The War on Poverty

We believe high school seniors are mature enough to comprehend the tragedy of poverty—and to contribute meaningfully to the battle that is being waged against it.

Today the United States is committed to the greatest humanitarian cause in its history—a massive counterattack on the causes of poverty, which are robbing 35,000,000 Americans of the opportunities most of us are free to pursue because we had the advantage of a decent start in life. That start has been denied to one-fifth of the nation's people. Thirteen million of them are children.

VISTA, Volunteers in Service to America, was organized to give individuals the opportunity to apply their talents in a compassionate national cause—to fight poverty in the front lines. Here, lack of education, poor health, unemployment, inadequate housing, and disrupted family relationships condemn people, often from childhood, to a life of futility. The work of VISTA volunteers is to help intervene with the tools of opportunity.

You will become eligible for VISTA once you are 18 and have completed high school. VISTA training will prepare you to take part in programs for the poor of all ages, in all parts of the country. Young people who plan to go to college later often enroll for a year both to help others and to enlarge their own capacities for teaching, social work, or careers in sociology, economics, law and other fields.

CHS seniors interested in joining VISTA are invited to talk with Mr. Black.

Senior Prophecy

(Editor's note: This is the senior prophecy presented by the juniors at the Junior-Senior banquet. Please remember this is all written for fun.)

Jean Burkett models wigs for Neiman Marcus since her hair fell because no oxygen got to her brain since her girdle was too tight.

Donna Bell is leading actress in Hollywood for producer Danny Patton's new musical, "Ding Dong."

Otis Smith married a prominent author, Morticia Graves, who has won the Pulitzer prize for her book, "I Tripped on a Tombstone."

Gary Lee Taylor and wife, Mary Sue Speer Taylor, have released their latest book on their experiences of married life. The title is "Combat."

Mary Ann Ramsey is now starring in MGM's "The Attack of the Fifty Foot Woman."

David Jefferson, who always found a blonde snaking out of his Brylcreem, has changed to that greasy kid stuff to find that redhead, Scherry Goodwin. Ruthie Doyal and Saunna Martin, chief nurses for the Canadian Royal Mounties, are determined to pay their motto, "I always get my man."

Today, Ronny Clifton took out an insurance policy on his hair. Yesterday, he almost met catastrophe; he broke off one hair with a bobby pin.

Six months ago, Evelyn Fiske was suspended from college for failure to pass her work.

Mike Cates is coming out of the book store. He has two books on English IV in his hand. The clerk told him that two would cut his work in half.

Sherry Sandlin and Sandra Ellis are modeling for the Polar Bears at the north pole.

Ronnie Ressel has received a copy of the book, "Easy Way to Do It" for being the top salesman of ladies' clothing. He and his wife, Cheryl Thompson, are living a peaceful life in Crowell.

Delores Eubanks has been court-martialed for being a stowaway on Admiral Charlie Lane's ship.

Betty Kajs was just rushed to Foard County General Hospital. While visiting Crowell High School, she was hit with a piece of falling plaster in chemistry class. Mr. Welch always did warn us about gazing at the stars.

Rickey Traweck is now half owner in a meat packing company in Quannah.

Crowell's brilliant Seth Halbert has just orbited the moon on his trusty "mooncooter."

Freddie Wehba has now replaced Ringo. He and the rest of the Beatles were featured at a summit conference between President Johnson and Fidel Castro. Castro requested the song, "I Want to Hold Your Hand" and dedicated it to President Johnson.

Betty Ann Welch has now replaced Mehalia Jackson and she can be seen on Captain Kangaroo next week.

David Denton, Alabama lieutenant governor under Gov. Wallace, is now working against the Ku Klux Klan.

Toye McCurley and his wife, Sandra Weatherred, have just had a big fight over the number of calories in a glass of orange juice.

Elaine Crowell has just been declared all American halfback for the third straight time. She accredits her great running ability to her powerful build, and she said she would be even greater if her father hadn't been opposed to sports.

Bill Harris has joined the lonely hearts club. Jill Cooper now owns the only malt shop in Las Vegas.

Gayle Smith has broken her engagement to her army boyfriend to marry a marine hero. Ronny Denton was critically injured today when he dropped a pencil in the hall and the school fell in on him.

Suella Smith and Patricia Jackson have been sent to Sing Sing for robbing the Coca-Cola plant, not for money, but they just like to hear those new pop top cans.

Mike Gamble has won the world champion soda jerking contest. You can see this great champion at the Shirley-Gamble drugstore.

Ken Ferguson is still adding the returns of the 1964 presidential election. He still thinks Barry Goldwater won.

Supermarkets Feature Many New Items

Many new products—both food and non-food items—are being introduced by the supermarkets, offering a challenging yet somewhat confusing choice to many consumers. A recent nationwide survey of chain, voluntary and cooperative supermarkets disclosed that since 1959, some 3,200 new items were offered in retail stores. Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Texas A. & M. University Agricultural Extension Service specialist in consumer formation.

During the same period, 2,100 other items were discontinued. Thus, the overall net was at the rate of approximately 220 items each year, the specialist says.

Non-food items have made important contributions to the profits of the supermarkets, but retailers now generally agree that there are definite limits to the number of kind of products that can be handled. Today's major non-foods lines consist of health and beauty aids, toys, soft goods, magazines, phonograph records and stationery. Their combined sales represent 6.7 per cent of the total market sales.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

There seems to be a lot of people who don't understand the requirements on filing a tax return on household employees. Generally speaking, if you have a maid one day a week, you are required to file a quarterly return. It is not up to you or the maid to decide whether or not you want to pay social security tax—the law requires it. If you haven't been paying your maid tax you better get a Circular H from Internal Revenue. In case you owe, you also better pay off.

Card of Thanks

We would like to express our appreciation and thanks to Dr. Stapp and the hospital staff for their kindness, also to the friends who sent flowers and cards, and their visits. Your kindnesses shall always be remembered.

Two Minutes With the Bible
Why God Permits His Children to Suffer
 Contrary to common belief, the Bible does not teach that all men are the children of God. Our Lord said to the religious leaders of His day: "We are of your father the devil" (John. 8:44), but to the believers in Christ as Galatia, St. Paul wrote: "Ye are all the children of God by faith in Jesus Christ" (Gal. 3:26).
 As the children of Adam, it is not strange that we should have to bear suffering, for sorrow, sickness and death entered the world with sin (Rom. 5:12). But some people wonder why God's children, whose greatest desire is to please Him, should have to suffer along with others.

 There are several reasons for this. In the case of Job, God allowed His servant to suffer to prove to Satan that Job did not live a godly life for personal gain—and Job was richly rewarded later for all he had borne.
 Further, God's people could not be of much spiritual help to others if they were exempt from the sufferings which others have to bear. In such a case the unsaved would say: "Yes, you can talk! You don't know what it is to suffer disappointments, sickness and pain, as we do."
 Then, too, it must be remembered that even the most Godly saint is not perfect and must at times be disciplined, "for whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom He receiveth" (Heb. 12:6). This is done for our good, to keep us from sin and its results.
 Finally, suffering and adversity tend to make God's children pray more and lean harder on Him, and herein lies their spiritual strength and blessing. St. Paul said: "I take pleasure in infirmities . . . for when I am weak, then am I strong" (II Cor. 12:10).
 But there is a great two-fold advantage which the suffering Christian has over others. First, his sufferings are only temporary and, second, they earn eternal glory for him.
 "For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory" (II Cor. 4:17).

Card of Thanks
 I wish to express my appreciation to Dr. Staff and the entire hospital staff for the wonderful care given me. To my many friends who were so kind and helpful to me in so many ways, for the cards, visits, flowers and each prayer said in my behalf, I am indeed grateful. May the Lord bless each one is my prayer.
 John Falcon.

U. S. Ahead of Soviets in Economic Race

Harry Schwartz writes in The New York Times: "The United States last year increased its lead over the Soviet Union in the economic race between the two countries, close observers of the two economies believe. . . . One observer estimates that when calculated in 1964 American prices, the United States gross national product was about $622 billion against some $300 billion for the Soviet Union. In similar constant prices, the 1964 gain in American output exceeded $30 billion compared with a Soviet increase of about $15 billion."

Report Given on British Hospitals under Socialized Medicine

The Lancet, the leading British medical journal, reports on hospitals under socialized medicine: "Overcrowding, lack of privacy, lack of sanitation, and dirt: this would define a slum. It also describes many of our hospitals today. Why do these conditions persist in a supposedly advanced country, to depress patients, to sap the vitality of doctors and nurses, to negate their work? Partly it is due to weakness inherent in the National Health Service Act which took spending power out of the hands of the local authority and placed it centrally with the treasury. Local pride (and local shame) is no longer effective... We have failed to build hospitals largely because centralization alters perspective and changes the issues."

"Don't overload circuits if you want to avoid blown fuses," caution 4-H Club members engaged in electric projects. They point out that the fuse box is the "heart" of the electric system and should be given proper care.

Never use a higher rated fuse than recommended or substitute something else which will keep the fuse from functioning properly, 4-H'ers warn. They regularly check electric circuits to guard against overloading—a frequent result from using more and more electrical equipment in the home and on the farm.

For 30 years the national 4-H Electric program has sparked millions of boys and girls to undertake a wide variety of projects. After learning the fundamentals of electrical energy and its place in modern living, they engage in projects that range from simple jobs like repairing cords to servicing motors, appliances and assisting with wiring and lighting surveys.

In recent years electronic devices including robots, radios and hi-fi sets have been constructed by club members. Participation in the program has enriched their knowledge and given comfort to their families as well, club leaders report. The work is supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Sponsor of the program for the last three decades is the Westinghouse Electric Corporation. Members who complete the best projects receive recognition awards consisting of gold-filled medals, a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress and a chance to compete for six $500 educational scholarships.

Local electric power suppliers also strongly support the program through recognition, technical assistance and teaching aids.

Financing a College Education

The problems of financing the college education of one or more children is a concern of a large number of families this year.

How will these funds be raised to finance the college careers? Perhaps it will help to know how many other families manage, says Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Texas A&M University Extension home management specialist.

Research studies reveal that: 1. Families and relatives are responsible for two-fifths of the student's income.

2. Another fifth comes from long-term savings—probably contributed largely by parents and grandparents.

3. Students themselves finance over a quarter of their income during the school year and summer.

4. Scholarships account for about one-twentieth of the students' income and were received by about 21 per cent of the students.

While the average family income increased 291 per cent between 1939 and 1958, the cost of living increased 108 per cent during this same period—and college costs increased 129 per cent. However, the impact of taxes altered the increase in family income.

Prairie Chickens Boom on Howe Area

A dozen male prairie chickens have established a new booming ground on the Gene Howe Management Area near Canadian and are now booming and strutting in an attempt to attract admiring females, reports the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Establishment of a new booming ground in the area heartened biologists since prairie chickens have slowly declined in number during the last ten years, and many traditional booming grounds have been abandoned.

Biologists believe the disappearance of tall grasses, shinnery and sagebrush, so vital to prairie chicken nesting success, is responsible for the steady decline.

The Gene Howe Management Area, in contrast to most Panhandle rangeland, offers prairie chickens some 3,000 acres of tall grass habitat. Biologists are hopeful the new colony will become a permanent part of the management area's wildlife.

Story of Mary X Falls to Reduce Traffic Fatalities

Some years ago a publication dedicated to highway safety published the story of Mary X, age 9. She was on her way to school.

Suddenly spotting her very best friend across the street, Mary forgot the safety lessons she had learned from her parents and teachers. She dashed across the street.

For the motorist it was a nightmare. He didn't have time to stop.

Today, Mary X is a memory—a picture on the mantle—and a tug at the heart when the sound of a child's laughter filters into the quiet home.

A dozen years have passed since this story was circulated in hopes of cutting down the highway death rate. But just two years ago the highway death toll climbed past the 40,000 mark. In 1965, unless drastic steps halt the climb, 50,000 Americans will die as the result of auto accidents.

In 1964, as the figures stand now, 48,000 highway deaths were recorded. And, according to an authoritative report by The Travelers Insurance Companies, 3,840,000 persons were injured.

Think for a moment how many families must have been touched by death or injury through traffic accidents last year. Think of your own driving habits, those of other members of your family. Will you or a loved one be involved in an accident in 1965?

Chances are you might.

Birth Control Pills Developed for Coyotes

The Department of Interior reports that it has found a way to control the population boom of coyotes by the use of birth control pills. A new synthetic female hormone is fed to coyotes during their once-a-year breeding season.

Main reason for wanting to cut down on the coyote population is that they kill many sheep and cattle each year. The new drug poses no threat to domestic dogs.

Primary Source of Energy in U. S.

The American Petroleum Institute reports that U. S. reliance on oil as a primary source of energy resulted in total domestic consumption of more than 4 billion barrels of petroleum products during 1964. This is the equivalent of almost 900 gallons for every American man, woman and child.

The first capitol building at Austin was partially built from logs and sawn lumber obtained at Bastrop, in the heart of the Lost Pine area, according to the Texas Forest Service. Today, wood production from the pine-hardwood area furnishes much of the economic life blood of the state.

Plant the Seed

where you expect to Reap

IT'S what you might call a commonly recognized agricultural principle that if you want to do your harvesting on a particular piece of ground, that's the place to sow your seed.

Using the same general type of reasoning, it is obvious that if you want to harvest a nice crop of prosperity... in the form of better business, a better job, a better community in which to live... it's advisable to plant your trade dollars where they will produce growth for you, rather than for somebody else.

The homes we live in... the jobs and businesses which support us... the schools and churches that teach our children and enrich our lives... the convenient stores and service establishments that supply our everyday and emergency needs... none of these were built, nor are they supported by the dollars that are spent in some other community or city.

THE IMPORTANCE OF STUDY

There is always the danger in studying any particular part of God's word that we will read the passage out of context with the rest of what God has said either in the same passage or in other parts of his revelation. Much misunderstanding concerning man's duty to God has arisen from this very mistake. Frequently, for example, when we are talking about the forgiveness of past sins, we make the mistake of seizing upon one passage which seems to us to prove that all that is necessary to be forgiven is to believe in Jesus or to be baptized. One of the great principles of Bible study which we must always keep in mind is that we must allow God to speak fully and freely on any subject, and learn all that has been said before arriving at any conclusions. When therefore, we want to know how we are forgiven of past sins, in studying everything which God has revealed we learn that we are saved by God's grace and love, for without His interest in our souls there could have been no provision for our forgiveness; we learn also that we are saved by works on our part, which includes obedience to God's will manifesting itself as our faith in Jesus causes us to repent of our sins and be buried with Him in baptism unto the remission of sins. There is ample proof in the Scripture for each part of this answer, but we must put it all together before we have learned everything which God has said.

We ask that you attend our services Sunday at 10 a. m. and 7 p. m. and mid week Wednesday, at 7:30 p. m. Church of Christ, 120 N. 2nd St. Welton E. Nickel, Minister.

Guests have an exciting panoramic view of Six Flags Over Texas from the swinging suspension bridge across the park's version of the Caddo River. Below, passengers and their Indian guides paddle the safely-engineered war canoes on the river that surrounds Indian Island. Six Flags, and its 75 rides, shows and attractions, has been named Texas' most popular tourist attraction.

Here Are Some Food Dollar 'Stretchers'

There are several food dollar "stretchers" available this week to enable shoppers to shave costs on food budgets.

Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Texas A&M Extension consumer marketing specialist, offers these suggestions for cutting costs. She also suggests that shopper check with their local supermarkets for other "specials."

At the retail meat counters, look for best beef buys on ground meat, round steaks, chuck roasts and steaks and beef liver. Top pork values include ham portions and slices, picnics, shoulder roasts and steaks. Fryers remain in ample supply at reasonable prices. Turkeys continue to be moderate.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, May 23, 1935, issue of The Foard County News:

General rains over Foard County last Thursday night, Friday and Friday night amounted to 1.45 inches at Crowell and brought the total May rainfall here to 5.56 inches. The heavy rains Friday and Friday night resulted in a rise on Pease River that carried away a 350-foot section of the half-mile bridge between Crowell and Quanah on State Highway No. 16 early Saturday morning. A few miles east of this bridge, the high water carried away piling from under about seven bents of the Panhandle and Santa Fe railway bridge between Crowell and Chillicothe.

The regular six-weeks summer school in Crowell opened here Monday with Grady Graves as teacher.

Receiving their diplomas from Crowell High School last Friday night were Ala Ketchersid, Juanita Hough, Lester Patton, Mary Edna Bursey, Frank Hofues, Beulah Ivie, Francis Klepper, Vidella Miller, Edward E. Jones, Mildred Sallis, Stanley Womack, Bernice Poland, Dick Todd, Geraldine Carter, Burke Bell, Doris Oswalt, Thomas Smith, Jim Riley Gafford, Garland Taylor, Milton Magee, George Owens, Lora Whatley, Wanda Burks, R. J. Owens and John Borchardt.

Miss Lora Whatley and Bill Bell were married Tuesday morning in a wedding ceremony performed by Rev. Geo. E. Turrentine at the Methodist parsonage. Miss Doris Oswalt and Jack Mapp were present for the ceremony.

Norma Jean Long of Thalia submitted to an appendicitis operation Wednesday night.

Paul McKown left this week for the W. B. Johnson ranch near Melrose, N. M., where he plans to work during the summer.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. C. Hinkle, Foard City, May 19, a boy, Rudy.

The community Daily Vacation Bible School which began Monday morning is having splendid success in all departments. Attendance has steadily increased each day and the enrollment so far is 171.

The latest report from Maxine Flesher of the Thalia 4-H Club shows that she has already collected 78 different wild flowers for her herbarium.

The Thalia graduating class, with the sponsors, left Saturday for a trip to Carlsbad Cavern. Members of the class making the trip were Roland Taylor, Douglas and Houston Adkins, Woodrow Johnson, L. Z. Tole, Donald Chapman, Robert Hammonds, Lucy Jones, Emma Wisdom, Alta Doris Roberts, Eunice Banister and Ada Beideman. Others who went were Jack Miller, Ruth Huskey, Bessie Whitman, Fred Gray, Mrs. W. M. Bralley, class sponsor, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Nowlin and Clyde McKinley, bus driver.

Jack Brown, Ed Black and Delbert New are building a house out on the Westbrook place west of Truscott.

Grant Made to Aid Beef Cattle Research at Texas A&M

Texas A&M University officials met near Pleasanton last Saturday and accepted a $40,590 grant from the Sid W. Richardson Foundation of Fort Worth to establish the Fairview Farms Basic Beef Cattle Genetics Laboratory.

Gov. John C. Connally and area ranchers participated in the event. The grant was made to the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and the laboratory will be located at Texas A&M. Its purpose is to investigate basic genetics of beef cattle and to cooperate with other experiment stations conducting similar studies.

The group of A&M officials was greeted at Fairview Farms by Mr. and Mrs. Perry R. Bass, foundation trustees, and Art Shahan, manager of the farms.

Newspaper Lauds Hightower Bill

State Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon has introduced a bill which we believe would serve the desirable dual purpose of protecting property-owners and curbing juvenile delinquency.

The Hightower bill would authorize civil suits for actual damages against parents whose children, from 10 to 18, maliciously damage or destroy property. Not only could property owners bring such suits, but so, in their name, could insurance companies that issue policies covering vandalism.

The juvenile delinquency penalties applicable to vandalism are only a mild deterrent. And even if they were harsher, they would afford no relief or redress to the owner of damaged or destroyed property.

Making parents financially responsible for vandalism committed by their children should move many of them to keep a closer watch on their children's activities, especially at night. And it would give the property owner a recourse to reimbursement, at least against solvent families of offending children.

Vandalism is one of the most exasperating, senseless aspects of juvenile delinquency, and one exceptionally difficult to anticipate and prevent. The Hightower bill offers no panacea, but it should prove helpful.—San Angelo Standard-Times.

LITTLE LEAGUE NEWS

by Marion Crowell

Who wins the game? That's easy to figure, thus far in this season's campaign. No one team has shown to be completely superior. The team wins the ball game that makes the fewest mistakes.

On last Tuesday night, Farmers Elevator did everything wrong. Then on Friday night, everything they did was right, while the Vets could do nothing right. Right now it's just a toss of the coin as to which of three teams is the strongest . . . and—if they ever settle down and play errorless ball—Foard County Mill will defeat some people too!

Here and There in L. L.: Frog Smith showed his mettle last week, really firing the horsehide at times, and he hit four-for-five for the week to lead the hitters. . . Several intentional walks were issued to Bill Lynch and Jessie Barrera . . . that's baseball's greatest compliment! Need to pick some pitchers for the all-star team? How about these for a starter: Jessie Barrera, Junior Urquizo, Frog Smith or Danny Naylor? And all these are coming along fine; Lee J. Whitley, Bill Lynch, Jackie Blackburn and Steve Barka . . . League Secretary Floyd Thomas will go with me to Seymour Saturday night to a district meeting of Little League. We'll find out there whether Crowell will have a tournament this year or not . . . Johnny Urquizo is still coming along fast as a glove man . . . when Rex Driver retired Friday night he had a red spot right back about here, just the size of a baseball! . . . Bill Erwin hit at a .600 clip last week . . . Buff Nelson hit .500 . . . Bill Lynch's double play against the Elevator on Friday night was one of the quickest you'll ever see!

Don Mariott, promising rookie for Foard County Mill, has three younger brothers . . . Don picked up three walks and one run in Friday's game . . . (his Pop is a pumper for the oil wells out north of town . . . lives in the Davenport house formerly occupied by Dick Todd.)

Think It Over Dept.: If each person gave just a little more each time the money jugs came around, we might be able to buy one new light each week. Think it over (we need 36 more lights to be able to be completely in line with Little League policy.)

Inflation Dangerous
David Lawrence writes in the New York Herald Tribune: "As far back as the days of Adam Smith—who two centuries ago wrote The Wealth of Nations—government after government has come a cropper because faith in the monetary unit has dwindled and its purchasing power has been seriously diminished. Inflation usually has ensued as prices and wages have risen. If this affected everybody in a community at the same time, the transition would not be so painful. But when prices go up faster than individual income, the net result is a cessation of demand and a 'recession' or 'depression'."

Texas-Size Water Boom Needs Fish

Since Texas will double its present volume of fresh water in the next ten years, state hatchery facilities have been ordered expanded to meet the demand for various kinds of game fish, it was announced by Marion Toole, coordinator for inland fisheries for the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Toole said the principal improvements would be in modernized hatching and distribution techniques and that the present fourteen state hatcheries would provide an adequate framework for the enlarged program.

The inland fisheries coordinator said one reason for the vastly expanded fresh water areas to be stocked is the huge internationally-sponsored Amistad Dam soon to be built on the Rio Grande River just above Del Rio. This one reservoir will contain 5,325,000-acre feet of water and will be one of the largest fresh water impoundments in the world. The dam is expected to be completed in 1968. The new lake will be served by both the Rio Grande
