Calls For Draft Physicals Getting Bigger And Bigger

More and more young single men of Eastland and Stephens Counties will be leaving for Army physical examinations one of these days, at the rate the Eastland-Stephens County Selective Service Board is getting notices to send men for examination.

A call for another 50 men to be sent for physicals Sept. 7 was received by the board Thursday, making a total of 150 men who are due to go to the zone. The first batch of 20, taking up the first group of Selective Service potential inductees since the end of World War II, left for Dallas Tuesday.

Another group of 30 will go to Dallas for physicals Aug. 15, and on Aug. 24, 50 will report to Abilene for examinations.

All the men called so far are being examined for induction into the Army, said Mrs. Jewel Reeves, clerk of the two-county draft board.

First actual inductions under the program brought about by the Korean fighting are due about the middle of September, it was believed here.

Not nearly so many will go as have been examined, it was explained. Larger numbers are examined to allow for those who do not pass, and for other reasons.

'Cisco Pastor Named President Of College

$3,375,000 Peanut Crop Forecast For County Farms

Despite crop quotas, Eastland County peanut farmers this year stand to make one of their biggest all-time harvests in terms of dollars and cents, County Agent J. M. Cooper said this week.

With plenty of moisture and with peanut prices up over a year ago, Cooper termed present prospects of the peanut farmer "The best in the world."

Of course, anything can happen to the farmer, and often does, the county agent cautioned.

But at present, Cooper estimates this year's peanut crop in the county at around a million and a quarter bushels, which would mean a return to farmers of something like $3,375,000.

This figure of nearly four million dollars is exclusive of the peanut hay crop, which farmers say will be one of the best on record because of the unusually heavy summer rains.

Cooper pointed out that if this rich peanut harvest materializes, about 1200 farmers will reap returns from it.

He said that prices are a little higher, with number one Spanish peanuts selling for 10 to 12 cents per pound, as compared with 10 to 12 cents last year. This will mean about $6 a ton more for growers than last year, Cooper said.

Emmett Powell, head of the county P.M.A. office, said that the work of measuring peanut acreage in the county under the support program is not yet complete, but that it is evident that the acreage will run over the allotted 37,000 acres.

All peanuts from acreage over the allotted amount may be sold for oil without penalty, but will receive no price supports. Peanuts from allotted acres will be sold for edible use only, Powell said.

Both Cooper and Powell said that grain sorghum crops and pastures are in the best condition that the county has seen in a good many years.

A good deal of hay already has been harvested in the county, and much more probably will be harvested, they said.

Poultrymen Invited To Cisco Meeting

Baldy Harris Buys High Grade Swine

C. C. "Baldy" Harris, Eastland Duroc swine breeder, paid $1250 for six animals at the sale held in connection with the 1950 National Duroc Congress at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, recently.

Harris paid $400 for Red Boyer, a top Superior Group boar at the show, consigned by Simpson Bros. of Gower, Mo.

Harris also bought six gilts, representing some of the finest breeding in the nation, and consigned by Cooper Farms of Nobelsville, Ind., Ralph J. Knotek of Riverside, Iowa, Juhl Bros. of Luverne, Minn., Roy Vander Ploeg of Monroe, Iowa, and Harold C. Timm of Muscatine, Iowa.

Harris said the new purchases would make his Duroc stock just about tops in this part of the country.

Toy Guns Release Boy's Impulses

By Lawrence Gould

Does it hurt small boys to play with toy pistols?

Answer: Not unless they will be able to get—or make—real ones when they're older, and not then if they are properly trained in the use of fire-arms. Every small boy has "aggressive" impulse which is better for him to release in play than to "bottle up" altogether. Even "killing" in play means no more to a small boy than "eliminating" an opponent in a golf or tennis tournament (itself a symbolic battle) does to his father. Fighting is not all of life, but a boy's fighting instincts should not be entirely smothered.

done to you—at best, the effect of this will be to make him want to get as far away from you as he can. If you can't "take" the way someone treats you, say so, but don't try to "shame" him.

Do unconscious acts show your real attitudes?

Answer: Yes, writes E. T. Hall, Jr., in the International Journal of Opinion and Attitude Research. The way to learn the real attitude of someone you are interviewing is to notice such facts as whether he keeps you waiting; whether he remembers your name and the time of the appointment; how much annoyed he seems at being interrupted; and what "slips of the tongue," if any, he makes. This approach was found especially revealing in the case of politicians who tried to evade "taking a stand" on controversial issues.

Can a guilty conscience make a man hate his wife?

Answer: Certainly. Many a man has hated his wife because of the remorse he felt at having wronged her; he sees in her the embodiment of the pain his conscience makes him suffer. The last way to win or hold anyone's love is to make him ashamed of something that he has

KEEPING HEALTHY Pain in the Neck Caused by Allergy

By Dr. James W. Barton

IN MANY CASES the cause of pain at back of neck, shoulder, and down the arm has been found to be rupture or hernia of the disk or cushion between two spinal bones in the neck. This rupture of a disk occurs most frequently in the lower end of the spine between the two large hip bones. In rupture of a disk at any part of the spinal column, operation to remove the disk is considered the best treatment, though some of the less severe cases are helped by a snug-fitting belt which must be worn for months and, in some cases, for years.

However, that all pain in the neck is not caused by a rupture of a disk in spinal column at the neck is pointed out by Dr. T. G. Randolph in Archives of Ear and Throat. He states that allergy, being sensitive to various substances, is the cause of many cases of neural (nerve) myalgia (pain in muscles), that is, pain in muscles of neck. It is sometimes called posterior cervical myalgia. Certain foods and inhalants (house dust) were stated to be the cause of pain in back of neck in several cases. In many of these cases of pain in back of neck, physicians, because they can find no apparent cause for this pain—no ruptured disk or other injury, no arthritis due to infection—naturally think that nervousness or emotional disturbances cause the pain because of the tenseness with which these individuals hold all their nerves and muscles, including muscles of back of neck.

"Pulling, drawing, tightness and aching of the neck muscles are some of the most usually encountered symptoms observed in the course of performing individual food tests for the diagnosis of food allergy," he writes. "Technicians are trained to observe whether the patient stretches his neck as if his collar were too tight, as telltale evidence of the onset of such neck symptoms. As the patient stretches the neck and turns his head from side to side, he generally starts to rub or massage the back of his neck."

Fragrant Quick Breads Are Easily Made (See Recipes Below)

Bake Them Often
QUICKLY BAKED BREADS provide inspiration for any meal and snack, so they're easily worth the few minutes it takes to mix and bake them.

Give your breakfast a lift with some delightful fruit and nut bread by baking it with the strawberries are getting down to breakfast. Or, why not plan to make an inspired lunch box with some delightful variations of a quickly baked bread?

Snacks are something special if you have some beautifully textured prune bread with a spread of cream cheese and jelly. Dinners, too, can be budget-wise if you'll take less than half an hour to mix and bake honey butter roll-ups or orange-date muffins.

Hot breads give cool weather meals that essential stick-to-the-ribs quality. More than that, their aroma and appeal gets the family to the dining table without coaxing!

FIRST on our parade of quick bread recipes is this for a bran nut bread which may be varied in four different ways.

Bran Nut Bread
(Makes 1 loaf, 4 1/2 x 9 1/2 inch pan)
1 egg
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons melted shortening
1/2 cup bran
2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Beat egg and sugar until light. Add milk, shortening and bran. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; combine with nuts; add to first mixture, stirring only until flour disappears. Spread in greased loaf pan, which has been fitted with waxed paper at the bottom. Bake in a moderate (350°) oven for 1 hour and 10 minutes.

use as a topping.

THIS PRUNE BREAD has some of the endearing qualities of cake, without being as sweet and rich. You'll like its texture.

Prune Bread
(Makes 1 loaf)
2 cups white wheat flour
1 cup white flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup cooked, drained, chopped prunes
1 egg
1 cup prune juice
1/2 cup milk
3 tablespoons melted butter

Sift together dry ingredients. Add prunes and mix well. Combine beaten egg, prune juice and milk, and add with melted butter to the first mixture. Pour into a greased loaf pan. Bake in a moderate (350°) oven for 1 1/4 hours.

*Honey Butter Roll-Ups
(Makes about 16)
2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons shortening
1/2-3/4 cup milk
1 tablespoon melted butter
2 tablespoons honey
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon

Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening. Add enough milk to form a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 1/2 minute. Divide into two equal portions. Roll each portion into a circle and spread with melted butter and honey; sprinkle with cinnamon. Cut into pie shaped pieces. Roll up beginning at wide end. Bake in a hot (450°) oven for 10-12 minutes.

Orange-Date Muffins
(Makes 12 muffins)
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 1/2 cups whole wheat flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup dates, chopped fine
Grated rind of 1 large orange
1/2 cup molasses
1 egg, beaten
1 cup milk
1/4 cup melted shortening

Sift together white flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Add dates and orange rind; mix well. Add whole wheat flour. Combine molasses, egg, milk and melted shortening. Add to dry ingredients and mix only until ingredients are moistened. Do not beat until smooth. Spoon batter into well greased muffin pans, 2/3 full. Bake in a hot (400°) oven about 20 minutes.

U. S. Motorists Learn To Drive More Safely

CHICAGO—American motorists are learning to drive more safely, according to the 1949 edition of the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts."

The 1948 traffic volume was the greatest in the nation's history—5 per cent greater than 1947. Yet the mileage death rate—deaths per 100,000,000 vehicle miles—was the lowest in the nation's history—5.8. The 8.0 rate was 30 per cent lower than the average rate of 11.5 through World War II. If the higher rate had prevailed last year, 14,000 more lives would have been lost.

Use prepared pie crust mix for real speed—use fresh cranberries for a real old-fashioned filling! Cranberry-Raisin Pie is practically a classic—here's how:

ANN PILLSBURY'S EATMOR CRANBERRY-RAISIN PIE
1 package Pillsbury Pie Crust Mix
2 1/2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 cup water
1 cup raisins
4 cups Eatmor Cranberries
1 tablespoon grated orange rind

Prepare pie crust mix as directed on package. Roll out one half of dough and fit into 9-inch pie pan. Combine sugar and cornstarch in saucepan and mix thoroughly. Add water and cook 5 minutes. Add raisins, cranberries and orange rind. Bring to rapid boil.

Cover saucepan and remove from stove; cool. Pour cooled mixture into prepared pie shell. Roll out remaining crust and cut into leaf shapes. Arrange cut-outs over surface of pie and brush with melted butter. Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) 35 minutes. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Autumn ushers in the Time of Mince-meat—combine cranberries and mince-meat in a delicious pie for double the tradition, double the good eating:

CRANBERRY MINCE PIE
3 cups Ten-Minute Cranberry Sauce*
1 package prepared mince-meat
Pie pastry

Combine cranberry sauce and mince-meat and toast to soften and blend filling. Fill pastry-lined 8-inch pie plate with mixture; arrange strips of pastry, criss-cross fashion, over top. Brush pastry with milk. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 30-35 minutes. Makes one 8-inch pie.

TEN-MINUTE CRANBERRY SAUCE
2 cups sugar
2 cups water
4 cups cranberries

Boil sugar and water together 5 minutes. Add cranberries and boil without stirring until all the skins pop open (5 minutes is usually sufficient). Remove from fire and allow the sauce to remain in saucepan until cool. Makes 1 quart sauce.

Note to wise cooks: Keep a big red bowl of Cranberry Sauce handy in Fresh Cranberry Time—it's so good it disappears from the table in double-quick time!

Blue Law Beard

By Will Bernard, LL. B.

State laws vary. For personal guidance, see your local attorney.

May a Person Lose His Temper in a Courtroom?

A carpenter and his neighbor had an argument about the ownership of a dog, and the dispute was finally taken to court. When the neighbor took the witness stand, he was asked whether he honestly believed the dog was his. He replied: "Positively yes!" Enraged, the carpenter seized a stick and smacked his adversary across the cheek! The victim promptly filed a damage claim against the hot-headed carpenter. The latter pleaded that the neighbor's answer "made me mad," but the court decided that wasn't a very good excuse. Holding the carpenter liable, the judge said that such fiery displays of temper have no place in a court of justice.

Could One Person "Assault" Another Without Even Touching Him?

A salesman was standing on the sidewalk, talking to a customer, when the salesman's best friend walked by. With his usual gusto, the friend grabbed the salesman's arm and gave him a hard jerk. As it happened, the salesman was already holding onto the customer's arm—and didn't let go soon enough! The force of the pull, transmitted through the salesman, knocked the customer flat on his back. Bruised here and there, the customer, brought an "assault" action against the salesman's boisterous friend. The latter protested that he hadn't even touched the customer, but the court nevertheless held him liable—saying that he was obviously the real cause of the mishap.

Is Shaving a "Necessity" In the Eyes of the Law?

A certain town passed a "Blue Law" which prohibited all labor on Sundays except for "works of necessity." One Saturday night, a man went to the barber shop for a shave. However, before his turn came he became ill and had to go home. The next morning, at his special request, the barber went to his shop and gave the man a shave. Someone reported the incident to the police, and the barber was arrested. He argued that, under the circumstances, the Sunday shave was a "necessity." But the court couldn't see it that way and found him guilty. The judge said the customer wouldn't have been any worse off if he hadn't gotten his shave until Monday.

Is a Store Responsible For the Safety of a Windowshopper?

While waiting for a street car a girl went over to look at some lingerie in a nearby window. As she stood there, a gust of wind toppled the store's awning down upon her. Injured, the girl sued for damages. The proprietor of the store argued that he had no obligation toward a mere windowshopper—especially one who had no intention of buying anything! However, the court granted the girl's claim. The judge commented: "Window displays challenge the attention of the public and invite closer inspection of their wares. The girl was there by the implied invitation or allurements of the merchant, and he therefore owed her the duty to see that his premises were in reasonably safe condition."

Keep DDT Away From Dairy Cows

Experts Cite Danger Of Milk Contamination

The U. S. department of agriculture's entomologists have issued a warning that DDT should not be used for insect control on dairy cows.

Even small amounts of DDT in food such as milk—a universal diet for infants and small children—might prove harmful in time, according to toxicologists of the food and drug administration who have studied the subject for several years. They say presence of the chemical in milk would be contrary to the food, drug and cosmetic act.

The entomologists now recommend methoxychlor, another effective insecticide, be substituted for DDT to control insect pests on dairy cows.

Federal entomologists make no change in their recommendations for the use of DDT in controlling insect pests on other livestock, including beef cattle.

The department's entomologists, chemists and veterinarians, cooperating in the investigation of the toxicology of DDT and other insecticides, say the application of DDT directly to milk cows for controlling insects results in the presence of small quantities of the insecticide in the milk. They say also that DDT in small quantities can be detected sometimes in milk following ordinary use of the insecticide for fly control in dairy barns.

The bureau of entomology and plant quarantine has repeatedly cautioned that serage treated with DDT and other chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides should not be fed to dairy animals or to livestock being finished for slaughter. A number of new insecticides are under investigation by federal entomologists for controlling insects on cows and in dairy establishments.

Leaves Tell Story

The leaves on corn plants tell whether the crop is well fed or starved. That can make a lot of difference at the harvest. For only well fed corn can produce high yields, well filled kernels and good quality ears.

Growers should take a little time to examine those corn leaves in the field. Healthy, well fed corn is a deep, dark green. Any other color spells trouble. It means that the corn plant is starving for one or more of the three plant nutrients—nitrogen, phosphate or potash.

Figure 1 in the illustration shows a typical case of nitrogen hunger. The signs show first at the tip then spread to the midrib of the lower leaves. The middle of the leaf turns yellow and dies.

Figure 2 illustrates potash starvation. It shows on the tips and edges of the leaves. These turn yellow and later look scorched. Corn hungry for potash has weak roots and stalks. It lodges easily. Potash starvation signs can appear at any stage of the corn's growth.

WOES . . . There's no brother here to play with Jimmy Moss; the babes are all girls.

OSCAR WINNERS AND THOSE WHO PRESENTED AWARDS . . . No recounting of the annual award of Hollywood "Oscars" for the "best" this or that in filmland during 1948 would be complete without the inevitable photo of the winners and those who presented the "Oscars"—so, here they are. At the left is the distinguished Ronald Colman who presented the award for the best performance to Jane Wyman for her work in Sahy Belinda; Miss Wyman, herself; Loretta Young, who presented the award for the best actor, which went to Sir Lawrence Olivier, for his Hamlet; to Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., representing Olivier.

JUNIOR GOBS OFF FOR A CRUISE . . . Posed against New York's imposing skyline of skyscrapers, these Junior gobs are ready to shove off on a patrol of New York harbor. The boys, numbering 66, are members of the Junior Bluejackets of America, and fridges such as this on the coast guard cutter "Navesink" are frequent as the summer season progresses. The boys were in full navy dress uniform with white leggings. That they are good sailors was shown in the report following the cruise—none of the boys got seasick despite the sometimes choppy conditions which prevail in the harbor.
