Funeral Services Held Sunday For Mrs. Butler

Funeral services for Mrs. A. L. (Pat) Butler, who passed away at the home of her son, Ike Butler of Carbon, on June 27, were held at the Church of Christ in Carbon Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. with W. E. Moore of Eastland officiating. Interment was in the Alameda cemetery with Hamner Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Cora Lorena Schmick was born in Randolph County, Arkansas on March 25, 1885. She was brought to Eastland County by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ike P. Schmick, at the age of three months, thus being a pioneer of this county for 70 years.

She was married to A. L. (Pat) Butler on August 13, 1885, at Alameda, Texas, who preceded her in death five months ago on Jan. 28, 1947. To this union five children were born, two of whom survive, Ike Butler of Carbon and Mrs. Elma Gregg of Oil Center, New Mexico. A son, Floyd, passed away April 19, 1946, also a daughter, Cora Moseley, January 20, 1912, and a son, Charles, at the age of eight months.

She obeyed the gospel at the age of 14 and lived a true and faithful Christian life for 65 years. A noble and pleasant character, she was loved by all who knew her.

She is also survived by one brother, Tom F. Schmick of Houston, one sister, Mrs. Ethel Ramsey of Gorman, fourteen grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Pallbearers were six grandsons and flower girls were five granddaughters and one great granddaughter.

Mrs. Lena Stubblefield returned Saturday from a six weeks visit in Goldthwaite, Temple, Houston, La Marque, Texas City and Galveston.

Homemaking Girls Exhibit Work; Have Picnic

The homemaking girls of Carbon High School, under the capable leadership of Miss Mildred Woody, brought a very successful year to a close by exhibiting their work in a meeting at the Home Economics Cottage Monday morning from 9:00 to 10:30 o'clock. Immediately after the meeting the group went to Lake Cisco for a picnic and outing.

Miss Woody has served in this capacity of the school for the past two years, but has resigned her position and will be at home with her parents in Abilene. During her two years in Carbon she and the girls have added much to the attractiveness and comfort of the Home Economics Cottage by painting the cabinet, desks, chairs, porch and steps, starting pot plants, and also raised $47.12 on the venetian blinds which were installed at a cost of $75.00.

Miss Woody is to be commended on her splendid work while in Carbon.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to all our kind and thoughtful friends for your many deeds of kindness and such plentiful food given us in the illness and death of our dear mother. May God bless and keep you in his care and protection as our sincere prayer.

SCENIC WONDERLAND . . . Typical of the rugged and awe-inspiring beauty of the four national parks in the Rockies is this scene in Rocky Mountain National park in Colorado.

THE MAJESTIC ROCKIES

Chain of Parks Incorporates Spectacular Mountain Scenery

Towering peaks, deep, forest-clad canyons and lake-studded gorges combine to provide a spectacular and awe-inspiring wonderland in the Rocky mountains. Here, where the majesty of the mountains reaches its supreme heights, congress has established a chain of national parks, beginning with Yellowstone in 1872. These parks exemplify the many forms and miles northwest of Denver, is more than a mile and a half above sea level before he enters it. The park's lowest elevation is around 8,000 feet; its highest, the summit of Long's peak, is 14,255. Within the park all kinds of small peaks of more than 10,000 feet elevation, and scores of lakes, small and large. Here again lakes and peaks have been carved by the slow and inexorable movement of glacial ice.

Rocky Mountain is a great hiker's and mountain climber's park, as are Grand Teton and Glacier, but it also offers the most beautiful of the greatest thrills to be found in any national park. This is the Trail Ridge road, of which more than four miles are above 12,000 feet elevation and 11 miles are above the 11,000-foot timber line. From few places in the world is there offered such a far-flung panorama of spectacular mountain scenery.

Although the National Park service encourages mountain climbing in these and other parks of the system, its ranger force is called on year after year to go to the rescue of climbers who venture among the peaks alone or under unskilled guidance; and it is seldom that a season passes without one or more fatal accidents to those who disregard the safety rules which the service enjoins on all climbers. The fundamental piece of advice to the venturesome is: "If you want to climb, consult a ranger. Get his advice, and once you have it, abide by it. It may mean the difference between life and death."

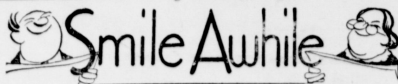

IN GLACIER National park, there is almost every type of public accommodation. Concession operations in Rocky Mountain under contract with the government are limited, but at Estes park, on the east side, and Grand lake, on the west side, there are numerous hotels and camps just outside of the national park. At Grand Teton, there are no hotel, lodge or camp concessions, but there are varied accommodations in the town of Jackson and at many places in Jackson Hole.

GRAND TETON, only a few miles south of Yellowstone, and flanked on the north and east by Jackson Hole National monument, is extraordinary both because of its jagged, rugged grandeur of its mountains and because of the fact that these rise abruptly from what geologists call the fault-blow trough of Jackson Hole. In other words, on their eastern side they lie like foot-hills.

The tip of Grand Teton, with an elevation of 13,765 feet, is more than 7,000 feet above Jackson Hole and the lovely series of lakes—Jenny, String, Leigh, Jackson and others—as that nestle against the base of the range. These mountains, too, owe much of their stature to glaciers, of which a few remain in the higher basins.

Packed within the 150-square mile area of alpine park are 22 peaks of more than 10,000-foot elevation as well as numerous lakes, glaciers, snowfields and extensive forests. No highway crosses the range except at Teton Pass, where the Teton range joins the Snake river range. Only foot and bridle trails penetrate the backcountry. Much of the area, particularly the upper Teton country, is virgin mountain-forest.

Benefits to Our Readers
THE PUBLIC nature of advertising benefits everyone it touches. It benefits the public by describing exactly the products that are offered. It benefits employees, because the advertiser must be more fair and just than the employer who has no obligation to the public. These benefits of advertising are quite apart from the obvious benefits which advertising confers—the lower prices, the higher quality, the better service that go with advertised goods and firms.

Word to the Wise

Once when the popular wit and after-dinner speaker, Chauncey M. Depew, was president of the New York Central railroad he began to receive numerous and vociferous complaints concerning the sadly deteriorated quality of the station restaurant at Utica.

"Dear Mr. President: You are the finest after-dinner speaker in the world. I would give a great deal to hear the speech you would make after you had dined in the restaurant in your Utica station." Depew had the station fixed up pronto!

Moral Integrity in Our Everyday Lives

LESSON TEXT FOR JULY 6—Job 1:1; 27:14; 31:1-29. MEMORY SELECTION—My righteousness I hold fast, and will not let it go; my heart shall not reproach me so long as I live.—Job 27:6.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Lesson subjects and selected material copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D., of The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

WE LEARN from Job and his experiences that it is possible so to live by the grace of God, that he can be pleased with our lives. That is an encouraging fact. Job was just a man, but he was a man who was

I. Upright and Good (1:1). HE WAS a man with a large family, with great flocks and herds, and so a man of business, and the husband and father in a growing and active household. But in it all he was upright, and a good, God-fearing man.

Many make excuses for their failure to serve the Lord. They say that their business duties and relationships make it just about impossible. Others say that by situations and responsibilities keep them from service and worship of the Lord.

The experience of Job explodes all such excuses and squarely faces us with the fact that it is possible to live for God in the midst of the very circumstances of modern life.

II. Tried and True (27:1-5). AFTER Job had lost his property, his children and even his health, three of his friends came to comfort him. But they only added to his sorrow by casting him of being sinful, and suffering only what he deserved.

Job in these verses is replying to them. We note that in his ignorance of God's purposes, he accused God of being cruel to him (27:2; 30:21). This matter was later to be straightened out with the Lord. But even now when he did not understand God's dealings, and stood there sick and destitute, he maintained his integrity. He would not turn from the Lord, nor would he be led off into wickedness.

It is possible for a man to be beaten and bruised and bewildered, and still true to the Lord. Let's never forget that!

III. Kind and Fair (31:19-23). JOB had been a rich man, but J did not let his own prosperity dim his eye so that he could not see the need of his poor neighbor. He was not among those who, because they are well fed, can see no point in all the fuss about the hungry people round about.

There is something very fine and worthy of imitation here. It is so easy to take what we have as a special favor from the Lord, to be retained and used only when we want to recognize it as a matter of stewardship for the Lord.

A vital part of real moral integrity is the right use of possessions. Many a man or woman who has passed all his or her energies by fighting colors comes to grief at this point.

IV. Spiritual and Faithful (31:24-28). THERE were plenty of temptations in Job's day, as there are now, to depart from the worship of the true God to other modes of devotion.

The worship of the sun was common, and Jeremiah 44:17 shows that it continued for generations. In fact, what shall we think of the world-wide devotion to astrology in our day.

Then there was the temptation to worship gold. How up-to-date that was, for we not have millions who worship "the almighty dollar," yes, even if they do not have it. To all such temptations Job said a resolute "No." He would not even permit his innermost heart to be enticed secretly (v. 27). He stood true for the God he loved and served.

Who our greatest need in the world today is for men and women who, by the grace and blessing of God, will live good and upright lives, true to the Lord, and sacrificial, in real loving-kindness to men. God give us men, yes, that we need of men!

plaintiff alleges that defendant without cause abandoned her on the 10th day of March, 1944, since which time she has not

WITH THESE SCIENTIFIC MILEAGE FEATURES

1. WIDE, FLAT TREAD. Better load distribution... Improved non-skid protection... Longer wear.
2. VENTILATING WINDOWS. Reduce heat, build-up—make cooler, longer-running tires.
3. LONG-LIFE BODY. Better blow-out protection and more resists.
4. 8" SAFETY-BOMBER GRUB PLIES. Individual cords are "webbed" together—yet completely "insulated" one from the other.
5. SHOCK PADS. Cushion body—reduce impact injuries.
