Teachers Hear Dr. Furbay's Speech

The local teachers were among the four thousand who attended the Oilbelt District VII Texas State Teachers Association's 24th annual convention held in Vernon Friday, March 5.

The highlight of the meeting was the address of Dr. John Furbay, delivered in the Wilbarger memorial auditorium. Dr. Furbay, whose home is in New York, is the director of TWA's air world education program; he has circled the globe 26 times, carrying out cultural, diplomatic and commercial missions which have given him a deep insight into our present world, its problems and its future.

Mr. Furbay, in his address entitled "The Sky is the Limit," pointed out that in this changing world there are no problems except ones that man has made. Previously, man has looked up, but in this space age, he can look down upon the world from a high perspective and can better understand where he is going. The speaker pointed out that the future is the momentum of the past and that to predict the future, one must know the past.

Man's progress has been gradual, but it has always resulted in achievement through the continuing of ideas of different people. Today, with distances shortened, two-thirds of the human race have for the first time come in contact with other people of the world and they are demanding to become civilized.

The process involves three steps: imitation, assimilation and creative burst. As the uneducated millions have attempted to set up their own governments, they have relied upon the examples of nations of the civilized world; they have copied ideas—some good and some bad. Most of these people, however, have now reached the assimilation stage—a stage of unstable conditions—for they, pulled between the ideas of differing peoples, are striving to find a way of life acceptable to themselves. The third stage—the creative burst—has not yet been reached, but when it strikes, it will bring about the greatest change in history, for it will usher in the period when man must, in his human relations, get along with others, if he is to survive. To make this concept work, the world must follow the principles of the golden rule set down 2000 years ago.

Today the curtain is going up on an interesting world—a world in which people of all nations will make their own contributions, and "the sky is the limit."

Senior Personality

This week the spotlight is on a girl who could well be described as five feet two, eyes of blue. Her long list of favorites include the color, blue; food, shrimp; actor, Paul Newman; singer, Bobby Darin; book, The Robe; song, This Diamond Ring, and subject, books.

Keeping. This brown haired girl's hobby is horseback riding. Her friendly ways and her willingness to help others add much to the annual staff. She often pinches with a typist for the Wildcat. She has been a member of the band 2 years and last summer at Childress she represented Larry Henry in the Greenbelt queen contest.

If you have guessed correctly, you know that the senior personality this week is Jill Cooper, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cooper. Her parents, as well as her teachers, have influenced her very much. Jill's future plans include enrolling in the Commercial School of Fort Worth June 7. Best of luck, Jill!

New Student Council Officers Chosen

At 9 o'clock last Wednesday morning the student body assembled in the auditorium to meet the students seeking offices for the 1965-66 Student Council.

First were presented the three 8th grade candidates seeking the office of treasurer. As the curtain rose, five nominees were seated around a table enjoying a game of chance. One had a gri— at least "he" looked like a gri, on his lap. Just as their game had gotten well underway, a tough looking character stalked into the room. At once, the players asked him whom he would vote for. "Billy Hord," he barked. Powell called him; Then they killed a second straggler who voiced his vote for Harriet Halbert, but a third intruder who promised to vote for Pam Carter was permitted to go unharmed from the room. Then Sandra Weathered, who was Pam's campaign manager, stated Pam's qualifications; Pam then gave her own campaign speech. After Pam's speech, Scherry Goodwin came to the platform to present her candidate, Billy Hord, but she was rudely interrupted when a poor, bedraggled girl dressed in rags came onto the stage. "What do you want?" Scherry asked.

"I just wanted to tell you that Pam Carter was treasurer when I was in high school and just look at me." As she left the stage, Scherry continued her speech. Then a poor bedraggled boy walked onto the stage and said, "Harriet Halbert was in office when I was in high school." Then a third time Scherry was interrupted, this time by a girl dressed in a nice dress, heels, and gloves who walked in and said, "Guess who was in office when I was in high school, Billy Hord." After this skit, Billy made his campaign speech.

Then Lanette Lemons, Harriet Halbert's campaign manager, spoke on her behalf, after which Harriet gave her qualifications. This completed the campaign for those who were running for treasurer.

The next three students were freshmen, candidates for secretary. The first skit had its setting in an office, and the business man was interviewing a candidate—a big redhead resembling Monte Smith. Jean Burkett introduced the first candidate, Larry Taylor. Larry spoke of his abilities. Then we went to Mexico where a reporter was reviewing persons on the street in regard to their choice for secretary. Everyone seemed to be voting for Bob Bird who was introduced by Deborah Jones before he gave his speech. George Myers, in a humorous manner, interrupted by a by-stander, presented his candidate, Lois Jo Cates. Her speech concluded those of the candidates for secretary.

Time rolled back to the old wild west and we looked upon a shoot on up, because Big Bill was coming. Big Bill stomped in and started shooting. He was killing everyone who wouldn't vote for Lee Looney. Lee was then introduced by his campaign manager, Otis Smith. After Lee's speech, Charlotte Drake spoke for Hollis Halbert whose speech ended the campaign for vice president.

The two candidates for president, Dan Mike Bird and Jackie Eddy, after being introduced by Mike Gamble and Mary Ann Ramsey, respectively, made their speeches and the students went back to classes to vote for the candidate for their choice.

About an hour later, the winners were announced: Dan Mike Bird, president; Lee Looney, vice president; Bob Bird, secretary; Billy Hord, treasurer. These boys will attend the state convention for student council officers which will be held in April at Midland.

Halbert Represents CHS at Speech Meet

Seth Halbert spent last Friday at the annual speech meet sponsored by members of the Texas Tech Forensic Union. The contest was held at the First Baptist Church and Church of Christ in Lubbock. Between 700 and 800 students were there from as far away as Houston, Dallas and Amarillo to participate in the drama, debate, and speaking events. Seth, one of some 100 extemporaneous speakers, spoke on two topics: The Unemployment Situation, and Liberalism of the Supreme Court. This was a profitable experience for Seth, and Crowell High is forfortunate to have been represented at this meet.

Seniors Scout Various Colleges

This last week, several seniors took advantage of the Friday holiday to visit various college campuses. Sherry Sandlin reports a hilarious week end as guest of her sister, Judy, a 1963 CHS graduate at West Texas State, Canyon. Sherry returned home declaring that West Texas is definitely the college of her choice.

Ken Fergeson went to Texas Tech at Lubbock to make final plans to enroll for the summer semester.

Betty Ann Welch went to McMurry College. While there, she auditioned for the Chorus Choir. She also listened to the choir practice for their performance to be presented this summer at the Worlds Fair. Betty Ann visited the new library, the new administration building, Ranford Hall, the cafeteria, and the dormitory in which she will be staying when she enrolls in McMurry, a Methodist college located in Abilene.

Jean Burkett, who has enrolled for the summer session at Texas Tech, may be pulling for A&M to become a full-fledged co-ed school. At least she spent the week end at Bryan looking over the campus and attending the A&M military ball, a guest of Don Morris of Aiton.

School Receives United States Flag

The student body is indebted to Mrs. John S. Ray, a former CHS teacher, and to Buddy and Mike Swan, students, who recently presented a United States flag to the school. The flag will be placed in the high school auditorium.

All Star-Harlem Game Attracts Large Crowd

A large crowd of adults and students turned out last Thursday night to watch the world famous Harlems battle the area famous All-Stars. The final score—89-92, is indicative of the "tit for tat" scoring; the Harlems came out on top. The Harlem team came to Crowell recommended for its ability to provide an evening of fun and laughter for the entire family. That it did!

The athletic department of CHS wishes to express its gratitude to the All Stars, many of whom are CHS graduates, and to the referees, Houston Adkins and Gordon Erwin, for making this game possible. The department also wishes to express appreciation to the fans whose support made it possible for the school to net $121.30 from this game. This money will be used toward the purchase of jackets and sweaters for the basketball players.

This is C. H. S.
Don't forget the annual FFA project show to be Saturday at the FFA building. 4-H Club members will be selling cakes, cookies, sandwiches, and drinks.

days last week in the absence of Mrs. Bursey who "took time out" to have the flu. We're glad to have her back in school.

CHS welcomes Alice Campbell, a freshman, who enrolled this week. She has formerly been living in Chillicothe.

Charlie Lane of the U. S. Navy, stationed in San Diego, visited CHS on Wednesday. He was a guest of Delores Eubanks.

The student body extends sympathy to Gayle Smith whose mother, Mrs. Dink Russell, died last Wednesday.

A large crowd attended open house and pancake last Tuesday night.

We regret the loss of Daniels and Jackie Brown, recently have moved with families to Comanche.

Study Grocery Ads for Good Food Buys

Supermarkets are featuring a number of good buys at present, so study grocery ads and make shopping lists accordingly, recommends Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

At retail meat counters, look for best beef values on ground beef, short ribs, arm and blade pot roasts, sirloin, T-bone, round steaks and beef liver. Look for more emphasis on marketing the rib and loin cuts during the next several weeks. Consider stew meat for variety in menu planning and to help stretch the budget as well.

Pork values include pork loins, picnic, hams, shoulder roasts and steaks. Pork supplies are below those of a year ago, however, some markets are featuring specials on rail sausage and chops. Frying chicken continues to represent a good value.

Plentiful supplies of dairy products are also available, and there is no price change here. Cheese is one of the valuable protein foods and is versatile.

Bananas highlight most fruit counters, and several varieties of apples are plentiful. Best vegetable buys include head lettuce, celery, cabbage, carrots, green peppers, radishes and green onions. Potatoes are available at relatively higher prices since supplies are down considerably.

Observations concerning the blue, green and yellow versions of high school biology. Through the world there is a growing movement against the teaching of evolution theories. In our own nation most of the controversy recently has centered around the use of certain high school biology textbooks which present evolution as an established fact.

These books are presented as though they represent the latest truths in the field of biology, yet they are far from the truth.

There are many leading and prominent scientists who object to these books, but they are afraid to speak out because of their positions which they would lose if they became involved in such a controversy.

Where are the facts that support evolution as taught in our schools today? There are none to prove that life has evolved from single cells in some ancient ocean.

Why should the students' minds be cluttered with many evolutionary ideas which cannot be substantiated, and why should the student be indoctrinated as to believe that these ideas are true when there is insufficient evidence? Let's study our Bibles. Wilton E. Nickel, minister for Church of Christ, 120 N. 2nd St., Lessons for Sunday: A. M. Peacemakers. P. M. Christianity for excitement.

Deadline Nearing for Yearly Inspection of Motor Vehicles

There will be no extension of the Motor Vehicle Safety Inspection deadline of April 15, announced Captain Alan Johnson of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service, Texas Department of Public Safety, for this area.

"Only two million of the five and a quarter million registered vehicles in Texas have been inspected. This leaves over three million vehicles to be inspected in about five weeks," said Captain Johnson. Many thousands of vehicle owners can expect to wait in long lines in order to get their vehicles inspected by the April 15 deadline.

It is almost apparent now that many vehicle owners have waited too long for the inspection stations to safety inspect their vehicles by April 15. "Any driver operating a vehicle registered in Texas that is required to be inspected, on public roads after April 15 without a valid 1965 inspection sticker will be operating in violation of the law," stated the captain.

The DPS supervisor said, "The purpose of the motor vehicle inspection program is to discover any maladjustment which might become a link in a cycle of events leading to an accident, and by removing the link, prevent the accident."

Week End 'Specials' Can Cut Food Costs

Use week end specials as a guide to cutting food costs, says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Texas A&M Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Prices do fluctuate, and shoppers who take advantage of these slight changes can come out ahead. A recent study by the Economic Research Service of the USDA showed that the average weekly food bill for a family of four—which included two teenagers—was $32.11 over a three-month period. During this time, the food bill varied from month to month. For the first month, the market basket averaged $33.04 a week, and one month later the cost of the identical food was $1.13 less. By the third month, it had dropped another 51 cents.

Lower prices for meat and some vegetables were responsible for most of the differences, the survey showed. Meat, which accounts for one-third of the family's weekly food bill, was the item most frequently on sale.

Among the meats on sale during the survey, chuck roast was first followed by frying chickens, ground beef and luncheon meats. Also listed were vegetables, dairy products, fats and oils, fruit and vegetable juices, fresh and canned fruits, coffee and soft drinks. These items can add up to a well-balanced diet, the specialist says.

MEDICAL CARE OR "MEDICARE" WHICH DO YOU WANT?

TEXAS today has one of the nation's finest, most comprehensive programs of medical care for the aged. These programs—the Texas approach, we call it—include medical benefits to Old Age Assistance recipients and extensive health cost protection through the use of special insurance plans for the aged. The Texas legislature is also expected to implement a medical care plan for those who are not on Old Age Assistance but who do need help in meeting medical expenses.

Consider these facts:

- 229,000 needy aged, representing 30 per cent of Texas' entire aged population, now have a Blue Cross-Blue Shield health insurance policy paid for by the State.
- This State program provides hospital, medical, surgical, x-ray, and nursing home benefits.
- 72% of the aged in Texas now have one or more health insurance policies.
- Through the "Texas 65 Health Insurance Plan," Blue Cross' "Senior Texas Service," and other special programs offered to the aged by private companies, health insurance is available to all who want it at a reasonable cost.
- Studies by Belden Associates indicate that only a small percentage of the aged actually still need and want help in paying health costs (these aged would be covered by the program now being considered by the Texas Legislature).

In view of these facts, the national "medicare" tax proposal (the King-Anderson bill, H.R. 1) is not needed. "Medicare" benefits are very limited, covering about one quarter (25%) of the total yearly health care costs of the average aged person. "Medicare" would not cover physicians' services or surgical charges, nor would it cover the cost of drugs outside of institutional care.

The "medicare" proposal is an extremely expensive one. While we all are starting to enjoy a reduction in federal income taxes as a result of action by Congress last year, the "medicare" program would cost an estimated $1.7 billion dollars in additional taxes the first year. "Medicare" would increase payroll taxes to cover everyone over 65—even the wealthy. The employee who now pays a maximum tax of $174 annually would find the amount for Social Security benefits and "medicare" increased to $291 by 1971. Employers would pay a similar increase for each employee, thus resulting in higher prices for goods and services.

The Texas approach of providing medical, surgical and hospital care to those who need it is a more comprehensive, more economical program than "medicare," and it provides more benefits. If you object to paying higher payroll taxes for an undesirable, unneeded program, write your Congressman today. Ask him to oppose the "medicare" tax proposal, mentioning the programs for the aged now available in Texas. Ask him to support the Herlong-Curtis Elder Care Bill (H.R. 3727), which would make possible the broadening of the existing Texas program to provide medical, hospital and nursing home care for those few remaining aged who are still in need of help.

Let's Get Down to The Core of Things

We suspect there isn't a family in this state who hasn't, at one time or another, applied for a bank loan or purchased an item on the "easy payment" plan. Why? Because it afforded a means of securing luxuries and even necessities which could not have been obtained otherwise.

The same is true of electric cooperatives. Long term, low interest loans made it possible for local people to join together in forming electric cooperatives to provide member-consumers with electricity they could not buy elsewhere.

And these loans are being paid back! As of June 30, 1964, the REA had loaned a total of $4.5 billion to rural electric systems. Repayments have already exceeded the $2 billion mark, of which over $237 million was principal paid ahead of schedule. We're proud of this record.

Your Money Goes Farther

when it stays at home

Round and 'round our dollars go... building local trade volume with every turnover... when we spend them with our own home stores and service establishments.

And every added dollar of trade volume in the community means a little better jobs for us... increased business profits, better property values... a little better support for our churches, schools and other civic facilities... better service to meet our daily and emergency needs.

Just a single dollar... spent at home instead of being used to "pick up" some article in the city... may account for $5 or $6 or more of additional home trade volume as it goes 'round and 'round among us.

Each such dollar put on the home-trade merry-go-round is an investment in enlightened selfishness... as it comes around and back into our own hands again from time to time.

Specialist Suggests Planting Pecan Trees

If you plan to plant trees this spring, Texas' state tree, the pecan, might be a wise choice.

One of the most widely adapted trees in Texas, the pecan serves a dual purpose. Not only is it a stately shade tree, but if properly cared for, it can produce good, edible nuts, says B. G. Hancock, Extension horticulturist at Texas A&M University. "One of the most important decisions to make is the selection of a proper variety," says Hancock. "Hundreds of varieties are available but only a few are specifically adapted to given areas and interests."

Mahan and Stuart varieties are most widely used for shade purposes because of their strength and desirable habit of growth.

Mahan is the most widely distributed variety. It can be grown in practically every area of the state, while Stuart is best adapted to the Gulf Coast and Eastern and Central Texas.

Wichita, Western Schley and San Saba Improved are good varieties for nut production in West Texas.

If given the correct cultural care, ample moisture and the proper nutrient elements, pecans can add much to our lives, said Hancock. Not only do they add beauty to our homes, they also greatly increase the value of property and may well serve as a heritage to future generations.
