

Jaycees Continue Work On Birthday Party Plans

Plans continue to develop for Ballinger's 72nd birthday. The party is set for June 27, which falls on Friday. Latest addition to the many attractions already lined up for the party is the Air Force's S-3B missile, a sizable projectile here from San Angelo for the celebration. S-Sgt. Alton Smith wrote Jaycee President Pannell Legg Jr. the missile would be available for the parade at 10:30 a. m. and for display during the day. He also reported that the AF band would not show but to make plans for the next year. The annual Jaycee birthday program will go to press about June 1, and any advertiser not contacted by a Jaycee should make himself known soon. The club is working on a main speaker. He will probably be announced next week. Agenda for birthday party goes is a parade at 10:30 a. m., a barbecue at noon, a political rally with a main speaker, and a carnival and dance Friday night. All will take place at Bruce Field, with the exception of the parade which will occur downtown. Legg stated the Jaycees would

Ballinger's Co. 1 To Camp June 8

One of the biggest and most important post-war encampments of the Texas National Guard's 36th Infantry Division gets underway June 8 with near-record strength of more than 10,000 Texans. More than 2,000 West Texans are to be represented at this encampment, including 77 citizen-soldiers from Ballinger, members of Ballinger's Company I, 142nd Infantry Regiment. Basic combat training is to be the order of the day, every day, according to an announcement by Major General Carl L. Phinney of Dallas, commanding general of the historic 36th. The "P-atchers" will go through a concentrated basic combat training program designed to make every one of them basically combat trained. These maneuvers are to be a climax to a year-long basic combat training program, General Phinney explained. "When the 36th returns home June 22," he said here recently, "it will be at the highest basic combat training point in its post World War II history." This encampment, the 11th annual training camp since the 36th reorganized after the war, is to begin June 8 and run through June 22. The Ballinger unit, Company I, is a part of the vast 142nd Infantry Regiment which covers parts of North, West and Central Texas. From Borger in the north, the 142nd stretches southeastward to Stephenville and Lampasas and westward to San Angelo. In this large area are 22 units in 16 cities, numbering 1,646 men. Headquartered in Amarillo, the 142nd Infantry is under the command of Colonel Everett S. Simpson, an Amarillo attorney, who is the 36th Division's most decorated soldier. Ballinger's unit numbers five officers and 72 enlisted men and is under the command of Capt. Thomas I. Gabbert, 402 Sixth St. Executive officer is 1st Lt. Charles E. Bradshaw of Ballinger. Platoon leaders are 2nd Lt. John W. Johnson and 2nd Lt. David W. Fowler, both Ballinger men. Unit administrator is CWO-2 Caleb Brown Jr. Company I files a Distinguished Unit Citation won near Oberhoffs, France, during World War II. During a two-day action there, Company I, then Company C, killed and captured 175 Germans and helped smash the enemy's last hold on the town, ending a fierce battle for Oberhoffs. The 36th Division will occupy the North Fort Hood training area June 8 after a mass highway movement involving 1,200 vehicles. The 10,000 men from 70 Texas cities will thread their way to the Central Texas military reservation over 28 different state and federal highways. The presentations were made by Sec. T. T. Benson Cook's citation read—"For keeping farm and ranch families abreast of new agricultural developments for 28 years; for helping people recognize and solve their problems, and for training other extension workers." Cook, who has been Travis County agent since 1948, is a native of Mitchell County, graduated from Colorado City High School and Texas A & M. He was an agent in Bosque, Runnels, Eastland, Taylor and Travis Counties, and an agricultural teacher at Coleman. He taught 20 assistant agents and 2,800 4-H Club members. Two farm-to-market highway jobs will get underway this summer in Runnels County. Contracts for a total of $228,961.85, were awarded to Ballinger and Brownwood contractors for over 18 miles of FR roads, a portion of one reaching into Tom Green County. J. A. Snell, district highway engineer, announced the latest road project, 9.025 miles of grading, structures, base and surfacing of FR 1692, awarded to Bob Baker Construction Co. of Brownwood who submitted the low bid of $122,002.13. This road runs from US 67 at Miles south to FR 380. An estimate of 100 days to complete was given. The second project is in two parts, both in Runnels County. F. A. Seidel and Sons of Ballinger submitted a low bid of $106,159.72 on the construction of 9.041 miles of farm-to-market road on FR 2133 and 2406. The road runs from US 67 in Rowena south and east to US 83, then picks up again at the Bethel gin from US 83 east to the Bethel community. It is estimated that this job will take 120 days to complete. W. B. Hoppe, Ballinger resident engineer, is in charge of the divided project, and A. J. Jennings, resident engineer in San Angelo, will be in charge of the first project.

One-Hour Parking for Hutchings Approved

Starting Saturday morning, parallel parking on Hutchings Avenue will cost five cents an hour. A dime doesn't buy anything. Meters in the remainder of the city will stay as they are—two hours for a nickel. Chief of Police Lee Moreland said Tuesday about 100 meters will be changed. The move will cost the city about $80, this cost being paid for different timers for the machines. Purpose of the change is to encourage downtown employees to park on side streets and leave Hutchings Avenue spaces for customers.

Graduation Services Close School Year

School will be officially out in Ballinger Friday. Although most students will be out of classes Wednesday, finishing final exams and getting report cards, graduation exercises will consume Thursday and Friday.

Co. Agent Warns Of Insect Damage

Runnels County farmers were warned Tuesday of possible damage to maize and cotton crops in the county from bugs being chased from oat fields by combines.

Two Local Businessmen Suffer Attacks Sat.

Two Hutchings Avenue businessmen were taken to the hospital Saturday morning suffering from different ailments.

Farmers Attack Small Grains For First Good Harvest In Years

For the first time in several years, farmers are eagerly attacking a grain harvest. What appears to be a "bumper" crop of oats and barley and a promise of a big wheat harvest, is in full swing. The big story is the average yields, which range from 35 to 85 bushels to the acre on oats, and from 25 to 50 bushels to the acre on barley. Wheat is to come later. It looks good. The Ballinger Co-op Gin and Elevator Co. manager Jack Fry said Monday crops were coming in from south of the river in Concho County Sunday. Tests were running Monday from 30 to 36 pounds but Fry said some of the farmers were harvesting a little green and moist. Tests would improve later in the week he said. Buddy Gray of the ASC office said oats would have a support price of 69 cents, but Tuesday he had received no order to place this support price into effect. A lot of oats were expected to go into the government loan. Barley is running as a twin to oats in the small grain fields. Yields were very good, from 25 to 50 bushels to the acre. Red Campbell, Ballinger barber and part-time farmer, harvested his average Monday and got 47 bushels to the acre on barley and 70.5 bushels to an acre on his oats. The support price has been announced at 93 cents per bushel. Ample storage space will be available. Since no wheat can be stored on farms, the farm storage and commercial storage space should cover even the bumper crop. About 40 cars of wheat are expected to be shipped to Fort Worth. Several transient combine outfits are in the county, but local owners will be able to cut the larger per cent of the crop. County Agent C. T. Parker Jr. said some farmers were "wind rowing" green grain; that is, laying the cut grain in a row so that it would have a better chance to dry out, and hoping they can come back with a combine and pick it up. The only unfavorable part of the harvest is the price, he said. Volunteer oats were far outstripping the planted type. The weather brought the volunteer out on schedule and kept planters from drilling oats at the proper time. Most of the oats now being harvested are volunteer.

Two F-M Road Projects To Start This Summer

Sheriff Has Few Cases During Week

The County Sheriff's office had a relatively quiet week through Wednesday with John Harleycorn playing the starting role off stage. One case of driving-while-intoxicated (DWI) involved Leroy Hart of Breckenridge and the Texas Highway Patrol. He was confined for three days and fined $77.80. Three other men were confined and fined $20.50 each for drunkenness. They were Smith Harfield, Preston Roberts, and Doc Chapman. And six minors were charged with the possession of beer. Two men were fined for hot-checking, and two others were charged with the removal of mortgaged property from Big Lake and made bond after arriving. Arville Broadstreet and Truman Creek were charged with the removal of mortgaged property from Big Lake and made bond after arriving.

Rivers Mizell To Direct Campaign Here For Blakley

Rivers Mizell of Ballinger has been named to head the Runnels County campaign of William A. Blakley, candidate for the U. S. Senate. Mizell attended a rally for Blakley in Abilene last weekend when Blakley started his campaign in Texas. He opposes the incumbent, Sen. Ralph Yarborough. In a wire to Mizell, Blakley congratulated him on his accepting the job, and said, "Knowledge that Texans like you are willing to stand by my side gives me great confidence that we will succeed. You may count on my doing all I can to justify your faith and good will." O. L. (Doc) Huddleston is secretary and treasurer of the county campaign. A meeting of assistants and workers in the county precincts will be called and a "vigorous campaign" coordinated, Mizell said.

Ballinger High To Get Defense Instruments

Ballinger High School will have a nuclear radiation detection instrument in its science department this fall, according to Ernest Caskey, superintendent. The school was picked as one of 312 schools in Texas to receive the instrument because of its size and geographic location. The Texas Education Agency reported the school's selection, given by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. "It will enable many schools not now equipped with these instruments to incorporate radiological defense into the science curricula," J. W. Edgar of the TEA said. It also insures a geographical distribution of instruments capable of measuring the amount of radioactivity. Ballinger high has the regular geiger counter, which detects radio activity. This instrument will measure the amount. The FCDA said 6,000 units would be distributed over the nation.

Sewing, Painting Classes Set For Adults In Summer

Special summer adult classes for those wanting to learn about china painting and more about sewing have been scheduled by Mrs. Winnie McQueen, homemaking teacher at Ballinger High School. Mrs. McQueen has divided the two classes, having the painting classes meet on Thursday, starting June 5, from 7 to 9 p. m. The sewing class will register Monday, June 2, and classes meet from 8 to 11 a. m. or from 2 to 5 p. m. All classes will be in the homemaking cottage at the school.

Correction

Two senior girls, Miss Paty Teplick of Rowena, and Miss Karen Carpenter of Ballinger, were left off last week's graduation list by mistake. These two girls did not make the senior trip, and since the trip was used as a list of candidates, with a few exceptions, the two names did not appear. However, it is now our understanding that the two girls will graduate.

First Presbyterian Women Have Birthday Program

Members of the First Presbyterian Church U. S. Women of the Church held their annual birthday program in the sanctuary of the church. Every year since 1922 the local organization has held this event at which time they bring their monetary gifts to aid some church project. World missions are selected one year and home mission projects the next.

Mrs. E. W. Stasney, president, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Frank M. Pearce brought the devotional. Mrs. W. B. Woody, secretary of World Missions, was leader and extended greetings. The guest speaker, Mrs. C. B. O'Delrine of Dallas, was introduced by Mrs. Stasney.

Mrs. O'Delrine spoke on the two-fold project for 1958, which included the Indian Presbyterian College in Durant, Oklahoma, and the Chinese Presbyterian Church in New Orleans, Louisiana.

The offering taken, following the program, was for these two causes. A social was held in the church Fellowship Hall. The tea table was laid with white linen and centered with an arrangement of roses, lilies and sweet peas where the decorated birthday cake was served by Mrs. Lloyd Johnson, and Mrs. Stasney presided at the punch service.

Mrs. E. A. Saunders and Miss Demman Barron have returned home following a vacation trip through the Davis Mountains.

Linda Kerby Gets Highest Step In Girls' Auxiliary

Miss Linda Kerby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kerby, was awarded the Queen Regent in Service step of the Girls' Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church in the auxiliary coronation service recently at the church.

The step is the highest possible in the Girls' Auxiliary. Her work in earning the step included the completion of a bulletin board each Sunday for a month on a different phase of Southern Baptist work. She is active in church work, singing in the choir and taking part in a number of other activities.

The Kerby family moved here recently from Talpa.

A number of other girls were honored by receiving other steps in the coronation service, presented by Mrs. E. E. Bradford of San Angelo. The girls were honored with a reception following the service.

The Girls' Auxiliary is a missionary organization for girls of the church. It is sponsored by the Woman's Missionary Union.

Muddy Fishponds ATTRACT ATTENTION

Recent heavy rains made many Runnels County farm ponds muddy. Several in the Runnels Soil Conservation District, however, remained clear. The silt-colored ponds attest to costly erosion, while the clear water reflects better soil and water conservation.

Woodrow Hoffman, soil conservationist, stated that any good fish pond can be protected against muddiness. The most common sources of erosion are pastures which were grazed too closely, unpaved roads, and bare roadsides, field borders, and cropland. A good grass cover will stop the erosion in a pasture.

Strip-cropping and more crop residue returned to the soil will reduce the washing of topsoil from these valuable lands. Field borders can be planted with vegetation for wildlife. A pond can be protected from roadside erosion if grass cover is planted in roadway drainageways, or with a terrace-type waterway to divert muddy water around the pond.

Mario Lanza leads his guests in singing an Italian Calypso number in a party sequence of "Seven Hills of Rome." This is a first run production, showing Sunday and Monday at the Horseshoe Drive-In Theatre.

Muddy ponds produce a poor poundage of fish. The life-length of the pond itself is shortened rapidly by silt. A pond is a barometer of erosion versus good water. Most operators in the Runnels District are trying to keep it reading "clear."

TERSE WARNING PRELUDES STATE SAFETY CAMPAIGN

"Slow down and live—and let live!" This terse warning was issued today by A. Ross Rommel, president of the Texas Safety Association, as a prelude to TSA's annual Slow Down and Live campaign which begins Memorial Day and continues through Labor Day, the peak months for vacation travel. "Sensible drivers know they should drive at a safe speed," he said. "The trouble seems to be that not enough drivers know how to determine just what a safe speed is.

"Any speed is too fast if it causes you to lose complete control of your car, even for a moment.

"But a safe speed is one that will enable you to maintain control of your car and stop it within the distance you can clearly see ahead, thus permitting you to avoid any emergency that might pop up."

Tomorrow is Memorial Day and a holiday in Ballinger. It is a day set aside to honor the soldiers of all wars who served their country and have passed on to their reward. In recent years, no true observance has been planned by local veteran groups, because attendance reached such a low ebb that it was embarrassing to veterans and their parents of boys who made the supreme sacrifice. Tomorrow in Ballinger, the program will be to open the municipal swimming pool and to stage a program of entertainment for all the people of this area. They will start business at 1 p. m. and the Ballinger Lions Club will have charge. They have announced a talent show to start at 7 p. m. and during the program, several door and attendance prizes will be awarded. School is out and the youth of this area will be on hand to jam the cool waters when the ribbon is cut to turn the customers into the pool.

Use T-4-L for 3 to 5 days. Watch the old tainted skin slough off leaving healthy, hardy skin. If not pleased with powerful, instant-drying T-4-L, your 48c back at any drug store. Today at Pearce-Bailey Drug.

Tonight will be graduation for the senior class of the Ballinger High School. The sixty odd seniors will receive their diplomas and will complete a 12 year grind in the school classroom and the first lap of their education. It is hoped that all members of the class will continue their education by entering a college or university in September. There was never a day when the young man and career girl needs knowledge as they do today. Many opportunities are completely blocked for those who do not have the technical know-how to fill the job that is waiting for them. We congratulate the seniors for their fine start in life and hope that four or five years hence they will be receiving that coveted degree.

Baseball fans will miss professional ball this summer but Little League is underway and you can have a good time by attending games at the fine park here. The baseball may not be as perfect as the West-erners provided, but the hustle, team spirit and desire to win will be there and your attendance will encourage the youngsters a lot. Schedules for the entire season are ready so place one in your pocket and keep up with your favorite club.

The questions everybody is asking about polio vaccination are answered in a quiz sheet just issued by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, that staunch organization which has been battling polio for 20 years and which made the Salk vaccine possible. Here are the main ones:

Q. Can adults get polio? A. They can and they do. And it hits them harder than it hits children.

Q. Are parents safe from polio if their children have been vaccinated? A. No. Everybody has to get his own vaccination. A vaccinated person, though protected against polio, can still carry the polio virus and infect the unvaccinated.

Q. Are you safe if you have had one shot? Two shots? A. Not as safe as the vaccine can make you. One shot is better than none. Two shots are better than one. But for maximum protection you need at least three shots of Salk vaccine.

Q. Is a baby too young to be vaccinated? A. Last year babies one year old had the highest polio attack rate of any age group. Next came children aged two. Some health authorities recommend starting polio shots at two months.

Q. Where can you get Salk vaccine? A. From your doctor or at local vaccination clinics. Start shots early to have full protection before the next polio season.
