Charles Caraway and the honor of showing the Grand Champion Lamb of the show and other honors in the Sheep and Lamb division.

Annual County Livestock Show Is Described As Big Success

Approximately 1,000 persons attended the annual Eastland County Livestock Show held in Eastland Saturday despite light rain, it was reported here. County FFA and 4-H club members competed for some $1,200 in prize money in the show, sponsored by the Eastland County Livestock Raisers Association.

Clinton Ray Humphreys of the Eastland FFA showed the grand champion calf, a 1,050 pound drylot Hereford bred by Sim Diller of Moran. The grand champion fat lamb was shown by Jack Shults of the Rising Star FFA. His lamb was a Southdown-cross bred by J. T. Robinson of Mullin. He also was the owner of the grand and reserve champion fine wool breeding ewes, both Rambouillet bred by H. C. Wilkinson of Ranger. Robert Potter of the Cisco FFA exhibited the reserve champion calf and the grand champion drought, grass production will likely be critical both in amount and quality in the next few months. At present annual winter grasses are making excellent growth and furnishing much grazing due to a favorable winter season. Within a short time the life cycle of these winter grasses will be completed, and cattle will have to depend on perennial summer growing grasses for their grazing.

Many stockmen are all ready making plans to remove their cattle from ...

... to recover from the drought. Many pastures which have been severely abused ... have a large portion of our present succulent growth of winter grass left on the land as litter. A heavy litter will help keep a large share of the good rains we hope to receive in April and May.

J. D. Herrell recently completed about a mile of terraces and a large diversion terrace on his farm north of Olden.

J. G. Harlow who lives in Dallas built about a mile and a quarter of terraces on his farm east of Cisco.

Roy Adams has completed three miles of terraces, two diversion terraces, and a nice pond on his farm near Dothan.

R. M. Sneed finished building an exceptionally nice pond last week on his farm in the Grapevine community. This pond will cover about 4 surface acres, is 27 feet deep and is estimated to hold 20-25 acre feet of water.

in the fat barrow show. His calf was a drylot Hereford bred by Bill Mitchell of Cisco. Winning over 89 barrows, his barrow was a Berkshire from the Shady Brook Farm of Clifton. Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Potter of Cisco and feeds under the supervision of Tommy Toland, Cisco agriculture teacher.

A Cisco 4-H club member, Mark Kurklin, won the reserve fat lamb title with a Southdown bred by his father, Walter Kurklin.

In the breeding beef cattle show two Cisco youngsters showed the grand champions. Louise Woods showed the grand champion bull, an Angus, and the female was a Hereford showed by Bob Leveridge.

Judges for the show were Dr. R. M. Anderson, chief animal nutritionist of a Fort Worth feed manufacturing firm, swine; Jack Hancock of Tuscola, field representative of the Coleman Production Credit Association in Abilene, beef cattle; Joe Bob Shelton, Brownwood dairyman, dairy; and Jimmy Kehoe, lamb buyer for Armour and Company, Fort Worth, lambs.
