Area Senators and Representatives to Meet Area Residents

State senators and representatives from the West Texas area will meet Tuesday morning, Feb. 28, at a legislative breakfast sponsored by District III of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Beverly King of Graham, district vice president, will preside at the meeting. Counties making up the district are Young, Archer, Wichita, Clay, Wilbarger, Baylor, Throckmorton, Haskell, Knox, Foard, Hardeman, Childress, Cottle, King and Stonewall.

The purposes of the breakfast include a discussion by business leaders and the legislators of problems confronting the area. Legislators will give their appraisals of pending and prospective legislation during the meeting.

Senator Jack Hightower of Vernon and Rep. W. S. Healy of Paducah will be among the legislators attending.

Senator Jack Hightower's proposed permissive tax bill for cities and towns won committee approval last week and was sent to the Senate floor for action.

The bill, co-sponsored with Senator Joe Christie, was approved 10-1 in the Committee on Counties, Cities and Towns.

Under the proposal, cities and towns would be authorized to submit to their voters a proposal for a one per cent sales tax. The tax would go into effect only with the voters' approval.

"I am aware that should this bill be passed by the legislature, all of the cities and towns of the state will not secure benefits," Senator Hightower said. "Some will pass the required ordinance but others will be unable or unwilling to do so."

"I wish that we could find a way to relieve the economic distress of all the municipalities. This proposal, however, may make some relief possible."

After carefully filling out application cards, landowners should mail them directly to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan Building, Austin, Texas 78701.

Local wardens will verify requests for fish and the landowner or his agent will be notified by the distributing hatchery superintendent when and where fish will be delivered.

Class Panics; Dito Hunter

A duck hunter will buy the standard assertion that "one never knows."

He was pushing a boat over a floating log to set out some decoys on Lake Proctor near Dublin when a three pound black bass jumped into the rig.

The hunter also was excited. He just said he was plain "Mr. Wheeler from Fort Worth."

Work Affects Social Security Payments

Edwin Draughon, social security manager in Vernon, noted this week that the 1965 amendments to the social security law liberalized the conditions under which benefits are paid to people who continue working after age 65.

"Here are the new rules for taxable years after 1965," Mr. Draughon said:

If you earn $1500 or less in a year, you get all the benefits.

If you earn more than $1500 in a year while you are under 72, the general rule is that $1 in benefits to you (and your family) will be withheld for each $2 you earn from $1500 to $2700. In addition, $1 in benefits will be withheld for each $1 of earnings over $2700.

"There is an exception," Mr. Draughon explained. "Regardless of total earnings in a year, benefits are payable for any month in which you neither earn wages of more than $125 nor perform substantial services in self-employment. Benefits are also payable for all months in which you are 72 or older, regardless of the amount of your earnings in months after you reach 72."

According to Mr. Draughon, the decision as to whether you are performing substantial services depends on the time you devote to your business, the kind of services you perform, how services compare with those you performed in past years, and other circumstances of your particular case.

Mr. Draughon added that earnings from work of any kind, whether or not covered by social security, must be counted (except tips of less than $20 a month with any one employer.) This means total wages (not just take-home pay) and all net earnings from self-employment must be added together in figuring your earnings for the year. Incomes from savings, investments, pensions, insurance and certain royalties received after age 65 are not counted.

Mr. Draughon stated that for more information about how working after applying for benefits affects your retirement or survivors insurance payments, you should ask your local social security office for Booklet No. 23. The social security office at 1728 Fannin Street in Vernon will be glad to send you one of these booklets free.

State Highway Dept. Releases 1967 Official Texas Map

Six new public lakes, 819 miles of new highways and 18 new safety rest areas make their appearance for the first time on the Texas Highway Department's colorful 1967 Official State Highway Map.

Before the year is out, about one million copies of the map will be distributed throughout the world, inviting Texan and out-of-state visitor alike to "Discover Texas, America's Fun-tier."

All the new lakes are accessible to the public via the 67-thousand-mile Texas Highway System. Largest of the new reservoirs is Lake Meredith on the Canadian River in the Panhandle. Others are Lake Arrowhead, Fin Creek Reservoir, White River Lake, Bardwell and Somerville Reservoirs.

The new map shows 115 additional miles of interstate highways, added since last year. More than 1,700 miles of these superb new highways are in service now.

The 1967 Official State Highway Map also delineates approximately 704 miles of new farm to market roads. Many of these provide the visitor with access to recreational areas throughout the state, as well as serving agriculture and industry.

Eighteen additional safety rest areas are shown on the map for the first time. More than 1,100 safety rest areas, scenic turnouts and roadside parks now enhance the safety and convenience of Texas highways.

The 1967 official state highway map is but one of a variety of services provided for the convenience of the traveler by the Texas Highway Department.

Through its Travel and Information Division, the Texas Highway Department assists nearly three-quarters of a million visitors each year in eight tourist information bureaus located at key highway gateways and in the rotunda of the State Capitol in Austin. Additionally, the department answers more than 261 thousand inquiries annually, furnishing information and descriptive literature about Texas.

Texas motorists may order the new map when registering motor vehicles during February and March. County tax officers have been provided with supplies of special order cards. Copies of the map also may be ordered directly, sending name, address and zip code to Texas Highway Department, Box 5064, Austin, Texas 78703.

Deductible Items Named by I. R. S.

Dallas, Texas—Union dues, employment agency fees, alimony and certain other expenses may be included among itemized deductions on Federal tax returns, said Ellis Campbell Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for northern Texas.

Also deductible are ordinary and necessary expenses in connection with the production or collection of taxable income and the management of property held for the production of taxable income. This includes amounts spent for a safe deposit box for taxable securities, investment counsel fees, income tax counsel and assistance fees, custodian fees, clerical help, appraisal fees for establishing amount of casualty loss, etc.

Divorced or legally separated taxpayers making periodic payments of alimony or separate maintenance under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance, or under a written separation agreement entered into after August 13, 1954, or under a decree for support entered after March 1, 1954, may deduct such payments.

A partial list of additional items of expense which are considered personal and therefore not deductible are: travel to and from work; losses from sale of personal residence, family auto, etc.; home repairs and insurance; attorney fees for preparation of a will; safe deposit box for personal effects; fines and tax penalties.

Documents 5109 and 5110, which furnish more detailed information on this subject, may be obtained by dropping a post card to the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, 1600 Patterson Street, Dallas, Texas 75201.

Boat Buffs Get Patrol by Wardens

Occasional periods of warm weather, stimulating fishermen and other aquatic enthusiasts, has prompted the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to caution against repetition of tragedies that caused at least 236 water recreational deaths last year.

Meanwhile, the department's warden patrol force is being geared for its seasonal responsibilities under the new state safety code and to help water buffs to have maximum fun with minimum risks.

Analysis of 1966 accident reports reflects positive benefits for the department's lake patrols, in that only a comparative few mishaps were traced to skiing, speed and the other action sports.

One of the major causes—accidents while fishing—became evident early last spring. It applied mainly to fishing from a boat.

The other leading risk—is fact, the principal reason water deaths as unofficially totaled by the department increased by 36 over 1965—will not develop until summer because it concerns swimming.

Fishing hazards are a chronic

At It Again!

"The Office of Economic Opportunity is at it again. They're thinking of starting a newspaper in Vermont to 'open up the lines of communication' to poor people . . . The Cardozo project, similar to that being planned for Vermont, was shot down because it was not considered 'sufficiently innovative to comply for a demonstration grant' and OEO noted 'a serious doubt as to the propriety of federal funding of a commercial newspaper' . . . The government has no business in the newspaper business. The constitution of the United States guarantees the people of this nation a 'free press' and this does not mean government subsidized or government controlled."—Neola, Iowa, Gazette-Reporter.

Local Officials Attend Cancer Crusade Briefing

Mrs. Henry Borchardt, Mrs. Gordon Cooper, Mrs. Glenn Hallsell and Mrs. Leon Speer have returned from the 1967 Cancer Crusade Briefing session of District 35, held in Lubbock Feb. 15.

Leaders of the Crusade against Cancer of the American Cancer Society in Foard County unit participated in a day-long session to evaluate past successes and to chart the future of the statewide campaign, which will culminate in the house-to-house drive April 18.

New aspects of the Crusade were emphasized by Dr. Carl F. Page of Lubbock, who discussed the health education survey to be conducted by volunteers during the residential crusade. This survey, first planned and carried out in Texas, seeks to discover from householders what information they have learned about cancer's warning signals, and what they have done about their health in the past year. Answers to the confidential survey will be used to plan more effective public education programs in Texas in the coming year. Dr. Warren Poole emphasized that, in spite of enormous progress made in detection and treatment of cancer, over 90,000 Americans will die needlessly of the disease, because they did not see their doctors in time.

The 1967 Crusade, led in Texas by Ben Barnes, has as its goal two million dollars. Two million also equals the number of Texans now living who will have cancer unless present trends are changed. The two million goal—dollars to raise, lives to save—will result in 31 per cent of the American Cancer Society's funds raised in Texas being spent in research and related programs, and 28 per cent spent in public education programs. An additional 14 per cent will be used in professional education, reaching physicians and nurses with up-to-date methods in cancer treatment, and 13 per cent will be spent in services to cancer patients and rehabilitation services.

A meeting on physical fitness will be held March 29, place to be decided later. Refreshments were served. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Milton Hunter on March 17. The club will plan its own program.

Don't Drown Your House Plants

Probably more home plant failures are caused by improper watering techniques than any other factor, according to Everett Janne, landscape horticulturist with Texas A&M University. This is especially true during the winter months when plant growth is very slow because of the low light intensities. We frequently get impatient and apply additional water and fertilizer to make the plant grow large and healthy, says Janne. Actually, during periods of low light intensity the plant is producing very little food and as a consequence cannot grow rapidly.

The worst thing to do is to over-water during periods of slow growth. Plant roots must have air as well as water. If the soil is saturated with water, little or no oxygen can reach the roots. This results in loss of the small feeder roots and eventually the death of the plant.

Never water plants by rule of thumb, says Janne. Once the soil is thoroughly moistened, water them only when they need it. In watering house plants, supply sufficient water so that it runs through the potting soil into the saucer below. Always discard the excess water from the saucer. This prevents the accumulation of soluble salts in the potting soil.

With a little experience, you can determine the moisture content of the soil from its color and feel. Plants in a cold room need less water than those in a warm, dry atmosphere. Flowering plants and those with much foliage require more water than those without blooms or with very little foliage.

If your house plants are not growing properly, it is probably due to low light intensity rather than the lack of water or fertilizer.

Carried to Absurd

"The courts have been greatly concerned with justice for criminals of late, and as long as this does not extend into the ridiculous most citizens will agree such considerations are appropriate. But in the minds of many law officials and editors, the process has been carried to the absurd. Too many instances are occurring when confessed murderers are set free (often to commit another crime) because of tech-

Highway Dept. Film to Be Shown in Crowell Mar

"Texas—Land of Color" the color motion picture produced by the Texas Highway Department, will be shown on March 24 at the Columbian Club of Crowell.

The film, which is the first of a planned series of travel films on Texas, covers a variety of the top scenic attractions in the state. The film series will add to the Texas Highway Department's continuing promotion program which includes production of the official highway map, literature, brochures, and the operation of tourist bureaus.

Designed to combat the "en image of Texas as a flat plain, the Texas Highway Department film devotes most of its minutes to presenting the beauty and recreational facilities available to the traveler. It is being shown in and throughout the United States and is being translated into foreign languages for screening in other countries.

The film was produced for the purpose of stimulating travel and within the State of Texas. It is available for free groupings from the Texas Highway Department, Travel and Information Division, Box 5664, Austin, Texas 78703, or from any of the 25 Texas Highway Department district offices.

Area Residents Invited to Home Garden Program

If you have problems in home garden production you are invited to attend a program to be given by Dr. John E. Larson, extension horticulturist, on March 1. The program will be held in the court house in Benjamin beginning at 10 a. m., S. C. Kinsey, Knox County Home Demonstration Agent, said in announcing the meeting.

Dr. Larson will explain and show slides of the plastic mulch-organic matter system which has been proving successful in moisture conservation with vegetable production.

Foard County residents are invited to attend.

Up Nearly $4 Billion

The United States Office of Education reports that federal contributions in grants to all levels of educational institutions increased from $2.3 billion in 1964 to $6.1 billion in the fiscal year 1966.

Local and Area Cotton Farmers to Get No Relief on New Skip-Row Policy

Under the formula used by the State ASC Committee, Wilbarger, Foard and Hardeman County farmers will receive none of the 20 million pounds of projected yield credit allotted to Texas to help offset inequities resulting from a new federal policy on figuring skip-row planting patterns in the Domestic Cotton Allotment program for 1967, Wilbarger authorities have reported.

Other counties in the general area not receiving any benefits from the relief program, initiated as a result of work by individual farmers, the Farmers Union and the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers Association, are Baylor, Wichita, Knox and Clay Counties.

Individual farmers may appeal to the state committee for relief, but little chance for success is seen.

Members of the Wilbarger Co. Committee said that the state committee, rather than taking a factor that would offer relief to all counties, chose to award the 20 million pounds to counties where producers had planted as much as 10 per cent of total acreage in skiprow patterns (involving fewer than four-row skips) in all the years from 1961 to 1965, and also to counties with as much as 25 per cent of the county acreage in such skiprow patterns in 1966.

Foard County lost eight pounds due to the skiprow factor, Hardeman three pounds and Wilbarger lost 31 pounds.

The Vernon group said these figures are being used to point out what appears, at least to farmers in the counties which got no relief, to be inequities in the formula used by the state committee.

Two Minutes With the Bible

Glorious Prospect

To the true Christian, one of the most wonderful passages in the whole Bible is Eph. 2:7, where we read of God's purpose.

"That in the ages to come He might show the exceeding riches of His grace in His kindness toward us through Christ Jesus."

This passage appears the more wonderful when viewed in the light of its context.

Verses 2-6 tell how we were all once the "children of disobedience," and therefore "by nature the children of wrath, even as others." But then we read those wonderful words of hope, "But God."

"But God, who is rich in mercy, because of His Great Love where-with He loved us . . ." And the next verses tell how He has taken believers in Christ from the lowest position of condemnation and wrath and given them the highest place of favor and blessing in Christ at His own right hand in the heavenlies.

The simplest, humblest believer in Christ as His Savior has been given this position in the heavenlies, for God no longer sees him in himself, but in Christ, who died for his sins. This is why St. Paul so often writes about "those who are in Christ Jesus."

It is for the believer now, to occupy this exalted position, to appropriate by faith the "all spiritual blessings" which are his in Christ (See Eph. 1:3). Like Paul, he may be gifted by grace, through faith, about the troubles and sorrows of "this present evil age" and enjoy his position and blessings in the heavenlies in Christ. And even this is not all, for looking far ahead to the future the Apostle, by divine revelation, goes on to say (in Eph. 2:7) that God has done this all for us, "that in the ages to come He might show the exceeding riches of His grace in His kindness toward us through Christ Jesus."

Have You Checked Lately on Your Social Security Account?

Have you checked up on your social security account lately? According to Edwin Draughon, Vernon social security manager, if you are one of the 9 out of 10 working Americans protected by social security, the Social Security Administration should have a record of all the earnings reported for you since 1937.

The social security record keeping system is simple: an individual record is kept for you under your social security number. When wage reports are received from your employer, the amount reported is added to your social security record. Since many people have identical names, both your name and social security number are needed to identify your earnings. This is why it is so important for you to show your employer your social security card rather than memorizing the number, Mr. Draughon emphasized.

At least every third year, you should ask for a statement of your social security account. This is especially true if you work for more than one employer during a year, Mr. Draughon added. In this way, you can compare social security records with your own. If they do not agree, you should notify the social security office at once.

To get a statement of your earnings, ask the social security office for post card form OAR-7004, which you can complete and mail to the Social Security Administration.

If you have any questions about your social security, contact the Vernon Social Security office at 1728 Fannin Street in Vernon. They are open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a. m. to 4:45 p. m. and on Saturday from 9 a. m. until 12 noon.

Week End Specials Do Save Money

Food shoppers! Do you take advantage of advertised week end food specials? If you can use them, they will definitely save you money.

For this week end, look for best beef values on chuck roasts and steaks, ground beef, stew meat and round steak, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, extension consumer marketing specialist.

Pork values include picnics, end-cut loin roasts, shoulder roasts and steaks, and pork liver. Fryers remain the number one bargain in most retail meat departments and grade A large eggs offer the greatest quality and economy combination.

Fresh fruit and vegetable items available at moderate prices include oranges, red grapefruit, apples, lemons, avocados, sweet potatoes, lettuce, celery, dry yellow onions, tomatoes, cauliflower and carrots. Cabbage supplies are less than usual at this season and prices are relatively high. Prices on red potatoes are up a bit, but are still a good choice.

There are about 325,800 gallons of water on one acre-foot of water.

Refuge for Spenders

The Nashville, Tennessee, Banner believes, "The term 'Gross National Product' has become a refuge for Washington spenders when they feel compelled to defend lavish expenditures beyond income . . . If a high 'Gross National Product' had been an economic Rock of Gibraltar, Germany would have been riding high when it took a bushel basketful of marks to buy a loaf of bread."
