'38 Study Club Begins Year With Jubilee Luncheon

At high noon on September 11, in the home of Mrs. B. B. Poe, the '38 Study Club observed the opening of our tenth year's work with a luncheon.

The flower-centered table was laid in glowing silver and china on white linen. The place cards were unique. Fruit cocktail was followed by a course of roast pork, vegetable salad, asparagus tips, baked Irish potatoes in gravy, English peas, butter, hot rolls and pickles. A delicious dessert of fancy ice cream followed.

After the luncheon a business meeting was opened with Mrs. Robertson at the piano playing "Now Is the Hour." Mrs. Hines, year book chairman, had charge of the program.

A "Sunshine and Greetings" committee was appointed by the president, Mrs. C. G. Stubblefield. Mrs. T. E. Robertson will head this new committee. A number of social activities are up for the coming year, the first of which is a "Games Tournament", the time and place to be announced at an early date.

Two new books, "Unconquered" and "Outsiders" have been added to the club library.

Work Progressing On Rock Quarry East Of Town

Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad engineers have completed surveys for siding and spur tracks to be constructed at the rock quarry site on the C. S. Eldridge farm just east of town, where a Concrete Materials Company is preparing to crush rock for use in construction work, which, it is said will include dams to be built in Texas.

Work has been started on laying the tract and machinery will soon start arriving for the rock quarry. A considerable sum of money will be spent and the large payroll will be a great benefit to Carbon and community.

One mile of siding and two miles of spur tracks are to be constructed. The company has almost completed a five room frame building on the site to be used as an office building.

We have been informed that the quarrying of rock at the new site is due to start not later than December 1. More complete details will be given as the work progresses on this project.

THIS IS THE PLACE
The place you call home.
The place you're proud of.
The place to boast about wherever you go!

THE BABE GOES HOME

Whatever means as much as an "all-hot" is getting quite a play today in that Valhalla to which baseball folks go. The angels, we like to think, have set aside their wings and are in shirt sleeves. The bars have been let down somewhat. St. Peter is not so strict on the gate; those not quite eligible are permitted knotholes. Arguments are not frowned on and a little ribbing goes. For the first time, perhaps, it is all right up there to throw a pop bottle.

Diadems are a little tilted. The sun is shining at its brightest, est, there is the snap of flags in the breeze, the grass was never greener. George Herman Ruth has come home.

It is curious how many potentates and great ones of the earth are in the bleachers and how many folks who were not great shakes when on earth have the box seats. It's very special. The scores have been kept with great care. Those who did it the hard way, who triumphed over handicaps, who came through against odds are being smiled on. There is an emphasis on success for lost sheep and prodigal sons.

The harps are put aside for brassier instruments and for tin horns and super-noise makers. Gabriel himself leads a cheer and the Bambino enters. He is dazed and needs a few minutes to get things straight, to realize that the doctors are gone, the men with the stethoscopes and the tubes and the instruments, the nurses and the charts, the agonies and the darkness.

He rubs his eyes. "It's all right," a voice of infinite tenderness tells him. "What's all this? Where am I?" asks the Bambino, young and vital. "It would take too long to explain," says the voice, "and you might not find it easy to understand. We're not too sure whether this is a dream or whether we are jamming up values, standards and the rules a little."

"But I don't rate all this," stammers the Babe. "I was a pretty tough one in my time. The reformatory type, remember?"
"And a bad actor in plenty of spots. That was that time when..."
"Shut up and come in, says a fellow with a great shock of hair. "And remember you never got anywhere talking back to me."
"Judge Landis!" exclaims the Babe.
"Get into action," says the Judge. "He's been lolly up here, but, well, a little too quiet without you."

"Look, is this a dream? Did the doc give me too many dope pills last night?" pleads the Babe.
"Take it from us. This is all the real thing," comes from a trio of familiar voices.
"Colonel Huston!... Jake!... Miller Huggins!" cries the Bambino.

"Welcome!" says Colonel Ruppert. "And no salary talks!"
The Babe looks himself over. He sees that he is a younger again. He observes that he is in the No. 3 uniform. He feels the old surge of power. But he still stands a little befuddled.
"Have a bat, pal!"
"Lou!... Lou!... Lou Gehrig!"
"Yeah. I've been expecting you, Babe."

Now the Babe hears such cheers as he never heard before, mighty cheers from the throats of old timers, departed buddies, the great host of kids who were called too soon, Brothers Matthias and Gilbert—all the great company of those who love a game battler, a big hearted guy, a fellow whose chief mistakes came from being too human.

He's at the plate once more—and on such a ball field!
The Bambino has come home!

Chet Bowles, former head of OPA, has been named as the Democratic candidate for governor of Connecticut. He is all for the return of rationing and it is obvious that if he wins over the GOP candidate it will be on points.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Combine maple sirup and marshmallow cream, using half a cup of the sirup to one-quarter cup of the cream, for an ice-cream topping.

When rags are too worn for household use, wash and store in a paper bag in the garage for the men to wipe their hands on when tinkering with the car.

Spinach is best cooked when you use just a little water. The water that clings to the leaves after washing is all you need. And don't overcook spinach. Five to ten minutes should be enough. A pound of greens will serve about three persons.

Leave piano keys exposed to the light during the day, but away from the windows. Darkness hastens the natural yellowing of real ivory.

Sprinkle a cream pie with a mixture of orange rind and sugar; this combination is also delicious when used as a topping for plain vanilla cookies.

DOUBLE FILTERED FOR LITTLE MORLINE FOR LITTLE PURITY

NO Harsh Laxatives are NOT necessary for most people

The juice of a lemon in a glass of water, when taken first thing on arising, is all that most people need to insure prompt, normal elimination. No more harsh laxatives that irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition! Lemon in water is good for you! Generations of Americans have taken lemons for health—and generations of doctors have recommended them. They are rich in vitamin C, supply valuable amounts of B and P. They alkalize, aid digestion.

Not too sharp or sour, lemon in water has a refreshing tang—clears the mouth, wakes you up. It's not a purgative—simply helps your system regulate itself. Try it 10 days. USE CALIFORNIA SUNRISE LEMONS

Pressure Saucepan Saves Time and Fuel

IN a comparatively short time the pressure saucepan has won an assured place in farm kitchens, according to Laura Dalley, in an article in Capper's Farmer, one of the best known farm magazines.

It saves time and fuel. Many different foods may be prepared in a pressure saucepan. It is particularly good for those which need long cooking. "Pressure cooking," Miss

Dalley says, "preserves food value, color and flavor."

A few rules of operation are important:

1.—Never fill the pan more than two-thirds full.

2.—Be sure that steam flows steadily from vent before you close it.

3.—Wait until weight or pressure control figures or hisses or cooking indicator is at right position to your directions before you start counting time. Then reduce the heat and let cook for specified time.

4.—Reduce the pressure as each recipe indicates.

5.—After pressure is reduced, be certain to remove the weight, or lift the pressure control, before removing cover.

Some farm women are getting a limited amount of canning in their pressure saucepans. Miss Dalley points out.

Now that students are starting another school term, it is vi-

All lamps used by children for home study should have at least to make their homework easier and to prevent undue eyestrain.

Lamp shades, too, are important - they should be wide enough to spread the light evenly and keep glaring, unshaded light

Wheat Yield Boosted Through Fertilization Gains in Indiana Tests Exceed Seven Bushels

Fertilizing wheat paid dividends in crop increases averaging seven to nine and one-half bushels per acre, Purdue university research men revealed in announcing results of 1947 studies conducted in 15 Indiana counties.

Wheat yields increased seven bushels per acre when fertilizer applications averaged from 150 to 200 pounds per acre. The wheat plant food treatment was boosted to 300 to 400 pounds per acre, average production gain of nine and one-half bushels were obtained.

Demonstrations with wheat started on various soil types last fall showed somewhat similar results, according to the Purdue research men. When 165 pounds of O-12-12 was applied on six southern Indiana upland soils, increases of five bushels per acre resulted. When the application was doubled, yield increases averaged seven bushels per acre. "Applications of 300 to 350 pounds of 3-12-12 are being recommended for wheat on practically all upland silt or clay loam soils and for sandy loams," says a statement by the Purdue agronomy department. "If the 3-12-12 cannot be obtained, then 2-12-6 is a good substitute for the wheat crop itself. The additional potash in the 3-12-12, however, is especially important for the clover and corn crops following the small grain."

Machinery Is Revamping Farming in Cotton Belt

Nearly a million tractors today are in action on farms in the 13 cotton-producing states, saving time and labor in nearly every phase of cotton production. The invasion of machinery into the South's white cotton fields is eliminating the back-breaking task of producing the cotton crop.

Man's mechanical helpers achieve in a few hours what formerly took days of costly human labor. For example, the flame cultivator, attached to a tractor, removes grass and weeds from the field at one-tenth the former cost.

An experiment in the coastal plains area of North Carolina showed that while 118 man hours are required to produce an acre of cotton by the old man-mule methods, use of two-row tractor equipment, mechanical choppers, flame cultivators and machine pickers cuts the man-hour requirements to 19 1/2 per acre.

Machines capable of harvesting a bale of cotton in slightly more than an hour are now a reality instead of a remote possibility. While the average hand-picker gathers about 15 pounds of seed cotton an hour, a single mechanical picker in the same field harvests about 1,500 pounds in 2 hours, 20 minutes. Thus, the mechanica harvesters accomplish the work of 40 to 50 human pickers.

Internal Parasites Loot Farmers of Huge Toll

Few criminals ever dream of committing a 125 million dollar robbery. But that's the amount in internal parasites steal from the U. S. livestock industry every year. Because the parasites are hidden, the farmer never will see the thieves at work. However, they keep right on causing losses day and night.

Parasites cause diseased animals and poultry to eat more grain and other feeds than healthy stock eat. They stunt the growth of young animals and sometimes kill them. Affected animals generally bring lower prices when shipped to market.

Internal parasites can be controlled. Phenothiazine, carbon tetrachloride, hexachlorethane, sodium fluoride and carbon disulfide are used to fight certain types of parasites. The advice of a local veterinarian should be secured to determine the proper method of treatment.

You Build It Kitchen Helper for the Home

THIS practical kitchen helper is really very easy to build from the full size pattern. Once you've used it chances are that you'll make another to go alongside your stove or sink. It not only provides many square inches of additional table top working space, but it also does double duty as a large tray holder. Salad bowls and mixers can also be stored on its wide shelves.

The materials which the pattern specifies are obtainable at any lumber yard. Trace pattern on lumber specified, saw and assemble. Full size pattern shows exactly where to nail or screw each piece and size of nails and screws to use. You'll have fun building this piece and save many steps using it.
