Austin, Tex.—The Texas Highway Commission remains convinced its new $20 million state headquarters building should be located near the capitol and the governor's mansion.

A re-evaluation study of the controversial site, ordered by the Legislature, was delivered last week to Gov. Preston Smith.

Legislators suggested the site southwest of the capitol and across the street from the governor's mansion should be developed as a park, parking lot and tourist information center. They recommended moving the new highway building far from the downtown Austin area.

The commission, on review of its plans, concluded the massive building, rising to 10 stories at its tallest point, would "enhance the beauty and interest of the capitol complex."

At least, observed the new report, the structure will be the most attractive thing ever located on the barren block, now given over largely to a parking lot and the remains of old buildings.

The historic Lundberg Bakery still on the site will be preserved, incorporated into the new building and used as a tourist center and Texana museum for artifacts uncovered in excavation. The temporary state capitol once stood on the block.

North and east portions of the highway building are planned at two-story level to maintain scale with the governor's mansion and preserve the view of the capitol from there. Maximum height of 10 stories will be reached at the south edge of the block.

Architects plan a public plaza with pools, greenery and shaded walkways along 11th St. nearest the capitol. Landscaping will comprise about 50 per cent of the block if plans are finally approved. The building will be by far the largest of many new state structures in the capitol area.

BUSINESS GEARS FOR POLITICAL YEAR — Organized labor announced its political priorities three weeks ago, and last week in Houston, business leaders in Texas looked at their "public affairs" programs for 1972.

At the 49th annual Conference of Texas Industry by the Texas Manufacturers Association, representatives of the business community heard:

Sen. John Tower ask for labor law reform.

Richard Armstrong, Washington, D. C., challenge businesses to develop public affairs departments.

Irving Shapiro, vice president, E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co., ask business to work with labor to develop new national objectives—with everybody sharing the gains.

TMA also passed resolutions asking state legislators to require 10-year budget projections for all "new" state programs approved by the next legislature.

Senator Tower laid the blame on the nation's existing economic ills on "existing labor laws that are in dire need to reform."

Both Tower and TMA leaders spoke out in opposition of laws which permit strikers to receive food stamps and other state and federal aid programs while on strike.

"Labor unions should be placed under existing anti-trust laws," Tower added, and pointed out that he had sponsored legislation to establish a Commission on Labor Law Reform.

NEW SPEAKER CANDIDATE URGED — More than 30 legislators last week picked Rep. Jim Nugent of Kerrville as their choice for House speaker.

Most of the group were previously aligned closely with Speaker Gus Mutscher who now says he may not even be a candidate for re-election to the House. (Mutscher, under bribery indictment, says he has three options: running for re-election and a third term as speaker, seeking another term in the House but not the speakership and retiring.)

Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine says the lawmakers, meeting in San Antonio, were mainly trying to stop his own drive for speaker. Price claims 70 pledges of support in the 150-member House, and adds the Nugent endorsement means nothing to his candidacy. Opponents maintain Price has no more than 42 firm supporters.

Nugent finished first in the straw voting at San Antonio over (in order) Reps. Dean Cobb of Dumas, John Traeger of Seguin, James Slider of Naples, David Finney of Fort Worth and Joe Salem of Corpus Christi. Traeger, Slider and Salem indicated they will go along with Nugent, 48, who will reveal soon whether he will actually make a race.

REDISTRICTING CHALLENGE — An unexpected lawsuit filed in Dallas federal district court challenged constitutionality of the congressional reapportionment by the Legislature this year.

Another suit has been promised attacking state House of Representative redistricting.

The Dallas class action lawsuit maintains the new congressional district lineup does not meet federal requirements that 24 congressional districts be "compact, contiguous and as nearly equal in population as is practicable."

Plaintiffs offered the court a plan of their own, which they said would create districts which vary only .1 per cent in population.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court upheld lower court decisions barring Sun Oil Company from using fresh water from the Ogallala formation beneath a Hockley County farmer's land for injections to build pressure in company oil wells.

High Court set a December 15 hearing on whether private non-profit water supply corporations must pay school taxes.

State laws banning LSD sale or possession were upheld by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

MOODY FOUNDATION RELEASED — Attorney General Martin, in an investigative report, has called for removal of Shearn Moody Jr. as a trustee of the $228 million Moody Foundation.

At the same time, Martin said, the Galveston-based foundation should enlarge its board of trustees from seven to nine members. Unless the action he urged is taken voluntarily, the Attorney General stated, he will ask a court order to force the changes.

The report commended six other Foundation trustees who last January asked for an investigation after they were harshly criticized by the chairman of a House of Representatives study group, Louis Dugas Jr. of Orange.

New York attorney Roy Cohn called the report a "one-sided hatchet-job," and said Martin should be removed from office.

Short Snorts — Texas Public Employees Association will seek a 10.2 per cent pay raise for state workers in a special legislative session next year.

The Texas Public Welfare Board was informed by budget experts that a welfare reform bill approved by the U. S. House of Representatives would add 750,000 more to aid rolls, raise the cost $153.4 million, and impose $170.9 million in medical aid costs.

Ed Grisham, formerly of Olney, was named director of the governor's office division of planning coordination, succeeding Dan S. Petty who became Governor Smith's top assistant.

Munday Residents Witness Death of 66-Year-Old Paper

Former Munday Publisher Starts New Publication

(Editor's note: The following article was written by Buddy Norville, managing editor of the Stanton Reporter and appeared in the October 28 issue of that newspaper.)

I received some depressing news from my hometown of Munday, Texas, the latter part of last week. The 66-year-old Munday Times went under, its owner taking voluntary bankruptcy.

The people and merchants of Munday had taken it for granted that the Munday Times could exist on news and subscriptions alone. But, they were certainly wrong. (Today, the money taken in for subscriptions hardly pays the postage, much less the paper it is printed on.) The merchants of Munday, Texas, took the attitude, "we're the only merchants in town, we don't need to advertise!" So they didn't and the publisher took a loss. But the whole town suffered a greater loss in the long run.

Have you ever watched a small town die? People begin to move to the city, business after business close their doors, the newspaper ceases to exist, then the schools close. By then, the town is dead.

This brings me to my point. As many of you know, I do not own the Stanton Reporter. If I did, I would be like that man in Munday, Texas, I would have gone broke the first month I was in Stanton. I do not want to see the same thing happen here in Stanton that happened in Munday. If the Munday Times couldn't make a go of it on 1800 subscriptions we can't make it on 1200.

The owners of the Stanton Reporter want Stanton to have a newspaper, but right now they are wondering if Stanton wants one or not.

The people of Munday were in deep shock for a while after they heard what had happened. A town meeting was called at once to discuss the situation. Those attending the meeting decided unanimously that Munday simply could not do without a newspaper. Aaron Edgar, former publisher of the Munday Times (he sold out to the present owner in 1965) was drafted to put out a newspaper somehow, somehow. A call to the Texas Press Association revealed he could not use the log the Munday Times until the financial mess was cleared up. The citizens of Munday witnessed the birth of the Munday Courier, and just about all had a hand in putting it out. It's amazing what people can do when the chips are down. Well, all I want to say now is "support your local merchants who support your local newspaper."

Operation Purge Is Coming.

Former Truscott Resident Died in Abilene Monday

Last Rites for Mrs. J. H. Bryant Held in Abilene

Mrs. Jess H. Bryant, long-time resident of the Truscott community, died Monday, November 1, at 9:30 a. m. in Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene. Mrs. Bryant became ill while visiting a son, Newt Bryant, of 3342 So. 7th Street, Abilene.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, Nov. 2, at Elliott's Chapel of Memories with burial in Elmwood Memorial Park at 2 p. m. James H. Vermillion, Chaplain of Hendrick Memorial Hospital, officiated, assisted by Rev. Temple Lewis.

Grandsons were pall bearers.

Mrs. Bryant was born Dec. 17, 1893, at Jones, Ark., and was married to Mr. Bryant Sept. 24, 1912, at Jones. She was a member of the Baptist Church. Survivors include her husband; three sons, William J. Bryant, Denver, Colo., Newt Bryant, Abilene and Nile Bryant, Abilene; one daughter, Mrs. G. Collier of Markham, Tex.; grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren; and one step-son, W. W. Walker of Wilmore, Tex.

Cooking for Holidays

When gathering supplies for holiday cooking, extension and nutrition specialists advise you check your spice shelf. Spices deteriorate and quickly lose pungency in heat and humidity. Always be sure to store them in airtight containers.

Columbian Club Hosts Halloween Party for Center Residents

For their last October meeting, members of the Columbian Club entertained the patients in Ward 7B of the MH-MR Center South with a Halloween party on Saturday afternoon, October 30.

The diversion of the afternoon was bingo and small prizes were awarded. After each patient had bingoed at least once, refreshments of spiced tea, coffee and assorted cookies were served. The cups, plates and napkins were decorated with witches on brooms, black cats and jack-o-lanterns.

West Side H. D. Club

The West Side Home Demonstration Club met October 26 in the home of Mrs. George Riethmayer. For opening exercises, Mrs. Riethmayer read "The Moments You Spend." Ten minutes of fun was a quiz on Halloween. Roll call was answered with "what I would do if I could start my life over." The program was 4-H girl Sharla Haynie's report on her citizenship workshop at Washington, D. C. She also showed colored slides of her trip.

The hostess served refreshments to members, 1 new member Mrs. Louise Churchill; one visitor, and Home Demonstration Agent Mrs. Marion Meads.

Mrs. Johnson On Outstanding Young Women List

Mrs. Taylor Johnson of Crowell, the former Marilyn Harp of Childress, will be named in the 1971 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America.

She was one of a select number of women from across the country chosen on the basis of their many civic and professional accomplishments. Each one nominated will be considered for her state's Outstanding Young Woman of the Year Award.

Mrs. Johnson, a 1962 graduate of Childress High School, graduated magna cum laude from Abilene Christian College in 1966, with a major in physical education and a minor in biology.

While in college, she was a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Alpha Chi, Campus Service Organization, Student Education Association, band, P. E. Majors' Club, Women's Recreation Association, Ko Jo Kai social club, "W" Club, Gardner Dormitory Council, freshman counselor, and made the Dean's Honor Roll every semester. She was also listed in the Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

A past member of the Texas State Teachers Association, Texas Association for Health, Physical Education, Mrs. Johnson is now active in the Heart Fund and Cancer drive, a sponsor of the Sub-

Junior Columbian Club, the Church of Christ where she is a Sunday school teacher and a vacation Bible school teacher. She also keeps busy with sewing, volleyball, swimming, embroidery, painting, and attending sports events since her husband is a coach in Quanah Junior High. Mrs. Johnson is the daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson of Crowell.

Pioneer Circle

Mrs. David Johnson was hostess to the members of the Pioneer Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church on Monday, Nov. 1.

The meeting opened with the singing of hymns, followed by prayer led by Mrs. Luther Tappelen. The devotional, Five Steps Toward Health by E. Stanley Jones, was given by Mrs. Allen Sanders. Mrs. Charlie Bryson was leader for the program and was assisted by Mmes. J. N. Ribble and O. N. Baker. They reviewed articles of current interest.

Mrs. Johnson served refreshments to eight members.

Wildkittens Win Another—44 to 0 Over Paducah

The Crowell Grade School Wildkitten football team, coached by Prentiss Gidney, continued its winning ways last Thursday night as the Kittens walloped the little Paducah Dragons 44 to 0.

Dee Finley, quarterback, was Crowell's leading scorer for the night, scoring three touchdowns. The first of Finley's TD's was a 30 yard return of a punt with David Bell going over for the two extra points. Next Finley score was a 35 yard quarterback keeping play with Rocky Glascock running for two points. Finley's last TD was the 62-yard return of a Paducah punt with the try for points failing.

Glascock scored two Crowell touchdowns: one on a 40-yard run and the other a 63 yard gallop. Melvin Westover ran over for two extra points and David Bell ran for two extra points following Glascock's touchdowns.

Willie Bachman scored a TD for Crowell when he recovered a Paducah fumble in the end zone. The try for extra points failed.

The Wildkittens are averaging 42.5 points per game this season, Coach Gidney said last week.

Card of Thanks

The Thalia community wants to thank everyone who participated in and supported the carnival at the Thalia gym. The proceeds will go to help maintain the building. We will now be able to paint the inside. Anyone wanting to use the gym is always welcome to do so. Our only means of keeping the building up is by donations from those using it. Thanks a lot.

Fighting Heart Award Goes to Rocky Bachman

A big downtown pep rally was held last Friday afternoon on the court house square as the Wildcats prepared for the big District 8A clash with Holliday.

The CHS cheerleaders, and also the Junior High cheerleaders, led in a number of yells, and the CHS Band, directed by James Streit, was present to add its own special brand of outstanding band music.

Rocky Bachman received the "fighting heart" award from Coach Scott Boyd and Harry Lee Swan spoke briefly as team representative.
