Plans Made at Friday Meeting CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN PLANNED FOR DOWNTOWN CROWELL

Methodist Pastors Assigned

Plans for a clean-up campaign for Crowell were initiated at a meeting of the Foard County Development Corporation last Friday morning at the community center.

Mike Manard is general chairman of the clean-up committee and he suggested three areas in the downtown area which need attention first. They are on the north side of Gentry's Grocery, the lot just north of the post office, and across west from the hospital.

The local development organization will take one part of the downtown area and the three service clubs, Women's Service League, Lions and Rotary Clubs, will each be asked to take a section of the downtown area to clean up.

As of the first of June, a total of 90 persons have joined the newly-formed Foard County Development Corporation and work will continue until there are 200 dues paying members. Members of the band boosters, pointed out that the band program last year cost a total of $4,400. He and the other two men requested the board to give due consideration to increasing the amount allocated to the band from $1500 this year to $2,000 next year.

Santa Fe Railway Takes a Look at Winter Wheat Crop

(Editor's note: Although Foard County's 1972 wheat crop has already been harvested, an interesting report on the winter wheat situation in the Santa Fe Railway Company's territory appeared in the June 1972 Santa Fe Crop Report and other agricultural data. The report follows:)

Moisture in the form of rain and snow beginning during the last week in April, has improved prospects for winter wheat acreage in much of Nebraska, the northern two-thirds of eastern Colorado, as well as in most of Kansas except in southwest portion of the state. In Oklahoma, where much of the crop had been severely damaged by freezes and dry weather, improvement in wheat prospects generally has been limited to an expected improvement in the fill of heads. In Texas and New Mexico irrigated acreage shows good prospects but much of the dryland acreage will produce very little wheat due to freeze and dry weather damage. Harvest of the 1972 winter wheat crop got under way in South Texas in late April. In the Texas High Plains and adjacent counties in New Mexico and Oklahoma, most of the non-irrigated acreage is being 'grazed out.' Also, a considerable acreage of irrigated wheat is being utilized by livestock instead of being allowed to mature.

Insect damage to the 1972 winter wheat crop generally has been light with limited damage to the crop by streak mosaic and soil borne mosaic in some localized areas. In view of the recovery of the crop since late April; in spite of losses of production potential from freezing, dry weather during much of the winter and early spring, insects, diseases, flooding, hail and farmer participation in the 'set-aside' features of the U. S. D. A. wheat program; there is a possibility the five states of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado and New Mexico could produce a total winter wheat crop nearing 475 million bushels this year, although a crop of 465-470 million bushels is more probable. The five state production of winter wheat in 1971 was just over 487 million bushels.

There Will Always Be Those Insufficiently Provided For

"Regardless of the amount of funds Congress appropriates to help people there will always be those who are unhappy and insufficiently provided for as shown by the following story as related by Congressman Harold R. Collier, (R-of Berwyn, Illinois). In the home of a rich, childless couple, was a young housekeeper. One day she came to her employers and said that she would have to quit, because she was about to become an unwed mother. The wealthy couple said she could keep her job; that they would adopt her child and raise it as their own. A year later she came to them with the same story, and they adopted her second child. Later they adopted her third child. One day she again handed in her resignation and when the millionaire couple asked if she was in trouble again, she said, 'No, it's just that I'm sick and tired (of) having to cook for such a large family'."—Bridgeport, Ill., Leader.

Two Minutes With the Bible

"True Evangelism"

In St. Paul's mighty Epistle to the Romans, he declares "the gospel (good news) of God . . . concerning His Son, Jesus Christ our Lord" (Rom. 1:1-3).

The good news which Paul proclaimed was essentially about Christ. He was always talking about Christ. His epistles were filled with Christ. In his message Christ was everything.

This is in striking contrast to much of modern evangelism which is not Christ-centered, but man-centered. Dr. A. W. Tozer, shortly before his death, wrote:

"The flaw in current evangelism lies in its humanistic approach . . . It is frankly fascinated by the great, noisy, aggressive world with its big names, its hero worship, its wealth and pageantry . . . This gross misapprehension of the truth is back of much . . . of our present evangelical activity . . ."

"This concept of Christianity is a radical error, and because it touches the souls of men, it is a dangerous, even deadly error . . . It is little more than a weak humanism allied with weak Christianity to give it ecclesiastical respectability . . . Invariably it begins with man and his needs and then looks around for God, while true Christianity reveals God as searching for man to deliver him from his ambitions."

Tozer was right. God's good news for the world is about Christ and His power and love in defeating Satan, overcoming death, nailing the law to His cross and paying for man the just penalty for sin, so that all who believe might be justified. This is why Paul's gospel is called in Scripture "the gospel of God" (Acts 20:24) and "the gospel of the glory of Christ" (II Cor. 4:4).

Army Offering Special Bonus Plan to Young Men

The United States Army announces a special bonus plan for young men enlisting in certain careers in the infantry, armor and artillery. The plan calls for payment of $1,500 for a four-year enlistment.

The bonus is payable in full following successful completion of basic and advanced training. This normally occurs about four months after enlistment, depending on the career field selected.

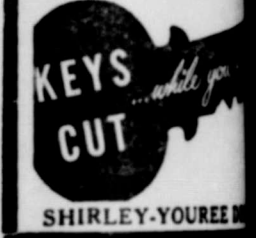

Men with prior service are eligible for the bonus plan if they have less than three years active service, have not previously received a re-enlistment bonus and meet certain other requirements.

Besides professional training, young men in the bonus plan will also be eligible to volunteer for the widest range of enlistment travel options ever offered by the Army. These include guaranteed assignments in Europe, Alaska, Hawaii, Far East and Panama, as well as units of choice in different parts of the United States. The Army now starts bonuses following basic training. It also continues to offer additional benefits of free housing, clothing, medical care, along with vacation days a year. Further information on my's new bonus plan can be obtained from Sgt. Jim G. 552-6762, Vernon, or at 1809 Wilbarger, Vernon.

SOME QUESTIONS TO ASK THE PRINTING AND OFFICE SUPPLIES PEDDLER

When the person selling printing, office supplies and advertising solicits your business, here are some questions he should be willing to answer to YOUR SATISFACTION:

1. Is he a taxpayer in your community or county?
2. Does he donate space in the newspaper to local and county projects and enterprises?
3. Does he pay wages to employees who live and do business in your community?
4. Does he grant favors that you would ask of your local newspaper?
5. Does he donate newspaper space to promote you and your neighbor's business?
6. Does his price include freight, postage and insurance?
7. Does he support your civic organizations, schools and churches with free publicity?

We sincerely believe that these questions should be considered when you purchase printing and office supplies—a question of whether you should support those who help support you!

Some observers have calculated the convention delegate spread is actually pretty close, with backers of McGovern, Gov. Geo. Wallace and Sen. Hubert Humphrey all claiming a sizeable chunk of the votes. To gain as much strength as McGovern and Wallace on the 130-vote Texas delegation to the national convention, Humphrey would have to pick up most of the uncommitted delegates. Republicans see only harmony for their state convention in Galveston June 13. They are even scheduling beach parties. AUTO RATE CUT SEEN — The State Board of Insurance will meet July 24 for its annual hearing on auto insurance rates, and Chairman Larry Teaver thinks a reduction is in order. A 2.8 per cent increase approved last year was blocked by a presidential wage-price freeze. Rates have been in effect since Jan. 1, 1971, when a 14 per cent boost was approved. There has been no reduction since a fractional cut in 1967. Teaver said profits from underwriting nationally are at an all-time high, as are investment profits of auto insurance companies. He plans to submit a "personal injury protection" proposal to the Board as a substitute for no-fault auto insurance. The Teaver recommendation includes liberalized medical benefits on a no-fault basis, income replacement and life insurance instead of uninsured motorists and medical payments coverage. Conceivably, Teaver could be out of a job before the July hearing. The Legislature convenes in special session June 14, and Teaver's appointment to the Board is pending in the Senate.

DRAFT PLANS ARE TOLD — About 400 men from Texas are expected to be inducted into military service during the month of July, although no quota yet has been assigned to the state.

State Selective Service Headquarters has announced that young men with lottery numbers of 50 or lower in the year's first priority selection group will get their induction orders next month. Those with numbers of 90 or lower may get pre-induction physical examinations during July.

Col. Melvin Glantz, state director of Selective Service, said 30 days' notice is planned for all induction orders. COURTS SPEAK — Farmers can sue feedlot operators for damages due to offensive odors even if they don't live on their land, the State Supreme Court held. To properly assess whether odors are obscene, judges and juries must see the entire films, the Court of Criminal Appeals ruled. A 300-year prison sentence assessed a Wichita County man for selling heroin was reversed because he didn't get a court-appointed attorney until the day of trial.

SMITH SEEKS FUNDS — Gov. Preston Smith went to Washington in search of federal matching funds for social services to welfare beneficiaries. He said the federal government now pays states $3 for every $1 they spend on social services, but the White House's proposed new rules would prevent Texas and other states from considering work by some agencies. An aide to the governor said the state is not getting federal matching money for counseling, family planning and homemaking assistance to the needy.

AG OPINIONS — Attorney General Crawford C. Martin held the state's 1970 contract to purchase 3,965 acres of Mustang Island at $4.2 million for a park is a binding obligation. Opponents on the Parks and Wildlife Commission insisted the Commission can still revoke the contract, although Martin indicated the state may be liable for a lawsuit if that happens. In another recent opinion, Martin held the Parks and Wildlife Department cannot contract for sale of water to a private individual whose property adjoins a state park. A Grand Prairie man had sought a permit to tap the water line in Eisenhower State Park.

DANIEL CLAIMS SPEAKERSHIP — Rep. Price Daniel Jr. of Liberty claims 85 firm votes for speaker of the House of Representatives next year.

Present Speaker Rayford Price of Palestine faced a strong runoff challenge for re-election in his home district. Daniel said he would not be a party to any movement to oust Price as speaker during the June special session.

ETHICS BILL IS PLANNED — A House committee on rules reform scheduled a June 8 meeting to write an ethics bill requiring full financial disclosure by members of the legislature, the governor and lieutenant governor.

Rep. Guy Floyd of San Antonio said the committee will offer reform rules to the special session. Floyd said he envisions an ethics bill requiring reporting of stock and land transactions annually as well as all income sources.

EDWARD E. THOMAS

New Texas State Conservationist Is Appointed

Youth, dedication, experience, professionalism — these are some of the traits of Edward E. Thomas, newly appointed state conservationist for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service in Texas.

Thomas returns to his native state from Nashville, Tenn., where he was deputy state conservationist for SCS. He succeeds Clyde W. Graham who has been named director of the south regional technical service center in Fort Worth.

A career conservationist since 1954, Thomas was an assistant to Graham at the Temple office until he went to Nashville in January 1971.

"Having the chance to return to Texas as state conservationist exceeds my fondest dreams," Thomas admits matter-of-factly. "My family and I learned to love Tennessee, but it was always second to Texas."

After starting his conservation career at Lubbock in 1954, Thomas worked at Wellington, Wheeler, Jayton and Morton. Then he became area conservationist at Pecos in 1963. After holding a similar position at Harlingen, he moved to Temple as assistant state conservationist in 1968.

Thomas is a 1954 graduate of Texas A&M University where he was a member of the track team. He is also a graduate of Vernon High School and served as an Army officer in Korea from 1954 to 1956. He is a member of the T Association of Texas A&M, the Soil Conservation Society of America and the American Society of Range Management.

He and his wife, Mary, have three children: Eddie, 15; Bill, 13; and Susan, 11.

Senator Tower Asks Funds for Pease River Project

Senator John Tower, in testimony before the Senate subcommittee on public works, Committee on Appropriations, asked for $90,000 initial planning funds for construction of the Arkansas-Red River Chloride Control Project.

The long-range project, important to North Texas water supplies, at present is only in the planning stages. Tower explained to the subcommittee, "thousands of tons of salt flows into Lake Kemp from springs of the Blaine formation."

"In order to make this water usable for irrigation, industry and consumption, this salt flow must be stopped," he said. "Local interests have accepted the responsibility to control the man-made portion of that pollution, but the federal government must stop the natural portion. This project was designed to do that and will eventually cost an estimated $74.3 million," Tower told committeemen. He added the Corps of Engineers indicated it has the capability of effectively utilizing $900,000 in fiscal year 1973, for a start of construction.

The basin project covers five areas of brine concentration. One is on the Pease River north of Crowell. The projects are designed to control a maximum of natural salt pollution to the Red River tributaries while minimizing the loss of fresh water. The Corps of Engineers said 23,000 acres of land will be needed for the projects.

After initial planning funds are made available and plans for the first construction items are complete, the beginning date for on-site construction work depends upon future appropriations of construction funds by Congress, and after construction funds are made available, about five years will be required to build the projects.

County Agent Is Rotary Speaker

Foard County Agent and Rotarian Joe Burkett covered a number of topics in a talk he made at the Wednesday, May 31, meeting of the Rotary Club.

Introduced by Rotarian George Self, Burkett talked on the various methods used in trying to eliminate mesquite from rangeland; he spoke on the screwworm outbreak in this area; the control of the boll weevil, and added that Foard County is one of the four counties to be used in a study of methods to control insects in winter wheat.

President Floyd C. Borchardt said that the tentative date set for the year-end party of the club is Thursday, June 22.

A visitor was Rotarian Roy Melugin of Clovis, N. M., who said that he lived in Foard County back in the early part of the century.

Contributions Listed of Herkimer Baffelpack

"Observers of the passing scene call attention now and then to the contribution of one Herkimer Baffelpack, who pioneered in the technology of making consumer goods hard to get at . . . At this writing, it appears the honor may fall to a manufacturer of small household items which come encased in impregnable translucent plastic welded to a card that only a strong man can tear. This is not yet certain, however; a firm that supplies its product in heavy cardboard boxes sealed with a substance which glues two spaceships together at launch time is in the running." —Norwich, Conn., Bulletin.

Palo Duro Canyon
Proves to be Awe-
Inspiring Sight

Canyon Is Site
For Outdoors Stage
Production "Texas"

When famed cattle baron Charles Goodnight brought his herd over a little rise in the Texas Panhandle in the 1870s, he almost had a stampede on his hands.

The cattle were suddenly confronted by Palo Duro Canyon, and they panicked. In fact, the mules pulling the chuck wagon were so frightened that they nearly dumped the entire wagon, cook and all,
into the 1,000-foot canyon.

Palo Duro Canyon, located 12
miles east of the City of Canyon, is indeed a spectacular site to behold after crossing mile after mile of the monotonous rolling plains of the Texas Panhandle.

The canyon is 120 miles long and is 40 miles wide at its mouth.
Because of the canyon's breathtaking scenery and its colorful history, more than 15,000 acres of it have been made into a state park.

The canyon has been in the making for 90 million years through the action of wind and water on rock. At least four geologic ages or eras are exposed by the canyon's eroded formations.

Palo Duro, a Spanish term meaning "hard wood," refers to the canyon's supply of strong cedar (juniper) brush from which the Indians made their arrows.

Probably the first European to visit Palo Duro Canyon was Francisco Vasquez de Coronado, who is generally believed to have been in the canyon in 1541.

The canyon was one of the last strongholds of the warlike Great Plains Indians until after 1874
when General Ranald MacKenzie defeated a large force of marauding Comanche Indians in the canyon, making it safe for permanent Anglo-American settlement.

The first rancher in Palo Duro Canyon was Goodnight, who, in partnership with John Adair of England, started the first cattle ranch in the canyon as well as the first ranch in the Texas Panhandle, the famous JA Ranch which is still in operation in part of the canyon.

The extraordinary terrain of the canyon is reason enough to visit Palo Duro Canyon State Park. It is, after all, a geological wonder.

But there is also a man-made attraction which has drawn visitors from all over the world. It is the outdoor stage production,
"Texas," a musical drama depicting the early settlement of the canyon area.

"Texas" is held in an outdoor amphitheater of natural stone. It is a drama of man's struggle with the elements while trying to settle the untamed portions of central and northern Texas. Since its be-

Hunters Pay Own

Hunters and fishermen in the U. S. spent more than $256 million last year for licenses, tags, permits and stamps, and most of the money went toward research and development of game and fish
management practices.

In addition to the money for licenses, sportsmen also added $47.8 million to fish and wildlife coffers by paying taxes on arms
and ammunition and on certain fishing tackle items.

The money from the taxes is apportioned to the states for their fish and wildlife programs.

Lots of Wilderness Should Be Your's!

The Observer of Newberry, S.
C., quoted the National Wildlife Federation Conservation News as saying: "Although your next camping trip might be without any mosquitoes, if two researchers from India are right, it will also be without any friends! Two biology researchers from Bombay have reported that garlic (that's right folks—garlic!) may provide a deadly diet for mosquitoes, houseflies, and certain other major insect pests while posing none of the hazards of DDT. The researchers reported that, particularly considering its nontoxic nature, 'garlic oil could be used as a pesticide.' So the next time you get out in those woods, just rub
a little garlic all over and relax pest-free. Another good point: if you don't have a lot of wilderness around you, you soon will have!"

Restrictions May Become Opportunities

Realize that restrictions may become opportunities. It takes some time to realize this truth. We are so self-centered we cannot be diverted from self-pity.

Hemmed in by circumstances,
we fight sullenly, trying to beat down all restrictions. Liberty is curtailed. Fuming and fretting, we are oblivious to possibilities
and compensations.

They are close at hand, ready to be called forth.

One notable example can be quoted. John Bunyan was found commencing to preach a sermon.
Meetings and unlicensed preaching were forbidden by Government and offenders were punished by loss of property and imprisonment.

He was committed to a gaol
at Bedford and remained there for twelve years. In this miserable prison he found compensation. He wrote a book, "The Pilgrim's Progress."

Restrictions brought time and opportunity.

Let us not rail against restrictions, but find meaning and purpose in them. Time and opportunity may furnish us with a reason.

There are compensations in every circumstance of life. The seeing eye will discern them.

Human Nature

All my life people have been coming to me with plans to make over society and its institutions.
Many of these plans have seemed good to me. Some have been excellent. All of them had one fatal defect. They have assumed that human nature would behave in a certain way. If it would behave in that way these plans would work, but if human nature would behave in that way, these plans would not be necessary, for in that case society and its institutions would reform themselves.—
Elihu Root.

ginning in 1961, success of the drama has been as spectacular as the country and history on which the story is based.

Pulitzer prize winner Paul Green wrote the script, and the music was scored by Hollywood composer Isaac Van Grove. Some of the cast are students, some are housewives and many of the fea-

Lights playing against rugged unfolds as settlers, cowboys and Indians play out the day-to-day

conflicts of that colorful era.

A prairie fire rages and the Simple pleasures, such as hoe-

Miss Ann Russell Becomes Bride of Mr. Birkenfeld

Miss Rebecca Ann Russell and Wayne Richard Birkenfeld exchanged wedding vows in St. Joseph Catholic Church in Rhineland at 4:00 p. m., Saturday with the double ring rites conducted by Rev. Bartholomew Landwermer, pastor.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glendon Russell of Crowell, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Birkenfeld of Goree.

Baskets of white and blue carnations decorated the altar centered with a prayer bench. Traditional wedding marches and other selections were presented at the organ by Mrs. Jimmy Carr of Vernon, the bride's cousin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white satin enhanced with Venice lace which covered the fitted bodice and long tapered sleeves. A wide panel of lace extending from the waist to the hemline of the slightly gathered skirt was bordered with scalloped lace applique. Seed pearls accented the lace border, edged the petal point sleeves and formed a bib effect on the bodice. A satin band encircled the empire waistline and formed a high stand-up collar.

A multi-looped satin bow accented with pearl flowers held her veil of Venice lace. She carried a bouquet of white Frenched carnations centered with a cymbidium orchid.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Attorney General of Texas

You want to borrow money to finance a new car or for some other family or household reason? What are your legal rights in relation to the one who lends you the money?

This area of the law has been significantly affected by Congress' passage of the federal Truth-in-Lending Act of 1969.

The effect of this relatively new law, which applies to items of personal property, services purchased for household uses, personal loans and many real estate transactions, is simply to require truthful and full disclosure of credit terms to you, the borrower. Lenders must now furnish the debtor with a detailed written disclosure of credit terms before credit is extended.

Included in the items which must be revealed to the borrower are the amount of credit, total amount to be financed, dollar amount of the finance charge, annual percentage rate, the number, amount, and due dates of payments, and default charges.

The finance charge includes the amount of the insurance premiums, service or carrying charges, investigation fees, interest, and other costs. This charge then is what the customer pays for the privilege of obtaining and using his credit.

Why have a Truth-in-Lending law? The theory is that if all of these charges are specifically set forth by the lender, a person can shop and compare the costs of borrowing from various lending institutions. This works to his distinct advantage since most of us are interested in saving money even though willing to pay the cost of obtaining credit.

The Truth-in-Lending Act should prove beneficial to the borrowing member of the consuming public. By requiring the lender to disclose conspicuously and clearly the credit terms and charges, the informed consumer is better able to protect his pocketbook.

THALIA

BY MRS. MAGGIE CAPPS

Larry Swan preached at the Lockett Church of Christ Sunday. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Glen Swan, and Glenna Sunday morning and by all the family Sunday night.

Mrs. Jewel Bradford of Vernon visited Mmes. G. A. Shultz and Maggie Capps Thursday.

Mrs. Fred Aurbach of Dallas came Saturday and accompanied her father, Bill Cates, and her grandmother, Mrs. Georgia Johnson, to Lubbock where they joined Mrs. Cates, who had preceded them a few days, and visited the Cates' daughter, Miss Marilyn Cates, in a Lubbock hospital where she had undergone surgery.

The community was again saddened by the death of another of our early residents, Mrs. Lee (Mamie) Shultz, whose husband preceded her in death a few years ago. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Johnson. Funeral services and interment were in Thalia.

Otis (Tint) Hammonds, who has been staying with his aunt, Mrs. Maggie Hammonds, since her return home from the Crowell hospital, has returned to his home in Vernon. Mrs. Hammonds has recovered nicely and seems to be back to her normal health, but Tint will be missed by Mrs. Hammonds and all her neighbors.

Mrs. Lindel McBeath began duties at the Crowell hospital having been accepted into the new LVN training course which started this week.

Mrs. Ora Abston of the Woods home in Vernon spent the week end with her sons, Burl and Robert, and also visited friends here.

Oran Ford is home after several days in the Crowell hospital. Visitors in the Floyd Webb home Monday included Mrs. Fannie Webb and Mrs. Jessie Thompson of Breckenridge, Mrs. Clyde

Life Preservers Could Save Lives

Accidents, by nature, happen when you are not suspecting them.

So it's not surprising to learn from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department that at least half of the recreational drowning victims in the U. S. last year had no intention of going into the water. As a result, they did not have a life preserver available.

More than 2,800 of these "surprise" victims either slipped, tripped or fell into the water or were aboard when their boat sank.

The moral, says the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, is to take the simple precaution of wearing a life preserver around water, especially if you can't swim.

The life preserver is more than just a good idea if you are aboard a boat—it's the law. Every boat, including canoes, rafts, sailboats and kayaks, must have one Coast Guard approved lifesaving device for everyone on board. In motorboats 27 feet long and under, children 12 years old and younger must wear a vest-type life preserver when the boat is underway.

Self Defense

A nice old lady was questioning an untidy little girl. "You're pretty dirty, aren't you?" she asked. "Yes," replied the child, "and I'm even prettier clean."

Courtesy Pays the Bill

The other day in the big city of New York a man hailed a taxi. As the cab pulled up to the curb, the man said to the driver, "Good Morning! Will you please take me to the Penn station?"

The driver looked at the man, and almost smiled. "Hop in," he ordered.

Upon arriving at the destination, the driver shrugged off the 80 cents registered on the meter with the remark, "Bub, you ride for nothing. I've been driving a hack for twenty-eight years and you're the first guy who ever said 'Good Morning' to me."

Deadline Set for Materials for Foard History

Another reminder this week from the Foard County Historical Survey Committee that a July 1 deadline has been set for acceptance of historical information which is presently being assembled for a second edition of a Foard County history.

Family histories must be typed in the exact form in which they are expected to appear in the new edition. Old pictures are requested and will be returned to the owners, the committee says.

Ketchersid home at Northside. Ronald Morton remained with his grandparents, the Alton Farrars, to assist with the farming this summer.

Mrs. Clyde Self visited Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hogan and T. R. Cates Sr. in the Crowell hospital Friday. Mrs. G. A. Shultz went to Dallas last week and brought her daughter, Mrs. Nan Sue Dockins, and Lori back with her for a visit. Mrs. Dockins will spend this week and Lori will spend the summer. Other week end visitors were Mr. and Mrs. David Carpenter, Rusty and Tammie. The David Carpenters also visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Carpenter and family.

GMOs Assist in Flood Rescue Work

Game management officers with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department were on hand to rescue 37 persons and assist in the rescue of 30 others when torrential rains literally swept away the town of New Braunfels.

Five men from the Victoria Fire Department and six men from the Killeen Fire Department were patrolling and giving assistance to flood refugees.

The GMOs brought 11 cars and six boats to help in the operation. They were able to locate the victims of three of the victims.

Parks and Wildlife Department officials say game management officers are often called in emergency situations such as flooding, hurricanes and tornadoes.

Because of their ability to patrol boats and cars, GMOs are well suited for this sort of emergency work, the officials said.
