How It Started . . .

Billingsgate, meaning coarse and abusive language, is derived from the Billingsgate fish market in London where such language has been the common mode of speech.

Most persons take it for granted that the U.S. senate is called the "upper house" because it is somehow considered a more august body than the "lower" house of representatives. Actually, when congress was first organized, the house of representatives met in a large room on the lower floor of a Philadelphia building and the senate used a smaller room on the upper floor. Hence, the terms "upper" and "lower" houses. If the representatives wanted to be snide, they could call the senate the "garret house."

MIRROR Of Your MIND Love Affects Your Tolerance

By Lawrence Gould

Does being in love make you more tolerant?

Answer: It is apt to make you both more tolerant — and less so. "Understand" the way the loved one behaves so long as his actions don't affect you, but if what he does reflects on you—or on your family — it is likely to be harder to excuse than the same sort of behavior in a stranger. The more you love anyone, the more you inevitably give him the power to hurt you, and the more surely you will become frightened and angry if he exercises that power in ways which you cannot control.

maturity on one or both sides. An employee who works in "an atmosphere of approval" may be disciplined occasionally without feeling resentment, but the more intelligence and sympathy the supervisor shows, the less occasion for this there is likely to be.

Do good supervisors have to discipline workers?

Answer: Rarely, maintains Roy Walls in an article in Personnel Journal. In fact, they should recognize having to do as "confession of failure," just as parents should the need to punish a child. In either case, the root of the trouble usually is emotional im-

Will a schizophrenic get well without treatment?

Answer: It is not uncommon for a mentally sick person to have "lucid intervals" in which for some unknown reason the conflicts that cause his illness have subsided for the moment, but where the change has involved no "insight" into the source of his difficulties, the improvement is apt to be temporary and uncertain. Although there's no certainty that even this will cure him permanently, the improvement is likely to have psychiatric treatment, and the earlier in his illness he is hospitalized, the better his chances of recovery.

KEEPING HEALTHY

The 'Stigma' of Mental Disease

By Dr. James W. Barton

DURING World War I, I was examining the various units just before they went overseas. The medical examiners of each unit presented the cases to the board along with their medical history sheets.

I regret to state that these medical officers—and also the members of the board—were concerned almost entirely about the condition of the recruit from his neck down. Where they failed was in not sizing up each recruit from the standpoint of his mental and emotional balance. Many of the recruits accepted as fit were unable to withstand the ordinary discipline and change of scene and work of a training camp.

The lesson learned from World War I was of great value to medical officers and medical boards of World War II. Every recruit was thoroughly tested—in most cases by trained psychiatrists — as to his mental and emotional balance, so that hundreds were rejected and returned to their occupations instead of becoming a liability to the country and a "failure" in their own eyes and in the eyes of others. The New York City committee on mental hygiene recently interviewed 314 men rejected and 309 men discharged for mental and emotional disabilities in World War II. They found that the great majority of these cases were made up of those who had a neurosis (thinking an ailment is present where no ailment exists) and those who had an "odd" personality.

An important point discovered was that many of the men who were shown that they needed help from the mental and emotional standpoint refused treatment because of the fear and scorn popularly associated with these disorders.

Psychiatrists were able to help some cases by assuring them that they were not crazy, "slap happy," "loco" or "swacky." Even after everything was explained to them and that, if necessary, care and treatment would be free, only 26 per cent accepted treatment.

DIAMOND CHATTER

"How would you like to sign up with me for a life game?" was the way a baseball fan proposed. "I'm agreeable," replied the girl. "Where's your diamond?"

"You were a very tidy boy when you were a kid, weren't you? You used to scrub your feet on the floor of the bath. Where did you put it?"

"Johnny: In the pocket of the man next to me."

"Why do you say that beautiful photograph of your wife was just a snapshot?"

"Well, it must have been. Her mouth was shut."

In the spring, many hill-sides get the wanderlust. Ceased by driving rains, billions of soil particles run off to muddy creeks—leave the farm forever!

Fortunately, you can fight this mass migration of topsoil, fertilizer, and organic matter by working your ground on the contour. Of course, contour farming may not in itself curb erosion completely. It works hand in glove with terracing, strip cropping, crop rotation, vegetative gully control, and seasonal cover crops, however, to "hog-tie" uneasy hill-sides.

You can adapt your land to contour farming with regular tractor equipment, even to such specialized soil-saving jobs as gully filling and terracing. Working together with your local agricultural experts you can hold your hill-sides and hoist your profits by farming on the contour.

Judgment Day Lesson for May 15, 1949

DIFFERENT Christian denominations sponsor this column, although it goes without saying that not all of the millions of Christians in those denominations would agree point for point with everything that is said here.

There is no chapter in the Bible that has been the subject of more arguments than this one, and no arguments have been more useless than these.

Leaving extreme views aside, let us try to discover some meanings which all 40 denominations would find in this chapter, some truths on which all reasonable Christians can agree.

A Certain Fact

JESUS view one thing is certain: God's judgment on this world and on all persons in it. Christian churches have different ideas about what happens after death.

Your true unbeliever is not the person who goes around saying there is no God. A more subtle and dangerous form of unbelief is in the person who takes the Christian creed upon his lips but lives as if he creed were a lie.

He repeats the Apostles' Creed: "From thence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead." If those words are sincerely spoken, he believes honestly that to please God above all others. But the unbeliever, whatever his words may say, shows that he does not believe by the fact that he tries to please, first of all, either himself or his family or his neighbors, and not God above all.

An Uncertain Time

IT IS ONLY children who think that if something doesn't happen now, it will never happen. Now and never are not the only times on God's clock. When will the judgment be? The disciples wanted to know, but Jesus did not tell them. He did not claim to know, himself, when it would be (Mark 13:32). What he did say was, Watch! There is a sense in which God's judgments are going on all the time. The end of your world will come in your own lifetimes, whoever you are, for there is not much difference whether the world folds up and leaves you or whether you fold up and leave the world.

Death is the end of the world for every one who dies. Further, whenever a person suffers by and because of his own wrong-doing, here in this life, and on this earth, God is judging him by the eternal moral laws which are the very warp and filling of the fabric of life.

There is also a sense in which God judges cities and nations. We have recently seen how terrible a judgment Germany drew down on its head. The nation that takes the sword shall perish by the sword. The nation that sets out to enslave others by force will come under the same catastrophe that cut down Assyria and Rome and Japan and Germany. But not all God's judgments are on this earth. "God will get a little less his accounts in October."

Camel Newspaper Campaign Features 30-Day Mildness Test And Big-Name Testimonials

In their present newspaper campaign for Camel cigarettes, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company features the 30-day Camel mildness test. A similar coast-to-coast test was recently made by hundreds of smokers under the supervision of noted throat specialists. In this test, hundreds of men and women smoked Camels, and only Camels, for 30 consecutive days. Each week the throats of these smokers were examined by noted throat specialists. A total of 2470 careful examinations. And these throat specialists reported not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking Camels. Each advertisement in this campaign features two outstanding personalities who are Camel smokers. One a famous "veteran" star in some particular sport or other activity who has been a Camel smoker for years, and the other a rising young star who has recently switched to Camels as the result of making their own 30-day Camel mildness test. Among the outstanding personalities used in this series are Johnny Vander Meer and Gene Barden, baseball pitchers, Willie Hoppe and Willie Mosconi, billiard players, Gene Sarazen and Lew Worsham, golf professionals, Gladys Swarthout and Virginia May Watters, opera and concert singers, Cole Porter, the composer, and Patricia Morison, singing actress and star of the new Cole Porter musical comedy hit, "Kiss Me Kate." This current Camel campaign is also featured on the Camel radio programs, which include the Screen Guild Players, the Bob Hawk Show, the Jimmy Durante Show, and the Vaughn Monroe Show. Dealers throughout the country who have cooperated in this campaign by placing their signs in their windows and their counters have reported new sales records for this favorite cigarette—Adv.
