Korean Speaker Discusses Democracy vs. Communism

Dr. No-Young Park, the guest speaker for the Southern School Assemblies Co., gave an informative and inspiring lecture to the student body at 12:30 p. m. Dec. 1 in the high school auditorium. Dr. Park, who was born in Manchuria, of Korean parents, received his Oriental education in China, Japan and Korea. He is the author of numerous books, some of which have been recommended by the Book-of-the-Month Club. His delightful humor, gift of expression, and penetrating knowledge of Asian affairs have won for him the title "Oriental Mark Twain."

His talk was of the struggle between democracy of the West and communism across the Pacific. He vividly contrasted the communistic Asian countries with their millions of people who are hungry, who are diseased, who are dejected with the democratic American countries with their well-fed, well-clothed, well-contented millions.

Dr. Park explained that many people in communist countries do not believe in communism, but, being under the harsh rule of the leaders, they are not permitted to express their beliefs in democracy.

The speaker's reference to the words of the late President Kennedy: "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country," caused the students to think seriously of their obligation to the great American way of life. The following are thoughts expressed by the officers of the CHS Student Council in regard to a democracy:

Larry Taylor, treasurer: "Because of the people's vote, America is a democracy."

Hollis Halbert, secretary: "In America the worth of the individual is more important than the worth of the state."

Mike Gamble, vice president:

"Democracy is a liberty, the backbone of our nation."

Ken Ferguson, president: "In a democracy, one has the right to express his opinion, to exercise his liberty, to pursue his happiness."

The student body agreed that this program was one of the most impressive that has been presented by the Southern School Assemblies.

Library Receives Books Donated by Adelphians

The CHS Library Club wishes to express its thanks to the Adelphian Club for these books: "Public Philosophy" by Walter Lippmann, "Freedom and Responsibility in the American Way of Life" by Carl L. Becker, "Rendezvous with Destiny" by Eric F. Goldman, and "America as a Civilization" by Max Lerner. Many students will enjoy and benefit from this selection of books.

Future Teachers Association Honors School Faculty

Interesting experiences of CHS teachers were revealed last Monday night when the FTA honored the faculty with a reception in the Homemaking Cottage.

Evelyn Fiske, FTA president, opened the meeting by asking the FTA members to repeat the FTA pledge. Mike Manard gave the invocation. Gayle Smith read the "Teachers Creed," after which she explained the various projects which the FTA have in mind to sponsor. She stressed the willingness of FTA members to help any teacher in any possible way.

As the first number on the program, a panel—Henry Black, Barbara Wall, Printiss Gidney and Jewell Solis—discussed the reasons they entered the teaching field. This proved to be interesting, instructive, and in a few instances, hilarious. Incidentally, each of these teachers graduated from CHS as did Vera Manard, Evelyn Jones Denison, Margaret Claire Raspberry, Virginia Sue Smith, Martha Thomas, Bernice Todd, Jim Lois Bursey, James Welch, Gordon Erwin and Emma Belle Bounds.

Karen Shirley then asked other teachers, Paul Barree, Vera Manard and James Welch, why they chose the particular field in which they teach. Mrs. Manard told of circumstances that resulted in her majoring in English even though her "first love" was Spanish. Mr. Welch's first interest was in vocational agriculture, not science. It sounds as if some place along the way plans went "topsy turvey." Anyway, students and teachers alike enjoyed the fellowship of those with a desire to be a teacher.

Delicious cookies and punch were served the twenty-three teachers and eleven FTA members present.

Dr. Lindsey Shows Film on "The Pulse of Life" Last Week

On Wednesday, Dec. 2, Dr. Thomas Lindsey presented a program for the students and faculty of CHS. Dr. Lindsey attended a dental school at Baylor and has a degree from Hardin Simmons. He lives presently in Vernon.

He showed a film, purchased by the Wichita Medical Association called "Pulse of Life" which concerned mouth to mouth resuscitation. The film especially explained the ABC's of saving a life: A, being for air pressure; B, breathing; and C, circulation.

After the film, using a dummy called "Resuscitation Sue," Dr. Lindsey gave a demonstration to the health students, football players and journalism class.

Dr. Lindsey explained that this subject is very dear to him, for at one time during the war, his life was saved because someone knew how to do resuscitation. The student body expresses appreciation for this presentation.

Speech Students Appear on Christmas Programs

The week of Dec. 7-11 has been designated by the speech students as "Activity Week." Students have given a Christmas program for each of the following organizations.

On Monday night at Mrs. Hubert Brown's home, the following program was given for the Henry Circle: solo, Silent Night by Freddie Wehba, accompanied by Mike Manard; Christmas stories, "Keeping Christmas" by Donna Bell, "Dad's Christmas" by Mike Manard; "The Other Wise Man" by Shirley Mike Raspberry; "Miraculous Countdown," by Cheryl Thompson; and "Gift to Sue Sue" by Margaret Collins. A quartet composed of Cindy Chambers, Frances Cates, Lela Cates and Gayle Smith sang "Winter Wonderland" and "Silver Bells."

One of the two programs given Tuesday night was for the hospital party held in the basement of the Baptist Church. The program consisted of the following: Christmas stories, "You Can't Run Away from Christmas," Jean Burkett; "Christmas Gems," Barbara McGee; "The Star," Virginia Stapp. A trio, Cindy Chambers, Lela Cates and Frances Cates, sang "Good King Wincelkaus" and "Deck the Halls." The double quartet composed of Sandra Chowning, Jon Ann Carter, Mary Ann Ramsey, Lanette Lemons, Seth Halbert, Jackie Eddy, Freddy Wehba and Paul Stapp, sang four Christmas carols, "O Come All Ye Faithful," "Joy to the World," "First Noel," and "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

The other Tuesday night program was given for the Eastern Star at the lodge hall. Christmas stories were told as follows: "Christmas Minuet," Evelyn Fiske; "A Shepherd," Mary Ann Ramsey; "A Shining Gift," Sandra Weatherred; and "Santa Claus Knows," Linda Williams.

On Wednesday for the Columbian Club meeting at Mrs. Gerald Knox's home, three stories and a song were given. The stories were "Gift of the Mazi," Billye McClain; "The Little Shepherd," Hollis Halbert; "Bid the pers twinkle," Elaine Crowell. Betty Welch sang "Suzy Snowflake" and "Geslo Bambino."

On Thursday, six students presented the program for the Friendship circle at Mrs. Clyde Eddy's. Four stories were told: "Littlest Snowman," Jackie Eddy; "Gift to Sue-Sue," Janis James; and "Gold and Ivory Tablecloth," Bill Harris. Freddy Wehba sang "Silent Night," accompanied by Mike Manard.

The speech students have "caught the Christmas spirit" by their participation in these programs; maybe they have helped others catch it too.

Kenneth Smith led Chillicothe with 14 points followed closely by Danny Baker and Tommy Hensley. Dan Mike Bird led Crowell's scoring with 31 points. With Ken Ferguson out with a sprained ankle, Bill Harris, David Denton and Steve Gray saw action.

FHA Studies Rules for Obtaining Degrees

The Nov. 24 meeting of the FHA was held at 3:30 p. m. at the Homemaking Cottage with refreshments being served as the members arrived. The program concerned the attainment of various FHA degrees. Janeise Jackson discussed the requirements to be met to obtain a junior degree; Nancy Ketchersid, a chapter degree; and Renee Daniel a state degree.

During the business session, the FHA beau was elected. You'll have to wait to learn the lucky "guy." The girls decided to re-do toys and to bring food for needy families as their Christmas project.

Senior Girls Take Betty Crocker Test

On Dec. 1, every senior girl participated in the Betty Crocker test. This gave the senior girls an opportunity to benefit in two ways: first, one of them may receive a scholarship ranging in value from $500 to $5000; second, all of them will receive a new and deeper appreciation of their role as American homemakers of tomorrow. Since its inception, about 3½ million girls have participated in the Betty Crocker search, and 950 girls have won scholarships, totaling more than a million dollars.

The following awards will be made: (1) to the Homemaker of Tomorrow for each school, a specially designed Betty Crocker award pin, (2) to each State Homemaker of Tomorrow, a $1500 Betty Crocker scholarship and an educational tour, (3) to the Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow, an increase in her scholarship to $5000, and (4) to the school of each Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow, a complete set of the encyclopedia. Watch for the announcement of the CHS Betty Crocker winner.

Teachers Attend Vocational Guidance Workshop at Lubbock

Mrs. Carmon Welch, homemaking instructor, and Mrs. Vera Manard, English teacher and guidance counselor, attended a vocational guidance workshop on Dec. 1, at the Texas Tech campus in Lubbock. The presiding officer, John Ridener of the Texas Education Agency, introduced Morris Wallace, head of the Department of Education at Tech, who extended the welcome to the large group of superintendents, principals and vocational guidance personnel in attendance.

The day's program consisted of instructive lectures by members of the vocational guidance division of the Texas Education Agency and a panel discussion by five well-informed persons in the guidance field. These speakers pointed out the necessity for a "new look" into vocational training in technology and in the health program being stressed today. Special emphasis was given to the need for guidance of the handicapped person—whether the handicap was caused from physical, mental, social or economic conditions.

"Hayseed Farmer" Thing of the Past

Petroleum Today magazine says it's time to plow under for keeps the tattered image of the "hayseed farmer." A truer image, it adds, is that of a tough-minded business executive with the brains, brawn and courage needed to run an enterprise which grosses $50,000 a year—that being the average annual gross income per farm of the nation's 250,000 leading farms.

"State Aid" or "Federal Aid"

"It is amazing to pick up a daily newspaper and see numerous references to 'state' aid, or 'federal' aid . . . Just who—or what—is this 'state' (or 'federal') we hear so much about as being all beneficent, all mighty? It's YOU, YOU and me. When we forget that then we will have surrendered to a centralized government run by a handful of people, and history is full of what happened to such nations."—Selmer, Tenn., Independent.

 ILLITERATES?

So far as religion is concerned the average American child is an illiterate, Louis Cassels, internationally known writer for news services in the field of the religious events reports.

In his words, "No one would seriously expect to teach a child about mathematics in 26 hours per year—even with the best teachers and the best classroom conditions. No one should be surprised if children fail to learn much about religion under such circumstances."

The American Review of Eastern Orthodoxy adds the comment in keeping with Mr. Cassel's appraisal that at least two other sources have discovered similar facts.

The American Bible Society tells of an unannounced test that was given 41 pupils in two eleventh grade classes. A total of 112 simple Bible questions were asked in which commonly known Bible names, stories and quotes were used. The average score, according to the American Review, was 22 per cent.

The Review also reports a Newton, Mass., high school teacher was amazed to discover that his pupils thought Jesus taught with "parodies," not parables.

Daringly the teacher instituted a nine-week Bible literary course under the English classes program. (This type of course is permitted under the Supreme Court decision on prayer and Bible study if it is part of the secular program of education.)

No part of the discussion could be devoted to interpretation or meaning of the texts. By making the Bible compared with Thomas Mann's "Joseph and His Brothers" or Davinci's "Last Supper" or other literary and art classics, the pupils learned for the first time the meaning of such things as "Doubting Thomas."

The American Review reports the group which had scored 22 per cent on 267 questions before the study average 92.3 per cent after the study.

The teacher said he justified the study simply because the students need a knowledge of the Bible to understand literary allusions or music or fine arts.

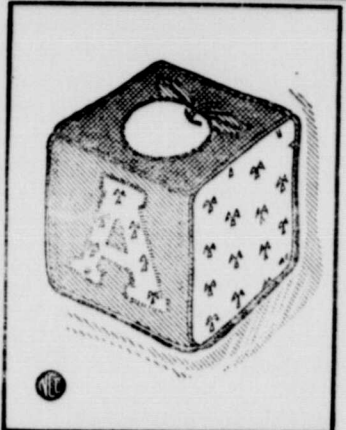

Entertainment, news and cultured conversations require at least a literary understanding of the Bible.

Do these surveys mean we who profess to be church leaders and teachers should examine seriously our teaching methods, and plan more efficient methods for our children to use? It is at least a challenging question which we should give serious attention.

CROWELL STATE BANK

TO THE PEOPLE OF FOARD COUNTY AND TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

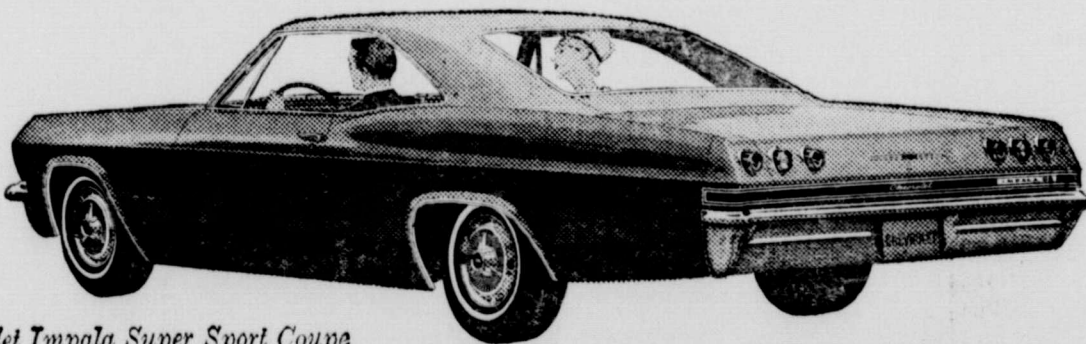

I have tried three times to build on an addition to my rest home to take care of the aged of our town and each time I have failed. Foard County needs a state-licensed rest home to care for its people. I am licensed and belong to the Association of Nursing Home Operators, but I am not large enough to meet the qualifications that the vendor program requires. The vendor payment program under the Medical Assistance Act is paid by the State Department of Public Welfare to our people on old age assistance.

I feel I am hindering someone from building such a convalescent home in Crowell, as the state won't recognize a convalescent home unless the town is large enough for the bed capacity needed. I plan as now to close my home January 1st while I have only five patients and can locate them. But I do want to take this opportunity to thank the people of Foard County for their cooperation; to all the clubs, churches and the sponsors of our young people, to all the ministers who have given their time and effort to help make our elders happy, and to all the visitors that have been a blessing. May God bless you for your kindness. I believe Foard County has the best people in the world. So, let's not let our elders down. They deserve the best we can give them. Did you ever stop to think you might be old too, some day, and need a place to stay?

"State Aid" or "Federal Aid"

"It is amazing to pick up a daily newspaper and see numerous references to 'state aid, or 'federal aid . . . Just who—or what—is this 'state' (or 'federal') we hear so much about as being all beneficent, all mighty? It's YOU, YOU and me. When we forget that then we will have surrendered to a centralized government run by a handful of people, and history is full of what happened to such nations."—Selmer, Tenn., Independent.

ILLITERATES?

So far as religion is concerned the average American child is an illiterate. Louis Cassels, internationally known writer for news services in the field of the religious events reports.

In his words, "No one would seriously expect to teach a child about mathematics in 26 hours per year—even with the best teachers and the best classroom conditions. No one should be surprised if children fail to learn much about religion under such circumstances."

The American Review of Eastern Orthodoxy adds the comment in keeping with Mr. Cassel's appraisal that at least two other sources have discovered similar facts.

The American Bible Society tells of an unannounced test that was given 41 pupils in two eleventh grade classes. A total of 112 simple Bible questions were asked in which commonly known Bible names, stories and quotes were used. The average score, according to the American Review, was 22 per cent.

The Review also reports a Newton, Mass., high school teacher was amazed to discover that his pupils thought Jesus taught with "parodies," not parables.

Daringly the teacher instituted a nine-week Bible literary course under the English classes program. (This type of course is permitted under the Supreme Court decision on prayer and Bible study if it is part of the secular program of education.)

No part of the discussion could be devoted to interpretation or meaning of the texts. By making the Bible compared with Thomas Mann's "Joseph and His Brothers" or Davinci's "Last Supper" or other literary and art classics, the pupils learned for the first time the meaning of such things as "Doubting Thomas."

The American Review reports the group which had scored 22 per cent on 267 questions before the study average 92.3 per cent after the study.

The teacher said he justified the study simply because the students need a knowledge of the Bible to understand literary allusions or music or fine arts.

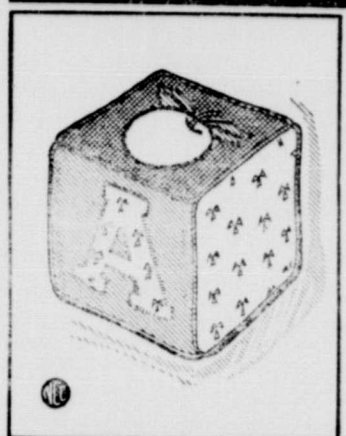

Entertainment, news and cultured conversations require at least a literary understanding of the Bible.

Do these surveys mean we who profess to be church leaders and teachers should examine seriously our teaching methods, and plan more efficient methods for our children to use? It is at least a challenging question which we should give serious attention.

"The brave patriots who founded this country, who dreamt the dream of freedom before there was freedom, saw so very wisely what an important role newspapers could play in the life of this Republic. Because of this, they gave newspapers certain rights

I have tried three times to build on an addition to my rest home to take care of the aged of our town and each time I have failed. Foard County needs a state-licensed rest home to care for its people. I am licensed and belong to the Association of Nursing Home Operators, but I am not large enough to meet the qualifications that the vendor program requires. The vendor payment program under the Medical Assistance Act is paid by the State Department of Public Welfare to our people on old age assistance.

I feel I am hindering someone from building such a convalescent home in Crowell, as the state won't recognize a convalescent home unless the town is large enough for the bed capacity needed. I plan as now to close my home January 1st while I have only five patients and can locate them. But I do want to take this opportunity to thank the people of Foard County for their cooperation; to all the clubs, churches and the sponsors of our young people, to all the ministers who have given their time and effort to help make our elders happy, and to all the visitors that have been a blessing. May God bless you for your kindness. I believe Foard County has the best people in the world. So, let's not let our elders down. They deserve the best we can give them. Did you ever stop to think you might be old too, some day, and need a place to stay?

Miss Beverlie Ann Gray and Charles ten Brink to Marry

Mr. and Mrs. B. Fred Gray of Thalia have announced the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Beverlie Ann Gray, to Charles ten Brink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl ten Brink of Wichita Falls.

A wedding at 2 p. m. December 20 in Sacred Heart Catholic Church is planned.

Miss Gray attended Midwestern

University this semester. Her fiancé attended Cisco Junior College in 1963 and then attended Midwestern University in 1964. He is presently employed in Gainesville.

Truscott H. D. Club

On Dec. 8, the Truscott Home Demonstration Club met at the community center with Mrs. Rake, vice president, in charge. Meeting began with 2 songs sung by the group. The devotional was from St. Luke, chapter 2, and was brought by Mrs. J. R. Brown.

Mrs. Gillespie led in the THDA prayer. Plans for Christmas supper were made. Mrs. Gillespie will make an order for products to be sold by the members. Building will be cleaned Thursday morning, Dec. 10, at 8:30. Mrs. Jones, Mrs. R. C. Daniel and Mrs. Don Daniel were appointed as a decorating committee. Time is 6 o'clock, Dec. 11, with each person bringing enough food for her own family and gifts to exchange for each member of the family. Program on "gift making and decoration" was given by Mrs. Rake and Mrs. Brown. Suggestions for candle making were given. Gifts made of clear polyester resin were also discussed. Table tops can be made of the same product. Mrs. Gillespie will install new officers at the first meeting in January. Refreshments were served to eight members by the hostess, Mrs. R. C. Daniel.

Junior Leaders

Jean Burkett presided at the meeting of the Junior Leaders 4-H Club on Dec. 3. Jon Ann Carter opened the meeting with prayer and read the minutes. Pam Carter and Deborah Raspberry were hostesses. Last week, Jan Welch's name was left out. The program was on "Buying and Wearing Clothes." Virginia Iseng presented this program. Joe Burkett illustrated the points on clothing. Thirty-eight were present.

It's Time to Plan Yuletide Menus

Poultry products continue in ample supply at attractive prices in many supermarkets, as homemakers begin planning menus for the Yuletide holiday.

Market conditions are in a transition stage following Thanksgiving, yet there are many good buys, says Mrs. Gwen Clayatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Egg prices are low for this season of the year, so plan to use them generously in holiday baking. There's a variety of kinds and sizes of turkey and other poultry available for pre-Christmas entertaining.

Beef is still a bargain, with various cuts serving as special features in many stores. Ground beef also is a popular choice, and is economically priced and versatile.

Pork counters are well stocked with a variety of cuts. Loin and rib end roasts, shoulder steaks and sausage are among the more popular cuts.

Good vegetable selections are turnip greens, collards and mustard. Other good buys are eggplant, cauliflower, carrots, celery and sweet potatoes.

Grapefruit is now in relatively good supply, and is being sold by the bag at slightly lower prices. Apples, cranberries, tangerines, tangelos, bananas and grapes are good fruit choices.

December marks the beginning of the eggnog and boiled custard season. These two favorites are easy to serve and are sure to please the family and guests, regardless of the occasion.

Provides One Salutary Warning

David Lawrence writes in U. S. News & World Report: "The sudden change in Moscow at least provides one salutary warning. It tells the American people that much of the talk about a permanent schism between Peiping and Moscow is misleading, and that the ruling cliques in both countries are true Communists under the skin who will work together in whatever crisis with the West which may ensue. . . . It is a time to reiterate the American purpose to make the world safe for democratic institutions in all countries, large and small. Ours is an unselfish objective in the sense that we are willing to make sacrifices for other people. But, basically, it is self-interest, too. For only when the menace of totalitarianism has been mitigated, if not removed, can we be assured of the peace and economic stability which can be of maximum benefit to all mankind."

Sports Caused War to Be Postponed

In an article on the sports boom appearing in This Week Magazine, Stanley Frank writes, "Actually, sports hold an intellectual and esthetic attraction for knowledgeable fans which was thoroughly appreciated by the ancient Greeks. As Alexander Eliot, an art critic, points out, 'The Greeks believed that athletes, more than other men, approached the perfection attributed to their gods . . . who were eternally young, swift, powerful and graceful.' The matchless statues sculptors erected to gods and Olympic champions were interchangeable . . . Sports were such an integral part of Greek culture that a truce was called every four years in the interminable inter-Greek wars to conduct the Olympics on schedule."

'65 Farm Outlook Remains Generally Unchanged

The overall agricultural outlook for 1965 takes on a complexion pointing to an increase in demand as well as an increase in supply of farm products. Farm prices and incomes, however, are expected to remain relatively stable.

Markets for farm products on the home front will continue to expand due to economic growth, rising consumer incomes and population growth, reports John McHane, Extension economist, Texas A&M University.

Looking to the foreign market, agricultural exports in fiscal 1964-65 are anticipated to continue at a high level, though somewhat below the record-setting total of $6.1 billion last year. This total was 20 per cent above the previous two years.

Producers of agricultural commodities, however, will still be confronted with large supplies of farm and ranch products, says the economist. Both livestock and crop production are expected to increase slightly, while carryover stocks remain large, particularly for grains and cotton.

With the large supply of farm products, little hope prevails for an increase in average prices received by farmers. While little change is foreseen in livestock product prices, crop prices will probably be slightly lower in 1965.

McHane estimates the total gross income realized by all farmers and ranchers will maintain the level of the past two years. This income includes cash receipts, government payments and non-money income. Furthermore, only small increases in production expenses are in prospect as compared with increases in recent years.

Farm assets during 1964 are anticipated to increase more than three per cent, due mainly to rising land values. Farmers' debts, though, continue to rise, says McHane, and there will be a greater need for farm credit for acquiring land and capital goods in the coming year.

For the U. S. as a whole, farmers' liabilities are likely to increase to about 16.4 cents per dollar of total assets on January 1. This compares with a rate of 15.7 cents a year earlier and 9.5 cents in 1950.

Automobiles Can't Stop on a Dime

The Portland, Oregon, Traffic Safety Commission warns that automobiles can't stop on a dime. At a mere 30 miles an hour, it takes about 90 feet to bring a car to a halt under normal conditions. That's the distance from home plate to first base on a baseball diamond. The Commission adds, following too closely is a major cause of accidents.

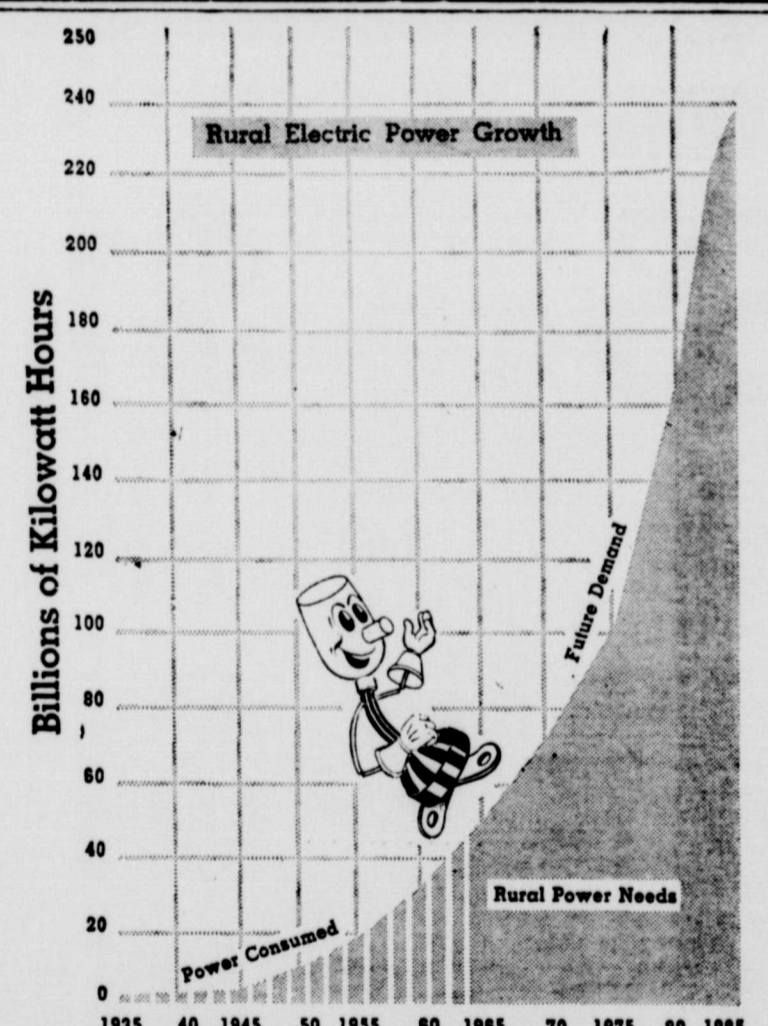

Two Minutes With the Bible

The Captain of Our Salvation
Years ago a man of God was asked to preach at the funeral of a young soldier whose parents were unsaved.
During the course of his message the preacher sought to impress upon his hearers the basic fact that "the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Rom. 6:23).
This greatly upset the parents. After the service they complained: "This is embarrassing. Our boy was not a sinner."
The truth was that shortly before his death this young man had done what every true, born-again Christian has done. He acknowledged himself to be a lost sinner and, trusting Christ as his Savior, had been so gloriously saved that his parents were mystified that he could be so happy in the face of death.

The simplest believer in Christ understands all this. He knows that for the "old man" the death of the body is indeed a "dishonorable discharge" for laws broken, orders disobeyed, responsibilities unmet and trusts betrayed. But for the "new man" the death of the body is the vestibule through which he is ushered into the blessed presence of "the Captain of our Salvation," the One who "by the grace of God tasted death for every man" that He might "bring many sons to glory" (See Heb. 2:9,10).

You've gotta run... to just Keep up!

Our member-owners of electric cooperatives are setting a fast pace for those of us who must supply their need for electricity.

Their overall demand has doubled every six years! That keeps us busy building the electric cooperative distribution system so motors won't fail, so TV reception will be good and all the different needs of our member-owners will be met instantly... at the touch of their switch.

Farmers, ranchers, schools, stores, gravel pits, recreation enterprises, petroleum producers, and all sorts of job-producing industries are pushing up the demand curve for electricity.

And we can be depended upon to be there with the kilowatts! Electric cooperatives are good for all America.

This is why we read in Rev. 2:14,15:
"Forasmuch, then, as the children (of Adam) were partakers of flesh and blood, He (Christ) also Himself likewise took part of the same; that through death He might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil;
"And deliver those who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage."
No wonder St. Paul's simple message of salvation was: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved" (Acts 16:31).

International Family Holidays Described in New Book

To American children, Santa Claus and Christmas toys are synonymous. In Panama, the "Christ Child" visits the homes of "good" children on Christmas eve, and in Sweden, the Yuletide season brings Jultomten, or "Father Christmas."

People the world around have much in common as they celebrate their traditional holidays. Insight into the holiday traditions can be gained from a new book just published by the American Home Economics Association, called "Family Holidays Around the World."

Home economists working around the world contributed material for the book, reflecting their interest in values significant to home life. Prepared as a source book for both adults and children, the 80-page paperback book describes holidays in more than 30 countries.

Dr. Ruth C. Hall, president of the American Home Economics Association, says in a preface: "The reader will learn that wherever human freedom lives, there is a festival of independence; wherever man worships, there are festivals of thanks and praise and penitence; wherever immigrants or invaders have entered a nation, the festivals reflect the enrichment of cross-cultures."
