Senior Class

Everyone seemed to enjoy the long week end; Monday morning everyone rushed to school ready for another week.
Intramural volleyball games headed the activities for seniors last Monday and Tuesday nights. The senior class chose the name, Cobras and they picked Richard Kubicek coach for both the boys and girls teams. Everyone seemed to enjoy the games.

Civics has been more interesting lately; seniors have chosen various countries of the world on which to give reports. This proves very enlightening, and it will be very beneficial.
In English, seniors are studying William Shakespeare's tragedy, "Macbeth." Outside of class, students have been reading stories and writing themes based on these stories.

Junior Class

Last week was the week of intramural volleyball games. In the boys division, the juniors won first. In the girls division, the girls placed second. It was fun for all and I think all of the student body enjoyed the games.

In English, we have just completed our note cards for the theme about Robert Frost. In American history, we just finished a chapter from which a test was given Thursday.

Sophomore News

Monday night the Fearless Fish defeated both sophomore girls and boys in the intramurals. Tuesday night, the sophomore girls defeated the senior girls, and the senior boys were victorious over the sophomore boys.

Several sophomores are working on duet acts for the speech tournament at Notre Dame. They are Pat Cates, Jerry Martin, Kristi McLain and Micke Owens.
Kristi McLain received a II rating in band in Wichita Falls. By mistake, her name was left out last week. Sorry about my goof, Kristi, but congratulations on your rating.

Senior Spotlight

The first senior spotlight of this week is Leslie Hopkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Hopkins. This 5'6" senior has hazel eyes and brown hair. He attends the Church of Christ Church of Crowell. Leslie's favorites include: food, shrimp; color, green; song, "La Fiesta"; actor, Yul Brenner; actress, Elizabeth Taylor; and subject, physics. Reading is his hobby. His chief dislike is people who cut down the older generation because they haven't created a "Utopia." Leslie has played a prominent part in his class. His sophomore year, he served as vice president and this year he is senior class president. He is also an FFA officer and is on the Student Council. Leslie has been active in athletics. He has participated both in track and in football. He was elected as most courteous one year and is a member of the Interscholastic League science team. Leslie's future goal is to become a biologist or physicist. Also in the spotlight this week is the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kubicek, Richard. Before coming to the Crowell schools, Richard attended school in Quanah for five years, in Lockett one year, and in Thalia one year. He attends the Catholic Church. Some of the favorites of this 5'11" senior are: food, chicken; color, red; song, "Crimson and Clover"; actor, Steve McQueen; actress, Raquel Welch; hobby, pool; and subject, speech. His chief dislike is fords. Richard has been very active in FFA for all of his four years of high school. He has been junior sentinel in FFA and is presently vice president of the organization. For 1 1/2 years, he has served as football manager. This year, Richard is taking part in many of the speech activities. He plans to go to Fort Worth for the summer and to attend TU this fall.

Spanish Club

Last Tuesday, lessons in Spanish II class were halted; the Spanish Club met in order to make plans for a Spanish supper which will be Tuesday, March 25, at 7 p. m. in the home of Cathy McLain. Mothers helping with the supper are Meses. Bud McLain, Mike Bird, Bill Dodd and Kenneth Halbert. Charles Dodd, president, also appointed a committee to plan games for the occasion.

FHA

The FHA met March 10 at 3:30 in the home ec cottage. The meeting was called to order by the president, Jan Welch. The minutes were read and business was discussed. Refreshments were served by Debbie Johnson, Sharla Haynie and Sara Collins. A short program was given by Mrs. Brown and the girls who attended the area state meeting of FHA in Stephenville.

Sports

Due to the cold weather and snow, the Holiday invitational relay on Saturday was called off. The next track meet will be on Saturday, March 22, at Nocona.

Slave Sale

Slave day was held Monday, March 17, in the high school auditorium. Auctioneer for the event was Jim Mac Gafford. The slave sale is sponsored by the Student Council. Proceeds will be used to finance the officers' trip to the Student Council convention in Amarillo next week. The following are the slaves that were bought and their buyers.
Bill Taylor, Larry Ellis.
Ronny Naylor, Roy Lee Aydelott.
Terry Farrar, Beverly Gillispie.

From the News . . . THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, March 30, 1939, issue of The Foard County News:

George Cates of Crowell crossed the finish line of the Pony Express race from Nocona to Treasure Island, Calif., Saturday afternoon to win third place in the 2,000-mile horseback ride. Shannon Davidson of Matador won the race and was presented 750 newly-minted dollars by Miss Justin of Nocona, sponsor of the Pony Express race.

Foard County received its first general rains since the middle of January Friday and Saturday of last week, when nearly three inches were recorded at the Crowell State Bank.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Boyd left Crowell Tuesday where they will make their home on a farm 10 miles north of Decatur. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd have been Crowell residents about ten years, the greater part of which time Mr. Boyd served as bus driver for the Crowell School System.

Two shipments of soil conservation checks, totaling $31,524.95, were received in the AAA office in Crowell during the past several days, according to Weldon P. Herman, administrative assistant. Two hundred and forty-eight checks were in the shipments.

Miss Joellene Vannoy of Fisher County has been assigned as the Foard County Home Demonstration Agent to succeed Miss Myrna Holman, who became the demonstration agent of Washington County on March 16.

Two softball leagues, the Foard County Softball League and the Crowell City League, were organized this week and both seasons will open Sunday, April 9.

Roy Barry, former Crowell man, is a member of the Texas Rangers polo team and was a star performer in a game in Los Angeles, Calif., March 18, according to a news item in the Los Angeles Times, a copy of which was furnished the News by Mrs. Bill Backus of Los Angeles.

Dr. Dan Hines Clark of Shreveport, La., is here visiting his parents.

Mass examination and immunizations will be given Thursday, April 6, at 9 o'clock at the grammar school building, according to an announcement by Miss Cora Carter and Mrs. Hines Clark, health chairmen of the Crowell PTA unit.

Crowell, Riverside and Margaret won top honors in the Foard County Interscholastic League meet held in Crowell last week end during which time the Crowell, Riverside, Margaret, Thalia, Foard City, Vivian, Gamblesville and Four Corners schools were represented in the various contests.

There were 8,418 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, ginned in Foard County from the crop of 1938, as compared with 13,062 bales from the crop of 1937, according to information furnished by the Department of Commerce, Bureau of Census, Washington, D. C.

Relative of G. L. Cole Buried at Memphis

Funeral services for Mrs. N. A. Hightower, 79, of Memphis, were held last week at the Methodist Church in Memphis. Mrs. Hightower was married to a cousin of G. L. Cole of Crowell. She was also an aunt of State Senator Jack Hightower.
She was born at Azle and had lived in Hall County since 1910. She was a member of the Eastern Star and Methodist Church and had taught the Hightower Sunday school class at Memphis.
She is survived by two sons, 4 sisters, 3 grandchildren and 1 great-grandchild.

Responsibility

To help your child develop responsibility, Jennie Kitching, extension family life specialist at Texas A&M, suggests a parent let a child make decisions and involve him in family decision-making. Then let him learn to take the consequences of his decision.

Highway Department Prints New Pamphlet, "Flowers of Texas"

"Flowers of Texas" — a spectacle of bloom and blossom — introduces some 60 species of Texas' most beautiful flowers, shrubs and trees in all seasons.
The Texas Highway Department, which released the lavish new color folder last week, expects it to be one of the most popular items among the family of recreational and travel literature produced by the department.
The new folder was designed for two purposes — to erase any notion held by out-of-state residents that Texas is an arid, barren wasteland — and to enhance the pleasure of both Texans and visitors by identifying some of the state's most common and colorful plants.
Far from being a wasteland, the folder points out that Texas leads the nation with an abundance of blossoming plants — more than 5,000 species of wild flowers alone. Closeup color photographs illustrate tropical plants of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, wild orchids from the Big Thicket, bright plains flowers, and vivid blooms of thorny cacti.
Flower fanciers and garden clubs have frequently asked that such a publication be added to the family of travel literature produced by the Texas Highway Department. In response to that demand the new folder lists 56 species by common and botanical names, including facts about blooming season and where they are usually found. Other species are illustrated in landscape views.
Free copies of the new "Flowers of Texas" folder may be obtained at all Highway Department offices and tourist bureaus. They are available upon request, and in limited quantities to garden clubs and similar organizations.
Requests by mail should be directed to the Texas Highway Department, Travel and Information Division, P. O. Box 5064, Austin, Texas 78703.

Austin, Tex.—Legislation dealing with peace officers and rebelious students are the dominant items under consideration by the House.

Approved by the House was a measure that would provide criminal penalties for anyone involved in campus disruptions at public and private schools in the state. Vote on the measure by Joe Shannon of Fort Worth was 135 to 12. It now goes to the Senate for action.

The two Negro members of the House, Rep. Curtis Graves and Rep. Curtis Graves, spoke against the bill as "the kind of legislation that causes a backlash. If I predict this type of legislation may come to our state, we will regret passing it."

Other bills were filed dealing with law enforcement. Senate Youth Affairs Committee voted to report favorably to the Senate two bills designed to provide fairer hearings on juvenile offenders, which could include some of the demonstrators — especially at high schools.

One of the proposals would require the court to appoint an attorney to represent a juvenile offender, if the parents cannot afford one. If the judge determines that the parents can afford an attorney, he can require that they get one.

Several amendments were added to the proposed bill, including one that would bar a student from attending a state-financed or assisted school for two years following three convictions for violation of the act. If a student were convicted twice under the act, he could not receive any state loans. Another amendment assures students taking part in demonstrations the right to peaceful protest.

A trespass bill by Rep. Menton Murray of Harlingen is awaiting action. This bill would make it unlawful for anyone "with a malicious and mischievous intent" to trespass on the property of someone else, including campuses. It now is in the House Committee on Criminal Jurisdiction.

Other bills were filed dealing with law enforcement. Senate Youth Affairs Committee voted to report favorably to the Senate two bills designed to provide fairer hearings on juvenile offenders, which could include some of the demonstrators — especially at high schools.

One of the proposals would require the court to appoint an attorney to represent a juvenile offender, if the parents cannot afford one. If the judge determines that the parents can afford an attorney, he can require that they get one.

Both of the bills were proposed by Sen. Criss Cole of Houston, who is chairman of the committee.

Another measure would require the defense attorney in juvenile actions to furnish transcripts of the trial in case of an appeal.

Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon introduced a measure to help raise the standards of law enforcement officers. This bill would give the Commission on Law Enforcement Officers Standards and Education the authority to certify persons as being qualified for police or other law enforcement jobs, and would set minimum standards. After Sept. 1, 1970, all appointive peace officers would be required to meet the educational, training, physical, mental and moral criteria set by the Commission. Elected officers, such as sheriffs and constables, would not have to qualify.

BILLS, BILLS AND MORE BILLS—Legislators are wading in a pond of bills that soon will pass the 1,000 mark.

Sen. Henry C. Gover of Houston has introduced a resolution directing the Texas Coordinating Board for Colleges and Universities and the University of Texas Board of Regents to enter into negotiations to buy the Baylor College of Medicine at Houston.

A five-man sub-committee of the Higher Education Committee is studying a bill which would do away with the required six hours of government or political science and six hours of American or Texas history in Texas colleges. It is proposed by Rep. Don Cavness of Austin.

A proposal to create a state-wide library system was sent to a sub-committee by the Senate Committee on State Affairs. Sen. A. M. Aikin of Paris and Sen. A. Hightower are co-sponsors of the bill.

Rep. Joe Salem of Corpus Christi has introduced a resolution asking the House of Representatives to do something about poverty. His proposal calls for a five-man study committee made up of house members.

Senator Grover also has introduced a bill which would allow the state to aid cities in raising policemen's and firemen's salaries.

A proposal that would permit Texas cities to lend each other police officers in emergencies has gone to a subcommittee of the House Urban Affairs Committee. Rep. Felix McDonald of Edinburg is sponsor of the bill.

A bill backed by chain optometrists (TSO, Lee and others) to limit the state Board of Optometrists' law-making powers has Senate committee approval.

Proposed constitutional amendments to lower the voting age to 18, knock out annual voter registration requirement and grant old folks a $3,000 overall property tax exception found its way to the Senate calendar.

circulated among church groups is this:

We, the undersigned, request of NBC, CBS and ABC networks—

- (1) a sharp decrease in violence and sadism in TV programs;
- (2) the showing of more character-building programs for our youth;
- (3) the elimination of "for adults only" type movies from TV. (Late hour showings are no protection.)

We ask the cooperation of the networks, but are prepared, in numbers, to refuse to buy the products of sponsors of objectionable fare, if necessary.

It is suggested that triplicate petitions, carrying the addresses as well as the names of the signers, be sent to the three major networks:

ABC—Leonard Goldenson, President, The American Broadcasting Co., 1330 Avenue of the Americas, New York, N. Y. 10020.

NBC—Robert Sarnoff, President, Radio Corporation of America, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, N. Y. 10020.

CBS—Frank Stanton, President, Columbia Broadcasting System, 51 West Fifty-second Street, New York, N. Y. 10019.

At first the CURE group asked for signed petitions to be sent to them for conveyance to the networks' offices. The volume of mail speedily became too heavy, however, for the limited, volunteer staff of the organization. Participants are invited to send their own names and addresses to CURE, P. O. Box 9203, Knoxville, Tenn., 37920, for inclusion as members to receive mailings from the organization. No membership fees are required, but gifts and offerings are welcomed. The average member donation is said to be about two dollars. One town in Texas is reported to have participated as a community, with high school athletes canvassing door-to-door for signatures to the CURE petition, with newspapers and local radio supporting their effort, so that more than one thousand members were recruited in that one town.

CURE proposes no substitute for parental responsibility in providing decent spiritual and emotional fare for their children; but it is interested also in children who have no such supervision. "It is estimated that by 1970 half of our population will be under 25 years of age," says CURE. "What are we teaching them?"

Organization Formed for Better TV Programs

(The following editorial concerning present-day television programs was given the News by Marion Crowell, local television dealer.)

Christians United for Responsible Entertainment (CURE) is one of the newest, most promising, and least highly organized acronyms groups to come to our attention. Starting within the past year among Southern Baptists—ministers' wives especially—in and around Knoxville, Tenn., it has grown to nationwide interdenominational scope with thirty thousand members and with an active center in Miami, Fla., to match the one at Knoxville. It is simply an corporate expression of Christian parents' concern for what their children and their neighbors' children are seeing on television.

"If three minutes of TV time sells tons of toothpaste, what does twenty-seven minutes of violence do to the nation's children?" the organization asks. It finds a significant answer in the fact that while the United States population has gone up 10 per cent since 1960, crime has gone up 88 per cent. It quotes a "Washington Post" columnist as saying that "the rate of crime is highest among the youth who have grown up glued to their TV sets."

Whether or not the Knoxville mothers and their colleagues could establish a casual connection between television fare and the increase in crime, they have no uncertainty about the kind of entertainment they find offensive in their homes. They started by raising objection to the "adult" movies that were being screened on television at times when many children watched, and they went from that to protesting the dominance of mayhem and the implied disrespect for human life that is characteristic of much that is seen on television.

It is time for someone—the more the better—to speak up. From another source we read that when a network first televised the screen play, "Never on Sunday," they had special operators on hand to receive an expected avalanche of telephone calls in protest. To their amazement not a single call was received, and, concluding that the new boldness in lascivious entertainment was what the viewers wanted, they prepared to move on farther down the same road.

CURE offers more, however, than one voice of protest. Its members recall that their single letters of objection have made little impression on telecasters. So it proposes to multiply the power of the voice by the largest possible number of signatories to petitions, which are themselves plain enough for anyone to understand. A suggested wording for petitions to be
