With his size and the ruggedness of his brother that played before him he could deliver misery in every punch.

The Cowboy defense haulted the Coyotes at the line of fire the majority of the game. They allowed the opponents to cross the fifty only one time. On the last series, the teams ran a goal line defense. This means that the team with the ball has to go only ten yards to score. The Cowboys allowed only one touchdown. This was the only one for the Coyotes. On offense, Plains displayed a varied attack. The offensive line opened holes large enough to penetrate for an average gain of 6.8 yards per carry. Tony Chandler ran an option all night picking up valuable yardage and keeping the defense honest. He carried 5 times for 36 yards. Most of his runs were setting up first down drives. Running the option with Chandler was Ace quarterback, Joey Lowe. Lowe carried 4 times for 28 yards. He takes naturally to scrambling and in the process he causes hair to turn straight and gray on the opposing sidelines. He struck for a touchdown pass the last play of the scrimmage, as well as several other outstanding passes throughout the game. Tony Winn took to the wind against the Coyotes and left them howling in the breeze. He carried 5 times for 61 yards, including a spectacular 52 yard pass play from sure handed Lowe. They combined on another pass play later on for 70 yards, good for a Cowboy touchdown, but it was called back. As usual, Livesay put his share of the effort into the scrimmage. He carried 16 times for 118 yards. He carried on five first downs, four of those being touchdowns. Another face in the crowd of hot-rod running backs was Robert Garza. Garza stepped into position and rambled off 15 yards before the defense realized a change had been made. He has good speed and great moves.

The "B" team made pretty much of a clean sweep on their part of the action. They rolled off 157 yards on offense and then the defense held the Coyotes to a minus 22 yards. That's almost hard to believe, but Cowboys don't think so. The Cowboys picked up 7 first downs and 1 touchdown. With the running game going so good, Plains never attempted a pass. Tatum's "B" team failed to get any first downs. They attempted 3 passes completing one, for five yards.

The coaches considered the overall picture a good one and said the future looked favorable. Friday night is the season opener and the Cowboys are ready except for a few possible sprains and bruises. The time is here. The moment I've already mentioned when people will decide whether to stay home and watch re-runs or go support their team and have the time of their lives. If you live in Plains, the Cowboys are depending on you to prove, as they have proven, that you are grateful for the opportunity to be one of it's citizens.

One good way to do this is to back the Cowboys. This could be a year that would remain in your memories for years to come. Let's all go to Morton and let the Cowboys know that we are behind them. I don't believe anyone could say they wasted their time after the Cowboys show their Stuff. GO COWBOYS!!

Oil on Alaska's North Slope

Jim Kent, Sales Representative for the Western Company of Denver City, presented a program to the Plains Lions Club, about "Oil on Alaska's North Slope". Mr. Kent said the discovery of oil on the North Slope of Alaska is one of the great adventure stories of our time. It is a story that has great significance for every American, because North Slope oil may play a major role in helping to supply our energy needs for the remainder of this century and beyond.

Alaska is our 49th State, it is a land of breathtaking beauty and stark desolation. It is our Northern and Western most State, by far the largest State, yet it is the smallest State in population. Anchorage is the largest city with a population of 120,000.

Early in September of 1969 more than 49 Oil Companies bid for the right to search for oil an 450,000 acres of Alaska's North Slope. When the bidding was over the State was richer by 900 million dollars.

The North Slope is a 150 mile long strip of land located 275 miles north of the Arctic Circle, where temperatures plunge as low as 70 degrees below zero. In the Arctic winter the tundra land is frozen and covered with snow. In the summer the tundra becomes a sea of mud impedes all activity.

Enormous amounts of petroleum exists on the North Slope. The start of petroleum industry in Alaska dates back to 1957, when oil was discovered on the Kenai Peninsula, and the Cook Inlet.

Alaska is the 8th leading nation in petroleum producers. However oil from the North Slope will be as late as the late 1970s before the first oil reaches the market.

The North Slope is located 400 miles north of Fairbanks. From Fairbanks supplies have to be flown in. It takes 10 million dollars to set-up and drill one well. American producers would not be incurring these enormous expenses if there were not a ready outlet for their petroleum in the lower 48 States. Domestic demands have enabled the industry to grow strong, and the nation to become relatively self-sufficient by spurring the search for new domestic sources.

The intense cold of the North Slope can freeze exposed flesh in a minute. Though it severely hampers their movements well dressed roughnecks must wear two sets of underwear, insulated boots and overalls, wool and leather mittens and face masks. Then sometimes operations are shut down because of cold weather.

Plans have been announced to lay a pipe line from the North Slope to the ice-free port of Valdez.

Mr. Kent continued by pointing out the S.S. Manhattan traveled the fabled Northwest Passage on a historic 4,5000 mile journey from the East Coast of the United States, to the North Slope.

The discovery of new sources has not kept pace with this increasing demand. The present level of 13 million barrels per day is expected to reach 26 million barrels per day in the 1970's. Ten years ago we had a 13 year supply, today we have a 10 year supply, and oil production in the lower 48 States is on a down grade. We need the North Slope to fill our energy needs. That is the significance of the North Slope to the Nation, and those are the dimensions of the challenge facing the oil industry.

County Committee Election

ELECTION: Ballots have been mailed to all producers on the ASCS mailing list. The six names listed on the ballot were recommended by other producers. Should anyone want to vote for someone not listed on the ballot, a space is provided for that purpose. All eligible voters are urged to exercise his right to vote and vote for the one he would like to see elected as County Committeeman.

Carl Lowrey is serving his first term as committeeman and his term expires September 30th. J. B. Ashburn has one more year to serve and R. G. Hartman has two more years to serve on the committee. One county committeeman is elected each year for a three year term. The one receiving the highest number of votes this time will serve as county committeeman with Mr. Ashburn and Mr. Hartman. The one receiving the second highest number of votes will become first alternate and the third highest second alternate.

For a vote to be counted it must be voted for one only. The certification on the back of the return envelope must be signed by each voter. (Wife should sign her given name), and the ballot must be in the local ASC office or postmarked not later than September 11, 1970. Should any eligible voter not receive a ballot or misplace the one received, ballots may be picked up at the ASC office. We again urge all voters to vote in this election. The duties of the county committeeman are many.

Weeds on Diverted Land: We have had some inquiries in regard to regulations governing weeds on diverted land. Much has been said about this and we feel sure a person with diverted land understands weeds are to be controlled. Diverted land may be grazed beginning October 1st in this county. Some other counties have a later date. No crops can be harvested from diverted land except approved oil seed crops; castor beans, etc. ACP Cost Share Funds: Funds are still available for carrying out ACP approved practices, such as small grain cover crops, underground pipe, brush control, etc. Producers interested in requesting cost-sharing in these practices should file their request before the practice is started and for small grain cover crops not later than October 1st.

Farm Certification: Yoakum County farmers, it appears, did a good job in measuring and certifying to their 1970 crop acreage. Only a small percent of errors have been found. All farmers are to be commended for the good job done and the splendid cooperation they have given the county office. We hope the new program will be out soon so that producers can plan their operations. The office will be closed Monday, September 7th, for Labor Day. Don't forget to vote by Sept. 11th. Mark the ballot for ONE person only. Sign the certification on the back of the return envelope. Deliver it in person or have it postmarked not later than Sept. 11th.

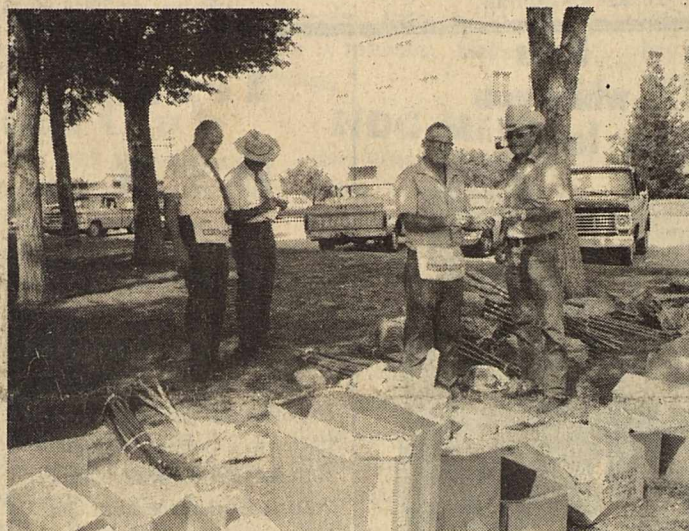

Stockholder Meeting

Notices have been mailed calling the Annual Stockholders' Meeting of the Federal Land Bank Association of Levelland for Friday, September 11, 1970, according to Joe Breed, manager of the association. It will be held in the District Courtroom of the County Courthouse in Levelland at 2 P. M. that day.

Annual financial reports will be made, and two directors will be elected. The terms of Hugh Hansen from Cochran County, and G. I. Sims of Terry County expire this year. These two men or any other stockholders can be elected, Mr. Breed said.

The Federal Land Bank Association of Levelland makes and services Federal Land Bank loans on farms and ranches in Cochran, Hockley, Terry and Yoakum Counties. The Levelland office now has approximately $6,400,000 in

Lions Broom Sale

The Plains Lions Club held a very successful sale this year. The sale was held on the Courthouse Lawn starting at 8:00 A.M. and continued until dusk last Thursday.

Mr. Wilson Duke, president of the Club, stated that this was the best sale the Lions have ever had. He stated that total sales amounted to $860.75. This exceeded the 1969 sale by about $60.00. He reported a splendid response from the members who went from house to house and also to outlying businesses and communities.

The People of Plains who are familiar with the yearly sale frequently reserve their broom purchases for this event knowing that these are quality merchandise and the remunerations serve a worthy cause.

The merchandise is manufactured by skilled blind craftsmen and furnished by The Caravan For The Blind, of Fort Worth, Texas.

G. I. Forum Contributes to 'Celia' Victims

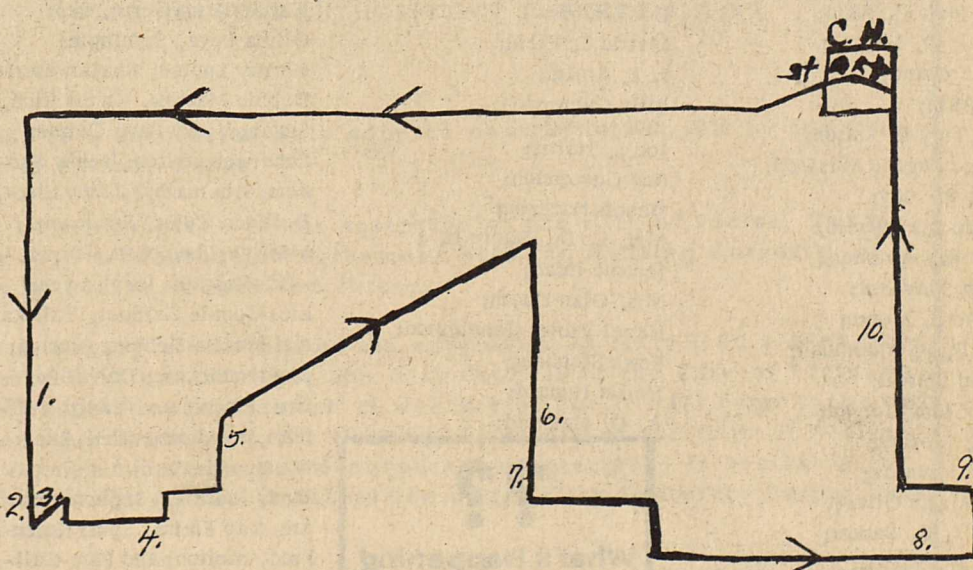

Shown above is a portion of the clothing and foods which were given to the local chapter of the G. I. Forum. These gifts were donated by the members of the forum and their friends here in Plains. These donations along with cash donations of approximately $65.00 will be forwarded to the G. I. Forum headquarters in Corpus Christi for distribution among those suffering from the devastation of Hurricane Celia. This contribution is especially commendable in view of the fact that the local chapter of this veterans organization has only been organized a few months. Mr. Manuel Ramos, Chairman of the G. I. Forum in Plains, stated that he was highly appreciative of the splendid response of the people of Plains in this charitable endeavor.

MODERN RESEARCH CONFIRMS WINE'S DIGESTIVE BENEFITS

Medical researchers have now confirmed the Biblical admonition, "Take a little wine for thy stomach's sake."
In a new book, a California physician lists 478 references from ancient and modern medical texts which tell of the effects of wine on digestion.
The book, Wine and the Digestive System (Fortune House, San Francisco, $3.50) is by Salvatore P. Lucia, M.D., Sc.D., of the University of California.
Doctor Lucia points out in his book that since its discovery four millennia ago, wine has been used as a nutrient and medicine. Wine, he writes, "is a biologic fluid of unusual complexity as well as one of the oldest known medicinal and dietary beverages."
It contains more than 300 identifiable ingredients, including vitamins, iron, antibiotics, tranquilizers, and enzymes which aid digestion.
Doctor Lucia's new book explains at last, with scientific data, what every wine lover knows and St. Paul admonished: that a little bit of wine with dinner aids its digestion.
Wine well deserves the tribute which Louis Pasteur accorded it about a century ago when he said that it is the most healthful and hygienic of beverages.

SELECTIVE SERVICE

Q--What is the primary test that must be used in establishing a base for the conscientious objector classification?
A--The test of sincerity with which the belief is held.
Q--Does the board have to be convinced of this sincerity?
A--Yes. The board should be convinced by information presented to it that the claimant's personal history reveals views and actions strong enough to demonstrate that expediency is not the basis of his claim.
Q--In the guidelines issued by the Director of Selective Service, may the term "religious training and belief" as used in the law include solely moral or ethical beliefs, even though the man claiming conscientious objection himself may not characterize these beliefs as "religious" in the traditional sense?
A--Yes.

Kindness is a language everyone understands

Tax Man Sam Sez

Congress has carefully provided a number of hearings and appeals if you disagree with Internal Revenue over the amount of tax that you owe. Naturally the Internal Revenue Agent who audits your tax return discusses your case with you. He has a two-way responsibility--he has as much responsibility to see that you get all of your deductions and tax benefits as to see that the Government gets all the tax that is due. If you disagree with the Agent you can ask for conference with an independent conferee and get an independent impartial hearing on your tax. If you don't agree with the conferee there is an Appellate advisor who will hold another hearing. Then you can go to Tax Court. Eventually you can pay your tax and sue in District Court, and finally, you can appeal all the way to the Supreme Court. It is probably safe to say that you don't have to march in the street carrying a sign to be heard on what you think about your income tax--you can tell it to Internal Revenue and the Courts, in hearing after hearing.

Delicious Peaches

The peach is a symbol of long life in China--the ancient home of this delicious fruit. That's why rosy-cheeked peaches have appeared so often as decorative motifs on Chinese art of the canning and freezing industries, we now can enjoy peaches all through the year--Peaches turn plain eating fare in this recipe.

Party Peach Cake

2 No. 2 1/2 cans sliced free-stones (peaches)
1 angel food or sponge cake, 8 to 10 inches in diameter
4 egg whites
1 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Drain peaches. Split the cake into two layers and put the lower half on a baking sheet. To make the meringue, add salt to egg whites. Beat egg whites until they stand in peaks, then add sugar gradually, continuing to beat until a very stiff meringue is formed. Add vanilla.

Place peaches on cut area of cake. Put upper half of cake in place. Top with remaining sliced peaches. Spread meringue over entire cake, covering sides of cake and top of peaches. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes, or until lightly browned. Makes 10-12 servings.

TOYS ARE TEXTBOOKS FOR PRE-SCHOOLERS

For a preschooler, the fall, when older brothers and sisters go to school, can be lonely. Play-scool Research suggests the first week of school as a good time for a toy shopping trip for you and your pre-schooler. Toys are the preschooler's textbooks, the tools of his work and play. New toys at various times of the year, not just at Christmas or birthday, can help your youngster learn while playing. By observing your child to determine what aspects of his development need challenging, you can select toys which encourage mental and physical growth, stimulate creativity and imagination.

WHAT IS THE ANSWER?
by Henry E. Garrett, Ph.D.
Professor Emeritus, Psychology, Columbia University
Past President, American Psychological Association

Q: Dr. Garrett, what causes the destructive tendencies, those of vandalism, that appear in some children?
A: The usual progression is frustration, then aggression. When a child cannot learn what is presented, he may retreat into a shell or he may become cantankerous and obstreperous. Undisciplined behavior rarely occurs in a well-raised, bright child.
