Orchard Field Day To Be Held Jan. 25 Near Carbon

The orchard field day which was scheduled for Dec 14 and was cancelled because of bad weather has been rescheduled at the A. P. Broiles orchard near Carbon on Friday of this week, Jan. 25. It was announced by County Agent J. M. Cooper.

The affair will begin at 10 a. m. and continue until 3 or 4 p. m. with time out for a picnic lunch. Sites and soils for orchards, fruit varieties, setting out of trees, fruit in the diet, pruning, spraying, treating for borers and other similar topics will be discussed, some by experts from out of the county, Cooper said.

Broiles lives on the old Braddie Pee place, about two miles south west of Carbon.

Cooper said that if the weather is too bad to have the program out of doors, it will be held inside in the local high school auditorium.

Truett Lane Black In "Who's Who"

Truett Lane Black, son of Rev. and Mrs. Jim Black of First Baptist Church Grandbury, Texas, has been named in the latest edition of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." He is a Junior in Howard Payne College in Brownsville. Truett has been honored by the State S. U. in the song, "All For Christ," for which he composed the music, has been chosen as the theme for the current year and also as the official song for the year's work. Truett is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Lane of Carbon and nephew of Mr. Roy Lane, District Clerk of Eastland.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hale, formerly of Agua Dulce, have accepted positions in the Cisco schools and at present have rooms with Mrs. Emmett Gilbert.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Martin are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Martin. Dean was recently discharged from the Army after spending about two years in foreign service.

Mr. and Mrs. Newgood returned to their home in Colton, Calif. Tuesday after a visit with relatives here.

Mrs. McGaha of German visited Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McGaha and other relatives here this week.

Outlook Is Fair For Farmers During 1946

College Station.—Farmers and ranchmen now planning their 1946 operations can expect farm prices to be moderately lower, but production costs should remain about the same for the year just begun.

Farm prices of fruits, vegetables and eggs are expected to drop more than prices of other farm products.

Farmers can rely on relatively high prices for about two thirds of the things they produce since prices for these are supported by law at 90 per cent of parity. There are support prices on most "basic commodities" such as cotton, corn, wheat, tobacco, and rice, but products not covered include beef cattle, sheep, fresh vegetables and fruit.

On the bright side, farmers can expect more labor in the months ahead. W. E. Morgan of Texas A. & M. College says the total labor force in the country on the first anniversary of VJ Day will be about six million above what it was in August, 1945. This should bring about the only drop in farm production costs—the cost of labor. Production efficiency of farm workers greatly increased during the war and for a few years before, but for 1946 it is more likely to decline rather than rise, he believes.

Celebrates Birthday

Mrs. H. A. Phillips celebrated her eighty-sixth birthday on Thursday, January 17. Friends and relatives were invited in for cake and coffee. Red roses and lace fern were used for house decorations. Many nice gifts were received.

Mrs. H. M. Uary, of Dallas visited friends here last week end.

Ranger Selected Scene of Coming Livestock Show

The annual Eastland County Livestock Show will be held in Ranger on Saturday, March 30, it was announced this week by C. M. McGaha, Eastland, president of the Eastland County Livestock Association. The announcement by McGaha followed a meeting in Ranger of the directors of the association together with others interested in the show and in livestock.

Chief Morphy of Ranger was named general superintendent of show.

The annual show was held at Cisco in February last year. The plan is to rotate the show in Cisco, Ranger and Eastland, it was said.

Miss Wood and J. B. Etheredge Are Wed

On Friday evening, January 19, at 7 o'clock Miss Inez Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Flo Wood of Carbon, was united in marriage to J. B. Etheredge, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Etheredge of Cisco, with Rev. Lee Black performing the ceremony in home here.

The bride wore a blue with black accessories. Those present were Arthur, Frankie, and Willie Etheredge, Ruby Rice, Melvin, Wanda Lea Fields, Clara, Ruby Etheredge, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anderson.

Bring your discarded winter clothing and shoes to the Baptist Church to go to the drive of warm clothing to be sent to European countries for refugees who have been bombed out of their homes. Bring them to the church any time of the day and if no one is there, leave them on the back seat and they will go to the proper authorities. The drive ends January 30.

Try Making Cough Syrup at Home. Quick Relief

Saves Big Dollars. No Cooking. No matter what you usually do for coughs due to colds, you'll be more than surprised when you make up this simple home remedy. It tastes fine. It's a trial. You'll wonder why you never used it before. It certainly does the work in a hurry.

Make a syrup by straining 2 cups of granulated sugar through a fine cloth into a quart of water. Add a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking is needed—it's no trouble at all. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, if desired.

Get from your druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill up with the sugar syrup. This makes a full pint—a family supply—and gives you about four times as much for your money. It tastes fine, and is good for children, too.

And for quick action, you never see its superior. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, eases the soreness, makes breathing easier, and lets you sleep.

Pinex is a special compound of refined eucalyptus, concentrated form, a famous reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.—Adv.

False Teeth Wearers what bothers you most?

Newest Fabric Beats Them All

Chinese Woman Chemist Has Found Way to Get Fine Fiber From Ramie.

WASHINGTON—A Chinese woman has leveled a test tube at the textile industry around the world. Producers of cotton, silk, wool, rayon, and nylon may well sit up and take notice because Dr. Ruth Feng of Chungking has figured out a way to get fine, usable fiber from ramie, according to the Chicago Tribune.

If you are interested in a smooth, silky shirt-or-bed-sheet that is six times stronger than silk and eight times stronger than cotton, you are entitled to get moderately excited about ramie, too.

It is possibly the strongest fiber known. It grows in giant grass blades from three to nine feet long, and comes up wild on every continent. In this country it grows on Florida swamp land. It thrives on cultivation, yields two to four crops a year, and grows from the same set of roots for a decade.

There are Egyptian mummies shrouded in ramie cloth which is still intact after 4,000 years.

But that cloth is coarse, because until Dr. Feng came along no one had found an easy way to separate ramie fibers thoroughly without mangling them. Consequently ramie has been used for twines, rope, and paper, but anyway it made a fine cord for tires. It repels water and resists mildew. It has been used for gas masks, typewriter ribbons, parachutes, and "grass linen" cloth which you may have seen in department stores.

This fiber had to be processed by hand, which made it expensive even in a country like China.

Educated in U. S.

Dr. Ruth Feng was the first woman to graduate from Ohio State university with a degree in chemical engineering. She went to Germany in 1933 to study rayon production. After four years she went back to China, intent on finding a native fiber that could feed a Chinese textile industry. She tried kaoling (maize) stalks, rice straw, and sugar cane. She tried ramie grass, and by the time of the war with Japan she had developed a method of separating ramie fibers.

Somebody built her a factory in Chungking, because China needed cloth. The Japanese bombed it out of existence, but she tried again, and today there are three factories producing ramie fiber and cloth in Chungking.

China can use that fiber. The country grows plenty of short-fiber cotton but has trouble getting the more desirable long-fiber kind to thrive.

Answer to Problem.

China's textile industry isn't large, and she has no factories to provide wool pulp for rayon. Ramie may be the answer to China's textile problem—450 million buyers of cloth who would sway the textile markets of the world by threatening to lengthen their shirt tails a single inch.

Dr. Feng's ramie process could be momentous for China if it can be used in small factories scattered throughout the textile areas. Because China has few railroads and poor highways, her economy will be dispersed for a long time to come. It can affect world textiles because the new fine ramie is not only strong and soft, but mixes well with other fibers like wool and cotton with distinctive results. Cotton takes on life and sheen. Wool becomes softer and smoother.

Dr. Feng doesn't think ramie is going to revolutionize the industry overnight.

"There's still much to learn," the Chinese news service quotes her as saying.

"But I believe it will rank as one of the three important raw materials of the textile industry. With the return of peace, the possibilities of this new raw material will have a chance to be tried out on an adequate scale."

Okinawa Dubbed Isle of Despair by Stranded Men

OKINAWA.—This typhoon-battered island where some of the bitterest fighting of the Pacific war raged has become the bottleneck for U. S. servicemen frantic to return home.

Already it has been labeled by some as "the island of despair."

As the war ended, Okinawa had become a huge staging base preparatory to invasion of Japan. The collapse of the Japanese left the island heavily populated with troops.

Then, on October 9 and 10, a fierce typhoon swept from the sea, flattening Quonset Point, smashing shipping, ripping grounded airplanes. An already serious transportation problem trebled overnight.

Budapest Forlorn Heap of Wreckage

Footpads and Gunmen Take Over City at Night.

BUDAPEST—Budapest by night is a city of shattered windows and locked doors, the streets largely given over to footpads and gunmen who hold life cheaper than a billfold.

This queen city of the Danube is a sprawling pile of war wreckage by daylight. Its devastation today, nine months after the city's liberation, is probably worse than that of any other capital in Europe.

But when night falls it becomes a sort of brawling no-man's land. The streets teem with deserters, stragglers from the renegade Russian army.

Shooting is a nightly and casual affair, despite the best efforts of Russian troops and Hungarian police to maintain order.

The five bridges of Budapest, once among the most beautiful on the continent, are gone, and only a Russian-built pontoon bridge links the two halves of the city.

Reconstruction is beginning in Pest, where the fighting was less severe. But the work is hampered by a shortage of building materials.

The Hungarians seem to fight of little but food, prices and the Russians. Inflation is riding high.

For Americans attached to missions in Budapest life is a whirl of paper profits. They can exchange their dollars at black-market rates, and each spin of the inflation wheel brings them new typewriter ribbons, parachutes, and "grass linen" cloth which you may have seen in department stores.

This fiber had to be processed by hand, which made it expensive even in a country like China.

IN AIDING OTHERS HE AIDS HIMSELF

To big Ed Landwehr the job of making aids for the hand hearing is about like a chef tasting his own broth. Ed has known the confusion of partial deafness since early childhood and now, as electrical test engineer at Western Electric Company's Clifton, N. J., Plant, he helps to manufacture the very type of hearing aid that came to his own assistance.

While still attending Northeastern University, from which he graduated with a degree in electrical engineering, Ed spent his summer vacations working as a waiter and bartender in his father's restaurant in New Britain, Conn. Because of his impaired hearing, particularly in the noisy kitchen of a busy restaurant, he found he was garbling orders. As Ed says, with a smile, "If a man asked for tomato soup and got potato salad, and later expected spaghetti and found spinach on his plate, his language grew somewhat abusive. I could hear the abuse, and so did to many others in the room." Several such experiences convinced him he needed a hearing aid, which he promptly procured.

Not long out of college, Ed applied for an engineering position

"OK! That's not it!" Ed Landwehr, Electrical Test Engineer at the Western Electric Plant in Clifton, New Jersey, himself a wearer of a Hearing Aid, tests a Hearing Aid on a Resective Efficiency Test Set operated by Dorothy Vanderwaal.

at Western Electric and eventually was placed in the Clifton plant. Although much of his effort was spent on engineering certain hearing equipment for electronic war weapons, part of his job is the design of equipment to test hearing aids during manufacture and before they are shipped. Knowing the handicap of impaired hearing, Ed gets a lot of pleasure out of his work, which brings a hearing to thousands like himself.

YOUNG BRAZILIAN LIKES THE U.S. WAY OF LIFE

Francisco Oswald, handsome young Brazilian, just completed a year studying personnel and management at Western Electric Company under a scholarship awarded by the American Affairs Committee, has completed many American life and has found practically everything to his liking. He is impressed most of all by our war production. "What you have done and the speed and skill with which you do it knocks me down. I am also amazed by your educational system. I never expected to find so many well educated people in the plants and on the street. Everybody here can get a good education. In Brazil our colleges and universities are good. Our high schools in the big cities are good also, but in the country—no. It is the lack of transportation. You cannot have good schools in the country if you cannot get to the schools. It is too bad."

Francisco developed a great enthusiasm for our sports and food—he has gained fifteen pounds so far—and for our girls, who ask him first thing if he can dance the Samba, and he even learned to prefer our cigarettes and coffee to Brazilian brands.

"In speaking of Brazilian-United States relations, Francisco says, "In my enthusiasm for the United States, I am typical of my generation. It is the dream of every Brazilian boy to visit North America some day. We read so much about it in our books and magazines and of course your movies have great influence."

Francisco during his stay here

Young Brazilian Likes Our Way Here he's shown editing copy for "Keenstream," official newspaper of Western Electric's Kearny, N. J. Plant.

Francisco has become especially interested in safety, training and other personnel work. When he finishes his study here one year from now, he hopes to work for a North American company in Brazil. "There is a big job to be done here. Brazil has done a lot for industrial relations but on a much smaller scale. I am filled with new ideas and I want to try them with my own people. It will be very interesting."

BUILD UP TO Army Enlistments

With Army enlistments already exceeding 50,000 men, the south west has stepped far ahead of its original schedule in the current recruiting campaign for the U S regular Army. Lt. Jay H. McHaffey, Eastland U S Army Recruiting Station, has announced.

"Our previous goal was 70,000 enlistments by next June 30 for the Eighth Service Command area, of which Texas is a major portion," Lt. McHaffey said. "As a result of extraordinary response in this area we have already realized slightly more than 71 per cent of our original quota."

While the current recruiting drive has been underway for less than five months, a all-time record of 400,000 is expected for the entire nation when final reports are completed, according to a War Department announcement in Washington this week.

"The Army's manpower requirements, however, still exceed the number we have recruited," Lt. McHaffey pointed out. "So far voluntary enlistments are expected to reach a fraction of the total needed. The service both spread and at home."

THE ARMY ASKED FOR IT—AND GOT IT

Notes, retreating from Belgium, sabotaged communications by destroying vacuum tubes. But they missed one. American engineers found it along with designs for a local transmitter.

Notes and tube were rushed by air to the United States.

As Bell Laboratories tests and Xerox reproduced their a similar tube could be built from existing parts of American tubes except for a special grid and socket.

Western Electric's Tube Shop went to work—modified machines to wind the special grid. Eight grid tubes were made in three days and flown to Europe.

Production went up full blast 17 days after original tube was received at Bell Labs. 1015 duplicates were completed by Western Electric and rushed to Europe. They worked.

German saboteurs' special wire sets that sabotaging all vacuum tubes from pockets would cripple the Belgian telephone system for weeks, were made, but again they underestimated American speed and ingenuity. Even the Army was surprised. "Give us a thousand tubes in thirty days," they had said. They got them in 17 days.

Here's How to Banish Washday Stoopng

IT IS the stooping, bending and toting that make washday tiring. Dorothy Holladay points out in nationally circulated Capper's Farmer.

Among many homemakers who have changed their washday habits to eliminate fatiguing motions, she cites Mrs. Carl Frey of Inquois county, Ill., in the magazine read by can also be sorted on a table or counter or from the table to several baskets placed on chairs.

Mrs. Frey's sliding clothes-basket saves time and bending. Holes were bored in each end of a sturdy wooden clothes hanger. From these holes wires are fastened. At the end of the wires are hooks to hold the handles of an ordinary basket. The top of the basket is then waist-high.

1,250,000 farm families. Mrs. Frey says that time and energy saving methods make washing easier, beside saving an hour each washday. Here are some of the tips she gives other housewives:

The washing machine should be high enough for ease in working. Mrs. Frey has elevated hers by putting bricks under the legs. A wooden platform built to fit would serve the additional purpose of insulating the washing machine.

Sorting clothes on the floor requires constant stooping. Mrs. Frey separates clothing into several baskets set on wooden crates. Laundry

A clothespin apron snaps over the hanger. The hanger hook slides along the clothesline as she pushes the contrivance ahead of her.

A PEOPLE AT WORSHIP

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 28:1; 28:43, 28:29. GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve.—Matthew 23:9.

A nation which knows God must have a place and a plan for worshipping Him. The history of Israel has moved forward in the account in Exodus where the people de-lyved from bondage are established as a theocratic nation; that is, one governed by God.

The covenant at Sinai (Ch. 19) was followed by the giving of the law (Ch. 20-23), and then in chapters 24-40 we find the worship of God established. Two elements are necessary—a way in which God may be approached and a place to meet Him. The former is provided in the ordaining of the Aaronic priesthood, and the latter by the building of the Tabernacle.

I. God Provides a Way to Worship (28:1).

The appointment of Aaron as high priest, and his sons to serve with him, provided for the proper conduct of the worship of God which was to take place in the Tabernacle.

The sinmer coming into the presence of God must approach by way of the brazen altar where sacrifice could be made for sin. This called for a priest set apart for this holy work, which would open the way for the repentant one to enter into the Holy place, and ultimately to know that his sin was covered in the Holy of Holies.

Consider the grace of God in this providing for the deep spiritual need of His people. All of this pointed forward to the day when Christ the true High Priest was to make the perfect and final atonement for sin by the sacrifice of Himself on Calvary's tree.

The symbolic dress of the priest and his consecration for his duties were not unimportant, but we do not have space to comment at length. Suffice it to say that one who is to serve in the conduct of the worship of God is to be a called, cleansed and consecrated man, set apart for a holy calling and eager to be used of God to lead men into fellowship with Him.

II. God Provides a Place of Worship (35:4-9; 29-32).

The plan for the Tabernacle was given by God to Moses in much detail. A close study of it will bring rich reward.

Although the plans were made by God (Exod. 25-27), note that He gave to the people the privilege of providing the materials. God dignified it as a high privilege and not a burden, and they came enthusiastically with their gifts.

That thought bears application to the believer, for we know that God still loves a cheerful giver (II Cor. 9:7). Those who groan and grumble about the money and material needed for the worship of God have not caught the real spirit of Christian giving.

The children of Israel brought more than enough of their most treasured possessions and of the labor of their hands; in fact, they had to be told to stop (Exod. 38:1-7). Imagine having to tell people to stop giving! That would be a novelty!

The Tabernacle was duly built, and thus there was provided for Israel a place of meeting (Tabernacle literally means "tent of meeting"), beautiful and appropriate for their days of sojourning in the wilderness.

The significance of the Tabernacle is both interesting and important. (1) It is a symbol of God's presence with His people. All who were defiled were excluded because God was there.

It is a type of God's method of bringing sinners to Himself, there must be a sacrifice for sin before communion can be established.

The furniture of the Tabernacle is therefore significant. Within the Holy of Holies the mercy seat typifies the covering of a believer's sins by the blood of Christ.

(2) It is a symbol of the incarnation of Christ of whom it is said that He "tabernacled" with men.

(3) It is a symbol of God's dwelling with men in the ages of eternity (Rev. 21).

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas
 To: J. H. Montgomery, Laura Ivy if single or Laura Ivy and her unknown husband if married, Lillian Reed Penn if single or Lillian Reed Penn and her unknown husband if married and J. S. Browning if living and of their unknown heirs if dead or of the Merchants & Farmers National Bank of Cisco, Texas, of Mayhew and Company, and of the Texas Moline Plow Company, corporations, if existing or of the unknown stockholders and their successors in title, if defunct or dissolved, Greeting:

You are commanded to appear and answer the plaintiff's original petition at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this citation, the same being Monday the 28th day of January, A. D. 1946, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. before the Honorable 91st Dist. Court of Eastland County, at the Court House in Eastland, Texas. Said Plaintiff's original petition was filed on the 13th day of Dec. 1945. The file number of said suit being No. 19,547. The names of the parties in said suit are: C. G. Shults as Plaintiff and J. H. Montgomery, Laura Ivy if single or Laura Ivy and her unknown husband if married, Lillian Reed Penn if single or Lillian Reed Penn and her unknown husband if married and J. S. Browning if living and of their unknown heirs if dead, of the Merchants & Farmers National Bank of Cisco, Texas, of Mayhew and Company, and of the Texas Moline Plow Company, corporations, if existing or of the unknown stockholders and their successors in title if defunct or dissolved, as Defendants.

The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to-wit:
 On August 11, 1931, at all times since and at this time plaintiff was and still is the owner in fee simple of the following described premises, situated in the County of Eastland, State of Texas, as follows:

All that certain block or tract of land 80 feet wide and 170 feet long situated in the town of Rising Star; (Some being a part of the N. E. 1-4 of Section No. 28, BB& G T. 8. R. 30. Survey of lands in said Eastland County, Texas, more fully described by notes and bounds as follows: Beginning 280 feet East from the corner of Main and Mill Streets; East of Main and North of Mill Street North 170 feet; Thence East 80 feet from corner; Thence South 170 feet from corner; Thence West 80 feet to beginning, and fully described in Vol. 70-11, page 619 Deed Records of Eastland County, Texas.

The defendants are claiming and asserting some right, title and interest in and to the property above described, the exact nature of which is unknown to this plaintiff but any claim that the defendants or either of them is claiming in and to said property is inferior to the claim of this plaintiff but casts a cloud upon the title of plaintiff.

This suit is brought to try title as well as for damages.
 Issued this 13th day of Dec., 1945.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Eastland, Texas, this 13th day of Dec., A. D., 1945.
