HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

It's almost that time of year again. That time when pecan growers begin to apprehensively watch their trees for signs of the pecan nut casebearer. It's the major pecan pest in Texas and severe infestations can destroy an entire pecan crop.

Texas A&M University's experiment stations have done research which shows that the banding system eliminates much of the present guess work in timing the spraying schedule for the casebearer. County agricultural agents have the information necessary to explain the banding system in accurate detail, and also other information which can protect the trees from insects and disease.

Winters has many beautiful pecan trees, and in good production years, the crop is something out of this world. That is because most pecan tree owners keep a close watch on their trees—they not only save the current crops, but save the trees in many instances.

A close watch is necessary not only on pecan trees, but also on other trees, whether shade trees or fruit trees. But some of us go merrily on our way, and fail to heed the advice of those who should know. For instance, if we may recite personal experience, we have come to regret an inattention to the health and welfare of at least two trees. We have—or had—a couple of apple trees in our back yard—one crab apple and one grafted tree which produced five different varieties: Jonathan, transparent, red delicious, yellow delicious and winesap. The trees have been there only a little more than five years. Last year, the crab apple produced about a bushel of apples; the grafted tree, about four bushels of the five varieties. We bragged about our wonderful apple trees, and exhibited a "green" thumb as evidence of our expert tree-growing abilities! After last year's crop had been harvested—and prize specimens exhibited proudly—the leaves began to dry up and die, before frost hit—they didn't fall to the ground, but clung to the branches. We should have been warned—but decided it was just the nature of the trees!

No further attention was paid to those trees until spring came, and then we noticed that there were no leaf buds . . . and then we made a closer examination: on every limb, and up and down the trunk of each tree, there were thousands of little holes, about the size of a pin head. The trees are dead! We don't know what caused the holes, but some kind of borer or other insect has sucked the life out of those two apple trees.

We're going to saw off some limbs and have the county agent look them over—perhaps he can tell us what caused the holes, and we can be more careful in the future. It takes a long time to grow a good tree . . . and inattention has cost several years. There's a lesson there!

WE RECOMMEND OMAR BURLESON

An Editorial

In election after election during the past few years, voters of Runnels County have played an important part in helping to re-elect O. C. Fisher to the United States House of Representatives; they have endorsed a man whose thinking has paralleled that of the majority of citizens of the 21st Congressional District.

This year, for the first time in many years, Runnels Countians will not have a chance to continue this support of Congressman Fisher at the polls, because of the redistricting which has now placed this county in the 17th District, now represented by Congressman Omar Burleson of Anson.

However, this quirk of political fate does not deprive Runnels County voters of a chance to vote for a champion of the same high ideals and standards that prompted their choice in past elections. They have that same choice in Congressman Omar Burleson. Although Cong. Burleson has not officially represented this county, his record during almost two decades has led Runnels Countians to feel they had TWO representatives in Washington. Twenty years in congress have earned for Mr. Burleson a reputation as being a hard-working conservative who consistently opposes federal encroachment on duties and responsibilities historically reposed in the states and who supports always a strong national defense, progressive farm and oil legislation and champions the proposition of obtaining full value for tax dollars expended.

It is noteworthy that Mr. Burleson stands on his two feet in meeting every issue. It is significant, too, that his only votes against the Democratic Administration have been in instances where he felt compelled to consider the constitution and the home folks first. This contrary to the charges that he has been a man of little action. Omar Burleson's voice has been heard more than a few times in the interest of economy in government and of placing principles above politics.

Key committee assignments, including several chairmanships, have come to Mr. Burleson through able service. It is a well known fact that the usefulness of a congressman increases with the years, which is all the more reason why he should be retained.

Certainly the people of the 17th Congressional District are mindful of the investment—in good government, if you please—that they have in Omar Burleson. They will want to retain this man who never yields to pressure groups and who uses always his good influence in local as well as the national interest.

It is timely to voice a record of support to a man of sound judgment who has demonstrated again and again the type of integrity, sincerity and maturity that will keep America strong . . . and to urge his re-election by the kind of majority that will say "Thank you, Mr. Burleson!"

Democrats Hold Election Saturday

No present office holders in Runnels County who are candidates for nomination in Saturday's Democratic Primary face opposition. This is also true for a few state officers, and for State Senator, 24th District, and State Representative, 64th District.

Voters will have a choice of candidates for nomination to the highest state offices and for U. S. Representative in Congress from the 17th Texas District. Runnels County voters will vote for the first time in the newly-formed 17th District; this county has for several years been in the 21st District.

For local voters, the race for U. S. Representative for the 17th District has been the most interesting, with the incumbent, Congressman Omar Burleson of Jones County opposed for nomination to that office by Eldon Mahon of Taylor County.

The ballot for Saturday's primary will contain the names of the following candidates for nomination:

John Connolly, Stanley C. Woods, Johnnie Mac Hackworth.

CARD OF THANKS

We are deeply grateful for the many acts of kindness and the concern of our friends during the time I was in the hospital and since I have returned home. Ola and I want to express our thanks to Dr. Rives, the blood donors, the nurses at the hospital, Ted Meyer, and for all the calls, prayers, visits, cards, flowers and food. The thoughtfulness of each of you will always be remembered. Bill Graham. Itp

Half of men's troubles are due to lack of knowledge; knowledge of what is their business, and knowledge of what is none of their business.

"A Burden to Reasonable Progress..."

Paramount fact in the race for U. S. Representative, 17th Congressional District, is that Eldon Mahon is the outstanding candidate.

Eldon Mahon towers above his opponent by ability, knowledgeable understanding of the conditions facing all of us and dedication for effective, responsible service in Congress.

Because of this positive merit, we endorse the candidacy of Eldon Mahon and urge his election in the interest of better government for the citizens of this newly expanded 17th District, our state and nation.

Mahon's opponent is the incumbent, Omar Burleson of Anson, whose record in the halls of Congress for 20 years is a monument to negativism, foot-dragging and re-action.

To put it plainly, Burleson is out of step—out of step with the demands of our time, out of step with the great potential of the 24 West and Central Texas counties within our 17th District, out of step with Congress, out of step with the traditions of the Democratic Party.

In fact, Burleson is a burden to reasonable progress and is bankrupt in effectiveness for the citizens whom he claims to represent.

No better evidence of this ineffectiveness is the U.S. Congressional Record, which reveals the astounding fact that in the last 5 years Burleson, himself, introduced only the meager total of 15 bills amidst a Congress that studies approximately 12,000 legislative proposals every year. His perspective and influence was so lacking that only one bill passed into law—the 14 others being shunted aside with no action.

Burleson's voting record closely parallels that of re-actionaries like ex-Congressman Bruce Alger—the radical Republican whom conservative Dallas choked on and turned out to pasture for negative representation detrimental to realistic progress.

Compare the qualifications and capabilities of Eldon Mahon, the Mitchell County native who has served with distinction as County Attorney, District Attorney, District Judge, as a respected leader in the Democratic Party for two decades. His fair, reasonable and open-minded approach to government is inspiring a refreshing unity among voters on his behalf.

But the negativism of the incumbent, Burleson, must be emphasized for a proper perspective in this Congressional race—a perspective which, definitely so, enhances the positive pace of Eldon Mahon.

The hour is growing late. Democratic Primary election day is Saturday, May 7.

Therefore, the citizens of the entire 17th District should make it their political business to work earnestly now for the election of Eldon Mahon to Congress.

Info Session For Next Year's Class Of Freshmen Mon.

A special meeting for all students who will be freshmen in Winters High School next year has been scheduled for Monday, May 9, B. J. Joyce, high school principal, announced this week. The meeting will be held in the high school auditorium beginning at 8 p. m., and all freshman students and their parents are asked to be present. Principal Joyce said that during the meeting questions concerning the curriculum, the plans for graduation, and other important school information will be discussed. Students will pre-register Monday night for next year's classes.

Friday, May 6, students who will be freshmen next year will bring home information concerning pre-registration, the principal said. Parents are asked to study and discuss the information, and fill out tentative schedules of courses in the spaces provided on the information sheet, and make note of any questions regarding the program.

All beginning freshmen have been given two tests, Principal Joyce said. These include the Kuder Preference and the Iowa Test of Basic Skills. During the meeting Monday night the results and interpretation of these tests will be explained to parents by the high school counselor. The results of the tests may have some bearing on the courses the student should select during his high school career, Joyce said.

It's hard to say which is the nicer of spring—the flowers coming up or the heating bills going down.

Bass Crop Seems Top For 1966

Black bass are bustin' out all over in south and central Texas fish hatcheries! A report by Harmon Henderson, veteran chief at the San Marcos State Hatchery, that the bass hatch there exceeds anything in his memory, bids fair to be widely duplicated. A Texas Parks and Wildlife Department spokesman said the same unusually favorable conditions prevailing at the San Marcos installation apparently were commonplace throughout the natural bass areas as well as in the state's chain of incubators.

Henderson said it all happened because just as the prematurely mild spring was about to lure bass on their nests for dangerously early spawning, a cold northerly automatically reversed the pending process. As a result, he said, when the spawning did come it was under the most favorable conditions with a minimum of losses to the baby bass.

The Department spokesman said doubtless the same thing happened in the lakes, streams and ponds. He noted that this would be two excellent spawning seasons in succession for Texas since the 1965 bass crop was favorable. This, he said, is reflected in the many small fighting blacks now being caught.

Game Warden Jay Pemberton paid an early and precious dividend on the first aid training he received at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department preparatory school.

The first aid course basic lesson on "Lower the Head and Gag the Mouth" was successfully applied when Pemberton's baby daughter, Renee, choked on a piece of rock candy.

The child's breathing was interrupted when the warden put into action what he had been taught in school. Out came the obstruction and the only after effect was a definite disinterest in the morsel involved.

In 1965 some 1509 forest fires burned 19,119 acres of East Texas forests.

The lazier a man is the more he plans to do tomorrow.

There are some things money can't buy; principally, what it once did.

Lizzards Are About Only Animals PC Volunteer Has Seen In Africa

(Editor's Note: This is another in a series of articles written by Billy M. Pumphrey of Winters, now a Peace Corps Volunteer in Tanzania, on the East Coast of Africa.)

BY BILLY M. PUMPHREY
No lions stalk around outside my home at night and although that takes a little of the thrill out of living in Africa, I'm sure it's for the best. My experience with the smaller "wild life" here has given me plenty of excitement.

Lizzards are the main "animals" I see here. Nearly everyday I see one scampering up the wall in my home or running across a path in front of me. This is the rainy season so everything here is green and the plants are dense. A lizzard rushing through the bushes can make you fear a king cobra or python has you. They always startle me.

In my first two months at this school there were three snakes killed—one, at least, which I am certain was a cobra. I haven't seen any snakes this year but the lizzards continue to give me a few weak moments.

Some lizzards here are brilliantly colored and they are interesting to watch—as long as they stay their distance. Also, there are monitors, long (4-6 foot) lizzards, which are supposedly, and hopefully, harmless. My dictionary tells me that monitors are supposed to give warning of the approach of crocodiles. That's a depressing bit of information.

I saw one monitor while riding in a Land Rover on the way to Mbeya. Students tell me there is another one which lives near the pond on the way to the post office. I haven't met him yet and hope I never will.

Last week a lizzard fell into bed with me while I was asleep. My first thought was that a cobra had me. Needless to say, I didn't sleep anymore that night and it was sunrise before my pulse rate became normal again.

The mosquitoes here are Texas size and although my house is screened in and I sleep under a mosquito net (makes me feel as if I'm in a scene from "King Solomon's Mines") they find some way to get to me. The Peace Corps provides us with insect repellent, however, so I have some defense.

Africa's well-known army ants haven't hit my house yet but I know some fellow Volunteers who were invaded. I frequently pass some troops of them when I'm walking around. They're quite fascinating to watch. If everyone was as well organized as those ants, we'd have no problems.

Termites are one of the real headaches here. They eat everything they can get to. All wood has to be painted or covered with termite poison. They build huge "ant beds" which sometimes reach several feet in height and their depth, when the top is torn open, is dizzying. If they weren't so harmful in other ways, I'm sure they would revolutionize the oil industry with instant oil wells. They can really dig.

Other creatures I've seen here at Chunya include pygmy anteater (about the size of a Texas jackrabbit) and baby porcupines which students have found and offer us for a different dinner dish.

Where, I am sure you are wondering, are the elephants, zebras, lions, giraffes, and other wild African game? At Lake Rukwa, 45 miles to the west of my school, there are large herds of animals. A spotted zebra, a rarity, is the main attraction of the zebra herds there. Students who live on the edge of the lake tell me there are also leopards, lions, giraffe, water buffalo, and elephants there. At the moment the road to the lake is in questionable condition as it is the rainy season. In June or July, however, my fellow PC Volunteer and I hope to get over to photograph the animals.

A White Father missionary (an Oxford graduate doing an anthropological study) who lives north of us has invited us to visit with him. He is in a "bush" village where a lion was recently speared to death after attacking a villager. The Father has said we could go hunting there if we like, he would provide the rifle as the Peace Corps does not allow us to possess firearms, but if we shoot the animals with our cameras, I think that will be enough. I hope we find time to visit him.

In August we plan to climb Mt. Kilimanjaro and visit the Serengeti Plains, Africa's largest game reserve. I am certain I will see enough wild game then. Until then, I will just have to be content with my lizzards, snakes, mosquitoes, termites, and army ants. They're wild enough for me.

The hardest job of all is trying to look busy when you are not. A bee is never as busy as it seems; it's just that it can't buzz any slower.

Roger Babson Says—

Machines Have Been Replacing Men On Nation's Farms Rapidly

Babson Park, Mass. Over the past quarter-century, we have been watching closely the revolutionary changes that have taken place on the nation's farms. Machines have been replacing men at an explosive rate, and now U. S. agriculture is a huge, modern industry. It is, in fact, our largest industry, providing income of $14 billion in 1965, a boost of $1 billion over 1964. We think this farm-income growth is going to continue.

Fewer, Bigger—And Richer
While the small, general-purpose farms have been fading out, the streamlined type of modern family operation has been moving triumphantly ahead. Naturally, this kind of farming takes plenty of outlay for mechanization, and far greater technical skill. But, where the management is competent and well informed, the profits more than make up for the costs of machinery and the study required to develop more advanced technical know-how. Over the past five years, net income per farm has pushed upward 40 per cent to a new all-time height of $4,150. Perhaps even more significant is the fact that, in the same period, per capita income of farmers has advanced 35 per cent while income for the remainder of the population has risen only 20 per cent. Farm labor costs have, of course, been drifting downward for years because of agricultural mechanization, and acreage has been climbing steadily for the individual farms. These latter trends are bound to continue.

Strong Supports
There have been many related reasons for the healthier demand for agricultural products and for rising profits. The most elementary but important cause is the enormously broader spending for foods of all sorts, due to large increases in population, soaring spendable income, and richer eating habits. Exports of farm produce have been on the upward path for a long while. Markets have been particularly well sustained in the countries of Western Europe, in Japan, and in many other free nations. Higher living standards in such places favor continuing brisk demand for our agricultural exports for an indefinite period.

As long as our own people are adequately supplied with native foodstuffs, there will continue to be heavy shipments to needy nations that lack sufficient growing operations of their own. This entire export situation, along with the government's cutting back of our planting acreage over the years and our own booming markets, has succeeded in bringing surpluses down to manageable levels. Since over-supplies always mean downward pressure on prices, present conditions are more conducive to good returns for farmers. Income per farm will, of course, be steadily greater as the number of farms dwindles and the greater prosperity is divided among fewer establishments.

Harvests Could Be Greatly Increased
In spite of the phasing out of great numbers of marginal farms, the strong nucleus of larger units that are left could dramatically step up agricultural production. Total harvests during 1965 smashed all pre-

Winters Lake Over Spillway, Still Running

Heavy rains of the past several days dumped millions of gallons of water onto the watershed of the Winters Lake and pushed the lake to overflowing. Water started going over the spillway shortly after the rains started a few days ago, and at one time filled the entire spillway areas on both east and west ends of the dam. Water had dropped to the level of the concrete spillway proper by Wednesday of this week, but was still flowing good.

W. D. Waggoner, superintendent of the City Water Department, said that before the rains came the lake was comparatively full, only about 14 inches below spillway level. He estimated that enough water has gone over the spillway since the rains to fill the lake at least twice over.

Very little damage was done to the dirt spillway area on the west side of the dam, Waggoner said. No undercutting of the concrete spillway was noted, and a few loads of caliche should repair the minor damage to the dirt and rock area. Because of the high water it has not been possible to check the dirt spillway area on the east end of the dam, he said, but he said damage was not expected to be extensive.

Waggoner said the 3058-acre lake, now full, would be enough to meet consumption demands for at least a year and a half, even if no more rains fell within that time.

Prior to the rains, the water superintendent said, water use in the city had reached an average of 400,000 gallons daily. This demand has dropped to about 150,000 following the rains and is expected to remain at a low level for some time.

Amount of rainfall in the Winters area during the past several days varied; measurement on the west side of Winters indicated that 7.8 inches were received during the month of April, with 1.2 inch received on the first day of May.

Outside of some washing in fields and a few broken terraces, no extensive damage to crops or croplands has been reported. There will be places where crops which had been recently planted will have to be re-planted, however. Water still is standing in terraces and in low-lying fields, and will prevent field work for several days.

vious records. Experts feel that even these highs could be upset some 20 per cent in a couple of years if federal acreage controls were done away with. Some interested parties are suggesting that 55 million idle crop acres be replanted, especially in view of the number of countries where starvation actually threatens.

What would be the effect of sudden removal of acreage restrictions? Prices would tend to fall unless demand could be kept in line with output. Since world markets are a strong part of the success-key for American farmers, exports would have to be maintained—and even increased—if price softening were to be prevented. However, we feel that—under present conditions and with this dire world need—there may be dangers of shortages, at least in some grains and other basic farm products.

Great thoughts reduced to practice become great acts.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is trying to determine the death cause of a number of white pelicans and other shore birds at Oso Bay near Corpus Christi, according to R. G. Mauermann, regional director.

Biologists and game wardens took water samples.

An analysis of both the carcasses and the stomach contents is underway to determine if toxic food materials may have caused the deaths. A survey of the marine life in the immediate area has revealed no evidence of a related fish kill.

State Capital Highlights—
Connally To Recommend Pay Raises For State Employees

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
Next year's legislative session may see state employees battling as hard for a pay raise as school teachers.
Furthermore, help is assured. Gov. John Connally says that "substantial pay raises for state employees" will be among his "strongest recommendations" to lawmakers.

Indications are that the pay boosts could run as high as $17,500,000 a year.

According to Connally, state government is slipping farther and farther behind in its efforts to keep qualified workers—not only in the lowest pay levels but in the higher brackets of professional personnel.

Connally says that of the 45,000 state employees (not including those at colleges and universities) make less than $3,000 a year, the federal "poverty line."

Turnover is running 30 per cent per year.

Lower-bracket hospital aides get as little as $193 a month. There are 313 vacancies in the hospital system, 77 in parks and wildlife operations, 100 in the prison system, 135 in the highway patrol and 148 in the Texas Education Agency.

"If we do not reverse the trend," warns Connally, "not only will the stability and efficiency of our operations be threatened, but we will also weaken our entire system of local self government and responsibility."

Salary issue promptly was injected into the governor's race.

Stanley Woods, Connally's opponent for the Democratic nomination, chided the governor for not having spoken out on the Bill Hollowell, running for lieutenant governor, said Connally should submit the raises to an immediate special session of the Legislature rather than waiting eight months until the regular session opens.

GINNERS FIRST ON CONTROL LIST?

Texas' new nine-member State Air Control Board now has held its second meeting since Governor Connally named the group, whose purpose it is to protect the public from air pollution. Indications are that Texas' more than 1,300 cotton gins will be the first area subject to air control rules and regulations.

Conclusions after a year-long study of pollutants caused by cotton gins is that smoke emitted from burl burning contains significant quantities of arsenic and tars. These poisons, along with gin dust, have contributed to the 20 to 30 per cent increase in complaints about respiratory diseases suffered by downwind residents during ginning season.

Also, there have been adverse effects on trees and vegetation downwind from arsenic and other evidences of pollutants.

Report states that much of the increased pollutants from the gins are caused from an increase in trash—leaves, limbs, immature bolls, and dust—picked up by mechanical harvesters. Recommendations for curing these problems will be in the report of the Board's staff.

WATER QUALITY COSTS GOING UP

Taxpayers, as well as the men who run the sewage treatment plants in growing cities, must get used to the fact that in the future they are going to have to maintain high standards of operation of their plants. Higher quality water means higher cost of treatment.

This came out in the Texas Water Pollution Control Board's meeting when the City of Dallas objected to a doubling of the Board's usual chlorination requirement, arguing it would cost more than it would be worth.

Dave Smallhorst, the Board's executive secretary said: "The cities, including Dallas, have to recognize the fact that an increase in water quality requirements is going to mean an increase in cost." Smallhorst said chlorination is necessary to protect public health and the Board's first concern is the health of the public.

Pamala Renee Gilbert, Michael James Briley Announce June Wedding Date

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gilbert, 617 Wood Street, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Pamala Renee, and Mr. Michael James Briley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Briley Jr.

The wedding date has been set for Friday, June 17, at the First Baptist Church, with the pastor, the Rev. B. T. Shoemaker, officiating.

The bride is a graduate of Winters High School with the class of 1966. Mr. Briley is also a Winters High School graduate.

protect public health and the Board's first concern is the health of the public.

COURTS SPEAK

A trial court ruling that Rice University must integrate can be appealed by school alumni, Texas Supreme Court held.

Houston Court of Civil Appeals was ordered to consider the appeal. A provision of charitable trust establishing the school specified that it admit only white students. Trial court said the restriction is invalid and the Court of Civil Appeals held that only Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr could appeal.

Court of Criminal Appeals filed a request by Jasper attorney Joe Tonnahill that Jack Ruby be given an early sanity hearing, but took no immediate action.

State Supreme Court's refusal of the appeal of oil operator William Crawford of Dallas means Mrs. Madge Yeatts of Jones County will be entitled to collect $17,064 for damage to her farm caused by oilfield salt water disposal.

AG OPINIONS

Even under the new Criminal Code, habitual violators of Texas' traffic laws will not be able to protect their driver's licenses from being revoked by pleading no contest to charges. So ruled Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr.

In other recent opinions, Carr held that:

Wilbarger County Hospital District may pay for land acquired to establish a community center for mental health and mental retardation services out of a building bond issue or district tax levy.

Tax bonds of Texas junior college districts are not eligible to secure deposits of state funds, but revenue bonds are eligible to extent provided by statutes.

County clerks in misdemeanor cases have authority to issue arrest writs to any peace officer.

Wilbarger County Hospital District bonds are not acceptable as security for state deposits.

No inheritance tax is due the state on a veteran's estate which passed to the U. S. on his death.

Secretary of State has no authority to accept and file applications for certificate of withdrawal from foreign corporations unless they comply with all requirements of Texas Business Corporation Act.

MOVIES

"Johnny Reno"

A. C. Lyles, one of Hollywood's most successful producers, once again proves he is a man with a magic touch for extracting every bit of excitement and suspense from a motion picture script. His latest Technicolor production, "Johnny Reno," a Paramount Picture which shows Friday and Saturday at the State Theatre boasts of the talents of toughman Dana Andrews mixed in an action saga with the super glamorous skills of Jane Russell.

"Once a Thief"

Since it was filmed entirely on locations in San Francisco, the viewer is given the feeling that what he sees in "Once a Thief" is actually happening. And what he is offered in this new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film, starring Alain Delon, Ann-Margret, Van Heflin and Jack Palance, is a pulsating drama with vivid characterizations which holds you enthralled in its uncompromising, down-to-earth story of an ex-crook who tries desperately to go straight but who is hunted down by a relentless Nemesis.

"The Ugly Dachshund"

Two of Hollywood's most versatile young talents, Dean Jones and Suzanne Pleshette, are teamed for the first time in Walt Disney's newest romantic-comedy, "The Ugly Dachshund." As a pair of newly-weds coping with a group of canine cut-ups in a vain attempt to preserve tranquility in their happy home, they prove the perfect foil for five of the screen's most appealing dog stars.

"The Ugly Dachshund" is the featured motion picture in Walt Disney's "perfect program" of entertainment, which also includes the fully animated cartoon featurette, "Winnie the Pooh and the Honey Tree."

"The Ugly Dachshund" shows Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the State Theatre.

"Girl Happy"

We don't know how he does it, but Elvis Presley seems to become more engaging with each of his film appearances. In his latest offering, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Girl Happy," Elvis is more dapper and debonair than ever, playing his role of Lethario with an infectious grin and twinkle of the eye that has you with him all the way. No wonder the legions of Presley fans keep growing.

"Girl Happy" shows Saturday night only at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre.

"Seven Days In May"

When is a traitor not a traitor? . . . That is the exciting and chilling question posed in "Seven Days In May," the new suspense drama which shows Sunday night only at the Fiesta Drive-In Theatre. Based on the best-selling novel by Fletcher Knebel and Charles W. Bailey II, this new Paramount release has an all-star cast headed by Burt Lancaster, Kirk Douglas, Fredric March, Ava Gardner and Edmond O'Brien.

Mother - Daughter Banquet Given At Lutheran Church

"To Mom With Love" was the theme carried out in decorations, playlet and song when the Ladies Aid Circle hosted the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet at St. John's Lutheran Church recently.

Soft blue crepe paper was used to form the arch at the entrance with a large bow lettered in glitter "To Mom With Love." Pastel colors were used in flowers centered on white linen laid tables where packages, beautifully wrapped and labeled "To Mom With Love," were nested among the flowers. Hanging arrangements in pastel colors were used at vantage points about the room.

Mrs. Walter Kraatz, president of the aid circle, was mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. Ellis Uecker, president of the Northwest Conference, gave the invocation and Mrs. W. F. Minzenmayer was song leader.

After enjoying a delicious meal prepared by the hosts, Mrs. Herman Frick, spoke on the love of children for their parents, rather than buying commercial gifts for Mothers Day.

A playlet "To Mom With Love" was presented by mother and daughter teams consisting of Mrs. Walter Gerhart and daughter, Mary; Mrs. W. W. Ahrens and daughter, Joan; Mrs. Jake Presley and daughter, Brenda; Mrs. E. E. Thor-meyer and granddaughter, Gwen Geistman; Mrs. A. C. Minzenmayer and daughter, Myra.

Mrs. Walter C. Probst Sr., completed the playlet by pointing out the value of having the monthly church and circle papers in the home and children learning from childhood all about the work of the church.

The oldest guest present was Mrs. Wm. Minzenmayer. The ones traveling the longest distance were Mrs. Harry Reints, Freeport, Illinois and Mrs. Ralph Tuell of Rockport, Ill.

The youngest guest present was little Miss Karen Lisso of Dublin, Texas.

A short business meeting was held, presided over by Mrs. E. E. Thormeyer. Miss Helen Lisso read the minutes of the previous meeting and Miss Minnie Belitz gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Robert Spill gave a brief report on stewardship and Mrs. H. L. Frick gave a report on education. She also registered the 126 guests in a book made by Mrs. August Stoeker.

Pastor Probst gave the closing prayer.

Employees in Texas forests and forest industries earn upwards of $141 million a year. The land is our capital; its products are our dividends. Don't burn the interest. Help Keep Texas Green.

Be thankful for the problems on your job! If you didn't have them, you would not be there; and if they were less difficult, someone with less ability would have your job.

The work of Truman Granger, missionary down in "Evangeline Country" was described by Mrs. Dalvin Awaft gave some historical facts about Louisiana including the date of 1803 when France sold the state to the United States. Many French people still live there and some have come from Canada recently. The influence of the French is shown in language, cultural background and religious practices.

Former Winters Resident Receives Award In N. Mexico

Wayland Scott, former Winters man, was one of the six mine shift foremen in Carlsbad, N. M., who were named "Supervisor of the Year" in the IMC Mine Department.

Chosen from a long list of supervisors, Scott was presented with an engraved cigarette lighter by Mining Manager R. W. Hougland and Mine Production Superintendent Berl Trafton.

According to Trafton the awards were based on the point system in use in the mine and in addition, four other general areas of performance: points per man-shift worked; safety performance of entire crew; adherence to standard practices set by the mine department; and demonstrated leadership and training ability shown in working with his crew.

According to Hougland, "It was a very difficult choice—to pick six men out of so many outstanding supervisors who have set so many new records." Scott is married to the former Alice Fenske and the couple has a two-year-old daughter.

To Meet a Deadline!

Water Is the Topic At Every Turn At State Capitol In Austin

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

As State agencies charged with meeting the Federal deadline of submitting a Texas Water Plan by June, 1967, "Wade" through all obstacles in the path of that plan, "water" is the topic at every turn in the capital city.

An unique statewide water plan of importance to all areas of Texas will be unveiled within the next few weeks.

In a brief preview, water experts revealed that the overall 50-year plan will cost more than $2,000,000,000. Joe M. Kilgore, chairman of the comprehensive water planning advisory committee, said the proposals are "broader than ever before attempted by any government."

Joe G. Moore Jr., executive director of the Texas Water Development Board, said the plan will propose redistribution of water from surplus areas of northeastern Texas. Recommended diversion would follow the Trinity River, the Brazos River and a canal down the Texas coast.

Moore estimated cost of waste treatment facilities alone to bring stream "return flow" (for reuse) to acceptable standards at $740,000,000. Figure would include regional treatment systems for both municipal and industrial wastes.

No other state, said Chairman Kilgore, has attempted to so include in one massive effort all aspects of water planning touching on its entire economy and cultural life.

State Savings and Loan Department has authority to decide whether a business not under its regulation may use the term "savings" as part of its name.

In other recent opinions, Carr concluded that: Newly-authorized farm machinery exemption from motor vehicle inspection requirement does not necessarily include trucks and jeeps primarily used on farms.

Board of Economic Opportunity of Laredo and Webb County can hire relatives of its members without violating the State's nepotism laws.

A constable who advertises he won't work traffic accidents has not neglected his duty, but an actual refusal to attend such accidents where there is reason to believe a violation has occurred does constitute neglect.

A justice of peace may appoint counsel for an indigent in an examining trial, but a section of the criminal code permitting inclusion of fees for appointed lawyers in court costs is unconstitutional.

APPOINTMENTS

Gov. John Connally appointed Lewis H. Bond of Fort Worth, Robert W. Whipkey of Big Spring and William B. Blake-more of Midland to new State Judicial Qualifications Commission.

Connally named as representatives to the 15th annual Legislative Work Conference on Southern Regional Education, July 27-30.

Sens. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells, Jack Hightower of Vernon and Culp Krueger of El campo and Reps. Don Cavness of Austin, Lee Duggan Jr. of Houston, Gene Fondren of Taylor, James E. Klager of Corpus Christi, Felix L. McDonald of Edinburg, Rayford Price of Frankston and Reed Quilliam of Lubbock.

Joe Edgar Wright, formerly of Brownwood, succeeds George L. Carver, who retired April 15, as head of the Texas Highway Department Planning Survey Division.

HEARING SET

State Supreme Court agreed to hear arguments on May 11 on petitions of two sulphur companies that Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler should be required to file their Pecos County claims.

Sadler maintains Duval Corporation of Houston and Piper Petroleum Company of Delaware are trying to get authority to mine sulphur for 50 cents an acre on state land worth $2,000 an acre. He also contends 1895 and 1919 State laws under which the companies filed no longer are applicable and were replaced by sealed-bid statutes in 1931.

Court ordered Sadler to postpone his scheduled May 3 opening of bids until it reaches a decision on the May 11 hearing.

DRAFT QUOTA DROPS

Texas' draft quota for June is the lowest in a year—712.

Last June's quota was 670, according to Texas Selective Service headquarters. Allotment ran to nearly 1,000 for seven months starting in September, dropped to 979 in April and rose to 1,642 for May.

Nationwide quota during June (for the Army) is 15,000.

PLANNING PROGRAM LAUNCHED

First of "exploratory conferences" with major state agency heads will begin April 26 as a step toward development of a coordinated state planning program for greater economy and efficiency in overall governmental administration. Study was authorized by the 1965 Legislature.

Members of the governor's staff and the planning consultant firm of Harold F. Wise—Robert Gladstone and Associates will conduct interviews with Department directors. Firm was employed with part of funds from a $65,744 Federal grant for purpose of developing basic information for the planning program.

Where I Stand On....

FREE ENTERPRISE

"I am not one of those who apologizes for or takes a defensive attitude toward the free enterprise system. It doesn't need defending. It's the best system ever devised for satisfying the material needs and aspirations of the people. There is room for improvement, of course, but this can be done without altering the basic principles which make it function."

FEDERAL BUREAUCRACY

"I believe that too much control of our government's affairs has passed out of the hands of Congress, and into the hands of the regulatory and administrative agencies. This authority, which has been lost by default, must be re-claimed by the Congress. The trend of surrendering authority to agencies and commissions—who are supposed to administer the laws instead of making them—should be halted. I think it is time that Congress recognize this usurpation of its power and authority for what it is: government by bureaucracy. When Congress loses its authority, then the people lose theirs, for Congress is the voice of the people."

GOVERNMENT SPENDING

"There is no justification for deficit spending except during times of national emergency. I think all new proposals for spending should be carefully screened and that a determined stand be made against unnecessary spending. These are prosperous times, and it is now that we should be paying the national debt, rather than creating more of it. If we don't pay off our national debt during good times, when do we pay it?"

VIET NAM

"I will always support an unyielding stand against communism, and I feel that there is no other tenable position for us to take in Viet Nam than that which the President has so firmly taken. We cannot be soft toward an ideology that has set out to destroy our own way of life. At all times, of course, I believe we should keep the doors open for a possible negotiation that would bring about a peaceful solution to open conflicts such as we have in Viet Nam. Our goal in Viet Nam is to stop aggression on the part of the communists toward a peaceful people who have every right to seek their own destiny."

OIL AND GAS

"I will support legislation aimed toward bringing about a healthier oil and gas industry. This is a prime business—an indispensable business—to our District, and contributes substantially to the welfare of us all. As to the 27 1/2% oil depletion allowance, I am in full accord with it and would resist any measure that would seek to change it to the disadvantage of the industry and the District."

EDUCATION

"Education is the single most important function of an enlightened society. We must make it as accessible as possible, for as many as possible, without either reducing our scholastic standards or jeopardizing our traditional academic freedom. I will favor legislation that broadens our educational base, insofar as it does so without giving the Federal Government control over our curricula. The selection of textbooks and the teaching of subjects should be left exclusively in the hands of the local schools, without infringement of any kind on the part of the government."

"I am also interested in seeing our schools extend their efforts in the direction of more technical and vocational training, and would support legislation that would encourage this. I feel that this would lessen the high dropout rate, as well as provide useful training to those who do not have an opportunity to go to college. This would also enhance the national employment picture, as the overall demand for trained technicians and specialized workers in nearly all fields is greater than the supply."

"As your Congressman, I would support legislation that would give a tax relief to parents of students enrolled in colleges. Such a bill should allow tax deductions for the amount put out for academic expenses such as tuition, fees, and books, or perhaps give the parent an additional standard tax exemption similar to the present $600 exemptions allowed for dependents. Such educational exemptions, of course, would continue only for the established four year period."

"It is my firm conviction that we cannot legislate poverty out of existence, but we can go a long way toward eliminating it through education."

JUDICIAL SYSTEM

"As a former District Judge and District Attorney, I am extremely proud of the lead the legal profession has traditionally taken in the affairs of our government. Especially do I hold our courts in high esteem."

"To keep our court system above the criticism and reproach it has occasionally undergone in the past, I would introduce and urge passage of legislation that would prescribe basic qualifications for Judges appointed to the federal judiciary. In addition I think it would be desirable to establish a mandatory retirement age, and a procedure for removing judges when they become unfit for service because of health or other reasons."

NATIONAL DEFENSE

"I will always be a strong advocate of a national defense force large enough and modern enough to maintain our peace and security anywhere it might be threatened. Such a force should be second to none in the quality of its personnel, its leadership, and its weaponry. I believe such a force can be achieved and maintained without a wasteful expenditure of the taxpayer's money."

WATER CONSERVATION

"There is no greater problem facing our District than the need for adequate water, now and in the future. I will support any feasible legislation that promises to create greater water resources for our area. Obviously, such legislation is a must, because we don't have enough water as it is, and to neglect it further would be to compound a tragedy. The problem is of such magnitude that it is going to require great study, imagination and vision to solve it. I, for one, am ready to begin."

AGRICULTURE

"I believe the present Omnibus Farm Bill places too much authority in the hands of the Agricultural Department and its Secretary. As a case in point, there is the arbitrary policy ruling by the Agricultural Department, that adversely affects the farmer by altering skip-row planting practices. I would favor farm legislation that would take into consideration the different and varying characteristics from one farming region to another. Especially would I work diligently to amend the program to again permit the kind of skip-row planting that the farmer of this district wants and needs."

LABOR LEGISLATION

"I have always favored the right of labor to organize for the purpose of achieving desirable objectives for its working members."

I also support the principle of collective bargaining, as it is the only just way to reach a livable balance between labor and management.

I do not believe that either labor or management should be allowed to walk rough-shod over the other. It takes both to produce the goods and manufacture the wealth in which we all share, and both have legitimate viewpoints which must be evaluated and adjudicated equitably in any controversy between them.

I do not favor any act or measure that would directly or indirectly compel anyone to become a member of any labor, trade, or business organization on a mandatory basis. This, to me, is a dangerous encroachment on the freedom of the individual."

VETERAN'S AFFAIRS

"As an overseas veteran of World War II myself, I am a supporter of the broad objectives of the Veterans' Program, and I particularly endorse the educational provisions of the G. I. Bill and the extensions of it to include veterans of recent conflicts. As to future legislation for veterans, I will give due consideration to any measure that will tangibly improve the lot of the veteran without putting an unfair penalty on other segments of the population."

State Capital Highlights—

Democrats Will Vote May 7th For Seven Statewide Offices

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Candidates for statewide offices are getting set for the final week of their campaign.

Democrats will vote at their May 7 primary for seven statewide offices.

Spotlight has been on the race for attorney general. Candidates are Galloway Calhoun of Tyler, Crawford Martin of Hillsboro and Franklin Spears of San Antonio.

Spears pledges efforts to improve law enforcement. Martin is emphasizing his 27 years' experience as a lawyer and his long service as state senator and secretary of state. Calhoun identifies himself as the "only real conservative" in the race.

All three candidates are eyeing the large number of voters who apparently still are undecided despite their long campaigns.

Gov. John Connally, seeking a third term, virtually has ignored attacks on his administration

Stanley Woods of Houston, the third candidate for governor, Johnnie Mae Hackworth of Brenham, has not actively campaigned.

Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, running as Woods' ticketmate, is opposing Lt. Gov. Preston Smith.

Paul B. Haring of Goliad is waging a spirited campaign against incumbent Railroad Commissioner Byron Tunnell of Tyler.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr is opposed by political newcomer John R. (Jack) Willoughby of Houston for the U. S. Senate nomination.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler has opposition from Fred Williams of Del Rio.

Only contested statewide judicial race is between incumbent Court of Criminal Appeals Judge W. T. McDonald of Bryan and District Judge John F. Onion of San Antonio.

Light voter interest is expected to be reflected in a predicted 50 per cent voter turnout.

POPULATION

Texas is growing at the rate of 1.5 per cent a year, UT's Population Research Center reports.

An estimate of population shows that there were 10,336,141 Texans on April 1, 1965. This is a gain of 756,464 over the 1960 census.

Irrigated farming areas in the High Plains produced the two fastest growing counties—Randall and Deaf Smith. Respective growth rates are 7.7 and 7.1 per cent a year. Hartley County, in the top of the Panhandle, has gained 7 per cent a year.

But Texans still are moving to town. Study shows that the 21 metropolitan counties, which contain cities of 50,000 and more, gained 637,374 of the total. Only three of the 21 failed to gain. They are Midland, Ector and Cameron Counties.

POLLUTION

Population growth essentially is to blame for growing problems of stream pollution. For example, the State water plan, soon to be released, predicts that Fort Worth and Dallas will be discharging 750,000 acre feet of waste water a year into the Trinity River.

This prediction has the Texas Water Pollution Control Board looking for ways to require cities and industries to treat their wastes so they will not cause pollution. Board must adopt a plan for maintaining good quality water in all Texas streams by June 30, 1967, or Federal agencies will take over the job.

Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, has appropriated $25,000 to be used, with matching money from the Pollution Control Board, to devise a work plan for a $4,000,000 study of how to keep the Galveston Bay System clean.

COLLEGES

Population growth produces more college students. Coordinating Board forecasts that enrollments in 17 state colleges and universities will double by 1978—from 115,015 to 169,097.

This determination was made for the purpose of splitting up the $156,000,000 Texans will pay in the next 12 years on the 10-cent per $100 ad valorem tax to finance college buildings at the 17 schools. Schools in the University of Texas and Texas A&M Systems get their building money from their permanent fund endowment.

A $20,000,000 bond issue to finance the first two years of student loans under an overall $85,000,000 state program was approved by the Board.

TOURISTS

Texas Highway Department reports that 12,688,000 tourists visiting Texas by car in 1965 spent $613,148,000—16.4 per cent more than in 1964.

Governor Connally, pushing for tourism, pointed out that when air, train and bus visitors are added to the total, it shows that $907,000,000 was spent by the visitors.

He also emphasized the need for more recreational facilities at major reservoirs during the dedication of Canyon Dam on the Guadalupe River.

AG RULINGS

A county sheriff or his deputies may not contract with an incorporated city to provide it police protection which are performed regularly by city police officers or city marshals. Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr so advised Galveston County District Atty. Jules Damiani Jr.

In other opinions Carr concluded that:

In order to obtain a Texas license to practice chiropractic, it's immaterial whether an applicant has passed an examination conducted by the National Board of Chiropractic Examiners.

Only the territory that was in Justice Precinct No. 2 of Denton County, when voters legalized sale of beer in 1935, legally is wet. Precinct was enlarged in 1948, taking in part of a dry precinct.

Lamar County Hospital District has no authority to convey any of its land to the county as site for a building to house welfare agencies.

High court declined to review a damage judgment favoring a Lubbock area farmer who said his hogs were killed by aerial spray.

Third Court of Civil Appeals upheld a 1965 permit allowing a Bexar County concern to discharge 696,000 gallons of treated sewage into Salado Creek near San Antonio.

Court of Criminal Appeals ordered new trial for C. L. McCaleb who had been convicted of selling securities without registering with state securities commissioner.

COURTS SPEAK

Texas Supreme Court agreed with lower courts that A. and M. Consolidated Independent School District (Brazos County) tax assessments are not arbitrary though district does not levy on personal property like bank deposits, autos and furniture.

EMERGENCY PLAN ACCEPTED

A committee named to draw up a plan for management of natural resources in the event a nuclear attack knocked out federal controls presented its report to Governor Connally.

Areas covered by the plan include construction, economic stabilization, electric power, food, petroleum and gas, health, transportation, water, industrial production, housing and manpower.

Connally requested the Emergency Resources Planning Committee to remain in operation 60 days longer.

OEO APPROVALS

Governor Connally has announced approval of seven projects under the Economic Opportunity Act.

Projects are: Jim Wells County, $69,198; Matagorda, Brazoria and Fort Bend Counties, $64,560; Harrison-Panola Counties, $24,217; Victoria, $13,459; Cottle, Foard, Hardeman and Wilbarger Counties, $11,046; Nacogdoches, $7,692; and Castro County, $27,477.

SHORT SNORTS

Grayson County officials received a Highway Department survey recommending a new route for U. S. 75 from Sherman to the Red River.

OIL OUTPUT BOOSTED AGAIN

Texas Railroad Commission raised the limit on oil production to 35 per cent of potential—highest point for the month of May in seven years.

Allowable was boosted due to increasing demand and decreasing stocks on hand.

New allowable is an increase of 75,700 barrels a day over April.
