News About Our MEN IN SERVICE

Son-in-law of Bob Abstons Awarded Flying Cross

U. S. Air Force Major Jack L. Huebner, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Abstons of Vernon and formerly of Crowell, has been decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross for aerial achievement in Vietnam.

His wife is the former Miss Bobbie Ruth Abstons of Crowell.

Major Huebner distinguished himself as a C-130B Hercules navigator. On Feb. 24, 1968, he participated in an urgent combat resupply mission to the embattled outpost at Khe Sanh and, despite adverse weather conditions and damage to the aircraft, made the airdrop directly on target.

He was presented the medal during ceremonies at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, where he is now serving as a staff civil engineer in a unit of the Air Force Logistics Command.

The 15-year veteran was commissioned through the aviation cadet program.

He received B. S. degrees from Kansas and Texas A&M University, and earned his M. S. degree at the University of Southern California.

Crowell Receives 2.50 Inches Rain Last Friday

A thunderstorm, laced by extremely high winds and hail, lashed Crowell about 1:30 last Friday afternoon, bringing .9 inch of moisture, as measured by the official gauge.

The high winds and hail did extensive damage to trees, shrubs and gardens in Crowell, and the fast-moving black clouds preceding the storm sent a large portion of local residents scurrying for storm cellars.

Clouds formed again Friday night and dumped 1.6 inches of rain here during the night. The moisture was reported as general over the county. Falling as hard as it did, it ran lots of water into stock tanks.

J. L. Jackson, who lives on the river north of town said Tuesday that he received about 5 inches of rain at his place with extensive damage to his cotton. Much of the cotton in this part of the county will probably have to be re-planted.

Another rain, accompanied by high winds and lightning, brought another .57 inch of rain about 3 a. m. Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Ross Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ross, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Prosser, Lesley and Stephanie, and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Dean-Werley, Dean and Jo, all spent the week end with their daughter, Mrs. L. S. Smith, Mr. Smith, and their children, Sam, Mike and Jo Ann.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. They were married in 1919 at Anna in Collin County.

At Wichita Falls, the entire family went to the Methodist Church and then had dinner at Town House Cafe.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross have made Crowell their home all their married life.

They have two daughters, Mrs. Theilma Jo Prosser and Mrs. Rebecca Ann Smith, and 8 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren.

More good news for City of Crowell water customers was announced this week by Mayor Robert Kincaid, when he announced a big reduction in the price of water used over the minimum.

The new rate, effective June 1, calls for all water over the minimum to be sold at 50 cents per thousand gallons. This is a 32.5 cents-per-thousand drop from the former rate, which was 82.5 cents per 1,000 gallons excess.

Last week, Mayor Kincaid announced that the city council had okayed an increase in the number of gallons for the minimum rate to be raised from 7,000 to 9,000 gallons. The minimum rate remained the same at $9.00.

An abundance of water and decreased rates should tempt local residents to maintain green lawns all summer long.

Grant Okayed for Food and Medical Services for Poor

An emergency food and medical services grant to the 4-County EOAC was announced last Friday by Senator John G. Tower.

Performance Set for July 5th

Those demonstrators are at it again. For the past three weeks, Dear Ole Crowell High has vibrated with the new music being learned and old favorites refurbished. Action sets are taking shape on the stage (special appreciation to the adults who have offered suggestions and help and materials) while costumes are being created and stage decorations assembled.

The cast of approximately 35 Crowell and Quannah youths extends to any young people who are interested in an invitation to join them in the production of a patriotic Fourth of July show to be performed in the high school auditorium on Saturday evening, July 5. Rehearsals are in progress on stage every Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7:30. The show being an area-wide project, the cast would urge every young person to participate who would like to be where the action is. No knowledge of music is necessary, just the desire to share in an expression of love for our country and the fun of creating satisfying sounds through singing.

Those who attended the 1968 "Sing Out, America" will be anticipating a rousing evening on July 5. Although last year's show received wide acclaim, the show now in preparation is new and expanded. Much of it is directly linked with the history of Crowell and the area, with several of the songs being locally composed specifically for this year's performance. Solid sounds are growing into a wild night for July 5.

Austin, Tex.—Governor Preston Smith plans to answer the state's big money question Friday, June 20.

He is expected to announce on a statewide television hookup whether he will veto the Legislature's one-year budget bill and if so, when the special session to mop-up the unfinished finance job will be scheduled.

At noon the following day, the Governor will present further views on the subject when he addresses the 90th annual summer convention of the Texas Press Association at Saturday's luncheon at the Inn of Six Flags in Arlington.

Fate of the $60.4 million teacher pay raise hangs delicately in the financial balance which Smith can tip in several directions with a flick of his veto pen.

State officials are having a hard time agreeing on just how much money is coming in during the next year—and whether there will be enough for both the salary hike and the $2.8 billion one-year budget.

As though the situation were not complicated enough already, Smith could throw it out of balance by vetoing any one—or more—of five revenue-raising bills before him. Or he could square it up again by line-item-vetoing of spending proposals.

He can, of course, veto the entire one-year bill and call legislators back to work promptly on a two-year budget. Many expect him to do just that.

BILLS CHALLENGED—Governor Smith left up in the air the fate of 41 bills and 13 concurrent resolutions passed at the last minute by the recent Legislature. He challenged their validity on two counts.

Smith said the measures—one of which created 28 new district courts—were not signed in the presence of the House and the Senate by the lieutenant governor and the speaker as required by the constitution. He contended that they were signed after the Legislature already had gone home. In addition, they reached him seven days later than they should.

A thorough study will be made of their legal status before he acts, pledged Smith. Legislative leaders contend that a logjam of bills caused processing delays that are commonplace at the end of sessions. They say that other governors have not complained.

EDUCATION—Twenty-three college and university educators from around the state have sent Governor Smith a letter asking that he not veto the bill that will increase the cost of education to students by $10 a semester. They are the presidents and chancellors of the various state supported schools. They point out that vetoing the bill will cost the state 74 million a year.

State Board of Education has appointed fifteen representatives from the state's educational profession—including college administrators, classroom teachers, superintendents and principals—to a commission to study standards for the preparation of school administrators. Appointments are for two years and the group is charged with finding ways to train the people who will eventually run the school systems.

Governor Smith has announced the establishment of three continuous programs of meetings and conferences with high school, college and non-student young people in order to gain "positive understanding and solution to the main problems facing our state."

These three new organizations include: the Governor's Conference of College Leaders, to consist of college and university student body presidents and other campus leaders; the Governor's Hall of Honor of the Texas Youth Conference, made up of all presidents of major high school youth organizations in the state; and a Governor's Council on Young People, concentrating on out-of-school young people, emphasizing career problems and an understanding of the democratic system.

Boy's State, sponsored by the American Legion, and Girl's State, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, both aimed at teaching top high school students the ways of Texas government on a "learn by doing" theory, held their annual meetings in Austin.

Helicopter Will Be Used by State to Combat Crime

A new era in law enforcement techniques has been initiated recently by the addition of a state-owned helicopter to aid local officers in combatting crime.

Major C. W. Bell, regional commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said last week that the new craft was not fully operational and in use daily in this region of the DPS.

"The DPS is very desirous of expanding its services to the people of this area and to the city police departments and sheriff's departments," Bell said. "We feel this is a splendid opportunity to provide them with better and more versatile service. All any city or county official has to do to obtain the service of the helicopter is request it."

"In the past seldom a day passed that we did not receive a request for assistance in some incident in which a helicopter could have been a very useful tool. Now, if the local officers need this assistance, such as looking for lost persons, rescue operations and any other type of law enforcement effort, we will be able to assist them immediately."

The helicopter has two portable stretchers for quick installation inside the machine, and is equipped with a rescuerator for in-flight use. The craft will be used in all types of mercy missions such as the rapid transfer of injured persons, when feasible, from limited treatment centers to hospitals with more sophisticated facilities.

"Medical authorities have known for some time that many lives are lost each year throughout the nation because accident victims do not receive adequate attention early enough to save them," Bell said.

In some cases, he added, it may well be that the use of a helicopter in rushing a traffic accident victim from the scene of a remotely located accident to a hospital will be the difference between life and death. The copter also will be used for such things as searches, rescue operations, jailbreaks, disaster relief, apprehension of felons, riot control and mob violence, traffic surveys—any type of emergency work deemed practical.

The DPS helicopter is a jet-powered "Jet Ranger" which can be altered in minutes to accommodate two stretcher patients. The regional commander said the usefulness and versatility of helicopters in law enforcement has been demonstrated numerous times in the past. Major Bell stated that he hoped law enforcement officers as well as city and county officials and civil defense directors would take advantage of the availability of this type tool to aid them in performing their duties and rendering a better service to the public.

Son-in-Law of Mrs. Minnick Dedicates D-Day Monument

Major General James F. Cantwell of Trenton, N. J., was the major figure in the dedication of a National Guard Monument June 5 at Vierville-sur-Mer, in France, on the eve of the 25th anniversary of D Day.

General Cantwell is a son-in-law of Mrs. J. H. Minnick, and a brother-in-law of Mrs. Ray Shirley, both of Crowell.

As president of the National Guard Association of the United States, Gen. Cantwell delivered the main dedication speech at the unveiling of the massive stone monument, erected on top of a German pillbox overlooking the famed Omaha beach in Normandy.

Completion of the monument climaxes several years of effort by the 60-year-old general, who fought his way across France in the 1940's. A graduate architect from the University of Pennsylvania, he conceived the idea for the monument when he was elected Guard Association president in 1963. He worked long and hard to raise the $50,000 needed for monument and was helped in Paris by the French architect, Francois Carpentier, one of France's leading creators of war memorials, in completing the design.

Unveiling of the Guard monument was part of a four-day observance sponsored by the French. Special ceremonies were held at the scene of British and Canadian landings, as well as those at Omaha and Utah Beaches, and at St. Lo and Ste. Mere Englise, where American forces battered their way through Hitler's west wall.

Ranking United States, French and British officials, including U. S. Ambassador to France Sargent Shriver, attended.

The monument is native grey granite and stands 18 feet high and is 20 feet square.

It is shaped like a "squared letter C," but the significance of the shape was not explained in material received.

The monument is erected at the site the 29th Blue and Gray Infantry Division—a Guard unit—went ashore at Vierville, June 6, 1944.

Gen. Cantwell, who is married to the former Blanche Elizabeth Minnick of Crowell, noted in his address that the monument is dedicated to all Guardsmen who fought during World Wars I and II in Europe.

More than 100,000 Guardsmen served in Europe during World War II, and nearly 400,000 in World War I. One of every five Americans killed in World War I was a Guardsman and four of every 10 killed in World War II were mobilized Guardsmen, the general said.

He said it is fitting that the monument is on French soil, for National Guardsmen have a very special feeling for France and the people of France. The general cited the long historical association between the two countries, dating to Lafayette and the American Revolution.

He explained that the name of the National Guard, used by early American citizen soldiers, was originally adopted from Lafayette's Garde Nationale. A New York militia unit first adopted the name during Lafayette's last visit to America, and the name spread to include units across the country before its official adoption.

Gen. Cantwell is chief of staff of the New Jersey National Guard, a post he has held since 1954.

The average age of the 14,660,000 World War II veterans is 49.3, the VA reports.

their investments considerably below any other industry.

Recent articles and statements have appeared in the press and other news media doing a gross disservice to the entire cattle and beef industry by indicating cattlemen are greedily holding back animals to force prices up artificially, and that indicate that beef prices are unjustifiably high. Nothing could be further from the truth, and the reverse is actually true. Cattle are being marketed in an orderly fashion, with supplies being slaughtered week to week, showing remarkably little variation. In this way, the beef pipelines have been kept full and maintaining an even flow to the dinner tables of the American people.

The American consumer, industry, and labor can best be served by a prosperous agriculture, since it is the nation's single largest customer for its goods and services.

The American people today are consuming more beef than ever before and of a better quality. The only way that this tremendous demand can be met is for the cattle industry to make a fair return on its investment. The price level to the producer and feeder must continue to go up at least on a par with his costs if he is to stay in business and produce the product in the amounts required. The nation's cattlemen are devoted to supplying the country their best and most enjoyable food, "beef," and will continue to do so if given the opportunity.

Critics of Rising Beef Costs Get Sharp Reply

Critics of rising beef prices received a sharp reply from the president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, T. L. Roach, Jr. of Amarillo, at the meeting of TSCRA directors in Abilene Saturday.

"Beef is still a bargain today," said Roach and he listed numerous facts to support his statement, facts which the public in general is not aware of.

The complete text of the speech follows:

Beef is still a bargain today. The prices received by the producer and feeder at the present time are no higher than they were 17 or 18 years ago. During this same period, general inflation has brought about price increases for all goods and services in excess of 40 per cent. During this same time, per capita disposable income increased 50 per cent. Yet beef today is at the same price structure of 18 years ago. One hour's labor today buys 3½ pounds of beef versus under 3 pounds just 10 years ago—or to compare it to 20 years ago, consumers are getting 66 per cent more beef for the same percentage of after-tax income. In addition, the consumer is getting a far better product than 10 years ago. Over 2/3 of today's beef has spent time in a feedlot, compared to only 40 per cent a few short years ago, resulting in increased tenderness, flavor, and desirability.

Even the cutting and merchandising techniques give today's modern housewife more meat for the table. With new trimming and packaging changes in the last few years, there is less waste and more actual edible meat per pound purchased than ever before.

Groceries are one of the few remaining "cash" expenses in this credit card economy, and consumers see price movements in this area more rapidly than in the case of cars, TV sets, new homes, entertainment expenses, recreation, travel, clothes, and other things. Much of today's so-called high food bills turn out to be a high proportion of non-food items now purchased at the supermarket, which formerly were purchased at department stores, drug stores, or hardware stores. Fully 20 per cent of the "cost of food" is such things as magazines, records, kitchen utensils, cigarettes, shaving cream, and innumerable other non-food items. In addition, boxes, sacks, and containers that much of today's convenience foods repackaged in account for 10 per cent of the grocery bill.

Food costs are more a reflection of the cost of marketing than the price of food itself. The marketing cost of getting a choice steer from the ranch to the consumer is up 15 per cent in the last 8 years. Labor costs alone in the food processing and distribution industries have increased well over 45 per cent when compared to the 1957-59 averages. Prices of food taking less than 17 per cent of the take-home wages have run far below the increased cost of all items and services as measured by the consumer price index. Rents, homes, medical care, entertainment and transportation, to name only a few, have more than doubled the increase in food prices.

Ranchers and feeders, like other businesses, have been faced with increased costs of production which has almost doubled in the past 20 years and resulted in the selling price of their product being at or below the breakeven point of the cost of production. Even with today's improved prices, the cattle industry is receiving a disproportionately lower amount for what they sell in comparison to what they buy, and cattlemen are receiving returns on

Veterans Benefit Measure Signed into Law by Nixon

President Nixon has signed into law the first direct veteran benefit measure passed by the Congress in his administration.

Among its principal provisions, PL 91-22, which became effective June 6, 1969, increases from $17,500 to $21,000 the maximum amount which the Veterans Administration may loan a veteran for a home.

Also raised from $10,000 to $12,500 is the amount which the VA may grant paraplegic veterans for specially adapted housing.

Another provision of the new law extends the specially adapted housing benefit to veterans who have either lost or lost use of one lower extremity and are suffering other service-connected neurological or orthopedic disability requiring regular use of a wheel chair.

Previously, only veterans who had lost or lost use of both lower extremities as the result of military service were eligible for VA "wheelchair home" grants.

Finally, the new law relaxes the first lien requirements for VA-guaranteed home loans to permit guaranty of homes for veterans where basic financing requires first lien security for monthly charges to home buyers for development of community and recreational facilities.

Fresh Fruits and Vegetables Highlight the Food Market

Fresh fruits and vegetables highlight the food market. Look for cantaloupe, plentiful and low in price, and honeydew and watermelons which are moderately priced.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, extension consumer marketing specialist, adds that bananas are featured in many stores to save on the food bill. Oranges, grapefruit, apples and avocados are moderately priced. Early season peaches, apricots, plums, cherries and blueberries are available at relatively high price levels, the specialist says.

At the meat counters, beef prices remain high, especially for steaks and other quick-cooking cuts. To economize, look for beef chuck, round and other cuts in less demand.

Pork prices are up with hams, bacon, picnic and Boston butt roasts among the most reasonable in price. Fryers and turkeys remain a number one bargain in most meat departments although the supply is down. Grade A large size eggs offer the most quality and economy for egg money.

Borrowers Urged to Return Books to County Library

Borrowers of books from the Foard County Library are urged to return overdue books and magazines. In order to encourage the return of these books, the librarian has set a period from now until July 1 in which no fines will be charged for overdue books.

The Foard County Library is operated on a very small budget, and any book that is not returned is a considerable loss to it. The library is supported by club and individual contributions and a small appropriation by the Commissioners' Court. The Foard County Federation of Women's Clubs is the governing body of the Foard County Library.

In its constitution and by-laws, the Foard County Federation has listed certain library rules. Article IV pertains to fines, and reads as follows:

(a) Fines for over-due reference books shall be 25c per day.
(b) Fines on books and magazines shall be 5c per day.
(c) Fines for lost or damaged books shall be determined by librarian.
(d) Fines and fees for lost books and magazines must be paid before checking out others.
(e) No books, or magazines shall be loaned until processed and placed in circulation.

(f) All gift books shall become the property of the library, and be handled as all other material.
(g) Library hours shall be Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. except Wednesday, which shall be from 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

New Books Listed
Mrs. Vetrica Brock, librarian, announces the following new books which have been placed in the library: "The Hurricane Years" by Cameron Hawley; "Our Crowd" by Burmington; "Bill Wallace of China" by Jesse C. Fletcher; "Preserve and Protect" by Allen Drury; "The Rambling Longhorn" by T. C. Richardson; and "2001—A Space Odyssey" by Clarke. One memorial book, "Look of the Old West," by Foster-Harris has been given in memory of Van Wisdom by the Sub-Junior Adelpian Club.

Losing Wallet Hazard of New Credit World

What would happen if you lost your wallet? Could someone go on a shopping spree at your expense?

This is one hazard of the new credit world, points out Mrs. Doris Myers, extension home management specialist at Texas A&M.

Record names and addresses of credit card companies so you can phone and write to them to stop use of the cards. List, too, licenses and other items kept in your wallet.

Keep the list in a safe place for emergencies, advises Mrs. Myers.

E. O. A. C. Mails Out Newsletter to Board Members

Don Ross Malone, executive director of the EOAC, has issued the following newsletter to board members and residents of the four-county area. The letter is dated June 12:

It is time to bring you up to date on what has been happening in the E. O. A. C. offices for the last few weeks.

Mrs. Vester Lee Steward, Neighborhood Center Director for Hardeman County Neighborhood Center and Neighborhood Centers Coordinator, has resigned effective June 30, 1969. She is to be married on June 27 and will make her home in Cleveland, Ohio. We will surely miss Mrs. Steward.

New applications have been forwarded to Austin. We have received approval for the summer recreation program and the Vernon Head Start class for 30 children. Still pending are applications for senior citizens and the migrant education application. We are currently preparing an application for emergency food and medical services.

Several applications have been filed for the position of executive director. The screening committee will be asked to meet within the next two weeks in order to interview the applicants. I have been busy working with the two new approved programs and have just not had time to get everything ready for a meeting.

I have been talking with county judges in some of the recommended expansion counties and have met with limited success to date. OEO has not indicated that they will make additional money available to new counties, but we are persisting in our efforts to interest these counties so that when some development can take place, they will already be aligned with our organization.

Ruben Mitchell, an Operation Mainstream enrollee in Crowell, received the first low-interest FHA loan and is today moving in to his new home. New curtains were donated for the house by interested individuals.

Tim Porter, housing coordinator, is working hard at his job and has been assisting people in all 4 counties to repair their homes. He has set up a schedule to visit the neighborhood centers at regular intervals so that interested people may meet him there if they wish. He is in Vernon on 1st and 3rd Tuesdays of each month, in Quannah on 2nd and 4th Wednesdays, in Crowell on 1st and 3rd Thursdays, and in Paducah on 2nd and 4th Fridays.

Callers and visitors were Blount of Corpus Christi, Marcum of Fort Worth, Mrs. Dan Callaway, Cassway of Crowell; Mrs. Fuller and son, Mike, of Fullerton, and Renee Cooper of Fullerton.

My thanks to each one of many friends whose loving and generous sympathy helped me especially grateful.

Foard ASCS Issues June Newsletter

The June newsletter from the Foard County ASCS to Foard County landowners was mailed out last week. Text of the newsletter follows:

Crop and Livestock Questionnaire—If you have received a questionnaire from the Statistical Reporting Service in Austin, you are urged to answer it as soon as possible.

Burning Stubble—This is a reminder that burning wheat and other small grain stubble has been determined as defeating the purpose of the ACP and will cause payments to be forfeited.

Measuring Service—Measuring service is available for row crops now. If you are not sure about your cotton or feed grain acreage, you are urged to request this service. The charge is $5.50 per hour. This is very nominal when errors could cause payment reduction or loss of all payments.

Certification—We are accepting certification of cotton, feed grain and diverted acres at this time. Early certification will speed up final payments. August 15th is the final date to certify.

Final Date to Plant Cotton—The final date that cotton is required to be planted or replanted is June 20th. After that date, if you are prevented from planting or failed because of natural disaster, you may request planted acreage credit. In the case of failed acreage, the remains of the crop shall not be destroyed until approved by the county committee.

Diverted Acres—Eligible land: 1. equal production as other land; 2. not grazed after May 15th through October 15, 1969. 3. no crop harvested in 1969.

Mill and Farmers Elevator Winners in L. L. Games

Only two games were played in Little League action last week as last Friday night's contests were rained out.

In last Tuesday night's games, Foard County Mill took a 4 to 0 victory over Crowell State Bank, a game in which some of the best infield defensive work of the season was exhibited by both teams, as well as outstanding playing by both of the teams. For the Mill, Stan Gentry got 1 hit and 2 runs; Rocky Glascock, 0 hits and 1 run; and Stephen Stapp got 1 hit and 1 run. Dividing the pitching duties for the winners were Randy Prince and Glascock, with 3 innings each.

Against the Mill pitchers, the Bank got 2 hits and no runs. Getting hits were Tommy Tamplin and Dewayne Finley. Duane Crosby went all the way as pitcher for the Bank.

Only six walks were allowed in this well-played game, which went only 65 minutes for the 6 full innings.

In the late game, VFW lost another one as they fell 16-1 to the Farmers Elevator. Scoring for the Elevator were Allen Tapp 3; Jack Whitley, James Aranda, Timothy Garrett, Milton Maston and Jay Wall, 2 each; and David Bell, Gary Glover, George Brown, one each. Allen Tapp and David Bell were Elevator pitchers.

Scoring VFW's only run was Don Morgan. Getting hits for VFW were Randy Foster, Ricky Hammonds and Richard Naylor. VFW pitchers in this game were Lane Simmons, Dean Hofmann and Don Morgan.

Young Men Needed for Training in Highway Patrol

A last-minute invitation is being given by the Texas Department of Public Safety to high caliber young men to fill its uniform ranks. A recruit training school for the position of patrolman will begin in July.

Applicants must be between the ages of 20 and 35, a height of at least 68 inches, a weight of not less than two pounds or more than 3 1/2 pounds per inch of height, and be in sound physical condition. They must be a citizen of the United States, and be of good moral character.

Because of the short time remaining to test applicants, immediate inquiry is urged for young men to contact the nearest DPS office or patrolman.

The Alternative?

"Friend and foe alike heap a great deal of abuse upon Uncle Sam's expenditures of money and manpower to aid and protect nations quickly which wish to remain free. We wish that more of the critics would reflect . . . on what the alternative would be if Uncle Sam did not stand as a deterrent to Communist encroachment."—Deming, N. M., Headlight.

Foard Residents Invited to Open House in Austin

Governor Preston Smith announced this week that representatives of the 30th and 28th districts, representing Senators Jack Hightower and Grady Hazlewood, will be to a reception in the Governor's Mansion on Monday, June 23, 8:00 p. m.

The governor is holding "Open-Mansion" parties which will eventually open invitations to every citizen in the state. "We have opened the Governor's office in theitol Building for any and all who want to visit with us," Smith said. "We now want to open the doors of the Governor's Mansion and give every Texan opportunity to come visit with us. I am sure that there, Ima and I are looking forward to seeing our friends all over the state, as well as meeting new friends at the same time."

"It is my firm belief that the people know that I will talk to their governor, and be much more responsive to their duties as citizens in a democracy," said Gov. Smith.

Citizens of the 30th and 28th Senatorial Districts are invited to attend the reception, which will be held on Monday, June 23, from 5 to 7 p. m.

The first reception was held in the 28th Senatorial District, Gov. Smith representing the 30th before becoming governor. Receptions are being held in all districts with the chance to visit the office of the Governor.
