VARIED PROGRAMS PLANNED FOR HOLIDAYS

Red Cross Workers Ready For Zero Hour of Drive

The annual campaign for Red Cross memberships in the nationwide roll call will be launched in Ballinger and Runnels county Thursday morning, November 16. The workers in the southern portion of the county have been announced by Mrs. Tom Agnew, roll call chairman, advertising matter distributed and material issued to the teams.

A stronger effort will be made this year to bring the number of memberships up to meet the quota. For the first time a door-to-door canvass of the residential sections will be made by special workers and every member of every family in Ballinger will be given an opportunity to join.

Local Red Cross officials believe that if the quota is raised this year it will require that many housewives join the organization. In previous years most of the effort has been made in the downtown district with few men taking memberships for their wives or other members of the family.

Membership fees are $1 each. Each person joining will receive a card for 1940 and a button which he is asked to wear during the roll call. Stores will receive 100 per cent stickers when every employee becomes a member.

The following committees will launch the roll call Thursday:

County Attorney Files Four Cases In County Court

Four cases were filed in county court by County Attorney Roy L. Hill the past week-end and two were disposed of Monday morning. The sheriff's department conducted a raid on the Olim Dryer place near Rowena Sunday night and confiscated about a case of beer. A charge of possession for the purpose of sale was filed Monday and after a plea of guilty the defendant was fined $100 and costs.

Elmer Wheelis, 14 years old, was tried in juvenile court Monday and sentenced to the reform school at Gatesville. The case developed from the theft of a car belonging to Malcolm Wardlaw Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Wardlaw left their car parked near the Texas Theatre and when they returned a short time later it was gone. The matter was reported to officers and the boy was found in the car on Thirteenth Street later in the afternoon. Sheriff Calvin Roberson will take the youth to Gatesville this week.

Officers of the state liquor control board and members of the sheriff's department made a raid at Rowena Sunday afternoon and arrested Alfred Evans, who was charged Monday with possession of beer for the purpose of sale. The case was set for trial in county court the latter part of the week.

The same group of officers conducted another raid at the B. U. McQueen residence in Ballinger and confiscated 21 cans of beer found under a bee hive in the back yard. A charge of possession for the purpose of sale was filed by the county attorney and the case set for trial this week-end.

Stores Will Close On Armistice Day; Open Late Friday

Ballinger stores will close Saturday in observance of Armistice Day. This action was taken by local merchants after a questionnaire was submitted by the Ballinger Board of Community Development and a tabulation of votes showed about 70 per cent in favor of closing for the day.

Grocery stores have announced that they will observe Saturday hours on Friday, remaining open until late Friday night in order to accommodate shoppers. A number of them will offer their regular week-end specials on Monday to supply those who could not come to town Friday.

War in Europe Influences American Christmas Toys

The influence of war was distinctly noticeable in the preview of American Christmas toys held in New York recently. In addition to guns, tanks and planes, there were toy ambulances and other first aid equipment. A little war nurse in toy uniform inspects her battlefield casualty—a doll. A young soldier has the time of his life with front line equipment.

Rowena Armistice Program Expected To Attract Many

One of the biggest gatherings in West Texas observing Armistice will be held at Rowena Sunday. For many years the people of this community have been holding an Armistice celebration, climaxing the day with the meal prepared by the housewives at noon.

Because of the difference in observing Armistice this year, some towns closing up on Saturday and a few on Monday, the Rowena people decided to split the difference and announced their program for Sunday, November 12.

The program will start with the main address at 10:30 a. m. and continue until 11 o'clock. The dining hall will be opened at 11:30 and serving will continue until everybody has been fed. The usual menu of chicken, turkey, country sausage, numerous salads, vegetables and desserts will be found on the table.

L. B. Baca will direct a band which will provide music during the entire day and a concert during the dinner hour. In the afternoon the annual auction sale will be held, games and other entertainment provided. At night a dance with good music is scheduled at O. D. H. S. Hall.

Many Ballingerites plan to attend the Rowena program and several hundred will be on hand for the noon meal. Other sections of West Texas will be well represented and Rowena citizens are preparing for one of the largest crowds in recent years.

Tom Crockett, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Crockett, of Hatchel, is now in the 62nd signal battalion, Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio. He formerly entered the air corps, but the division being filled he was transferred in the signal corps. The signal corps offers better opportunities for advancement, it was said.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Kirk and George Kirk attended the homecoming at Baylor University, Waco, and witnessed the Baylor-T. C. U. football game Saturday.

WPA School Lunch Project Considered for the County

Two Extensions Of REA Assured; Another Probable

Two more extensions by the rural electrification administration in this section are assured and a third is probable. This information was announced the past week-end by Carroll Land, assistant superintendent in charge of the Ballinger REA office.

One new line will be strung from Bethel to Concho, taking in the Pony community and serving a large number of homes. Citizens along the proposed route have signed up for service and the project is expected to receive early approval.

Another line, soon to be constructed, will originate near Miles and extend to Harriet, Tom Green county. This line will be about fifteen miles long and serve approximately 50 patrons.

A third extension is being planned for the Norton section and workers are in the field securing signatures of citizens along the proposed line.

The section west of Miles will extend from the Harriet store east to the Oasis Inn and north to take in the Klattenhoff school community. This line will provide electricity for five dairies and two large water systems.

The extension south of Ballinger will cross the Concho River at a point south of the Concho store to serve a number of ranch and farm homes in Concho county.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Goss, of Abilene, were here Sunday, visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Simpson. Mrs. Goss remained for a longer visit.

Former Ballinger Man Killed When Train Hits Auto

Ralph Hornburg, formerly of Ballinger, was killed in an automobile-train collision at Ft. Worth Friday night. Two girl companions, Miss Jewel Leftwich and Miss Dorothy Ridings, both seniors in Texas Christian University, were also killed in the crash.

The accident occurred at 10:55 p. m. Hornburg and the young women came to a railroad crossing and evidently did not see the approaching train until it was too late to stop. Hornburg, who was driving, cut sharply to the left in an effort to drive down the side of the track but the car was caught on the coal tender just behind the engine. It was thrown across the right-of-way and all the front of the car was crushed in on Hornburg. Both girls were thrown clear but were badly mangled. The young man was dead when helpers arrived to remove his body from the wreckage and the girls died en route to a hospital.

Hornburg was reared at Winters and later moved to the Bethel community. He was cashier at the Ballinger Piggly Wiggly store for several years and since going to Ft. Worth had been assistant manager of a Pic-Wic store. His mother and a brother, Ralph Hornburg, reside at Corsicana.

A double funeral service was held for Hornburg and Miss Leftwich Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Carroll, of Ballinger, attended the rites.

M. A. FOY PAINFULLY INJURED IN FALL

M. A. Foy, manager of the Safeway Store in Ballinger, sustained very painful injuries Tuesday afternoon when he fell from a balcony floor about ten feet high. Mr. Foy was getting some merchandise from the balcony and had walked near the edge when his foot slipped and he fell headlong into a pair of trucks on the floor below. He received cuts around the left eye and a number of bruises about the face.

County's Ginnings To Saturday Night Total 15,000 Bales

A fairly accurate check-up on cotton ginnings in Runnels county for the season revealed approximately 15,000 bales handled by the ginners to Saturday night. Local cotton men estimate between 1,000 and 2,000 more bales will be ginned this year. Some of this cotton will not be picked until after frost because of the late planting on some farms.

The remainder of the crop is expected to come in very slowly and gins will only have a small amount of business the remainder of the season.

H. W. Lynn, manager of the West Texas Cotton Oil Co. mill at Ballinger, stated that no definite time had been set for beginning operations by the mill. He said it would be the shortest run for the Ballinger mill since 1903. Production was less in 1917 and 1918 but outside seed was shipped here to be converted into feed products.

Practically all the cotton is being shipped from here by trucks and there will be little for the local compress, officials said.

Mrs. J. H. Porter, of Abilene, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. E. C. Grindstaff, this week.

Miss Ann Morton spent the past week-end with friends at Gatesville.

At a meeting of Ballinger business men held last Friday morning at the Central Hotel it was voted to present one of the most elaborate series of Christmas programs ever offered here. These programs comprise six separate events, a total of 18 features, and will begin December 1 and continue until December 23.

A steering committee, composed of Troy Simpson, J. E. Paxton, W. O. Wallace, C. R. Stone, George Clements, Wilbur Redwine, F. A. Lawrence and Gus Barr, was appointed. This committee met Saturday, named a number of special sub-committees and decided other arrangements. Three other meetings were called for this week to get the special committees started on their assignments.

A special fund will be raised in advance to take care of all the expenses of the program and all prizes will be paid in cash when awards are decided.

The first feature will be held on Friday, December 1, when Christmas show windows are to be opened. Cash prizes in two classes will be $7.50, $5 and $2.50, a total of $30. In addition to the inspection and judging of windows, each will contain gifts and stores will remain open for these to be claimed by those attending the program. Similar gifts will be offered from that date until Christmas.

The big Christmas parade will not be overlooked. This event is billed for December 16. The committee believes that in previous years this feature has been permitted to be classed as "poor" and this year a parade will be arranged by a strong committee with local organizations and firms taking part to make it more attractive. Children with decorated toys, advertising entries and novelties are to be included.

The biggest undertaking will be a daily broadcast of a local Yuletide program each afternoon from December 14 to December 24. Loudspeakers will be erected on the streets so that the sound will overlap from one to another. A central studio will be set up in one of the churches that has a pipe organ and each afternoon from 5:00 to 6:00 a program will be rendered which can be heard in all stores and along the streets. Arrangements have been made to bring the big model kitchen and broadcasting studio of the West Texas Utilities Co. here and other programs will be presented at specified hours several days by groups from various sections of the county. No advertising will be permitted on these broadcasts. Announcements of citywide interest, promotion of charities, and numbers that will create a better Christmas spirit will be heard each afternoon.

On Sunday, December 17 a program for the public will be presented from a stage on the court house lawn. A chorus of 150 voices will be assembled from the churches and schools of the city and the Ballinger high school band will play the accompaniment for a concert of Christmas carols and a local pastor will deliver a Christmas message.

The decoration committee was named in the sessions Saturday and it was decided to install more

Teachers' Group Organizes; League Directors Elected

Teachers from all schools of the county met here Saturday morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of forming the Runnels County Teachers' Association and also to discuss interscholastic league rules and name directors for the year.

The meeting was held at the Ballinger high school auditorium and H. G. Hamrick, of Wingate, was reelected president of the county group. The organization also named three delegates to attend the Mid-Texas Teachers' Association meeting at San Angelo on February 1. All schools of the county are affiliated with the association with the exception of Ballinger and Winters. These two schools have enough teachers to maintain their own associations but each will send officials delegates to the San Angelo meeting. The county association delegates this year are E. C. Grindstaff, county superintendent; J. I. Warren, Miles; and H. G. Hamrick, Wingate.

Following the organization the teachers discussed the organization of the 1939-40 interscholastic league. It was decided to hold the meet at Ballinger and Supt. Nat Williams was elected director-general of the meet. Dates for the various events will be set later by the executive board.

Other directors of the meet are: E. C. Grindstaff, director of rural schools; H. G. Hamrick, Wingate, director of declamation; E. D. Stringer, Winters, director of debate; George Stowe, Ballinger, director of extemporaneous speaking; O. L. Conger, Norton, director of spelling; Ernest Caskey, Winters, director of ready writing; F. T. Wright, Ballinger, director of athletics; Miss Carmen Demmer, Ballinger, director of music memory; Miss Beatrice Collier, Miles, director of picture memory; Ben

14 4-H Club Boys Feeding Lambs on Commercial Plan

Runnels county 4-H club boys have started the biggest lamb feeding project ever attempted in this county. A check-up the past week-end disclosed fourteen boys are feeding 145 lambs. Commercial feeding is being done to try to show a profit on their work and to use home-grown feed, supplemented with cottonseed meal for finishing. All are using oats, maize and bundled forage along with the meal rations.

These boys plan a show here next spring after which the livestock will be taken to Fort Worth and sold.

The first project of this kind was launched last year and was very successful. The day the animals were shipped to Fort Worth a total of 92 were put on exhibition in Ballinger and were judged and small cash premiums paid the winners. At Fort Worth the lambs topped the market for that day and the boys realized a net profit of $2.02 per animal. Those feeding at this time are: Jack Pritchard and James Ballew, both of the Mazeland club, 5 lambs each; Hudson Herring and Zane Grey McWilliams, both of the Norton club, 6 lambs each; Eugene Halfmann, 5 lambs, and Walter Halfmann, 6 lambs, both of the Olifen club; Wilbert Gully, Rowena club, 20 lambs; Eugene Loika, 20 lambs, Claude Thompson, 10 lambs each, of the Bethel club; John Wessel, Barnett club, 10 lambs; Bradley Pape, 18 lambs, Arnold Alcorn, 19 lambs, both of the Crews club; and James Harrel, Blanton club, 5 lambs.

All the boys have a good start and expect to have some fine lambs when the show is held here next spring.

Reports received here indicate that the tomb was a private one. The walls, lavishly decorated with stucco, are in perfect preservation. The body of the girl had been laid out on two masonry supports. On each side was a skeleton. Near the remains of the girl were a solid gold crown twenty-six inches in circumference, a golden necklace and other costly ornaments.

Women: "Build-Up" To Relieve Pain

A weak, run-down, undernourished condition calls for attention!

Such a condition often enables functional dysmenorrhea to get its foothold. That's one thing which leads to much of women's suffering from headaches, nervousness, those cramp-like pains. A good way to relieve such pains, women by thousands have found, is by the proper use of CARDUI. It stimulates a lagging appetite, assists digestion and assimilation; thus helps build physical resistance to periodic pain. Taken just before and during "the time," many women also report that CARDUI helps to ease the pain and discomfort of the period.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. Leading the party was the maid of honor, Miss Olga Eggemeyer, sister of the groom. Following the maid of honor came the usher and bridesmaid, Gilbert Lange, brother of the bride, and Miss Benita Eggemeyer, sister of the groom. Marching next was a bridesmaid, Miss Katherine Beach, a friend of the bride, and the best man, Werner Lange, a brother of the bride. They were followed by the ring bearer and flower girl, Hubert Lange, brother of the bride, and Miss Mary Ann Eggemeyer, sister of the groom. The bride entered on the arm of the groom.

The bride wore a white satin dress with an embroidered bustle back and long sleeves with lace inserts. Her long tulle veil, edged in point lace was held at the head with a crown of pearls. She wore white satin sandals. Her only ornament was a gold prayer book locket, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias.

The bride's attendants wore identical dresses of taffeta with circular skirts, puffed sleeves and bolero jacket effect. They all wore gold sandals, flowers in their hair and gold necklaces and carried bouquets of mixed flowers.

The maid of honor wore a gold colored dress, while the bridesmaids, Miss Benita Eggemeyer and Miss Katherine Beach, wore an American beauty red and teal blue, respectively. The flower girl wore lavender. The groom and his attendants wore dark suits with boutonnières of violets. The ring bearer carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

After mass, two of the members of the Children of Mary Sodality accompanied the bride to the altar of the Blessed Virgin and there together recited the act of consecration and presented her with a statue of the Blessed Virgin. The bride's attendants to the altar of the Blessed Virgin were Misses Elsie Hafernik and Sidona Lange.

The church and altar were beautifully decorated with autumn flowers. After the ceremony, an all-day celebration was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr.

The celebration ended with a dance at night in the Olfen hall. Music was furnished by the Pelzel orchestra. A shower was given the bride by the Children of Mary Sodality, of which she was a member. There also was a shower given by the relatives and friends of the bride and groom. A picture of the Last Supper was presented to the bride by Court St. Monica No. 1262, Catholic Daughters of America.

Want to Feel like a Big Shot?

PROBABLY you're a big shot already to someone, so you know something of how good it feels.

What we mean is, how'd you like to feel like you used to think a big shot must feel, cruising along in his big brawny Buick, envy of every youngster in town?

Fact is, a big brawny Buick—this year's beauty of a Buick—is within your reach right now, if you just put your mind to it.

A husky headlong 107-horse-powered giant valve-in-head straight-eight can be yours to command—you can roll around town in the staunch and steady carriage that's sure big, beautiful and a bearcat in action when its boss gives the word!

Yes, you can ride in the gentle lap of Foamtex-cushioned luxury—shift gears with a flip of your finger, take bumps without notice in BuCoil Springing's "full float" comfort, even signal your turns by a touch on a lever that shuts itself off when you're through with it.

And what do you pay for all this—budget-bursting prices?

ix-nay! On the contrary, you can buy a Buick for less than some sixes! And you'll find when you look into what's included in these prices that they cover many an item that you will be asked to pay extra for elsewhere.

All it takes, really, is the imagination to step up to the car you've really wanted—and once you've made that step, there's no real problem, for this Buick retains its extra first cost in the extra trade-in value it has when you come to buy again.

So lift your sights. Quit grading yourself down. This year, go after the car you really want—which means talking delivered prices and trade-in terms with your nearest Buick dealer.

"Best buy's Buick!"

Reverend Morton Speaks

The Rev. Clarence Morton of the Ballinger Baptist Church spoke to the student body in assembly Friday on "The Parable of the Postage Stamp."

He compared a postage stamp and a Christian person in that each must be made and given a value, each is made to be useful and helpful in the world, each can always be told by his face, each always carries whatever message is entrusted to it, each tends to his own business, neither quits when it is licked, and neither gives up until it is in the "dead letter office."

Mary Simpson and Bill Sykes are to be the pair of "scrapers," and Guy Lively has been cast as the referee of the bout.

Sam Kopecky (Ko-petsky) hails from Rowena and is a two year student. He is vice-president of the 1940 class, a band drummer, a member of the Spanish club and a good grade student. Same was a good football both years, but was forced to quit on account of injuries. He is a good swimmer and loves to fish and hunt, and with those "dimples" he shouldn't have to hunt long. We don't know how he stands on socialized medicine, but he wants to be a doctor.

Jack Bandy McGregor, our Scotch secretary-treasurer, was the selection of the class. He began his schooling in Ballinger and has been an outstanding student in each grade. He holds down the solo trombone chair in the band and for two years has won district and region honors.

He was president of the junior class and a member of the Latin team that went to the tournament in Mineral Wells last year. He likes hunting, fishing, swimming, golf, and dates. He wants to attend Texas Tech and study band.

YOUR CHILD AFRAID? THEN TEACH HIM BETTER

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 8.—Protecting a child by teaching to be afraid of or to avoid certain situations means trouble later. It is much better that the small child understand his environment and how to adapt himself to it.

That's the advice to parents given by Dosca Hale, extension service specialist in parent education child development. Once they are afraid, children cannot be forced to overcome their fears, the specialist says, but they can be forewarned by having dangers explained to them ahead of time.

Adults frequently help children to learn most of the fears they develop as they grow up. In this regard Miss Hale says, "If we threaten Jack with the sheriff or policeman in order to get him to do something we want him to do, we need not be surprised if he develops a fear and a dislike for law instead of thinking of it as a protection for those who wish to do the right thing."

Sometimes adults surround children with fears in trying to get them to be cautious. She lists some examples as "Don't go near the water, you'll fall in," "Stay away from the cow, it'll look you," or "That dog may bite you." Usually these things never happen, but such threats may cause children to develop many fears that will make them unhappy. Wise parents will teach their children to be cautious without being afraid, Miss Hale explains.

MORE VACANCIES HERE IN OCTOBER THAN FOR PAST THREE YEARS

The October 1 city survey disclosed more vacant houses and apartments than have been reported in several years. According to the report released Monday there were 32 vacancies of all kinds and six occupied houses without city water connections.

Water consumption showed much irrigation continuing on account of dry weather. During the month a total of 8,743,000 gallons was used here, an average of 273,000 gallons daily.

Collections for the month were good, a total of $5,478.41 being reported. This was divided as follows: water, $2,349.86; taxes, $1,086.09; delinquent taxes, $407.74; sanitary service, $118.60; plumbing, $10; fines, $2.70; interest on securities, $472.30; cotton rent, $72.29; George W. Taylor, $38.78; paving receipts, $995; miscellaneous, $4.85.

All local WPA projects were continued, the city's part for October amounting to $656.41.

NORTON F. H. A. CLASS BUSY WITH PROJECTS

The Norton Future Homemakers of America met on October 21 and decided to hold their regular club session on the first and third Tuesday of each month. They approved for their motto, "If every member were just like me, what a wonder club this club would be."

Stuart Setzer read the program for the year which was endorsed by the group.

Miss Betty Stuart, of Ballinger, met with the club October 26, and gave a lecture and demonstration on preparation of school lunches. This was interesting as the club was studying this subject in their class.

The girls sponsored a Halloween carnival on October 31 to make additional money to finish furnishing their cottage. The response was good, about $45 being taken in.

FORMER BALLINGERITE OPENS STORE AT HOUSTON

Frank Schneider, former Ballinger boy and son of Mrs. J. M. Schneider, opened a drug store at Houston the past week-end. Newspaper accounts stated the new store was one of the most modern and best located in the city.

Mr. Schneider has been away from Ballinger since before the war. He was a student in Baylor medical school at Dallas for four years and completed a course in pharmacy at Galveston. For the past thirteen years he has been associated with a drug firm in Houston and last week opened his own store.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Coleman, of Madisonville, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Barr this week. Mr. Coleman is a druggist at Madisonville and representative of the 56th district in the legislature.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Paxton spent the week-end in Fort Worth, visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. W. L. Brown, of Austin, spent the week-end with friends here.

Preparations are being made for about 125 plates and the main speaker for the occasion, to be selected in the near future, probably will be a man prominent in the field of agriculture or at least familiar with its problems and condition.

The place for the banquet has not been selected but a committee is looking after this detail and will announce it as soon as arrangements are completed. Miss Frances Taylor and members of the home economics class of the senior high school will serve the banquet.

Mozelle Boys Prove Tough Competition For the Bearcats

The Ballinger Bearcats turned in another victory last Friday night, defeating the Mozelle eleven 27 to 13, but not until after a stiff fight lasting for 60 minutes. The visitors lived up to their reputation as the "razzle-dazzle" team of the conference, and during the entire four quarters filled the air with passes that kept an uncertain feeling in the fans until the game was over.

Douglass Cox, Bearcat tailback, turned in one of his best games of the season and was responsible for 25 of the 27 points made by his team.

Ballinger received the ball going to Byers who started up the side line, handed the ball to Cox who broke into the open and raced 75 yards for a touchdown. Cox passed to Byers for the extra point making the score 7 to 0 in the first 30 seconds of the game.

In the second period the Bearcats staged a drive up the field with line plunges by Cox and a few short passes. Allison broke through a hole for fifteen yards and a first down and on the second try, Cox went over for another counter. Cox drop kicked for the extra.

In the third quarter, passes started clicking for the Mozelle boys and they marched up the field with Row throwing to Abernathy for most of the complications. On Ballinger's ten-yard line Row heaved a bullet pass over the line to Abernathy for the counter and a second later threw another in the flat zone for the extra point.

The Bearcats came back strong and Cox reeled off a number of long gains behind beautiful interference of Long and Green. He plunged the line from the eight-yard stripe for the counter. His kick was low for the extra point.

The old "hide-out" play came into action for the other Mozelle score. After a long end run by Row, Abernathy remained on the far sideline, the team lined up and Row threw a pass to the "hide-out" who was in a clear field all the way. The pass and run was good for 55 yards. Loika broke through the line and slapped the ball from Row's hand as he attempted to pass for the extra point.

Cold weather kept many fans away and the smallest crowd of the year saw this interesting game.

Ballinger chalked up 19 first downs to Mozell's 8.

Hunters have found it difficult to drown a broken-winged bird as long as the end of the broken bone was not submerged.

Sport Slants

A large number of fans let a little cold weather keep them from seeing a fine ball game Friday night. The air was full of footballs all the evening and there was a thrill on every play.

Cox pulled a new one from the bag Friday night when he drop kicked after a touchdown for the extra points. It was the first kick of the kind seen here for many moons and some fans did not know what was coming. This accomplishment only adds another reason to his many claims for the best all-round player in district B-A. Sports writers in both San Angelo and Abilene had nice things to say about the Ballinger tailback in their columns Sunday.

Green, substitute back, showed the fans some blocking Friday night. On end runs it looked like some of the last year team were in the lineup as defense players were knocked off their feet and extra yards given to the ball carrier.

Alvin Bell, Bearcat center, was another standout for the Ballinger boys, playing a bang-up defense game and diagnosing plays fast and meeting them head-on. His offense was also up to par and his passes from center were on the spot. Landreth, who only played a few minutes in the game, looked good to fans, both carrying the ball, blocking and on defense. Fans should see more of him before the season closes.

The next game will be a tough one for the Bearcats and it will take lots of fight to overcome the heaviest team in the district. The game will be played at Coleman Friday night at 7:45. All loyal fans are urged to be there.

Can the Bearcats Stop Them?

Approximately 150 peppers and bandmen will need rides to the Coleman game. Telephone 100 and tell them how many you can take with you. It is a short ride over a good road and you will enjoy the outing and the game.

Following the defeat at the hands of the Brady team there was an apparent let-down among fans, players, and students. This must not continue until Friday of Coleman will clinch second place. The Coleman and Ballinger teams each have one loss and the battle will decide second place in the district.

Douglass Jackson, coach at Rising Star and former Bearcat player, was here a short time Friday night en route home from Winters where his Indians took a 6 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Blizzards.

All Bearcat players who make their letters this year will be given a trip to College Station Thanksgiving Day to witness the A. & M.-Texas game. This will be one of the most colorful contests in the state this year. Seats are already sold out for the game and a crowd of approximately 45,000 will witness the fray. The Ballinger boys will go there in a bus.

Bearcat-Bluecat Contest Will Be Attraction Friday

The Ballinger Bearcats will go to Coleman Friday night to meet the heavy Bluecats in the regular Armistice Day game. The Bluecats rested last week and a large number of the Colemanites were here to watch the Bearcats in their game with the Mozelle team. Among the group were both the Coleman coaches and a number of the players.

The Bluecats outweigh the Bearcats considerably and will do a lot of mid-line smashing and passing in an attempt to defeat them. Nothing short of the fight shown against the Brady Bulldogs will defeat the heavier opponents and all the sideline support possible will be needed at Hufford Field Friday evening.

So far this season the Bearcats have been a little more impressive, especially in their fight against Brady. The Ballinger-Brady score was 20 to 12, while the Bulldogs defeated Coleman 35 to 2.

Coach Felton T. Wright is nursing several cripples this week while the Coleman crew is in good condition following its rest the past week-end. Tommie Allison is still suffering with an ankle and other players received injuries in the Mozelle game.

EXPLODING THE MYTH ABOUT "Short Banking Hours"

If you think that bank employees work only five or six hours a day, you're wrong.

Most banks, including ours, work as long as other types of business. Before we open in the morning we prepare for the day ahead. After we close our doors in the afternoon we are busily engaged for some time balancing books, making records, counting money, doing a hundred-and-one essential tasks.

Remember that the next time someone says "I wish I had bankers' hours!"

WARNING IS ISSUED TO CHECK UP ON GAS APPLIANCES AT ONCE

Several hundred dirt daubers in town are looking for new homes, J. A. Schnable, manager for the Community Natural Gas Company here, reports. The acute housing shortage among the insects is attributed to the recent cold snap which brought gas stoves out of garages and other storage places and set them up for use.

"Dirt daubers had rather build their dirt houses in space heaters, orifices, and tubing connection ends than any other place, apparently," Mr. Schnable explained. "And when our customers set their stoves up for the winter heating season, they sometimes find the gas won't turn on. Investigation usually shows the remains of a dirt dauber's summer home blocking the passage."

A serious warning was issued by the local manager, urging customers to have all heating equipment and gas piping inspected now, at the beginning of the heating season.

"Dirty, improperly adjusted burners not only waste gas, but are a possible source of carbon monoxide which can result from the incomplete combustion of any fuel," he pointed out. "Properly used, natural gas is as safe as any other fuel, and a few simple precautions will eliminate the possibility of accidents," he continued.

"If escaping gas is detected, all flames should be extinguished at once and doors and windows should be opened. Gas valves and cocks should be closed and the gas turned off at the meter. Call the gas company or a competent plumber at once, and meanwhile allow no flame of any kind to be brought into the room."

Mrs. F. M. Maddox, of Lubbock, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Padgett, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hall, of Denton, are visiting Mr. Hall's sister, Mrs. Viola Allison, this week.

Mrs. Joe Kennedy and daughter, Miss Ruby Kennedy, have returned to their home at Dublin after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Denny.

Hamilton Will be Accorded Military Rites at Harlingen

Funeral services for Lee Hamilton, 44, will be held at Harlingen Saturday afternoon. Mr. Hamilton died in an Alpine hospital Tuesday at 2:55 p. m. from injuries sustained when his automobile plunged down a mountain from the Alpine-Terlingua highway Sunday afternoon, October 29.

The Pat Williams post of the American Legion, of which Mr. Hamilton had been a member for many years, requested a military funeral for the World War veteran, and the Harlingen post will be in charge at the grave.

The Hamilton family and an Alpine boy had been on a trip into the Big Bend region on the day of the accident. They were en route home when Mr. Hamilton lost control of the car and let it run from the road. His injuries included concussion of the brain, a back injury, paralysis of one side and a broken pelvis. All members of the family were taken to the Alpine hospital following the accident and all have been dismissed.

Decedent made home in Ballinger for twenty years. He came here soon after the war, serving in the navy during the hostilities. A large part of the time here he was employed by the American Express Co. and had been agent at Ballinger for two years before transferring to Alpine on August 16. He was a member of the First Christian Church of Ballinger and had been a member of the local American Legion post since shortly after its organization. He served in a number of offices and was post adjutant two years ago.

Survivors besides the wife include a daughter, Lillian, 17; a son, Marion, 8; his mother, Mrs. M. M. Hamilton, Georgetown; a brother and a sister, who reside at Coleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Patterson were at Mr. Hamilton's bedside the first part of this week and returned to Ballinger Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Patterson is a sister-in-law of decedent.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAYERS, AT TEXAS NOVEMBER 21

As a special feature at the Texas Theatre on Tuesday, November 21, the Cue and Curtain Club of the Ballinger high school will present a one-act play, "Papa Said No," directed by Ernest Sublett. The play was presented several weeks ago as a chapel program for the senior high school. The play is a farce-comedy written by Dana Thomas and the presentation time is 25 minutes. Methodist Pastor Off to Conference With Good Report

Rev. E. D. Landreth left Wednesday morning for Fort Worth to attend the annual meeting of the Central Texas conference. The reports of the local Methodist church were perfected this week and the pastor will report every item paid in full and include a splendid gain in membership during his eleven months' service here.

Rev. Landreth came to Ballinger about one month after conference last year, transferring to the Ballinger church from the Northwest Texas conference. Rev. Frank Turner had been elected president of McMurry College, Abilene, necessitating the change in December. Since coming here Rev. Landreth has done splendid work as well as attested in his annual report.

There will be no preaching services at the First Methodist Church Sunday. Sunday school will be held at the usual hour, however, and the members dismissed after that service in time to attend other churches.

A number of Ballinger Methodists plan to go to Fort Worth this week-end and attend the closing sessions of the annual conference. Appointments for next year will be read either Sunday afternoon or night.

Santa Fe Station Damaged by Fire; Loss About $2,000

Fire in the Santa Fe passenger station here last Friday morning caused damages totalling approximately $2,050, according to inspections completed here Wednesday afternoon. The alarm was sounded about 2:30 a. m. and firemen fought the flames several hours. J. J. Beck, Santa Fe agent at Ballinger, said this morning that the fire originated in the basement, but the heating plant was still in perfect condition. The flames went up through the stairway and into the ceiling. The most damage was done in the basement, ticket office, ceiling and roof about the center of the building.

Mr. Beck stated that temporary repairs were underway and permanent improvements to be started at once would make the station as good as before the fire. Santa Fe officials here Wednesday expressed appreciation for the good work done by Ballinger firemen in keeping the flames from spreading.

The last employee to leave the station, Thursday night at 11 o'clock, observed no indications of fire. He went down into the basement to tend the furnace just before locking up and leaving.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Medien and baby, of Austin, have returned home after a visit with Dr. and Mrs. O. R. Lasater, Mrs. Medien's parents. Miss Mary Catherine Spooner, of Georgetown, returned home Sunday after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McAdams.

'The Lost Patrol' Said Very Dramatic And Daring

Said to be daringly different and intensely dramatic in theme and treatment, "The Lost Patrol" to be shown at the Palace Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, November 12-13-14, presents Victor McLaglen, Boris Karloff, Wallace Ford, Reginald Denny and a strong supporting cast in a colorful story of gallantry and suffering on the desert of Mesopotamia.

The story, based on the famous novel by Philip MacDonald, centers about the plight of eleven men, members of a British cavalry detachment which is lost on the bleak sands without knowledge of its orders, its exact whereabouts, or its destination—its commanding officer having been killed by sniping Arabs.

Taking refuge in an oasis, the soldiers become virtual prisoners there when the Arab enemies slip up on the camp at night, kill a ring of death about them, the men react in various ways to the strains of waiting for the inevitable doom. As the invisible enemy strikes again and again, and the ranks of the patrol grow ever thinner, the drama is said to move swiftly to a tremendous climax.

The cast includes J. M. Kerrigan, Billy Bevan, Alan Hale, Brandon Hurst, Douglas Walton, Paul Hanson, Sammy Stein and Howard Wilson.

REV. McKISSICK HOME FROM TRIP TO AUSTIN

Rev. J. T. McKissick returned Wednesday from Austin, where he had been to visit his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKissick, the former until recently an assistant attorney general of Texas. DALLAS NEWS WRITER PRAISES WRIGHT BOARD

George White, sports writer for the Dallas News, gave a full two-column spread Wednesday to the Wright blocking recorder, invented by Coach Felton T. Wright, of Ballinger, and now offered for sale by a local company. The Dallas sports writer told of effects on players and the increased interest of fans.

White reviewed how the board was originated and the results of blocking on the Ballinger team as soon as it was put in operation. He also cited the increase in receipts at football games after the board was installed.

A board was recently sold and installed at Crane and salesmen have reported that a number of other schools are interested but because of the lateness of the season may not purchase boards until next year.

Claude Collins, Jr., and Pete McKenzie are pushing sales of the recorders and have given demonstrations to many coaching staffs this year.

Darryl F. Zanuck's production, "Hollywood Cavalcade," starring Alice Faye and Don Ameche, and filmed in Technicolor, reenacts anew the romance of Hollywood from bathing beauties to world premieres; tells the great human story of Mike, who wanted to make movies, and Molly, who wanted only to be loved by Mike but who instead won greatness on the screen. It tells the drama of the men and women like them who conquered the entertainment world in the romantic, fabulous, zany years of Hollywood's rise.

Staged again, with great stars of today and great personalities of yesterday, with slapstick and a custard-pie comedy, and Don Ameche directing. The Mack Sennett bathing girls are trotted out, and this time Alice Faye is one. Once again Buster Keaton, Ben Turpin, Chester Conklin and the Keystone Cops are seen in hilarious scenes from the past. Once again, Al Jolson sings the song with which he electrified the world in "The Jazz Singer." Hollywood as it was and as it is, is shown in a three-ring circus of entertainment.

This 20th Century-Fox film is billed at the Texas Theatre in midnight preview Saturday night, and in regular presentations Sunday and Monday, November 12 and 13. Just as "Alexander's Ragtime Band" brought back happy memories, so "Hollywood Cavalcade" will recall fondest movie days. Irving Cummings, himself a 30-year veteran of film-dom, directed.

The cast also includes J. Edward Bromberg, Alan Curtis, Stu Erwin, Jed Prouty, Donald Meek, George Givot and Eddie Collins.

a Story of The Rug--- A man who lives not far from Ballinger was approached the other day by a stranger. The stranger had a number of rugs for sale. They were orientals, he said. Through some mysterious method which he hinted about but didn't explain, he was able to get these rugs into the United States duty free. Hence, the phenomenally low prices. It sounded "good." The rugs were attractive. The gentleman who lives not far from here was persuaded. He bought one of the rugs. Until a few days ago he was happy in his purchase. Then he learned from a friend who knew rugs that he had purchased a very ordinary rug that would retail usually at from ten to twenty dollars less than he paid for it. The moral is obvious. Buy your rugs from your Ballinger merchants. If the rug you want is not carried in stock, any local dealer can get it for you or put you in touch with reliable houses who can be depended upon. Transient rug salesmen may be all right—but we don't know. THE BALLINGER LEDGER

Ballinger people are showing their respect for Armistice Day and will close their stores Saturday in remembrance of the event that brought peace to the nation, a peace which is still enjoyed. No program will be presented here but attractions in other towns will cause many citizens to take advantage of the two-day holiday to make trips. Elsewhere in this paper attention is called to the full page ad on Armistice. It is a peace message on the 21st birthday of the peace brought about by the close of the World War.

Ballinger merchants are undertaking a series of Christmas programs designed to keep shoppers at home and supply their needs here. These programs are the most elaborate ever attempted here and demand the support of all merchants if successful. Support must be accorded in both work and money. If cooperation is obtained the features will bring many additional people to Ballinger to shop, not once but often during the Christmas season. Be ready when committees ask you for support and assist in any way you are called on.

Runnels county school officials launched an excellent move Saturday when they started investigation to obtain a WPA school lunch project in this county. There are children attending our schools who have little to eat. Their lunches often consist of a cold biscuit with cold potatoes and teachers observe that they slip off to eat their meager meal if possible. Even though times are hard, the small part to be provided by the sponsors would be nothing when compared with the amount of good these lunches will do when issued to those actually in need of food. The project would provide jobs for a number of women as well as food for the children.

The annual Red Cross roll call will get underway in Runnels county this week-end. In previous years people have joined, paid their dollars and felt that they were being generous. This year the need for this great organization is apparent. With a war in Europe, refugees in many nations without homes, clothing or food, conditions no better than usual in America, the Red Cross will be called upon to shoulder a much bigger task than since 1918. To care for actual needs the organization must have more money and while only heads of families have joined in past year, this year they must take a membership for every member of the family. Ballinger must not fall under 500 members. Those who think back over the past three years and notice the work done locally by the organization will realize that this is a very small amount for our citizens to do.

A. C. C. BAND PARADE IS VIEWED BY MANY

A large crowd was on the streets Saturday afternoon to witness the parade by the Abilene Christian College band. The musicians in their uniforms of blue and white marched through Hutchings Avenue followed by the pep squad and the three large buses used to transport them.

The musicians and peppers were en route to San Angelo where they met and defeated Austin College, of Sherman, Saturday night.

WEST TEXAS NOTES

An order for 3,000 cans of goat meat chili has been placed with the home demonstration clubs of Menard county by J. W. Bolding, retired naval officer. The women have started work on the order and expect to make delivery by Christmas. Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth, county home demonstration agent, who is in charge of the canning, thinks the clubs will make about $600 out of the project.

Lloyd Rumsey, Miles F. F. A. boy, was one of the big winners in the fat lamb division of the Midwest Exposition at Sweetwater last week. He won first, second and fourth places in the buck class, first and second in the ewe lamb class, and had the reserve champion and the grand champion in the ewe show.

A large number of women attended the Tri-County Parent-Teacher Association meeting at Paint Rock last Saturday. Delegates were present from Concho, Tom Green and McCulloch counties. An interesting program was presented.

All students of the Melvin high school will go to Brady Saturday to take part in the American Legion Armistice parade. One Melvin youth also will be on the parade as student speaker. In addition to the Melvin group, a number of other schools in the vicinity will participate in the parade.

A sign at Richards Park in Brady says, "This park for use of whites only, negroes and Mexicans not allowed." The sign has evoked a strong protest from the Mexicans and the Mexican consul at San Antonio recently asked for an explanation. He has been informed that the land was donated for park purposes with the condition that it be used for whites only.

W. H. Sharp, farmer near Albany, has purchased a large caterpillar tractor with a bulldozer attachment to be used in uprooting mesquite trees. Contracts are being made for clearing land, and a number of ranchmen have witnessed demonstrations of clearing pasture land.

The first "lie detector" ever employed in this part of the state was taken to Comanche last week by State Ranger A. L. Barr to be used on Henry P. Haynes, self-confessed murderer of his grandmother. A group of court attaches and peace officers watched the demonstration and several predicted that the machine would soon be in general use. Sweetwater citizens are appealing to the state highway commission for improvements on highway 80 from Sweetwater to a point two miles west of Roscoe. A 120-foot right-of-way and cutting down of a number of hills to eliminate hazards are items sought. Members of the commission gave the Sweetwater delegation encouragement in a hearing at Austin.

Stephenville was "football minded" the past week-end when two special trains were operated out of the city. One went to Sweetwater where the Stephenville and Sweetwater high school teams clashed and the other to Brady for the game between the John Tarleton College and Shreiner Institute teams. Both trains were well filled with students and fans.

Cotton ginnings at Winters are far behind the usual mark. Located in the center of a good cotton growing area, Winters gins usually enjoy a long and continuous run. The decrease is due to the reduction of acreage required by the AAA and protracted dry weather.

Rising Star poultry dealers are all set to start processing turkeys this week. Indications are that many birds will not be ready until the Christmas market, farmers reporting their turkeys are not yet mature.

Although practically the same as in 1939, the 1940 range building program of the AAA includes several additions especially beneficial to Texas ranchmen, according to an announcement here at state headquarters of the AAA.

Of special interest to West Texas ranchmen is the change in the basis of payment for contour listing or furrowing, with payments being made at the rate of two and one-half cents per 100 linear foot instead of 50 cents per acre.

range building program encourages the establishment and improvement of permanent cover on range land by providing for each ranch a range building allowance to be earned by carrying out range building practices, Kingsbery explained.

Greater emphasis will be placed on the carrying out of supplemental range practices in connection with deferred grazing by which ranchers earn payments for keeping livestock off rangeland until the native grass can mature seed and reseed the land. The maximum that can be earned by deferred grazing in any area shall be 75 per cent, as compared with 60 per cent last year, but supplementary practices as recommended by the county committee must be carried out. The percentage of the allowance which can be earned by this practice depends on the county committee of each county, since the need of supplementary practices varies according to the area.

To encourage improvement of small ranches, the 1940 program provides for a minimum range building allowance equivalent to 10 cents an acre up to 640 acres. In the past the range building allowance has been computed on the size of the ranching unit and its grazing capacity with low grazing capacity received such small allowances they were hardly worth working for.

In an effort to simplify administration, provision has been made that the range program and the agricultural conservation program may be combined in any state or area if the state committee desires to do so.

QUOTA LAW NOW BEING ENFORCED IN TEXAS

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 8.—Strict enforcement of the cotton marketing quota provisions of the AAA of 1938 are underway in Texas, E. N. Holmgren, state AAA administrator, has announced.

Special representatives of the U. S. department of agriculture are investigation charges of violations, he said.

Pointing to the recent decision of Federal Judge James V. Allred upholding the quota provisions, Holmgren declared that the department had already filed suit against one cotton buyer.

In this case, it is charged that the buyer collected the penalty from some cotton farmers, while failing to collect it from others, and then refused to remit any of the sums collected to the secretary of agriculture.

"The purpose of these investigations is to obtain justice for the great majority of cotton growers and handlers who have complied with the cotton marketing quota provisions and to obtain the fullest possible benefits under the national program," the administrator explained.

A majority of 88 per cent of Southern farmers voted in favor of cotton marketing quotas in 1937, although only a two-thirds majority was needed. A cotton marketing quota has been proclaimed for 1940 by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace and Southern cotton farmers will vote December 9 to decide whether quotas will be in effect.

For Better or Worse
By RAY HILL
(McClure Syndicate.)
WPU Service.

"FIVE hundred dollars," Barry Coleman was saying; "five hundred dollars—and, Titi, they're all ours!" He spread the bills fanlike in her lap.

"Not bad, eh, dear?" he went on. "Soon—a year or two more—and we'll have enough. Then . . ." Barry finished the thought with a kiss.

Titi McArthur snuggled closer to him and unconsciously permitted one hand to sift through the money. She loved Barry dearly. And this money—why, every bill was a monumental symbol of his sacrifice at the altar of his great love for her.

"Oh, I'm so happy," she murmured. "But why must we wait so long? Let's get married tomorrow!" "We've waited one whole year," he said. "Let's be patient till we have enough to furnish our own home and be able to pay our own way."

Gathering the money together Barry bundled it neatly into her hand. "Keep this, Precious," he said, "then we'll both know it's safe. And now I'll run along. Got a busy day tomorrow."

"Seems to me you've always got a busy day ahead," said Jimmy, Titi's brother, coming into the room. "Incidentally," he continued, "just why do you work so hard and what's it get you? If you'd cash in on some of these tips I give you . . ."

"Thanks, anyway," Barry smiled; "I'm not a betting man."

"You could make yourself some easy dough," Jimmy persisted. "Tomorrow, for instance, I happen to know it's in the bag for Robinson to win in the third. The odds will be terrific."

Long after Barry had gone Titi sat on her bed and counted the five hundred dollars. Her mind everlastingly jumped back to what Jimmy had said about Robinson.

"Next morning as usual Jimmy read the sports pages at the breakfast table. "Too bad Barry won't go for some of my tips," he said. "Especially that one I gave him last night. This Robinson can't lose. Pop Smith got that from Al Newman himself. Why, say, Pop even gave me the dope on playing the jockeys instead of the horses and I've cleaned up regularly ever since."

Over and over again Titi pictured Barry Coleman's struggle during the past year. And if Jimmy was right this money—this five hundred dollars—could be multiplied so quickly that their worries would be over. When she won they could be married right away. If she lost . . .

Titi picked up the paper Jimmy had been reading. Racing Entries—the headline leaped from the sport page to catch her eye. She found herself looking for Robinson in the third race at each of the five tracks listed. Nowhere could she find a horse of that name. Suddenly she recalled Jimmy's remarks about betting on jockeys. She searched again.

There, at Latonia in the third, Jockey W. Robinson was scheduled to ride a horse named Lover's Prayer!

Lover's Prayer! The very name of the horse dispersed all further doubt. Forthwith she secured the money from her bureau drawer and was speeding to Pop Smith's cigar store on Second street.

"I'm Jimmy McArthur's sister," she explained to Smith, "and I want to place a bet on Lover's Prayer in the third race at Latonia."

Smith cautioned Titi the horse didn't have a chance to win. Then, when he learned the size of the bet he tried to have her play it across the board.

"To win," Titi insisted. "Okay, Lady," Smith said. "It's your funeral."

"Please don't ever mention this to my brother."

When she had taken less than a dozen steps Titi realized she was becoming very weak at the knees. Dazedly she wandered into a motion picture house.

It was five o'clock when the show ended. On the verge of collapse she rushed into Pop Smith's.

"Did I win?" she fairly screamed. "Did you win?" that worthy repeated. "I'll say you won. What a cleanup! That nag paid $10.90. Here's your $5,450 . . ."

Titi was as nervous as a cat when Barry called that night. "I've been so foolish, Barry," she sobbed, as she told Barry the story, "but I do so want to get married right away."

Barry kissed her gently. "You're forgiven, sweetheart," he said, "and we'll get married tomorrow. Only promise me that you'll never bet again."

Jimmy, returning home from the prize fights, stuck his head in the door and said: "Glad you didn't take me up on that tip, Barry, old kid, or you'd have gone to the cleaners, too. That rat Robinson crossed the boys and took a dive in the first round tonight. Giltner never even hit him! Some joke, eh boss?"

"Get a glass of water quickly—Titi's fainted!"

Morton Completes Good Year's Work; Goes to Convention

Rev. and Mrs. Clarence A. Morton will leave Sunday afternoon for San Antonio where they will attend the Southern Baptist convention and other sessions in connection. The meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union and the pastors' and laymen's conference will be held on Monday and Tuesday and the regular convention program will open Tuesday night.

On the convention program prominent Baptist leaders will deliver special messages. San Antonio is expecting to entertain a crowd of 10,000 or more during the period of the convention.

Rev. Morton was busy this week tabulating reports of accomplishments in the local church during the past year a net gain of 77 in membership is revealed. The financial statement was not complete, but the pastor said it would be the best during the three years he has served the Ballinger church.

A steady growth has been made in all departments of the Ballinger Baptist Church during the past year. Attendance at all services has been greater, a new junior choir under the direction of Miss Mary Talbot has been organized, new Sunday school classes formed, and new units of the W. M. U. and young people's groups organized.

Rev. Morton will be in his pulpit Sunday morning, using an Armistice theme for his message. Young people's meetings will be held but there will be no night preaching service.

BALLINGER HOMEMAKERS ATTEND AREA MEETING

Miss Francis Taylor, teacher of home economics in the Ballinger high school, and five members of the class attended the Future Homemaker or area 3 meeting at San Angelo last Saturday. The meeting was attended by 1,700 girls from this section of Texas. Vocational home economics is in its first year in the Ballinger school but a large group of girls are taking the course. Those attending the meeting Saturday were: Martha Jo Reese, Mercedes Faltisek, Doris Brennan, Rosemary Hargett and Clara Beth Lynn. The girls were welcomed to the meeting by the mayor of San Angelo and a style show by San Angelo merchants was presented at the morning session. In the afternoon a talk on Chinese customs in dress was heard and a one-act play was presented by the Eden club.

The next meeting will be held at Sweetwater in October, 1940.

OLFEN GIRLS' 4-H CLUB

The Olfen 4-H club girls held their meeting in the assembly hall on November 3 under the supervision of Miss Myra Tankersley, county home demonstration agent. The meeting was opened with two songs, followed by the recitation of the pledge and club prayer. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Miss Tankersley examined the work of the younger members and gave them some helpful hints. After distributing and explaining leaflets for reports, Miss Tankersley gave some very useful points about poultry, stressing the importance of sanitation and the improvement in equipment for use in turkey raising. She encouraged the members to continue their work and be very exact in keeping records as she is anxious to find out if the work done by the different members is profitable.

1918 - Twenty-one Years - 1939

PEACE COMES OF AGE

Peace is twenty-one years old. Not old enough to acquire wisdom, to be sure, but—certainly—old enough to begin to have a mind of its own.

Peace, you see, is a very real thing. And—thank Heaven—It lives at our house. It sits down at the table with us and It sleeps with us at night. And when we lay our paper down at night or turn off the radio, we constantly realize that it is good to know that Peace is in the room.

Life would not be the same without this silent partner to our living. We know this. We know, too, that—while It is our strongest support—Its very existence depends upon us.

Looking at Peace, as It rides with us in the car, laughs with us at football games, plans with us for the holidays ahead, we can't help but realize that It is growing up to a dangerous age.

Peace came to live with us around 1900, at the end of the Spanish-American War, and the world of our living was blessed by His presence; but He was barely eighteen before we allowed the World to occupy us so much with its bickerings that we had no time for Him and He left us.

Will we make this same mistake again? Will we drive this new, young Peace out of our house? Or will we realize that throughout each and all of the twenty-one years we have enjoyed the presence of Peace, we have also been striving to bring It to full-fledged manhood with a future before It and the strength to carry on—and that now is when It needs us most.

Not only does war threaten abroad in the land today, but in our own homeland there are those who would destroy this government and set up in its place dictators who would destroy this Peace we love so much. They are jealous of the American Standard of living and would substitute in its place methods that would take away freedom, the right to worship God as we choose, the freedom of speech and press and the foundation of this great nation—the Home.

America is made up of persecuted from all lands. These people in most instances came here to find Peace which every human heart desires—but among them are the workers for those foreign factions that wish to sow seeds of discontent in this land and eventually cause trouble.

With such conditions—there is still need for war. Not a war of blood—but a concerted war of all loyal Americans to see that undesirables are not given a place in this great nation. It is still that war for Peace, which was born on Armistice Day, November 11, 1918.

Let's make America a land where people love the Peace we enjoy. Let's make the national defense one that can withstand the forces of the outside world and take care of trouble makers at home. Let's save for our children the Peace which was bought with blood and enjoyed today by the greatest nation of the world.

War and Cotton

War or no war, there is still plenty of cotton.

There is a general feeling among farmers and the cotton industry generally that war will increase our cotton exports and improve the price. The general price advance in early September came largely because speculators believed that war-time demands would bring further advances.

Actually, as H. H. Williams, director of the Texas A. & M. extension service and member of the national agricultural advisory council, points out, there is little foundation for this belief. Price and exports fell off instead of increasing at the beginning of the last war.

U. S. department of agriculture figures, prepared by the bureau of agricultural economics, show that for the 11-1/2 months of the 1914-15 season spot prices at New Orleans averaged a little under 8 1/2 cents as compared with an average of 13 1/2 cents for the 12 months ending July, 1914, and a five-year average of 13 cents.

Total exports of American cotton for the 1914-15 season were less than in 1913-14 by 600,000 bales, or 7 per cent, and exports from India dropped 1,400,000 bales, or 44 per cent below those of the previous season.

In the first two years of the World War, foreign consumption of cotton dropped a million bales. In the third and fourth year of the war further reductions occurred abroad, and only a slight increase in consumption was noted in the United States.

It was two full years after the war began before domestic prices climbed back to 13 cents, the pre-war level, and then largely because the 1915 American crop was nearly 5 million bales less than that of the previous year.

Everything went up in 1917-18, cotton to an average New Orleans price of 27.83 cents, but that apparently was due to rapid advancing general price levels and another short crop.

The important thing to remember is that there is a lot more cotton in the world now than there was 25 years ago. When the World War started, there was a world carryover of 3,769,000 bales of cotton; today the carryover is in the neighborhood of 14,123,000 bales.

The record shows that world consumption of cotton dropped during the last war; it is hardly likely that consumption will increase during the present one. For one thing, assuming that warring nations want more cotton, how are they going to get it, what with blockades and submarine attacks and so on?

What increase comes in the price of cotton will come with generally rising price levels. It does seem probable that domestic cotton consumption will average considerably higher than in the past year.

But war or no war, there is still plenty of cotton, and apparently an expansion of production in the 1940 crop is warranted.

TEXAS LEADS NATION IN COTTON MARKETING

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 8.—Texas leads in every department of the cotton marketing service offered by the U. S. department of agriculture. A. Miller, agronomist of the Texas A. & M. College extension service, reports.

Quoting from information furnished by the agricultural marketing service, he said applications had been approved for 286 Texas cotton groups, made up of 15,544

Tippling Melons May Provide New Alibi

Alibi for an alcoholic breath may take a new twist if melon growers adopt the technique developed by Samuel Untermyer of New York. He gives his melons any desired alcoholic flavor by binding a small bottle of liquor to the stem of the growing plant. The plant absorbs the liquor through a tiny tube in its stalk.

farmers with 628,577 acres planted to cotton of approved varieties.

Oklahoma had the second largest number of cotton groups, with 106, and the second largest acreage, 352,603, but Mississippi, with 11,455 farmers, ranked second in that department.

The cotton marketing service, offered under the terms of the Smith-Dooley act, provides free classing and marketing news to members of approved one-variety cotton associations in order that growers may know the correct grade, staple and value of their cotton.

There are 415 one-variety cotton associations, with 27,066 members and 997,358 acres, in Texas, but many did not apply for the service because the bulk of their crop was already harvested, Miller said.

SAYS YOUNG WILD TURKEYS HAVE HARD TIME EXISTING

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 8.—Young wild turkeys are subjected to many dangers in their struggle to live. Most of us are prone to think only of foxes, skunks and other so-called "vermin" as the enemies of young game birds. To this list we can now add an animal that ordinarily feeds on vegetation.

While camping near Junction, Kimble county, last June, Arthur H. Cook and W. Herman Henry, field biologists from the Texas cooperative wildlife research unit at College Station, saw two black rock squirrels capture and eat two young turkeys about one week of age. The young turkeys were lost on a ledge of rocks and called for their mother when they were brutally attacked, killed and devoured.

According to Mr. Cook, the moral of this story is "always expect the unexpected."

Eighth Street Church Reports Show Much Progress, Activity

The session of the Eighth Street Presbyterian Church was held Monday night at the church. The report of the pastor, Rev. Fred Clark, disclosed considerable advancement along all lines during the month with church attendance a little above normal and a fair number of visitors attending each service. The report enumerated calls of evangelistic nature made by the pastor as well as others in ministering to the sick of the congregation.

A good report was made by the young people's organization, showing an average of 17 in each evening meeting and with splendid spiritual, recreational and social activities in evidence. The report made mention of the increased initiative of the young people, evidenced in the originality they are putting into their programs and their increased interest in all church work. The new organization of the primaries and juniors was noted. The session voted a letter of thanks be sent to all sponsors and heads of departments who have made any contribution to the progress of the work during the past month. The Sunday school report revealed it had gone forward with its usual activity.

The board of deacons has been reorganized with three new deacons added. Elmer Greenwood was made chairman; Jones Taylor, secretary; and Gene Crawford, vice-chairman. The month of October completed Rev. Clark's fourth month with the local church.

BETTER LIVESTOCK GRAZING WOULD SAVE MANY FISH

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 8.—The most serious factor threatening the fishes of the Guadalupe River is the removal of vegetation from the adjoining grazing ranges, according to Dr. Kelsaw Bonham of the A. & M. department of fish and game, in a report to Dean E. J. Kyle and other authorities at the college. The depleted ranges permit flash floods of water after every storm. During the last 50 years this has resulted in an increase in the number and destructiveness of floods, and increasingly threaten sport fisheries, human habitation, valuable land and improvements. Better regulation of livestock grazing is thus seen as one of the most potent measures for fisheries improvement as well as the future of the grazing industry, according to Dr. Bonham.

Examinations of the stomachs of 271 gars by Dr. Bonham and his student assistants this summer revealed that while the gar feeds primarily on fishes no bass were included in its diet during the period in question. Materials found in the stomachs included suckers, gizzard shads, sun fishes and cat fish, but no bass. Cray-fish and insects were also important. Nearly 2,000 fishes, including 923 large-mouth bass fingerlings, 765 large-mouth bass and 100 spotted bass were tagged in order to ascertain the amount and rapidity of growth of these fishes, and also the ratio of fishes recovered following liberation of game fishes in the stream. Beneficial results from this work will show up as sportsmen recover the tagged fishes, or as further scientific studies reveal more complete data.

Results obtained with the limited time available conclusively indicate the desirability of stream surveys as a definite policy in Texas. Only by securing detailed basic facts can Texas maintain and expand her valuable inland fisheries, Dr. Bonham believes.

Cooperating in the work led by Dr. Bonham were the Texas game, fish and oyster commission, Kerr County Wildlife Association, A. & M. department of wild game, agricultural experiment station, engineering experiment station. The students who took part in the work were: J. M. Arendale, Jr., Houston; Shiri Coleman, Ploche, Nevada; Bill Hauser, Kerrville; J. B. Davis, Mt. Pleasant; L. E. Ulbrich, San Antonio; V. Klump, Bartlett, and S. W. Lane, Cuero.

Thomas Sheraton, famed furniture designer, endeared himself to fellow designers by publishing, in 1791, a series of volumes on furniture design for the trade. The books were a failure financially.

Four thousand calves were branded on the Mashed-O ranch in northwestern Lamb county in July. The Mashed-O formerly was a part of the old Yellow-house ranch and was bought in 1901 by the late W. E. Haisell.

Soil and water conservation practices recommended for use in the Southwest dust bowl have been known to farmers since before the time of Christ.

SURVEY BEING MADE TO FIND WAR NEEDS

AUSTIN, Nov. 8.—Six of the 17 strategic war minerals sought by the United States can be obtained in varying amounts in Texas, University of Texas geologists have reported.

At least a small quantity of chromite, nickel, manganese, tungsten, tin and bismuth may be found in certain areas of Texas, Dr. E. H. Sellards, bureau of economic geology director, stated. The 17 minerals needed for the government's war chest were listed by the United States war department to congress last June.

Dr. Sellards said university bureau surveys have shown traces of chromite in Gillespie county; samples of nickel from an area stretching across the northwest corner of Blanco county and the northeast corner of Gillespie county; manganese, used in steel manufacture, on the Spiller ranch in Mason county and other traces reported in Central Texas and in Val Verde county; tin near Streeter in Mason county; bismuth in Llano county.

It is possible there is some tungsten in Central Texas, he added.

"While these minerals have been found, the bureau will not know to what extent they exist until surveys now being made are completed," Dr. Sellards cautioned.

Corrosion in ice plant brine tanks in factually caused by "battery action" in the brine solution, University of Texas engineers report. Premature loss of the tanks by rusting is being fought by artificially-induced counter electrical charges set up in the solution.

WINTER DISARMED

90-hour threat ended by OIL-PLATING your engine today

You can probably agree that these are certainly conservative figures...

- 4 or 5 months of nasty weather right ahead of you now
- 8 or 10 daily cold starts for your car
- 6 to 8 minutes per start, till your engine's near-swarm

And yet even that can run up your engine's cold-weather "starting-stretch" to right around 90 hours!... The foulest 90 hours that Gangster Winter could fire at your engine—your battery. And don't ever hope to halt him with motor oils whose biggest brag is "fast flow." That's not enough—and it's not your money's worth, considering that "fast flow" is mighty slow Winter lubrication compared to OIL-PLATING.

OIL-PLATING in your engine will lubricate before any oil can circulate. That's because the minute you start up with patented Conoco Germ Processed oil it makes OIL-PLATING "magnetize" to all inner engine surfaces, so that it cannot drain down again. It cannot retire to the crankcase as you park the car. Like any other good plating, OIL-PLATING stays right where it's plated by Germ Process action—all over the working parts. They've "got on" their OIL-PLATING all the while you're indoors. They never "take off" their OIL-PLATING. When you come out to start then, your OIL-PLATING can't be delayed even 90 seconds—or one-ninth of a second! And away you go. The battery hardly knows it was working. And it's a good long while before the gauge-stick calls for an added quart of Germ Processed oil. Your Mileage Merchant has your right Winter grade. Change today—to that Conoco station of his. Continental Oil Company

OIL BATH IS GOOD WAY TO SAVE YOUR FURNITURE

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 8.—Giving furniture a semi-annual bath is suggested by Mrs. Bernice Claytor, specialist in home improvement for the A. & M. College extension service, who says frequent dusting, no matter how thorough, may not be sufficient.
 A good "oil bath" is advocated as a helpful treatment for most furniture since the dry air in many modern homes is as bad for furniture as it is for people. Drying, cracking, and warping or loosening of the veneer may be reduced by the oil bath. However, Mrs. Claytor warns that if the furniture has been waxed it is necessary to remove the wax before the oil is applied.
 Mixture of two-thirds boiled linseed oil and one-third turpentine will provide a satisfactory oil bath. The oil feeds the wood, while the turpentine loosens the dirt and helps the oil to penetrate the wood.

"Apply the mixture with a soft cloth," the specialist suggests, "and wipe off all excess polish with a clean cloth. To polish rub the surface the way of the grain until the wood is thoroughly dry and the fingers leave no mark on the surface."

In addition to keeping the furniture well-oiled, it is a good thing to keep the room air moist by having a pan of water near a radiator, register or stove in cold weather, Miss Claytor suggests.

One hundred and thirty high schools and 109 colleges in the United States now have aviation courses.

Luxurious Jail Saves Court Costs for City

MARYVILLE, CALIF.—This city has found that a luxurious jail is a real money saver in court costs. John Samuel Chadderton, arrested on a charge of vagrancy, pleaded not guilty, which would mean that he would have a jury trial.
 However, after passing a few hours under the pleasant jail conditions, he found them so much to his liking that he decided to plead guilty and stay awhile. Unfortunately for his hopes, however, the court after accepting his plea suspended his 90-day sentence on condition that he get out of town at once.

B. C. D. Directors Discuss Many New Items at Meeting

Directors of the Ballinger Board of Community Development met Tuesday morning to hear committee reports and to discuss projects needing attention. The meeting was well attended and a large amount of business transacted.
 A discussion was held in regard to securing a WPA recreational program for this county. The public relations committee of the organization was instructed to work with state WPA county and city officials in this effort.
 Gus Barr and K. V. Northington were named to head the committee working for a health clinic in Rannels county. They will enlist the services of others needed on the committee and will secure information from the state health department relative to the establishing of a clinic here. A budget has already been supplied by the state department and work will begin at once on the project which would provide a full time doctor, nurse and clerk.
 The directors gave a large amount of time to a discussion of traffic problems in Ballinger. President J. A. Killough named a committee composed of Ed Lengefeld, Neil McAlpine, Lee Moreland and Ross Marchison to investigate and try to obtain parking lots for cars to be used on days when the streets are overrun.

The civic committee will start the erection of a large white rock sign on the hill near city park. The sign will welcome visitors to use the park and to visit Ballinger. This committee will also begin work on getting homes and stores in the city properly numbered.
 The directors voted to not to join the United States Chamber of Commerce this year and discussed the welcome for newcomers.

programs to be initiated soon.
 Plans were also discussed for the annual banquet which will be held sometime in January but committee appointments were not made.

T. B. SKIN TESTING MAY BE DONE IN SCHOOLS

Miss Sarah Harwell, county health nurse, has been examining children in the primary schools Nos. 1 and 2 this week. Miss Harwell said she noted many dental corrections made since the last inspections, several operations for the removal of bad tonsils and a number with properly fitted glasses.
 Plans are being considered for a program of tuberculin skin testing in Ballinger. No definite plans have been adopted but local health officials would like to begin in the senior high school. Procedure would be to let students report to their family doctors for the tuberculin. In case some could not afford the test, arrangements would be made to pay for the tuberculin and a number of physicians would aid in giving the serum.
 Miss Harwell stated that the campaign would depend on the interest of parents.
 Mrs. A. B. Stobaugh, and Mrs. R. R. Williams of Anton, attended the Baylor home-coming and the Baylor-T. C. U. game at Waco last Saturday.
 J. T. Preston, of Pearsall, was a week-end guest in the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Love.
