

Ballinger FFA to Host District Banquet Dec. 4

Plans are being made here for the district FFA banquet and sweetheart contest with the Ballinger FFA as hosts. By a unanimous vote among students and teachers of this district, Ballinger was selected for the annual banquet and sweetheart contest to be held on the evening of December 4.

There will be approximately 20 schools represented and some 20 girls will seek the honor of district sweetheart. A program will be presented and awards for the district leadership contest will be given at that time.

Official word has been received by H. B. Edmondson, FFA advisor, that Paul Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Price, has been selected for the Lone Star Farmer degree. He has been an active FFA student building an outstanding record in feeding and showing Angus cattle. His leadership ability, supervised farming program and record keeping has caused him to be chosen to receive this, the highest degree the state association can bestow upon a future farmer.

Paul will receive his certificate and pin, along with others, at the district banquet here on December 4.

Jerry Beaver, Billy Nesbit and Mr. Edmondson were in Coleman on October 7 to attend the district organizational meeting. There were some 40 boys present, along with their teachers and some 20 schools represented to organize and elect officers.

Beaver was elected secretary of the Coleman district at this meeting.

Firemen Receive New 500 Gallon Howe Fire Truck

The City of Ballinger received a new fire truck last week which has been added to the fire fighting equipment at the local station. Several months ago the city purchased an International truck chassis which was delivered to the Howe Fire Fighting Equipment Co. at Anderson, Indiana, to be completely equipped.

Tom McEntire, Bob Bartlett and Morris Stokes went to Anderson, Indiana and returned the truck here last week. The new 500-gallon per minute pumper is almost exactly like the other truck which was recently added. It was purchased by the city at a cost of $14,546. The newest addition to the Ballinger Fire Department brings the equipment of that group up to above normal for a town of this size and would make possible efficient fire fighting on a major scale.

The members of the department who drove to Indiana to bring home the new truck used the fire department's ambulance for the trip. A bed was arranged in the back of the ambulance so that at least one could sleep while others were driving.

Superior Rating To Guard Company

The Ballinger National Guard unit, Company I, 142 Infantry, has received a superior rating following the annual federal inspection. The inspection was held on October 7 with Col. William B. Preston, from 4th Army headquarters at Fort Sam Houston, here on that date.

The superior rating was received this week with special mention in regard to administrative, supply and maintenance procedures, state of training, appearance of personnel, high percentage of drill for past year.

This was the first time for the company to have 100 percent of the personnel on hand for inspection.

Company I at present has 5 officers, 1 warrant officer and 85 enlisted men. Ten members of the company are taking six-months active training with the army at this time.

ABSENTEE VOTING IS STARTED OCTOBER 15

Absentee voting started at the office of the county clerk Wednesday and will be continued through October 31. This will allow twenty days in which to cast an absentee ballot up to three days before the election.

Persons who know they will be out of the county on November 4 may secure a ballot by applying to the county clerk for same. Those already out of the county may have a ballot mailed to them and after marking the ballot, return it to the county clerk.

All election supplies have been prepared and boxes for all election managers will be made ready for distribution before November 4.

County Council Officers Named Here October 10

The Runnels County Home Demonstration Council met here on October 10 and elected officers to serve during 1959. The new officers are:

Mrs. Marion Hays, chairman
Mrs. Erwin Halfmann, vice-chairman

The T. H. D. A. president, Mrs. W. J. Curtis, read a letter from Mrs. Maxey Harvey, state committee chairman of health and safety, stating that Senator Moffett will sponsor a bill in the state legislature requiring the enrichment of corn meal and grits.

The Texas Home Demonstration Association is especially interested in the passage of this bill and requests the people of Runnels County to write our representative, A. J. Bishop, Route 4, Winters, and to our senator, Dorsey B. Hardeman, San Angelo, urging their support in the passage of this bill for the maintenance of good health.

Extension Bulletin MP-269 stated that "Enriched" corn meal has nearly 5 times as much thiamine (vitamin B-1), nearly 4 times as much riboflavin (vitamin B-2), over 4 times as much niacin and 2½ times as much iron as plain corn meal.

Enriched grits has nearly 10 times as much thiamine, 5 times as much riboflavin, 7 times as much niacin and about 2½ times as much iron as non-enriched grits.

Mrs. Curtis also encouraged members to subscribe for the T. H. D. A. news bulletin, "The Messenger."

The county building program will be held on November 6. For further details see your county agent.

Any club member desiring to attend the Council's Christmas luncheon may do so by obtaining reservation through their club president. The cost of the luncheon will be $1.25 per plate and one dollar gifts will be exchanged among those who attend.

The Ballinger Jaycees, with the cooperation of the Future Farmers of America, are operating a ewe and swine program which has proven of great benefit to a number of local boys. Last week they distributed Southdown and Rambouillet ewes, along with swine, to a number of local boys for the program this year.

The program was started by the Jaycees to help worthy boys get started in purebred sheep and swine. Members who received swine this year are:

He is now employed with the State Health Board at Austin doing research work as a field mammalogist and ornithologist.

Commissioners Discuss Two Highway Projects

The Runnels County Commissioners' Court, in session Monday, spent considerable time discussing future highway construction in the county.

Judge W. H. Rampy had received information from the district office of the Texas Highway Department in regard to future projects in the south part of Runnels County.

One would be for additional work on Highway 67, starting at Broadway in the City of Ballinger and continuing down Hutchings Avenue, across Elm Creek and to the junction with the old Highway 67 one mile east of Ballinger. For the securing of the right-of-way on this project the department appropriated $25,000 as their part of the cost.

The county has unaided bonds authorized in 1955 for their part of the right-of-way cost. This proposed construction of only about one mile would be an expensive piece of work and would include a railroad overpass on the Abilene & Southern just east of the Ballinger Cop-og Gin, a new bridge across Elm Creek, a traffic circle east of Ballinger at the junction and an overpass there.

The present route for Highway 67 enters the city on Park Avenue to Broadway, south to Hutchings Avenue and then over the main street to the Colorado River bridge. The highway department also announced the appropriation of $25,000 for their part of the right-of-way cost for securing a new route on Highway 83 from a junction with Highway 67 one mile east of Ballinger, north 8 miles to Hatchel. This route has been in the construction picture for a number of years and on two occasions a bond issue for money to purchase the right-of-way has been submitted to the voters and defeated.

In 1955 the plan was included in the bond election when funds were approved for the purchase of right-of-way on Highway 67 and the Highway 83 project. The county does not have the funds with which to buy their part of the right-of-way and it will require a bond election to secure the money. No such election has been called and it would likely require a petition from the voters of the road district to the commissioners' court asking for an election.

In other action by the court Monday, a deputy was authorized for District Clerk Willie Stephens when he is out of office. Mrs. M. A. Foy was officially named as deputy.

The county outside audit was received and all accounts were found in proper order.

137 Boy Scout Workers To Launch Drive Here

The annual boy scout fund campaign will be launched here next Tuesday, October 21, with a breakfast for all workers scheduled at 6:30 a. m. at the Acapulco Cafe.

Don Atkins is general fund chairman and for the past several weeks has been perfecting an organization which has 137 workers who have volunteered for service this year. All special groups have been selected and the special gifts committee composed of Frank Flynt, Ray Fuqua and Lawrence Green have been at work for some time. They will be ready to make their report at the kick-off breakfast.

An important meeting has been set for tonight at 7:30 at the court house when Chairman Don Atkins will meet with all the majors in charge of teams. This will include Pannell Legg, Lanham Flynt, Willie Stephens, Mrs. Dorsey Read, Mrs. Bobby Bryan, Elmer Rogers and Mickey Looney. Mr. Atkins has stressed that any major who cannot attend this meeting please have someone present from that team to accept their share of the contact cards which will be distributed.

Under the major are captains and under the captains are teams of solicitors. These teams have been supplied by the following groups: Ballinger Jaycees 20 men, Ballinger Lions Club 25 men, Ballinger Rotary Club 20 men, Shakespeare Club 10 ladies, XXXVI Club 10 ladies, Scout helpers 25 men, Runnels County Boys Auto Club 25 boys.

The Concho Valley Council has a goal set for this campaign of $101,120.94. Ballinger in the past two years has been short in their giving towards this goal and every effort will be made this year to raise their full share of the big budget.

In the area over 8,500 boys will be in scouting in 1959 and there is a definite need to raise the full budget in order to carry on the work of the districts and the council. Be ready to give when you are called on next Tuesday.

Carnival King-Queen Contest Is Underway

Ballinger seniors and their sponsors are putting all preliminary work completed for the staging of the annual carnival at the library building on Saturday, October 25.

A number of new features will be added to the entertainment this year. Joe Forester, high school principal, was in Dallas the past week-end and purchased a supply of carnival equipment and prizes which will be added to the regular features of the annual show.

CHURCH OF NAZARENE REVIVAL NEXT WEEK

A revival will be underway at the Church of the Nazarene all next week, starting on October 19 and running through October 26.

All home talent will be used during this campaign with the members of the congregation furnishing the music and the pastor, Rev. E. M. Walker, doing the preaching. Services are scheduled for 7:15 each evening and at regular hours on Sundays. The public is invited.

Mr. E. O. Schawe and sister, Miss Willidell Schawe, have been in Ballinger for a short visit with their sister, Miss Olga Schawe, following a business trip to Dallas. They left Wednesday morning for Mr. Schawe's home in Kerrville and Miss Schawe will go on to her home at Wimberly.

Merchandise prizes have been solicited for the bingo and other games and a large crowd is expected to fill the building for several hours the evening of the carnival.

An annual feature is the selection of the carnival king and queen. This is done on a money voting campaign and all classes have named candidates. In high school only one pair of candidates is named by each class. They are:

Senior Class—Dorothy Smith and Ralph Dankworth
Freshman class—Joy Lee Herring and Jerry Brunson

In the 8th and 7th grades, three pairs of candidates are named and they hold an elimination contest which will close on Friday of this week, leaving one pair in each grade. The contest this week is between the following:

NOTES

Coleman voters went to the polls last Saturday to approve $35,000 in school bonds. The special election was called to provide additional funds to complete the school improvement program started there some time back. The district approved an issue for $280,000 for school improvements and with rising costs the additional $35,000 was needed to complete the work already started. An error was made by the architect in the cost of one building and this, plus increased materials and labor, caused the shortage in the first issue of bonds, making more money necessary to finish the program.

In a meeting at College Station last week directors of Texas A & M College gave Tarleton State College the go-ahead signal on current construction plans and future expansion on the campus. The board awarded the contract for the construction of the $200,000 student health center, two parking lots, and a new boiler for the college power plant. Construction of the health center and parking lots are to be started within two weeks. The board also approved the securing of additional property to the college campus.

Winters has been chosen for the third straight year as the site for the band marching contest for Region 2. The contest has been set for December 6 and approximately 54 schools are expected to have bands present for the one day contest. Robert Gann, high school band director at Winters, will have charge and he estimates that some 3,400 school musicians will be included in the contests this year. There will also be a large number of parents and others who drive cars at the meeting this year.

The board of directors of the Menard County Chamber of Commerce voted last week to back the annual pecan show. The 1957 show attracted many pecan growers from a wide section of the state and pecan the first day of the season and usually stay until they have killed a buck or two. It will be no different this year. Parties are already making their plans and in cases where the group is not full, other members are being recruited.

specialists were on hand to assist with the program. The date for the annual show will be set within a short time. The chamber also announced a prize would be paid to hunters in that area this fall. A pilgrim age has been set to visit San Saba Mission and the chamber will serve coffee and tea for this occasion.

Announcement was made at Brownwood last week that the First National Bank had purchased the old J. C. Penney building. John Yantis, bank president, announced the purchase. It was stated that the building would be torn down in the near future and a building to house only the bank would be constructed. Although plans are not complete, the new building will provide for a modern bank with drive-in features. Bank officials stated they had outgrown their present banking home and needed additional room and modern conveniences for customers.

The city council at Brady agreed last week to continue their efforts for a city water supply. A report was received recently on proposed lake sites above Brady which were too expensive for providing water. Congressmen will be contacted by the city officials to see if they can offer any help. One member of the council stated they would not let the lake project die until they had exhausted every effort to locate a site which could be built by the city and area to be served.

Colorado City is preparing for the annual Mitchell County Fair which will be held October 17 and 18. A street dance has been added to the entertainment program and other features will be announced later. Announcement was made that entries would be received on Thursday, October 16, and judging would start at 10 a. m. on October 17. The Civic House and the National Guard Armory will be used to house the exhibits this year. The selection and coronation of a queen will again be one of the big features of the fair.

Committees working on the homecoming of the Miles High School are meeting with good success and have announced that a large number of out of town exes have already reserved tickets for the barbecue dinner.

Indications are that there will be a large crowd of former students and teachers and an effort is being made to have all Miles citizens present. Barbecue tickets have been placed on sale at a number of Miles stores and a committee is accepting reservations from others.

Eden has started an effort to secure the Methodist Church Hospital and Retirement Home for the San Angelo district. A group from the church was in Eden last week to look over the site and discuss with Eden leaders the requirements for securing such a location. A mass meeting of citizens was held at Eden last week when the plan was explained to all those interested. Eden already has some facilities which would be a part of the hospital if it is located there by the church group.

Miss Ollie Chenoweth, home demonstration agent, held an upholstery school at Rowena last week and gave actual demonstrations in upholstery chairs. The sessions were held at the public school lunchroom with a good number attending. Ladies with chair projects were Mrs. Ralph Kettler, Mrs. Fritz Hubner and Mrs. Werner Lisso. A number of other ladies of the Rowena Club attended the class for the two days. Refreshments were served each day.

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed one of the peanut drier-warehouses last week at the Durham Peanut Co. in Comanche. Comanche firemen did an excellent job in keeping the fire contained in the one building and from spreading to other areas of the plant. Pat Cagle, manager, estimated the loss at about $12,000 and stated that it was partially covered by insurance. The Durham Co. handles much of the peanut crop harvested in that section of the state.

Distinction and Beauty in COMPLETELY RESTYLED CHEVY

Chevrolet again offers the popular Bel Air series in 1959. This model maintains its reputation for stylish interiors and appointments, with increased passenger room and additional visibility in new compound-curved windshields and larger rear windows. New grille and lowered headlamps accent the front end. Both two-door and four-door sedans incorporate the venture-some new design features, plus improved brakes, suspension system and handling advancements. All 1959 Chevrolets feature a new acrylic lacquer finish said to retain brightness for years.

A complete styling transformation, along with more safety, comfort and performance, was announced today for the 1959 Chevrolet passenger car line.

The cars, which will be displayed at nationwide dealer showings on Thursday, October 16, represent one of the most imaginative designs ever to come from the automobile industry.

ance will draw instant admiration. Chevrolet has not neglected other phases of engineering in its bid to continue the sales popularity registered by the company in 1958.

Here are some of the 1959 mechanical highlights:

A new six-cylinder engine, named the Hi-Thrift because of added economy through re-design in valving and carburetion, gives up to 10 per cent more mileage, plus more usable horsepower at normal driving speeds.

Fundamental improvements in coil spring suspension, incorporating specialized controls. Refinements in the optional Level Air suspension to acquire softer, quieter operation.

cooler, offer a softer ride and last longer.

A Turboglide transmission of advanced design. One of two automatic transmissions in the 1959 line, the quality of Turboglide has been raised to a new peak.

Easier steering and the inclusion of a second, shock-resistant universal joint. A radiator increased in cooling area. A more simplified, more productive electrical system.

In addition to a bold, fresh design, Chevrolet bodies for 1959 excel in comfort and structural unity. An impressive increase in passenger room is exemplified by almost 5 inches more width in the five and one half ft. front seat. With 20 per cent greater capacity, the trunk has been increased up to 32 cubic feet. Still another example of general commodiousness can be found in station wagons. The cargo space has been lengthened to almost eight feet.

two inches. Through lower body mountings and a new roof configuration, the advantage has been accomplished without sacrifice, and in some cases an actual gain, in headroom.

Station wagons are now no higher than the four-ft., eight inch sedans. Front tread of the car has been broadened 1.5 inches; the rear tread 5 inch. Wheelbase is 119 inches and the overall length 210.9 inches.

Worthy of particular attention in the new bodies is the introduction of a new acrylic lacquer, a nine-step metal finishing process that adds depth to color and remarkable luster for several years. Under experiment for several years, the new acrylic body surfaces will not require polishing for as much as three years in normal climates.

The Impala line, which won wide acclaim in 1958, has been broadened to include a new 4-door sedan and a 4-door hard-top, in addition to the sport coupe and the convertible.

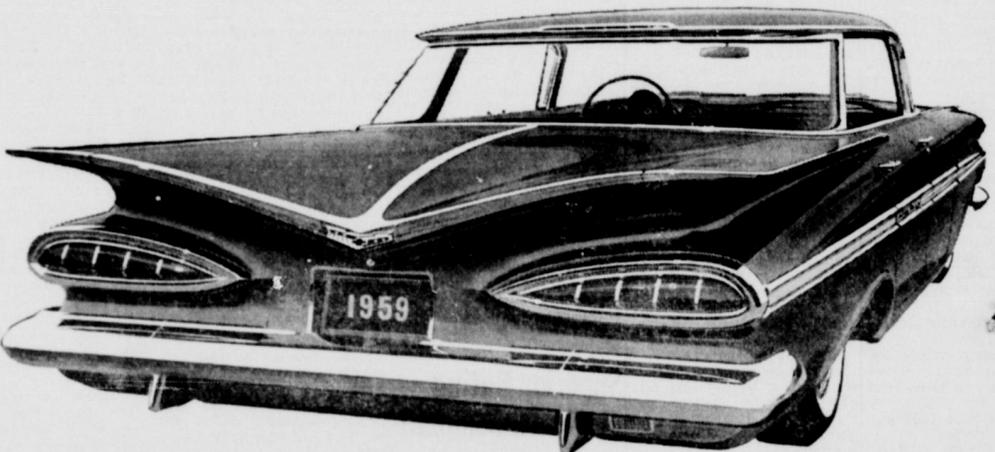

The Bel Air series is offered in 2 and 4-door sedans.

The Biscayne series is offered in 2 and 4-door sedans and a utility sedan, and takes over the lowest price niche formerly occupied by the Delray, now discontinued.

The station wagon series includes 2 and 4-door Brookwoods, a new 4-door Parkwood, a 9-passenger Kingswood, and the sumptuous 4-door Nomad. The third seat in the 9-passenger Kingswood folds, the rear and may be folded flush with the floor.

All the station wagons feature a rear window which lowers into the tailgate. Also of interest, when the tailgate is open the cargo area in all station wagons is extended to 10 feet. The two-passenger Corvette sport car, also refined and improved, rounds out the 1959 Chevrolet passenger car line.

Now... all America sees the one that's truly new!

SPORTS

The Ballinger Bearcats have benefited from a week's rest and are now ready to start the district schedule with five games in a row. The district this year appears to be fairly even in strength and each club will be fighting for wins from now until the season is over.

Ballinger will go to Cisco Friday night to meet the Lobos in what is likely to be their hardest games. So far this year the Lobos have been taking their opponents one at a time and have rolled up some impressive scores in their early season games. They have been picked by most of the sports-writers to win the district and the Bearcats will again be the underdogs in the first district game.

Following the Cisco game, the Bearcats will be at home for three straight conference games with Coleman, Ranger and Eastland in a row. They will close their season with Winters against the Blizzards.

There will be a good crowd of fans, students and exes in Cisco Friday night to help the Bearcats spring an upset. It is only about 100 miles to Cisco with several good routes to get there. The team will leave early Friday afternoon by chartered bus and the band will be transported in school buses. A large number of cars will carry fans and students to the game.

The Bearcat B team put up a good game against the Abilene B team last Thursday night. The two teams battled 6-6 for most of the game with Abilene finally scoring and making an extra two points to win by a score of 14 to 6. A good crowd was on hand to watch the two teams as there was no regular game last week.

The Junior High Bearcats also sprang a surprise at Winters and handed the Blizzards juniors an 8 to 0 defeat. The Bearcats completed a pass late in the game and then added two points to take the big end of the score. The scoring pass play was batted into the air by a Winters player but the ball fell into the arms of a waiting Bearcat for the score.

The 7th and 8th grade teams did not fare so well at Winters and both were defeated.

Next Saturday night the B team will meet the B team from Colorado City here at Bearcat Field.

The Junior team will have an open date next week with no games scheduled.

PETROLEUM — basic to the needs of our time

Oil and natural gas have powered most of the great technological advances of modern times; petroleum hydrocarbons have transformed the dreams of inventors into the realities of engineers... Today, in the United States, oil and natural gas provide about 75% of the country's energy requirements; and large quantities of oil, available for production beyond immediate need, are necessary to the national security.

An obvious example is the gasoline that powers our automobiles; another is the diesel fuel burned by post-war railway engines. But do not overlook electric power plants, the airplane, whether jet or propeller driven, factory power plants, farm mechanization, and the revolution since World War II in home heating devices. Oil provides the energy that moves the trucks, airplanes, ships and tanks of our Armed Forces.

But petroleum as a source of energy is only part of the story. In the past two decades, the petrochemicals have supplied the country with a vigorous new industry; already most of our rubber is made from petrochemicals... the ubiquitous plastics derive from petroleum products... paraxylene, a petrochemical, is the raw material for one of the most useful of the new fabrics. In this area, wonders never cease; the petrochemicals contribute more each year to the efficiency, comfort, and convenience of modern living.

Thus, oil's progress has made other progress possible all along the front of American industry... Petroleum is the American resource that is basic to the needs of our time... that is essential to our national security.

The Humble Company, established in 1917, has developed with the industry.

Humble's exploration activities extend from Florida around the rim of the country to California, Oregon and Washington, and beyond to the new State of Alaska... The Company is a leader in the production of oil and gas in the United States... Humble Pipe Line Company is a public carrier transporting not only Humble's oil but that of many other companies and independent producers to Gulf Coast terminals... Baytown refinery is one of the nation's great manufacturing plants... And Humble is a marketer in the Southwest, supplying the needs of motorists in modern service stations.

The Humble Company believes strongly in research, maintains two outstanding research facilities, and annually budgets considerable sums for this activity... Humble research has made substantial contributions to the discovery, production, and utilization of petroleum.

Plans Announced For Rural Lines By Telephone Co.

Announcement has been made of the organization of Four States Telephone Company as a wholly owned subsidiary of The Southwestern States Telephone Company.

The new company will use funds from the Rural Electrification Administration for rural telephone development and expansion in sparsely populated areas. D. T. Strickland, vice-president and general manager of the parent company, stated in announcing the formation of the new company. He estimated the new company will establish exchanges in 20 to 30 rural areas contiguous to Southwestern States property.

REA last week announced the approval of the first loan for Four States Telephone Company in the amount of $635,000. These funds will be used for the development and expansion of rural telephone service in Concho, Kimble, Llano, Mason, McCulloch, Menard and Schleicher Counties in Texas. Similar projects are planned for areas contiguous to Southwestern States property in Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma.

Strickland pointed out that the new company is not a "co-operative" but a 100% subsidiary of the Southwestern States Telephone Company. Plans for this first project of the new Four States Telephone Company call for the purchase of two existing exchanges, converting them to modern dial operation and the creation of a new dial exchange. Some 1,100 subscribers in this seven-county Texas area will be served through these three exchanges.

The Southwestern States Telephone Company operates 129,000 telephones in 162 exchanges in Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas.

The United Church of Rowena will have its Sunday service at 10:30 a. m. The sermon subject of the Rev. O. P. Schroerlue will be "Pruning Hurts and Helps."

DEEP ROOTED LEGUMES WILL BREAK PLOW PAN

Fibrous and deep rooted cover crops can help break that plow pan, states James Glyn, local Soil Conservation Service technician. Getting water into the ground is a major problem in the Punnels Soil Conservation District. Compacted soil and surface crusting are high contributing factors to excessive runoff. Soils low in organic matter are easily compacted when wet. Our modern heavy equipment can be a contributing factor in soil compaction. This condition usually occurs just below the plow zone and frequently becomes so severe that some plant roots cannot penetrate the pan.

Farmers concerned with this problem can help reduce this condition by planting deep rooted legumes or small grain in their regular crop rotation. These plants have a deep, vigorous root system which will penetrate the plow pan and improve the soil condition.

Changes In Your Social Security

By F. Neal Tarvin
Field Representative of the San Angelo, Texas
Social Security District
Office

In the first article of this series, I outlined the most important changes in the old-age, survivors, and disability insurance program brought about by the 1958 amendments to the social security law. Today, I shall discuss in more detail, changes in the law as they affect the dependents of retired, disabled, or deceased insured working people.

I feel that the most important changes in the field are those relating to the families of workers who have become too disabled for further substantial gainful work, and to dependent parents of workers who have died.

The first of these important amendments concerns families of insured workers who are no longer able to do substantial work. While monthly benefit payments to qualified disabled workers have been made beginning with July 1957, until now, no payments were possible to their families. Payments to them could not be made until the disabled breadwinner reached the age 65 or died before that time.

We, of the social security office, have had occasion to observe many cases of hardship resulting from this provision in the old law. The disability benefit payments to the disabled worker offset, in part, his losses of earnings from work, but they did not provide adequate protection for his dependent family. The medical expenses incurred through disability are a major financial problem for most of these families. Furthermore, the children are more dependent than are the children of retired workers. It is usually necessary that the mother remain at home and not attempt to supplement the family income. In many cases the care required by the disabled person makes it impossible for his wife to work outside the home.

Insurance protection in the form of monthly benefits is now provided the disabled person's children under 18 and any older child under a disability beginning before he became 18. Benefits are also payable to the disabled person's wife if she has in her care a child eligible for benefits. An estimated 180,000 dependents of totally disabled workers now on the beneficiary rolls can qualify for payments under this provision in the amended law.

Before the enactment of the BAILING OUT—Minor inconveniences like bailing out the "cockpit" are taken in stride by the sports car set. Caught with his tonneau (thunder) cover down, Ed Vorwerk, UPI photographer in Austin, Tex., empties his MG before leaving on assignment.

1958 amendments, an aged parent, however dependent, could never get benefit payments based on the earnings of a son or daughter if there was a surviving wife, dependent widower, or child who was entitled or who could later become entitled to payments. This restriction applied even in cases where those survivors never actually became beneficiaries.

I recall, in particular, a case where an insured worker died leaving a widow who was no longer living with him at the time of his death. His other survivor was an aged mother who was keeping house for him and dependent on him for her means of livelihood. His death left her destitute. A monthly social security check as a sur-ving, dependent parent would have prevented this situation. She could not qualify as a beneficiary, however, because the estranged wife was also a survivor. Under the law, as amended, this parent would also be eligible for survivor's benefit payments. An estimated 90,000 aged, dependent parents can now apply for survivors' benefits under this new provision in the law.

Since an application must be filed before benefits can be paid, persons receiving disability insurance benefits, and who have eligible dependents, should contact their district office. Parents of deceased workers who were financially dependent on the deceased son or daughter should also contact the social security office. The district office serving this area is located at San Angelo, Texas or you may contact me here in Ballinger at the County Office Building on October 22 at 9:30 a. m.

In my next article I shall discuss other changes in the law which affect dependents of retired or insured workers.
