10 PERSONS CRITICALLY INJURED WRECK EAST OF CROWELL

Markers Set at Edge of Well This Week

Regil Johnson, chairman of the Foard County Historical Committee, calls to the attention of Foard County residents that ten markers were erected last week at east and west ends of Crowell on Highway 70.

Markers which bear the name "Historical Markers in Crowell" are set at $25.00 each, and are furnished by Chamber of Commerce or civic clubs but these are not the Texas Historical Markers because certain records had been met by the county Historical Survey.

This new comedy play involves a family called the Crochets, who find a magnificent doorstep floating down the Mississippi River. They set it up in front of their little shanty, and from then on, with both humor and pathos, they try to live up to their great big doorstep.

On Saturday evening, Sept. 18, Congressman Jim Wright of Fort Worth will be the principal speaker at the annual Foard County Farmers Union barbecue. The meeting will be held at the Spring Lake Country Club and will begin at 6:30.

Also scheduled to appear on the program is Jay Naman, president, Texas Farmers Union. The local Farmers Union has been fortunate in securing nationally-known personalities for their annual barbecues. Last year, a former Secretary of Agriculture was the principal speaker.

The barbecue dinner is free to members. Tickets are available to the public for $2.00 a plate.

FOARD COUNTY'S FIRST COTTON OF NEW CROP GINNED LAST WEEK

The first cotton from Foard County's 1965 crop was delivered to the Farmers Co-Op. Gin in Crowell last Thursday. The bale, belonging to C. T. Hord, was ginned Friday, along with two other bales which Mr. Hord had brought in during the day.

This first bale weighed 535 pounds with 1900 pounds of seed cotton. Bill King, manager of the gin, reported.

Stanton Scott, manager of the Rayland Gin, reported the first bale ginned there at 9 a. m. Saturday.

Antone Kajs brought in this bale which weighed 498 pounds and yielded 2,000 pounds of seed cotton. Mr. Scott guessed the grade as strict middling 1 inch, and said it was Lockett 4789 contract seed.

Mr. Kajs grew the cotton at his farm northwest of Thalia.

With the drought in Foard County continuing, prospects for cotton here are poor.

FOARD COUNTY MARKETS $3.1 MILLION CRUDE OIL AND GAS A YEAR

Foard County's producers and royalty owners are marketing some $3.1 million in crude oil and natural gas a year, according to statistics released by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association this week.

Ranking 136th among Texas' oil and gas producing counties, Foard County in 1963 received some $3 million from wellhead sales of oil and an estimated $97,000 from natural gas. County production of oil was approximately 1 million barrels; natural gas, 777 million cubic feet.

Farmers, ranchers and other mineral owners share in a $393,000 distribution of oil and gas royalty payments annually.

The Association based its annual study of this county's oil and gas output on statistics compiled by the U. S. Bureau of Mines for 1963. Production data for 1964 would be approximately the same.

Statewide, Texas oil and gas wells produced an estimated $3.6 billion in income; $2.9 billion from oil, $730 million from gas.

SCHOOL BOARD REJECTS BIDS ON BUILDING

The Crowell School Board failed to award a contract for the construction of the new gymnasium and band hall after bids were opened last Wednesday afternoon. R. M. Wells Co. of Quannah submitted the apparent low bid of $186,000 on the construction of the new building.

Supt. Henry Black said that the architects, Reed, Pardue & Dice of Wichita Falls, will meet with representatives of the low bidder to make adjustments in the plans and seek to arrive at a price more in line with that which the school district is prepared to pay.

Mr. Black said that board members were counting on the project to require in the vicinity of $170,000 of the $225,000 in bonds voted May 22 for a new gymnasium and other school improvements.

Other firms bidding on the project were Averett and Winningham, Inc., Campbell Construction Co., Guthrie Construction Co., T. A. Litteken and Sons, Inc., H. A. Padgett Jr., and Thaten Bros. Construction.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

Every year the good tax folks call in a lot of divorced couples. These unfortunate people have decided that it was necessary for them to go their separate ways, but they forgot to get their tax matters separated.

If you are disposing of your spouse, it will pay you to dispose of your tax matters at the same time. It's awful embarrassing to sit down with your ex-spouse and a tax man and solve problems that you would prefer never to think of again.

Split your income and taxes up to the date of your divorce . . . or wait until December 31 to get divorced . . . so you won't mix up your tax year.

Card of Thanks

Also I would like to thank Mrs. Bill Gafford, Mrs. Cleve Gordon for all their thoughtfulness shown toward my mother. "May God bless you all."

F. H. A. Lists Activities in Texas for Fiscal 1965

Over 39,766 families of farmers, ranchers and rural residents in Texas benefitted from Farmers Home Administration loan services during 1965. This is an all-time high, according to L. J. Cappelman, state director for the agency.

Loans made or insured by the Farmers Home Administration in Texas during the fiscal year ended June 30 totaled a record $88,289,230.

State director Cappelman said that the Farmers Home Administration preserved its long-standing record for keeping its various lending programs in a sound position during fiscal 1965. Repayments of principal and interest by borrowers totaled the largest volume collected in the agency's 30-year history.

"This good credit record signifies the initiative and integrity displayed by the people of rural Texas in their vast self-help effort which these loans represent," Cappelman stated.

Included in the number of Texas rural people benefiting from these programs are the members of 28,245 families forming rural groups that use Farmers Home Administration credit. Most of these groups borrowed funds to develop rural community water systems.

Cappelman emphasized that loans to strengthen family farms and build new rural homes continued as the agency's largest programs in fiscal 1965.

The Vernon unit serving Wilbarger, Foard and Hardeman counties made the following loans from July 1, 1964, through June 30, 1965: loans for land purchase to nine families in the amount of $208,660; rural housing loans to eight families for $54,070; a soil and water loan for irrigation to one farmer for $6050; and the following operating loans for farm operating expenses: 22 initial loans for $272,180; and 55 subsequent operating loans for $233,040; 31 initial emergency crop loans for $177,030; and 48 subsequent emergency loans for $150,885. These loans totaled $268,780 for real estate and $833,135 for crop loans.

In view of crop hazards of the past three years the trend of Farmers Home Administration assistance has been gradually increasing in the three-county unit.

Hunt Safety Stressed as Fall Shoot Begins

Some of the more common causes of hunters' gun accidents were stressed by J. B. Phillips, law enforcement coordinator for Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, as the fall harvest season begins.

He said taking loaded guns out of motor vehicles and crawling through fences with loaded guns traditionally cause a surprising number of fatalities.

Phillips said a check with the warden force, which "preaches safety" as a matter of routine, focused on the fact that the average hunter should realize the deadly impact of a bullet or a shotgun charge.

"If the wardens had their way," he said, "hunters would concentrate on unloading their guns before getting into a car, and certainly before returning to camp. Because it's that unloaded weapon that creates so much heartache."

Phillips said department statistics show that many upland game hunters do not understand the range of pellets fired from a shotgun. "Ironically, many keep shooting at a bird after it is well out of reach of a killing impact. And others risk a shot when someone else is in actual range of shot."

The law enforcement coordinator said mishandling of gun safeties is responsible for many accidents, in that it is easy to forget and to keep the safety off between shots.

Phillips cautioned all hunters that another common cause of mishaps is clogged gun barrels, when dirt or other foreign substance gets into the muzzle end of the gun, causing the barrel to splinter when the charge strikes the blocked area.

Historic Mound Near Alto

The home site of a tribe of Caddo Indians who lived about 1000 A.D. near Alto, in Cherokee County, today supports a forest of small trees. This is the site of Texas Forest Service Indian Mound Nursery, located six miles southwest of Alto, along State Highway 21 where it crosses the Neches River.

Only a granite monument atop a 30 feet high, "T" shaped mound testifies to the Indians' having been there. A portion of the mound and surrounding area was excavated in 1940 by the Department of Anthropology of the University of Texas, although no important artifacts were found, items of pottery, and sites of several houses were located. Archaeologists believe the mound was used as a place to worship their sun god. Occasionally, pieces of pottery and flints are unearthed as the mound is cultivated by nursery personnel.

Presence of several constantly flowing springs nearby probably accounts for the Indians' use of the area. Availability of water for irrigation was a major factor in selecting the area as a state tree nursery.

To the citizens of nearby Alto goes a large amount of credit for their part in purchase of the 173 acres in 1940.

The nursery produces tree seedlings for reforestation in Texas. Initial production in 1940 was about 10 million seedlings. Maximum capacity is about 21 million seedlings which are sold to Texas landowners at cost.

Trees are to be used for reforestation and windbreak plantings none are sold for ornamentals or for landscaping.

Supplying tree seedlings for reforestation and windbreak planting is but one of the many ways your Texas Forest Service now celebrating its 50th Anniversary, performs its obligations to Texans.

Dr. Campbell and Family Return Home from Brazil

Dr. and Mrs. Lowell Campbell have returned to their home in Corsicana after staying for several weeks in the interior of Brazil as an assignment with the AM-DOC program.

From the middle of July until they left, the family has been in Rio Verde, south of Brazil's new capital city of Brasilia, where the Corsicana physician relieved a doctor at the Hospital Evangelina de Rio Verde, a Presbyterian hospital.

The family arrived at the hospital on July 15 and Dr. Campbell assumed his replacement duties the next day. "July 16 began with surgery in the A. M. and clinic all P. M. We had three surgicals that morning; in clinic that afternoon we saw two very small children with tuberculosis. For the first time since arrival in Brazil, I saw a Brazilian mother manifest emotion when told that her baby had tuberculosis. Though she tried hard to choke them back, big tear droplets welled up in her eyes. She then managed to show a smile through the tears as Dr. Benjamin Spadoni, a very fine Brazilian physician, explained gently to her that, with treatment, the baby would soon be better. She has been in the clinic every day since that time with her baby for treatment, and the results are miraculous to see for both mother and baby.

"Another disease we see in abundance here is one caused by invasion of the body by a one-celled microscopic animal called a protozoan, with the name trypanosomiasis. The cause was discovered by a missionary named Chaga; thus the common name for the disease is Chaga's disease. We never see this in the States. It affects primarily the gastro-intestinal tract and the heart. When the former is involved, there are surgical procedures which benefit the patient. When the latter is involved, there is very little to be done. During the 19 days we have been in Rio Verde, we have had 21 major procedures, and three of these have been for Chaga's disease, all doing well. Conversely, we recently lost a 31-year-old man with Chaga's disease of the heart.

"Chaga's is a disease of poverty and ignorance in the sense that it is transmitted by an insect called the Barbeiro which is harbored in poorly constructed homes in cracks and holes in the walls. The disease could be eradicated if the people could be taught to plaster their walls and spray with Mammexane to kill the insects. Of course, they are being educated gradually, but the process is slow. Like other people all over the world, some of these people refuse to profit from the experience of others," Dr. Campbell observed.

In addition to the Campbell family attending church each Sunday, Dr. Campbell spoke in Portuguese Sunday night to the congregation. In a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Campbell of Crowell, he said on Monday, Aug. 9, he visited a man who owns a 1,320,000 acre farm.

Dr. Campbell's wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Traueck of Foard City.

Mrs. George Beavers Speaker at Meeting of Local Garden Club

Mrs. George Beavers of Vernon was guest speaker and flower arranger for the first fall meeting of the Crowell Garden Club when it met at the home of Mrs. Hubert Brown on Friday, Sept. 10, for a guest tea. Assisting Mrs. Brown with hostess duties were Mrs. A. V. McCombs and Mrs. Robert Hammonds.

Mrs. Beavers, Master Judge and Zone 1 Director, lectured as she made the arrangements. While there has been a re-evaluation in recent years of flower arranging principles, which has resulted in a freedom of expression, a trend toward less conformity to fashion and tradition. Mrs. Beavers in each of her arrangements sought an answer to the question, "Is it pleasing to the eye?"

She pointed out that the chosen setting in the home should be compatible to the materials and design. In each arrangement, Mrs. Beavers chose containers that reflected or picked up the tones in each design. She showed the effectiveness of an accessory when added weight was needed in its position.

She challenged her audience to develop the skill of flower arranging, for in it are creative possibilities unlimited.

Mrs. McCombs presided at the beautifully appointed tea table which featured the club colors, green and white. Twenty-five members and guests were present.

Climbing A Tokyo Mountain

An imaginative Japanese manufacturer of mountain climbing equipment has created on one facade of his new building in the heart of Tokyo a 65-foot replica of an 84-degree rocky slope. The "Tokyo Rock" was designed by rock-climbing experts and affords supervised training for neophytes as well as exercise for the more seasoned climbers at a cost of 65¢ per hour. As a precautionary measure, there is a safety net along the lower ledge. The simulated slope extends from the second floor to the roof of the six-story building.

Joylyn Haynie gave the invocation preceding the dinner which was planned by the executive board of the club.

After the dinner, a business session was held. Jon Ann Carter called the roll and Janell Gray gave the treasurer's report. Possibilities of having a bake sale were also discussed, and the bake sale will be this Saturday morning Sept. 18, at Shirley-Youre Drug.

Two Minutes With the Bible

The Bible and the American Home
More than nineteen hundred years ago St. Paul wrote to a young man named Timothy: "From a child thou has known the holy Scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation, through faith which is in Christ Jesus" (II Tim. 3:15).

Timothy was a fortunate young man. His father was not a believer in God, but his godly mother made up for the lack, and her mother helped as, day after day, from his earliest childhood, they taught him the Word of God. As a result he came to know Christ as his Savior at an early age, and later became Paul's faithful co-worker and closest associate in making known the wonderful "gospel of the grace of God." In his very last letter the great apostle recalled Timothy's "unfeigned faith . . . which dwelt first in thy grandmother, Lois, and thy mother Eunice" (II Tim. 1:5).

If only we had more such grandmothers today, with husbands to help them! If only our American children were not set adrift on a tossing sea of human speculation, but were taught the eternal truths of that Old Book, the Bible!

Certainly the rebellion of so much of our American youth against law and authority and morality is directly related to the disappearance of the Bible from American life. It is not the young people who have been brought up in Bible-reading homes and in church and Sunday school, who are making us ashamed today; it is those, from backgrounds both rich and poor, who have been brought up without Bible teaching.

We all need to "know the holy Scriptures," not only because they teach reverence for God and build moral character, but most of all because they "are able to make (us) wise unto salvation through faith in Christ Jesus."

The theme of the Bible, Old Testament as well as New, is the Lord Jesus Christ, the riches of whose saving grace are unfolded to us in the epistles of Paul, the chief of sinners saved by grace. It was to Paul that God first committed "the preaching of the cross." It is he who tells us of the riches that flow from Calvary. It is he who declared by divine inspiration:

" . . . We have redemption through Christ's blood, the forgiveness of sins according to the riches of His grace" (Eph. 1:7).
"That in the ages to come God might show the exceeding riches of His grace in His kindness tow-

"Funny Girl," Story of Fanny Brice, to Play at State Fair of Texas

The premiere of the national company of the new Broadway hit, "Funny Girl," will take place at the Music Hall in Dallas on Oct. 8. This major attraction of the State Fair of Texas will play 24 performances to Oct. 24; nightly through the 23rd at 8:30 p. m., with 2:30 p. m. matinees on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

Starring in the role of Fanny Brice's mother will be Lillian Roth, popular in vaudeville, movies and night clubs, and recently on Broadway. Anthony George, the ruggedly handsome hero of the television series, "Checkmate," will be Fanny Brice's first husband, Nicky Arnstein. And playing Fanny Brice, in the role created on Broadway by Barbra Streisand, will be a sensational 22-year-old singing discovery, Marilyn Michaels.

"Funny Girl" is based on the life of the late Fanny Brice, Ziegfeld star and creator of the famous "Baby Snooks" radio character. With Jule Styne as music composer and Bob Merrill as lyricist, the musical centers around Miss Brice's early career, from her first success in a lower East Side music hall to stardom in the Ziegfeld Follies. It gives a warm portrait of Fanny herself, of her knowing mother, of the man she loved and lost, Nicky Arnstein, and of a great entertainer who never stopped being a "funny girl."

The national company is produced by Martin Tahse and directed by Lawrence Kasha, associate director for the Broadway "Funny Girl," and stage director for the Dallas Summer Musicals in 1963.

Lillian Roth's most recent Broadway appearance was a star-

Three Whooping Cranes Disappear

Loss of at least three young whooping cranes in the Canadian far north has just been reported to the Whooper Network by the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources at Edmonton.

The communique, relayed by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, states that the 1965 production of the rare cranes "may be no more than five young."

This contrasts with an optimistic earlier official observation that five nesting pairs had each laid two eggs this year and that by early July at least six birds had hatched.

At that time, with ten young from the record 1964 safely back in the Great Slave Lake nesting area, high hopes were held by the Canadian authorities, who noted: "This is the second good hatch and provides the basis for a little more optimism for the species."

The giant birds with the distinctive call have been on the verge of extinction but conservationists' hopes were buoyed this spring when forty-two whoopers migrated from their wintering grounds on the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas const.

It was pointed out that though the 1965 production be down sharply from last year that safe migration of five still would be better than average in recent years.

From the News . . . THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, Sept. 12, 1935, issue of The Foard County News:

The Church of Christ of Childress will begin a mission meeting in Crowell tonight, Thursday, at 8 o'clock in the building on the north side of the square formerly occupied by Haney-Rasor Grocery.

A rain that measured nearly four inches at Crowell Sunday and which was even harder in other parts of the county, brought damage along with its benefits, washing out a number of small bridges and culverts and breaking the dams of several tanks on Foard farms.

The cooperation of Foard County farmers in providing employment for families on relief is urged by A. W. Long of Childress. Farmers are requested to apply to local relief headquarters for cotton pickers. Such families will then be routed to supply the needs in their immediate neighborhood.

J. C. Wisdom was elected president of the senior class of Thalia High School at a meeting Tuesday.

The Crowell-Matador football game on Friday night of next week will be one of the most impressive occasions in local history. Besides prospects for a truly outstanding gridiron classic, the occasion will also bring Crowell its first night football game on local soil and furnish spectators their first opportunity to witness a local football game from comfortable seats.

Prospects are favorable for securing forty blocks of gravel streets in Crowell through a W. P. A. grant if owners of property adjacent to proposed improvement will pay for the gravel. This expense amounts to about $2.50 for fifty feet.

Huey P. Long, United States Senator and political "Dictator" of Louisiana, died Tuesday morning from a wound received Sunday night when shot by an assassin as he was preparing to leave the state capitol building at Baton Rouge.

The Gainesville Community Circuit, only show of its kind in the world, will play the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas next year, according to present plans.

Guy Todd left last Friday for San Antonio to enter St. Mary's University for his second year there.

Honoring Mrs. W. C. McKown, who is leaving soon to make her home in Lubbock, Mrs. Jeff Bruce and Mrs. Arthur McMillan entertained with a delightful party at the home of Mrs. Bruce on Wednesday afternoon.

The Crowell Wildcats gave an excellent account of themselves last Friday afternoon in playing the Vernon High Lions to a scoreless tie in a scrimmage on the Vernon field.

Miss Lillie Lett of Childress spent the week end with Miss Eva Johnson and other friends here.

Sports Dominate Early Dove Hunt

Dove hunters, including the massed throngs on the white-winged dove shoot, have generally been good sportsmen, said J. B. Phillips, law enforcement coordinator for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

"We had a minimum of violation," said Phillips. "They mainly involved getting over the limit and using unplugged guns. The daily limit of mourning doves is 12 and possession 24, and the whitewing limit is 10 and 20."

Guns must be plugged permanently to three-shell capacity. Phillips said some of the greedy hunters were caught, like the two Dallas hunters intercepted by a traffic patrolman with "two or three limits too many," as well as with dressed doves, minus the feather wing that should be left on each carcass.
