Trustees Adopt Calendar At Banquet Here Friday

The banquet held here Friday evening for the county school board and trustees of the common school district was successful in every way. Ninety-two attended, 82 of whom are trustees. County Superintendent E. C. Grindstaff stated that 29 of the 32 common district schools were represented and that 18 of the 29 had 100 per cent representation. Tables were arranged in the banquet hall of the Central Hotel for the meeting. Mr. Grindstaff acted as toastmaster and two of the county board members, E. E. King and Paul Petty, were heard in discussions of subjects of interest.

The principal speaker of the evening was C. M. Elwell, of the state department of education, who talked to the trustees on school matters that affect every common district school. The only entertainment number on the program was a cornet solo by Alexander McGregor.

At the business session the trustees adopted a school calendar and guide which had been prepared by the county superintendent. Each of the trustees was given a mimeographed copy of this calendar which outlined the general rules and regulations of the proposed operation of each common district school. The following measures were adopted:

1. All rural schools will open on October 5. (suggested date)
 2. All teachers will be paid on a 12-month basis.
 3. All schools will participate in the county library set-up.
 4. All district boards will have a schedule of regular meetings for the year, keep a written report of each meeting, write warrants at these meetings only and transact all business with a majority present.
 5. All schools will observe the same holidays for the year:
 - November 11, Thanksgiving, November 26 and 27, and December 24 to 30, inclusive, (without pay).
 6. All schools will join the interscholastic league. (fees to be paid from office).
 7. All teachers will join the Texas State Teachers' Association.
 8. Honor roll requirements: Students must make an average of 90, a list of honor pupils from each school shall be turned into the county superintendent each four weeks.
 9. All schools will participate in a county-wide seventh grade graduation each year.
 10. All schools will endeavor to standardize.
 11. A definite program will be followed in improving the health of all pupils.
 12. Each district board will operate its school within the adopted budget.
- The calendar also sets out 20 objectives, a tentative health program of 14 points, a score card for sanitation, and a general schedule of events for the year.
- Included in the school objectives are: operation of a full 8-months term, have one community day, programs in obser-

93 Subsidy Checks To be Distributed To Cotton Farmers

Ninety-three subsidy checks, amounting to $5,842.24, were received this week at the county agent's office. These checks will be distributed this week to farmers entitled to them and each person with a check in the shipment will be mailed a card notifying him to call at the agent's office and sign a receipt.

There are 150 more subsidy checks to be received in this county this year. To date the office has received 1,976 checks, amounting to $94,418.59, and the checks yet to come will amount to approximately $6,000, making the total subsidy payments over $100,000.

The only other checks before rental payments on the 1936 program will come from the sale of certificates in the national pool. This county's growers put certificates in this pool for approximately 2,225,000 pounds of cotton, which is to be sold at around 4 cents per pound. The entire pool may not be sold but it is estimated that from 60 to 75 per cent of the total will be, and the money received will be distributed among the farmers who entered surplus certificates in the pool.

Community committeemen will soon begin work on the check-up for compliance in the 1936 agricultural program. All committeemen will be instructed how to make this inspection and file reports on soil conservation on each farm, besides the rental each farmer is entitled to receive.

STATE HIGHWAY PATROLMEN WANT AUTO LIGHTS FIXED

Several members of the state highway patrol were in Ballinger Wednesday night making a check-up on automobile lights. A "safety lane" was held here a few weeks ago and the patrolmen returned to see if defective cars had been repaired. They stated conditions here were bad and that it appeared complaints would have to be filed to get lights in order. They found many cars without tail lights and a number with only one head light burning.

The patrolmen informed Chief of Police Lee Moreland that they would return here in a few days to inspect automobiles again.

J. L. Tenney, chief state supervisor of crippled children, was here Monday to confer with the county health nurse and officials of the county public nursing committee.

In connection with the advancement of each holiday, all school-ground activities supervised, a Parent-Teacher association in each district, do the teaching at school and let the pupil do the reciting at home, have every school district pay the cost of interscholastic league, etc.

Clubs Formulate Plans For Fair Demonstrations

The fair committee appointed at the women's home demonstration club encampment here, met at Norton Monday afternoon to discuss plans for the clubs' activities in the Runnels County Fair, October 15-17. All members of the committee were present and most of the afternoon was spent in going over the premium list and making changes to bring it up to date and in arranging demonstrations for the women's department.

It was definitely decided to present demonstrations in the merchants' building on mattress making, refinishing furniture, tufted bedsprings, and to show a model pantry. These features will be assigned to clubs at the next regular council meeting to be held this month. Several clubs will be made responsible for presenting the demonstrations and women will be in the booths all three days.

In addition to these features, the women will have exhibits of canned goods, wardrobe preparation, and other things usually included in this department. The clubs also voted to present a quilt and bedspread show in connection with the fair this fall. The same exhibit will be taken to San Angelo in November and entered in the regional exposition to be held there.

In the individual exhibits the women's committee revised the lists so that only new articles may be entered and no old clothing made especially for show purposes and shown from year to year will be accepted.

The committee suggested that a special division for quilts be arranged for the 1936 fair and this suggestion will be passed to the executive committee for consideration.

The club women were enthusiastic in their plans and will begin at once to make their part of the fair the best ever shown here. Demonstrations instead of exhibits will be featured in all departments. The plan has been popular at other fairs and the same will be carried out in the men's and boys' departments and in other departments.

F.D.R. to 'Touch Off' Boulder Dam Power

"Marriage License Business Terrible"

-Chastain

County Clerk W. W. Chastain reported Tuesday that the marriage license "business" during August was the worst it had been in many years, only ten couples securing the writs. In July nineteen couples obtained wedding permits here.

Those applying at Mr. Chastain's emporium for licenses during August were as follows: Charles E. Stacy and Mrs. Gertrude Hacky; Foy N. Davis and Bonita Harrison;

J. V. Carwile and Lillie Lackey; T. F. Newman and Tresa Sutton; Senovio Luna and Lilia Aguerro; Thurman Taylor and Ruby Slaven; Willard Taylor and Mary Francis Durham; E. C. Schuhmann and Geraldine Schovajsa; Leo J. Kohrman and Frieda Ulrich;

J. S. Durant and Alice Bardin.

Agent Will Compile Terracing History Of Runnels County

County Agent John A. Barton said Wednesday that he would compile a history of terracing in Runnels county and would begin at once securing information on the first terraced farms in the county. He is asking those who terraced years ago to visit his office or send him as much data as possible on the work, including why they terraced, who gave them the idea, and something of the results.

Later this year, C. E. Broyles, district farm agent, will visit the county and take pictures of the farms to aid in assembling the history. Every person who was among the first to run terrace lines in this county is asked to see Mr. Barton and give him his name and address.

Mr. Barton plans to start a campaign this fall to place many more acres of Runnels county farms in the large terraced acreage here.

It has been decided to hold several wheat demonstrations in the county this year. A small amount of Tenmarq wheat seed will be bought for trial in this county and any farmer who desires a small amount of this seed may turn in his name and the amount at the county agent's office and be included in the shipment. Tenmarq is a cross between hard red spring and hard red winter wheat and is particularly suited for this region. Experiment station specialists believe it will do better here than blackhull, which is a favorite in this section. Several farmers have signed up for several acres of this seed and others are invited to put in a small tract for a demonstration.

Miss Helen Brewer left Tuesday for Odessa to resume teaching in the high school.

Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Love returned Tuesday from Georgetown and Tyler where they had been visiting for the past ten days.

Business Improves Locally As Cotton and Maize Move

Fall business began to show up in Ballinger Saturday, several local business houses reporting the best day in three years. The crowds were heavy and shopping was brisk, especially in grocery stores, where clerks were rushed all afternoon. School shopping was evident in the dry goods stores as parents began preparations to put several thousand children in school next Monday.

Gins in the county did a fair business the past week and expect this week to be better, with the rush starting at all the plants the second week in September. Many fields in the county have a large amount of open cotton now and pickers will get well underway within the next few days.

Cool nights have been a great help to cotton generally and most observers have raised their estimates on the county's 1936 production to between 48,000 and 50,000 bales. There is a great deal of cotton dying in the fields due to root rot or some other reason which it is estimated will cut production 5,000 to 7,000 bales. The plants dying are full grown and many fields have suffered heavily from this cause.

The sale of feed in the county is making a showing now as much money is being placed in circulation from this crop. Maize has been selling from $16.20 to as high as $19.50 a ton and there is still a considerable amount of this grain to be harvested and marketed.

H. W. Lynn, local manager of the West Texas Cottonmill Company, stated that the mill would soon begin operations with a possibility of the first run being made next week. Local cotton buyers are in the market and ginners all over the county have enough employees to take care of their patrons.

Farm Leaders Estimate 44,100-Bale Cotton Crop

An interesting questionnaire was submitted to 15 community chairmen of the government soil conservation program, who assembled in Ballinger Wednesday to receive instructions regarding the compliance work to be done in Runnels county.

J. D. Motley, secretary of the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce, submitted the list of four questions to the farmers from every section of the county regarding the condition of the cotton crop and their forecasts on the production for the year.

The community chairmen estimated the 1936 crop at from 33,500 to 50,000 bales. The average estimate of the 15 farmers attending the soil compliance meeting was 44,100 bales. Most of those casting a ballot stated that the yield might be considerably higher than their guess if rains or other favorable weather conditions occurred.

The first question was: "Do you consider the cotton crop normal in your community?" Eleven said it was below normal and four answered normal or above.

Question No. 2 was: "If above or below normal, what per cent?" To this the crop was shown to be approximately 10 per cent below

Committee Working On Rodeo Features For '36 County Fair

Two important committees of the Runnels County Fair Association will meet this week to make important plans relative to the 1936 show.

The rodeo committee, composed of Hugh Campbell, Hamp Byler, Stanley Cameron, H. J. Zappe, Frank C. Dickey, D. W. Turner, Jr., and Shannon McWilliams, will make plans for afternoon and night performances in front of the grandstand at Fair Park as the feature amusement attraction for the three-day fair.

This committee will arrange for an arena, pens, lights for the night presentations, set the rules for the performers, select the events to be included, and receive bids on the stock to be used. Preparations will be made to assure spectators one of the fastest rodeos ever staged in this section.

Livestock raisers of the county will meet Friday to discuss a livestock show in connection with the fair, and name a committee to look after the work if the show is to be held. In case the livestock men want the show, pens and sheds will be made ready and the department included in the premium list. This meeting will begin at 2:30 Friday afternoon and everyone interested is invited to be present.

BALLINGER BOYS OFF TO SEE CENTENNIAL

Aiden Thorp, Wylie Stobaugh, Leonard Scales and Fred Kiechle, Jr., left Tuesday night for Dallas to take in the sights at the centennial exposition. They made the trip in their "heaping lens" and waited to depart until after sundown so that the pavement would be cooler on the tires.

DEDICATION ANNOUNCED FOR NEW STATE BUILDING

County Judge Paul Trimmer received an invitation Wednesday from the commission of control for centennial celebrations and the state board of control requesting his presence and the presence of citizens of Runnels county at the dedication of the State of Texas building. The dedication will take place on September 5 (Saturday), beginning at 8 p. m.

This building has been under construction and will be opened to the public for the first time next Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Schuhmann and small son, of Bloomburg, visited relatives and friends here for a short time Tuesday.

Miss Nell Alexander will leave tomorrow for Dallas to attend the centennial exposition and to visit friends.

School officials have been rushing this week getting details out of the way for the opening of the 1936-37 term here next Monday morning. Supt. H. C. Lyon announced that all pupils who did not register at the end of the term last spring and all pupils in the sixth and seventh grades would be registered tomorrow (Friday). Senior high school students will report to their building and junior high school students to their building in the morning for assignments. Pupils in the other buildings will not register. It is hoped to complete the registration tomorrow and hold the first faculty meeting of the year Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Mr. Lyon expects the entire faculty to be here Saturday and ready to attend this meeting at which time they will receive instructions regarding the program for this year.

School will begin Monday morning with children reporting to their rooms for books and lesson assignments. As soon as this is completed they will be dismissed to purchase supplies and be ready for class work Tuesday morning. As usual the buildings will be opened each morning at 8 o'clock and no children will be allowed on the grounds before that hour. Lessons will begin at 8:30 with one hour recess for lunch.

A complete physical education program has been adopted for this year which will eliminate the Monday chapel program which has been given over in the past to the ministers of the city. At this period each Monday the lesson in health will be given and later in the week three classes will be held.

The regular chapel program with students and teachers participating will be held at the senior high school each Friday morning and at the junior high school on Thursday and Friday mornings. The size of the auditorium at the junior high school makes it necessary to have two groups meet two days instead of one.

Buses will make their first trip Monday morning. Drivers have been employed and all buses operating into Ballinger have been overhauled.

CHEERY STATE CHAIRMAN FOR FIRE PREVENTION

Chester Cherry was notified today that he had been made state chairman of fire prevention by the Texas Safety Council and that a meeting of all chairmen had been called to meet in Austin on September 17. Mr. Cherry plans to attend the meeting and receive instructions regarding the work expected of him during the next year.

"Sing, Baby, Sing," Triumph From 20th Century Hit Mint

With Alice Faye swinging torchy new tunes and romancing with Michael Whalen, Adolphe Menjou going daffy and roaming around in his nightie, Gregory Ratoff, the demon dialectician, mangling the English language; the king and queen of comedy, Ted Healy and Patsy Kelly, smashing all laugh records; and the Ritz Brothers bringing a new kind of musical clowning to the screen, "Sing, Baby, Sing" opens in mid-night preview at the Texas Theatre Saturday night. Regular showings will be made the Sunday and Monday following.

Fresh from the hit mint of 20th Century-Fox, the picture is said to top their previous triumph, "Thanks a Million."

A laugh-jammed, song-crammed scramble of stars, songs and show-stoppers, "Sing, Baby, Sing" starts crowding the laughs in the opening scenes and only the sizzling songs and romantic love-making provide interludes from the side-splitting mirth.

Gregory Ratoff, a theatrical agent, aided by his secretary Patsy Kelly, and his stooge, Ted Healy, is vainly trying to get a new job for Alice Faye, who has been fired from the night club in which she has been singing.

On Alice's closing night at the cafe, Adolphe Menjou, a famous celebrity on a spree, disrupts her performance by insisting on doing the balcony scene from "Romeo and Juliet."

Ratoff instantly visualizes a sensational chance for publicity and calls in the reporters, headed by Michael Whalen.

The action grows wilder and more hilarious. The laughs come thick and fast, with the climax one of the most rib-racking, sidesplitting sequences ever brought to the screen.

Four new hit songs, "Love Will Tell," "You Turned the Tables on Me," "Sing, Baby, Sing" and "When Did You Leave Heaven" are featured in the production.

Laurel and Hardy Star in "The Bohemian Girl," Merry Melange of Madcap Mirth, Melody As a successor to their two previous full-length hits, "The Devil's Brother" and "Babes in Toyland," Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy come to the Texas Theatre next Thursday only in Hal Roach's ambitious filmization of "The Bohemian Girl."

While the general theme of the original operetta has been retained, the work has been adapted to fit the inimitable comedy talents of its stars. All the music has been retained, including score accompaniment. One new modern number, "Heart of a Gypsy" by Nathaniel Shilkret, has been added.

The locale is mid-continental Europe. As an incident in Hardy's henpecked life his shrewish wife kidnaps a little princess as she elopes with the handsome Devilshoof, played by Antonio Moreno. Laurel and Hardy "mothering" the child over a period of years again arrive at the castle of the child. While she is about to be flogged by the minions of her father, who hates all gypsy vagabonds for the great tragedy they brought him, he recognizes a token establishing the identity of the now grown girl as his child. Thus all ends happily with Laurel and Hardy rewarded for caring for the girl.

In the supporting cast besides Moreno are: Mae Busch, Jacqueline Wells, James Finlayson, Daria Hood and William P. Carleton.

Color and Drama of Old West Depicted in "Three on Trail"

Thundering along with the surging sweep of a cattle stampede punctuated with the bark of six-guns, "Three on the Trail," fifth in the series of "Hopalong Cassidy" adventures to reach the screen, will be shown at the Palace Theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, September 6-7-8.

Based on the popular Clarence E. Mulford stories, "Three on the Trail" brings William Boyd back in his role of "Hopalong Cassidy," and Jimmy Ellison as his faithful side-kick. The story shows "Hoppy's" efforts to free himself and his pal from a false charge of robbery and murder fastened on them by Pecos Kane, crooked gambler, and their thrilling adventures in riding the country of Kane and his desperadoes.

"Three on the Trail" is an action-filled thriller, with deft comedy touches and a tender romance woven expertly into the story. The beautiful country of the West forms a background of scenic splendor the like of which is seldom photographed.

Muriel Evans is lovely and demure as the schoolmarm for whom both Jimmy and Kane have fallen; George Hayes and Onslow Stevens deserve special mention.

Ann Harding Has Romantic Ordeal in "The Witness Chair"

A love which demands more courage than most women could muster is the dramatic foundation of "The Witness Chair," RKO Radio picture in which Palace Theatre patrons will see Ann Harding in her newest stellar role.

Adapted from the Cosmopolitan magazine short novel, "The Witness Chair" unfolds chiefly in a New York courtroom. Here an innocent man is arraigned for a murder. The conflict which arises in the circumstantial evidence piled up against the accused involves his daughter whose reputation will be seared if the actual murderess confesses. Permitting her lover to stand trial, until a climactic moment, for a crime she herself committed, brings out all of Ann Harding's dramatic power.

Walter Abel, who is rapidly becoming as well known on the screen as he is on the stage, is Miss Harding's leading man, heading a supporting cast comprising, among others, Moroni Olsen, Douglass Dumbrille, Frances Sage, Margaret Hamilton, Maxine Jennings and Frank Jenks.

Jeanette MacDonald and Gable In Romantic "San Francisco"

"San Francisco," to be shown at the Ritz Theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, brings Clark Gable and Jeanette MacDonald together as a co-starring team for the first time.

The musical romance gives Miss MacDonald her widest scope in vocal numbers in her screen career—a total of nine presentations—ranging from a solemn hymn to the most beautiful operatic arias.

Gable returns to the vigorous type of role that first elevated him to stardom as a blustering Barbary Coast gambling baron who has no faith in anything but his own power and his charm over women.

Co-starring with Miss MacDonald and Gable is Spencer Tracy in his most unusual role; that of a priest. The distinguished supporting cast includes Jack Holt, Jessie Ralph, Ted Healy, Shirley Ross, Margaret Irving, Harold Huber, Al Shean, William Ricciardi and Kenneth Harlan.

"San Francisco" is laid in the colorful period of 1905-06, its life of gale and song, its Barbary Coast prior to and through the disaster that leveled the famous Golden Gate city thirty years ago.

Among Miss MacDonald's vocal numbers are: the "Jewel Song" from "Faust"; musical excerpts throughout the "Faust" opera; the "Prison Trio" with Mephistopheles and Faust; an aria from "La Traviata"; "Love Me and the World is Mine"; "My Heart is Free"; Gounod's "Ave Maria"; and "San Francisco." Other rollicking musical features of the period are contributed by Shirley Ross and Ted Healy.

The picture follows closely in the wake of the tremendous successes scored by "Naughty Marietta" and "Rose Marie."

The story deals with a homeless girl who finds herself in the boisterous atmosphere of the Barbary Coast and who rises from an entertainer in Gable's gambling resort and cafe to great heights as a famous opera star in San Francisco's historic grand opera house.

Elaborate settings are typical of the period and reproduce many of the famous structures destroyed in the 1906 disaster. The catastrophe scenes showing the destruction of the city by fire and earthquake are said to be the most thrilling shots of their kind ever recorded in motion pictures.

HUNTERS HAVE LUCK AS DOVE SEASON OPENS

Runnels county was not a safe place for doves Tuesday when several hundred well armed hunters took to the fields and water holes to get their bag limit of the fat birds. Practically all hunters on the firing line Tuesday were rewarded, many bringing in the limit.

The dove crop is large this year and it only requires a short time at a good water hole in the late afternoon to get all the law will allow.

Approaching Marriage Announced

In announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Emma Jean, to Tom Guin, Mrs. Henry Jones included a large group of close friends at a beautifully appointed bridge tea last Thursday afternoon in her home on Broadway.

Pink and blue were the colors chosen for emphasis in all details of the affair. Appointments for bridge games stressed a floral note in rooms given a lovely decoration of varied blooms in the selected tones. The dining room table was lace-laid and centered with a low silver bowl of pink lilies and blue feverfew. The refreshment plate of cream molded as pink slippers and individual cakes led in pink and decorated with lilies—the valley bore the announcement on a small card inside an envelope. Church Group Entertained

The W. M. S. of the Ballinger Baptist Church was entertained Monday afternoon from 5 to 7 in the beautiful rock garden at the home of Mrs. E. E. King on Broadway. The natural beauty of the garden was enhanced by a 300-pound cake of ice in which pink and orchid flowers were frozen. The hollowed out top of this cake of ice held punch. The guests were greeted at the entrance to the garden by Mrs. King, Mrs. E. C. Grindstaff, Mrs. O. C. Sykes, and Mrs. Ernest Moody.

A most unusual program was presented by members of Mrs. King's and Mrs. Grindstaff's circles. A burlesque on the officers of the W. M. S. told in an amusing way how the work of the organization could be improved. Mrs. J. H. McClain and Mrs. A. F. Brock were the W. M. S. relief board. The office was conducted much as the government relief is. These asked for relief: Mrs. Circle Chairman, (who was Mrs. B. C. Kirk), was crippled from lack of support of other members; Mrs. Harber represented Mrs. Periodicals, whose head was so light she couldn't prepare programs; Mrs.

Lynn created much amusement as the tongue-tied Mrs. Publicity; Mission Study (Mrs. Bair) was undernourished from lack of funds; Mrs. Black was blind Mission; Mrs. Blasdel with limp arms represented Benevolence; the burden of the Education Chairman was told by Mrs. Shepperd, who had a large hump on her back; Mrs. King showed how Personal Service was deaf to so many needs; Mrs. Endicott's Young People's Chairman had a bad case of "Can'tittis;" Mrs. Grindstaff was the anemic Stewardship Chairman. This entire program was amusing as well as instructive. The costumes of the characters created many laughs.

Readings were given by Miss Mary Elizabeth Truly and Miss Louise Hash. A trumpet solo was given by Quentin White.

At the conclusion of the program open-faced sandwiches and punch were served by Mrs. Shepperd and Mrs. Harber to the following: Misses R. E. Lane, R. P. Canady, Myles Nixon, E. C. Grindstaff, George Stowe, O. C. Sykes, Ernest Moody, Ernest Aycock, L. Schermerhorn, A. H. Crawford, W. B. Holland, O. A. Bartlett, A. F. Brock, J. W. Blasdel, L. E. Bair, John Endicott, C. J. Lynn, J. G. Tuckey, R. T. Williams, B. C. Kirk, Mattie Holliday, O. B. Hamilton, J. A. Norwood, Smith, B. F. Kemp, L. R. Tigner, G. A. Swann, E. Shepperd, Otis Harber, C. W. Jennings, O. T. Toney, W. A. Bridwell, L. C. Alexander, J. C. Cook, Wix Currie, R. E. White, J. H. McClain, Clarence McCarver of Brownwood, Misses Mary Elizabeth Truly, Louise Hash, and Emma McClain of Hereford.

Ford V-8 Cars, Parts and Service

Since coming to Ballinger the management has been extremely busy remodeling the entire building to make it a modern business home, restocking parts, receiving new cars and otherwise getting ready to render service to the people of this territory in keeping with the V-8 FORD AGENCY.

We are now ready with a place of which we are proud and invite every one to visit us. It will be a pleasure to show you through our plant and explain the type of service we expect to render.

We selected Ballinger and Runnels County for a home both socially and in business. We are anxious to become acquainted with the citizenship and make friends.

A complete line of cars, pick-ups and trucks will be carried at all times with every Ford part and service featured in our mechanical department.

Any suggestion to help us render better service will be appreciated.

Dedication Program To be Held at Grid Field September 18

The Ballinger high school athletic committee will begin an advertising campaign this week for the first game of the season on September 18, at which time the football field will be dedicated. The program for the dedication, now being arranged, will begin at 7:30 p. m., and the game is to start at 8 o'clock.

The first game of the season, while not a conference contest, will have unusual interest because two brothers, Felton and Bill Wright, will be matched. It also will be the first night football game ever played in Runnels county.

Work has progressed far enough at the field that the workmen have assured the management that it will be ready several days before the opening game. The steel work was completed, with the exception of painting, last week, and workmen will begin painting and bolting the seats and footrests in place.

Light poles were set last week and work will continue on the lighting system installation until it is adjusted for night play. The bathhouse has been moved, a flag pole erected, and numerous other improvements made at the park.

School officials will handle the program and pillow concessions this year. An order has been given for 500 pillows which will be rented at games for a nominal sum and the money will be used to help defray the expenses of athletics in the junior high school. The pep squad probably will attend to publishing the programs this year which will be distributed at each game, showing the line-up of players, their numbers and positions, and the weight of each man.

Efforts will be made to have a record breaking crowd at the first game for the dedication program and opening tilt of the season. Sections have been arranged for the band and pep squad which will be featured more than ever this year.

All Tires and Batteries guaranteed at Freeman's.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pace and little daughter, of Austin, are visiting in the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Douglas.

Farmers Save With Cold Storage

Introduction of small cold storage plants over the middle west offers farmers a system of food preservation that is both convenient and economical. By renting a locker, a farmer may bring in his meats after butchering and store them in temperatures 20 degrees below freezing for a yearly cost of approximately 2 cents a pound. An attendant at a plant in Ames, Ia., is shown above demonstrating one of the small lockers.

"I received assistance for certain needy students in the district who had asked me to help them," Mr. Simpson stated. Health Department Will Send Colored Nurse to Ballinger

Miss Beulah White, county health nurse, has been informed that a state nurse will work with the colored people of Ballinger from September 28 to October 9. The visiting nurse probably will inspect the negro school and do work among the adult colored population of the city with special emphasis on tuberculosis.

Miss White stated that she had her schedule made up for the month of September and would begin inspections in the Miles school on September 16, remaining there three days.

She will start inspections in the Ballinger schools on September 21 and devote five days to the work, or more if necessary, staying here until all the children have been examined.

Much of the nurse's school work this year will be in informing the teachers how to make daily inspections of the students and training them in health habits. The nurse will attend to inspection of the children's vision and check other handicaps that the teacher cannot do because of lack of equipment.

Miss White will continue the work among the students in October until all the schools of the county have been visited.

Before beginning work in each school, Miss White plans to meet the teachers and discuss the five-point health plan and enlist the teachers' support in keeping a check on the health habits and practices of the pupils so at the end of the year credit can be given those who comply with the requirements.

SAN SABA—When Sam Burk orchard demonstrator of Northwest community in San Saba county, had budded 2,500 nursery peach trees for enlarging his orchard, the labor cost was only $7.50, reported Ross H. Brisson, county agricultural agent.

"More than 90 per cent of the buds are living, and it is estimated that there will be 2,000 trees suitable for planting. Thus, he should get $200 worth of trees for a cash outlay of only $7.50, as he is doing all the other work except the budding," stated Mr. Brisson.

CENTREVILLE—Russell Long farmer in the Nineveh community in Leon county, recently came to the decision that more money can be made out of farming by raising feed and marketing it through livestock than by raising cotton.

J. B. Short, county agricultural agent, who is helping Mr. Long to rearrange his farm, reports that this former cotton raiser intends to dig trench silos and fix feeding pens on the hill. He is arranging his fences so that all four of his pastures will be connected with his feeding lot. He expects to put in at least 40 acres in permanent pastures, 50 acres in temporary pastures, and 60 acres in feed for the livestock.

"Mr. Long will alternate the temporary pasture and feed land from year to year," the county agricultural agent stated, "and he is going to raise both hogs and cattle by starting with a few good animals and gradually improving them to purebred stock."

MEMBER OF DALE 4-H CLUB HAS YEAR ROUND GARDEN

By carefully planning her garden work, Miss Mary Lehman, of the Dale 4-H club in this county, has some kind of vegetable from her garden the year round. At present she has 9,284 feet of vegetables in her garden including 51 varieties. Her expenses to date have been $7.56, leaving a profit of $39.04.

In order to have at least 10 containers of canned products for each member of her family, she has already canned 100 containers and has dried several pounds of English peas.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD GIRL HAS HER OWN CLOTHES RACK

LOCKHART, Tex., Sept. 2.—"I do not have to disturb my mother when she is busy, because when I need a clean dress I can get it myself now," says Dorene Borchert, five-year-old daughter of Mrs. Reynold Borchert, Caldwell county wardrobe demonstrator. Mrs. Borchert has placed a special rod in the closet for Dorene's clothes.

An old hoe handle was cleaned, smoothed with sandpaper and placed crosswise in the right end of the closet just under the two shelves about 40 inches from the floor. This is not only a time saver for Mrs. Borchert, but Dorene takes more pride in keeping her clothes hung up in order.

Farmers Receive Information On Soil Compliance Check-up

A school of instruction was held here Wednesday for the community committeemen and the county committee members in the government agricultural program for this year. The farm leaders were called together to receive information regarding the survey to make at once on compliance in the soil building program underway at this time on most of the farms in the county.

Committeemen were present from all the 15 communities with the exception of one and a substitute represented this district.

Preliminary work began in the county this (Thursday) morning and after working today and tomorrow the committeemen will meet here Saturday to go over their first survey and see if it will meet requirements. Actual work will get underway in every section of the county next Monday.

Printed cards will be mailed each farmer by his committeeman advising him of the day he will be there to check up on the farm. The information needed makes it imperative that the farmer be present and assist his committeeman in the report. All phases of the program will be explained by the committeeman. A map of the field will be drawn, showing each crop growing, the different soil building crops and the acreage of each.

Cully A. Cobb, in charge of the government program, has requested that each committeeman discuss soil building with the farmers and advise them to select and save seeds from sudan, peas, soybeans and other soil building crops for planting next year.

Leaders present at the meeting Wednesday agreed to help the county agent list the names of the first farmers in the county to do terracing, to find out the number of trench silos in use and to enlist farmers for demonstrations next year on blackhull and tenmarq wheat. They also agreed to furnish corn and maize heads to be put in a trench silo at the Runnels County Fair here as a special demonstration. The part not used will be sealed in the silo and left there until the following year's fair when it will be opened.

NEW 5 AND 10 CENT STORE TO BE ESTABLISHED HERE

George Clements, of Coleman, closed a lease contract this week with John A. Weeks for the building on Hutchings Avenue formerly occupied by the Red & White Grocery. Mr. Clements will stock a modern 5 and 10 cent store in the building as soon as possible and intends to open the store for business before the end of September.

Mr. Clements, who has been operating a variety store at Coleman for a number of years, was undecided today whether he would sell his store there or move it here. If he sells he will buy new fixtures and stock for the Ballinger store.

Mr. Weeks is having the interior of the building made ready for the new store. Walls are being repaired and redecorated and other improvements made.

Frances Elizabeth de Montmolin has returned from an extended visit in Alabama and Florida.

Abilene Division Of Gas Company Sells Many Stoves

Honoring employes of the southern portion of the Abilene division of Community Natural Gas Company for the part they played in the promotion of a better gas service in connection with a recent inter-division gas range sales competition, a picnic was held Saturday afternoon at Abilene State Park. Hosts for the occasion were M. L. Bird, of Abilene, superintendent of the Abilene division, and Guy Custer, of Dallas, division sales supervisor. More than 150 employes and members of their families and special guests attended.

The southern end of the division won over the north portion by a narrow margin. The division competition was a part of the system-wide modern gas range sales campaign that resulted in the sale of a total of 1,059.

Mr. Bird and Mr. Custer promised the picnic as a reward to the leading section of the Abilene division, provided the Centennial loving cup offered to the leading division in the system-wide sales competition. The Abilene division carried off first honors in this race, selling double the amount of ranges of its nearest competitor.

The Centennial cup was presented to Superintendent Bird at the picnic by the donor, Jack Little, of Dallas, southern sales representative for the Detroit-Michigan Stove Company.

Beginning at 3 o'clock, the picnic was featured by a series of athletic events, including swimming, a horseshoe pitching contest, a checker tournament, domino competition, and a softball game. The picnic supper was served at 6:30 o'clock, followed by presentation of the cup.

CCC Enlistments To be Accepted In County Soon

Youths interested in enrolling in the CCC for the next period are asked to make application at the county relief offices before September 10 so that an estimate of the number that likely will enroll can be obtained and be sent to state headquarters at Austin. The estimate will be used as a basis for a quota to be set for Runnels and other counties in relief district 14, according to Mrs. Jessica W. Bennett, district administrator. The enrollment period will be in the first part of October.

Those eligible to enroll are: Unmarried and unemployed young men whose families have been referred or are eligible to be referred to the WPA for employment, who are American citizens between the ages of 17 and 28, inclusive, and who have dependents in the United States or its possessions to whom they are willing to allot a substantial amount of their monthly allowance (at least $22 a month and not more than $25 a month). Applicants may be either white or colored. The age limit has been changed, as noted above. The limit formerly was 18 to 25, inclusive.

Boys of families eligible to receive surplus commodities and other forms of relief from county family welfare agencies are eligible for selection from the standpoint of the relief requirement.

Young men, who are members of rural resettlement families and whose labors are not required to assist in farming operations may be selected provided they meet other requirements.

If an applicant already has been in the CCC it will be necessary for him to present an honorable discharge at the time of his application for reselection, or furnish necessary information, if he has lost his discharge papers, so that duplicates may be obtained. A man who served less than four full months during his last enrollment is ineligible for reselection regardless of the type of discharge. The only exception to this requirement are those men who were honorably discharged prior to October 21, 1933. A man is ineligible for reselection for a period of one year following date he was last honorably discharged.

 CHANGED RECENTLY?

Ledger subscribers are requested to notify the publisher of any change in their addresses promptly. Under the new postal laws newspapers and periodicals must pay postage due for notices of any change in addresses furnished by the postoffice. Besides, there always is the probability that your paper will be delayed or fail to reach you altogether if you do not give immediate notification when you move. The best plan for all concerned is to send the change of address in advance.

The vacation season will be over next week as more than 1,000 children start to school in Ballinger for the next nine months. The opening of school usually ushers in fall business in this section and other conditions this year will make it even more evident. Cotton and feed are beginning to move, merchants are displaying a autumn merchandise and additional clerks are being employed to take care of the increased business.

Traffic regulations made effective here a month ago have convinced citizens that it is a big improvement and only favorable comments have been voiced. Those who come to Ballinger to shop on Saturdays are well pleased with the double parking ban and find that it is much more convenient to shop and load their cars since the danger of getting hemmed in at the curb has been eliminated. Officials of nearby cities have been here to observe how traffic is handled in Ballinger on Saturdays, hoping to work out plans to improve the situation in their own towns.

Teachers of music, dancing, reading and art will form classes here with the beginning of school, offering excellent instruction in these subjects. There are fine arts teachers here who would be capable of teaching in some of the best schools of the country. In addition to what is taught in private classes, the Ballinger public schools provide considerable musical training. Public school music helps the younger children immeasurably and orchestra, band, and choral clubs give others advanced musical training.

The dates for the Runnels County Fair are only a short time off and if a successful show is staged it will require much preparation and boosting. Leaders have a splendid program planned and full cooperation has been assured by the rural clubs. The exhibits will be up to standard and above and if the amusement program can be made attractive enough the fair will go over in a big way. Many county fairs are being revived in Texas this year after having been cancelled several times on account of business conditions.

The Fort Stockton Lions Club has launched plans to secure designation of the Fort Stockton airport as an official landing field of the United States war department, and for its maintenance and operation as such. The field and hangars are said by flyers and visiting army and navy men to conform to necessary requirements. Designation of the field would mean that army and navy planes could stop at the port any time necessary.

Comanche's first bale of cotton, which weighed 427 pounds, was ginned August 27. Ed Janner was the grower of the bale which brought 12 cents a pound. The first cotton of the 1935 season was brought in one day earlier.

Mrs. G. W. Logan, of Sonora, for the past thirty-eight years a saddle girth maker, has retired. Mrs. Logan began making girths from mohair when she and Mr. Logan moved to Sutton county in 1897. She told a reporter she had made several thousand girths in the years she had done this work and the prices ranged from $3 to $16.80 a dozen, the price being higher now than ever. Originally the girth maker did the work merely for a little extra money, but the business has grown because of increasing demand for girths of this kind.

Building of new business houses in Eden is very brisk, according to reports from there this week. One group of buildings under construction will house four establishments and several other old buildings are being razed to make room for new structures. It is said the business district will have an entirely different appearance when

The Mason County News has added a new model linotype to its print shop equipment. The paper is in its sixtieth year of publication and throughout its life has been an unusually good country weekly, but with the addition of the new machine is expected to be improved still more. I. E. Larrimore is editor and publisher.

Frederick Stalling, newly-elected coach of the Miles high school, will begin his duties next Monday when he calls applicants for berths on the football team together for the first time in 1936. The team this year will be captained by C. L. McDonald and Lloyd Hipp, stars on previous years' teams. Nine lettermen will be ready to begin work under the new coach Monday, with several reserves of last year's team also primed for action.

Residents of Concho county received a total of $9,823 from the home owners' loan corporation during the three-year period of refinancing operations which ended June 13, according to figures furnished by H. P. Drought, state director for the national emergency council. This sum represents seven individual loans.

Cotton picking is in full swing in the Melvin community. Most of the gins in the vicinity are in operation and have ginned a few bales. The two gins at Doolee are leading all others in the section with about 100 bales. The Nollie B. Embury, Jr. gin is close behind with 34 bales turned out up to the past week-end.

 Is Grateful for Splendid Majority

I am thankful for the splendid majority that the district gave me in my race for representative. I am ambitious to better statecraft for the welfare of the people in general and I hope to conduct myself in ways that will win broader confidence.

I am thankful particularly to my father and to the multitude of friends who made the greater part of my victory possible. May the whole world know my appreciation and loyalty to them!

I humbly request the people to bear with me in the great responsibilities of the office. I know there will be differences and disagreements, but I hope that the people will be considerate of any shortcomings of mine that should happen to be made through the application of sense and the proper advisement of others, and by all means not to let the little things overbalance the larger.

I desire the people to let me know their reasonable personal and district needs and to advise me of their legislative ideas, however small they may seem to them. I will keep the district advised through its papers of the proceedings of the legislature, and I shall visit over the district every chance I get. I plan to enter the University in September to take two courses in government in preparation of making this district one of the very best of representatives.

In the meanwhile, Good, Luck, 'till I greet you again.

One of the three granite markers promised McCulloch county by the state centennial commission has been erected. It is located at the intersection of highways 9 and 16 and is dedicated to General Ben McCulloch, for whom the county was named. On the marker is the inscription: "McCulloch County, formed from Bexar County, Created August 27, 1856. Organized August 4, 1862. Named in honor of General Ben McCulloch, 1811-1862, a veteran of San Jacinto, member of the Texas Congress, captain of Texas Rangers, a brigadier-general in the Confederate Army. Brady, the county seat." The other markers are to commemorate the Bowie battle ground at Calf Creek and the ranger camp at Camp San Saba.

Erath county citizens held a big celebration at Stephenville last Friday night. The festivities were prompted by the completion of the city's new lighting system and the opening of the new federal building there. A special program was arranged and presented. The cost of the lighting system, paid for by the electric company, approximated $12,000.

The Lyric Theatre at Winters has been remodeled and the interior redecorated by the owners and manager, H. T. Hodge, of Abilene, and H. J. Hodge, of Winters. New wide-range high fidelity sound equipment has been installed, assuring patrons of the best reception. Other improvements have also been made to bring the Lyric up to the standard of other theatres owned by the H. & H. circuit.

The Coleman city commission will spend a total of $125,820 during the fiscal year from July 1, 1936, to June 30, 1937, it has been estimated in a budget compiled by City Secretary H. M. Collins. While the city expects to spend more than $128,000, receipts will probably be over $131,000.

Activity in the new Gully oil field, about half way between Cross Cut and Pioneer, was marked last week by the bringing in of three wells. Several other producing wells are located in that area but none of them is supplying much oil. Some of the wells will be deepened in an effort to increase production.

Rush "Silent" Johnigan, deaf and dumb constable of precinct 1.

Coleman county, for almost a quarter of a century, has resigned his position. The pioneer peep officer stated that he just "wanted to be free from the office of constable." The silent constable received considerable publicity several years ago when an article about his activities as city night watchman and constable appeared in a magazine of national circulation. The commissioners' court probably will select someone to succeed Mr. Johnigan at its September meeting.

Banks Listen

—for good reports about their neighbors.

BANKS are interested in business men who are well spoken of because of fair dealings, courtesy, good service, quality products or fair prices, for these make a business grow and prosper. In time these business men will find use for new or increased borrowings from their bank and give useful employment to its loanable funds.

More than this, the good name which brings deserved success to those who render varied business services to the Community is the key-stone of sound credit.

This bank hears many good words about its business neighbors. It deems them an essential element in the strength and safety of the loans which it has made to many of them to facilitate their business operations.

Ballinger Water Is Okehed by State Health Department

A recent analysis of Ballinger's city water revealed it to be pure and entirely without contamination. This report will be of interest to many because of a few cases of typhoid fever in this and nearby cities, proving that the cause here is not from city water. A report on the samples submitted to the state health department, received Monday morning by City Secretary K. V. Northington showed the supply in perfect condition so far as contamination is concerned.

August was the best business month in the history of the Ballinger water department. During the 31 days local consumers used 15,500,000 gallons of water, running up the highest bills ever mailed out on the first of the month. The lake was lowered about 18 inches below the crest, but the upper reservoir is still full and if the flood gates were opened water would run over the lower dam. There is no shortage in sight here and none anticipated. Some water has been shipped to other cities for ice making and this will continue until rains supply better water in these places.

Water department officials expect a big drop in consumption here during September. Irrigation will slump in the city because of the cooler nights and the bills mailed the past first will cause most citizens to conserve on the use of water.

INSURANCE FEATURES OF PROGRAM ARE DISCUSSED

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 2.—Insurance features of the agricultural conservation program are proving of value to farmers in Texas because of unusual weather conditions in 1936. A. L. Smith, executive secretary of the state agricultural conservation committee, pointed out.

"Interest is being manifested in these features by many farmers of this region," he added, "so the recent statement of C. A. Cobb, director of the Southern region of the AAA, is particularly appropriate at this time."

Mr. Cobb says, "Each producer who meets the requirements of the agricultural conservation program is sure of receiving some cash income even though his crops may be destroyed by drought or other causes."

"No program can prevent suffering and hardship if a farmer's labor and cash investment in crops are completely lost because of unfavorable weather conditions. The present program will partly relieve the distress if cooperating producers by making a cash payment to those who have used approved farming practices on their land."

"The soil conserving crops grown on land that would otherwise be planted to soil depleting crops, protect the cooperating producer against losses of plant food and soil caused by leaching and erosion."

"Improved soils mean better stands, fewer crop failures, lower production cost to producers, and over a long period a more stable and less expensive supply of foods, feeds, and fibers for consumers than would be available if soils should continue to be wasted at the present rate."

NATIVE TEXAS FLOWERS SHOWN IN PAINTINGS

AUSTIN, Sept. 2.—A recent display in the University of Texas library building featured original paintings of about 75 varieties of native Texas flowers, reproduced by Miss Eula Whitehouse, formerly instructor in botany and bacteriology at the University of Texas, in her book, "Texas Flowers in Natural Color."

These water color pictures depict the flowering plants of this state from the common riggerhead and black-eyed Susan to the exotic, appearing desert willow, a fragile purple blossom, of the flamboyant "Turk's Cap," of brilliant red and oddly shaped. Other unusual plants are the scrambled eggs, a wispy stalk with a spray of small yellow blossoms; the Texas squawweed, also yellow; the purple paintbrush; the false purple thistle; the copper mallows; and the indigo pea, which, instead of being blue as its name suggests, is pinkish in color.

Several varieties of phlox, the Texas bluebonnet, the purple thistle, the blue Texas star, Texas mountain laurel, the Texas bluebell, the columbine, blue sage, Indian paint brush and Indian blanket are all shown.

It is very economical, purely vegetable, highly effective. Mr. J. LABOR DAY, 1882

Digging on the Panama Canal had begun early in the year that Labor Day was first observed in this country fifty-four years ago.

Since then a number of industrial changes have taken place. Engineering skill has developed new methods, new tools, and has lightened labor. Transportation, scientific research, power, communication—each has broadened its own scope and that of allied industries.

One of the primary functions of this Bank is to keep abreast of changing conditions—and to serve the community by serving enterprises that create a demand for the products of labor.

CLUB LAKE WATER OKEH FOR SWIMMING

A sample of water from the Ballinger Country Club lake was submitted last week to the state health department for analysis to determine if it were contaminated in any way and not suitable for swimming. A rumor current here was to the effect that the lake had been condemned but this was not true.

The report on the analysis showed the lake water pure and without contamination.

FARM PRICE INDEX HIGHEST IN SIX YEARS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The general level of prices received by farmers on August 15 was the highest in six years, the bureau of agricultural economics reported today.

The bureau's index for that date was 124, compared with 115 on July 15, and with 106 on August 15 a year ago. Grain led the march to higher prices during the past month, with both wheat and corn passing $1 a bushel, for the first time since July, 1929.

Prices of truck crops rose substantially during the month; prices of dairy products were strong; chickens and eggs advanced seasonally, and meat animal prices were higher. Cotton, cottonseed, and fruits were the only major groups to recede from the July level.

Group indexes of the bureau show that prices received by farmers for grain were up 20 points during the last month, truck crops were up 19 points, dairy products were up 9 points, chickens and eggs were up 6 points, and meat animals were up 4 points. Cotton and cottonseed were down 2 points, and fruit prices dropped 9 points.

Compared with a year ago on August 15, prices of truck crops were up 42 points, grain prices were up 33 points, dairy products were up 27 points, fruit prices up 21, cotton and cottonseed up 6, chickens and eggs up 1, and meat animals down 6 points.

The bureau pointed out, however, that the rise this summer in prices of farm products has not all been a net gain for farmers, since farmers have had to pay higher prices for goods purchased. Short feed crops have raised the price of all feeds purchased, for instance, to the highest point recorded since September, 1929.

Feed price increases, the bureau explained, were chiefly responsible for the advance in the average of prices paid by farmers for all commodities. The index of prices paid for all commodities purchased was 126 on August 15, compared with 123 on July 15, and with 125 on August 15 last year.

The index of prices paid is slightly higher than that of prices received, but the disparity against farmers on August 15 was the smallest since August 1929. This summer's gain in farm prices raised the purchasing power index of farm products to 98 as of August 15, compared with 93 on July 15, and with 85 on August 15 a year ago.

The five-year period 1909-14 equals 100 in all of these price indexes.
