Official Memorandum

Crowell, Texas.

GREETINGS:

Crowell has always recognized the existing or potential contribution of Texas' older population and realizes the debt owed by all Texans for their role in building Texas and Crowell into the great state and city it is today.

We must utilize this vast reservoir of talent, ability and experience through which our senior citizens can continue to play a major part in the future growth and progress of Crowell.

We must continue to recognize the vital position senior citizens play in our everyday lives as: parents, uncles and aunts; older brothers or sisters; cherished friends; counselors; and fellow citizens.

Since not everyone is blessed with the gift of long life, those who are so endowed should occupy a place of special honor among us.

Therefore, I, as Mayor of Crowell, do hereby designate the month of May, 1966, as Senior Citizen Month in Crowell, and urge all persons to join in honoring their fellow citizens who have attained the years of counseling among us, and further urge everyone to participate in Observance—1966.

In recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 4th day of May, 1966.

ROBERT M. KINCAID,
Mayor, City of Crowell.

Time Extended to May 31 to Sign Up for Medicare

Older people in the five-county area served by the Vernon Social Security office who did not sign up for the voluntary doctor bill insurance under Medicare before the close of the first enrollment period on March 31 have been given a little more time, Edwin Draughon, social security office manager, announced this week.

In legislation signed by President Johnson, Congress has extended until May 31 the deadline for enrollment by persons 65 or over.

Nearly 90 per cent of the nation's elderly were enrolled for the doctor bill insurance when social security offices closed at midnight on March 31, Mr. Draughon said. Only 5 per cent had turned down the protection which supplements the basic hospital insurance provided persons 65 and over.

Another 5 per cent had not made up their minds either way, or else were not aware of the deadline and the need to sign up for the supplementary protection.

Older people who have not yet applied for their Medicare benefits should get in touch with the nearest social security office now, Mr. Draughon said. Some may find an added bonus, he noted.

About 370,000 people 72 or older who may never have worked under social security at all were made eligible for monthly social security benefits of $35 for a single person and $52.50 for a couple under a change in the law enacted last month. The new payments will begin with the month of October 1966. An estimated 21,300 of these newly eligible people live in Texas.

Anyone 72 or older who is not receiving a monthly social security or railroad retirement benefit, or some other federal, state or local public retirement payment, a teacher's pension, for example, may be eligible for the special payments. Those receiving public retirement payments (other than social security or railroad retirement) of less than $35 per month for a single person, or $52.50 for a couple, may apply for the difference between their present payments and the amount of the special social security benefit.

Persons getting public assistance payments from a state welfare agency may elect to get either the new social security payment or the public assistance payment, but not both.

Eligible persons 72 or older who have already applied for Medicare will not need to make special application for the new payments. The Social Security Administration will be getting in touch with them to find out whether they are collecting another public retirement benefit. But others 72 or older by next October will need to apply, Mr. Draughon emphasized. At the same time, they will be able to protect their right to the basic hospital insurance provided persons 65 or over under Medicare, and also make a decision as to whether they want the voluntary doctor bill insurance.

People 65 and over, whether or not they have ever worked under social security, and whether retired or still working, get basic hospital insurance protection under Medicare. The hospital insurance benefits will be paid out of social security taxes if the person has been covered by social security, and out of general federal revenues if he has not.

The voluntary doctor bill insurance will be financed out of the $3 monthly premiums of those 65 and over who enroll, with a matching $3 a month for each enrollee contributed out of general revenues.

The $3 premiums do not become payable until July when the Medicare program goes into operation. But persons 65 or over by February of this year who delay signing up until past May 31 will have to wait 2 years for another chance to enroll. The next general enrollment period will be October 1967 through December 1967 with no medical insurance benefits payable until July 1968.

The social security district office in Vernon is located at 1728 Fannin. The phone number is LI2-9346.

Flowers, History Lure Tourists to Texas

The variety of natural attractions influencing a mighty national surge toward Texas' vacationland is reflected in the latest correspondence call-of-the-states.

Dude ranches, good fishing, unmatched scenery, unsurpassed water sports—both fresh and salt—all of these lure the usual majority, reports the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

But there's unusual attention given toward historical places, perhaps inspired by entertainment media's dramatic and musical emphasis on Texas' exciting background.

Here's one example of the popular trend, written by a State College, Pa., man stating he had seen a Texas state parks map in his local library:

"I am particularly interested in the birds and wild flowers for which your state has become famous. (Won't be long before bluebonnets.)"

Of course, he could be thinking specifically about Palmetto State Park's famed marshland greenery along the swampy banks of the San Marcos River near Luling, or Bentsen-Rio Grande State Park near Mission which is on the National Audubon Society's "must" list for birders.

FTA NEWS ROUNDUP

Melodrama Presented

Those of you who didn't get to see the melodrama, "She Was Only a Farmer's Daughter," surely missed something entertaining and fun. The drama club gave four performances, two of which were held in the cafeteria, while the other two were in a vacant building on the west side of the square. The program began with singing led by Janell Gray and Jackie Eddy, who were accompanied by Lanette Lemons. Then came the samples of cola or ginger ale served by the "singing waiters." The play followed, and by observation, we can say that nearly everyone enjoyed hissing the villain and cheering for the hero and heroine. The cast for the play given "in the round" were the following: villain, Paul Stapp; hero, Monty Smith; Mrs. Smithers, Conny Whitley; Aunt Sally, Zentre Gafford; Alice, Karen Shirley; mother, Martha Villereal; father, Joe Mike Fish; and last, but certainly not least, heroine, Shirley Mike Rasberry. Mrs. Moody Bursey, alias "the best speech teacher in the world" was the director.

Restocking Not Certain Fishing Aid

Fallacy of restocking game fish unless modern management methods are practiced is pointed out by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The implication is that poor fishing in many restocked areas merely is compounded by adding more fish.

The Department stressed that Texas' elaborate stocking system serves best in replenishing fish populations lost in periodic droughts and in restocking new or extensively renovated waters.

Best luck as they begin to make their way in the world. Good luck!

"Once a population of fish is established," said a Department spokesman, "adding more fish is only feeding those already present. And that's mighty expensive fish food."

"Rather than adding more fish to an already crowded fish society, lake managers should consider a more comprehensive management program. Watershed soil conservation measures will help keep water clear and free of silt, and fencing livestock out of the pond perimeter will protect the lake from constant agitation."

"But even under the most ideal conditions, a lake usually will become overcrowded or later. When this happens, otherwise complete removal of fish life, and then, and restocking.

Interferes with Rate Reductions

"Protection of public right to transportation services at low cost was a primary purpose when federal regulation of railroads started. In recent years, it has been employed to interfere with railroad rate reductions to meet the competition of competing carriers unable to provide service at as low cost . . . Without revisions of regulations, recognizing current competitive conditions, it will be increasingly difficult for railroads to regain the share in the country's total freight traffic to which their efficiency as low-cost carriers entitles them."

First Aid Training Hits New High

General James F. Collins, president of the American Red Cross, has announced that first aid training hit a new 22-year high mark in 1965. Certificates issued for completion of ARC first aid courses totaled 1,111,230 in the fiscal year which ended last June 30, the largest number since the World War II year of 1942-43. A major area in which the Red Cross greatly expanded its teaching of first aid was in the building trade unions, which are regarded among safety experts to be among the most hazardous fields of work.

Medicare Payment Procedure Plan

A single, easy-to-fill-out form for older people and physicians to use in requesting payment under the medicare program was announced this week by Edwin Draughton, social security district manager in Vernon.

The "Request for Payment" form will be used for claims under the voluntary doctor bill insurance part of the medicare program. Beginning July 1, people 65 and over who are enrolled for the voluntary insurance will get payment for 80 per cent of their doctor bills and other medical expenses, after they have met the first $50 of these expenses.

The one-page form was developed in close cooperation with representatives of the American Medical Association's Council on Medical Services, and was discussed and recommended for adoption by the Health Insurance Benefits Advisory Council, a group appointed under the law to advise on administrative policies and regulations. Nine of the 16 members of the Advisory Council are physicians. It has also been approved by the Health Insurance Council, a body representing the health insurance industry.

There will be two ways to claim payment for doctor bills and other medical services covered by the medical insurance part of medicare. Mr. Draughton said. The same form will be used for either method.

Under one method, the doctor will bill the patient, and after the patient has paid the bill, the patient will claim reimbursement. Under the other method, if the doctor and patient agree, the doctor will send in the claim and receive payment. This method of requesting payment can be used where all or any part of a medical bill still remains to be paid.

Under the payment-to-patient method, the patient will fill in the top half of the form and attach the doctor's itemized receipted bills. He will need to ask the doctor to fill out the bottom half of the form only if the receipted bills do not give the necessary basic facts about the services supplied and when and where they were furnished.

Under the payment-to-doctor method, the patient will fill in the top half of the "Request for Payment" form and give the form to the doctor. The doctor will fill in the bottom half of the form and send the form to the organization which will be handling medical insurance benefits in that area of the country.

If the payment to doctor method is used, the doctor agrees to accept the amount paid to him by the medical insurance program as 80 per cent of his total bill, over and above the $50 deductible amount—that he will collect from the patient no more than the remaining 20 per cent, plus any part of the $50 deductible still owing him.

Mr. Draughton said that a sample form and a copy that the older person can use in making his first claim will be included in "Your Medical Handbook," a detailed instruction book that will be mailed in June to all persons entitled to hospital insurance and medical insurance benefits under the medicare program.

Additional copies of the forms will also be available at physicians' offices and all social security offices, and at offices of the organizations in each area who have been selected to receive and pay bills under the medical insurance program.

Lots of Burglaries

Noting that a burglary occurs every 46 seconds in the United States, the Insurance Information Institute says many of these could be avoided if homeowners would lock their windows and doors and take a few other simple precautions.

August Worst Month

In recent years, more automobile deaths have occurred in August than in any other month. Insurance Information Institute points out. In 1964, 4,810 people died in car accidents during the month. That is almost 4 per cent more than in October, which had the highest toll.

Convenience Foods Speed Up Meal Preparation

Today's homemaker likes to do her kitchen work quickly and easily, and modern supermarkets abound with convenience foods which enable her to do so.

The marketing system has taken over many of the chores that were once done in the kitchen, says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist. Frozen foods, prepared mixes and complete meals ready for the oven are just a few of the short cuts that await the homemaker at only slightly higher costs.

Many homemakers are willing to pay the extra money to free themselves from some of the kitchen chores, judging by the success of convenience foods, says Mrs. Clyatt.

Currently, good buys in vegetables are cabbage, which is mostly new-crop offerings; carrots, celery, yellow and green onions, radishes, all potatoes except the new ones, rutabagas, turnips, sweet potatoes and tomatoes.

Best fruit offerings continue to be apples, grapefruit and oranges.

Look for best beef values on round steaks and roasts, ground beef and arm and blade pot roasts and steaks. Although retail pork prices are holding steady at high price levels, good values are to be found on smoked picnics, shoulder roasts and steaks, end-cut pork chops and pork liver.

Fryers are in ample supply at economical prices, and grade A large eggs offer the most quality and economy for your money.

Milk, cheese and other dairy foods continue to be good buys for the nutritional value received.

Open House Set for Sunday at New Total-Electric Home

There is something new in Crowell and new in the lives of the Raymond Ilsengs. It's Crowell's first total-electric Gold Medallion home, located at North A and Bryant Street. Built by Ford Construction Co. for Raymond Ilseng, Crowell electrical contractor, and Virginia Ilseng, Ford County Home Demonstration Agent, the home will use only flameless electricity for all home needs.

The automatic wonderland will be open to the public Sunday, May 8, from 1 to 3 p. m. West Texas Utilities Manager Cecil Davis made the announcement.

Masonry siding with a shingle roof, the home has 1,124 square feet of space which includes a large living room, den-kitchen combination, three bedrooms and two tile baths. Everything from the Reddy post light in the front yard to the back door is operated electrically, Davis said.

According to Davis, the electrical wiring went in before the walls went up. The three-wire circuit installed by Ilseng is a very modern wiring system. It eliminates the necessity for extra wiring when adding major electrical appliances—a step forward in home wiring, Davis said. The old single circuit wired homes require addition of a new electric line from pole to home when adding electrical appliances such as dryers, ranges and cooling systems. Lightning in the Ilseng home is planned lighting with interesting pull-down type fixtures in several of the rooms.

Of special interest is the flameless electric baseboard heating, Davis said. These unobtrusive heating units, which carry a lifetime guarantee from the Federal Pacific Co., can be controlled individually from room to room and are so designed as to eliminate danger of burns even if a person comes in direct contact with the unit. Davis said "baby safe" is the term used by the electrical industry. The home is cooled electrically with Fedders, 4,500 BTU window units.

The heart of the Ilseng home is the total-electric kitchen equipped with a built-in electric range, dishwasher, 18-ft. frost free refrigerator and a 15 ft. electric freezer. In addition is a Frigidaire washer and dryer electric home laundry. A 40-gallon electric water heater will supply hot water for all home needs.

A fresh water well with a one-half horsepower electric water pump is for yard source of water for the Ilseng home.

The home is fully insulated with storm windows and doors, and offers many quality living conveniences found in today's modern homes. Davis said that West Texas Utilities offers total-electric Gold Medallion homeowners a special operational cost plan when homes are built to conform with standards set forth by the electrical industry. The Ilseng home is built to conform with these high standards, Davis said.

Columbian Club

Mrs. Jack Brown presided over the April 27 meeting of the Columbian Club which met in the home of Mrs. Roy Ayers. The committee appointed to work on the Diamond Jubilee project reported during the business session.

"Culinary Art" was the topic for the afternoon's study and Mrs. Edgar Jones contrasted the "languages" of older recipes with that of today's ready mixes and frozen foods. She discussed the stages of cooking foods, from the spring house to milk cooler to ice box and refrigerator. Mrs. Jones pointed out the change in America's eating habits which resulted from rapid transportation of fresh vegetables, freezer lockers and TV dinners, to say nothing of instant foods and drinks.

"If your family allows you to treat them so, a wife can serve an instant breakfast equivalent to a plentiful meal, accompanied by instant coffee with powdered cream or substitute, real frozen orange juice or remarkable substitute. All she must do is to butter the toast."

Teflon and its many advantages was the topic given by Mrs. H. P. Gillespie. The roll call was a part of the program and each member gave either a new recipe or reported on new or exotic foods which she had either prepared, tasted or just possessed. Following the program, a happy time of reminiscing of homemade bread, wood or coal oil stoves and their problems and the fine art of eating prior to cholesterol was held. Mrs. Ayers served a choice plate.

From the News . . .

THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, April 30, 1936, issue of The Foard County News:

Costumes of the eighties and nineties, four rodeo performances, old-fashioned dancing to the rag-time tunes of fiddle bands held on the square and in the main streets, a huge parade of over a mile and a half in length, a memorial service honoring Foard County's pioneers, both the living and the dead, were the features of Crowell's and Foard County's entertainment to approximately 12,000 visitors here Monday and Tuesday as the county celebrated its forty-fifth anniversary in connection with the Texas Centennial celebration.

One hundred and twenty rodeo contestants coming from as far away as Canada competed in the four-performance rodeo that was held Monday and Tuesday in connection with the Forty-Fifth Anniversary Jubilee.

More than fifty Vernon-bound cars will form a motor cavalcade this afternoon at 4 o'clock to form a delegation to take part in a huge parade which will march through the streets of Vernon in connection with the Centennial celebration being held there this week. A committee composed of John Raser and Hubert Brown was placed in charge of the caravan which will represent Crowell in the parade. The Crowell municipal band will head the delegation from here.

Foster Davis of Rule will move office fixtures to Crowell today for the purpose of opening up a law office here, according to an announcement made by him yesterday. Mr. Davis graduated from Texas Tech in 1930. He received his law experience in the law office of Davis & Davis in Haskell and was admitted to the bar in 1932.

The Crowell one-act play cast won second in the regional meet at Canyon Saturday. Merrill Allee also took second place in the golf tourney.

More than 200 signatures were obtained here Saturday afternoon as members of the Crowell Townsend Club. It was the first meeting of the club and Judge B. D. Sartin, candidate for Congress, was at the head of the club's organization. Judge Sartin spoke to a crowd of more than 1,000 people Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Miss Lennis Woods, who had been an employe in the office of Leo Spencer for a long period of years, has resigned her position to accept a similar place with an insurance company in Breckenridge. Mrs. Manson Welch has been employed to take the place made vacant by Miss Woods' resignation.

Bill Manning of Oklahoma City is visiting friends and relatives at Foard City for a few days.

Friday morning, May 1, forty members of the graduating class will leave Crowell en route to Carlsbad Caverns, New Mexico, where they will spend Saturday in observance of senior day.

From the News . . .
THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, April 30, 1936, issue of The Foard County News:

Costumes of the eighties and and nineties, four rodeo performances, old-fashioned dancing to the rag-time tunes of fiddle bands held on the square and in the main streets, a huge parade of over a mile and a half in length, a memorial service honoring Foard County's pioneers, both the living and the dead, were the features of Crowell's and Foard County's entertainment to approximately 12,000 visitors here Monday and Tuesday as the county celebrated its forty-fifth anniversary in connection with the Texas Centennial celebration.

One hundred and twenty rodeo contestants coming from as far away as Canada competed in the four-performance rodeo that was held Monday and Tuesday in connection with the Forty-Fifth Anniversary Jubilee.

More than fifty Vernon-bound cars will form a motor cavalcade this afternoon at 4 o'clock to form a delegation to take part in a huge parade which will march through the streets of Vernon in connection with the Centennial celebration being held there this week. A committee composed of John Razor and Hubert Brown was placed in charge of the caravan which will represent Crowell in the parade. The Crowell municipal band will head the delegation from here.

Foster Davis of Rule will move office fixtures to Crowell today for the purpose of opening up a law office here, according to an announcement made by him yesterday. Mr. Davis graduated from Texas Tech in 1930. He received his law experience in the law office of Davis & Davis in Haskell and was admitted to the bar in 1932.

The Crowell one-act play cast won second in the regional meet at Canyon Saturday. Merrill Allee also took second place in the golf tourney.

More than 200 signatures were obtained here Saturday afternoon as members of the Crowell Townsend Club. It was the first meeting of the club and Judge B. D. Sartin, candidate for Congress, was at the head of the club's organization. Judge Sartin spoke to a crowd of more than 1,000 people Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Miss Lennis Woods, who had been an employe in the office of Leo Spencer for a long period of years, has resigned her position to accept a similar place with an insurance company in Breckenridge. Mrs. Manson Welch has been employed to take the place made vacant by Miss Woods' resignation.

Bill Manning of Oklahoma City is visiting friends and relatives at Foard City for a few days.

Friday morning, May 1, forty members of the graduating class will leave Crowell en route to Carlsbad Caverns, New Mexico, where they will spend Saturday in observance of senior day.
