BILLIE KID SHOW TO BE HELD AT KERRVILLE FEBRUARY 2
COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 23.—County agricultural agents in goat producing counties have chosen Kerrville and February 2 as the place and date for the 1946 spring billie kid show. A fall show also is in prospect, according to W. R. Nisbet, sheep and goat specialist for the A. & M. College extension service. Entries will be confined to 4-H club boys and the show is sponsored by the Texas Mohair Grading Committee. The agents have indicated preference for a classification show, Nisbet said. The objective of the exhibit is to encourage members of boys' 4-H clubs to demonstrate flock improvement through selection and development of the most desirable type of flock sires. This movement began in 1944 and the first show was held in the fall of that year. Since November club boys in the goat country have been shopping among ranchmen for good prospects in billie kids to enter at the show and also for club demonstrations. Nisbet said that entries would be received up to the time of the show. Kerr County Agricultural Agent W. H. Gardner is in charge of arrangements.

STUDY OF FLOUR ENRICHMENT UNDERTAKEN BY DR. WINTERS
AUSTIN, Jan. 23.—A three-year study of the value of enrichment of bread flour has been authorized for Dr. Jet Winters, University of Texas professor of home economics, by the Williams-Waterman Fund of the Research Corporation.

Dr. Winters received a grant of $6,000 to carry on her experiments to determine the value of enrichment to people living on a low income level. Rats will be used for the experiments. One group will receive unenriched cereal, and the other will receive enriched cereal. Dr. Winters explained. Nutritional value will be raised in the enriched cereal by the addition of thiamine, riboflavin, niacin, and iron.

Fieldman to Direct Migratory Labor Is Stationed Here
COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 30.—Field workers of the state farm labor office are setting up headquarters in five West Texas cities in a move to encourage establishment of additional migratory labor reception centers. C. Hohn, farm labor supervisor of the Texas A. & M. College extension service, has announced. Working with county farm agents, the fieldmen will contact city and county officials, business men and farmers in an effort to increase the number of reception centers which will be available this year. Under the 1945 program 42 such centers were in operation in Texas.

"If we can get more reception centers established, we can greatly improve the utilization of migratory labor," Hohn explained. "There is a distinct need for the centers in many West Texas counties, and we believe they will be provided if the people understand the need and realize that the housing will do much to relieve labor shortages in their vicinities." Under the migratory labor reception center plan as put into operation under Hohn's supervision, housing, bathing and laundry facilities are established at key points. Representatives of the farm labor office, stationed at these centers, are able to contact migratory laborers and to direct them to areas where labor is needed. Fieldmen assigned to the various areas are: Russell E. Patterson, Ballinger; G. F. Price, Lamesa; C. D. Davenport, Lubbock; A. C. Armin, Munday; and Herman Porter, Wellington. Each fieldman will work in several counties.

A Letter to the President of the United States

January 18, 1946
Hon. Harry S. Truman
President of the United States
The White House
Washington, D. C.
Dear Mr. President:

Your proposal to me in Washington last evening that the wage demand of the United Steelworkers of America-CIO be settled on the basis of a wage increase of 18½ cents an hour, retroactive to January 1, 1946, cannot, I regret to say, be accepted by the United States Steel Corporation for the reasons set forth below.

As you must be aware, your proposal is almost equivalent to granting in full the Union's revised demand of a wage increase of 19½ cents an hour, which was advanced by Philip Murray, the President of the Union, at our collective bargaining conference with the Union in New York a week ago today. In our opinion there is no just basis from any point of view for a wage increase to our steel workers of the large size you have proposed, which, if put into effect, is certain to result in great financial harm not only to this Corporation but also to users of steel in general.

As I have tried to make clear to you and other Government officials during our conferences in Washington over the past few days, there is a limit in the extent to which the Union wage demands can be met by us. We reached that limit when we raised our offer to the Union last Friday from a wage increase of 12½ cents an hour to one of 15 cents an hour. This would constitute the highest single wage increase ever made by our steel-making subsidiaries. Our offer of 15 cents was equivalent to meeting 80% of the Union's original excessive demand of a $2 a day general wage increase. Our offer met 75% of the Union's final proposal of a wage increase of 19½ cents an hour. A wage increase of 15 cents an hour such as we offered, would increase the direct labor costs of our manufacturing subsidiaries by approximately $90,000,000 a year. That is a most substantial sum, and does not take into account the higher costs we shall have to pay for purchased goods and services, when large wage increases generally become effective throughout American industry, as is inevitable after a substantial increase in steel wages.

As you know, collective bargaining negotiations with the Union broke down at the White House yesterday afternoon, because Mr. Murray then refused to budge from his position that a country-wide steel strike must take place, unless steel workers are granted a general wage increase of 19½ cents an hour. Our offer of a wage increase of 15 cents an hour was again rejected by the Union.

The Union threatened to go ahead with its program for a national steel strike at midnight next Sunday, although such a strike will be a clear violation of the no-strike provision contained in our labor contract with the Union which continue by their terms until October 15, 1946.

From the outset, we have recognized how injurious a steel strike will be to reconversion and to the economy of this whole country. Most industries are dependent upon a supply of steel for their continued operations. We have done everything reasonably within our power to avert such a strike. If a strike occurs the responsibility rests with the Union.

When the Government at the eleventh hour informed us about a week ago of its willingness to sanction an increase in steel ceiling prices, we at once resumed collective bargaining negotiations with the Union. Such price action by the Government was a recognition by it of the right of the steel industry to receive price relief because of past heavy increases in costs, something which the steel industry for many months has unsuccessfully sought to establish with OPA.

I should like again to point out some pertinent facts relative to the wages of our steel workers.

Since January, 1941, the average straight-time hourly pay without overtime, of our steel workers has increased more than the 33% increase in the cost of living during that period, recently computed by Government authorities. Steel workers' wages have kept pace with increased living costs. Such average straight-time pay in our steel-producing subsidiaries was $1.14 an hour in each of the months of September, October and November 1945, excluding any overtime premium and any amount for correction of possible wage inequities. An increase of 15 cents, in accordance with our offer, would raise such average straight-time pay to $1.29 an hour, placing such pay among the highest today in all of American industry.

Under our offer of a 15 cent increase, the average weekly take-home pay of our steel workers for a forty-hour week would amount to $51.60, assuming that no overtime is involved. This figure is only $4.54 less than the actual average weekly earnings of these employees, including overtime, in the last full year of 1944, when the average work-week was 46.1 hours. The difference is really less, because we will undoubtedly continue to have overtime in the future, just as we have it at the present time. In November, 1945, overtime premiums to our steel workers aggregated more than $1,300,000. Such reduction of $4.54 in weekly take-home pay is the natural consequence of a shorter work week of forty hours, and therefore one of lower production.

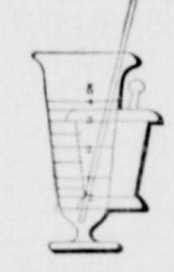

Much as we desire to avoid a steel strike, we cannot overlook the effect both on this Corporation and on our customers and American business in general, of the 18½ cent an hour wage increase, which you have proposed. Such a wage increase must result in higher prices for steel than have previously been proposed to us by the government. Great financial harm would soon follow for all users of steel who would be obliged to pay higher prices for their steel, higher wages to their employees, and still have the prices for their own products subject to OPA control. Such a high and unjustified wage scale might well spell final disaster for many of the smaller steel companies and for a large number of steel fabricators and processors. The nation needs the output of these companies. Increased wages and increased prices which force companies out of business can only result in irreparable damage to the American people.

In our judgment, it is distinctly in the public interest to take into account the injurious effect upon American industry of an unjustified wage increase in the steel industry.

After a full and careful consideration of your proposal, we have reached the conclusion above stated.

Respectfully yours,
Benjamin F. Fairless
President, United States Steel Corporation

'They Were Expendable' Packed With High-Octane Excitement

Packed with the high-octane excitement of a PT boat foray itself, "They Were Expendable" comes to the Ritz Theatre Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, February 2, 3, 4, 5, from the pages of a best-selling novel.

Robert Montgomery, John Wayne, Donna Reed, Jack Holt and Ward Bond head the army of players Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer mustered for the picturization of W. L. White's action-cramped story. In addition to a brilliant stellar lineup, three Academy Award winner Capt. John Ford handled the directorial chore.

Montgomery, fresh from four years of naval combat duty, makes a signal screen return as Lt. John Brickley, one of the PT boat commanders who helps defend the Philippines from Jap invaders during early stages of the war. A lieutenant-commander, awarded the bronze star for heroism in action, Montgomery was last seen in the memorable "Here Comes Mr. Jordan."

As Montgomery's fellow commanding officer, John Wayne makes his initial bow under Leo the Lion's star-spangled banner. Wayne has appeared in numerous John Ford pictures, including "Stagecoach" and "The Long Voyage Home."

'Behind City Lights' New Comedy-Drama

"Behind City Lights," romantic comedy, and "Drifting Along," a western, are the two feature films on the Palace Theatre program tomorrow (Friday), Saturday and Sunday, February 1 through 3. A "Screen Snapshot" and chapter 12 of "Purple Monster," make up the remainder of the bill.

Republic's "Behind City Lights" is the story of an intelligent young girl who follows her heart to New York city in quest of adventure and romance. She finds adventure—but not the kind she is seeking.

The role of the girl is capably played by lovely Lynne Roberts. Miss Roberts has two leading men in the picture—William Terry, who plays the role of the country boy who loves her, and Peter Cookson, the New York boy who also loves her but realizes that she will never fit into his way of living. A brilliant supporting cast helps to bring the story of "Return at Dawn" to life, headed by Jerome Cowan, Victor Kilian, and Esther Dale. Cowan appears as the witty pal of the boy from Manhattan. Kilian gives a convincing portrayal of the girl's father and Miss Dale is seen to advantage as her aunt.

"Behind City Lights" marks Miss Roberts' biggest role to date and she makes the most of it, playing it with sincerity and charm. Although the story has its moments of excitement and danger, the direction of John English has supplied it with enough humor to make ideal screen fare.

"Abilene Town"

Ann Dvorak is the alluring song and dance queen who captures the heart of the town marshal (Randolph Scott) in the entertaining action drama, "Abilene Town," due Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Texas Theatre through United Artists.

'Abilene Town,' Drama of Early America, Stars Scott, Ann Dvorak

The colorful pages of one of the most stirring and romantic phases of American history are brought to pulsating life in the story of "Abilene Town," to be unfolded on the screen of the Texas Theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, February 3, 4, 5, through United Artists release. From the best-selling novel, "Trail Down," by Ernest Haycox, author of the western classic, "Stagecoach," this dramatic film concerns the violent conflict between the cattle barons and the homesteaders who settled on the great plains of Kansas during the turbulent decade after the Civil War.

Playing co-starring roles are Ann Dvorak, recently returned from war work in Britain, and Randolph Scott. Ann is cast as Rita, glamorous song and dance queen of the town's gayest tavern, and has never looked lovelier or played better. The song-writing team of Goell and Spellman have provided her with three of the catchiest hit tunes of the season—"I Love it out Here in the West," "All You Gotta Do is Snap Your Fingers," and "Everytime I Give My Heart."

Scott is cast as Dan Mitchell, first marshal of Abilene, who tries desperately to effect a truce, with the minimum of bloodshed, between the opposing factions as represented by Texas Street—one side of which is ruled by the townier of the saloon, the gambling hall and the musical hall, the other side by the chief merchant of the town.

In top featured roles are red-haired Rhonda Fleming, in the vigorous part of Sherry Balder, who does her bit to bring justice to the struggling homesteaders; Edgar Buchanan, who plays the droll role of Bravo Trimble, meandering sheriff of Abilene. Two outstanding supporting roles are played by Lloyd Bridges, as spokesman for the homesteaders; and Helen Boice, as Big Annie, who is better than the sheriff with a shotgun.

Boris Karloff in Horror Picture and K9 Tale Two Features at Texas Tomorrow

"Isle of the Dead," starring Boris Karloff, and "Danny Boy," heart-warming story of a boy's fight to regain the love of the pet he turned over to the navy for service overseas, are the two films of the double-feature program at the Texas Theatre tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday, Feb.

Fred MacMurray Coming to the Texas In Merry Comedy, 'Pardon My Past'

Fred MacMurray is coming to the Texas Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, February 6 and 7, in what has been called the funniest comedy he's ever floored an audience with. He's terrific in a role that tops everything in his fun-filled past. So all his fans should be prepared for a rare good time in the MacMurray manner.

The picture is called "Pardon My Past." It was produced by Mutual Productions—MacMurray and Leslie Fenton—and features Marguerite Chapman, William Demarest, Akim Tamiroff, Harry Davenport, Rita Johnson and Douglass Dumbrille.

Advance reports inform that "Pardon My Past" gives Fred an opportunity to be at his best comedy deliverer. Mistaken for his twin brother, a rich wastrel about whom Fred knows nothing, one complication is said to pile upon another in rapid and hilarious profusion.

BEARCATS WIN AND LOSE CAGE GAMES PAST WEEK

The Ballinger Bearcats ran into some tough going the past week and dropped two out of three basketball games. The first loss came at Winters last Thursday night when the Blizzards went on a scoring spree to defeat the Ballingerites 25 to 18.

Friday night the local boys came back strong against Baird in that city to down them 42 to 29.

One of the best games of the season was in San Angelo Tuesday night when the Bobcats eked out a 35 to 31 win over the Bearcats. The Bobcats were away out in front at the half but the Ballinger boys came back strong in the second half to make the game nip and tuck to the finish.

In a preliminary the local B team defeated the Bobcat B team 32 to 22.

San Angelo will be here for a return game Friday night in the local gymnasium and Tuesday evening of next week the Bearcats will invade Lake View for a crucial conference game. The Bearcats must win this game to stay in the district race.

Homer D. Caudle Is New Manager Of Safeway Store

Homer D. Caudle is the new manager of the Ballinger Safeway Store, coming here the past weekend and taking over the local store Monday morning.

Mr. Caudle has been in the service the past four years and was only recently discharged. Before entering the service he had been with the Safeway organization ten years and is being placed back on the job he had as a civilian. He is not new to this area, having been with the company at San Angelo and other West Texas cities.

Mr. Caudle stated that he was glad to be located in Ballinger and expected to continue the same kind of high-class service at Safeway as has been customary heretofore.

O. L. Hart, former manager of the local store, stated that he wished to express his appreciation to the citizens of this area for their fine support. Mr. Hart added that he owned his home in Ballinger and expected to continue to live here. He had no definite statement to make of his future plans at this time but said he hoped to soon.

New Cantaloupe Said Resistant to Aphids And Downy Mildew

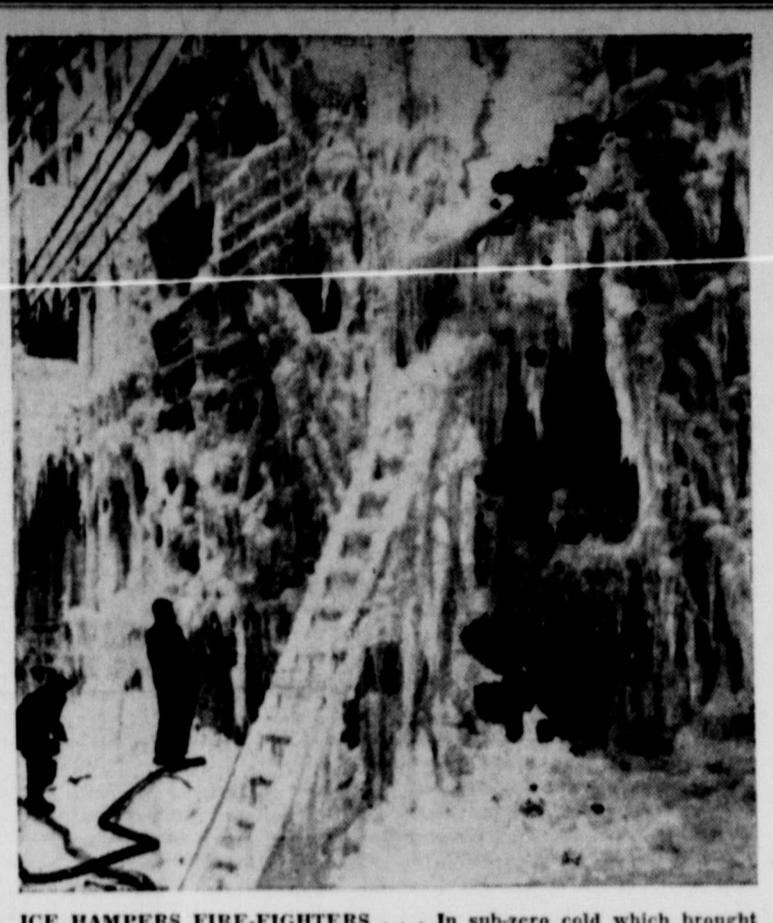

County Agent John A. Barton, in discussing the growing of cantaloupes in Runnels county, said the number one problem is the aphid or melon lice that causes honey dew.

A new cantaloupe developed by the Texas experiment station at Winter Haven has been found to be practically resistant to downy mildew, which may destroy a crop in a few days. More outstanding in the experiment is that this melon is resistant to honey dew or melon lice. Where grown to date it has been unnecessary to dust for lice. In a number of tests this cantaloupe made a good crop while the check rows on the ordinary varieties were entirely destroyed by the melon lice without the vines even setting any kind of a crop.

The Texas Resistant No. 1 produces a flesh of rich salmon color and of firm texture. Size is from 5 to 6 inches in diameter. The fruit is sweet, spicy; the seed cavity small, the netting moderate, the rind firm, and the cantaloupe is considered a good shipper. It ripens about in line with Hale's Best.

It is a vigorous grower, has a medium sized vine, dense foliage, well covering the melon. Vines remain green long after other varieties have dried up, even where no disease or insect trouble exists.

Mr. Barton stated that he was pleased with the idea of a melon resistant to honey dew and added that he had an opportunity to get a few pounds of the seed for demonstrations. Those interested are asked to get in touch with the county agent.

Think on These Things

Richard Robbins Minister
Eighth Street Church of Christ

When and where was the institution called the "kingdom of heaven," the "church of Christ," established? As a new covenant, it was ratified by the blood of Christ; as a testament, it was not of binding force while the testator lived; as a kingdom, it was not established until the King ascended and was crowned; as a church, its history shows that it was not organized while Jesus lived on earth; as the great salvation, it only "began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him." (Heb. 2:3). Finally, as the gospel it was founded on the death, burial, and resurrection of Christ, and was not preached until these facts had transpired. (1 Cor. 15:3,4). John the Baptist, and the apostles speak of the kingdom of heaven as "at hand"—"as approaching," but not as an established fact. Paul says that God, "hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son, in whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins." (Col. 1:13).

The annual banquet and membership meeting of the Ballinger Board of Community Development on February 15, is a local affair which all citizens should want to attend. The banquet and program will be one of the best ever staged in West Texas. It will be entertainment at its best and aside from the social meeting of friends and neighbors the meeting will be a vote of confidence for those who are to direct civic work in Ballinger during the next twelve months. Table arrangements are being made for 300 and that many tickets will be sold here. The meal will be served by the staff in charge of the school lunch room and an excellent menu has been planned. WHY KID OURSELVES?

It seems almost childish for price control agencies to try to regulate the economy of the nation on one hand, while government goes on borrowing and printing and spending and giving away money as it sees fit.

Hold-the-line orders for a pound of butter, a pair of stockings, or an automobile, may temporarily get public acclaim. But it isn't long before the public finds it can't get butter, stockings or automobiles when out-of-line prices block production. And it makes no difference whether the articles are rationed or sold in a free market.

What our regulators of human activities should concentrate on is encouraging production and admitting that the abnormal costs of war have caused some inflation which can be controlled if the costs of government can be controlled and if the people will work hard and produce. Our regulators of human activity must allow sufficient return to the producer and to the wage earner, based on our present inflation due to the national debt, so that both producers and workers will do their best to turn out goods, thus removing the scarcities which now aggravate inflation thereby driving prices higher and higher.

The country can still lick inflation if the people will go to work and if government will encourage rather than discourage business. We will have to make up our minds, however—we will either have to definitely express ourselves in favor of retaining our private enterprise and profit system, or we will have to accept government dictation and a falling standard of living as a substitute for a free economy. One-sided price controls which ignore government debt and spending and cost of production, while trying to restrict the individual, drive us closer to socialism.

As a people, have we the courage to return to the risks and rewards of private enterprise, or, seeking to dodge responsibility for our own destiny, will we go farther toward the dole system and regimentation?

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

- 1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion. This helps build resistance for the "next" to come.
- 2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

WEST TEXAS NOTES

The Santa Anna livestock show, held Monday, was a huge success although snow fell most of the day. F.F.A. and 4-H club boys of the area were on hand with their entries and one of the best livestock exhibits in several years was reported. At the auction the grand champion calf brought 40 cents a pound.

Mrs. J. Tom Padgett and son, of Coleman, last week bought two blocks of city property near Huford Field and will move about 20 houses there from their ranches. The houses will be improved and modernized for renting. They are doing this to relieve the housing shortage in Coleman and will erect other houses as soon as possible.

A "golden gloves" boxing tournament opened at Brownwood Wednesday, a large number of the best amateur fighters in the area entering. All sessions were held in the memorial auditorium and many ring fans purchased tickets. The tourney was sponsored by the junior chamber of commerce. Winners in the Brownwood tournament will move on to the next bracket.

Rising Star ex-service men are making plans for entertaining the 17th district American Legion convention, to be held on February 16 and 17. P. C. Stacy, district commander, was in Rising Star last week to discuss plans with the local committees and a good program is being arranged which is expected to draw a record attendance for recent years. The Auxiliary district convention will be held at the same time.

Excavations were started at Brady last week on the site for an $80,000 grain elevator. The elevator is being built by the Farmers & Merchants Cooperative and the capacity will be 100,000 bushels. A feed manufacturing plant will be operated in conjunction to give farmers an outlet for their grain and at the same time provide stock feed for ranchmen of the area. It is hoped to have the plant completed in time to handle the 1946 small grain crop.

One of the biggest livestock shows ever held at Comanche was sponsored by the county livestock association last Friday. Many show animals were exhibited by F. F. A. and 4-H club boys and fine beef cattle and sheep were shown by adults. The junior chamber of commerce gave free rides from the downtown district of Comanche to the show grounds.

At a cost of $125, three wells were drilled at Bronte last week to boost the city water supply for home consumption and irrigation. Drilled by an Odessa firm, water was found in each well at depths of 18 to 20 feet. Tests revealed each well could be pumped and would add considerable water to the municipal supply.

The Concho county livestock show, scheduled January 26, was called off because all arrangements had not been completed at that time. Leaders said the show would be held when details were completed for pens, premiums, judges, etc. for the annual exhibit of club boys' animals.

L. T. Youngblood, of Bronte, was guest speaker at the Winters Lions Club meeting last week. He discussed the Upper Colorado River Authority, telling what had already been done to make the huge dam and reservoir a reality. Runnels countians are interested as much of the land in this county may be irrigated from the project. Water will be furnished at a cost of $4.05 per acre per year, Youngblood stated.

The Miles community was deep in snow the first part of last week for the second time this year. The fall at Miles was from 10 to 12

OFFEN BOYS' 4-H CLUB

Offen 4-H club boys held their monthly meeting Friday, January 18, with Mr. Barton, county farm agent, present. A record of projects was made. A discussion was held on whether the boys would go to San Angelo or Fort Worth for their stock sale. After the business session was adjourned Vice-President David Hoffmann presented Mr. Barton, who gave a very instructive lesson on raising strawberries, on planting grapes from vine cuttings, and on pruning and budding fruit trees.

ADVENT OF PEACE BRINGS BOOST IN COTTON EXPORTS

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 30.—The acceleration in peace time trends is indicated by the expanded exports of cotton during the latter half of 1945. As reported by Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations, U. S. Department of Agriculture, a total of 650,000 bales of American cotton were exported in the three months beginning last August 1. This was at the annual rate of 2,600,000 bales, but the OFAR adds that the total for 1945-1946 may be substantially more than this figure as shipments to the far East were begun in November. For the full year, 1944-45, cotton exports were 86 per cent larger than the 1943-44 total, resulting from increased shipments to Europe after the ending of the war in May. Compared with pre-war periods, however, they were only 36 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

France with 220,000 bales was the largest receiver of the August-October export, with the United Kingdom second with 124,000. Canada, Italy, Spain, Poland, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia took the remainder.

West Texas Farm Woman Achieves Much in Past Year

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 30.—After a quarter century of home demonstration club membership, a West Texas farm woman, Mrs. I. W. Brown, of Scurry county, is looking forward to learning new things and making more friends. She is a member of the China Grove home demonstration club.

County Home Demonstration Agent Estella Rabel relates that Mrs. Brown has reared a family of seven. Throughout her married life she has been an ideal helpmate and leader and continues so although all of the children except the youngest are married and have their own homes. While the family farm was being paid for Mrs. Brown raised turkeys and chickens for home use and to help cover the expenses of sending three daughters to college. But three years ago she quit growing turkeys and heavy meat chickens and now keeps a flock of 150 white Leghorn hens which involve less work and are more profitable. Although the family is broken up, Mrs. Brown and her daughters prefer to do their own sewing, Miss Rabel says. They make wool dresses, three-piece wool suits and their hats.

Illustrating Mrs. Brown's skill and industry, Miss Rabel says that in 1945 she made eight hats, 18 blouses, four wool dresses, two coats, twelve print dresses, ten three piece wool suits, two top sheer dresses, twelve linen and crepe two-piece dresses, ten sheets, eight pairs of pillow cases, four table cloths, two bonnets, twenty handkerchiefs, two sets of kitchen curtains, drapes for the living room, and curtains and tufted spread for one bed room. Along with this production she papered her kitchen, and painted the cabinet and woodwork.

Mrs. Brown has a knack for designing home furnishings while her husband does the hammer and saw work. These include vanities, wardrobes, tables, whatnots, bookcases, and wall shelves. Among the most admired of Mrs. Brown's decorative ideas are the honeycomb picture frames hanging throughout the seven room home. "Perhaps we have too many pictures," she told Miss Rabel, "but when we get a new one we just have to frame it and hang it up."

Mrs. Brown grows grapes and a large garden from which she cans vegetables and fruits for home use and for her children. In her routine home duties, Mrs. Brown serves her family meals according to the Texas food standard and uses all of the extension service nutritional recommendations possible.

BALLINGER HIGH SCHOOL NEWS
By Kathryn Sensabaugh

A Saturday night entertainment in the form of a backward party was held for members of the Bearcat Band on January 26. The scene of the party was the country club. Contrary to custom the girls made the dates and did the tagging for dances. Everyone had a great time, especially the girls, since they could take their choice for a change.

Toward the middle of the evening a free-for-all dancing contest was held. Wanda Pearson and E. C. Grimm, visiting here from Lubbock where he is enrolled in Texas Tech, won in the jitterbug contest. Taking honors for smooth dancing were Elizabeth Routh and Bill Scoggins.

Sandwiches, cokes and cookies were served as refreshments to the band members, their guests and chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Joiner, Miss Lois Dickerson, and Mr. J. McCreery.

"This Daring Generation" has been chosen as the one-act play to be entered in interscholastic competition. This play is a story of the 1940s, starring an all-girl cast. Mrs. Susie Paye Kallina, speech and English teacher, will be in charge of this play.

Girls registered to "try-out" for parts are: Clara Beth Sulphur, Elizabeth Routh, Virginia Routh, Wanda Crager, Dorothy Holliday, Charlotte Miller, Martha Saunders, Claudia Burk, Jean Hart, Patsy Bynon, Kathryn Sensabaugh, and Beverly Barber.

Volleyball
Handicapped by the absence of Louise Smith, benched with a badly sprained ankle, and Olene Jones, who was out of town, the girls' volleyball team took on the Paint Rock Indians, and absorbed a severe shellacking. The entire first half was a gay run-off for the Paint Rock lassies, as they scored 23 points to the Bearcats' 2. In the second half, the teams looked like a perfect match, with each scoring 13 points. The final score was Paint Rock 41, Ballinger 15.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Bryan on February 14, when the program will be on flowers and yard improvement. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

A very good shipment of shoes for men, woman and children just in. A small shipment of Levi khaki pants for girls and women. We have really got in—a fair shipment of shorts and shirts for men—and some sox, too.

Yes—some kitchen vessels and utensils, also, dropped in on our Hardware Department. Combines—yes, we got some but they are all gone and we are trying to get some more.

Yes, some Furniture is coming in—a few bedroom suites, living room furniture, some tables, book-cases and wardrobes—yes, some good Morning Glory mattresses just got in.

HOPE TO GET—some Dining Room Furniture—Linoleum Rugs and Window Shades pretty soon.

Then, maybe we'll get some Nylon hose before very long.

Radios, washing machines, Admiral refrigerators, etc., are going to be slow—but some of these days hope to say—"Yes—thank you—we have most anything you need." When all is said and done we are doing our best to supply your needs—your business is appreciated.

Rags...
Contrary to common belief old or used rags are not used in the manufacture of paper—manufacturers of paper tell us that only mill remnants are used for this purpose. Old rags that are bought as junk are unraveled and the usable part therein converted into what is known as "waste" for wiping grease from machinery. This product is shipped to big users in bales of 250 to 500 pounds each.

The Local Use of Rags is for the same purpose as above. This exception might be noted: picture shows use rags for cleaning their projection machinery and automobile shops use them for cleaning their machines and car washers for washing cars.

As Appiles to the Ledger And its use of Rags...
We use them for washing ink off presses and rollers and for all kinds of cleaning purposes, including machinery and type forms. The rags we use must be absorbent and therefore we cannot buy heavy khaki shirts or pants, overalls, etc.

Right Now...
—we are in need of some good rags and would appreciate your bringing in what you have. Some people bring in 1 or 2 pounds, others 25 or more, but no matter what amount you have they will be acceptable if they meet the requirements.

bridegroom. She carried a shower bouquet of white hyacinths centered with a white yellow throated orchid surrounded by white mulline.

Miss Elizabeth Hughes, of Mertzon, was maid of honor. Brides matrons were Mrs. W. F. Campbell of Coleman, Mrs. Kenneth Esmond, and Mrs. Charles E. Jacobs of Breckenridge. Attendants were full skirted frocks of crisp petal pink net, with long torso bodices and three-quarter length sleeves. The deep round necklines were finished by ruffles of self material. Their head-dresses were little French bonnets of matching pink net, and all carried colonial bouquets of pink and blue carnations.

Little Buddy Bryant and Ladelle Liles of Throckmorton, a cousin of the bridegroom, were ring-bearers. Buddy was dressed in a navy blue suit and Ladelle wore a frock identical to the attendants with a band of pink and blue mums in her hair. Each carried the rings on white satin pillows.

Mrs. Morton, mother of the bride, wore a black and ice blue crepe street length dress trimmed in black sequins with blue and black accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Mrs. Crawley, mother of the bridegroom, wore a brown crepe trimmed in brown and gold sequins with brown and beige accessories and a corsage of gold daffodils.

Tom Wilkes was best man. Ushers were Garvin Wilkes, Fred Flanniken, and Kirk McKinnon.

The altar of candelabra was banked with smilax. Tall white cathedral tapers starting at the baptistry, flanked on either side with a background of palms. Josh and Pat Beckham lighted the candles.

Mrs. Weldon Lindsey, organist, played a medley of love songs preceding the ceremony and accompanied Miss Ernestine Gambill who sang "I Love Thee" by Greig and "Dedication" by Franz. Mrs. Lindsey played "I Love You Truly" during the ceremony, and the traditional wedding marches.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents. The guests were greeted at the door by members of the house party and presented to the receiving line which was composed of the bride and bridegroom, Mrs. Clarence Morton, Mrs. W. K. Crawley and bridal attendants.

The white satin damask laid table was centered with a bowl of white gladioli and snapdragons on reflector. A large three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom, was at one end of the table. Mrs. C. C. Ramsey of Waco, and Mrs. Dutton Balles of Seymour, served the cake and Mrs. R. R. Townsend and Mrs. Andrew Housley of Albany, presided at the punch bowl.

Gifts were shown by Mrs. Wright Boyd and Mrs. Dee Hull. Miss Maurine McKenzie presided at the bride's book.

Immediately following the reception the couple left for a two weeks wedding trip to Santa Fe, New Mexico. For traveling the bride wore a two piece suit of lime wool, brown crepe blouse, brown straw hat and brown reptile shoes and bag, brown gloves, and her corsage was a white orchid.

The bride is a graduate of Ballinger High School and Baylor University, Waco. She received her degree in Business Administration in June, 1944. While in Baylor she was a member of Beta Sigma Chi, F. F. B., and Phi Gamma Mu, a national business sorority.
