Senior Citizens

"Since this column is now being printed in the Plains newspaper, I feel it fitting to re-introduce Yoakum County Senior Citizen's Center to the readers up around Plains, Bronco and the newcomers to the Denver City area.

"We are located at 412 W. 5th Street, west side of building. The first door on the right is our office. In the office are Mary Hungerford, director; Pat Clark, our outreach girl; Ann Holland, bookkeeper, next door, still on right is our workroom. At this time it is used almost exclusively for Ceramics. Betty Calder is there to assist the first three days each week. Next door, still on right is the pool room. Two nice pool tables and lots of challenges. Next room, around the corner on the left, is used for exercise every morning. C.R. Rice volunteers his time and effort in this department.

Now retrace your steps back down the hall and enter the dining room. With extra tables we can seat 150 people. In this room we have an onsite library, piano with 3 pianists in our group, and tables for dominoes. These games begin early and last until in the afternoon. Last, but not least, is the nice big kitchen. We feel so lucky to have so many luxuries. Martha Sellers is cook; Mozelle Garner assists her; Carmen Wilson is the dining room hostess and assists in the kitchen; Joanne Lightfoot is bus driver and kitchen assistant. She makes g-o-o-d dessert, and delivers meals to house bound seniors.

"Meals are served each day at 11:30 and a social gathering each Friday night. Last Friday we had 35 for a nice meal. Music on Friday night is offered by J.T. Tucker, Odell Baker, Happy Hopkins, Reese Wilkerson and Shorty Looney. These guys are a fine group and very good at picking and singing.

"To the people around Plains and Bronco, I'd like to just say "Welcome" to each of you, and hope all can come visit the Center soon.

A happy event each day is arrival of the Plains bus with Seniors from Plains. Why not fill the bus full and give Annie something to do besides making net bonnets.

Thanks for the space, and we'll see you." Smitty

CECIL "MA" THOMPSON

Kitchen Korner

A cook, who has gained local fame for her chocolate cake recipe, began learning her cooking skills when only "knee-hi to a kildee".

Cecil "Ma" Thompson, a native of Abilene, came to the caprock at the age of four with her parents, Dillard Witt and Lela May Morris. Four brothers completed the family, who lived on a farm located 9 miles from Post City. The farm was purchased from cereal magnate C.W. Post.

"Ma" attended school in Garza County and there later met and married the late Dillard "Pa" Thompson.

"Ma" and "Pa" moved to Yoakum County in 1961. He farmed and she began checking groceries in '62 at Anderson's Foodway in Tokio. September of this year will mark her 23rd year as a grocery checker, with the last eleven years spent employed with Rico Alcorta at Pay-N-Save. "Pa" passed away earlier this year and was buried on the date that marked their would-be 56th anniversary.

The Thompsons raised four children, Velva Arnold of Tulia, Kenneth of Brownfield, Patsy Leonard of Lubbock and Gloria Cooper of Booneville, Ark. "Ma" boasts 12 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Chosen as our cook for this week, "Ma" enjoys sewing, cooking and canning.

Plains Independent School District

From The Superintendent's Desk

I would like to share information with you this week about the University Interscholastic League. The U.I.L. began in 1910 as the Debating League of Texas High Schools, and merged with the Texas Interscholastic Athletic Association in 1912. The U.I.L. is a non-profit organization providing educational extracurricular academic, music and athletic contests for the students of Texas schools. There are approximately 1,500,000 student participants each year. The League has been so successful that one out of each two graduating students has participated in a U.I.L. event.

This being the seventy-fifth anniversary of the U.I.L., I would like to list the contests, beginning with academic. They are: one act play, journalism, spelling, number sense, calculator applications, debate, informative and persuasive speaking, prose and poetry reading, ready writing, science, shorthand and typing.

The largest activity is in music. In 1983-84, approximately 345,000 students from 1806 junior and senior high schools, participated in music competition. Plains was one of the 1806 schools that participated and advanced to the regional and state contests.

Athletic contests include football, cross country, swimming, basketball, soccer, track, golf, team tennis, tennis, baseball, volleyball and softball. Texas has more high school football and basketball teams than any other state.

Plains Schools began participating in University Interscholastic League activities in 1938, when the first football program was organized.

The organizational structure of the U.I.L. consists of a state executive committee composed of twelve people appointed by the President of the University of Texas at Austin, and a legislative council composed of twenty persons elected from each of the four state regions and one person from each of the five classifications of schools.

I am privileged to be serving as a member of the U.I.L. Legislative Council. The Region I, Class AA that I represent has forty-seven schools and covers an area from Quanah, to Anson, to Eldorado, to Presidio, to Clint. I accept this responsibility as partial repayment for the countless benefits provided by the League. The Texas Interscholastic League Foundation has awarded higher education grants totalling over four million dollars to four thousand, six hundred and forty-nine students.

All U.I.L. standards and regulations are adopted by the schools themselves. Any person may present a proposal for change. Proposals are to be presented to the legislative council prior to May 1 of each year. The proposal is then submitted to one of four standing committees - policy, music, athletic or academics. The standing committee will send the proposed change to all schools and request their reaction. The fifth step is a public hearing on all changes, scheduled for the third Sunday in October. Then, following the public hearing, the standing committees make recommendations on all proposals submitted. In step seven of the plan, the legislative council takes action on each proposal. If the proposal passes the legislative council, then the proposal is placed on a referendum ballot to be voted on by all schools. Then, if passed, the State Board of Education must approve the change before it is implemented.

Now if I have coherently explained the method used to change a U.I.L. rule, and if you understand the framework of the organization, would you please explain it to about half of the Superintendents and Principals in this state! It seems that everyone is alike in one way or another, and we all seem to like rules and regulations as long as they apply to the other fellow, and do not interfere with the things we are doing.

There are many rules that we might like to change for Plains Independent School District however, thanks to Dr. Bailey Marshall, the U.I.L. staff, and to you the participants and supporters, this University Interscholastic League has proven to be one of the best student organizations in the United States.

Donna Miller To Graduate From College Of Denistry

Donna Miller, a senior dental student at Baylor College of Dentistry in Dallas recently completed a two week preceptorship program in the office of Dr. Nancy Muirhead of Temple, Tx.

The program, a Private Practice Preceptorship Program, offers students an opportunity to spend a two-week period in the office of a general dental practitioner to observe the day-to-day routines of a dentist in his practice. Under the supervision of the dentist preceptor, the student will become familiar with the many different aspects of office management, community service and patient care that will be encountered in a private practice.

The course is scheduled during the student's last academic quarter prior to graduation and will serve not only as a learning experience for the student but will offer a practical transition from professional study to private practice.

Guidelines and objectives have been established and the program has been endorsed by the Texas Dental Association and the Texas State Board of Dental Examiners. The entire program is offered under the direction of the Department of Community Health and Preventive Dentistry of Baylor College of Dentistry.

Each preceptor will act as a host for the dental student while he is in the community in which the dentist practices. Although the preceptor will continue to see his regularly scheduled patients, he will devote some of his personal time during each day in providing counsel and guidance for the student.

Donna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T.J. Miller, and is a 1976 Plains High School graduate. Graduating in June from Baylor her plans are to work with Dr. Fred Grimes in Waco.
