Rules Governing New State Park Are Announced by Superintendent

Although the superintendent of the new state park north of Crowell, Bob Martin of Quanah, announced last week that the park is now open to the public, he also issued a word of caution to visitors.

The new 1,928-acre park is still a wilderness area with absolutely no facilities for the public, Martin pointed out.

He emphasized that a state park land is a game preserve and as a result it is unlawful to either hunt or possess firearms on the property. Limited personnel and facilities at the present will not allow any overnight camping, he pointed out.

The new state park property purchased earlier this fall from the H. L. Gossages of Quanah, contains some 12 fishing ponds and small lakes. Since a state park is considered "public waters," a state fishing license will be required.

For the present, the visiting public may enter the park from the "north gate." The state park property borders the north side of Pease River and may be entered from a dirt road that exits from Highway 283 near "Teacup Mountain" about a mile north of the river. To reach the entrance, turn west and drive about a mile and a quarter. A metal gate with sign just inside the property denotes the new state park. Martin asked that the gate be kept latched at all times.

Total of 147 Bales Foard Cotton Ginned Last Week

The Altus Cotton Classing Office reports that last week that office classed 147 bales of Foard County cotton. This brings to 362 the total number of Foard County cotton bales classed by the Altus office thus far this season.

One year ago, the Altus office had classed 7 bales from this county, and two years ago the total classed from the county was 3,466 bales.

The Altus office classed a total of 16,000 bales last week with grades on the cotton classed estimated at 31 per cent in the white grades, and 66 per cent light spotted. Three per cent were spotted grades.

Predominant qualities in the white grades were middling, about evenly distributed in staple lengths from 15-16 to 1 and 1-16 inches, and in the light spotted grades were middling light spotted, and strict low middling light spotted, mostly 15-16 inch.

The Consumer and Marketing Service reported prices continuing to decline. Average prices on predominant qualities showed the farmer received from $1.75 to $3.50 per bale less than the previous week. The better grades and longer staples are not in demand, and are bringing about even with the government loan. The lower grades, especially in staple lengths of 1 inch and shorter, are averaging from $12.50 to $16.50 per bale above the loan.

unfriendly Indians, and never had a good crop, we would not have Thanksgiving Day. Consequently, we would have to go to school until Christmas! Imagine! The holiday parties would be only as many without Thanksgiving.
 It's a wonderful world we live in, and there are many things to be thankful for. Many would say that they are thankful for an education while others are glad when the bell rings at 3:30; many are thankful for food; still others would rather starve than eat spinach or asparagus; some people may be thankful for beautiful weather; while others would rather see a blizzard and no school. Where do you stand in these categories?
 There is not a country in the world that has so many rights and freedoms as ours. So, three cheers for the Pilgrims and best wishes for a happy Thanksgiving from the Wildcat!

Wells; The Scarlet Letter, a thrilling story by Nathaniel Hawthorne; and a host of exciting new books for all types of people. These new books can also be added to the long list of things the librarians are thankful for this Thanksgiving week. Some librarians were asked what they were thankful for. Their replies were "Being able to attend CHS, having a good Christian family, opportunities, and little sisters."
 The library is very thankful for the new hard working librarians, such as this week's featured librarian, Margaret Ann Foster. She is a sophomore at CHS and enjoys playing basketball and eating fish. She's a member of the First Christian Church and plans to attend Midwest Christian College after graduation. Margaret is truly thankful for the new books because her favorite pastime is reading good books.

Give Savings Bonds This Christmas
 "This year, U. S. Savings Bonds make better-than-ever Christmas gifts," Rex Brack, Texas chairman for the Treasury's Savings Bonds Program, said this week. "The interest rate is higher than ever, and the popular E Bond has a shorter-than-ever maturity period."
 The recently announced 1/2 per cent bonus brings the effective rate of interest on bonds bought today at 5 1/2 per cent if held to maturity—and E Bonds now mature in only 5 years, 10 months.
 There are other reasons for buying Savings Bonds as gifts, Brack pointed out. "You don't have to worry about style, size, shape, or color. And they're priced to fit almost any pocketbook. They're indestructible—if lost, stolen, mutilated, or destroyed, the Treasury will replace them free of charge. They're patriotic, too."
 "It's easy to buy Bonds. Your bank has them available in denominations ranging from $25 to $1,000. And you now have a choice of four colorful—and free—gift envelopes."

Worth Noting
 Cash receipts from farm marketing in 1969 totaled around $1 billion, of which $28 billion came from livestock and livestock products and $19 billion from crops. The total in 1950 was only $1 billion. The increase since 1950 stems almost entirely from a substantially larger volume of the products marketed, since prices received by farmers in 1969 averaged slightly higher than in 1950. The bill for farm production expenses added up $38.6 billion in 1969, about double that of 1950. In 1969, production expenses got 71 cents each gross income dollar.

The total in 1950 was only $1 billion. The increase since 1950 stems almost entirely from a substantially larger volume of the products marketed, since prices received by farmers in 1969 averaged slightly higher than in 1950. The bill for farm production expenses added up $38.6 billion in 1969, about double that of 1950. In 1969, production expenses got 71 cents each gross income dollar.

4-H Is Also for Urban Youth
 An effort to appeal to more urban youth has resulted in the Texas 4-H Plan, reports Dr. D. L. Stormer, state 4-H club leader. Rural 4-H programs will not be reduced in quality, but the overall quality of the statewide program will be enhanced, he said. Urban youth already are conducting many projects which are adapted to their use and others are being planned.

Pollution Problem
Recognized in 1896

Pollution control, or the lack of it, is not a new problem. The National Wildlife Federation dug this timely item from old records of the Pennsylvania Commissioners of Fisheries: "With each recurring year the Commissioners make strong protest against the extent to which the streams of the State are polluted. The silt and sulphur water of coal mines, the refuse of tanneries and chemical works, saw dust from saw mills, and deleterious material of all kinds are emptied into our rivers and streams with impunity. Attempts at legislation which will deal severely with this crying evil have vainly been made, for selfish corporate interests have been hitherto too powerful."

The year was 1896.

U. S. Farm Exports
In the past fiscal year, commercial exports of U. S. farm products reached a new record, contributing $5.7 billion to the plus side of international trade balance. In total, exports of farm products amounted to $6.6 billion and accounted for the production from almost 60 million acres of cropland.

Former Crowell Man
Completes 25 Years
With West Texas U.

Forty-two years of service in the newspaper field reached another milestone for J. L. (Jimmie) Martin August 1 when the Electric Times editor completed a quarter of a century of service with West Texas Utilities Co.

Mr. Martin is a former resident of Crowell when his father owned and operated the Foard County News.

Martin was employed by WTU in August, 1945, and was assigned the task of renewing publication of the company's employee magazine which had suspended publication during WW II. Since that time it has been published once a month for the past 25 years.

Martin was born in Hale, Mo., in 1906, and moved to El Campo, Texas, with his family when he was three years of age. His father owned and operated the El Campo Citizen for three years before moving to Crowell in 1912. Mr. Martin, one of the pioneer West Texas newspapermen, operated the Foard County News until 1916 when he purchased the Roysse City News-Times in Rockwall County.

It was in this country newspaper shop that Jimmie began his long career of newspapering as a "printer's devil." In 1921 the Martin family moved to Mexia where they operated the Mexia Evening News during the early oil boom days. They returned to Roysse City in 1923 and resumed operation of the Roysse City newspaper.

Following graduation from Roysse City High School in 1924, Mr. Martin purchased the Scurry County Times Signal, and Jimmie moved to Abilene to enroll in Simmons College. While attending Simmons, Jimmie worked on all of the college publications, served as a cartoonist on The Brand, was art and layout editor of The Bronco, and was editor of the 1928 Bronco.

Following graduation from Simmons University in 1928 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in English and history, Jimmie and his father purchased the Heart 'O Texas News in Brady which they operated until 1931 when they purchased the Childress Daily Index. Two years later they moved to McCamey and operated the McCamey News until they returned to Brady in 1943 to operate the Brady Sentinel. Following the retirement of the elder Martin, Jimmie was employed at Curtis Field as paymaster of the Brady Flying School which was a contract flying school for the training of Air Force cadets. Shortly before the end of WW II, the field closed and Jimmie moved to Abilene to begin his 25 years of service as editor of the Electric Times.

The Electric Times has received national recognition numerous times during the past quarter of a century. On seven occasions, the editor and WTU have been awarded the George Washington Honor Medal by Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa., for their efforts in helping to promote a better understanding of the American Way of Life. These national awards were made in 1951, 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963, 1964 and 1965. In 1959 and again in 1960 the Electric Times was awarded first place in the better copy contest by the Public Utilities Advertising Association. In 1969 Martin was named to Who's Who in the South and Southwest.

Mrs. Martin is the former Marjetta Session of Brady and the couple are the parents of two daughters.

Litterers Use
Landscape as Handy Receptacle

Along one stretch on one of the many scenic Central Texas rivers, sparkling water seeps through the porous limestone riverbed and bubbles up clear and sparkling in potholes along the river's edge.

But the water in the potholes doesn't sparkle for long because sightseers come to the potholes to stare at their reflections and then dump their garbage in what they obviously think is a natural trash bin.

Although the area was once unique in its beauty, it is now just one more receptacle for the litterer's tools of trade—the empty bottle and can and the used tissue. To the litterer, it seems, the whole world is a receptacle. He lines swimming areas with broken beer bottles, and decorates the beach with cans.

Flies feast on his watermelon rinds left rotting on picnic tables, and even the air is littered with wind-blown paper plates and bread wrappers.

Who is responsible for what Keep America Beautiful Inc., a private organization devoted to fighting litter, calls "a $500 million crime?"

Although it is attractive to blame outsiders and tourists for all the garbage on the landscape, the truth is, according to KAB, that residents of an area are the ones who foul their own nests the most.

Persons who have made a study of the litter problem say there is one single reason for most of the litter in our parks, lakes and highways—laziness. A can, after it is emptied, becomes a tremendous burden even though it weighs approximately three ounces. A candy wrapper which could be wadded up and pocketed to be disposed of later instead flutters to the ground. And the remains of a Sunday picnic raises its stench Monday afternoon just a few feet from the refuse barrel.

Could Be Best Seller

"At $6.75, it is more expensive than the usual run-of-the-mill publications printed by the Government Printing Office, but the 'catalog of federal domestic assistance' could become a best seller in this age of the handout. . . One of the most interesting pages in the 1,033-page catalog is the index. It shows vividly the many overlapping activities of federal agencies. 'Aid to education,' for instance, is cross referenced to 330 programs administered by 26 agencies. Even 'environmental improvement' already has garnered 51 separate programs under six agencies. Federal officials who are realistically interested in streamlining government should make a point of reading this volume. There is enough meat in its pages to keep an army busy pruning, consolidating and eliminating duplication and waste for years."—Towanda, Pa., Review.

State Employees
Want 17 Per Cent
Increase in Pay

State employees want a 17 per cent pay raise within the next two years. They served notice of their desire at the annual meeting of the Texas Public Employees Association.

TPEA's legislative program for 1971 seeks a three-step (10.2 per cent) raise effective next September; and a two-step (6.8 per cent) hike the following September; plus a 3.4 per cent merit raise for half of the employees.

Also requested are "career incentive" benefits—a $10 a month automatic raise after three years of service, ranging up to a $60 a month supplement for employees with 30 years' service.

Substantial pension benefits also were included in TPEA's far-reaching legislative package which would give retired employees with 30 years' service 50 per cent of their base pay.

State employees also want their travel allotments boosted to $16 a day per diem and 12 cents a mile.

Is It Consideration—Or Discrimination?

Some of the traditional attitudes toward the weaker sex seem to be falling victim of 20th century legislation, and the business community finds itself perplexed as to how female employees should now be treated, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States reports.

Consider the case of Libbey-Owens-Ford, which felt it was in the right by observing such Ohio laws as the ones protecting women from lifting heavy objects in their work, or from having to work long hours.

Not so, said the Federal Government, charging the company with discriminating against the female workers in the first such court case filed. The basis of the suit is the equal employment opportunities protection of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The National Chamber thinks the great majority of citizens would agree with Congresswoman Leonor K. Sullivan, (D-Mo.) who said, "There are many jobs that women should not have, because of our makeup, that men are better able to handle."

Who knows what will happen if the constitutional amendment giving women equal rights under all laws—already approved by the House—becomes the law of the land?

Value of Dollar

"A noteworthy note—from the H. R. Gross newsletter . . . 'If anyone wants to see what has really happened to the dollar in the last 30 years, he has but to take a look at the following official government figures, which show its purchasing power at five year intervals, beginning with 1939 as the base year: 1939—100 cents; 1944—79c; 1949—58c; 1954—52c; 1959—48c; 1964—45c; and 1969—37c.'—Stacyville, Iowa, Monitor.

to inflationary fires with its continuing excessive spending, and the resulting budget deficits.

In just over two years, the value of the dollar has declined 11 per cent. This can be traced to the enormous $25 billion deficit incurred by the Federal Government for the 1968 fiscal year.

Deficits in the federal budget for the two fiscal years since then have also helped perpetuate the needless decline in the purchasing power of the dollar, and prospects for the current year are for a continuation of the same old federal red ink.

The time has come to shake the habit of deficit government spending that feeds such inflation, the National Chamber contends, however painful such action may be.

Regardless of how attractive and popular appropriation measures seem—particularly in this election year—Congress must consider the full impact of such spending, and what any resulting budget deficit will do to the taxpayer's dollar.

President Nixon, in expressing his concern over irresponsible spending, said, "The Congress must examine with special care these spending programs which benefit some of the people, but which really raise taxes and prices of all the people."

It's time the taxpaying citizen insists that his congressman apply such a spending test to new appropriation bills. And it's time that deficit spending is curbed so that inflationary pressure are stopped from further eroding our wages and savings.

MONEY we spend away from home does not help pay taxes in our community, and it's obvious that come next year somebody must make up the difference . . .

Guess Who...

About one-third of every dollar we spend goes to help pay the RUNNING expenses—and the GROWING expenses—of some American community . . . OUR community, if we spend that dollar at home . . . SOMEBODY ELSE'S community, if we spend the dollar where HE lives.

When a dollar leaves home that could just as well OR BETTER have been spent here . . . the part of it that helps support the community goes along, too, of course. And our own community tax pot has less money in it.

But schools and roads and streets, churches and local charities, police and fire protection, . . . all of the normal necessities and conveniences of community life . . . go on costing about the same.

So . . . with community expenses the same, and community income LESS . . . who makes up the difference? WE DO, You might say it's sort of like paying taxes TWICE . . . once for the other fellow . . . and then going down in our pockets to pay them again . . . for ourselves.

Housewives Don't Blame Farmer As Food Prices Mount Steadily

Paoli, Pa.—Not too many years ago riders on the Paoli Local commuting between this suburban community and Philadelphia could look out from the railcar windows and see an occasional farm still remaining amid the sprawling fields of new ranchers and colonial homes. Today's commuters have to continue west of Paoli, toward Lancaster, to see an active farm from their air-conditioned Metroliner cars.

While city and suburban dwellers are becoming more and more removed from association with farmers, they are, naturally, tied to the farmer for their very existence. But many residents of our growing megopolis communities relate to the farmer only through their food bills at the supermarket checkout counter. And while metropolitan housewives are unanimous in their condemnation of increasing food prices, most of them feel the farmer is not to blame for the increases they see marked on the grocery shelves.

Mrs. William Major, whose husband is an oil company sales executive and who resides here on an appropriately named street called Rustic Lane, thinks food prices today are "fantastic!" "But I don't think the farmer is to blame," she said. "The increased price for food is not filtering back to them. It's the middleman."

Mrs. Major admits to distant contacts with the farm, noting that her husband "has relatives who operate a dairy farm upstate, and they have really had a rough time of it. They had to let one of the hired men go last year."

But other housewives, who do not have even this remote contact with the farm, are not blaming the farmer for spiraling food costs. Mrs. Robert York, a suburban Newark, N. J., resident, felt there were substantial rises in meat and dairy products, and another Newark housewife said prices had definitely risen, adding, "I complain about it every week." She admitted that she wasn't sure why they were up, but was quick to say, "I know the farmer isn't getting more. Too many people are leaving the farm. If they were getting enough money, they'd stay." And a young Phoenix housewife, who thinks food prices "have doubled in recent years" said, "For the price they're charging us, what the farmer's getting is not fair."

So it seems that if the American housewife and the American farmer exchanged stories, they would probably conclude by shaking hands in sympathy. Farmers, like shoppers, are aware that food prices are increasing.

But the farmer has a story of change to tell, a story of progress that is benefiting the consumer, while leaving him a bit like the inventor who dies a pauper. Without this farm progress, the price of food would be much greater than it is today.

Almost unnoticed by a growing suburban and city population, farmers have been trading muscle power for machine power at accelerated rates. In the early 1800s farmers were using grain harvesting tools that had changed little from Biblical times. Yet in a little over a hundred years they traded these hand tools for giant machines that complete the entire harvesting operation automatically.

In the 1930's, when most farmers were still using horses for power, it took 74 man-hours of work to produce 100 bushels of wheat. Today it's been cut to 10, or a 550 per cent increase in output per man-hour. And, since 1950 the production per man-hour in agriculture has increased at a rate more than double that of all non-farm industry.

The farm worker is now producing enough food and fiber to supply 45 people—almost twice as many people as he was producing for just 10 years ago. This dramatic increase in efficiency and productivity has enabled the American family to spend less of its income for food than ever before.

The average American family is currently spending only 16.5 per cent of its income after taxes for food. Twenty years ago it was 22 per cent. In Western Europe the present figure averages 25 per cent and in the USSR it's almost 50 per cent.

This takes us back to the check-out counter and increasing food prices. Why are they up? Inflation and a growing demand for convenience foods are the popular answers. Marketing costs have skyrocketed in recent years and more and more foods are appearing concentrated, dehydrated, ready-mixed, or ready-to-serve.

Farmers receive from one and one-half to three cents a pound for whole potatoes and the cost at the supermarket for instant mashed potatoes is around 74 cents a pound. According to the United States Department of Agriculture figures, the difference between farm value and retail continues to grow, increasing more than 20 per cent in the last 10 years.

A brochure of farm facts published by New Holland, the farm equipment division of Sperry Rand Corporation, states, "In spite of the fact that modern American farmers are the world's most productive and efficient food producers, they've been caught in a squeeze between rising operating costs and declining wholesale farm produce prices."

According to USDA figures for the first quarter of 1970, the farmer averages $1.29 per hour for work performed—compared with $3.30 per hour for the average production worker and $2.96 for a food market employee. Farmers' incomes have improved, but today the average farmer still earns only 3/4 as much as his off-farm counterpart. How have they kept going?

According to Under Secretary of Agriculture J. Phil Campbell, "by borrowing more and more against rising land values to buy machinery and supplies, to expand their businesses, to send their kids to school, and to meet living expenses."

"Taxpayer Revolt" Not Likely to Happen

"I read occasionally of the possibility one day of a 'taxpayer revolt,' but it is not likely to happen, since there is little unity or organization in the protests of the middle-class taxpaying group. What is far more likely is that the day will come—and the trend is already well established—that the government will be the controlling agency for virtually every facet of business and personal life. And it will be, in large part, because the self-same people comprising the majority class have been too busy or too unconcerned or too indifferent and have relinquished more and more responsibility to the government."—Winona, Miss., Times.

From the News . . . THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, Nov. 21, 1940, edition of The Foard County News:

Outside work on the Foard County Hospital, now under construction as a county sponsored WPA project here, has been finished with the exception of cleaning down the outside walls.

Classification of Foard County's 666 registrants for military training under the Selective Service Act was started in Crowell Tuesday by the local board and within the next few days about 25 men will be notified to appear for physical examination.

All farmers who produced cotton in 1940 are eligible to vote in the Dec. 7 referendum to determine if cotton marketing quotas will be in effect on the 1941 crop. H. R. Zeibig, chairman of the Foard County AAA committee, points out.

Dick Todd of Crowell scored the only touchdown of the game to lead the Washington Redskins to a 7 to 3 win over the Chicago Bears in Washington, D. C., last Sunday.

Rev. H. A. Longino will be the new pastor of the Crowell Methodist Church.

Junior Haseloff, end on the Crowell High School Wildcat eleven, jumped into prominence in Texas high school football circles when Harold V. Ratliff, Associated Press writer, picked up his outstanding gridiron record and spread it over the country to papers served by the Associated Press.

Foard County's first quota under the Selective Service Act, which was one man, was filled Tuesday morning when Arvel Bledsoe of Margaret left for Dallas where he will be issued supplies and routed to a camp for one year's military training. He was the first man to volunteer to the local board in Crowell and was the first man to be accepted from this county under the Selective Service Act.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Ford and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ford and baby of Crowell were injured when their truck crashed into a bank on the highway 10 miles south of Floydada Friday night.

The Crowell High School Wildcats will close their 1940 football season when they meet the Throckmorton Greyhounds Thursday afternoon at 2:30 in what is headlined as the outstanding game in District 9-A this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Callaway returned to Crowell last week from Saint Jo where they had been living for several months. Mr. Callaway is with the State Highway Department and will be employed on the improvement program on the state highway west of Crowell.

Mrs. Alva Spencer and Mrs. L. A. Andrews went to College Station Sunday to visit their sons, Joe Spencer and Tom Andrews. They returned home Monday accompanied by Joe.

Several men in the Foard City community killed hogs last week while it was cold.

"Guaranteed Family Income" Opposed

Proposed federal legislation granting a "guaranteed family income" to an additional 3 to 5 million families at an initial cost of $5 billion a year has been opposed by the California State Chamber of Commerce. They said: "There is good reason to believe that this is the most significant legislation to confront Congress in a generation and is one of the most far-reaching issues in our history. The welfare system should be improved for those who need help the most—the aged, blind and disabled or families where the father is either unemployed or absent, but we see only adverse effects from an experiment that guarantees an income even to families with employed fathers. The goal of a government welfare program should be to move able-bodied adults from the welfare rolls to the payrolls."

Sardines

Sardines aren't really sardines at all, according to extension home economists at Texas A&M University. The fish is an Atlantic herring, one of the most abundant and important food fish in the North Atlantic.

Hospitals May Be Given More Time in Nurse Shortage

Texas hospitals which have faced possible loss of Medicare certification due to the scarcity of registered nurses may have additional time to solve their problems if tentative approval of the Senate Finance Committee of a relief-granting proposal is accepted by both Houses of Congress.

The office of Congressman J. (Jake) Pickle of Austin advised the Texas Hospital Association in Austin that tentative approval of legislation introduced by Congressman Pickle and United States Senator Ralph Yarborough, is the first step to help many of the smaller hospitals of Texas which need more registered nurses to meet current medicare requirements. Similar legislation had also been introduced by U. S. Senator John Tower and Congressman Omar Burleson of Texas.

The amendment, which would change medicare requirements, would authorize the Secretary of Health, Education, Welfare to waive the requirement calling for registered nurses to be on duty 24 hours per day in hospitals providing service to medicare patients. The requirement for 24-hour registered nurse coverage could be waived annually for one year at a time until January 1, 1975. The amendment would affect approximately 140 Texas hospitals. Hospital would be required annually to:

1. Demonstrate they have made an effort to recruit registered nurses needed for around the clock coverage.
2. Show that there is a shortage of registered nurses in the geographic area served by the hospital.

3. Show that there is no other Medicare certified hospital in the immediate area or nearby. In waiving the 24-hour requirement the hospital will still be required to have registered nurses on duty during daytime working hours.

O. Ray Hurst, executive vice president of the Texas Hospital Association, said "Hospital administrators recognized in 1964 that registered nurses would be in short supply if medicare requirements were to be met. To meet the need, the association organized the Texas Health Careers Program to interest young people pursuing careers in the health field. Since 1965 full time members of the association's staff have encouraged Texas young people explore health career interests. In 1969-70 over 220,000 young people were contacted."

SOME QUESTIONS TO ASK THE PRINTING AND OFFICE SUPPLIES PEDDLER

When the person selling printing, office supplies and advertising solicits your business, here are some questions he should be willing to answer to YOUR SATISFACTION:

1. Is he a taxpayer in your community or county?
2. Does he donate space in the newspaper to local and county projects and enterprises?
3. Does he pay wages to employees who live and do business in your community?
4. Does he grant favors that you would ask of your local newspaper?
5. Does he donate newspaper space to promote you and your neighbor's business?
6. Does his price include freight, postage and insurance?
7. Does he support your civic organizations, schools and churches with free publicity?

We sincerely believe that these questions should be considered when you purchase printing and office supplies—a question of whether you should support those who help support you!

Once-Across-The-Field Is New Concept in Row Crop Farming

Interested in lowering the cost it takes to raise cotton, small grain, guar? Want to be able to farm more acres with fewer hands?

"No tillage" which can reduce soil erosion 65 to 95 per cent—is taking off faster than any agricultural practice since hybrid corn. That's the assessment of the Soil Conservation Service which says the once-across-the-field method of plowing and planting was used on seven million acres this year compared with three million planted in 1969.

No-tillage, sometimes called zero tillage, slot planting, or slit planting, means that seed is planted directly into a cover of crop residues blanketing the entire field. In one trip across the field, the farmer simultaneously plants the seed, puts on fertilizer, and adds herbicides.

The conservation angle is that only 10 per cent of the surface soil is disturbed in the whole operation. In field tests in Ohio, the switch from conventional methods to no-tillage reduced soil losses from 7.8 tons per acre to .03 tons per acre—a whopping 95 per cent plus.

SCS chief agronomist R. D. Blakely says, "If the no-till principle of complete ground cover had been understood and followed on the Great Plains earlier in this century, the dust bowl and the dirty thirties would never have happened."

Only about 4,000 acres of no-tillage was done last year in Texas, according to Vernon area conservationist Wayne Chapman. However, the High Plains area farmers are really going to this farming method this year.

One trial of corn following corn at Dalhart last year resulted in 160 bushels per acre where no-tillage was practiced. This compares to 130 bushels per acre where minimum tillage was practiced. This was discd only once. Much of the no-tillage operations involve planting a row crop into a growing small grain crop which has been used for grazing. The small grain is killed with a contact chemical such as paraquat as the next crop is planted. Another chemical such as atrazine for delayed weed kill and fertilizer is usually applied at the same time.

Writer Gives Congress Credit for Some Teen-Age Problems

"Quite a few people shake their heads in disapproval of a great deal of current teen-age 'goings on.' Yet, in all fairness to them, we can say in a large degree that today's teen-agers are what Congress made them. The old adage says that 'the devil makes work for idle hands,' and if anything created idle hands, passage into law of the inflationary minimum wage law has done more than its share, especially in the teen-age market. Now, I am not saying that a person should not be paid a living wage. I am saying that many, many teen-agers want jobs and would work for much less than a minimum wage, just to keep busy and make some spending money. But the minimum wage law . . . in effect . . . has closed job opportunities for most teen-agers." — Chattahoochee, Fla., Twin City News.

A Good Question for Your Congressman

"Of course all the chatter about the 'truth in packaging' bills in congress is a bunch of window dressing for the folks back home, but it will give those public servants an excuse to set up dozens of more boards, inspectors, department heads, assistants, etc. You might ask your representative or senator about the law that went into effect July 1, adding 3 per cent to the price of all airline tickets, the raise to go to the government. It will not be designated as a tax on the ticket, and any agent who tells a purchaser that the 3 per cent addition is a tax can be fined $100 for each time he tells the deep, dark secret. Do you think the Russians can beat that?"—Shidler, Okla., Review.

An hour's work today buys 25 per cent more pork, 20 per cent more beef, 13 per cent more milk, 25 per cent more peas, and 40 per cent more eggs than it did in the late 1950's.

Tax Exemption and Deferral . . .

Have you done anything about building a backstop for your golden days? As you get ready for retirement, you should consider the tax advantages of U. S. Savings Bonds.

Interest on U. S. Savings Bonds is exempt from state and local income tax. For federal income tax purposes, the tax on accrued interest on Series E Bonds may be deferred until they are either redeemed or reach maturity. (No Series E or H Savings Bond has yet reached "final" maturity.)

This makes U. S. Savings Bonds an excellent retirement instrument. Income is usually lower in retirement years and, with the benefit of the double exemption after age 65, tax liability on accrued interest could be greatly reduced or even eliminated. If you want regular income, Savings Bonds provide another retirement option—again, with a big tax advantage. Series E Bonds may be exchanged for current-income Series H Bonds, with the accumulated interest applied as part of the purchase price of the H Bonds.

The tax liability on such E-Bond interest may be further deferred until the H Bonds are redeemed or mature. Series H Bonds pay interest by Treasury checks every six months. Those payments must be reported currently for federal income tax purposes.

"Improvements" in Mail Service

The first step toward improving mail service taken by the newly-created "New Postal Service," interestingly enough, was to design a new postal emblem, to change the colors of postal uniforms, and to order a new color scheme for the postal mail boxes. If this is typical of the imaginative new approach to mail service envisioned by Congress in creating the politically independent "New Postal Service," the next forward step will probably be a four-day week for service and a 10-day delay-en-route for letters.

Matter of fact about the only obvious changes in the postal service may be the colors of the uniforms and the mail boxes . . . and the removal of all Congressional pressure for improvement of service. The same people are running the new "corporation" who ran the old "department," but now they are independent of political pressure . . . which, roughly translated, means that the public can really be damned now.

It is, of course, a foregone conclusion that postal rates will have to be increased substantially to pay for all this new efficiency and economy. That's another change that will soon be evident.

As we recall, it was President Eisenhower whose major contribution to postal reform was to have all the mail boxes painted red, white and blue. President Nixon's administration has settled on a single color . . . blue . . . possibly reserving the red and white bold new ideas for future improvements in the service.

Large Crowd Attends Eastern Star Dinner and Program Nov. 17

A skit presented by Pat Cates and Miss Peggy Raspberry, accompanied by Miss Sharla Haynie, pianist, entertained some 75 persons when Crowell Chapter No. 916, Order of the Eastern Star, hosted its annual Masonic night, Nov. 17, in the Masonic hall.

Rev. Walter Driver, pastor of the First United Methodist Church gave the invocation preceding the turkey dinner.

Mrs. Alyene Pittillo, worthy matron, extended the welcome and recognized the officers of the Crowell and Thalia lodges and the local Eastern Star. W. R. Moore, worthy patron, led the pledge of allegiance to the flag and "America" was sung. Rev. Driver gave the benediction.

Confederate Money Proving Valuable

"Up in New Haven, Conn., Yale University has come into quite a bit of money. Confederate money, and Yale is delighted. Thanks to a gift of some 9,000 notes and other once-negotiable C. S. A. paper, Yale now has one of the largest and most valuable collections of Confederate currency in the world, worth something like $100,000 on today's booming collector's market. You don't have to look far for the ironic point. What with the dollar continuing to lose its battle with inflation, saving Confederate money turns out to have been a good idea after all." — Waltham, Mass., News-Tribune.

Boost Community

"We exchange papers with many of the papers in the surrounding area. After reading them for a time you discover that most small communities have about the same problems and the same goals. They are all searching for new industry, more people and better facilities. On the other hand most of them are trying to lower taxes and get grants from the federal government. They succeed or fail in all of the projects in varying degrees generally because of circumstances beyond their control. Basically, most of these communities are about the same. The thing that makes them different is that one is your hometown. Boost your community, it helps everyone."—Elk Point, S. D., Leader-Courier.

Share Responsibility

"Those who have encouraged hatred, militancy and abuse of members of the establishment must share the responsibility for the rising number of killings of policemen, in various parts of the country. In several cases . . . particularly ugly killings have struck down policemen, sometimes more than one in the same shootout. In New York City . . . two policemen were brutally killed in the same week—one shot through the heart and the other stabbed as he sat in his patrol car . . . Unless the nation considers its peace-keeping officers friends, to be helped and supported, there is little chance America will be a peaceful, stable society of order and progress."—Lafayette, Ala., Sun.

American Medical News commented, "It is always distressing to read of an epidemic of a preventable disease, such as the diphtheria outbreak . . . (which affected) San Antonio. Modern vaccination procedures have all but wiped out diphtheria and several other once-dreaded diseases. But unless vaccination levels remain high, the threat of epidemic is still real. Physicians, other health workers, and parents must exert constant vigilance against such lapses in coverage."

Miss Janis Bell and Ike Everson Wed Here Sunday

Miss Janis Maudyn Bell became the bride of Ike Marvin Everson in a double ring ceremony read at the home of the bride Sunday afternoon, November 22, at 2 p. m.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Everson and Mrs. Recie Womack and the late J. A. Bell, all of Crowell.

Rev. Warren Everson, pastor of Bethel Church and uncle of the groom, officiated at the exchange of vows.

Mrs. Walter Stapp, organist, provided musical selections preceding the wedding.

An arch entwined with lemon leaves graced the front of the fireplace where the couple took their vows. Bouquets of white gladioli and carnations were placed at other points throughout the den, living room and kitchen.

The bride was escorted by her step-father, Mr. Womack who presented her to her brother, Steve Bell, who gave her in marriage.

The bride wore a floor length white gown of Venice lace. The bodice featured a scooped neckline. The long sleeves ended in petal points at the wrists.

Her chapel train flowed softly from a bow on the back of the bodice. Her veil was an Alencon lace forward piece with a peau de soie top trimmed with pearls.

She wore pearl earrings and a silver bell necklace, a gift of the groom. The traditional something old, new, borrowed and blue was carried out, and she wore two six-pence in her shoe. The six pence were gifts of her brother, Steven Bell of Scotland.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli and fringed carnations atop a white Bible.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Dewey Harris of Andrews, the bride's sister. She wore a two-piece blue suit with black accessories, white gloves and a blue headpiece. She carried a hand bouquet of white carnations with blue net streamers.

Miss Sissie Knapke of Andrews was bridesmaid and she was attired in a blue dress, with black accessories, white gloves and a blue headpiece. Her bouquet was identical to that of the matron of honor.

The groom's mother wore a pink bonded knit sheath with black accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations.

The bride's mother chose an A line mist green silk and wool Eloise dress with Sabrina neckline. The dress had bracelet length bell sleeves and overlays of imported beading on them. She wore silver accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Larry Everson served his brother as best man and groomsman was Steve Bell.

A reception was held immediately following the exchange of vows. The bride's table was covered with a white cutwork cloth em-brothered in pale blue. A three-tiered cake had blue roses entwined from the top to the bottom.

Blue frost circled the crystal punch bowl; white carnations were placed at close intervals and tiny blue birds were perched atop glistening miniature wedding bells.

The blue crystal belonged to the late Mrs. S. S. Bell, grandmother of the bride. Blue candelabra held long white tapers and flanked the punch bowl. Other appointments were of the same heirloom blue.

Serving the punch and cake were Miss Veda Lynn Everson, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Larry Everson, his sister-in-law.

Miss Jeannette Bolibruch registered the guests and the bride's nephew, Steven Wayne Harris of Andrews, distributed rice bags.

Assisting with other hostess duties were Mmes. Howard Ferguson, W. W. Lemons, Blake McDaniel, V. A. Johnson, Leo Cates and Fred Collins.

For going-away, Mrs. Everson wore a blue and white 3-piece bonded knit pants suit with red accessories. She wore the carnations from her bridal bouquet. They will be at home in Amarillo about December 1.

The bride is a 1970 graduate of Crowell High School where she was a member of FHA and was homecoming queen in 1969. She also belonged to the Sub-Junior Adelpian Club and the MYF.

She had been employed at the Andrews Nursing Home in Andrews.

The groom is a 1969 graduate of Crowell High School where he was a member of FFA and the football team for four years.

He is employed by Welding Equipment and Supply Company in Amarillo.

Several parties were given for the bride, one of which was a miscellaneous shower given on Saturday, November 14, at the Methodist Church. The honoree; her mother, Mrs. Womack; Mrs. Dayton Everson, mother of the groom; and Mrs. Everson, grandmother of the groom, formed the receiving line.

The table was laid with milk glass, featuring a milk glass centerpiece filled with an artificial arrangement of assorted blue flowers and tiny white love birds nestled in the flowers. This centerpiece was presented to the bride-elect from the hostess. The register table was attended by Mrs. Larry Wright, and serving at the tea table were Mrs. Dewey Harris, sister of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Larry Everson.

Tiny cookies decorated with blue and white and frosted punch were served to a number of guests.

Hostesses for the shower were Mmes. Fred Collins, Guy Stephens, W. L. Johnson, Jack Welch, Mike Rasberry, Tommy Carpenter, Cecil Carpenter, Blake McDaniel and Howard Ferguson.

Miss Janis Bell Named Honoree at Shower

Miss Janis Bell, bride-elect of Ike Everson, was honoree at a kitchen gadget shower in the home of Miss Peggy Rasberry. Hosts were members of the United Methodist Youth Fellowship.

An autumn color scheme set the theme. A buffet supper was served from a table laid with an orange, yellow and brown cloth, centered with an arrangement of dried seed pods and flowers. Table appointments were of crystal, silver and gold.

Miss Bell was presented with a corsage fashioned of a copper chore girl and measuring spoons and was also given an assortment of useful kitchen gadgets.

Party games were enjoyed by those attending: Misses Kristi McLain, Peggy Welch, Kimberly Norman, Kristi Shirley, Susan Autry, Jana Russell, Donna Vecera, Pam Whately, Peggy Rasberry, the honoree, Mrs. Grady Halbert and Mrs. R. G. Rasberry and Trey Autry and Marvin Machac.

Columbian Club

The Columbian Club met in the home of Mrs. John S. Ray on November 18 for the Thanksgiving program. In the absence of the president, the vice president, Mrs. N. J. Roberts, presided.

Mrs. Louise Spotts was welcomed as a member.

During the business session, plans were made for entertaining the county federation on November 30. Mrs. M. N. Kenner, the leader, asked that the roll call be answered with "why I am thankful." Mrs. Kenneth gave a devotional based on the 107th Psalm.

Mrs. Idoma Chowning gave a very interesting article on the Pilgrims and the first Thanksgiving; beginning with their leaving England, their troubles in Holland and their return to England before beginning their journey to the New World; then the long cold winter during which so many died.

She stressed the fact that Massachusetts and at least 60 of his tribe were at the first Thanksgiving and contributed to the game that was served.

During the social hour, the hostess served refreshments to ten members and one guest, Mrs. David Johnson.

The next meeting will be on December 16 with Mrs. Ed Huskey for the Christmas meeting.

Pink and Blue Shower

Mrs. Bobby Bond was honored with a pink and blue shower in the home of Mrs. Earl Ingle Friday evening. Hostesses were Mmes. Jim Owens, A. B. Owens, Ray Hysinger, Arthur Bell and Frankie Halencak.

The refreshment table was laid with a blue damask cloth with a pink floral arrangement flanked by pink candles.

Fruit punch was served with cookies, mints and nuts to the following guests: Floy Murphy, Mary Tamplin, Vera Thomas of Crowell, Esther Rummel, Jean Smith, Zella McGinnis, Myrtle Taylor, Dora Fay Etter, Lula Bradford, Agnes Dunn, Emma Bowers, Virginia Whately of Crowell, Kathleen Robertson, Mrs. Claude Orr of Thalia, Mrs. Kenneth Bowden, Mrs. Wilma Cary, Mrs. Paula Cary and son, Mrs. Tamara Cary and daughter, all of Vernon and Mrs. John S. Ray of Riverside.

T. E. L. Class
The T. E. L. Class of the First Baptist Church met in the fellowship hall last Thursday evening, November 19. Mmes. C. L. Cavin and Myrtle Murphy were hostesses. Thirteen class members and one guest, Mrs. Jodie Brown, enjoyed a delicious Thanksgiving covered dish supper.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. Mary Moore. Mrs. I. L. Denton brought an interesting devotional. Her scriptures were Psalms 100:4 and Phil. 4:6. Reports from yearbook committee and group leaders were given and final plans for the annual Christmas meeting were discussed.

Mrs. Doyle Callaway brought a Bible quiz to conclude the program.

Riverside H. D. Club
The Riverside Home Demonstration Club met November 17 in the home of Mrs. W. E. Schoolcraft with Mrs. Schoolcraft serving as hostess and Mrs. Robert Hammonds presiding officer.

Opening exercise was given by Mrs. Ira Tole and roll call was answered by "the cut of meat I like best."

Miss Helen Fincher presented the program on "Cheaper Cuts of Meat."

Mrs. Bob Abston and Miss Fincher, guests and 10 members attended the meeting.

The Christmas party for the club will be held Dec. 15 with Mrs. Allen Shultz.

Many veterans with chronic, long-term kidney conditions will be provided home dialysis (artificial kidney) units during the next two years.

Social Security Plays Major Role in Social Insurance

More than three times as much money is now paid out in social security benefits as in welfare payments, Wayne Klipping, social security district manager, said this week.

Social security cash benefits amounted to $26 1/2 billion in 1969, Mr. Klipping said, compared with total public assistance payments of about $6.9 billion.

Almost 25 1/2 million men, women and children were receiving monthly social security benefits at the beginning of 1970. About 11 million people were drawing cash assistance payments under federal-state welfare programs.

Mr. Klipping recalled that in 1940, the first year in which social security monthly benefits were payable, the situation was quite the reverse.

In that year, more than 40 times as much was paid out in public assistance as in social security benefits, and those getting public assistance totaled 7 million—about two-thirds the present number, despite a population increase of about 70 million over the past 30 years.

At the end of 1940, only 222,500 persons were collecting monthly social security retirement and survivors benefits, compared to the 25 1/2 million now receiving benefits.

The number of children getting social security survivors benefits increased from 18,000 in June 1940 to 2.6 million as of the beginning of 1970.

Listing Made of Texas Mineral Producers

A current listing of the nearly 300 mineral producers in Texas has been compiled and published by the Bureau of Economic Geology at the University of Texas in Austin.

The new directory, entitled "Texas Mineral Producers," includes producers, mining sites and processing plants for 80 different mineral raw materials, exclusive of oil and gas, presently mined in Texas.

The 62-page report is cross-referenced with listings by company, commodity and county in which the raw material is mined and processed. Copies may be purchased from the Bureau of Economic Geology, Box X, University Station, Austin, Texas 78712. The price is $1.25 plus 5 cents sales tax.

Tax Man Sam Sez

In a recent report on federal tax collections, the Internal Revenue Service says that the total Internal Revenue collections for the United States in the calendar year 1969 was $195,141,923,000. Texas tax collections ran more than $8 billion for the first time.

Collections in the Dallas district, covering this area in northern Texas, amounted to $3,593,898,000, of which $2,791,651,000 came from individual income and employment taxes. Since each of us must pay about one-fifth of our total pay as our share of our country's cost, it is obvious that taxes are and will continue to be very important to us.

New Concept of Moon Origin From Apollo 11 Rocks

An amazing new concept of the moon's origin is based on research that shows striking similarity between the materials in the moon rocks and in a meteorite that hit the earth recently.

Those two space travellers apparently "came from the same origin," declared one NASA official recently. The research, done by a team of agriculture scientists from the University of Missouri-Columbia (UMC), was revealed at the NASA Apollo 11 reporting session in Houston.

Following their analyses of moon rocks returned by the Apollo 11 astronauts, the UMC scientists, led by Dr. Charles W. Gehrke, reported their findings to NASA officials who released the Missouri findings as part of the total report made in Houston.

"The Missouri team found that the lunar samples returned from the Sea of Tranquility area of the moon and a large meteorite which fell near Pueblo de Allende in northern Mexico last February contain the same materials. The make-up is not just close, it is strikingly similar."

Using methodology refined in the experiment station lab, the UMC team could analyze the samples with a high degree of sensitivity and still not damage the molecules as they looked for important life molecules in the moon rocks.

None of the so-called life molecules in the lunar samples were found—particularly the amino acids which are essentials of life as we know it. There were, however, fragments and other pieces and parts of molecules which could conceivably be assembled into the beginnings of life in its most basic forms.

"We found carbon, oxygen, hydrogen, nitrogen, silicon, and organo-silicon compounds," Dr. Gehrke explained. "Except for organo-silicon compounds, these are important in the make-up of life on this earth when they are combined and arranged in the ways that make the essential life building blocks."

As part of the study, the samples were compared with various other materials, resulting in the inclusion of the Pueblo de Allende meteorite in the analysis.

Other samples studied included a piece of basalt from the Hawaii-

Minerals for Beef Cattle

Beef cattle are hardy animals and can take care of themselves in most situations. They do, however, need help when pastures fail to provide needed minerals and vitamins, and especially when the stockman needs to terminate the deficiencies from the many sources available to supply these in short supply. In such cases, he should provide information on minerals for the beef herd.

Junior Leaders

The Foard County 4-H Junior Leaders 4-H Club met last day in the community center. Rita Coffey presiding.

The 4-H signs which the leaders plan to put up on the leading into Foard County discussed and Joe Burkett led the 4-H stock show which was March 12-13.

Trudy Bird and Cindy Gave an interesting program in music. Shelia Haynie called roll and read the minutes of last meeting. Kay Shirley led prayer and Trena Cate 4-H pledge. Karen Statner the piano accompaniment song led by Trudy Bird and dy Wisdom. Refreshments served by Gary Glover, Shelia and Arthur Cate.

At the next meeting, hostesses will be Ruth Christy Shaw and Joe Brown. Shelia Haynie led the program.

 True Unity

are many unions all over the world, but in only one place is the unity to be found: the unity of the church.

Children of fallen Adam have been divided, Adam's children could not get together. One killed the other. Now that the race has passed, there are about three separate, individual wills trying to get along together. But this always takes time, and this always takes the dearest lovers of each other, who are prepared to yield to each other. There is no other way.

Some of Adam's children were baptized into His death? (Romans 6:3).

This verse does not refer to water baptism, for no one can be baptized into Christ—or become one with Him—by a physical ceremony. The only way to become one with Him is to accept by faith the fact that He died our death on the cross. The meeting place must always be Calvary. And as we acknowledge His death as ours and are baptized into Christ, we also become one with each other. "For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body" (1 Corinthians 12:13).

Unity in Christ is not something for which Christians are to strive. It is a fact of grace to be recognized and enjoyed by faith. True believers in and out of all denominations have been baptized into one body, whether or not they recognize this. Now it is for

Many Farmers Receive Social Security While Still Working

Many farmers and ranchers receive social security benefits while still working, according to Wayne Klipping, branch manager in Vernon.

Since social security retirement benefits are paid every month of the year to those people at least age 62 whose claims have been approved, and who are not earning over $1680 a year, many area farmers and ranchers do qualify for these payments, Klipping explained.

He emphasized the fact that social security's earnings limit of $1680 applies to the net profit of the self-employed person, not his gross farm income.

Klipping urged farmers and ranchers who might qualify for these benefits to visit their nearest social security representative with a copy of their 1969 income tax return, social security card, and evidence of their age, preferably their original birth or baptismal certificate.

Nurses who obtained government-sponsored student loans while in school may earn credit toward loan cancellations by serving in a professional capacity in VA hospitals.

It is appropriate and enjoy this unity in Christ, "endeavoring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace" (Ephesians 4:3), i. e., practicing the unity which the Spirit has made. Only those who have been baptized into Christ by faith can appreciate the blessed oneness which believers may enjoy in Him.

State Funds Spent for Education to Top $1 Billion

Austin—The Foundation School Program—state funds earmarked for financing public education in Texas—is expected to tally out at $1,087,117,000 during the 1970-71 school year.

This projected total, an increase of $233,702,549 over 1969-70, was reported to the State Board of Education in Austin earlier this month by Dr. J. W. Edgar, Texas commissioner of education.

The new high in state funds required by local elementary and secondary schools includes support for higher salaries and seven new special programs, Dr. Edgar told the 21-member board.

Basic elements of this increase include: new Foundation program salary schedule—$113,823,012; 1,462 additional vocational education units allocated to high schools—$11,371,436; 1,488 additional special education units allocated to elementary and high schools—$11,573,664; 5,107 additional professional units, including classroom teachers—$39,722,246; additional costs for transportation and various special programs—$28,293,191.

New special programs accounting for the rest of the increase include: computer services—$2,444,000; private schools for the deaf who will help educate children from the public schools—$215,000; sick leave costs—$4,205,000; student teaching reimbursement to supervising teachers—$2,100,000; classroom teacher aides—$12,200,000; special education aides—$3,900,000; other special education costs—$4,855,000.

Receipts expected to meet these costs will include: $202,304,000 from local fund assignments; $271,278,000 from state available funds; $385,000 from budgetary excess transferred, that is the individual student's share of state money which may follow him if he transfers from a district which does not need state funds to one which does; $900,000 from county available funds; $611,950,000 from the Foundation Program Fund; and $300,000 in funds recovered by state audit of local school systems.

Total cost of the Foundation Program during the last (1969-70) school year was $853,414,451. This figure included the following cost items: salaries for professional personnel—$765,838,642; maintenance and operation—$59,104,872; transportation—$19,817,069; programs for preschool age non-English speaking children—$194,400; programs for preschool age deaf children—$234,846.

Also, county-wide day schools for the deaf—$1,293,184; incentive aid (for school district consolidation)—$1,531,159; Texas Education Agency administration—$1,975,958; educational television—$406,169; media elements of the 20 regional education service centers—$1,766,062; transportation of exceptional children—$927,875; and Department of Corrections—$323,775.

The Zip Is Gone From Howard Payne College

(Editor's note: The following article written by George Dolan appeared in the Nov. 12 edition of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Clark Hitt, one of the subjects of the article, is a former Crowell School principal and is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Zeibig.)

Bowling Hitt has just learned that the zip is gone from Howard Payne College.

The zip, a sandwich, was created in the athletic dining hall in the 1940s, Hitt says, when he and his brother, Clark, now of Dallas, attended Howard Payne.

"The author of the term 'zip sandwich' will forever remain anonymous," Hitt says, "since none of us had the foresight to record this historical event."

"It could have been any of nine Howard Payne athletes eating at a table presided over by Bennie Williams, then known as The Floating Axle because of his prowess as a middle linebacker, now a professor of mathematics at the University of Texas at Arlington.

"There was approximately a ton of football players with hearty appetites at that table. The food was good, but never in quantities vast enough to satisfy that crew."

Syrup Just Rolls Off Tongue

"But there was never a shortage of ribbon cane or sorghum syrup, butter, peanut butter and bread."

"So every meal was topped off with a concoction consisting of a piece of bread spread copiously with both butter and peanut butter and coated with a generous amount of syrup. Another identical layer was added to this with a greater amount of syrup on top."

"Why zip? 'Pass the syrup' soon degenerated to 'pass the zip.' Thus the zip sandwich was born. It gained great popularity throughout the athletic dining hall and, before long, in the student dining hall."

"Alfred (Red) McCollum, then of Lancaster and now a coach in Dallas, said that so far as he was concerned, his athletic scholarship at Howard Payne did not consist of tuition, room and board but rather tuition, room and zip."

Hitt's daughter, Monta, and Clark Hitt's daughter, Cindy, are roommates now at Howard Payne. Bowling Hitt learned of the passing of the zip sandwich through Monta.

He asked her, in a letter, how things were at the home of the zip sandwich. She and Cindy mentioned the sandwich to friends. Only she and Cindy had ever heard of zip sandwiches.

Can't Get Barrel of Zip?

"I had assumed the zip sandwich was still the mainstay at Howard Payne," Hitt says, "but from the reaction Monta received, it is evident the tradition has been broken. Perhaps it is because Howard Payne has grown since then. Maybe it's because they now serve cafeteria style rather than family style. Could be the business manager is still pondering over a requisition for a barrel of zip. Maybe affluency and TV diners have dulled students' tastes for the better things of life."

Bowling Hitt, who lives now in California, still eats zip sandwiches two or three times a week, although, he says, he has to import the zip from Texas.

His boss, Bob Benton, knows of Hitt's passion for zip sandwiches. And a couple of weeks ago, while driving to work, Benton heard an accident report over his car radio. Hundreds of gallons of molasses from a tank truck had spilled on a freeway ramp.

Benton, when he reached the office, told Hitt's crew not to expect him at work that day.

"He'll get some butter, peanut butter and bread," Benton told them, "and spend the day out there eating and selling zip sandwiches."

Not 'Warm Puppy'

U. S. Senator James B. Pearson from Kansas said: "I want to warn that antipollution is not what we politicians call a 'warm puppy' issue, one which if we pass enough laws, spend enough money, and have a good heart, happiness is assured and soon American will be beautiful again. Antipollution means that someone will be hurt. Profits must be cut, comforts reduced, taxes raised, sacrifices endured . . ."

Energy Needs

"Today oil and natural gas supply about 75 per cent of U. S. energy needs, compared with less than 28 per cent in 1927," noted the West Texas Utilities Company in their publication, "The Electric Times."

Travel Awards

"Did you know?" asks Commerce magazine, "Travel awards lead all other prizes in incentive programs for sales and other employe productivity, reports the Dartnell Institute. Following in order are: merchandise, trading stamps, bonuses, clothing and college scholarships. Hard cash, somehow, finishes way down in seventh place."

Replacement at No Cost to Owner . . .

Owners of U. S. Savings Bonds need not worry about their investment, should they fall victim to a sudden disaster such as a flash flood or tornado. The Treasury acts quickly to replace or reissue bonds in such hardship cases. The first major instance in which such action was taken came in Cleveland, Ohio, following an explosion in 1944—just a little more than three years after the first Series E bond was sold. Since then, claims have resulted from the Texas City, Texas, disaster, the LaSalle Hotel fire in Chicago, tidal waves which struck Hawaii and California, the Columbia River flood, the Alaskan earthquake, the hurricane and flood which hit South Texas in 1967, the floods in Southern California in January 1969, and tornadoes, fires, hurricanes and other disasters which have visited areas of the U. S. in recent years.

Texas Has Most Miles of Interstate Highway System

Texas has more miles of Interstate highways open to traffic at this moment than any other state will have when the giant national system of superhighways is completed sometime in the mid-1970's.

The designated Interstate network in Texas will total 3,170 miles—more than any other state, naturally.

As of May 31, Texas had 2,283.84 miles of Interstate highways open to traffic.

That happens to be 2.84 miles more than California (with the second-largest designated mileage) will have when the network is complete.

The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads reported on March 31 that California had 1,632 miles open to traffic of a 2,281-mile designated Interstate system.

The Texas mileage includes sections of Interstate highways complete to full Interstate standards and others on approved locations which are complete to standards deemed adequate for present traffic volumes.

Assuming that construction money from the Federal Highway Trust Fund is received on schedule, the Texas portion and the national system will be complete sometime in the mid-1970s.

The trust fund was set up at the beginning of construction on the Interstate system in 1956. It is a depository for federal levies related to the operation of motor vehicles, including the four-cent-per-gallon federal gasoline tax. From the trust fund comes 90 per cent of the cost of building the Interstate.

The other 10 per cent comes from state funds. In Texas, this revenue is derived from state highway user taxes. Mainstay of state financing is the five-cent-per-gallon motor fuel tax, the lowest in the nation.

In addition to matching Federal Highway Trust Fund apportionments for construction of Interstate highways, state funds also are used to match federal trust fund monies on a 50-50 basis for construction of some primary and secondary highways. In addition, a sizeable amount of highway work in Texas is done with pure state funds.

The state pays 100 per cent of all maintenance on interstate, US- and state-numbered highways and farm and ranch to market roads.

Air Pollution Blamed for Increase in Deaths from Emphysema

It was revealed in Time Magazine that the mortality rate for emphysema—acknowledged to be caused primarily by air pollution—has jumped 500 per cent in New York City in the past 10 years. Deaths from another pollution-linked disease, chronic bronchitis, rose 200 per cent in the same period. The problem in stopping this rampant epidemic is that there is no hard evidence as to which air pollutants cause the diseases. But the chief of the government's Health Effects Research Program said, "We may have to regulate our air supply before we have complete knowledge about air pollution."

Tax Exemption and Deferral Explained for U. S. Savings Bonds

Have you done anything about building a backstop for your golden days? As you get ready for retirement, you should consider the tax advantages of U. S. Savings Bonds, says Tony Ziegler of the U. S. Treasury Department.

Interest on U. S. Savings Bonds is exempt from state and local income tax. For federal income tax purposes, the tax on accrued interest on Series E Bonds may be deferred until they are either redeemed or reach maturity. (No Series E or H Savings Bond has yet reached "final" maturity.)

This makes U. S. Savings Bonds an excellent retirement instrument. Income is usually lower in retirement years and, with the benefit of the double exemption after age 65, tax liability on accrued interest could be greatly reduced or even eliminated. If you want regular income, savings bonds provide another retirement option—again, with a big tax advantage. Series E Bonds may be exchanged for current-income Series H Bonds, with the accumulated interest applied as part of the purchase price of the H Bonds.

The tax liability on such E-Bond interest may be further deferred until the H Bonds are redeemed or mature. Series H Bonds pay interest by treasury check every six months. Those payments must be reported currently for federal income tax purposes.

Haven't Changed a Great Deal . . .

"In all the dissension today between young and old, liberal and conservative, black and white, it is reassuring to some degree to take a long look back to our nation's beginnings. At the time of the American Revolution, it is estimated by many historians that about one third of the colonists were against a split with England, about one third were for such a division, and the other third didn't really care which way the fledgling nation went. And in some ways, things haven't changed a great deal."—Quaker-town, Pa., Free Press.

Put New Tires on the Back, Advises Tire Safety Council

The Iowa Public Service Company notes, "There is a widespread belief among car owners that new tires should be placed on the front wheels of the vehicle. But industry and government studies have revealed that most tire mishaps occur on the vehicle's rear wheels. The Tire Safety Council advises new tires be placed on the rear wheels to allow the car better traction, handling and extra protection against flats."

Third Quarter Report Cattle on Feed

On October 1, last, Texas cattle on feed numbered 1.4 million head, said the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This was 6 per cent more than a year ago. Nationally, the number was up only 3 per cent in the 22 major feeding states. Ed Uvacek, extension livestock marketing specialist, said the report showed that cattle feeding continues to show the most growth in the northern part of the Panhandle with declines now developing in northeastern and Gulf Coast areas of the state.

Peaceable Assembly

"The first amendment is explicit as to 'the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances' . . . Peaceable is a key word of . . . (this) quote; however, it is conveniently ignored by many persons who equate dissent with destruction . . . There is nothing in the first amendment which guarantees people the right to riot and plunder as means of dissent. Invariably, when incidents and altercations occur during public dissent, the trouble is started by unpeaceful participants who knowingly and willingly break the law."—J. Edgar Hoover, Director of The Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Farmers use only about half of the available cropland in the United States. That's less than they used 12 years ago because of improved production.

Texas Ranks Fifth in Number of Veterans

Texas ranks fifth in the number of veterans, according to Jack Coker, director of the Veterans Administration regional office in Waco. With 1,370,000 veterans, Texas is behind number one California which has 2,992,000.

The figures are compiled annually, as of June 30, based on figures and VA data, as a basis for planning services to veterans. New York was second to California with 2,553,000 veterans, followed by Pennsylvania, with 1,785,000; Illinois, with 1,576,000 and then Texas. The next five runner-ups were Michigan, New Jersey, Florida, Massachusetts and Wisconsin. Coker said Alaska has the smallest number of veterans—30,000. Wyoming with 53,000 has the least among the contiguous states.

Total U. S. veteran population reached 27,647,000 as of the end of last fiscal year. It was swelled by 4,173,000 veterans of the Vietnam era.

Vietnam veterans are still heavily outnumbered by the 14,458,000 World War II veterans, but their numbers are closing the gap on the total for those who had military service during the Korean conflict—5,867,000.

About 1,536,000 World War I veterans are living today. With an average of 75.7 years, they are still "youngsters" compared to the 5,000 Spanish-American War veterans whose average age is 91.2 years.

The largest block of veterans, those who served in World War II, average 59.7 in age, Vietnam veterans are 26.7 years old, on the average. Some 24,000 are under 20 and 1,674,000 are under 26.

How Much Is a Billion?

The Public Service Company of Colorado gives us a few figures that bring home the immensity of a billion, in these days of high finance: "A billion one dollar bills laid end to end would encircle the earth nearly four times . . . The propeller of an airplane traveling 300 miles per hour would turn a billion times if the plane would cruise continuously—24 hours a day—for nearly two years."
