Get Ready for Winter Weather

Recent cool weather is a reminder that winter is fast approaching. And before it is too late, now is the time to do the maintenance and repair jobs around the farm and home that can make things more comfortable this winter.

Heating systems, reminds County Agent Joe Burkett, should be put in top operating condition for the winter season. Check floor furnaces—the burner, controls and plumbing—before lighting to make sure there is no escaping gas. A similar check should be made on closet type and other gas heaters. Inspect fireplaces and chimneys for loose mortar or cracks, and if repairs are needed, make them before the first fire is started, advises the county agent.

Plows and other implements that will be idle until spring should be cleaned and given a protective coating of rust preventative. Periodic checks and proper maintenance of farm buildings and equipment will hold down repair costs and add years to their useful life.

NO HOME IS COMPLETE

No home is complete without proper fire, wind, and extended coverage insurance protection. Farm Bureau Fire Insurance offers a complete fire and extended coverage protection program. It safeguards your home and valuables against fire loss. See your local Farm Bureau Insurance Agent and find out how inexpensive adequate fire insurance protection really is. Do it today.

Definition Not Found in Dictionary

The word "temporary" in the nation's capital often has a definition not found in the dictionary. All too frequently in Washington "temporary" eventually means "permanent." We can all remember the "temporary" wartime buildings, the "temporary" commissions that never finish their assignments, and surely none of us can forget the "temporary" taxes that have been imposed on us. This phenomenon of government should be borne in mind when there's talk of new or increased "temporary" taxes.

Use New Safety Emblem on Tractor

Are you using the fluorescent yellow-orange colored emblem on your slow moving vehicles? The emblem was especially designed for use on agricultural machinery and highway construction and maintenance equipment which normally travels at speeds below 25 miles an hour.

After many tests, the slow moving vehicle (SMV) emblem was selected as the most distinctive and visible, says County Agent Joe Burkett. Basically, the SMV emblem is a triangle with a 16-inch base. It is 14 inches high. The outer border around the triangle is of a dark red reflective material and the inner part of the triangle is a fluorescent yellow-orange color. The emblem should be mounted in the center of the rear of slow moving vehicles and at a height of 3 to 5 feet above the ground.

Tax Man Sam Sez

Thousands of taxpayers are concerned about whether they will be required—or their heirs will be required—to file an estate tax return when they die. Since the Agricultural Extension Service says that the average value of a Texas farm nowadays is $250,000, it is obvious that many taxpayers need to consider the estate tax problems.

Blue Catfish Move to Green Belt Reservoir

Green Belt Reservoir, a new lake on the salt fork of the Brazos River near Clarendon in the Texas Panhandle, was recently stocked with 8,600 fingerling catfish from the Parks and Wildlife Department's Sheldon Fish Hatchery near Houston.

Louise Peters, inland fisheries supervisor, said blue catfish stocked a few years earlier in Lake Meredith near Borger have shown "amazing growth."

He said blue catfish are not native to the Panhandle area because the streams were too shallow to support them, but Lakes Meredith and Green Belt provide environments where they should soon become major game fish species.

According to Peters, Sheldon Hatchery fish were used to make the 850-mile trip because Sheldon was the only hatchery that produced substantial numbers of blue catfish this year.
