PLAINS, YOAKUM COUNTY, TEXAS

VOLUME 5, NUMBER 40 SUNDAY, JANUARY 7, 1990 30¢

9-1-1 Fees To Be Collected From Area Telephone Users

Beginning in January, seven telephone companies across the South Plains will begin collecting 9-1-1 fees from their subscribers. Each telephone customer within the region covered by the South Plains Regional 9-1-1 Emergency Communications Plan will be charged a 9-1-1 Service Fee and a 9-1-1 Equalization Surcharge.

The 9-1-1 Service fee is a fifty cent assessment that will remain in the region to help fund the 9-1-1 system. The 9-1-1 Equalization Surcharge is a twentieth percent addition to intrastate long distance charges. The surcharge will be collected throughout most of Texas and be used to help finance 9-1-1 systems in sparsely populated areas. The South Plains will receive close to 600,000 from the surcharge fund to offset the implementation costs not covered by the 9-1-1 Service Fee.

South Plains Association of Governments has been designated by the 16 participating counties and the 38 cities as the agency to administer the regional system. SPAG officially begins the administration in January. During the next 24 months, SPAG will coordinate the implementation of the twelve 9-1-1 systems in the region.

Public Safety Answering Points (SPAP) for the 9-1-1 system are anticipated to be operational according to the following scheduled:

Hale County	Aug. 1990
Terry County	Oct. 1990
Hockley County	July 1991
Lamb County	Aug. 1991
Floyd County	Aug. 1991
Motley County	Aug. 1991
Yoakum County	Sept. 1991
Bailey County	Oct. 1991
Lynn County	Oct. 1991
Crosby County	Nov. 1991
Cochran County	Dec. 1991
Dickens County	Dec. 1991
Garza County	Dec. 1991

Hale and Terry County systems will be implemented earlier because of local funds used to supplement the non recurring cost.

Cookie Sales To Begin For Local Girl Scouts

Girl Scouts will begin taking cookie orders after 4 p.m. Friday, Jan. 12. Girls and their parents are to meet at the Scout Hut at 4 p.m. that day to pick up order forms. No one will be authorized to accept orders before that date.

Cookies will sell for $2.50 per box.

The annual cookie sales are the only money making project of the local Scout troops. Monies go to pay for pins, badges and other troop expenses. Caprock Council receives a portion of the money for each box sold to be used for adult leader training, camping facilities and expenses of the 18-passenger van that may be used by individual troops.

Incentive awards are offered the girls. The more boxes a girl sells, the more prizes she receives. Last year, several local girls received Texas Water Rampage tickets and were able to use their tickets during a special outing in the summer. To obtain these tickets, girls must sell 125 boxes of cookies.

Plains Girl Scouts say thank you to the community for support in last year's sale and ask for continued support this year.

Little Dribblers Meeting Slated For Thursday

A second meeting for parents of Little Dribblers boys will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 11 in the Heritage Room of Yoakum County Library. All parents of interested boys should attend.

Applications to participate will be sent out from school Monday, Jan. 8.

There is still a need for persons to serve as coaches for the minor league division, grades three and four. Anyone interested should contact Jerry Parrish or N.C. Clanahan. All coaches are asked to attend the Jan. 11 meeting.

Topics to be discussed include age and grade eligibility, concession stand and coaches.

Kirk Lewis Reminds 4-H'ers Of Upcoming Livestock Show

Preparations have begun for the annual Yoakum County Junior Livestock Show coming up Feb. 15-17. Entry cards with all information completed and accompanied by entry/clean-up fees must be in the County Extension Office by 5 p.m. Monday, Feb. 5. Cards may be picked up at the office after Jan. 18.

This is different from the procedure of past shows.

Weigh-in of barrows will get underway Thursday, Feb. 15 at 9 a.m. continuing until 12 noon. Lambs will be weighed in and classified from 1 to 4 p.m.; steers from 4 to 5 p.m. and rabbits from 5 to 7 p.m.

Judging is scheduled for Friday, Feb. 16 with barrows to be judged beginning at 8 a.m. Lambs, rabbits and heifers will be judged at 1, 5 and 7 p.m. respectively. Steer judging will follow.

Champions pictures will be made at 10:30 a.m. Saturday followed by a complimentary buyers' luncheon in the school cafeteria. Awards presentations are to begin at 12:30 p.m. with premium auction set for 1 p.m.

Kirk Lewis, Yoakum County Extension Agent, is available to assist Yoakum County youth on how to dress livestock for the show. Contact him for information.

Texas Young Farmers Train Future Agricultural Leaders

As part of a new, aggressive campaign to meet the challenges of the coming decade, the State Association of Young Farmers of Texas recently held a Leadership Conference '89 for its members. The seminar took place Nov. 17-20 at Lake Buchanan, Texas and offered farmers attending the opportunity to gain valuable leadership skills.

Four speakers addressed the group during the three day conference. Their selection reflects the association's commitment to providing necessary information on topics crucial to succeeding as a leader in agriculture today.

Tommy Engelke, a nationally known communications specialist with a solid background in farming, outlined the role of leadership to Young Farmer members. Barby Fairbanks Eide presented a detailed program on leadership skills necessary to assume that role. Ms. Eide has toured the United States and Canada as an internationally rated speaker on professionalism. In conjunction with these presentations, Public Speaking and Parliamentary Procedure were also topics covered. Marcus Hill, a beef cattle farmer and president of Ag Workers Auto Insurance in Dallas, and Jack Winterowd, Jr., an educator in agricultural science, were the presenters.

The Leadership Conference '89 is part of Texas Young Farmer's revitalized effort to meet its members' needs. Leadership skills, training, education, community service, and rural development, are all strong concerns of the over 35,000 farmers in Texas. As an association that serves the agricultural community, the Texas Young Farmers is setting goals for the coming decade to meet these needs, as well as provide a detailed flow of information to its members. The association, since its inception in 1956, has chosen as its mission to be an "agricultural organization that provides quality education and leadership programs, while promoting fellowship and community service among committed agriculturalists throughout Texas."

Originally, Texas Young Farmers was an outgrowth of FFA, serving as an alumni association for FFA members who had completed their education. As the organization grew, it opened its membership to all farmers and individuals involved in agri-business between the ages of 18 and 40. Dues will be $8 per year. The program is administered by the Agricultural Education Division of the Texas Education Agency.

In a heavily rural state like Texas, such an association plays a vital role in the direction agriculture will take in the next decade. It seeks to represent the interests of farmers and farming in Texas with a strong and independent voice.

Tax Relief Coming In '90

"Most employers are in for a pleasant surprise in the new year," announced Mary Scott Nabers, Employer Representative on the Texas Employment Commission. "Unemployment insurance taxes will decline substantially for most Texas businesses," Nabers explained.

The minimum tax rate for experienced employers will be .29% of the first $9000 of each employee's wages. This is down from .64% in 1989. The maximum rate will be 6.29%, down from 8.34%. The entry level rate for most new businesses remains 2.7%.

"These rates are the lowest that Texas employers have seen in many years," Nabers said. The decade of the '80s visited severe economic recession upon the state and record numbers of unemployed Texans filed for unemployment benefits. The trust fund from which benefits are paid was quickly depleted and replenishing it resulted in higher taxes for employers. "Those higher tax rates came at a time when employers themselves could least afford it," said Nabers. "Now that the fund is again on sound footing, it is gratifying to see employers getting a break."

Translating the new rates into dollars, a minimum rated employer will pay $26.10 per employee per year. A maximum rated employer will pay $566.10 per employee per year. Roughly 40% of all Texas employers are minimum rated, 4% have the maximum rate, and the remaining 56% are somewhere in between.

The Texas Employment Commission will begin mailing 1990 tax rate notices the first week in February.

Plains Independent School District

'Home of the Cowboys & Cowgirls'

John Nance Elementary Principal

GUEST COLUMNIST

Plains Elementary has recognized writing improvement as a goal for the 1989-90 school year. We implemented our improvement program by surveying the latest research in the field of teaching writing to young students. Many of these findings were then put into practice in our classrooms.

We found that research shows reading and writing skills are closely related. Reading comprehension skills are greatly enhanced by improving one's basic writing skills. Therefore, our writing improvement efforts will benefit our reading program also.

At the heart of a good writing program is narrative writing. Narrative is the way we make sense of our world and of our experiences in that world. The effective use of narrative is essential to thinking and to intellectual development. The most important feature of narrative may be the ease with which children use it. Perhaps because they hear bedtime stories that rely on narrative to relate the action of the characters or because they see narrative on Saturday morning cartoons, children are comfortable with narrative and take risks when writing narrative.

"Taking risks" is at the center of building confidence as a writer. The mechanics of grammar can be a stumbling block for young writers if a guiding teacher does not handle it correctly. Students must feel comfortable in trying new concepts without the fear of being penalized. The mechanics of grammar will fall in place as students mature.

It has been exciting to see young writers at work this year. Writing is a challenge, but it has been very rewarding. Many smiles come from our students as they admire a writing assignment just completed. This new success then builds confidence and students' abilities to relate other experiences through writing.

From kindergarten through the fourth grade, writing has been a top priority in Plains Elementary this year. We are anxious in the years to come to see the fruits of our labors.

Just A Cowboy Honoring A.E. "Dick" McGinty By Alton E. McGinty

*He's just a Cowboy, rawboned and tan,
Ekeing out a living in the sagebrush and sand.
Raising his family in the West Texas sun,
Living a legend his father had begun.*

*Riding the saddle from daylight to dark,
Sharing his home with the coyote and lark.
Many a calf he's marked with his brand,
Marked by this Cowboy, rawboned and tan.*

*He served his Country in the Second World War,
Honoring the Flag, many men fought and died for.
One of "America's Who's Who" in 1973 and '74,
He's still a Cowboy, now for fourscore.*

*He supports the athletes in sunshine and rain,
Many a step he took with the gridiron chain.
Football, volleyball, basketball, and track,
He's always a Cowboy, has been from way-back.*

*Many honors have ambled his way,
Many more than I could ever say.
And he's more than a Cowboy, rawboned and tan.
He's my father, my brother, my friend.*

Beef Stew

Prepare this hearty stew as a quick warm-up to cold winter weather. It's low in fat and high in great taste!

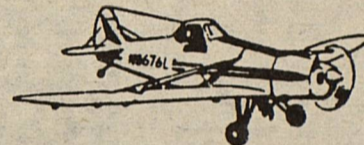

- | | |
|--|--------------------------------------|
| 2 pounds lean beef chuck, cut into cubes | 1/2 tsp. freshly ground black pepper |
| 1/4 cup flour | 1/4 tsp. oregano |
| 2 tbsp. oil | 1/2 cup dry red wine |
| 1 cup onion, chopped | 1 cup water |
| 2 cloves garlic, minced | 2 cups tomatoes, chopped |
| 2/3 cup celery, diced | 4 medium potatoes, quartered |
| 1/4 cup parsley, chopped | 4 cups carrots, diced |
| 1/2 tsp. rosemary | |
| 1/4 tsp. thyme | |

Coat beef with flour and brown in oil in a large Dutch oven. Add onion and garlic and cook until vegetables are softened. Pour off fat. Add remaining ingredients (except tomatoes, potatoes and carrots); bring to a boil, cover and simmer for 1 hour. Add tomatoes, potatoes and carrots and simmer 45 minutes or until potatoes are tender. Makes 8 servings.
