Cast of Characters

Professor Armstrong, friend of Grayson	Mack Stubblefield
Carol Adams	Lavene Burnett
Miss Ann, Carol's aunt	Laella Vaughn

The story takes place in the living room of the old, deserted Grayson home. The time is between 9 p. m. and 3 a. m. the next morning, during which time there is a terrific rain storm.

At the request of his uncle, Bob Grayson has come to find the will which was left to him. Through strange coincidence another party shows up the same night hunting for the same will. Action moves very rapidly as the little Inca girl tells them stories of the stolen jewels which are hidden here.

The remainder of the play is filled with action, tenseness, and mystery that is created by ghostly white figures appearing and disappearing. The story reaches a climax when the will is found and later the stolen jewels. Much comedy is furnished by the colored servants, Henry Clay and Petunia.

It is action packed with mystery from curtain to curtain. Don't miss it! Admission, grammar school 20c, high school 35c, adults 50c.

The Race Question

Lesson for March 27, 1949.

JESUS DID NOT know there was a race question. That is to say, there was no question for him, though he well knew that his neighbors found the race problem a hot one. All the terms of any race problem, even of race riots, were there in Palestine as in all of our world today.

First there was the feeling of racial superiority. For, if any, peoples think of Dr. Foreman themselves as an inferior race. Nobody would mind being kicked around if he thought he deserved nothing better. The Jews, to which race Jesus belonged, were no exception to the rule. They felt themselves the superior of any race on earth.

Two Sides of the Question IN JESUS' time the Jew of Palestine was in the middle. The Romans, having conquered the land, were top-dog in Palestine. With the Romans, the Jews saw the under-side of the race question. But there were other races, much less pure than the Jews, races called "Canaanite" for want of a better name. These people were kicked around by the Jews, just as the Jews in turn were kicked around by the Romans. Looking at the Canaanites, the Jews saw the race question from the top side.

In Palestine the wounds of race quarrels were made worse by the vinegar of religious differences. In those days it was taken for granted: Different race, different religion.

What Jesus Did About It THE TWO STORIES in our lesson (see the Scripture references) show the astonishingly simple way in which Jesus walked straight through those walls as if they did not exist. He passed no resolutions, denounced nobody; he simply treated all races alike. He helped the Roman army officer and the Canaanite woman precisely as if they had been Jews. (By the way, his remarks to that woman should not be misunderstood as rude. She did not take them that way.)

He was the last person to fancy that all human beings are alike. But he was the first to give all an equal chance. He took people as human beings, not as "Romans" or "Canaanites."

He neither cringed to the Romans nor bullied the Canaanites. He looked at all men and women with level eyes, seeing not their skins nor their clothes, but their hearts.

What We Can Do

OUR NORTH AMERICA is also cross-crossed by walls of prejudice—racial, political and religious. In Canada (for example) there is the friction between Canadians of French and those of English or Scotch descent; in the United States (not by any means confined to the South) between Negroes and white people; and between the "old stock" and recent immigrants; and so on. Those walls look pretty solid; but a Christian will find that if he follows Jesus' example he can walk right through them. Last winter a national interdenominational organization challenged its 28 million members and through them the Christian world, with one of the most sweeping declarations of human rights ever drafted by an American church body.

Hitting at every type of discrimination—racial, political, social, economic, religious—the group has challenged the Church to work for the creation of a non-segregated society "as proof of their sincerity."

Yet the breakdown of human prejudices, hatreds and contempt, with the injustices growing out of these, does not come at one stroke by resolution. It comes only by degrees, as Christ-inspired individuals make their own bright doorways.

ATTENTION
Cotton Farmers

There will be no allotment for the 1949 cotton crop, but probably will be one on the 1950 crop, according to best information from observers in Washington.

In order to stay in cotton production after 1949 it is essential that you plant adequate acreage in 1949!

If the allotment plan now being promoted is adopted and applied in 1950 it will greatly reduce acreage below the 1948 level. Unless Texas' acreage is reasonably large in 1949 cotton in Texas may be drastically reduced in 1950. This could mean a great loss in income for Texas farmers and everyone who has anything to do with cotton.

Your BEST Cash Crop!

Cotton has always been the farmers safest and best bet for a cash crop if he farms in a cotton country. Be sure to plant enough cotton this year to establish a good cotton allotment.

White Coal
White coal is the figurative name for falling water that is capable of being used for power purposes. The term originated in France; it is the literal translation of houille blanche and was probably suggested because much of the falling water in France originated in snow-covered mountains, or because falling water when filled with air bubbles appears white when compared with the blackness of coal.

Peanut Seed

We are offering for sale again this season the uniformly graded peanut seed which proved so successful last season. We have selected the best peanuts we purchased in Texas and Oklahoma and stored them separately for planting seed. These are free from damage and have a high sound Mature Kernel content. They will be carefully shelled, graded and hand picked. Your choice of Jirasan, Ceresan or Spergon treatment. You are invited to see our stock of peanuts before they are shelled. The Oklahoma peanuts made a higher yield per acre than Texas peanuts and averaged a higher SMK content. You may prefer them for seed.

We are now booking seed peanuts at 20 cents per pound. A small deposit will protect you from any increase in price. You may call at our office or Jay Grocery and Market.
