The department, seeking to interest qualified young men in a rapidly expanding law enforcement operation, stressed many new opportunities as a field man in this work.

Lately, for example, the usual routine of assisting biologists with game management techniques and other duties, has been increased to include water safety on the larger lakes.

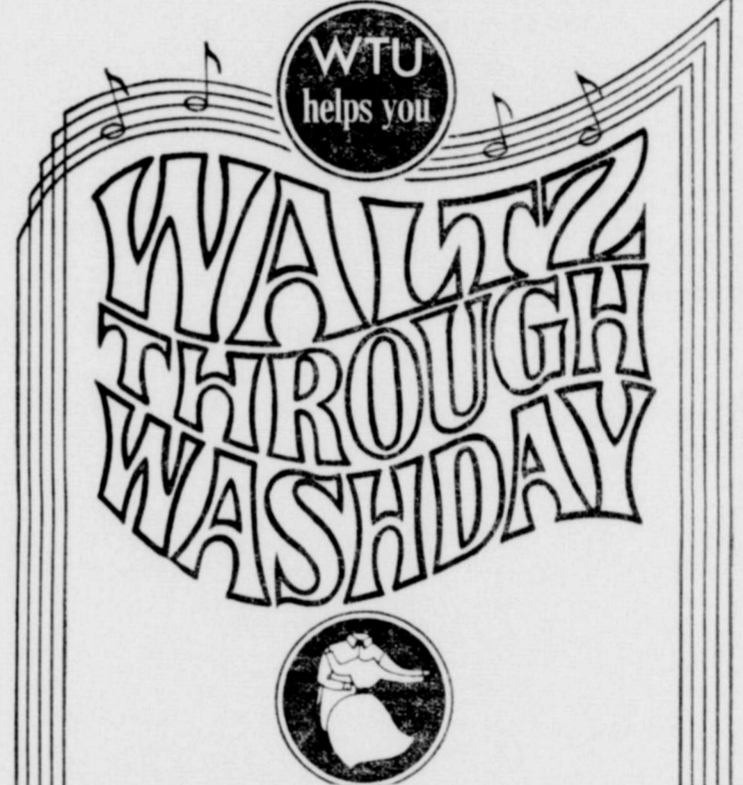

The last mentioned is one reason the warden staff is being increased. Previously, only one training unit was authorized each year. Now two classes of wardens are commissioned each year and assigned to actual patrol responsibilities.

mistakes in some of our thinking and crusading is the thought that all must be equal. Nothing could be worse. We will never all be equal or should we attempt to force all to conform to the same pattern or habits, confusing equal opportunity with individual equality. There should be, still, admiration and respect for those with exceptional talent, skill, and mental capacity. They often contribute more than their share to society and the well-being of all and are the examples we must cite to younger generations." — Columbia, Miss., Progress.

1966 Statistical Abstract of U. S.
Published by Bureau

A closeup view of the changing pattern of American life is presented in the fact-filled 1966 edition of the "Statistical Abstract of the United States," just issued by the U. S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of the Census.

In addition to basic information on population, housing, health, employment, and so on, the new edition provides the facts behind the news with statistics on such subjects as poverty, school desegregation, crime, selective service, military expenditures, and political campaigns to name only a few.

The following items are taken at random from the widely-varied mass of information in the 1966 edition:

Governmental expenditures for police protection totaled almost $2.8 billion in 1965, 38 per cent more than in 1960. On a per capita basis, the 1965 expenditure amounted to $14, about 28 per cent over 1960. (Table 214).

The land area of the United States today is 3 1/2 million square miles with a population density of 50 persons per square mile. At the time of our first census in 1790, there were less than 900,000 square miles with five persons to the mile. (Table 1).

The federal government owns a third of all the land in the United States, with holdings ranging from ninety-eight per cent of Alaska to less than one per cent of Connecticut, Iowa, Maine, New York and Ohio. (Table 273)

There are over 3 1/2 million fewer males than females in the United States. The overall ratio in 1965 was 96 males for every 100 females although, below age 15, boys outnumbered girls 104 to 100. (Tables 5 and 19)

The cost of medical care in 1965 was 22 per cent higher than the 1957-59 average. The biggest increase was in hospital room rates, which climbed 53 per cent. The only decrease was in prescriptions and drugs—down two per cent. (Table 85)

Of approximately 48 million families in the U. S. in 1964, 7 million were classified as "poor." Among the poor families, 27 per cent were nonwhite, 48 per cent lived in the South, 13 per cent lived on farms, and 26 per cent had 4 or more children under age 18. (Table 481)

Out of 1,000 students who entered 5th grade in 1957, 710 went on to graduate from high school in 1965 and 378 entered college. (Table 152)

There were almost 4,000 work stoppages in 1965, 8 per cent more than in 1964. Man-days idle for the 1 1/2 million workers involved average 15. (Table 348)

The value of new construction put in place in 1965 amounted to $72 billion, 8 per cent above 1964. Private non-farm housing represented 37 per cent of the total. (Table 1092)

This latest edition of the cloth-bound annual, first published in 1878, has 33 chapters and totals 1,051 pages. It contains 1,312 statistical tables and 51 charts and maps. Sixty-six tables are entirely new this year and most of the others have been updated to include new information. Almost the entire range of social, economic, and political statistics is given for the United States in addition to comparative figures for foreign countries.

Statistics are taken from Census Bureau reports and from 110 other government agencies, 106 private groups, and six international organizations. Over 800 publications, on 50 major subjects, are listed in a 56-page guide to sources for those seeking additional data in detail.

The Statistical Abstract is available from the Dallas Field Office, U. S. Department of Commerce, 1114 Commerce Street, Room 1200, Dallas, Texas 75202. The price is $3.75 per copy.

Medicare Handbook Is Important Reading

"Don't wait until you get sick. Take time now to read Your Medicare Handbook."

This is the advice Edwin Draughon, manager of the Social Security office in Vernon, has for all medicare beneficiaries. He stated that the Medicare Handbook explains how the two health insurance programs work and tells what services are covered and how payments will be made. It also contains a copy of the simple form to be used in requesting payment of doctors' bills under the medical insurance program.

The handbook includes a listing of all the insurance organizations that will be handling medical insurance claims, so beneficiaries can quickly see where claims for payment of doctor bills, home health services, and other services included in the supplementary plan should be sent.

Your Medicare Handbook is designed as a ready source of information and guidance for each person covered by Medicare. Along with the red, white and blue health insurance identification cards, it is the key to Medicare protection. Mr. Draughon stated that anyone having any questions about his rights under Medicare should get in touch with the Social Security office located at 1728 Fannin Street in Vernon. The office is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a. m. until 4:45 p. m. It is also open Saturday from 8:30 a. m. until 12:30 p. m. for the convenience of those who are unable to come in on a week day.

Special Courses Available for High School Students

Students in Texas high schools may take courses for graduation credit or to meet special college entrance requirements by enrolling for University of Texas correspondence study.

During the year just ended, 1,800 persons earned credits in 62 different high school correspondence courses through the University's Extension Teaching and Field Service Bureau.

A total of 1,530 students (or about 85 per cent of those enrolled) were from 800 of the smaller consolidated and independent school districts throughout the state. That figure represents more than half of the 1,500 public and private secondary schools in Texas.

The University also cooperates with the Texas Education Agency's Small Schools Project, which assists smaller schools in developing and enriching their programs, even though they may be operating on limited budgets. Teachers and administrators from small schools attend a summer workshop held in Austin each year under joint auspices of TEA and UT. Almost 700 attended the 1966 summer workshop.

Many schools involved in the Small Schools Project also take advantage of the University's correspondence study program. A physics course has been set up which requires only an adult supervisor, rather than a certified teacher. Students do all their own work, and the high school furnishes certain basic laboratory equipment.

Further information on all types of University of Texas correspondence work is available from Dr. L. E. McDonald, University of Texas, Extension Building 203, Austin, Texas 78712.

Gun Death Rate Hiked Past 1965

Outdoor recreation fatalities were increased by thirteen during the last three weeks, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Eight deaths were from accidental gunshots in connection with hunting. Three persons drowned, one while fishing.

In unusual sports recreational deaths, a 16-year-old West Texas boy was killed by lightning while hunting rabbits and an Athens man was killed by a car while adjusting lights on his fishing boat trailer.

The gun deaths raised the total to nine for the year. A 16-year-old Brady boy earlier was reported as a casualty from stepping in front of a rifle as it was discharged.

The eight new gun fatalities involved mainly youngsters. But one adult, an Amarillo man, was killed when his gun was discharged as he placed it in his car. He had been hunting prairie dogs. A Memphis, Texas, mother was killed returning from a hunt when a shotgun was discharged as her husband removed it from their car.

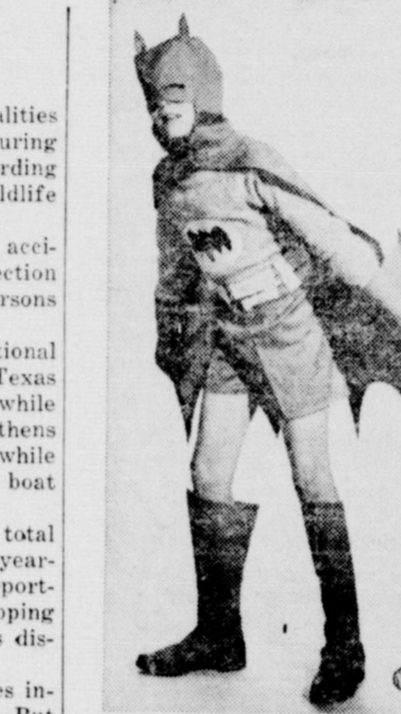

In a tragedy similar to the earlier one occurring at Brady, an 18-year-old Nacogdoches youth was killed by a bullet from a jammed rifle.

A 14-year-old Cuero lad was killed when struck by a .22 rifle bullet while hunting rabbits with other lads.

An 18-year-old Brownfield boy was fatally wounded when a rifle discharged as it was being removed from a car following a hunting trip.

A 9-year-old Kennedale boy was killed when a shotgun, held by a hunting companion, was fired accidentally.

The Department noted that the GUESS WHO?—It's Batman, of course, costume and all. The outfit is made from McCall's Pattern 8398 in Springs Mills cotton broadcloth. The ready-made cotton sweatshirt is trimmed with an official insignia cut from iron-on Bondex.

1966 hunting death pace is far ahead of last year when 21 fatalities were unofficially recorded as connected with the hunting season.

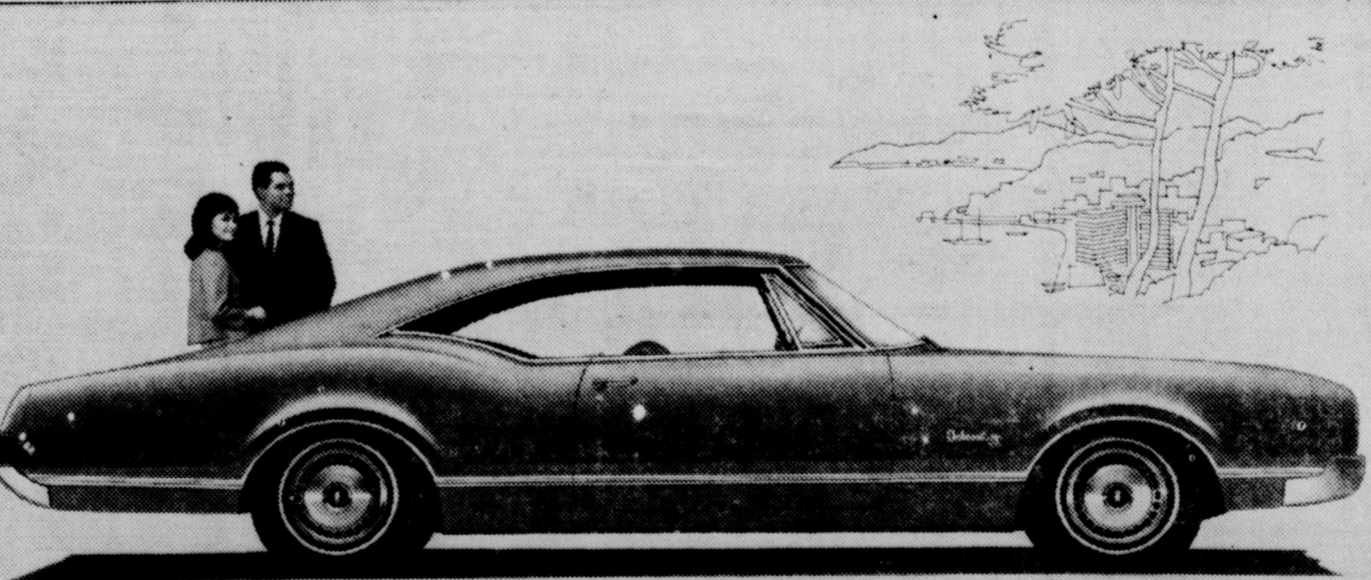

It was suggested that, in view of the predominantly heavier toll among youngsters, they be provided with adult supervision in handling firearms.

Cattle Outlook Continues Good

Texas cattle prices will remain favorable for the remainder of 1966 and into 1967, especially for the efficient producer, a Texas A&M University agricultural economist, predicted this week.

John G. McHaney, extension economist, said continued strength in the general economy would insure an increasing price trend for beef cattle, beginning very late in 1966. All of 1967, he added, should be favorable if the economy continues to grow and range conditions remain good.

McHaney said feed lot operators at the present were more reluctant than usual to bid up feeder cattle prices. Their feed costs are rising and will be higher in the months ahead than in the first half of 1966 and fed cattle prices have declined to narrow their margins, he said. But, taking all factors into consideration, feeder prices are expected to remain near current levels which are much better than for the same period a year ago.

As for fed cattle prices, he said they should hold during the October-December period to average near the year-ago levels. Marketings of fed cattle are expected to continue large, but the increase over a year ago probably will be less than that which took place in the summer of 1966.

Downward price pressure can develop if range conditions over the nation deteriorate; thus, forcing large movements of grass cattle to slaughter at a time when fed cattle marketings are already heavy. Too, feeding to heavier weights could put continued pressure on fed cattle prices during the rest of the year.

Another factor influencing fed beef prices will be the increase in the pork supply for the remainder of the year. Pork production later in the year will be well above a year ago and poultry supplies are expected to continue above year-earlier levels, the economist said. Increased supplies of these two meat sources will tend to keep pressure on fed beef prices, concluded McHaney.

Pronghorns Tussle in Permian Basin

Two exhausted pronghorn antelope bucks were found north of Plains, Texas, with locked horns, reports Game Warden Larry Rider. He said the two large bucks had engaged in a tussle over the favors of some doe antelope.

The curved horn tip of one large buck was firmly hooked under the chin of the other.

Game Warden Rider and a helper managed to separate the two antelope without injury to either animal.

Truscott H. D. Club

Cleaning photographs and tinting photographs was the subject of a program presented by Mrs. R. C. Daniel to members of the Truscott Home Demonstration Club at a meeting in the club room Thursday, October 6. She said photographs, colored or black and white, can be cleaned with a piece of cotton dipped into turpentine, then rubbed lightly over the picture. The cotton should be arranged with the torn edge inside so as not to leave tint on the picture. Old photographs can be given a new look by rubbing the front and back of the picture with a recipe of one tablespoon of unflavored gelatin melted in one cup of water. The water-gelatin mixture should be stirred over heat until just warm enough to dissolve the gelatin.

Mrs. Daniel described techniques and materials used in tinting photographs and displayed several she had done.

The program was concluded with reading and discussion of the proposed amendments to the state constitution by Mrs. J. G. Adeock, Mrs. Bill Dodd and Mrs. Jack W. Brown. Eight were present for the meeting at which the secretary, Mrs. Adeock, presided in the absence of the president and vice president. Mrs. J. R. Brown gave the devotional from John 1, 1-5, and read "Why I Know the Bible Is the Word of God." Mrs. Brown read a letter from the Wilbarger Chapter of the American Red Cross thanking the club for its help in providing Christmas gifts for American servicemen in Viet Nam.

The club heard the council report by Mrs. H. P. Gillespie and voted to suggest that the Council Christmas party be held without plans for any type of tour. The Truscott club also voted to suggest keeping the $35.00 rate allowed state delegates.

H. D. Council Meeting

Fifteen members and three visitors were present for the regular Home Demonstration Council meeting last week.

In giving the committee report, Mrs. L. G. Simmons announced that Rally Day would be Saturday, November 5, at the Youth Center.

Mrs. Elton Carroll, yearbook chairman, presented council with a dummy copy of next year's yearbook which council approved.

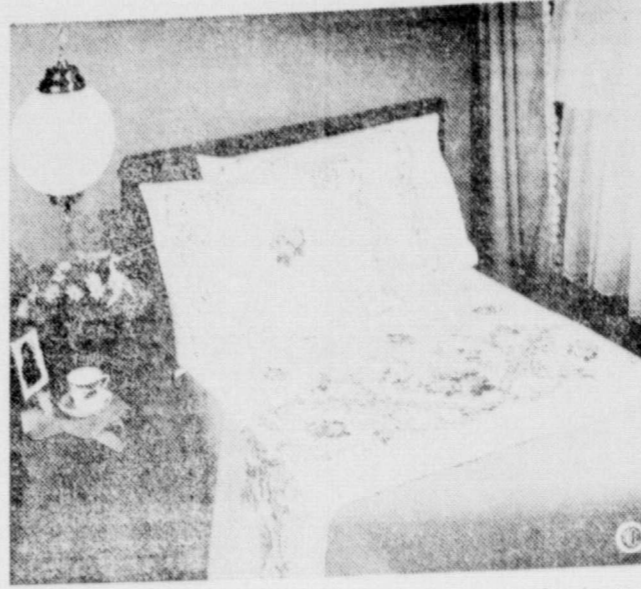

Mrs. Clarence Garrett, Mrs. Allen Shultz and Mrs. Walter Thompson reported on the state Home Demonstration convention.

Council voted to let each club participate in the beautification of the city park as they desired.

Council elected officers for 1967: chairman, Mrs. Homer Ketchesid; vice chairman, Mrs. Elton Carroll; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Bob Thomas.

West Side H. D. Club

Mrs. L. G. Simmons was hostess for a meeting of the West Side Home Demonstration Club Tuesday, Oct. 11. Mrs. E. H. Shrode presided at the business session which opened with a read-

From the News

THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, October 15, 1936, issue of The Foard County News:

The razing of the old grammar school building is well under way with most of the government laborers now employed in tearing off the roof. Others are cleaning the bricks and preparing the usable materials of the old building for use in the new building which is to be built east of the Crowell High School building.

Confident but not cheery after a 25 to 6 victory over the Iowa Park Hawks here Friday night, the Crowell High School Wildcat grid machine will enter its game with the Chillicothe Eagles Friday night in its best mental condition of the year.

The campaign battleground in the president and vice presidential race as it stands today in the United States favors Roosevelt and Garner with 229 "sure" electoral votes, according to a current poll taken by the American Institute of Public Opinion. Landon has 36 "sure" electoral votes and 226 are "borderline" votes.

The Crowell chapter of the Future Farmers of America was organized Tuesday with members of the Vocational Agriculture classes of Crowell High School enrolled in it. Walker Todd is head of the agricultural department. Officers chosen by the group are Marion Benham, president; Garrett Middlebrook, vice president; Jim Whitfield, secretary; Glen Shock, treasurer; William Simmons, parliamentarian; Hughes Fish, reporter; Buster Davidson, watch dog; John Bowley, song leader; Franklin Evans, historian; and Raymond Joy, band leader.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. George C. Fox, of Crowell, a son, Ronald D., October 8.

Jack Thomas is employed as clerk in the Crowell post office, following the resignation of Gordon Cooper, former assistant postmaster.

A. R. Sanders, Leo Spencer and T. P. Reeder are in charge of a drive started this week to obtain Foard County's contribution to the national Democratic party fund to be used in the party's expenses in its attempt to re-elect President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Vice President John Nance Garner.

John Cogdell, who is a freshman at Texas Tech in Lubbock, spent the week end at home.

Harry Traweek of Truscott spent Saturday night with his brother, Rex Traweek, and family of Good Creek.

A total of 473 bales of cotton were ginned in Foard County from the 1936 crop prior to October 1.

The Juniorette Adelpian Club met on Friday in the home of Mrs. T. S. Haney.

Tax Man Sam Sez

Internal Revenue Service's conversion to computer processing of tax returns has created many problems. Letters flow into the Internal Revenue Service offices saying: "Dear Computer: You made an error," or "Here's what I meant." The good tax folks insist that the humans in Internal Revenue will correct any errors or mixups with the computer. They say that you are not dealing with a machine, but when the machine makes an error they have competent personnel that will correct the errors or explain to you where you made an error. If you have a tax problem, talk it over with the humans. Maybe they can make the computer understand.

Should Do Their Job

"We don't happen to think the average taxpayer can stand another increase in taxes. And he wouldn't have to if our men in Washington would quit playing footsie with each other and do the job they are sent there to do."—Providence, Ky., Journal-Enterprise.
