WILDCATS WIN OVER MATADOR 43-6 FRIDAY

Big Game with Quanah to Be Here Friday Night

The Crowell High School football team won its second game of the new season last Friday night as they handed the Matador Bullfighters a 43-6 loss in a non-conference contest played at Matador.

The Wildcats' first score came as Mike Payne, playing linebacker, intercepted a Matador pass and galloped 40 yards for the TD early in the first period. Payne then added two additional points on the conversion with a run around right end.

A few minutes later, Payne scored again for the Wildcats, this time on a three-yard blast up the middle.

Halfback Ronnie Eavenson blasted over for the two extra points after touchdown.

In the second quarter, Payne again found paydirt as the speedy halfback took a pass from quarterback Steve Gray. Payne also kicked for the extra point.

The Bullfighters scored their only touchdown in the second quarter when halfback Joey Meadow capped a drive with a one-yard plunge. The try failed for the extra point.

The Wildcats came back with their third touchdown of the second quarter when Lee Looney passed to end James Gaddis on a play covering 45 yards. Payne once again split the uprights for the extra point to make the half-time score 36-6.

The Wildcats' final score came in the third period as Gaddis took a 10-yard pass from quarterback Gary Cates. Payne again booted for the extra point to wrap up the scoring.

Defensive stalwarts for the Wildcats were Tommy Carpenter, Steve Bell, Van Wisdom and Bob Bird.

How to File Medicare Claims

Medicare has been in effect for over two months now, and many residents of the five-county area serviced by the Vernon Social Security office are ready to claim their first insurance benefits.

Edwin Draughon, manager of the Vernon office, advises that instructions for filing these claims can be found in "Your Medicare Handbook," the book that was mailed to each medicare beneficiary during June and July.

It explains what services are covered and which are not covered by hospital and medical insurance, as well as how, when and where to file a claim for medicare benefits.

The medicare beneficiary cannot file a claim for hospital benefits; he needs only to show his Health Insurance card to the hospital admitting office, and the hospital itself which files the claim.

There are two ways to claim benefits for doctors' bills; these are "payment to the patient" and "payment to the doctor" methods.

In the payment to patient method, the patient pays the doctor. He then fills out Part I of the "Request for Payment" form found on page 29 of "Your Medicare Handbook" and attaches his receipted bill. This claim should be sent to Medicare, Group Medical & Surgical Service, P. O. Box 21247, Dallas, Texas 75211.

With the payment to doctor method, the patient completes Part I of the "Request for Payment" form, and then gives it to the doctor who completes Part II. The doctor mails the claim in and receives the payment direct from Medicare. The "Request for payment" form is on page 29 of "Your Medicare Handbook." Additional forms can also be obtained from the Vernon Social Security office, located at 1719 Nin Street in Vernon. Social Security representatives will pay to help prepare required payment forms and also answer questions about Medicare Social Security.

Water Toll Totals 214 to Top 1965

Ten Labor Day week end water recreational fatalities helped raise the Texas 1966 toll to 214 as recorded by the Texas Parks & Wildlife Department.

Last year's toll of an even 200 deaths was not reported by the department until almost two months later.

Twenty persons perished during the last two weeks as noted by the department's monitoring routine.

Eleven drowned in swimming accidents, six were victims of boating mishaps and three succumbed while fishing.

Oddly, two of the fatalities occurred when occupants of boats fell overboard and were struck by their own wildly careening craft.

This was the most tragic period for boaters whose earlier conspicuous record had been attributed to the new water safety code which state game wardens have been helping enforce.

In separate accidents while retrieving fishing or boating equipment, a Fort Worth man was victimized in trying to tow a disabled boat ashore. A Dumas man suffered the same fate when he sought to retrieve a minnow bucket that had floated away from shore.

Fishing deaths included a Bay City man surf angling near the mouth of the Colorado River, a Panhandle man who fell into deep water while trying to land a large catfish, and a Waco man who slipped and fell into the Brazos River.

Several youngsters drowned, including a 14-year-old Amarillo newsboy who climbed a fence to swim in a closed city pool and a 13-year-old Dallas lad who perished in a small lake.

"When we attended school many years ago we were taught the Republic of United States was a government of the people, by the people and for the people. Perk Up Menu with September "Specials"

Specials that save money on your food bill may also offer pleasant variety in your September menus.

This word comes from Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Texas A&M University Extension consumer marketing specialist, who also emphasizes that all specials are not necessarily "good deals" for your family.

Consider these factors, she suggests, to determine whether the special is a real "bargain":

Has the price really been lowered? Usually it has, but not always—and the consumer needs to know the regular price.

Is the item of high quality—or the quality you want? Make sure that lower prices are not based on lower quality. For example, are you comparing USDA Choice with USDA Good?

Regular prices vary seasonally on many food items. Don't overstock on items headed toward lower prices.

Consider storage. Buy only the quantity that can be used while the food is in prime condition.

Give careful attention to advertisements, and transfer this information to a grocery shopping list to save both time and money.

September specials this week include chicken. With large supplies, prices are reasonable. It's sometimes economical to buy fryer parts instead of a whole bird. Beef items being featured range from popular steak cuts to roasts. Pork supplies are still in short supply, resulting in continued high prices.

Economical vegetable choices are cabbage, sweet potatoes and red potatoes. Good fruit choices are grapes, bananas, Italian prunes, Bartlett pears and new crop apples.

Keeping Seed Cotton Moisture Uniform in Trailer Helps Quality

Keeping seed cotton moisture uniform in the trailer helps to preserve cotton quality.

A trailer load of cotton containing approximately the same moisture content throughout can be ginned to maintain staple length, keep short fiber content low, give full bale weight, higher dollar value, and greater end use value, the National Cotton Council points out.

To protect quality and insure profits, cotton should be harvested when lint moisture is 8 per cent or less, or when seed cotton moisture is 10 per cent or less. If it becomes necessary to pick when moisture conditions are less than optimum, cottons which differ appreciably in moisture and trash content should be placed in separate trailers and the ginner notified.

Mixed batches of seed cotton with highly variable amounts of moisture in the same trailer can cause serious trouble. If the ginner sets his equipment to gin the cotton with the higher moisture content, part will be over-dried, causing fiber damage, shorter staple, and weight loss. If cotton is ginned to accommodate the low moisture cotton, part will be underdried, causing inefficient cleaning and lower grades, rough preparation, and possibly choke-ups. Either way the producer loses money, and the spinner loses processing efficiency and product quality.

It is impossible for the ginner to do his job properly if there is a wide variation in moisture content in the same trailer load, the Council concludes.

Specific recommendations tailored to local conditions and practices may be obtained from Extension Services and USDA ginning laboratories.

Two Minutes With the Bible

The Truth of Christ

"As the truth of Christ is in me..." (II Cor. 11:10).

How often St. Paul, in his letters, speaks with an oath! "God is my witness" (Rom. 1:9), "As God is true" (II Cor. 1:18), "Behold, before God, I lie not" (Gal. 1:20), "God is my record" (Phil. 1:8), "I speak the truth in Christ and lie not" (I Tim. 2:7), etc., etc.

As Dean Howson has said: "When Paul makes a solemn statement under the sense of God's presence, he does not hesitate to express this."

But had not others spoken under the sense of God's presence? Of course they had, yet Paul calls God to witness far more often than any other Bible writer. Why is this?

The answer is found in the distinctive character of Paul's ministry as the apostle of the mystery. John the Baptist, the four evangelists and the twelve apostles did not need to speak with oaths since they proclaimed that which had already been prophesied. But with Paul it was different. Separate from the twelve, who were widely known as the apostles of Christ, Paul had been raised up to make known a wonderful secret which God had kept secret from all who had gone before. While not a contradiction of prophecy, this secret had nevertheless not been prophesied; it was a new revelation. Hence it was appropriate that the apostle should insist again and again that he wrote as in the presence of God.

Question: How familiar are you with the epistles of Paul?

Billy Gene Everson and Miss Barbara Osborne Wed

The First Baptist Church in White Deer was the scene of the recent wedding rites uniting Miss Barbara Neel Osborne and Billy Gene Everson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Osborne of White Deer. Rev. and Mrs. Warren Everson of Crowell are the parents of the bridegroom.

Rev. Everson, father of the bridegroom, officiated at the double ring ceremony at 6 p. m. amid a setting of tiered candelabra entwined with garlands of green foliage. Baskets of white gladioli flanked the kneeling bench. Pews of honor were marked with white satin bows.

A program of appropriate nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Diane Dalton, organist, who also accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Mary Mitchell.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal wedding gown fashioned with a bouffant skirt of chantilly lace over taffeta. The scooped neckline and traditional petal point sleeves framed the fitted bodice. The gown was enhanced by a chapel train flowing from the neckline. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a seed pearl and crystal tiara. She carried a cascading bouquet of white carnations atop a white Bible. Her only jewelry was a single strand of cultured pearls.

Bridal attendants, dressed identically in waltz-length gowns of orchid lace over taffeta designed with fitted bodices and bell-shaped skirts, were Miss Doris Johnson, maid of honor, and Misses Kathryn Osborne and Janie Sandlin, bridesmaids. Each wore an orchid lace hat with brief illusion veil and carried a nosegay of white carnations. Miss Jacque Osborne, sister of the bride, flower girl, was attired in an empire styled dress of orchid lace and taffeta. She was escorted by Chad Short.

Serving as best man to the groom was Printiss Gidney of Crowell. Groomsman were Jimmy Everson of Dumas and James Borchardt of Crowell, while Jordan Jeffcoat and Larry Short served as ushers.

Lighting the cathedral tapers were Mrs. Sammie Kaye Short and Mrs. Jordan Jeffcoat. Registering guests was Mrs. James Borchardt of Crowell.

Guests were greeted in the reception room of the church following the pledging of vows. The bride's table, covered with a white lace cloth over satin was centered

Even though they were never employed under social security, an estimated 25 residents of Foard County now 72 or over will be eligible for $35 monthly social security benefits starting with October, 1966, according to Edwin Draughton, district social security manager.

Special application forms will be mailed shortly to all the eligible persons who have enrolled for Medicare, but anyone now 72 who failed to apply for Medicare will have to get the blanks from the social security office.

Unlike other benefit claims, these special age 72 claims under the Prouty amendment will have no retroactivity. Payments will begin in the month the application is received in the social security office, but not before October.

Payments will not be made to anyone who receives railroad retirement or regular social security benefits, nor to those who receive state old-age assistance payments, civil service annuities or other federal or state pensions. In some instances, if the pension is less than $35 a month, payments under the Prouty amendment can be made to bring the combined amount to $35.

Resident aliens will be eligible if they have been legally admitted for permanent residence and have lived in the United States continuously for at least five years immediately preceding the month of application. Moreover, any applicant, regardless of citizenship, must reside in one of the 50 states or the District of Columbia to qualify.

When both husband and wife are eligible, the wife will receive $17.50 a month and the husband $35.

From the News THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, Sept. 17, 1936, issue of The Foard County News:

Soaking, slow rains fell almost continuously for 24 hours in Crowell and Foard County to break definitely a drought extended over several months. A total of 4.82 inches rainfall has been recorded at the Crowell State Bank since Tuesday afternoon.

Three of Foard County's officers-elect in a little private argument about which was the biggest politician decided Saturday of last week to make a conclusive test by weighing. Claude Callaway, judge-elect; Amos Lilly, sheriff-elect; and Foster Davis, attorney-elect, each took his turn on the scales and each brought the arrow to the 100 pound mark. All have agreed by requests from constituents to weigh again at a time to be designated several months after they take office with the understanding that the heaviest at that time is working the least.

Crowell high school's miniature Wildcats dropped their opening grid contest here Friday night in a heart-breaker with Floydada High's Whirlwinds 7 to 0. Joy and Orr showed up good; Lanford is defensive star.

Dick Todd, Crowell High School football immortal, has already received nationwide attention among inter-collegiate football circles before playing a game of varsity football. Hailed as a positive star of 1936, he is given a rating among the highest in the prospects for this year's sophomores by the latest edition of the "Football Annual." He is predicted to be the sparkplug of the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College eleven and is doped to be one of the Southwest's greatest productions.

An election on a bond issue of $12,000 to be used in the payment of skilled labor in the construction of a new grammar school building in Crowell will be held Saturday, Sept. 10. The money raised from the bonds will be used to furnish skilled labor necessary in the new building's construction. A government grant will furnish the necessary materials and the common labor.

Crowell High School Wildcats venture to Matador Friday to match their wit and weight with the Matador Matadors. The game will be played in the afternoon.

Ernest King was the chief speaker for the program of the Rotary Club last Wednesday, giving a classification talk on "The Care of the Feet." Merl Kincaid was in charge of the program.

Truscott, in the first game of a three-game final series, ran roughshod over Medicine Mound on the Knox County diamond 13 to 4 to take the lead in the modified Shaughnessy play-off plan used by the Cotton Belt baseball league. In no uncertain manner, Tutor Clyde Myers' lads started the game with the determination to win and the club was never in severe danger after the first lead they took in the initial inning.

E. E. Smith, local manager of the West Texas Utilities Co. in Crowell, will leave Friday to become local manager of the company in Chillicothe.

Love Gives Child a Sense of Security

The best thing parents can do to keep their children out of trouble is to love each other.

This word of advice comes from Mrs. Patsy R. Yates, extension family life education specialist at Texas A&M.

Psychologists indicate that many individuals reach adulthood unable to love anyone because they have not learned how to love in their own homes, she adds.

"People who are incapable of loving anyone are the unhappy, maladjusted individuals who often turn to antisocial behavior in an attempt to seek attention. They are also found frequently in the divorce courts and the psychiatrists' offices," says Mrs. Yates.

How do parents teach their child to love, to care for others? The clue, says Mrs. Yates, is explained by Dr. Christine Beasley, professor of family relationships at the University of Tennessee. "We learn to love by loving," says Dr. Beasley.

This theme may be one of the most important ones that young parents can remember as they attempt to guide their children. A child learns to love by loving those around him. And he does this as he does many other things in life—by imitation.

One of the surest ways to teach a child to love, to give him the security of knowing he is loved, is to set a good example, reminds Mrs. Yates. Young parents may not be aware that their love for each other may be the basic ingredient in a secure and happy childhood for their children.

"The child whose parents have a strong happy marriage has the best opportunity for learning to love others, and also for the formation of a happy home of his own," concludes Mrs. Yates.

Central America filled with History and the unusual

Mrs. Ray T. Coffin, Jr., Vice Consul of El Salvador in Dallas, Texas, shows some of the artifacts reflecting the historical heritage of Central America. The Gold and Jade jewelry is from the tombs of the ancient Mayan and other Indian cultures of this area. Central America was the meeting place and the crossroads for the interchange of trade and knowledge of the Mayan, Aztec, and Inca civilizations. The pre-Columbian pottery as well as gigantic stone-works are found throughout this area. With the Spanish colonization came the teachers and missionaries, and the little "Santos" is from this period. The "Pieces of Eight" are reminiscent of the buried treasure hidden along the Caribbean and Pacific coasts by Captain Morgan and his fellow pirates. Much of this pirate's booty is still to be found. The sea, the lakes, and the mountains are filled with beautiful and exotic birds and animals, and Mrs. Coffin enjoys the love and affection of her little "honey bear," a native of this region.
