WHEAT HARVEST TOTAL TOPS HALF MILLION BUSHELS

After showers and cloudy weather last week had stopped the Foard County wheat harvest until last Sunday, combines got back into the fields early Sunday afternoon, really got rolling the rest of the day and part of Sunday night.

The harvest, which had been stopped with 318,000 bushels delivered to the elevators, jumped by 180,000 bushels after Sunday's cutting.

This brought the total number of bushels delivered to the elevators up to 498,000 bushels, reports from the county's three elevators revealed shortly after noon Monday.

An elevator reported that with the wind that blew Sunday night, some of the combines sending wheat to that elevator cut until about 3 a. m. Monday.

A big rush of wheat was expected Monday afternoon and with continued fair weather, most of the wheat crop will be cut by the time of next week's edition.

Since the Thalia community received upwards of 3 inches of rain last week, some of the fields were not dry enough early this week to permit combines to get in the fields. This condition was not evident in most other sections of the county, which did not receive that much rain.

With a heavy run of trucks delivering wheat to the elevator Monday afternoon and night, the harvest total has far exceeded the Monday noon count of nearly a half million bushels, but due to the heavy rush on elevator office personnel, the News did not get a Tuesday report from the elevators.

Market price on wheat Monday afternoon was $1.84 bushel. A shortage of combines developed Monday and Tuesday, but by Wednesday morning, many of the machines were loaded up and ready to move on to other sections of the state.

Foard County Mill in Two-Game Lead in Little League

Due to Tuesday rains, only two Little League games were played last week, a week that saw Foard County Mill emerge victorious over Farmers Elevator in a Friday night game, thus giving the Cardinals a two-game lead over the second-place Yankees.

Cellar-dwelling V. F. W. defeated Crowell State Bank to throw those two teams into a tie, just three games out of first place.

Details of last week's games are as follows: Friday night, June 2, 7:30 p. m.: Foard County Mill 6, Farmers Elevator 5. The Cardinals squeezed out a close one, as each team was held to two hits, but was issued four straight walks.

Jackie Blackburn and Steve Setliff got the hits for Foard County Mill.

Rudy Rodriguez and Joe Chapman banged out a triple and a double, respectively, for the Yankees. This was a well-played, fast contest that went the full distance well before curfew time.

Friday, June 2, 9:30 p. m.: VFW 6, Crowell State Bank 1. Grover Reed, Veteran hurler, went the full game in this one and narrowly missed a shutout as he allowed no Brave hitter to reach first base in three innings and struck out thirteen men.

Four men hit safely off Reed: Don Ray Santos, David Fish, Danny Johnson and Adrian Martinez.

For VFW, Tim Daniels hit two-for-three; Lynn Nelson hit two-for-four; and Randy Reed banged out a base hit in the final frame.

Don Ray Santos pitched three shut-out innings for the Crowell State Bank crew.

In the PeeWee league on Thursday night, the Rattlesnakes beat the Tigers and the Bobcats beat the Leopards in two thrilling contests, with each game decided in the last half of the final inning.

The hail, which accompanied rains here Tuesday of last week, did extensive damage to the wheat crop, especially in the southeast part of the county and around Thalia.

The hail almost completely wiped out a number of fields, while damage of lesser extent covered a large area of that part of the county.

Young People Seek Work This Summer

The Youth Opportunity Campaign Fact Sheet says: "This summer, more young Americans will be searching for work than have ever searched for it before. It's expected that 400,000 more 16 to 21 year-olds will enter the job market than did last year, pushing the total in this age group seeking work to 12,714,000."

NEW FARM TO MARKET ROAD SCHEDULED TO BE CONSTRUCTED IN FOARD COUNTY

The Texas Highway Commission on June 2 approved development of 4.8 miles of Farm to Market Road in Foard County as part of the 1967 Texas Farm to Market program.

District Engineer V. J. McGee of the Texas Highway Department estimated cost of the work at $120,000.

The work will be under the supervision of Howard W. Bartney, resident engineer of Quanah.

The work authorized for this road is part of 949.3 miles of Texas farm and ranch to market roads earmarked for development under the new program.

The project authorized for Foard County extends from State 283, 5.0 miles north of U. S. 70, east to Farm to Market Road 98 at Margaret.

The program lists 228 projects in 166 counties. Estimated cost is $24.6 million.

New mileage included in the program totals 623 miles. Other mileage was previously designated or is being constructed in stages.

The additional mileage brings designated farm and ranch to market roads in Texas to 38.7 thousand miles. This is greater than the entire state-maintained highway mileage of many other states.

Plans call for an eventual FM-RM system of 50 thousand miles. Originally conceived to move agricultural products to market, the FM system has contributed both to the social and economic well-being of rural areas.

For example, 69 per cent of the new mileage included in the program is on school bus routes. Sixty-three per cent of the new mileage is along rural mail delivery routes.

According to the Texas Education Agency, 7,800 school buses travel almost 450 thousand miles daily to transport 473 thousand students to school and back home. Many of these students make all or part of their daily trips to school over FM roads.

It is estimated that rural mail carriers travel almost 50 thousand miles a day over FM roads.

Many new reservoirs and other recreational areas are located along the FM-RM system, bringing a new role for the network. The roads afford the recreational traveler an opportunity to get off the beaten track, while continuing to use a modern highway facility.

Cost of construction of FM roads has almost doubled in the last 15 years due to increased traffic and the necessity for designing facilities to accommodate heavier vehicles. Average maintenance costs have climbed more than 80 per cent in the same period.

LOCAL COLOR FOR SANTA ROSA—The Santa Rosa Palemino Club will provide incomparable "local color" for the 22nd annual Santa Rosa Roundup at Vernon June 7-10. The colorful mounted group, featuring perfectly matched paleminos and equipment, have headlined as special attractions many of the big city rodeos across the country. But they're nowhere more appreciated than at Vernon, where their precision drills have been an annual feature of the Santa Rosa Roundup, which was founded by the late E. Paul Waggoner. The proud non-professional group, riding with breath-taking precision that professionals could envy, has packed home over the years more first place trophies than it can find space in which to display them. Many other special attractions, in addition to the usual four nights of solid rodeo fare, are planned for this year's Roundup by general manager John Biggs.

Faith versus Presumption

The Word of God declares in Hebrews 11:6 that "Without faith it is impossible to please Him."

There is nothing that will haunt a man like the fear that God may be displeased with him, nor any joy comparable to the assurance that He is pleased. It is foolish, however, to suppose that we can please God with the things we think He desires. We must give Him what He says He desires. Thank God, it is not difficult to determine this, for He tells us again and again in His Word that it is faith He desires most of all. He wants us to trust Him, to take Him at His Word.

The Bible tells us at length how God loved us in spite of our sin and gave His blessed Son to die on Calvary's tree to clear our title to heaven but, alas, instead of taking Him at His Word, thousands turn away from His gracious offer, "going about to establish their own righteousness." They do "good works" and make great sacrifices, thinking that a God of love will surely accept their efforts and overlook their sins. But this is presumption, not faith. How can a just God overlook sin? We should thank Him that in His matchless love He Himself paid for our sins so that we might be free and that salvation is "the gift of God," obtained by faith alone.

Cain presumed that God would accept his attractive sacrifice instead of the prescribed one, but God refused both him and his offering. Pharaoh presumed that he could take his armies through the Red Sea as Moses had done, but he perished in the sea presuming on God. Namaan, the leper, refused God's way of cleansing, saying "I thought . . ." and the great general remained a leper until he took God at His Word. Will you take God at His Word and trust Christ as your Savior?

A one-armed, right-handed pitcher, Hugh Daily, won 74 games and lost 88 between 1882-87. He pitched a 1-0 no-hitter for Cleveland against Philadelphia in 1883.

The courts reflected their displeasure by levying fines ranging up to $200 plus costs, for a combined total of $13,912.84. Twenty-three persons had their hunting licenses forfeited, mostly for hunting deer at night. Thirteen of these disenfranchised sports were from one county—Marion in East Texas. The Marion County cases involved people from Marshall, Simms, DeKalb, Dallas, Pittsburg, Wynnshoro, Leesburg, Marshall and Oklahoma City. Three Kaufman residents lost their hunting privileges and also paid fines for hunting ducks in closed season. Sixty cases were filed for night hunting. The report covering 451 violations, included cases for failure to have a life jacket for each person in a boat. The department has instructed wardens, now beginning to patrol lakes and streams under the state water safety law, to be strict this year in an effort to avoid casualties. The fishermen began crowding into the unselect circle. Ninety-three anglers were charged with fishing without a license.

Game-Fish Code Gets Court Aid

Texas courts are beginning to apply a dash of pressure on the thoughtless hunter amid the inexorable pressure on wildlife, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department records. Six persons listed in the monthly law enforcement report served time in jail for infractions of the hunting and fishing code. The calaboose hitches usually amounted to a matter of hours. But one Dallas man got two days in the brig plus a $40 fine in a particularly glaring case for permitting another person to use his hunting license.

Slow Moving Farm Vehicles Spell Disaster

Using the farm tractor for an all-purpose runabout is a dangerous practice. Do not use a tractor for trips not directly related to field work.

Slow moving vehicles are one of the major problems of rural highway travel, the Texas Department of Public Safety says. Many of them are inadequately lighted or lack proper identification with which to warn motorists.

It is up to the operators of slow moving farm vehicles to practice courtesy whenever they can. When it is possible, the farm operator should pull his equipment onto the shoulder and allow faster moving traffic to pass. Although the farm operator has a privilege to move his farm vehicles and equipment upon the roadway, he should be willing to pull off the roadway for his own protection. This may prevent himself, his farm vehicles and farm equipment from being involved in an accident.

It has been observed that many farm tractors, vehicles, and motorized equipment while upon the roadway are so designed or pulling other vehicles and equipment that the operator is unable to ascertain the approach of traffic from the rear. Under such conditions these vehicles and equipment should have a rear view mirror like on a truck and bus enabling the operator to see the approach of traffic from the rear. However, in many instances where there were no such obstructions in rear of the operator, it has been observed the operator has been negligent in failing to turn his head around to check for the approach of traffic from the rear. This type of operation becomes a "road hog," creating traffic congestion, and endangering the lives of others as well as himself. Farm vehicles should be operated only by mature, responsible persons upon the highways.

Utilization of a farm tractor as an all-purpose runabout is a dangerous practice that can sharply increase the chance of a serious accident. The farm tractor is not built or equipped for all-purpose travel. The increasing tendency of farmers to jump on the tractor for short trips not directly related to field work must be discouraged. In many areas of the state, the use of farm tractors as utility vehicles is becoming an increasing problem in highway safety.

Besides offering little protection for the driver, the farm tractor has poor brakes, instability and low speed. Tractor operators should allow extra time when crossing travelled roads and not try to beat approaching cross traffic. If he has attached farm trailers, or equipment, it will take him even longer to clear the crossing.

Problems Involving Farm Vehicles, Equipment and Other Vehicles

Most rural two-lane roadways are 16 to 20 feet wide. In this problem let's use the 20 foot width. The stop sign on the side road is 40 feet from the pavement edge plus about 12 feet for the length of the tractor, adding up to a total of 72 feet the tractor operator must go in order for the rear of his tractor to clear the pavement edge on the far side of the roadway. Here are some actual results that were conducted using a tractor 12 feet in length with no equipment attached. It took anywhere from 7 to 8 seconds, occasionally 9 seconds to cover this 72 feet. An approaching automobile traveling 60 miles per hour or 88 feet per second is approaching from the tractor's right side. Then taking the minimum second count of 7 (7x88 is 616 feet) the automobile would have to be 616 feet back down the roadway when the tractor started in motion from the stop sign. In other words just as the tractor cleared the pavement on the far side the car would whiz by, close shave!

Owners can perform a valuable service to themselves and the public by cleaning corners of fields which border on intersections. They can also keep their driveways clear so that they can see traffic before pulling onto the road and so that they can be seen by drivers on the road.

Intelligent use of road requires understanding, courtesy and judgment. Caution, forethought and consideration are the basic ingredients for all prescriptions for rural highway safety. A typically rural American characteristic—neighborliness—can help to increase safety on public roads.

Enjoying It Less

Newsweek magazine recently stated: "Judging solely by his paycheck, the typical U. S. production worker with three dependents seemed to be better off financially last month than he was a year earlier. His wages had climbed from $98.04 a week last fall to $100.65. But if he was making more, he was enjoying it less, because his real earnings—or the after-tax purchasing power of his paycheck—had actually dwindled from $88.80 to $87.90."

Boats Should Pack Proper Title Paper

Tighter enforcement of the state law requiring boat operators to have official papers aboard will be made by game wardens patrolling state waters, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The Department quoted that part of the state safety code: "When your motorboat is in operation, your certificate of number must always be aboard and available for inspection by an enforcement officer. Your certificate is valid until the expiration date shown thereon. When you renew your certificate the same number shall be reissued, if you apply to the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department within the 90-day period preceding the expiration date.

"The number awarded to your motorboat must be painted, decalated, or otherwise affixed to both sides of the bow of the boat in such position as to provide easy identification. The number shall read from left to right, must be in block characters of good proportion not less than three inches in height, and must be of a color that contrasts with the background. The four numerals must be separated from the prefix and the suffix by hyphens or equivalent spaces. Federal and state law prohibits any other number from being displayed on either side of the bow of your boat.

"Notify the Highway Department of a change of address within 15 days.

"The seller must: (1) sign the transfer stub on its face and then give stub to purchaser; (2) complete the 'notice' on back of certificate and return to the Department. The purchaser must: (1) complete the transfer stub and mail to the Highway Department with fee of $1.00 within 15 days. (Dealer excepted); (2) if no transfer stub available, submit application (Form 80) to this Department with $1.00 fee and bill of sale from seller.

"Fill out Form No. 80, check the space marked 'duplicate,' and mail to the Highway Department together with the statutory fee of $1.00. You cannot legally operate your motorboat without a certificate of number on board; therefore, you should exercise care so as not to lose your certificate."

Can't Afford Both

"The national debt will rise to $336 billion, or more, from the present maximum of $330 billion. The average taxpayer is not aware of the fact he already paying fourteen percent a year interest on this debt. Instead of being increased in the good times, the debt should slowly decrease. . . . Until the end of the war, it would be prudent to limit social, domestic programs. We simply can't afford both at the same time."—The

Gr granddaughter of Truscott Couple Wed in Andrews

Wedding vows were exchanged Friday night at 8 p. m. at the Grace Baptist Church in Andrews by Miss Donna Kay Haynie of Lubbock and Andrews and Rondy F. Williams of Lubbock.

The bride, who resides at 1802 5th in Lubbock is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Haynie of Andrews and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Haynie of Truscott. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Williams of Hobbs, N. M.

Rev. Charles McClure officiated at the double ring vows before an altar banked with greenery and flanked by 24-candle candelabra holding lighted white tapers. Greenery also decorated the stairway leading to the altar. Aisle pews were marked with white bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor length bridal gown of white brocade satin fashioned with an empire waistline. The fitted sleeves came to a point at the wrist with tiny self covered buttons at each wrist. Fifty hand covered buttons were at the back of the gown which was attached to a floor length train which fell from the shoulders. The bridal gown was made by the mother of the groom.

An antique illusion veil fell from three white rosebuds with pear leaves. The bride selected her grandmother's bracelet for something old. Her "something new" was a string of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a Bible covered with gardenias and carnations which flowed off the Bible to the hemline of her dress.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Gail Roman of Lubbock. Bridesmaids were Miss Laverne Smith of Lubbock, cousin of the bride; Miss Martha Hyatt of Andrews, Little Demos Neighbors of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. Junior bridesmaids were Pam and Pat Haynie, sisters of the bride.

The matron of honor and senior bridesmaids were identical empire floor length gowns of yellow slipper satin. The flower girl wore an identical dress of pale yellow and the junior bridesmaids and candelighter wore mint green slipped satin. All wore bows of yellow and green satin with illusion veils.

Best man was Dwayne Haynie, brother of the bride. Little Kent Williams, brother of the groom, from Hobbs, served as ring bearer. Groomsmen were Larry Williams, brother of the groom, from Hobbs, and Robert Haynie, brother of the bride, from Andrews.

Miss Linda Sue Welch and Billy Joe Ayr served as candelighters. Ushers were Jerry Smith of Lubbock, Richard Whitehead of Andrews and Gary and Forrest Williams of Lubbock.

Mrs. Weldon Monroe furnished traditional wedding selections. Mrs. Joe Ayr accompanied her husband, uncle of the bride, who sang the Lord's Prayer at the end of the service. He also sang "Climb Every Mountain" as the opening song. Dwayne Haynie and Martha Hyatt sang "The Voice That Breathed Oer."

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church. A three tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table.

Miss Carol Fee registered the guests in the bride's book. Cake, punch and party mints were served.

The bride and groom are both graduates of Andrews High School. She also completed Columbia Secretarial school and is a clerk-typist at the Texas Tech library. He attended West Texas State and is a route salesman for Dr. Pepper Bottling Co. in Lubbock.

The grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Haynie of Truscott, attended the wedding.

W. S. L. Meets

"There's treasure in them thar hills," and treasure indeed, in the form of all kinds of interesting and beautiful rock formations, some out of Foard County hills. Mrs. Pat Pittillo, collector of this treasure, gave an enlightening talk showing off many of the rocks found in Foard County to the Women's Service League.

Mrs. Pittillo was in charge of the unusual program at the luncheon meeting of the Women's Service League on Thursday, May 26. Mrs. Pittillo makes jewelry from stones found in the rocks and petrified wood. Some of the most beautiful samples had been found in Foard County. She cuts and polishes the stones before making them into many jewelry pieces. Mr. and Mrs. Pittillo are by no means small collectors, as testified by the large and elaborate display which can be viewed at their shop in the old Edwards building. They have collected many interesting rock formations from all parts of the United States.

An old fashioned sing song was held by the women as a program on Thursday, June 1. One member, Mrs. Donald Wilkins, was welcomed into the league at the meeting. The league extends an invitation to all women in the county who are interested in its progress to join. The women are looking forward to preparations for the open house for the community center, and hope that many will attend to view the new attractive changes in the center. At present, no specific date has been set for this occasion.

In 1965, East Texas farmers obtained 17 per cent of their income from timber products.

1966 marks the 25th anniversary of the American tree farm system.

Pioneer Circle

The Pioneer Circle of the Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service met for a social hour Monday, June 5 in the home of Mrs. Luther Tamplen.

Mrs. A. R. Sanders, out-going president, opened the meeting with the group singing two hymn selections. Mrs. R. J. Thomas, circle chairman, gave a meditation based on the Lord's Prayer. An informal discussion followed. The new pastor's wife, Mrs. Marjanna McGaughey, attended. She discussed various programs of other churches in which she had had a part. This gave the group a new insight in planning coming programs.

Mrs. Tamplen served refreshments to those attending.

Henry Circle

The Henry Circle met Monday night, June 5, with Dorothy Erwin. Mrs. Eva Sloan gave the devotional on "what is important to us." Florence Black had the program, "Helping Others," and she gave the story of Dr. James Turpin, and what he had done with "Project Concern" in Hong Kong and South Vietnam.

Mrs. Gussie Turner brought the special on "Flowers and How Much They Mean to Us." The hostess served a refreshment plate to eleven members.

Reasons Given for Unions in Plants

According to a University of Chicago study of 649 employers whose employees were organized by unions, these are the five main reasons the employers made that brought about unionization: "1. Giving employees only a minimum of information about the status of the company's health, financial position, its goals, sales and production achievements or non-achievements. 2. Introducing changes in plant equipment, tooling or policy without advance notice or subsequent explanation to work force. 3. Making key decisions in a vacuum of ignorance as to what employees really want. 4. Use of pressure tactics, rather than leadership, to secure high production and productivity. 5. Playing down or pooh-poohing personnel, or personal dissatisfaction in the plant."

Farm Fish Pond Management

by the Soil Conservation Service

A well managed fish pond is one of the most enjoyable aspects of a farm or ranch. It adds beauty to the farm and provides recreation for farmers, ranchers, and their friends. Where a good site exists for a pond, it makes a very good use of the land, which is a basic rule to remember in the conservation of soil and water.

Most farms have a suitable site for a good fish pond. In selecting a fish pond site, there are several important factors to consider.

First, it must have a relatively small watershed from which little runoff water and silt will enter the pond. However, there should be enough watershed to fill the pond in a year or less. If the flow is so large that it fills the pond in about a month, you cannot fertilize the pond economically, since the excess water washes the fertilized water through the spillway. Also, a good site for the pond requires suitable soil in order to prevent excessive seepage.

After the pond is built, an important step in management to follow is the seeding of the dam and spillway to a suitable grass, which prevents dam erosion and excessive silting from the runoff water. Fertilizing the pond after it has filled with water has proved to be an economical means of increasing fish production. It also prevents the growth of submerged water weeds. The fertilizing should be done before the hatchery fish arrive, preferably early in the spring, since the growing season of the microscopic algae, on which fish feed, is from early spring through fall. A good commercial fertilizer that has equal amounts of nitrogen and phosphorus, such as 10-10-5, is recommended. The amount required depends on the soil fertility, but the average pond needs about 1,000 pounds of fertilizer per acre per year, applied at the rate of 100 pounds per acre in intervals of two weeks. An average pond without fertilizer supports about 150 pounds of bass and bluegills and yields 15 to 35 pounds of fish per acre annually. On the other hand, a well fertilized pond supports 400 pounds or more of bass and bluegills per acre and yields 150 to 200 pounds annually to fishing. One can readily see that fertilizing fish ponds pays dividends far beyond its cost.

When the hatchery fish arrive, they should be allowed at least one year to grow and reproduce the next spring after they are stocked. Even the bluegills should not be fished until the bass or other fish have spawned in order for them to provide food for the larger bass.

After the pond is ready for fishing, the most enjoyable part of management is frequent fishing, which is good for your fish population because the remaining fish grow larger, thus making your fishing more of a challenge. Incidentally, this last step in management is one that is seldom overlooked, according to information received through your local Soil Conservation Service office.

Agent Gives Hints on Selecting Cantaloups

Tasty melons always add to the allure of summer as well as supplying vitamin C and vitamin A, according to Virginia Iseng, H. D. Agent.

Cantaloup fits in nicely just about any time and gives breakfast an added boost. In selecting a good cantaloup it should be "well netted." The netting is the raised, grey-brown pattern over the surface that stands out above the green or yellow color of the skin. A good eating melon has high, raised netting over some part of the surface.

You may find "stripes" of green or yellow—or in ripper melons, even of brownish color.

Look for a "full slip." This is a circular scar where the stem was detached when the ripe melon was picked. A stem scar that retains part of the stem or has been gouged out of the melon indicates that the melon was not ripe when picked from the vine.

Skin color is usually yellow or is turning yellow.

Consider this idea for utilizing their luscious taste.

Lemon-Mint Cantaloup Balls
Combine equal parts lemon juice and sugar. Add finely chopped fresh mint. Pour mixture over fresh cantaloup balls and chill several hours. Serve dessert in fancy dishes with a fresh mint garnish.

Tax Man Sam Sez

If everything has been going your way this year and you are making money hand over fist, you may need to file an estimated tax return or amend the estimated tax return that you filed on April 15. The withholding system works beautifully for most of our taxpayers, but self employed taxpayers must file an estimated tax return and pay their tax during the year.

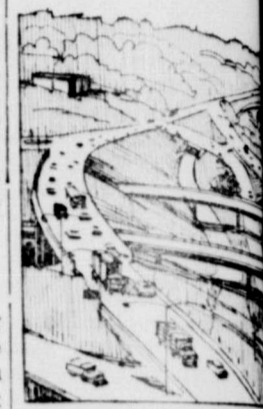

On the same basis, if you receive wages, but make a profitable deal during the year, you may be required to file a tax estimate and to pay the tax you owe on the additional income.

Here's why MALATHION LV CONCENTRATE is the No. 1 ultra low volume boll weevil insecticide!

- PROVEN EFFECTIVENESS. Used on millions of treatment acres of cotton over the last 3 years, Malathion has given better than 95% weevil control at the U.S.D.A. registered rates of 8 to 16 ounces per acre.
- LOW HAZARD. Malathion has the lowest oral and dermal toxicity of any cotton insecticide. (Clinical Handbook of Economic Poisons U.S. Public Health Service).
- BROAD REGISTRATION. In addition to the U.S.D.A. registration for control of thrips and boll weevil on cotton, Malathion is the only ultra low volume insecticide registered for use on 20 food and forage crops and beef cattle at 2 to 16 ounces per acre. (U.S.D.A. registered number 241-110)
- FREEDOM FROM DRIFT RESIDUE WORRY. Drift residues to adjacent food or forage crops or cattle present no problem at recommended rates.
- ALL-SEASON USAGE. Malathion has given outstanding control of boll weevil on cotton when used early for over-wintering weevil, later in the season for subsequent broods and up until killing frost in diapause control.
- ECONOMICAL. Cost of material alone does not establish true economy. To the cost of material per acre must be added... proven effectiveness in 3 years of commercial use... low hazard to the applicator and all target areas... broad registration, permitting application even on beef cattle... freedom from drift residue worry... and all-season usage on cotton from emergence to frost. These advantages PLUS low per acre cost makes Malathion LV Concentrate the No. 1, economical, ultra low volume insecticide for boll weevil control.

From the News . . .

THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, June 10, 1937, issue of The Foard County News:

Heavy rain fell in Foard County Tuesday morning during one of the most severe electrical storms received in this county in many years. One and eighty five hundredths inches of rain were recorded at the Crowell State Bank about 7 a. m. and the total was raised to a little over two inches by noon.

The Crowell Masonic Lodge hall was struck by lightning and burned Tuesday morning about three o'clock during one of the most severe electrical storms witnessed here in many years. The building, with its equipment, was a total loss and the damage was estimated at over $4,000. The alarm was turned in by a truck driver who had sought shelter in the driveway of the vacant service station across the street west of the hall, and saw the bolt strike the roof of the building.

Edward Roark was painfully injured Wednesday morning about 7:30 o'clock at the Phillips Service Station when the flange of a truck tire was blown off and struck him on the forehead.

Approximately 192,000 bushels of wheat from the 1937 crop in Foard County have been delivered to the elevators thus far. About 90 carloads of wheat have been shipped from this county.

A hand sythe and cradle that was ordered by M. S. Henry & Co. in 1920 was purchased Monday by the same man that had the store to order it for him 17 years ago. M. F. Bowley had the sythe and cradle ordered in the spring of 1920 with the intention of using it in the wheat fields that year, but it arrived too late for that crop. The sythe has been in storage all these years and was finally sold when the same man who ordered it needed it 17 years later.

At a recent meeting of the board of stewards of the Crowell Methodist Church, it was decided to launch a campaign immediately to secure funds to liquidate at least one-half of the indebtedness against the church by Nov. 15. The objective of this campaign is to raise $5,400 and cut the debt in half.

The bill proposed by Senator George Moffett to establish a cotton research laboratory in Texas has been defeated in the State Legislature.

Mrs. Alva Spencer played a violin solo at the Wednesday meeting of the Rotary Club in O'Connell's Tea Room.

Miss Bernice Poland, student in Mary Hardin-Baylor at Belton, is at home for the summer.

Jody Brown of Claytonville visited Charlie Hinkle at Good Creek Wednesday.

M. L. Hughston can rightly claim the record wheat yield for Foard County. After combining a 22 acre field, owned by Mr. Hughston, it was found that the yield was 50.3 bushels per acre. This field is located in the old lake bed about six miles east of Crowell. Old-timers here state that they have never heard of such a high yield in this county. This wheat tested 61 and 62.

Caused Readers to Blink and Think

"A couple of news items which appeared the same day recently must have caused readers to blink and think. One was about a couple of guys who stood in court with smirks on their faces as a reluctant judge had to dismiss murder charges against them because their voluntary confessions had been made without benefit of attorneys to inform them of their rights. The other item was the solemn warning by the secretary of the U. S. Treasury that unless Congress boosted the government's debt limit by $7 billion within 30 days, it might be just too bad for elderly citizens who depend on Social Security, veterans' pensions and retirement pay. There just might be no money for such things."—Mesa, Ariz., Tribune.

New Clown Bull Fighters to Appear in Santa Rosa

Another change for the thousands of loyal rodeo fans who attend the Santa Rosa Roundup each year will be the addition of two new clown bull fighters. With the tough Beutler Brothers rodeo stock, top professional clowns are a must. Chuck Henson and Larry McKinney will provide new faces and new laughter for the spectators and safety for the world champion cowboys competing for the prize money.

There are clowns who make you laugh, clowns who make you cry, but a clown to scare you to death and make you demise a happy one, is the role played by Chuck and Larry. The way they handle bulls in the arena brings screams of delight and terror from the audience. They may jump on the bull's back, grab them by the tail, take a flying ride, walk up and pat them on the head, or even kiss their homely faces. Don't be misled by the grease paint and baggy pants, they are among the fleetest of athletes with the agility of a cat. Both have worked major rodeos from coast to coast and into Canada.

Both Chuck and Larry will be on hand each night, June 7 through 10, at the 22nd annual Santa Rosa Roundup at Vernon.

"Know Yourself" Is Clothing Key

Americans have more clothes per capita than nearly any other people in the world. Since we have many changes for sports, school, dress, and work, consumer awareness in clothes buying has become very important in our society.

Kay Hunter, extension clothing specialist with Texas A&M University, offers these suggestions for personal wardrobe planning.

First, know the colors and designs that "do things" for you. Know what you have in your present wardrobe (this may need some sorting out, too). Know where you are going and what you will be doing; figure out how much you can and should spend for clothing, and learn to shop for the best values.

Learn to dress to fit your personality. Dressing is largely a matter of feeling and is reflected in ease and self-confidence. But, even if you are the classic type that likes tailored clothing, don't buy everything in this same style.

Buy a few good quality tailored garments for long-term usage, and a few relatively inexpensive items for variety.

"Know yourself" is the advice of the clothing specialist. If you are heavy, choose darker colors and flat textured materials. Firm, non-clinging fabrics which drape well are best for the heavy figure. Rough fabrics such as tweeds, loosely woven knits, and rough linens tends to make you look larger. Shiny fabrics can also make you look larger because of the light reflection.

Bold patterns and bright colors make figures look larger, as do

PARIS STYLE—Contemporary is the word for this stylish afternoon coat with standaway neck and starkly simple lines that flare into an A-line hem. In pure white cotton satin, it's from Philippe Venet's summer collection.

pastels. It's fun to be daring occasionally, but most budgets can't afford to accommodate every change of fashion. If you think a new style is relatively suitable for your figure, try an inexpensive copy at first. If you still like it after wearing it a few weeks, invest in a better quality one and wear it often—before the style goes out.

Necessary for Good Soil Structure, Tilth

Regular additions of raw organic materials or residues to the soil mass are necessary for good soil structure and tilth, says Joe Burkett, county agent. Soil structure usually is defined by the arrangement of the soil particles. Organic matter and humus tend to cause soil particles to clump together in aggregates or small granules.

According to the county agent, a granular or crumb structure is a most desirable soil condition. Excessive tillage or cultivation destroys the aggregates, and poor soil condition results.

Burkett says that allowing organic materials to decompose in the soil tends to stimulate the formation of aggregates and stable granules, thus making the granular or crumb structure conducive to good aeration and water infiltration.
