Masons to Meet in Dallas April 22-24

Dallas, April 15.—Two more weeks and the spring reunion of Dallas Scottish Rite Masons will be held in this city. Petitions are being received by J. L. Stephens, 33rd degree IGH, secretary of all the lodges and his announcement today is that there is yet ample time to have applications acted upon.

A treat is in store for the Masons who attend the reunion April 20 to 24 inasmuch as distinguished Masons from different cities in Texas will be present. C. L. Alderman, 33rd degree IGH, grand commander of Knights Templar in Texas, will be present as will P. L. Sanders, a grand commandery officer of Nacogdoches, Grand Master Guinn Williams of Decatur, now on a tour of East Texas Masonic lodges, will be present on Monday and Tuesday, April 20-21, the first two days of the reunion. Their entertainment is being provided for by the committee for that purpose.

There are approximately 10,000 members of the Scottish Rite bodies of Dallas. The latest work of service to be undertaken by the Scottish Rite is to bear one-half the expense of the operation of the hospital for crippled children in Dallas. The new board will be composed of three Hella Temple representatives,

W. H. Wray, Judge Towne Young and John L. DeGrazier. The Scottish Rite representatives will be M. E. Terrill, Judge Hiram Lively and M. N. Baker. While attending the reunion the Masons will be given an opportunity to visit the hospital and see the work that is being done there.

Blanton To Remain in Washington During the Vacation Period

Washington, March 31, 1925.—Editor Enterprise, Winters, Texas. Dear Editor: I feel that I owe it to the people to put in all of my time here on the job in their behalf, and not take any vacation. Hence I shall forego the pleasure of spending the recess at home.

District correspondence relating to business of my constituents is voluminous at all times, and it requires my personal attention just as urgently during recess as it does while congress is in session. It would surprise you to see the number of requests made for hearings, extensions and adjustments of income taxes; hospital treatment, rehabilitation, insurance, compensation, etc., for ex-service men; discharges for minors from the army and navy; changes in rural routes; additional help and supplies for postoffices; passports and visas; permits for emigrant relatives; bulletins for farmers; data for students and teachers, etc. I am also examining various bureaus and commissions. Of course, it would be far more pleasant to come home, and much more profitable to practice law these nine months, as some are doing, or to junket with them to Europe, or the Philippines, or to Japan, or to Alaska, as some are doing. But I feel that my salary should be earned, and my entire time given to the people. Will you please publish this letter for your readers' information so they may address me here, and not in Texas. Thanking you, I am, sincerely your friend,
THOS L. BLANTON.

F. W. Kiddle, living on route 1, was a business visitor in Winters last Monday.

H. T. Hodge of Abilene, father of Manager Hodge of the Queen theatre, was in the city visiting his son and wife Monday.

BRADSHAW FAIR SEPTEMBER 12TH

Bradshaw, April 13.—The date of the Third Annual Bradshaw Community Fair has been set for September 12th.

This date gives ample time for a selection of prize winning exhibits to be taken to the West Texas Fair at Abilene, and to the San Angelo Fair.

The Texas A. & M. college has agreed to furnish judges for all departments in the fair, which insures both accuracy and satisfaction. These judges will be the same ones used by the Waco Cotton Palace, West Texas Fair and other fairs.

Mr. J. R. Masterson, county agent for Taylor county, has organized a poultry club and a maize club in every rural school in Taylor county. To stimulate friendly rivalry and the production of the best of farm products, the Bradshaw fair directors have offered a prize of $10 and $5 for the best head of maize grown by any member of and Maize club in Taylor county. Similar prizes are offered for the best chickens raised by members of the Poultry clubs. All other prizes are restricted to Bradshaw trade territory.

No charges of any nature are made for entering exhibits. All local farmers, stock men and Taylor County Farm club members are earnestly encouraged and urged to take part. Also dealers in farm machinery, tractors and the like are cordially invited to be on hand and make demonstrations.

As has been the established custom, no carnivals, shows or penny-catching devices will be permitted on or near the grounds. However, plenty of wholesome amusements will be furnished from early morning until late at night. In the afternoon a big football game will be played. This annual game has always proved a big success as Bradshaw has, besides a good high school squad, football players attending half a dozen colleges and universities. The fair has always been held just a few days before opening time for the various schools, hence the entire force is ready to form a town squad for Fair day. In the 1923 game, this Bradshaw team beat Ballinger high school, and in the 1924 game beat Abilene High, 32 to 6. Up to the present date, no game has been matched for 1925, but the Bradshaw squad is counting on taking the hide off any team, irrespective of where it is located, that may have the nerve to come to Bradshaw on September 12.

Besides Mr. Masterson working for this fair in the way of club work, he will be on the grounds not only on Fair day, but several days prior to see that things are in ship-shape. Also representatives of the West Texas Fair will be on hand here to assist generally, but particularly selecting exhibits for the West Texas Fair.

The high school here is going to put on a rural school exhibit consisting of art, drawing, china-painting, map-making, etc. This is expected to be unusually good as Miss Eula Maye Ayres, teacher of English and art in the local school, is taking the leading part in having the students make the exhibits this school-season and then store them away for Fair day.

At the last fair over 500 exhibits were presented, and some of these were carried to other fairs and won prizes.

But merely winning prizes, "showing off" and having a good time is not one-half of the benefits derived from a rural fair. The chief profit is the bringing together of about eight or ten rural communities. This develops a kindly feeling toward each other, and seeks to banish suspicion toward each other; also, it kills the idea of isolation, the one thing that cuts the jugular vein of any community.

Southern Taylor county is peculiarly adapted for a good, self-supporting fair. On the north is one of the most wonderful sheep and goat countries there is to be found anywhere. Only three miles northeast of Bradshaw is a regular Garden of Eden when it comes to orchards and vineyards. East, south and west of Bradshaw is a vast country recognized as the very best of country for farming, stock raising and poultry raising.

Everything can be grown or raised here. One stranger came into town one day and looking off at Moro mountain to the southeast, said, "It looks like that even those mountains would be ideal places to make moonshine." Nobody answered him.

In years past the fair has been held in the community tabernacle. But there has been considerable talk of organizing and incorporating a regular fair association and build a fair park and a good size building this year for the 1925 fair. This plan is heartily endorsed by the baseball association and the high school, as the ball team could use the park during the summer, and the school would use it for all their football and basketball games. Whether the new plan materializes or not, the fair will be held on schedule time and order.

The various committees are as follows:

Agriculture: Joe Poindexter, C. A. Cloud and J. D. Elliott.

Livestock: M. N. Oldham, Billie McCasland and A. B. Holliday.

Poultry: Mrs. C. A. Cloud, Mrs. A. L. Newby and Mrs. W. L. Pratt.

Mrs. Eason Writes From Los Angeles

The following letter was received Sunday from Mrs. Ed P. Eason who, with Mr. Eason and son Ralph, is visiting relatives and friends and spending a vacation on the Pacific coast:

Enterprise.—Am writing at request of Mrs. Stevenson, who arrived safely last evening. Her daughter, Mrs. H. H. Lewis, is in a very serious condition.

She was carried Saturday evening to the Methodist hospital and her friends here have been very much worried over her condition.

A blood transfusion from the mother to the daughter was made today and it is hoped will give her some relief.

Friends in Winters will be interested in knowing of Mrs. Lewis' serious illness, which will cause grave concern. We will let you hear from her from time to time.

Customers of Mrs. Stevenson will understand the reason why she left home without notifying them. At present there is nothing definite as to when she will be able to return.

The Easons are having a great time. The climate and season fine. Best regards to you and to every friend in Winters.

MRS. EASON.

GET IN TUNE WITH NATURE

In spring, when nature starts brightening fields and gardens, woman's impulses is to do likewise with the things within her own kingdom—her home. Now is the time to take paint brush in hand and give free rein to fancy. We ought to keep step with mother Nature. A little paint will transform a weather-beaten house into an abode of beauty.

The home in need of paint is as dismal and depressing a sight as the bleak trees of winter.

A great deal of pleasure is yours, and a great deal of satisfaction in the results you can easily achieve, and don't forget that a good job demands good materials. Good paint costs no more to put on, but it gives better satisfaction. Local dealers sell reliable brands of painting materials—paint that defies both weather and time.

Mr. Henry Dixon of Wilmett was in the city Saturday transacting business and called at this office while here. Mr. Dixon says everything is all right in the Wilmett section excepting they are needing rain.

Wonder how old Atlas spends his time, now that Senator Borah has taken over the job of carrying the world on his shoulders.

Tom Mix at Queen Theatre Saturday, 18th

One of the most daring pay-roll hold-ups on record has just become known through the arrest of Frank Scott, ex-sheriff of Las Vegas, and his accomplice known as Mexican Joe.

An unusually heavy pay roll was being sent under guard from the county seat to Las Vegas by the stage coach which ran between the two points. When the coach was nearly at the top of the hill near Twin Forks, midway between the two points, the driver and guard were suddenly startled by the appearance of two masked men who quickly ordered them to throw up their hands. One of the hold-up men secured the strong box while the other covered the driver and guard. The box was broken open and the currency was removed and placed in two sacks and tied to the pommels of the hold-up men's horses, on which the two men quickly mounted and galloped off into the foothills.

The hold-up was witnessed by a cowboy at a distance, and how he trailed the bandits and unmasked one as the ex-sheriff, is but one of the countless thrilling episodes which make "The Man from Texas," playing at the Queen Theatre Saturday, one of the most exciting features on the screen.

Balloonist—"And then thousands of feet above the cruel ledges, I pulled the string that released me, knowing well that should my parachute fail to open I would dash my brains out on the rocks beneath." Interested Young Lady—"And did it?"

Changes in Tick Quarantines in Texas Counties

By an official order of the department of agriculture, five Texas counties have just been freed of the restrictions placed on them on account of the presence of Texas fever ticks, and one county has been quarantined because of the presence of Texas fever in its cattle herds. The counties freed are the following: Bee, Refugio, San Patricio, Somervell and Victoria. The county of Coryell, by the same order, is placed under quarantine because of the presence of fever ticks. As a result of the restrictions imposed under the regulations by the department, the interstate movement of cattle from this county may be made only in accordance with the department's regulations in governing such interstate movement of livestock.

POLITICAL EDUCATION

In an effort to increase interest in the party system of government, decrease the volume of non-voters, the national civic federation has set up a department of political education and soon will call a national conference to be presided over by Elihu Root, for discussion of problems of government. The government has the approval of President Coolidge, John W. Davis and others of prominence in public affairs.

A SPRING DELIGHT

The man or woman who loves a garden is indeed to be envied these days. Gardening is an unalloyed delight in spring. The weeds and the failures are not yet evident, and the enthusiast can picture his garden to be all that his fancy conceives and the seed catalogues describe. No outdoor game has anything on gardening for recreation.

DEEP MOURNING

Hannah was a good natured negro mammy. When her husband died she went immediately to the nearest dry goods store, and the following conversation ensued:

"Honey," she addressed the young lady behind the counter, "is you got any black union suits?"

"No, auntie," replied the clerk, "but I have some mighty nice white ones. Won't they do?"

"No," she said. "When Ah mohns, Ah mohns all ovah."

J. W. MONROE LUMBER COMPANY

FORD MOTOR COMPANY
REPRESENTATIVE MAKES SALE-SERVICE LECTURE

J. F. Giles, Jr., in the service department of the Ford Motor company, out of Dallas, here this week, Wednesday evening gave the employees of the Nance-Brown Motor Co. a sales and service lecture, and among other things said:

"Before beginning the outline, it might be well to define and give the primitive idea of the word 'service.' The best definition of the word service and as it affects us is, The performance of labor for the benefit of another. That is service.

"When the world was young, weary caravans of merchants, salesmen and tradesmen wound their way over the desolate desert wastes of Syria, Palestine, and Arabia, dispensing their wares to the native tribesmen by whom they were met at the watering places in the desert. These mutual gatherings at the service stations of the desert were the direct application of the primitive idea of service.

"Ford service today rests upon the evolution of this primitive idea—You cannot come, therefore we bring to you.

"Many really capable and successful sales managers maintain that: 'The first sale is never profitable.' Yet, thousands of dollars are spent annually in sales promoting work, in salesmen's commissions, in advertising and in well appointed and beautiful showrooms, but for some reason or other, the expenditures and thought stop with the service department. Therefore the first and foremost important duty of ours is to get the dealers in the proper frame of mind, fully convinced beyond a question of a doubt, that the service department is an institution with a definite profit and its maintenance justified solely for the purpose of assisting owners in keeping their cars in running condition, and not as a necessary evil.

"The dealer very often employs an excellent and capable sales manager to sell his merchandise to prospects, but he seldom employs a capable man to run his service department and preserve the 'prospect,' who has been turned into a 'customer,' as an asset.

"The dealer of today who expects to be a successful one, must employ as high a type of man to manage his service department as he does his sales department and that when he realizes it is upon the proper selection of this man that his success depends, as customers do not like to do business with the ordinary type of service mechanic, especially if he happens to be in a dirty suit of overalls, with a dirty face. The men in the service department should at all times have a neat and clean appearance, changing their work clothes at least once a week.

"The success of our service department depends entirely upon the respect and the Good Will that we create in the community surrounding our business. This can best be accomplished by having every member of our entire organization as a whole to appreciate the fundamentals of Good Will which are cheerfulness, courtesy, affability, consideration, prompt attention, fair prices, the square deal, and last but not least, ready service—a service whose consideration is the welfare of the customer.

"Nigger, you don't need to worry about how to get dat long white robe ober dem long white wings. What you is gwine to worry about, is how to get your hat on ober dem long black horns."

Large Numbers Using Weekly Purchase Plan

One of the most interesting features of the March sales reports of the Ford Motor company, as given out at the company offices in Detroit, is the large number of people who enrolled to purchase cars under the easy method of the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan.

The reports show that plan enrollments averaged more than 1000 a day for the month, the total for the twenty-six working days of March being 26,826. This is a gain of about 300 a day over the enrollment figures for the last few days of February.

Aside from the large enrollments under the plan, sales for March were 173,182 Ford cars and trucks. Of this number domestic retail deliveries totaled 153,929, an increase of 41,491 over February, indicating improving conditions everywhere throughout the country. Reports covering dealers requirements for the present month also show the demand for cars and trucks rapidly moving upward.

Another healthy condition, at least so far as agricultural interests are concerned, is reflected in the domestic retail sales of 9,225 Fordson tractors during March. This is an increase of 3,311 more than were delivered in February. Domestic and foreign sales of Fordsons reached a total of 10,803 in March.

Jim Smith and his five oldest boys returned Tuesday from San Antonio, where Mr. Smith visited his brother.

Rev. A. H. Clark, pastor of the Church of Christ, is in San Antonio holding a meeting for Bro. Slater. Many will remember that Bro. Slater held a very successful meeting here.

Legion Campaign Now On in Texas

Dallas, April 14.—"Texas is ready to hear the appeal of the American Legion for the two greatest classes of sufferers of the world war—the disabled men and the orphans of fallen veterans," declared Mark McGee, commander of the Texas department of the legion.

The American Legion campaign for a $5,000,000 endowment fund for rehabilitation and child welfare, which has been going on in several states, is now under way in Texas. It will culminate in an intensive drive probably about the last of May.

"The American Legion wants the American public to have the opportunity of helping the legion help the disabled veterans and the children of men who gave up their lives as a result of their service to the country," Commander McGee said. "Rehabilitation and child welfare are the two greatest post-war problems. They are so closely related that they are almost one. What disabled father has not looked down upon the faces of dependent children with terror lest they suffer the pangs of privation which his restoration to health alone can prevent? Does not his mental anguish over the fate of little children erect a material bar to his own reconstruction?"

"There are 35,000 war orphans, and many times more sick, ailing and disabled ex-service men whose lives the war blighted. We can not do too much for them—our debt can never be fully repaid. The American Legion has assumed the obligation of seeing that these two consequences of the war receive a full measure of justice, but we need the public's assistance to the limit.

"Everywhere the endowment movement has spread, it has met with a hearty reception. I know it will meet with that same response in Texas."

President Coolidge is chairman of the national honorary committee for the endowment fund and all members of his cabinet have endorsed it. Leading men and women of the country in all lines of endeavor are members of the national endowment fund committee.

Already the work of organizing state and local endowment fund committees has been begun. These committees will contain the names of prominent citizens and members of the Legion and Legion Auxiliary, Commander McGee said.

School Plays "Hookey" at Bradshaw April 1

Bradshaw, April 6.—The Bradshaw school teachers, trustees and patrons played "hookey" on the school kids last April 1st.

It had been noised abroad that the students intended celebrating All Fool's Day by failing to show up at school on the morning of the 1st of April. Teachers took the matter up with the trustees and Parent-Teacher Association and it was unanimously agreed for all to take a holiday. Plans were made to have a basket picnic on the creek. The kids saw the drift of things, abandoned their own plans and swung into line with the rest.

Everything snapped off in schedule order, and everyone enjoyed the outing.

A card from Dr. C. T. Rives, who is taking a post graduate course at Tulane University in New Orleans, states that everything in the Sunny South looks good, and that he is getting a good course. The doctor says, "Please send me The Enterprise, so that I can keep up with the doings in West Texas."

Rev. W. L. Wall, pastor of the Methodist church at Wingate, was in the city last Thursday on his way to Lampasas where he goes as a witness in a case in court.

Haste drops up its own heels.

Death of Mrs. J. P. McCasland

Bradshaw, April 6.—Mrs. J. P. McCasland, age 72, died Sunday morning at 8 o'clock at her home 1 mile north of here after an illness of over 3 months. Funeral services were held at the Methodist church by Hugh Clark. About the largest procession that has ever come to this cemetery was that of Mrs. McCasland. To give some idea of the length of it, the cemetery is one mile from town—the way the road runs—and as the last vehicles were leaving the church, the hearse was entering the cemetery lot.

Mrs. McCasland is survived by 8 children, 43 grand children and 13 great grand children. Her children are T. P. McCasland of Winters, S. K. McCasland of Morton, Mrs. May Guss of Floydada, Mrs. Myrtle Crow of Fort Davis, Mrs. Addie Spiekard of Morton, Fred, Don and Billie McCasland of Bradshaw.

Mrs. McCasland and her husband came to this community in 1900 from Comanche county. They were both active members of the Church of Christ—she having been a Christian for over 50 years. Mr. McCasland died about four years ago.

H. G. Phillips and family were guests in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Edwards, the past week end.

Love betters what is best.

$3000 Filling Station at Bradshaw

Bradshaw, April 6.—W. R. Holland "dedicated" his new $3000 filling station and auto house last Friday night by giving an old-fashioned "hoe-down." The house was jammed and crammed until not only was all standing room taken, but not a single space for a head was left at the windows. Three sets of fiddlers, the Hancock brothers, the Jackson brothers and the England brothers, were brought into action. Such stirring tunes as "Arkansas Traveler," "Rye Whiskey," "Green Corn," and "It Ain't Gonna Rain No Mo" were rendered with all the old-time fervor. A great disappointment was in store for many, as the host allowed only one person at a time to "cut the pigeon wing." Nevertheless, sometimes when three or four old foot-pattin' fiddlers would get in a good weavin' way on some favorite break-down, even the most devout would shuffle their feet as if knocking mud from their feet—although it has not rained here for the past six months.

At 11 o'clock the guests were served cake and red soda pop, after which some old fiddler struck up the tune "We Won't Go Home Until Mornin'" and another sawed down on "I Stood on the Bridge at Midnight."

Floy England was at last pronounced the out-fiddlin'est fiddler that ever fiddled.

M. E. Miller, wife and children of Coleman were visiting with friends and relatives in the city the past week end.

Distance Disappeared When the Telephone Came

Do you want to ask a neighbor to meet you down town?

Possibly you want to tell the doctor how Willie's cold is and ask for instructions.

There are the groceries to order.

These things are done with as much ease and speed as if the neighbor and the doctor and the grocer were right there in the room.

You simply use the telephone.

It is five minutes out of a day. Without the telephone it would have been half a day's work to attend to the three items.

No community would be worth while without the modern facilities for communication that the telephone brings.

Because it is an essential public service its services are available to all at the lowest reasonable cost.

For this reason also their interest in telephone service is as great as the interest of the telephone company.

This company wants its customers to know the company better and to aid the company by cooperating to make the service as good as it can be made—and with the modern progress in this service that will be mighty good.

BUY IT IN WINTERS

WHEN A DOLLAR GOES TO MARKET

Once upon a time a dollar was sent away from Winters. It went to a big city, a mail order house. Part of it went to pay for the big house this concern was in. Part of it went to the big bookkeeping department. Part of it helped to make that city even greater than it is, but—

ONE DOLLAR STAYED IN WINTERS.

It was spent right here at home. It purchased good value goods. Part of it went to pay taxes right here. Part of it will help to send our Band to Mineral Wells. Part of it went to help the schools. Part of it went to pay wages right back to the people of this town.

Part of it went to keep up our streets and our roads. It circulated among friends and helped everybody while the one sent away was soon gone and forgotten and never did and never will return.

The power of such large buyers as the H. H. Hardin gives them a prestige and an advantage which accrues to the benefit of their customers, and this stock is offered to the buyers at a reasonable price, and is made up into all the standard and special lengths and grades that are demanded by the trade.

The manager, Mr. J. A. Huffhines, is ready at all times to give the patrons a service that all good lumber yards will give, that is to figure on any building, show plans of homes, etc.

We are glad to recommend the H. H. Hardin company in this "Buy-At-Home" campaign of the onward progress of Winters and suggest that when in need of anything in their line you let them figure with you.

BUILDING TIME

"The important immediate object of the farmer should be to hold production costs of crops and live stock at the lowest point possible," says one of the leading agricultural publications of the country, "but to do that the best equipment is needed and housing facilities for live stock as well as storage room for grain and roughage are most important factors in this connection."

Building materials are now much cheaper than they were during the boom days and are probably about as cheap as they ever will be. From the standpoint of cost, therefore, now is a good time to erect needed new buildings or repair old ones and put them in the best shape possible. Let each man do what he can toward catching up with needed building and repair work this spring. Farm conditions are greatly improved over what they were a year ago and the outlook for this and succeeding years is bright.

BOOST TREE PLANTING

Just as soon as the weather man gives the word this spring, thousands of tree planters will join the tree planting army. Forest Protection week, April 27, will see thousands of trees planted, says a statement from the American Tree Association. The slogan of this army is "celebrate the centennial of Arbor day in 1972 by planting trees now." People who plant trees gain a dividend of happiness and satisfaction every time they note how many are growing. The American Tree Association is the organization in which there are no dues, for the only way to join is to plant a tree and register it with the association at Washington.

SPEED UP SPRING SALES

Now is the time to throw business into high and speed up your spring sales. A regular ad in The Enterprise every week will do it. Get on the advertising band wagon while going is good. Every family in this community is a prospective customer of the local stores. This paper goes into a majority of the homes in Winters and vicinity every week, and all stores news is eagerly read. Keep on telling the people about your store and your goods every week and you'll keep selling them.

THE RED CORSS

As usual, wherever humanity cries in its distress and aid is urgent, after the destruction wrought by the recent tornado was made known, the Red Cross workers were the first in the field. And when some central executive was demanded to collect and distribute relief for the stricken districts all hearts at once turned to this noble institution. First in war, first in peace; thank God for the Red Cross.

SIMPLIFIED ART

A certain painter is confined in an asylum. To persons who visit him he says: "Look at this; it is my latest masterpiece." They look and see nothing but an expanse of bare canvas. They ask: "What does that represent?" "That? Why that represents the passage of the Israelites through the Red Sea." "Beg pardon, but where is the sea?" "It has been driven back." "And where are the Israelites?" "They have crossed over." "And the Egyptians?" "Will be here directly. That's the sort of painting I like—simple and unpretentious."—Art Record.

POEMS BY JUNIORS OF W. H. S.

Sea of Humanity.

(Auburn Spencer Neely)
I stood on the shore of the storm tossed sea,
Where the angry billows roll,
I gazed into the cloudy heavens,
And glory filled my soul.

I love the restless moaning sea,
Where the billows rise to fall,
I love to gaze across the foam;
And hear the sea birds call.

I love to see the tide rush in,
And gently flowing out.
It seems as though it's in extremes
Calm, then tossed about.

The human race is one big sea,
Where men do rise and fall,
And what we do shall fade away
And be forgot by all.

The tide of life doth ebb, or grow,
And runs in great extremes,
For we are never just the same,
Or this is how it seems.

But O, roll high thy white capped waves,
Of human aspiration;
And sweep the sandy shores of time,
With humble meditation.

A Fable on Critics

(By Fannin Lowe.)
Emerson.
Emerson is a failure in style they say;
But tribute to his thoughts we all must pay.
Though his style is bad we are told
By the wise;
The grandeur of his thoughts to us
Are a prize.

Bryant.
There is Bryant who is cool as December's wind,
But we all must confess that he understood men.
The most of his work is cool and un-real,
Though we all must confess it has a human appeal.

Whittier.
Whittier, a Quaker, as you all must know,
Was true to the world, which he tried to show,
What helped his true soul to others expand,
And helped develop the prize of our present day land.

Hawthorne.
Hawthorne, with a soul so gentle and sweet,
So earnest, so graceful, so lithe, and so sweet,
Has often been thought of far finer than man,
In treating our moral as only he can.

Cooper.
In the hearts of American does Cooper's work live,
He has pictured to us as no other could give,
Of American life in pioneer days,
Cooper has immortalized in many ways.

Poe.
Then comes Poe with his unrealities,
With his creepy phrases, and their personalities,
His phrases are clear and his art is fine,
So his work, perhaps, is spiritually divine.

Irving.
There is Irving with his narrative of Rip Van Winkle,
That makes the eyes of the saddest twinkle,
His English is filled with purest delight,
And 'tis wrote only as Irving can write.

Holmes.
Holmes with his mirth that no other can match,
With his swing of good humor no other can attach,

He's often been crowned as the clown of our rhyme
And has not been matched by any of his time.

Lowell.
There's Lowell with his swing of critical wit,
With his brightness which made other people quit.

We remember Lowell by the Holy Grail,
Any man with this honor could never quite fail.

IS THE SEVENTH DAY FOR REST?

Visitor—"What an inspiring sermon your husband preached on "One Day's Rest in Seven."
Pastor's Wife—"I didn't hear it—I had to get his dinner."

Ton Litter Contest Will Prove New Value in Swine Production

College Station, Texas, April 14.—There are still a few weeks left for farmers to enroll in the Ton Litter contest. Litters farrowed before May 25 may be entered by applying to the county agent or direct to A. L. Ward, swine husbandman of the A. & M. college. There are valuable premiums to be won but of most value is the knowledge obtained by the entrant who will be convinced on trying that the old methods of requiring from 12 to 24 months to finish a hog for market is unprofitable and has cost many dollars in wasted feed in the past. An entrant in each community will prove to the swine breeders of that locality that a pig of good breeding receiving balanced and sufficient rations can be made ready for the market in six months, giving a bigger profit on the feed consumed and a quick turnover on the money invested.

Chevrolet Producing Over 2000 Cars per Day

Detroit, Mich., April 15.—The Chevrolet Motor company is producing this month an April record of 52,299 motor cars and trucks, or more than 2000 for each working day.

This monthly schedule, planned also for May and June, has been exceeded only twice in the company's history.

At the present rate Chevrolet will produce its "two millionth" car early this fall. It will be the first three-speed shift gear type of car to reach that total.

Of the cars being made this month, 43,556 are destined for domestic sale, 5234 are to be exported and 3500 are to be built at the Chevrolet plant in Canada.

Accelerated by the demand for the improved new series with refinements previously obtainable only in cars of much higher price, the Chevrolet production has mounted rapidly since January 1.

The capacity program requires approximately 17,545 workers at the twelve Chevrolet factory and assembly plants throughout this country.

The popularity of the new Chevrolet models has developed a unique situation in which sales and production figures practically are identical. Unfilled orders on hand indicate that production for the next three months, even at the high pace set, will be absorbed at once.

ATE TOO FAST

South Carolinian Took Black-Draught For Indigestion, and Says He Could Soon Eat Anything.

Ballentine, S. C.—Mr. W. B. Bouknight, of this place, gave the following account of his use of Theford's Black-Draught. "Just after I married I had indigestion. Working out, I got in the habit of eating fast, for which I soon paid by having a tight, bloated feeling after meals. This made me very uncomfortable. I would feel stupid and drowsy, didn't feel like working. I was told it was indigestion. Some one recommended Black-Draught and I took it after meals. I soon could eat anything any time."

"I use it for colds and biliousness and it will knock out a cold and carry away the bile better and quicker than any liver medicine I have ever found." "Eating too fast, too much, or faulty chewing of your food, often causes discomfort after meals. A pinch of Black-Draught, washed down with a swallow of water, will help to bring prompt relief. Bloating sensations, eructations, bad breath and other common symptoms of indigestion have disappeared after Black-Draught has been taken for several days. NC-164

"The Silent Watcher" at Queen Mon. and Tues.

Regarded as one of the most impressive domestic dramas yet brought to life on the silent sheet, Frank Lloyd's "The Silent Watcher," with Glenn Hunter and Bessie Love, is scheduled to be shown at the Queen Theatre for two days commencing Monday, April 20.

Adapted to the screen from Mary Roberts Rinehart's Saturday Evening Post story, "The Altar on the Hill," Mr. Lloyd's film version presents a timely comparison in the lives of the people in the public eye and those who serve them with little recognition.

Briefly, the story of "The Silent Watcher," a First National offering, deals with the devotion of Joe Roberts, promoted from office boy to personal secretary to John Steele, senatorial candidate, to both his chief and his wife. How the inexperienced young man buries his own pride and personal welfare to keep his employer from scandal, and nearly sacrifices all of his own domestic happiness develops drama that demands the most skillful histrionic performance of the screen has seen in many a day.

An accurate repetition of the third degree given criminals by police constitutes one of the scenes which follow the murder of Lily Endicott, a stage star who has found, after flirting with the senatorial candidate, that she loves him too deeply to give him up.

A scene in the theatre with a musical comedy show in full swing is another of the big scenes of "The Silent Watcher" and the intense dramatic incidents are delightfully interspersed with unique comedy situations which give it pleasing relief.

Bessie Love, recently seen in "Woman on the Jury," "Those Who Dance," and many other memorable screen plays, is seen opposite Hunter, playing Mary Roberts, the young wife who felt her husband was more devoted to his employer than to her. Hobart Bosworth, stage and screen veteran, has been cast as Senator John Steele. Alma Bennett, Lionel Belmore, Aggie Herring, DeWitt Jennings, George Nicholls, Brandon Hurst and a number of other players well known for past performances complete the cast.

Lopez Morales Was "Bad Man"

According to a story carried recently by the San Antonio Express, Lopez Morales, the Mexican who was slain by a posse at Lawn, following the murdering of Sheriff W. W. Sauterwhite and Constable George Reeves near Merkel, was a bad hombre, and had a record for crime which made it necessary to take him dead instead of alive.

Sheriff James Stevens of Bexar county received a letter from a woman, according to the Express, which told something of Morales' record, and the following excerpt is taken from the letter:

"He always told me if he died with his boots on to notify you and ask you to scratch his name from your list of wanted men. May God have mercy on his soul," the letter read.

The letter said the woman met Lopez in Fort Worth, and that she came here because he had promised to return to his home and settle down with her. She now is working here as a stenographer, the woman wrote. The letter was signed "J. M."

The woman said Lopez first became involved in trouble through a fight in which he cut a deputy sheriff and was shot in the abdomen. He escaped and later killed an enemy who was attempting to turn him over to the officers.

"Lopez then returned to San Antonio and joined the fire department, and became involved in a fight in which he severely cut another man and was sentenced to the penitentiary for five years. He escaped from prison and went to Mexico, where he joined the army of Carranza and be-

BREVARD BEDFORD
 Star on Junior Track Meet.

Brevard Bedford, a devoted Freshman, won in the Junior Track Meet which was held in Ballinger in the following: Fifty yard dash, 100 yard dash, running broad jump and second in running high jump with R. V. Hardegree, also a Freshman of Winters High, running first.
 Bedford made the world record in the 50-yard dash, making it in only six seconds.

 Although Brevard has a bad habit of chewing "listerated chewing gum" and receives a few demerits each day, we are proud of him and feel he is due the highest honors.

Mr. Robinson remarked in the study hall the other day (just after track) that every one had asked him about the winning of trophies but Jack Callan. Another blow on the poor fish, but I did not have to ask, I knew who would win—"Winters, of course."

The Freshmen are the smartest bunch in the school, for there are more than half of all that are let out at 3 o'clock (because of good conduct and good grades) that are Freshmen.

WEST TEXAS.

(By "A. Fish" of Winters High)
 Out in West Texas, the land of the free,
 The land of the grasshopper, bed bug and flea,
 The sandstorms are scheduled, the ground is bare,
 The coyotes go hungry and so does the hare.
 The sandburs prevail, so do the ants; And those that sit down need half soles on their pants.
 The stiff cold water, or rather some dregs,
 Is a mixture of cathartics that smell like bad eggs;
 In skinning and straining, a fish you do find,
 Keep in the family for you have found a gold mine.
 In my estimation the "fishes" are all, Take them out of Winters High and see where it would fall.

THE FUTURE.

(By Jack Callan.)
 The Duke of Wellington had shown me the greatest hospitality in his beautiful home on the outskirts of London, but my poverty forced me to bid them goodbye and leave for Paris, France.
 I had failed in most every attempt to sell my stories, and I was now writing another. If it should fail I was determined to forget my ambition of journalism.
 Paris was a beautiful as well as a wonderful city. In a small room in the worst of localities of the city I was writing, thinking back when on the famous road of success in "Good Old Winters High" I wrote a little Freshman News Weekly because of the love for my school. Suddenly a thought came to me, I should write a true story and the setting should be my home town, "Golden Days."

Many weary months had passed and in passing the famous Chapman Publishers, I walked in. To my surprise and enjoyment it was Morris, a former school chum. I did not talk to him for in my poverty stricken clothes I was ashamed.

After going to several publishers and having each time failed, I walked back slowly to my hotel, which was several miles away.

I passed a beautiful home and seeing in the rose garden a rose more beautiful than life itself, I leaped over the iron fence, for its beauty tempted me to smell its fragrance.

On my knees ready to obtain it, I heard footsteps behind me.

"Oh, my good man, why do you seek my rose of determination?" I glanced around. My eyes for some reason I do not know, filled with tears. I could not see the man who spoke, but instantly he spoke again.
 "Yes, my good man, the one who saw this rose shall in time become a famous author."

The tears left my eyes. I looked at him in astonishment and soon saw him to be Monroe Dodd, who had in those former days strove to become famous with the word "determination" always in his mind.

"Will you help me?" I asked.
 "I will," he answered.

With his aid and influence and with the rose of determination, I went to the Chapman Publishers. He read it and arose with joy, and exclaimed, "Wonderful! Great! Old man I will make you the greatest man in France."

Day after day I had great pleasure meeting my other past pals. "I had found the gold at the end of the rainbow."

"And you shall live happily ever," continued the old Egyptian fortune teller, for I had only gone to him to learn my future.

Finis.
