Attending the Grand Lodge session last week were Mr. Shirley, Warren Haynie, Cecil Carroll and A. B. Calvin.

The Crowell School has been returned to full accreditation by the Texas Education Agency, local officials were told Monday. The school had been on the "warned" list for several years. The complete report follows:

Report of Accreditation Visit
Foard County Crowell ISD
Accreditation Team: Alfred Peters, Severo Gomez.
Date of visit: November 1-2, 1965.

The Crowell Independent School District has been visited four times previously by accreditation teams, beginning in October, 1961. Following the last visit, in 1964, the district was warned of violations of accreditation standards.

Crowell, a county line school district, extends from the central part of Foard County into both Knox and King Counties. It includes an area of 735 square miles.

The present assessed valuation of the school district is $7,935,180. The tax rate is $1.80; $1.50 is for school maintenance and operation and 30 cents is for payment of bonded indebtedness. Bonded indebtedness is $250,000, of which $225,000 was approved by voters of the district since the 1964 accreditation visit. The new funds will be used to build a gymnasium and a band hall, and to remodel two buildings.

The school district this year operates a single 12-grade school program, having integrated totally this school year. In the 8-grade elementary school, enrollment is 364; in the high school, enrollment is 155. There are 14 teachers in the elementary school and six in the high school. Two administrators, the superintendent and the principal, each teach two classes. Two of the teachers' salaries are paid from local funds.

The school board has developed policies for school operation and made them available to school patrons. One of the new policies requires each teacher to take three semester hours of resident college training during each five year period. Teachers are encouraged to attend in-service area short courses, also. A remedial arithmetic workshop is planned for the teachers this year. Similar workshops were held in the spring of 1965 in guidance and physical education.

Guidance services are maintained in accordance with a program outlined in writing and with policies approved by the local board. A record is kept of former students, both graduates and dropouts. The school participates in the testing program made possible under Title V of the National Defense Education Act. The English teacher is in charge of the testing and is assisted by classroom teachers. A guidance committee consisting of a primary school teacher, a junior high school teacher, and the principal assist other teachers in the interpretation of standardized tests.

Many improvements have been made since the 1964 accreditation visit, as described below:

- ... Fluorescent lights have been installed in classrooms and hallways.
- ... New student desk-chairs have been placed in the rooms.
- ... Science furniture, materials, and equipment was requested and approved under provisions of the National Defense Education Act.
- ... All rooms and halls were remodeled and painted, including painting and varnishing floors.
- ... Steel windows were placed in two rooms of the elementary school.
- ... Two rest rooms were added for pupils in the upper elementary grades.
- ... Movable bulletin boards have been placed in rooms used by the first five grades.
- ... Bookshelves, storage cabinets, and filing cabinets were placed in all of the rooms in the elementary school.
- ... Two window fans were placed in the corridor of the high school building.
- ... A lavatory was installed in the library.
- ... All classrooms were equipped with evaporative coolers.
- ... New electric stoves were placed in the homemaking department.

Snake Story Triggers $$$$ in Grub Stake

There's nothing like good, clean nature news coverage, even a good, clean snake story.

Right after the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department relayed a short yarn about how Mrs. Wade Ramsey inherited a den of 21 rattlesnakes in the trunk of a downed china berry tree, the first dividend arrived.

A Philadelphia, Pa., man wrote, enclosing a Houston Chronicle clipping about the reptilian jackpot plus $7 in cash.

It was conscience money the writer said he owed for meals served by the Ramsey family 20 years ago.

Many Favorite Holiday Foods Rate Plentiful List

You'll find many of your favorite holiday foods especially plentiful this month, says the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Pecans top the December plentiful foods list. Also termed plentiful are: apples, onions, cabbage, oranges and frozen orange juice, broilers, turkeys, peanuts and such peanut products as peanut butter.

Pecans promise all kinds of special holiday dishes. Of course, pecan pie is a "must" for the holiday table. Don't fail to have several pounds on hand just for eating, suggests the Service. How useful the large supply of apples reported by the U. S. Department of Agriculture will be during the holiday season: Serve baked apples often, apple pies and dumplings.

Give your home a holiday theme with baskets of apples here and there for impulse snacking.

Dramatize your menus with the eye-catching appeal of oranges. You'll enjoy them in fruit salads or as a peel-your-own dessert. Frozen concentrated orange juice is plentiful for the sixth consecutive month. Use it often in holiday drinks and dishes.

Just think of how handy the abundance of peanuts and peanut butter will be in all your holiday cookery. Peanuts add texture and interest to salads. Peanut brittle and other peanut-oriented candies and desserts have a full bodied flavor to underscore any holiday menu.

Cabbage and onions fill the bill nicely for salads. They're delicious cooked to accent hearty main dishes.

The plentiful supply of broilers and turkeys can round out your holiday meal to make it the most successful ever.

Killer Deer Tops Weird Hunt Tales

A deer that shot and killed a hunter with his own gun headlined bizarre outdoor recreational accidents as reported to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department during the last two weeks.

In other tragic incidents: An 8-year-old Fort Worth boy drowned when a boat containing five persons capsized in Lake Benbrook as it returned to a dock to obtain life preservers;

A Houston man was killed by his 21-year-old son on a deer hunting trip;

A Bryan man maimed his hand and arm when a rifle he was leaning on accidentally fired;

A Lufkin man told authorities he killed his wife when his shotgun was discharged as he prepared to go hunting.

The weird deer-triggered fatal victim was Roy Edgar, 32, of Albany. A ranch hand, he shot a deer, reloaded his gun and leaned it against a tree preparatory to dressing out the animal. The deer twitched and a hoof struck the rifle causing it to discharge.

Another self-inflicted gun death involved a 16-year-old Pear-sall boy who was carrying a pistol-grip .22 rifle while hunting rabbits.

In other hunt-related tragedies, a Round Rock man was killed en route to his deer lease when he fell asleep at the wheel and a Brady man was killed in a traffic crash while returning from a deer hunt.

Apparent heart attacks killed deer hunters from Abbott, Fort Worth and Pearsall.

Outdoor recreational fatalities for the period included the drowning at Longview and time and two Louisiana fish off Sabine Pass.

On the credit side, two duty Dallas detectives en route to their lease, stopped motorist and recognized him as being wanted in a murder investigation.

Funeral services were held in Vernon Tuesday.

Dr. Parrish was born Jan. 28, 1878, in Leonard. She entered medical school in the early 1900's following the death of her husband. She was graduated from the University of Texas Medical School at the top of her class.

She first practiced in Trenton, then Leonard and she also practiced in Crowell and Thalia before moving to Vernon.

Clifford White New Manager Vernon W. T. U. Office

Clifford W. White, a former Crowell resident and local manager for West Texas Utilities Co. in Shamrock, has been named local manager of the company's office in Vernon. He succeeds A. D. Walker, who reached the mandatory age of retirement in November.

Announcement of the change of personnel in the Vernon office was made last week by J. C. Randal, district manager, of Childress.

Mr. White, employed by WTU since 1952, was born in Crowell and attended the Crowell Public Schools, where he was an outstanding athlete and was named a member of the all-district team during his senior year.

During World War II, he served with the U. S. Army in the Pacific theater and was with the first troops that went into Japan. Following his discharge in 1945, Mr. White remained in the reserves and was called to active duty during the Korean War.

There have been some changes on skip-row planting of cotton—he sure to check with the local ASCS office if you plan to plant your cotton in skip-rows.

Information in regard to these programs is very limited. The local office is receiving information daily. As soon as all information is available, Foard farmers will be advised by newsletter or by a meeting for all farmers.

Funds are still available for producers who wish to carry out an ACP practice by December 31, 1965.

Export Cotton

January 3, 1966, has been set as the final date for filing applications for export market acres.

Producers are reminded that all sales of wool and unshorn lambs, made by Dec. 31, 1965, must be turned in to the ASCS office by no later than January 31, 1966, to qualify for payments.

When a car containing two men stopped suddenly some distance from where Game Warden Supervisor Charles Burnette manned a deer checking station near Jacksonville, there was a sharp explosion. One of the men hurrying to unload his rifle caused it to discharge. There was a splattering of lead, metal and smoke. And also a shattered fly wheel plus a ruptured engine block.

Miss Sharon Glover and Mr. McGregor to Marry December 18

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Glover announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sharon Elaine, to Ervyn Dewain McGregor of Seymour. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A.

E. McGregor of Benjamin. The wedding will take place on Saturday, December 18, at 6:30 p. m. at the First Baptist Church in Benjamin. Rev. K. E. Wooley will officiate.

County Federation

Henry Black, Superintendent of Crowell Schools, told about improvements at the school when he spoke to members of the Foard County Federation of Women's Clubs Monday, Nov. 29, at the community center. He said local funds of $10,000 and federal funds of $10,000 were expended for recent science equipment purchases.

The school has applied for aid in obtaining a remedial reading laboratory and teacher. "If they can't read, they can't learn," he said. He added that it is costly for a school district to have a pupil repeat a grade. He said if aid is received for reading, remedial arithmetic and a head-start pre-school program, then all pupils will benefit. The extra teachers will work with students who now add extra work for regular teachers, because of their below-average reading or arithmetic ability.

Black said plans are underway for organized physical education programs for the lower grades, girls as well as boys. Building of a modern gymnasium will be an aid in these plans.

Mrs. Glenn Jones was appointed chairman of a nominating committee which will report at the January meeting. Mrs. Virgil Johnson and Mrs. Elton Carroll will serve with her.

The Gamberville Home Demonstration Club was hostess for the meeting.

Save Time by Using Convenience Foods

You can add more time for needed holiday shopping and other activities by including more quick-to-fix and convenience foods in your pre-Christmas menus, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Texas A&M University Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Plan ahead, follow food supply information and shop wisely to get the most for your food dollars, she advises.

Canned ham is a real convenience for entertaining during the holiday season. Some of the small hams—under three pounds—are sterilized and usually can be stored at room temperatures. Check the label to determine whether or not they need refrigeration.

Dairy-made eggnog and boiled custard have made their appearance on the market. There's a new low-calories eggnog made of skim milk. This may be just the thing for the weight-conscious, provided of course that you don't add extra calories one way or another, emphasizes Mrs. Clyatt.

A line of specialty spice blends is now available. The spices are combinations of flavorings necessary to season foods for which they are indicated. Blends include steak, beef, fish, Italian and French dressings. The back panel of each container has suggestions for use and recipes.

More frozen orange juice concentrate is coming to market—and prices have been reduced considerably. The juice can be used in recipes for baking cakes and cookies and for imparting a delightful flavor to rice—in addition to being a breakfast beverage.

Best beef values this week are found on chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks, rib steaks and ground beef. In the pork line, look for end cut loin roasts and chops, picnic, canned picnics and hams and pork liver.

Fryers and frozen turkeys are available in most retail stores at economical prices. Grade A large eggs afford good egg value. Oranges, tangerines and grapefruit are plentiful, along with apples, grapes and cranberries.

Viet Nam Soldiers' Names Wanted by War Correspondent

The Denton Record-Chronicle, which has a circulation slightly in excess of 12,000 has assigned its own representative to report the war in Viet Nam.

Wick Fowler, who also covered World War II, is in Viet Nam now. He left Denton for the war zone December 1.

Fowler is on an unrestricted assignment for the Record-Chronicle but will concentrate on producing news and feature stories about Texas, particularly those from the Denton area.

Riley Cross, publisher of the Record-Chronicle, said Fowler would contact as many Texans as he could regardless of what part of the state they were from.

"Persons with friends or relatives in Viet Nam may send us the names and addresses," Cross said, "and we'll be glad to forward them to Mr. Fowler. If he can contact them he will."

USDA Team of Experts to Explain New Cotton Program

A team of experts from the U. S. Department of Agriculture headed by Under Secretary John Schmittler will be in Dallas Dec. 11 to explain to the cotton industry the complexities of the new government cotton program.

Borris C. Jackson of Hillsboro, chairman of the American Cotton Congress, said the all day meeting was arranged at the mutual request of USDA officials and leaders of various segments of the cotton industry. The meeting will begin at 9:30 a. m. in the Statler-Hilton Hotel.

From the News . . .
THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, Dec. 5, 1935, issue of The Foard County News:

The official dedication of the new Peace River bridge between Crowell and Quanah on State Highway No. 10 is scheduled to take place Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Harry Hines, chairman of the State Highway Commission, has promised Foard and Hardeman county officials that he will be present for the dedication.

A. G. Wallace, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wallace, dislocated the elbow joint of his right arm last Thursday afternoon while visiting his grandparents in Vesper.

The official 3-B all-district football team for 1955 included three Crowell players, Bill Dunn, Paul McKown and Mark Saunders. Three other Crowell players, Albert Danagan, Austin Wiggins and John Cagdeil, received honorable mention.

Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed a 2850-foot barn at the W. A. Dunn farm near Margaret shortly after midnight Saturday.

Another slow-falling rain started in Foard County shortly after midnight Wednesday. The general downpour had amounted to over one-half inch at 9:30 this morning.

Thalia school officials rejected the two bids Tuesday that were submitted for the construction of a building on the Thalia school grounds to be used as a combination auditorium, gymnasium, home economics and industrial education structure of brick and tile construction.

Ragsdale Lamber, Mack Buswell, Tom Beverly, Gordon Bell, Hubert Brown and Bill Dunn were among those who attended the SMU-TCU football game at Fort Worth Saturday.

R. L. Taylor returned Monday from a brief visit in Lubbock and Plainview. T. J. Taylor, Francis Todd, Rudell Russell, Jack Welch, Miss Jo Griffith and Donald Chapman, students in Texas Tech, accompanied him to Lubbock.

Miss Bernice Poland, who is attending Mary Hardin-Baylor College at Belton, was a week end visitor in the home of her parents.

Miss Leile Patton became the wife of Milton Hunter in a wedding at the Methodist parsonage in Vernon Saturday morning. Rev. J. H. Hamblen, pastor of the First Methodist Church at Vernon, conducted the ceremony.

Ben G. Oneal of Wichita Falls, state senator from this district; R. H. Spiller of Childress, assistant division engineer of the State Highway Department; and Robert F. Williams of Wichita Falls, special planting foreman for highway beautification work in District 3, were here Wednesday and inspected two proposed park sites along Highway 10 and Highway 28, north and west of Crowell. Mrs. N. J. Roberts, Mrs. B. W. Self, Leo Spencer, J. R. Beverly and J. C. Thompson, members of the local park committee, accompanied them.

Ornery Bucks Blitz Unarmed

Field men for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department have reported several instances of buck deer picking on unarmed residents. The latest serious case involved a couple at Aledo, west of Fort Worth. A buck deer, apparently straying from nearby brush, leaped a fence and used its horns to slash the woman on the limbs. When the husband came to her aid, the animal attacked him. Both are recovering. The department staff to date hadn't heard of any armed hunter being assaulted by hostile bucks, as much as some would like to be at this critical point of the season.

Postmaster Reeder
Says "Shop Early, Mail
Early and Use ZIP"

With the nation's economy

booming at an unprecedented pace, Postmaster Ted Reeder is predicting a dramatic rise in mail
volume over last year's Christmas
"rush."

"Literally billions of pieces of mail will be delivered between now and Christmas. If everyone were to wait until the last week
to mail their gifts and greetings, there is a possibility that the postal system would be literally swamped in a sea of mail. More important, special messages of good will would not be delivered on time. Public cooperation is the key to fast and on-time mail delivery at this time of the year," he said.

"In the past, the public has been very helpful. We have not reached the peak days of this mailing rush but are preparing to handle the load."

The postmaster's plea was short
and to the point: "Shop early,
mail early, and use ZIP codes."

Electric service needs will double in 7 years!

Growth records show that electric cooperative members will use twice as much electricity 7 years from now. To meet this ever increasing demand requires planning and money.

This means we must be able to borrow the necessary money to pay for new line
construction to meet this increasing growth.

Electric Cooperatives Are Good For Everybody!

Pictures by Frank Reeves on Display at Wayland College

Photographs depicting Texas and Southwest ranch life for the past 50 years will be on view at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview until December 12.

This collection of photographs
is the work of Frank Reeves, longtime livestock editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and were originated as an exhibition by the Amon Carter Museum of Western Art in Fort Worth.

Sponsored by the American Heritage Program at Wayland,
the display will be in Van Howelling Memorial Library on campus.

Often called the "dean of livestock reporters," Reeves began taking his photographs in 1912 to accompany his reporting. They still dot the walls of hotels, restaurants, offices and homes
throughout the Southwest.

The Reeves exhibition is classified in three parts: ranch life at work, ranch life at play (rodeos) and personalities. Among the personalities are included former Vice President John Nance Garner, the late J. Frank Debie and Mrs. Debie, and Abb Stocker, the trail driver who designed the XIT brand by scraping his boot
in the sand.

Reeves turned to photography
after being thwarted in his desire of becoming a lawyer. He picked up extra money while attending Grayson College in Whitewright
by working for a studio photographer on Saturdays.

The 1884 Kentucky-born Texan
began his popular "Chuck Wagon" column for the Star-Telegram in 1930, giving news about the livestock industry and the people who make it work. He still writes the column and takes countless pictures to accompany his stories, while producing a unique pictorial record of the Southwest
during the past four decades.

Many of the photographs on display are of rodeos and cattle during roundups. These are the finest and most candid shots of the cattle industry ever produced and have earned Reeves the respect of all who have met him in his work.

County Agent Urges Fertilizing Wheat

Weather conditions in Foard County have been favorable for early and abundant growth of small grains. As a result, the length of the growing period has been extended and greater amounts of forage will be available.

County Agent Joe Burkett reminds producers that this has
and will result in the removal of large amounts of available plant nutrients from the soil than in more normal years.

The county agent encourages small grain producers to consider the need for additional nitrogen to assure good grain yields. Such applications should be made in February or early in March.

Applications of 30 to 40 pounds
of nitrogen (N) in early spring should result in substantial increases in grain yield. With adequate moisture this increase could be 10 or more bushels per acre.

"Such increases would represent a 300 to 400 per cent return on the investment for additional nitrogen," concludes Burkett.

Whoopers' Goodies Are Ready

If those wayward whooping cranes only knew about the goodies awaiting them at their Gulf Coast wintering grounds
they would flap on down and relieve some of the tension locally.

Because unusual fall tides have stimulated marine fauna on the salt flats at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, and that means the equivalent of caviar
and roast pig around the clock.

But nobody's complaining at the refuge since all signs indicate a record whooper population
for modern times.

When forty-one of the giant cranes, including eight young,
were present and at least three adults had been spotted en route
on a leisurely, off-course sojourn.

The count last winter was 42 cranes, all of which departed for the northland nesting areas last spring.

One adult crane was a migration casualty in Kansas where it struck a power line in foul weather. The huge birds, with a seven-foot wing span, have had their ground-level troubles before, since a young one splintered a wing practicing takeoffs in far north Canada last summer. It was rescued and has recovered in confinement.

Refuge authorities believe "the blue-bird weather" is responsible for the trio's tardiness, first noted in the Texas Panhandle. This observation increased the mystery of whooper migration since it was several hundred miles west of the presumed flight pattern.

But the same "blue-bird weather" has featured the unusual south-winds, skirting ordinary island
tide barriers, and providing so much natural food that the whoop-ers to date have not had to patronize special inland delicacies
created by the refuge.
