WILDCATS WIN OVER PADUCAH DRAGONS 22-0

Crowell High School football continued its winning streak by racking up its fourth win of the season last night in defeating the Paducah Dragons 22-0.

The Wildcats won the toss, and Mike took the opening kickoff from a 5-yard line, cut up the field, broke out into the open and scored on a 20-yard pass to a defender. Don then screened off one, and hit Payne with a tackle. The runner stumbled on into the end zone for a touchdown on the opening kickoff. The run covered 45 yards. Ronnie Eavenson scampered around his own right for 15 yards. The Wildcats recovered a fumble on the Drag-Payne, Eavenson and Lee drove to the Paducah 21 yard line. Eavenson took a run wide to the sideline, made his cut and went all the way for the TD, shedding would-be tacklers on the way. Payne ran his own left end unmolested for 2 points with 9:17 left in the first half.

In the last half, the Wildcats displayed their terrific defense, allowing no first downs to the Dragons, while the Dragons stopped the Wildcats once on the Paducah 7-yard line in the third quarter.

About the middle of the fourth quarter, Looney punted into the Paducah end zone for a touch-back. The Dragons, from their own 20, tried a double-reverse pass with Danny Walling throwing the ball. It dropped off short and George Myers intercepted and returned to the Paducah 25-yard line. Two consecutive 15-yard penalties were called against the Wildcats, which left the Cats with first down and needing 28 yards. Eavenson, showing fantastic balance, carried all the way to the Dragon 18-yard line, and Payne then carried on a fine run to the 9 for a first-and-goal situation. Eavenson then started around his right end, cut back to the inside, and banged into the end zone for another Crowell touchdown with 8:16 remaining in the game. Payne's kick for extra point was wide.

Crowell's line play from end to end was great, with Steve Bell's play outstanding.

Inheritance Tax

"One tax that completely startled this writer and it takes some doing to do this, is the so-called 'inheritance tax' . . . My mother, for example, after working side by side with dad, now has to pay taxes (on which taxes have already been paid) as 'inheritance'! Government officials move in . . . tie up bank accounts, anything they can get their hands on. We call it downright 'thievery' . . . We aren't saying anything about passing it on to children who have never really earned it, but for husband-wife routine . . . that's robbery as such as a bank robber comes into your bank!" — Elk Grove, Calif., Citizen.

Cut Food Costs with Plentiful

To help offset rising food costs, plan more of your menus around items slightly lower or about the same in price as this time last year.

The half-dozen foods tagged plentiful this November by the U. S. Department of Agriculture show up well under such price comparisons, points out the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

These plentifuls include the traditional favorites of the season—turkey, pork, pears, grapes, raisins and dry beans.

Farm prices of turkeys and hogs have been running slightly below a year ago, according to market reports of USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Turkey production hit a record high for the fourth consecutive year and is up about 11 million birds from last year.

Pork production is increasing more than it usually does in the fall, reflecting the 10 per cent larger spring pig crop now coming to market.

About 47 per cent more pears were produced than last year, and 22 per cent more dry beans. Fresh grapes and raisins are a fifth above average output.

Learn how to stretch your food dollars by shopping for seasonally plentiful foods.

Now is a good time for you to look at your 1966 income tax situation. The good tax folks point out that some wage earners may still owe additional tax, especially those who have income other than their wages.

If you owe additional tax and have not filed an estimated tax return, it is not too late to have your employer take out additional

Household Worker Reports Are Due

If you paid a household worker $50 or more during July, August and September, a social security tax report is due before the end of October, social security district manager, Edwin Draughon, reminded area residents this week.

Maids, cooks, housekeepers, handymen, regular babysitters and other household employees are by law covered under social security. Persons who employ such a worker and pay him over $50 in a three-month quarter must file a tax report and pay social security taxes for him.

The employer is responsible for paying to the Internal Revenue Service both the 4.2 per cent deducted from all earnings of the worker and the matching 4.2 per cent paid by the employer. Tax reports for the last quarter must be sent in before October 31.

Mr. Draughon stressed the importance to the worker of filing the returns. The reports give the worker credit under social security which he must have to receive social security retirement benefits in old age or disability payments if he is disabled and unable to work. Now with the new medicare program, filing is even more important.

Beginning in 1968, workers must have some coverage under social security to be eligible for hospital and medical insurance protection when they reach 65.

The tax is due on all cash payment including carfares and other expenses made to any employee who makes over $50 in a quarter. Mr. Draughon said that a simple envelope form 942 is available at social security or Internal Revenue Service offices for reporting the earnings and reminded residents that they could be penalized for late reports.

CROP AND LIVESTOCK REPORTING SERVICE CELEBRATES 100 YEARS OF CONTINUOUS REPORTS

Cary D. Palmer, Agricultural Statistician in Charge of the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin, reads a proclamation from Governor John Connally, designating 1966 as Crop Reporting Centennial Year in Texas. Accurate and timely statistics of agriculture help Texas farmers and agri-businessmen make intelligent production and marketing decisions.

Over a century ago, farmers began to realize that they were at a disadvantage when bargaining because they knew little about crop and livestock supplies outside their area. They asked the government for help and a system of crop reporting was begun to fill this need. This year marks the 100th anniversary of continuous reporting of acreage, yield and production for the United States.

Cary Palmer says that the crop reporting system of collecting agricultural statistics relies heavily on some 40,000 farmers and agri-businessmen. Their voluntary reports month after month and year after year have an important role in providing Texas agricultural statistics and make the American farmer the best informed of any in the world.

One hundred years of voluntary reports is an achievement from which all America has benefited.

Aqua Buffs' Laxity Hit by Tickets

Enforcement follow through after a prolonged water sports safety educational campaign is reflected in the monthly Texas Parks and Wildlife Department arrest report.

Game wardens, designated by the State Legislature to help patrol Texas waters, wrote a record number of tickets, including 120 for lacking life jackets.

When the Department undertook patrol duties, it instructed wardens to carry a well stocked supply of literature bearing on safety, and above all, on actual requirements under the new law. Late in the summer, after distributing thousands of pamphlets and issuing countless warning notices, the field men were instructed to begin citing violators.

Here's the combined September docket: failure to have a life jacket for each person in boat, 120; operating a boat without registration, 10; no rear-view mirror, 10; operating motor boat without number displayed, 6; operating motorboat without proper lights, 4; operating motorboat in swimming area, 3; driving a boat recklessly or at high rate of speed, 1; no fire extinguisher, 1; total 155.

In other enforcement areas, the no-fishing license bracket began feeling pressure from fall hunting hordes. There were 227 citations for lacking fishing licenses and more than 150 involving the dove hunting season. Major items in the hunting category were:

Refusing to show hunting license, 31; unplugged gun, 30; discharging firearm on public road, 30; killing doves in closed season, 27; exceeding bag limit on doves, 17.

Three persons were charged with shooting doves with an illegal weapon. Rifles may not be used for this purpose.

Two Minutes With the Bible

Grace and Peace

For many years this writer, along with the mass of church people, supposed that the Bible phrase "Grace and Peace be unto you" was simply a beautiful, spiritual salutation. Thank God we have come to learn that it is much more than a salutation. It is an official proclamation.

Every single one of the epistles signed by St. Paul opens with the declaration: "Grace be unto you and peace, from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ." This was the theme of the message which he, as a duly appointed ambassador, had been sent to proclaim.

To appreciate this fully, we must remember that God had declared in prophecy that He would reply to the world's rejection of Christ with judgment. Psa. 110:1 pictures that Father saying to the Son: "Sit Thou at My right hand, until I make Thine enemies Thy footstool." Psa. 2:5 declares: "then shall He (the Father) speak unto them in His wrath, and vex them in His sore displeasure." After the crucifixion and ascension of Christ it seemed that all was ready for the judgment to fall. As the signs of Pentecost appeared Peter declared: "This is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel" (Acts 2:16) and it did indeed look as if the rejected Lord was about to return "to judge and make war," as Rev. 19:11 puts it.

But now, instead of judgment and war, St. Paul proclaims grace and peace. Does this not indicate that in grace God interrupted the prophetic program to bring in the present dispensation when God's ambassadors proclaim with Paul: "But where sin abounded, grace did much more abound; that as sin hath reigned . . . so might grace reign" (Rom. 5:20,21). Indeed, Paul the former persecutor was himself the living demonstration of God's grace to a Christ-rejecting world. In 1 Tim. 1:15,16, he declares: "This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief."

"Howbeit, for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might show forth all longsuffering, for a pattern to them which should hereafter believe on Him to life everlasting."

Three Steps Required in Stopping a Car

"The driver who thinks he can stop on a dime and that the cars behind him can do the same should reflect that three steps are required in stopping a car," Michael G. Birmingham of the Greater New York Safety Council declared . . . "First is perception of the situation ahead, a recognition of a hazard. Second is reaction. The third factor is braking. The car doing 60 may travel 300 feet more—the length of a football field—to come to a stop." —La Grange, Texas, Journal.

Drownings Top '65 by 21 Already

The Texas water recreational toll for this year has reached 221, or 21 deaths more than the entire 1965 season, as recorded by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Seven previously unreported drownings provided the grim boost. The last four victims perished while lacking life belts.

Three of the four were fishing. One man fell into the Trinity River near Palestine. A man and a boy drowned in a private lake near Huntsville. The lad apparently fell into the water and the man succumbed while trying to save him.

The only fatality associated with boating occurred on Lake Texoma when a man, with a skin diving party, drowned when the boat broke up and sank.

Meanwhile, hunting fatalities total twelve to date, just nine short of the entire 1965 fall hunting season toll of twenty-one, with the major hunting period still ahead.

All three hunting victims were killed by guns in the hands of a companion.

All but one victim of the previous nine gun fatalities had been youngsters, but only one of the latest trio involved a teen-ager. He was a 14-year-old Athens youth struck in the head with a charge from a .410 gauge shotgun.

A 22-year-old Corpus Christi man was struck in the chest by a charge from a .12 gauge shotgun held by a companion while hunting birds.

A strange accident took the life of a Cameron man. He was exchanging rifles with a companion when one gun fired, striking the victim in the heart.

One fatality, not counted in the hunting total, was a 47-year-old Guy man who died of a heart attack while hunting squirrels with a ten-year-old son.

Horse Sale Adds $4,234 to West Texas Rehabilitation Center

Another $4,234 has been added to the operational funds of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, thanks to the annual horse sale phase of the Cattleman's Round-Up for Crippled Children.

The amount is more than double what the 1965 horse sale raised.

A total of 53 horses and one goat went to the auction block last week at the Abilene Livestock Auction Co. Top selling horse of the sale was "Bill Hemphill," a quarter horse donated by W. F. Martin of Hamlin. Guy Caldwell of Abilene paid $375 for the animal. "David's Scotter," a grandson of "Scooter S" and donated by David K. Danciger of Midlothian, was bought by Joe A. Mize, also of Midlothian, for $235.

The three phases of the Round-Up—cattle, sheep and goat, and horse sales—have raised $85,740 for the Center, and still another phase is planned.

On Nov. 19, a "country-store-type" sale will be held in Old Abilene Town. Featured will be quilts, farm implements, "and a little bit of everything," said Shelley Y. Smith, WTRC executive director.

The Round-Up provides about one-third of the operational funds for the non-profit Center, which provides free treatment to 1,618 patients. Most of the operating expenses come from United Funds and memorial contributions.

In Russia advertising would never tempt you to invest in a new car, a television, a washing machine, air conditioning... or even a new home that you didn't have to share with several other families. Neither would you have the freedom to choose from countless other products, services and opportunities which advertising brings to your attention every day in America.

In countries where advertising is unshackled and well developed the people enjoy the highest standards of living. In Communist countries, where advertising has been stifled or outlawed, ordinary citizens must be satisfied with the barest necessities. And not even the privileged party leaders enjoy the luxuries advertising helps put in the reach of nearly everyone in America.

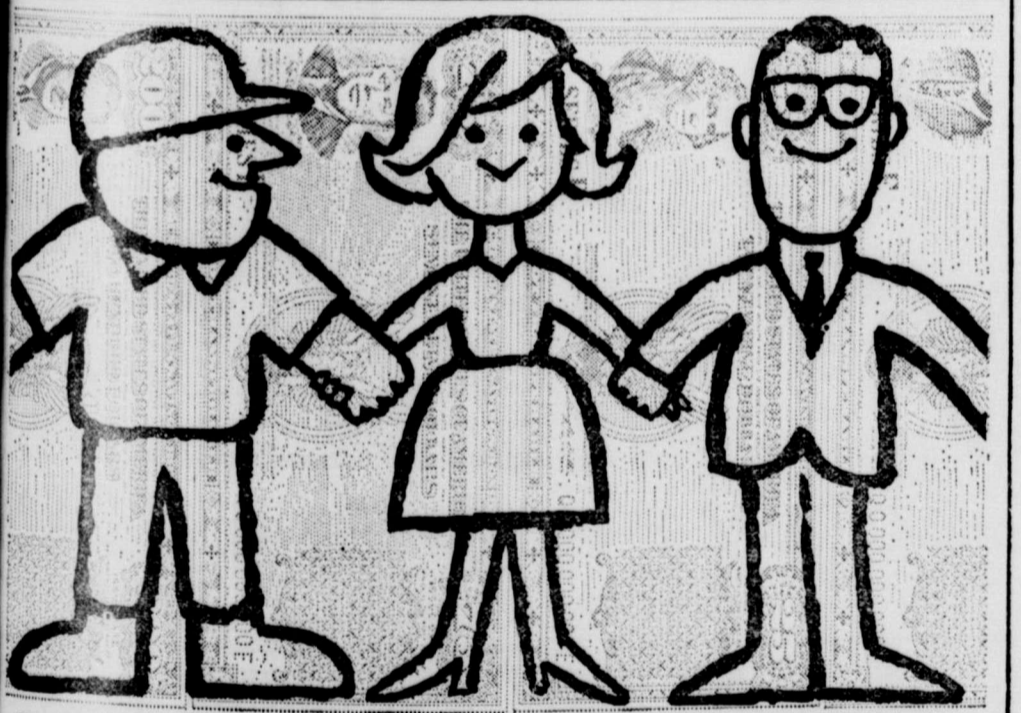

When you hear the do-gooders discredit advertising, calling it an evil force that entices you to spend your money foolishly, ask yourself this question, "How would I like to live in a country where there is no advertising?"

The Adelpian and Sub-Junior Adelpian Clubs were hostesses to the members of the Foard County Federation at a tea last Wednesday at their club house honoring Mrs. Roy Grundy of Matador, president of the Santa Rosa District of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, who was also the guest speaker. An arrangement of apricot dahlias accented by gold leaves and apricot candles, enhanced one end of the table, with a crystal punch bowl with apricot punch at the other. W. S. C. S. to Observe Special Day Friday

One of the most important annual observances of Methodist women throughout the United States will be held by the Woman's Society of Christian Service Friday, October 28, in the Crowell Methodist Church.

"A Call to Prayer and Self-Denial," this observance constitutes the program meeting for interpretation of mission projects.

"These My Brethren," is the challenging theme. Taken from Matthew 25:40, the call this year emphasizes brotherhood in mission work to which a special offering will be given, the quiet day service of prayer, meditation, and a silent meal.

Beginning at 11 in the morning, the women will gather together for this day of prayer and renewal. Every member is urged to come, and to bring a covered dish, joining in Christian fellowship following the meeting. It is hoped that the majority of the women will respond by participating in this yearly event.

From the News THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, Oct. 22, 1936, issue of The Foard County News:

A 2,400-pound monument made of gray Texas granite, marking the old town site of Margaret, formerly known as Pease, was erected Tuesday in the northwest corner of the Jim Sam Smith farm east and north of the present town site of Margaret. Another marker in tribute to Cynthia Ann Parker, a character famous to this section of the state, is to be erected today. J. W. Rice, field representative of the Texas Centennial Commission, made the locations for the two monuments last Thursday. He was assisted by Mrs. N. J. Roberts, Foard County Centennial Chairman, J. R. Beverly and Clarence Thompson.

Truscett public schools dismissed Tuesday and Wednesday of this week and the pupils and teachers attended the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas. All students who attended were not counted absent from school. Many of them went by bus to Dallas and others rode a special train from Seymour which carried pupils of the scholastic age from Baylor, Knox and Haskell counties.

Twenty-eight hundred minnows were placed in the Crowell City Lake Thursday of last week to restock it with fish. Bass, channel cat, bream, goggle-eyed perch and crappie minnows were placed in the lake under the supervision of Crutcher Cole, game warden.

About five gallons of pure gasoline were drawn from an old water well located about 20 feet south of Speer's Blacksmith Shop Saturday when it was uncovered after being abandoned ten years ago. The most plausible explanation as to how the gasoline got in the well is that it seeped into the well after leaking from underground gasoline tanks at a nearby service station. The well was dug many years ago by the late C. B. Garlinghouse, one of the county's first settlers.

The Crowell High School Wildcats nosed out the Chillicothe Eagles 7 to 6 here last Friday night to keep their 10-B conference record clean.

Bananas Are Reasonable Buys

The banana is probably one of the oldest fruits known to man, says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, extension consumer marketing specialist at Texas A&M University. It is a native of India.

The people of the United States import more bananas than any other country—almost 3.5 billion pounds annually. An average person eats about 17 pounds per year.

Banana stems haven't hung in a grocery store for quite a number of years. Growers discovered that bananas were more easily handled if they were cut in "hands" and 40 pounds packed in a special carton. Leaving that big banana stem back in Central America cuts down on the shipping weight. The bananas reach the markets in better condition, thus cutting down on waste. Bananas now cost less per pound in the markets than they did ten years ago.

Vegetable counters are well stocked although none are exceptionally abundant. Carrots, soft and hard shell squash, green peppers, sweet potatoes and dry onions are among more attractively priced items.

Fresh pork prices are a bit lower as supplies increase. Boston butt roasts, and shoulder steaks are good values. Attractive prices will be seen on some brands of bacon and sausage.

Features in the beef department include some of the popular steak cuts, boneless and chuck roasts. Ground beef, very versatile, is a good value.

Fryer chickens continue to be an excellent value. Turkey roasts, turkey rolls or turkey parts are excellent for menu variety.

If you need to stretch your milk money, do it by purchasing non-fat dry milk and evaporated milk to supplement the whole milk for your family. Remember that skim milk and buttermilk are lower in price than whole milk, and both can be a pleasant change.

Riverside H. D. Club

Six members of the Riverside Home Demonstration Club and one new member spent an enjoyable afternoon Tuesday, Oct. 18 in the home of Mrs. Roy Ayers where there was a display of hand-made articles. The items ranged from kitchen aprons to hats, from felt Christmas stockings for the grandchildren to needlepoint pictures and other wall decorations. All of the things exhibited were suitable for gifts.

Next meeting will be on Nov. 1 with Mrs. Otto Bachman Jr., at which time final plans for the club's participation in rally day will be made.

During the social hour, the hostess served a delicious refreshment plate.
