Old Settler's Reunion And Barbecue A Huge Success

Coming from all over Yoakum County and many old time friends, the young, middle-aged and old, gathered Saturday, July 31st at the Stanford Park in Plains for the "Old Settlers Reunion and Barbecue."

Mr. A. E. (Dick) McGinty with his helpers, started the barbecue cooking early Saturday morning and by lunch time, all was ready. Before and while the barbecue was being served, a background of old-time music was played by three members of the Western Band from Denver City. They were Joe Holland, J. T. Tucker and Ernie Butler.

Beginning the program after almost everyone had finished eating, Judge Gene H. Bennett, as Master of Ceremonies, introduced State Representative E. L. Short who had a few words to say to the crowd. Mr. Short presented plaques to Mrs. Billy Winn for being the best dressed in old-fashioned attire for women, and Mr. Roy Fitzgerald for the best dressed in old-fashioned attire for men. Each surely deserved the plaques. Mrs. Winn was a tired in a beautiful blue long-sleeve high neck cotton dress which intensified the coloring of her grayish-blue eyes, and with her shining dark brown hair piled high on her head, she was perfectly lovely. Mr. Fitzgerald, dressed in the style of a cowboy with his Texas style hat, white shirt, old fashioned sleeve holders and signet cuff links with the initial F for Fitzgerald, was also outstanding. Roy stated that this was the attire of his father as he remembered him while campaigning for the organization of Yoakum County.

The naming of the new Rodeo Queen came next. Miss Denise Newsom, 1970 Rodeo Queen was escorted to the platform by Mr. Dick Carothers, Vice President of the Plains Lions Club; Miss Lola Bearden was escorted by Mr. Billy Winn President of the Roping Club; Miss Gwen Fitzgerald was escorted by Mr. D. C. (Hoss) Newsom, President of the Lions Club, and Miss Anita Strickland was escorted to the platform by Mr. Roy Edwards, President of the Chamber of Commerce.

Representative Short announced the winners as follows: Miss Anita Strickland as 2nd runner up with 840 votes; Miss Gwen Fitzgerald as 1st runner up with 851 votes, and Miss Lola Bearden as the new "Rodeo Queen for 1971-1972 with 1216 votes.

The crowning of the 1971 Rodeo Queen, Miss Lola Bearden, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. T. J. Bearden of Plains, by Miss Denise Newsom, was very impressive. Miss Newsom presented Miss Bearden with a large bouquet of red roses and helped to arrange the banner across Miss Bearden's shoulder and the front of her suit. Miss Lola Bearden, a blond beauty, was dressed in a royal blue colored slacks and jacket and a light blue shirt, and after the coronation, the purple colored banner with the words written in gold letters "Rodeo Queen for 1971" was worn across the shoulder and front of her suit. The royal blue, light blue and purple were very beautiful together, and the red roses made a picture that can't be placed on paper.

Miss Denise Newsom, a brown haired beauty, was dressed in a gold colored slacks suit with the banner of purple across her shoulder and running down across the front of her suit, and with the words written in gold "1970 Rodeo Queen."

Each of three contestants were presented with a beautiful belt buckle and prize money from the Rodeo Association.

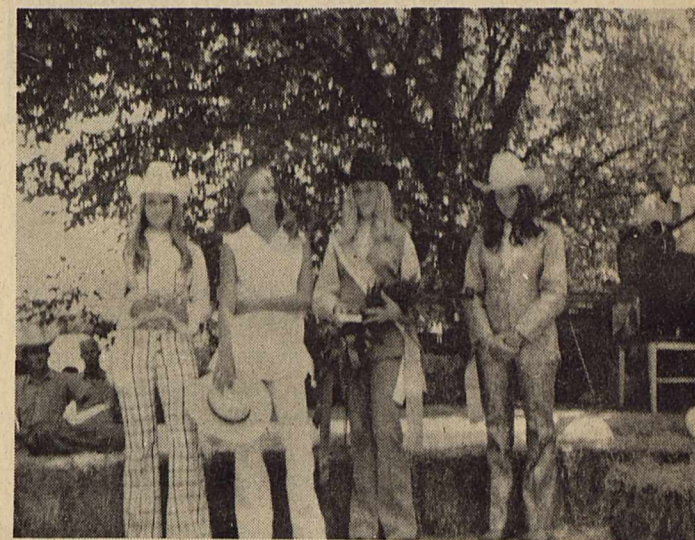

The drawing for the saddle came next. Mr. Billy Winn did the drawing of the ticket and Judge Bennett announced the lucky winner, Mrs. W. C. (Bill) Guetersloh, who sold the saddle before she hardly had time to catch her breath after finding out she was the winner. Mrs. Guetersloh stated, "I really didn't want to sell the saddle, but the man wanted it so very much that it was hard to refuse him."

Mr. Hoss Newsom, President of the Lions Club took over for the drawing of the radio, Russell Warren, son of Mr. & Mrs. Jimmy Bill Warren, did the drawing for the ticket with Kelly Lynn Neal of Semi, California winning the radio. Kelly Lynn is the great-great-granddaughter of Mrs. Walter McClellan who had purchased the ticket for her. The radio was given away by the Rebecca Club of Plains.

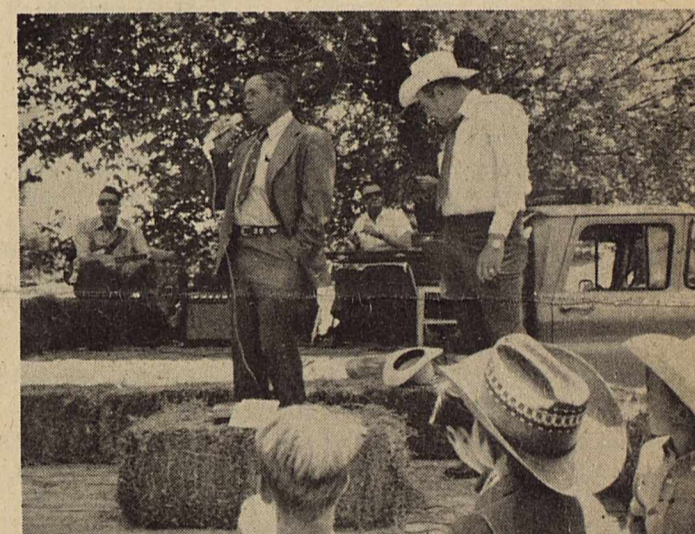

The number of plates sold were 606, but there were many small children where only one ticket was sold for two or three, as a child couldn't possibly eat as much as was placed on one plate. It was first announced that there were 756 tickets sold, but Mr. Abercrombie called to say that there were only 606, and the amount of money collected was $543 from the sales.

After the program, everyone walked and sat around swapping tales of "days of yore" and speaking of events also of our modern world of today. Dancing on Friday & Saturday nights, from all reports, was very successful. All in all, even though the rodeo had to be postponed, the reunion and barbecue was a great success.

MORE ON THE ATOM
Sanford, Calif. - A team of scientists at the Stanford Linear Accelerator Center, working with a two-mile-long atom smasher suspect they have discovered particles even tinier than protons or neutrons, the smallest known components of an atom. They call the particles "partons." It has been thought that protons and neutrons, which form the core of an atom's nucleus, could not be divided.

Youth Week

The glad sounds you hear are coming from the Young People of Plains as they tell about all the good things happening at Plains First Baptist Church during YOUTH WEEK.

Last Monday night, a choir of 35 young people from Bellmeade Baptist Church, Waco, came and presented a program in song. This program was tremendous as they sang about how God became real in their lives. Their personal testimonies will long live in the hearts and minds of those who were privileged to hear them. These young people were on a 11-day tour presenting their story in song to churches over several states.

The week is well under way and different things are happening each night. This will be climaxed with a cookout in the Stanford Park Saturday night. Coming for this special service and the Sunday morning services is Evangelist Jack Norwood. Your heart will thrill to the preaching of this vibrant and exciting young man. Jack Norwood has been called "God's preacher for today!" He bridges the generation gap with the ease of an athlete and in the power of God. With his guitar over his shoulder, he proclaims Jesus as the Way, the Truth and the Life.

His excitement about Jesus will generate a new enthusiasm in your own soul. Be sure to come to hear him!

Sherry Miller Honor Student

July 22 -- Sherry Miller of Plains, a student at Angelo State University in San Angelo, is listed on the honor roll for the spring semester at the University.

The student, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Miller, is listed on the 3, 5 to 4, 0 honor roll.

Miss Miller has completed degree requirements for a B. A. degree in English. While at A. S. U. she served as historian of the Student Education Association, secretary of the senior class, was a member of the English Teachers of America organization, and Beta Tau Sigma.

She has accepted a position as head resident of Chitwood Hall at Texas Tech University. Miss Miller will work toward completion of a M. A. degree in guidance and counseling while at Texas Tech.

Attention Parents

Mrs. Elmer Cross, head of the Plains School Cafeteria asks the parents to pay special attention to the following notice.

Lunch tickets may be purchased Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 15th and 16th. Although lunches will not be served until Wed. 17, it would be impossible to wait on everyone Wednesday and it would surely save the children waiting in line if the tickets were purchased in advance.

The staff of the Cafeteria would appreciate any help you could give them in this difficult situation.

Donors Of Beef

The following firms and men of Yoakum County were donors for the free beef eaten at the Old Settlers Reunion & barbecue:

- Plains Farm Supply;
- Cowboy Grill;
- Barrett Funeral Home;
- Wilmeth Oil;
- Plains State Bank;
- Anderson Grain;
- Bayer Lumber Company;
- Newsom Gin;
- Raymond Bookout, Com. of Prct. # 3;
- Romain Telephone Company
- Gene H. Bennett;
- Dick McGinty, and
- Bayne Price.

Cover Crop Practice Extended

By W. M. Overton, County Executive Director ASCS

Notice has been received that due to the dry weather and many farmers did not get to plant program crops and cover crops by July 31, an extension of one month to plant cover crops has been approved which will give farmers that have received moisture time to plant a cover crop of the approved cover crop varieties.

All approvals issued will be extended through August and other farmers that wish to file requests for planting an approved cover crop should file their request immediately and before planting the crop. It is likely that many farmers did not get cotton and grain sorghum planted, or they planted and it died out, which needs a cover. Under this emergency cover crop practice the payment is three dollars per acre, however, the land cannot be grazed and crops cannot be harvested.

Revival

The First Baptist Church of Antioch will be in Revival starting August 8 through 15th. Bro. Alton West of Brownfield will be holding the services. Services to begin each evening at 8:00 pm Texas time. Jerry Brian will be leading the song service. Regular morning services only on the two Sunday mornings announces Pastor Neil Parks. Everyone is invited to attend.

Residents Involved In Accident

A two pickup collision occurred at the intersection of McCann Road and Highway 214 4 miles south of Plains, Monday afternoon approximately at 4:00 p. m.

The El Camino pickup, driven by Mrs. Floyd Gossett was traveling north on Highway 214 when it collided with the GMC pickup driven by Tommy Warren, Jr. Both parties are residents of Plains.

Mrs. Gossett and son, who was asleep in the seat of the pickup, were taken by Plains ambulance to the Yoakum County hospital. They were released Tuesday afternoon after being treated for cuts and bruises. Tommy Warren was taken by private car to the hospital and was released after examination. Both pickups were badly damaged.

"Being a tale bearer, gossip, harboring resentment or hatred, can do more to harm the spirit than many other larger sins."

Have you ever been so happy that you felt a glow within or that you were going to bubble over and could hardly contain yourself? That was my feelings Saturday after coming home from our Old Settlers Reunion and Barbecue. There was not time to speak to everyone, but I did my best, even to the point that the editor became a little upset with me because he needed my help to take notes and pictures.

Many friends were there whom I have known from childhood and a few that I had not seen for 30 years or more. Mrs. P. Z. Conrad of Lubbock, who lived here many years ago, left here in 1929. Mr. Conrad was County Judge for a two-year term from January 1, 1927 - January 1, 1929. They originally owned a grocery store, dry goods store, or perhaps it should be called a General Merchandise store as you could purchase anything you needed. The store was located on the block just west of the old courthouse, and they lived above the store. Also, Mr. & Mrs. R. W. Matthews from Lubbock attended. Mr. Matthews, many years in the past, had taught a year or two in Plains, and at the time so many of the Plains girls and boys went to Lubbock for our last two years of high school, Mr. Matthews was high school principal. I remember distinctly a number of times if something special came up, he would single out one of the Plains students for whatever he needed. On one occasion, a teacher was gone in a class that I attended and he came in, looked over the names of the pupils, and picked me to teach the lesson to the class. Such little favors always endeared him to all of us. Even though he had gone far above teaching in a small school as Plains, he didn't forget us. When I went to greet him Saturday afternoon, he said, "Now, don't tell me, let me see if I remember." And after a moment's thought, he did, which was very pleasing. After we left Lubbock, he was made Superintendent of the Lubbock High School and filled that position many years before retiring. I wanted a picture of them with Mrs. Luna and some more of the old settlers, but I talked too long. By the time I could get around to it, some had already gone.

Among other friends from out of town were Mrs. Irby Bedford, nee Lydia Webber; Mr. & Mrs. Woodrow Webber; Mr. Fred McGinty; Mr. & Mrs. Melvin Fitzgerald, Linda and Cordell Huddleston and young son; Mrs. Bill Powell, nee Wilma Luna, of Santa Rosa, New Mexico, and a Mrs. Carpenter and Mrs. Rowe, whom I can't remember, and others. If I take time to write all names, Mack will say that my article was too long, and part would have to be cut.

Naturally, I was very proud of my granddaughter, Denise Newsom and the part she had to play as the 1970-71 Rodeo Queen, and in crowning the new Queen, Lola Bearden for the 1971-72 season; the special part my boss, Judge Gene Bennett has as Master of Ceremonies; (Judge is always outstanding in whatever role he is cast); State Representative E. L. Short in presenting the rewards, and son-in-law Hoss Newsom and Friend A. E. (Dick) McGinty in the roles they had as making announcements and with the drawing of tickets for the radio and the saddle.

I ate lunch with Miss Sue Stephens from Denver City, Mrs. D. C. Newsom Sr., and Mrs. Bessie McCravy and the editor. Although Mrs. E. L. Short had already eaten lunch with her husband, she sat with us and told about one of the trips she had taken to President and Mrs. Johnson's home, and the Johnson Library, which she described as being one of the most outstanding that she had ever seen.

Everything was just wonderful - the barbecue, seeing old friends and the program that followed. Can you now understand why I was almost ready to burst with happiness?

At a Las Vegas gambler's funeral, the speaker asserted: "Spike is not dead, he only sleeps."
From among the gambling friends who were attending there came a voice, "I got $100 that says he's dead."

Plains, the county seat of Yoakum County was the site of a genuine "Old Settlers Reunion."

This celebration has always been combined with a splendid rodeo. Until this year the popularity of this part of the affair had never been tested. However, robbed of the accompanying rodeo, by the "VEE" horse quarantine and vaccination program the Rodeo Association was compelled to stage the Reunion as a loner.

The importance, to this community, of this portion of the annual celebration was displayed by the wonderful attendance, as large or larger than last year, and the splendid interest in all the events in connection with the barbecue. The results of the Queen's Contest were outstanding. The splendid cooperation of all of the fine folks of the community made it possible to turn what looked like a catastrophe into a colossal success.

Frustration is rampaging as it always does in face of a crisis. Everyone is displeased with conditions in general but no one has a concrete answer to the problems facing the nation today. In every phase of endeavor there is wide diversity of opinion, supported by severe obstinacy that defies all attempts at coordination and cooperation. Law makers meet and enact laws by the score while violating and in some cases advising violation and searching diligently for every loophole for the purpose of evading the presently existing laws whenever it suits their fancy.

When governing bodies defy governmental laws and regulations they sow seeds of doubt and disregard in the minds of the people of the land. When the people of a country lose confidence their government, patriotism wanes and frustration rules.

Perhaps the extensive interests of political hopefuls at this early date will allow time for a more careful study of the qualifications of candidates in the coming election. The need for better government could call forth a better qualified list of candidates. It should, for when good men fail to run for office, evil men will rule.

Meeting Of Eastern Star

Plains Chapter #862, Order of the Eastern Star, met in regular meeting Monday, Aug. 2, at 7:30 p. m. in the Masonic Hall with Ursilla Henard, Associate Matron, and Bert Bartlett, Associate Patron, presiding.

Serving as proteems, in the absence of officers, were Mrs. Henard, Mr. Bartlett, Norelle Sloan, Bernice Bartlett, Lillian Luna, Ruth O'Neal and Lois McGinty.

An invitation to a banquet Aug. 21 in Amarilla honoring J. Victor Jones, Worthy Grand Patron, was read. Other invitations and articles of interest were reported from the official bulletin.

The altar was draped in memory of James L. Lee, Worthy Grand Patron in 1942-42. A short program was held in honor of Dr. Rob Morris, Founder.

The Chapter closed in ritualistic order. Fellowship and refreshments were enjoyed by all. Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett served as host and hostess.

Others in attendance were Sue Jones, Irene Anderson, Nell Brain, Teny Lester, Edna Chambliss and Celes Anthony.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Take time to look at yourself; not in a mirror, but at your inner thoughts and actions.

When a Turk wants soap-flakes, he asks for toz sabun!

A Happy Day For Mrs. McClellan

Mrs. Walter McClellan received word Saturday, July 31st that she had again become a great grandmother. Her son, Mutt and wife Gladys of Dallas telephoned to tell her that her granddaughter, Peggy, had a new son which weighed seven pounds and 14-1/2 ounces. He was named Jayson Howard, and born July 30th, 1971 around 6 o'clock p. m.

Only a few weeks ago during the early part of July, Mrs. McClellan received word from California that she had a great great granddaughter named Kelly Lynn Neal. She weighed 7 pounds and 1 ounce. Her parents are Mr. & Mrs. J. L. Neal; grandparents are Leroy and Lou Alice Neal; great grand parents are Jewel and John Anderson.

When the Rebecca Club of Plains began selling tickets for a radio to make up money for the Rebecca Home, Mrs. McClellan purchased a ticket for each of her grandchildren, great grandchildren, and her one great-great grandchild. Saturday during the drawing of tickets to see who had won the lucky radio, Miss Kelly Lynn Neal, only a few weeks old of Semi, California was the lucky person. Mrs. McClellan was very happy and stated: "I would have been happy for any of the children to have won. But I am very thrilled that my first great-great grandchild won."

Card Of Thanks

I want to express my gratitude to each of the ladies who had a part in making my birthday such a happy day. I truly intended to send a personal note to each of you, but because of having more pain and a problem with my eye, I can't seem to get it done. Thanks so much to each one who helped buy the beautiful dress and house coat. Those of you who missed the luncheon really missed a treat, it was such a lovely and pleasant few hours spent in the sweet fellowship with friends. Such friendship and thoughtfulness along with your prayers surely help to face the days of pain and inactivity.

Sincerely,
Vicie Hinkle

Card of Thanks

I would like to express my thanks to everyone who bought tickets from me in my race for Rodeo Queen. Also my appreciation to the Plains Lion's Club for voting me their candidate and for their support.

My congratulations to Lola, she will be a lovely queen and thanks to Anita for being a good sport and working under handicaps.

It makes me feel good that I have had a part in raising money for the Lion's Club that will buy glasses for under privileged children and support the Little League and Boy Scout programs.

Thanks again,
Gwen Fitzgerald

SUDIE THOMPSON CHDA★ Says
Peanut Butter Sandwiches

One of America's favorite sandwich spreads is made from the Arachis hypogaea. Your kids may not ask for it by that name, but the peanut still provides one of the most popular lunchtime treat in America -- peanut butter!

And peanut butter can be combined with a thousand and one things for good eating. All you need is a little imagination and anxious taste buds!

Peanut butter is one of the most nutritionally valuable foods in use today. It is 26 percent pure protein, and economical at that. The U. S. Department of Agriculture ranks peanut butter high in food energy - fats necessary to maintain body balance, phosphorus, thiamin and niacin in addition to its protein value. It's no wonder that peanut butter is included among the commodity foods for distribution to needy families through USDA's Food and Nutrition Service, and as a meat alternate protein-rich food in Type A lunches for school children -- the Southwest used more than 1.8 million pounds last year in their School Lunch Program.

One thing for sure, the United States eats most of the world's peanut butter and it's not coincidence that kids love it so much. So put your imagination to work, and concoct some surprise sandwiches for your gang during August Sandwich Month!

Start out with the old favorite -- peanut butter and jelly -- in a new and different light.

PEANUT BUTTER GRILLWICHES

8 slices enriched bread	1/4 cup strawberry jelly
1/2 cup peanut butter	Softened butter or margarine
8 slices cooked bacon, cut in half crosswise

Spread 4 slices of bread with peanut butter and top with 4 pieces (2 slices) bacon. Spread remaining bread with jelly and put on peanut butter slices, jelly side down. Spread outsides with softened butter. Put sandwiches in preheated (medium heat) skillet and cook until golden brown -- about 2 minutes. Turn and brown on other side. Makes 4.

You may want to make PEANUT BUTTER AND CHEESE SOUFFLE SANDWICHES a permanent attraction on your luncheon menus when you discover how much fun they are to make, and how good they are to eat!

8 slices enriched white bread	2 eggs
1/4 cup peanut butter	1 - 1/2 cup milk
2 tablespoons sliced stuffed green olives	1 teaspoon salt
4 slices sharp process cheese (4 ounces)	4 slices tomato

Spread 4 slices of bread with peanut butter. Cover each slice with olive slices, then top each with slice of cheese. Close sandwiches with remaining four slices of bread. Place sandwiches in greased 9-inch square baking pan. Beat eggs well; beat in milk and salt. Pour mixture over sandwiches. Top each sandwich with a slice of tomato; bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F) about 30 minutes, or until tops of sandwiches are lightly browned. Serve hot. Makes 4.

Peanut butter mixes with so many things so well that the possibilities are just endless for sandwich fixins. After you've tried these easy ideas simple as ABC -- make up your own!

About local folks

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Riggs, from California, son of Mrs. Joe Kennedy, are here visiting for a few days. They plan to go on to Lake Texoma for a fishing trip before returning home.

The Tumbleweed is now open for business again. They have had two weeks rest and Mr. Weed is feeling some better. His expression is "Why, I never felt better or had less in my life!" Mrs. Weed has been decorating her house, so the rest has been good for them both.

Mrs. Gaylon Tekell is "working" (?) at the swimming pool this week while Macky McWhirter is on vacation. Look out Kids!

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Kennedy are on vacation. They went first to Brownwood to visit their son, Rusty and his wife, then they will go on to Fort Worth for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon Tekell and his parents, Mr. and O. O. Tekell went to Tahoka Sunday to attend the funeral services for Mr. Sam Bartley, father of Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Tekell's daughter-in-law.

It was noticed in the Lovington Leader a week or so ago that Robert Henard, formerly of Plains and who is now Assistant Co. Agent of Lovington, was in the hospital. Nothing has been heard since that time, and it is hoped that he is out of the hospital by now and on the road to recovery.

Mrs. John McConnell has recently had two new in-laws to join her family. Her grandniece, Bridget Smith, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Fray Smith of Lubbock was joined in marriage at the First Christian Church in Lubbock. Her grandnephew, Larry Clayton Lovelace was married to Miss Margaret Doris Luker, July 24th at 7:30 p. m., at Christ Lutheran Church of Lubbock.

Judge and Mrs. Stanley Duwall of Denver City were honored on their 50th Wedding Anniversary Sunday from 3 to 5 o'clock p. m., by their son, Dr. Philip Duwall, wife and children. The affair was held in the Yoakum County State Bank's community room. Many lovely gifts were received.

Miss Marie Grisham and Helen, visited her sister Mrs. Jeanie Bob Edwards and family over the weekend, and attended the "old settlers reunion and barbecue."

Mr. & Mrs. Hoss Newsom, Denise and Neil, left early last Sunday morning for California to visit Lavene's brother, Tony Lusk and family. Their plans were when they left, to come back through Nevada, Salt Lake City, on to Denver, Colorado to visit a cousin, Jane Murphy and family, and then on to Colorado Springs, Colorado to visit Hank & Louise Goehry.

Mrs. Verda Lee Robertson spent the weekend in Alpine with her husband, Johnny Robertson who has cattle in that part of Texas and recently moved into a trailer house to be near enough to tend to them without driving back and forth. She also visited Mrs. J. P. Robertson who is in a Nursing Home. She reported that Alpine received over an inch of rain while she was there, and Johnny was very happy. Even though the country could stand a number of such rains, this much will help the grass to grow and turn green once again.

Mr. & Mrs. John McConnell had as their guests last week, Mrs. McConnell's daughter, Doshia, her husband, Professor Robert T. Bryant and boys Christopher and Don Odie from San Antonio, Texas.

Miss Lou Ella Turner, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. W. P. Turner, began working as Secretary to the County Agent and County Home Dem. Agent, on Monday, July 12th, replacing Linda Shaffer who has moved to Lubbock. Linda's husband will be attending Texas Technological University this fall and therefore, Linda left early as she had been offered a job at a local in Lubbock.

Cattle Grub Control Sprinkler Type Irrigation Systems

By Leo L. White, County Agricultural Agent

The grubs or warbles that appear in the backs of cattle during the winter can be controlled. One of the best control measures is the use of a "pour-on" systemic material that will be absorbed by the animals and cause the grubs to die before they reach the back and loin area. The animal's body absorbs the dead grubs and they never emerge beneath the skin to cause lumps and wheals. There are no holes bored in the skin to cause hide damage and discomfort.

The 4-H beef calf feeders are using a material called "Coral Pour-On" on their club calves this year. The amount used is three to four ounces of the liquid material per animal and the cost is about 50¢ per head. This material was used last year in a grub control demonstration on the L. O. Smith herd and excellent results were obtained. It was also used on six 4-H Club calves last year and this year they all want it.

The pour-on type materials are easy to use. There is no necessity for cleaning the animals back before application and no need for brushing the material in after it is poured on. One shot does it. The three ounces of liquid material will spread over an area two to three inches wide and about eighteen inches long over the animals back and loin. There is an opportune time for making the application. The first ten days in August seems to get best results. The ideal time varies in different parts of the country depending upon winter weather conditions.

Grubs can be found in the back of cattle from late October to mid-January in this area. Heel flies, the culprit that lays the eggs, will be active from late November through most of April. Farther north the heel flies season is later and in South and Central Texas they often have grubs appearing as early as the middle of September.

The practice of controlling cattle grubs should be a part of every cattle ranchers program. Some good working shutes and corrals are a necessity in order to give individual treatment and the correct dosage.

The bright side of the story is the fact that once the grubs are completely controlled, the operation can be discontinued. The heel fly does not travel much more than a half mile from where it is hatched, so very little reinfestation will come in from the neighbors herd. It is hard to get 100% control with one treatment. Treating the cattle for two years in succession should put the operator in a position to leave off the treatment for the next four or five years provided no outside cattle are brought in.

Spending fifty cents a head per year for two years and getting results for a six year period reduces the annual cost to about 17¢ per head per year. This 17¢ should cause the animals to go through the winter in better condition and result in quite a saving in winter feeds. The improved condition of the mother cow should result in higher milk production and a better calf to put on the market in the fall.

Now is the time to treat the cattle for grubs. For those who do not have the necessary working chutes, now is the time to start building and getting ready for August of 1972.

The change from plenty of labor in past years to a shortage of labor in the agricultural field has brought about some changes in the field of irrigation. There was a time when all pipe any size you had could be moved by hand, but now labor to move pipe is almost a thing of the past. What are the farmers doing, they like all industry are going to more and more automatic, mechanical or less labor consuming type irrigation systems. With these new type systems there are new problems to be solved. One of the most common the Soil Conservation Service personnel have found is new systems with too large size nozzles for the size pump, motor and pipe. Each nozzle size to work correctly must have the correct pressure, amount of water and set in the location long enough to apply the needed water for the respective crop else a good job of irrigation cannot be done.

When an irrigation system is operated below or above the designed pressure it just cannot apply water efficiently. There will be dry areas and too wet areas and it will show in the crop by the way the plants grow or don't grow.

Nearly all the systems that have been checked were found to be operating at too low pressure for the size nozzle caused by too small motors or not enough water available. Examples are the use of 70 E nozzle with 1 1/32 to 7/32 size nozzle which requires 55 to 75 lbs operating pressure. The size 30 E nozzle with 3/16 to 1/8 nozzle that operate at lower pressure of 35 lbs to 45 lbs. These smaller size nozzles will let the farmer operate his irrigation system with in the design and not pump his wells so hard. There is a large number of wells that have been pumping off this year due to heavy irrigation load.

The Soil Conservation Service personnel of the Plains Work Unit will be glad to work with you on a better design for the well and equipment you have to do the best possible job of Irrigation Water Management on your farm or grassland.

Snake In A Boot

Early last Thursday morning when Roy Lowrey, who lives in the Sligo Community, put on his boots to go change his irrigation pipe, he felt something in one of them. He pulled it off, shoot it, and out fell a rattle snake approximately 2 to 3 feet long which had 4 rattlers and a button. Before the snake hit the ground, Roy had jumped a number of feet away. He called for his wife to bring a shovel, but only got in one good lick before it crawled back into the boot. The next time he got the snake out, he had his gun ready and shot it.

It is quite certain that before Roy puts his boots on from now on that he will shake them out well to be sure something is not lurking inside. One experience of this type is usually enough.

Double Ring Vows Pledged

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Walton Eads will be at home in Canyon, Texas after their honeymoon trip to scenic areas of New Mexico.

In a beautiful Spanish setting of Spanish hurricane lamps accented with white candles, pink bows and wedding bells, the couple married in double ring rites at 3:00 p. m. Sunday, August 1 with the Rev. K. L. Quesenberry officiating in the ceremonies at the United Methodist Church in Plains.

The bride is the former Terrie Lynn Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Taylor, Route 1, Plains. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Eads of Texline, Texas.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Miss Shelly Williams of Plains, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length, princess styled, white crepe dress with scoop neckline and empire waistline softly draped in back. The front panel was trimmed with white lace roses hand set with tiny seed pearls. Her ballerina length veil of illusion was caught with soft petals and lace roses set with seed pearls. She also wore a cultured pearl necklace which was a gift from the groom. She carried a white bible topped with a hot pink nosegay and trailing white satin streamers. Also contained in the bridal bouquet was a heart-shaped necklace set with diamonds borrowed from her mother and for something "old", a spur rowel from her grandfather's old bronc-riding spurs was tied into the bouquet.

Robbi Taylor, sister of the bride, served as her maid of honor and only attendant. Her street length pink crepe dress featured a V-neckline and belted back. She carried long stemmed pink roses wrapped about with white satin.

Ray Eads, brother of the groom served as best man. The three flower girls were; Kathy Eads, sister of the groom; Gina Gruben of Tatum, and Kim Provence of Denver City.

Ushers were Roland Taylor, brother of the bride and David Barnett of Plains.

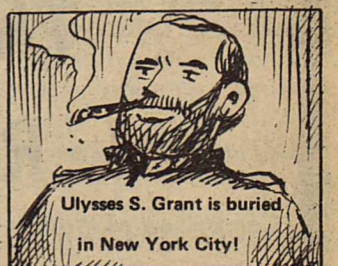

A reception was held at the church following the wedding. Serving in the houseparty were Miss Sue Provence of Denver City who registered guests, and at the bride's table, Mrs. Eddie Tingle of Canyon and Mrs. J. O. Barnett of Plains. The table was laid with bride's crystal, accented with candles and bows.

Mrs. Eads is a graduate of Plains High School and attended two years at Eastern New Mexico University.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Texline High School and will be attending his fourth year at West Texas State University this fall. He is presently employed with Canyon Cattle Commission Company.

Frank Spencer and wife, Ruby left Monday afternoon for Cody Wyoming for a visit and fishing trip to Frank's brother, and also to attend the State Fair at Billings, Wyoming. They plan to be gone for approximately two weeks.

Frank stated that to entice him to come, his brother stated that fish were biting very well at Cody Lake. In fact, fish were so abundant that they were almost jumping out of the water.

Frank should have a "good fish story" for folks when he returns.

Mrs. Blanche Dyer, Yoakum County's District Clerk, reported Monday that she was really missing her deputy Sandra Ellison. Sandra began her two weeks' vacation Monday, July 29th and this leaves all the work of the office for Blanche plus a 11 the running up and down stairs to attend necessary work which pertains to other offices connected with hers.

Pool News
 Things have been going great at the swimming pool for some time now. The new slide has been installed and the kids seem to be real well pleased with it. Come on now and enjoy it while you can. The Pool will close August 15th for the winter. A 14K gold wedding has been found at the pool. If you have one missing please come by the pool and make the proper identification and it will be returned to you.

Revival In Progress
 Revival services are going great at the Assembly of God Church reports pastor, H. A. Tarkington. The attendance has been very good. The evangelist, Roy Lee and his wife, Linda sing several songs each night. He plays the guitar and she plays the piano for the congregational singing, the accorderian for their special music, and the organ during the invitation each evening. As the evangelist remarked one evening, "Linda comes from a very talented family -- each member plays any instrument you hand them, in fact, they are so musical even their sewing machine is a Singer!" Their music is very good and this prepares your heart for the message of this young man as he preaches the Word of God. You don't want to miss hearing him. The services start each evening at 8:00 pm and the revival continues on through Sunday August 8th. Make plans now to attend.

The Rodeo Association wishes to express their thanks and appreciation to all of the people who helped to make the Reunion a success. There was a lot of time and hard work put into this program and as a result of this we had a memorable day.

We also want to give a big "Thank You" to the people of the community who helped support us by buying tickets and attending this celebration.

We hope next year to have our rodeo, in addition to our Old Settler's Reunion.

Again, we sincerely thank each and everyone for the help and support that was given to us.
