Truett was carried to the Gorman Hospital in a Hamner ambulance where the bone was set and his leg placed in a cast. He was able to return home Monday and his many friends and softball fans will be looking forward to the time that

Personalities Cause Clash

By Lawrence Gould

Is marital conflict due to "circumstances"?

Answer: Not primarily, says Florence Hollis of the New York School of Social Work in "Women in Marital Conflict: a Casework Study." The report includes a study of 100 families by 22 social workers from 11 different agencies. The workers concluded that the real causes of conflict were such factors as excessive dependency, undue attachment to parents, rejection of femininity and neurotic need to suffer. Interfering relatives, cultural differences and financial pressures had but secondary effects.

psychiatrists" that while perhaps useful in some forms of acute insanity, drastic treatments of this type do lasting damage to the brain and may involve "potential tragedy." The fact that "shocks" may produce spectacular results does not mean it should be used indiscriminately.

Can being "logical" make you unsympathetic?

Answer: That depends on how far you are using your "logicalness" as a defense against admitting your own unreasonable wishes or fears. To allow yourself to understand how someone else can have "illogical" emotions (like resentment against someone toward whom he "ought to be grateful"), makes it harder to deny that you are capable of being childish yourself. If you "can't see why neurotics don't get wise to themselves," you may be afraid to admit how much of the time you are ruled by your emotions rather than good sense.

Are "shock treatments" harmless?

Answer: No, says Dr. Jules H. Masserman of the University of Chicago Psychiatric Clinic. Experiments with animals showed that "unlike most drugs, electroshock produces a permanent impairment of behavioral efficiency and learning capacity." He notes a "growing conviction among

KEEPING HEALTHY Progress Made in Treating Leprosy

By Dr. James W. Barton

WHEN WE CONSIDER the large number of men and women dying of cancer, we may think it strange that research workers have not discovered the cause and cure of this fatal disease. What we forget is the great number of formerly fatal diseases that have been conquered or controlled during the past 50 years.

In a message to the patients of this hospital, Dr. Frederick Johansen, superintendent, says in part: "During the past 50 years we who work with Hansen's disease have seen achievements that mankind has been eagerly awaiting for centuries. The successful use of the sulfa drugs has brought about a new concept of Hansen's disease. The public attitude towards leprosy and those who contract it, is gradually developing as more people learn its true character."

There is a little magazine called The Star, edited and published by the patients of the U.S. marine hospital national leprosiarium, Carville, La. In this magazine appears a page of cartoons, not only showing the great progress made in the treatment of leprosy (now called Hansen's disease) during the past 50 years, but also in the control of tuberculosis by streptomycin and surgery, of diabetes by insulin, of pernicious anemia by liver and liver extracts, and of mental diseases by the shock treatment.

Dr. Johansen's report to the surgeon general on the work done at Carville in 1949 stated that this hospital discharged the largest number of patients to their homes and occupations than in any one year since the hospital was founded. The above is a wonderful achievement when we think of all the centuries during which leprosy patients were treated as "untouchables" and isolated from everybody but physicians and nurses.

JAMBLING INQUIRY

WITNESS NO. 1—ANY MAYOR: Q—As the mayor of this community you are aware, are you not, that betting on the races can be done here through bookies with the greatest of ease?

A—I will have to decline to answer that question. Q—On what ground? A—On the ground I am already late making my own racing selections, and I'm already a half hour behind my agenda.

Q—You are against poolrooms? A—Positively. Q—Will you say that for the record?

A—I not only will say it for the record but for the newsreels. Q—What do you put first in the matter of enforcing the law against race betting?

A—No matter what I put first, the stewards put it second.

WITNESS NO. 2—A POLICE CHIEF:

Q—You are the chief of police?

A—It says so in my appointment papers. I often have my doubts.

Q—Do you make an all-out effort to close up bookies? A—I work so hard at it that there are days when I can't get a bed down myself. May I read a statement?

Judge (interrupting)—Yes, but that document in your hand is a scratch list (Recess in disorder).

WITNESS NO. 3—AN HONEST COP:

Q—You are a cop and an honest one. Do you raid poolrooms? A—Only on the consent of my chaplain.

Q—What's your chaplain do to do with it? A—When I raid any poolrooms, I get sent so far into the woods there are no paved sidewalks.

Q—Do your supervisors tell you to lay off bookies? A—Never.

Q—Then how do you know they will not stand behind you? A—After I pinch a bookie I am soon so many miles from headquarters that I can't tell who is behind me except by radar.

Q—Have you read all those statements by American police chiefs, district attorneys, governors and probers that race track gambling must be curbed?

A—Often.

Q—What is your reaction? A—I know I can get just as many laughs from Berle or Hope.

Q—Did you ever get a case to court with ample evidence? A—Yes, and with no evidence missing.

Q—What happened? A—The judge found the bookie guilty and placed him on probation.

Q—For how long? A—For six races.

Q—Then what happened? A—He was freed after the third.

Q—Why? A—The probation officer and judge were 88 behind and wanted somebody whose tips were more reliable!

THE BIBLE SPEAKS International Bibles Devotional Reading: Malachi 4: 2-4. By Dr. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Help for Our Times Lesson for June 18, 1950

FOR TIMES that are dull, times without hope, Malachi is the prophet. When he lived the exile was over; but it was no golden age. In the dingy little city of Jerusalem, rich and beautiful no longer, lived only a comparative handful of rather poor people, dragging out a monotonous existence.

His prophecies do not have the bitter tang of Amos nor the melancholy of Hosea, the grandeur of Isaiah, the dramatic power of Jeremiah or the eerie visions of Ezekiel. But with inspired common-sense, he offers in the name of God a simple remedy with four ingredients. . .

Better Leaders

SPEAKING DIRECTLY to the leaders of the people, namely the priests, Malachi accuses them for not really taking stock in the thing they were doing. How we need that today! If the church today in any place is dead, you may be sure there are some dead leaders.

Dead from the neck up, that is. And not necessarily the preachers.

Many a good preacher breaks his heart for lack of support. How many men and women, in your church, can the minister count on to go to where they are needed, without making up a dozen reasons why they "can't" do it!

Why do ministers talk and pray as if for their religion were all-important, but act as if everything else came first? . . .

Law Observance

ANOTHER THING for which Malachi pleads is law observance. (E.g. 2:8; 3:5) They did not need new laws, for they had good ones. What they needed was to obey the laws they had. This again is what our times need. We have so many laws now that only an expert can keep up with them. No civilized nation could live, to be sure, under the unchanged statutes of a generation ago.

Nevertheless, if all the legislatures in America were to resolve to pass no more laws for five years, and if for five years the energy, and the money, and the attention ordinarily on getting up new laws were put in on educating the people in the laws now in existence, and in fostering law observance, and in preventing and punishing crimes, ours would be a better country.

The Unbroken Home

A GAIN, Malachi stands for the unbroken home. He knows that no country can be strong when its homes are weak. (2:10-17.) In the year 1948 there were about 420,000 divorces in the United States, and 1,800 marriages.

That is a divorce rate of about 23 per cent. In some states the percentage of divorce is even higher. Indeed, in one large midwestern city it was announced in the papers about two years ago that the marriages had "caught up with" the divorces. I.e., there were at last having more marriages than divorces! This was an extreme case. . .

Support The Church

FIRST AND LAST, Malachi asks for better support of the church. You need the church, of course; but then the church needs you. The only church which will help a neighborhood is one in which the neighborhood takes an active part, a church where neighbors together worship God and where they are inspired to plans and acts of service.

The main object of the church is not to shore up the church; still if you want a better country, one of the best ways to support it is to support the Christian church. For of all the institutions in the nation, the church is the only one devoted to the purpose of transforming human lives.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to acid sometimes slow down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years.
