Final Certification Should Be Made on Set-Aside Acreage

"If you have your cotton planted and up to a good stand, you are urged to make your final certification of cotton, wheat, feed grain and set-aside acreage," Mrs. Jean L. Reeder, head of the local ASCS office, said Monday.

Mrs. Reeder listed the following four things to remember when making final certification:

1. Land designated as set-aside acreage must be land of average productivity for the farm.
2. Cotton acreage must be accurate. If you are in doubt about your acreage you may request measurement service.
3. You cannot destroy a crop after certification and designate the land as set-aside acre.

Mrs. Reeder said that program payments will be made beginning July 1, 1972. Payments will be made soon after final certification.

Another item mentioned by Mrs. Reeder is that guar planted on set-aside acreage will take a $6.00 per acre reduction if you harvest the crop. Mrs. Reeder says "You will have until October 1, 1972, to decide if you want to harvest a crop."

June 20 was the final planting date for cotton in Foard County. Mrs. Reeder says, "If you did not get a stand and do not intend to replant after June 20, you will need to file a request for acreage credit."

Local Residents Urge the Hiring of City Planner

City Must Be Ready When Federal Funds Become Available

Officers and board members of the Foard County Development Corp., members of the Crowell City Council and members of the rest home committee at an informal meeting at the Walter Ramsey home last Thursday night heard Brown Hudson of Wichita Falls, an independent city planner, tell how the city government should go about securing a plan of development for the city. This plan of development and modernization will be essential when funds become available through the Economic Development Area plan by which Foard County is supposed to be helped by the federal government in securing industry.

Mr. Hudson first showed the film, "All of the People All of the Time," which showed what has been accomplished in developing other towns across the nation.

He said that it is up to the Crowell City Council to make application to the Department of Urban Affairs in Austin. If the local city's request is granted, Mr. Hudson would be paid for his services here out of state funds.

He said that Childress is now in the process of planning redevelopment of the town.

Considerable discussion Thursday night was about the possibility of securing a rest home here.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the group urged the City Council to secure the services of Mr. Brown as the local city planner.

Guy Todd, Jr., president of the development corporation, presided at the meeting at which the following local men attended: Henry Black, John McAlister, Frank Cooper, George Self, J. A. Marr, J. H. Gillespie, Mike Bird, Jon Lee Black, Glyndon Johnson, Jim Henry Jr., Charles Branch, Irving Fisch, Robert Kincaid, Ray Shirley, Mrs. Wilma Cates, Jim Mack Gafford, Walter Ramsey and Bill Klepper.

Planes of the Wichita Falls Civil Air Patrol will fly over Crowell this afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock simulating bombing raids, dropping pamphlets and smoke, and also boosting the national scrap rubber drive.

From the 30-year-ago column: Jim Bomar, Russell Beverly, Arthur Vernon, W. B. McCormick, Major Johnson, Clarence Self, Carl Thacker and E. Swain left Wednesday for a trip on a hunting, fishing and general good time excursion of several days. They went in Old Iron Clad and expect to shoot squirrels, from the top-most bough of the tallest tree that can be found and bring from the depth of the deepest hole in the territory the largest fish that exist. Two Minutes With the Bible

The Bible Is for You

No matter which translation of the Bible we examine, one fact stands out with particular emphasis and clarity: The Bible was written for the people, for the populace at large, not for some special class among them.

St. Paul addressed his epistles to both "laity" and "clergy": "To all that be in Rome" (Rom. 1:7), "unto the church... at Corinth... with all that in every place call upon the name of Jesus Christ our Lord" (I Cor. 1:2), "unto the churches of Galatia" (Gal. 1:2), "to all the saints... at Philippi... with the bishops and deacons" (Phil. 1:1), etc.

When Paul proclaimed the gospel at Berea his hearers did not take even this great apostle's word for granted, but "searched the Scriptures daily, whether those things were so," and for this God called them "noble" (Acts 17:11). They were the true spiritual aristocracy of their day.

Our Lord, when on earth, encouraged — even challenged His audiences to "search the Scriptures" for themselves (John 5:39).

Indeed, since God has revealed Himself and His plan of salvation in the written Word, we are responsible, each one for himself, to study the Scriptures. When Dives begged Abraham to be allowed to go and warn his five brothers about the horrors of heath, Abraham replied: "They have Moses and the prophets, let them hear them," and when Dives urged that a word from him would be more effective, Abraham answered: "If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead" (Luke 16:29,31).

Do not depend upon your clergyman to interpret the Scriptures for you but see for yourself what they say, for "every one of us shall give account of himself to God" (Rom. 14:12) and it will

SOME QUESTIONS TO ASK THE PRINTING AND OFFICE SUPPLIES PEDDLER

When the person selling printing, office supplies and advertising solicits your business, here are some questions he should be willing to answer to YOUR SATISFACTION:

1. Is he a taxpayer in your community or county?
2. Does he donate space in the newspaper to local and county projects and enterprises?
3. Does he pay wages to employees who live and do business in your community?
4. Does he grant favors that you would ask of your local newspaper?
5. Does he donate newspaper space to promote you and your neighbor's business?
6. Does his price include freight, postage and insurance?
7. Does he support your civic organizations, schools and churches with free publicity?

We sincerely believe that these questions should be considered when you purchase printing and office supplies—a question of whether you should support those who help support you!

LIVESTOCK EXPORT HALT THREATENED

The Mexican government, unhappy with quarantine facilities, threatens to halt export of Texas livestock through major border cities. Agriculture Commissioner John White said.

White said the state faces possible closing of border gates to Texas cattle at El Paso, Laredo and Brownsville, with re-routing of valuable state export market shipments through Miami, Fla.

BEFORE 1776

The Fourth has not always been freedom's birthday—nor the vacationer's dream-time. It has been celebrated in many different ways for centuries, which may be surprising to those who thought that there was no Fourth of July before 1776. But it's true.

July the Fourth once was celebrated in honor of St. Martin. And that's where the damp deer (or soggy stags, as the natives of Scotland say) come in.

St. Martin of Bullion was a very popular Scottish saint. It was once popular to claim that the weather which prevailed on St. Martin's Day (or Bullion Day) was prophetic. It was a kind of medieval groundhog day. But instead of groundhogs, the weather prophets were the deer. "If the deer rise dry and lay down dry," the saying went, "there will be a good fall harvest." If the deer rose wet or lay down wet, then that meant 20 days of rain.

FABULOUS, FRIVOLOUS FOURTH

That day of days is almost here—July the Fourth. It's that happy national holiday that's applauded alike by the makers of fireworks and calomine lotion. And dreaded by those who enjoy it too much.

It's a day known for family outings, fireworks displays, blanket tosses, blueberry whale blubber ice cream, damp deer, and St. Martin.

But perhaps July the Fourth is best known as Independence Day—a day with both the applause and the dread. Applause for another birthday of our freedom. Dread from harassed fathers driving cars full of assorted relatives, dogs, and screaming kids through bumper-to-bumper traffic. And dreaded by the bug-stung, sunburned vacationers who had too much of a good thing.

AFTER 1776

But back to America. Few took notice of the first American Fourth. In fact, the Declaration of Independence was read on July 4, 1776, as more or less an impromptu speech to a few passers-by. Someone read the document from a platform erected in the street to observe the passing of the planet Venus. It was not until the next year, 1777, that the nation had its first Fourth of July celebration. That year, John Adams went to the July Fourth dinner on a ship named "The Delaware." And he danced to the music of a band of Hessians taken prisoner at Trenton. Guy Lombardo didn't come until later—much later.

BEFORE 1776

The Fourth has not always been freedom's birthday—nor the vacationer's dream-time. It has been celebrated in many different ways for centuries, which may be surprising to those who thought that there was no Fourth of July before 1776. But it's true.

July the Fourth once was celebrated in honor of St. Martin. And that's where the damp deer (or soggy stags, as the natives of Scotland say) come in.

St. Martin of Bullion was a very popular Scottish saint. It was once popular to claim that the weather which prevailed on St. Martin's Day (or Bullion Day) was prophetic. It was a kind of medieval groundhog day. But instead of groundhogs, the weather prophets were the deer. "If the deer rise dry and lay down dry," the saying went, "there will be a good fall harvest." If the deer rose wet or lay down wet, then that meant 20 days of rain.

FIRECRACKERS AND FESTIVITIES

Fireworks became a popular way to express July Fourth enthusiasm soon after our country started making history. The bang-up idea was probably borrowed from the Chinese custom of setting off firecrackers on New Year's Eve to drive away evil spirits. And also to ward off evils, America adopted the custom called the "parade of the horribles." An early morning parade through the streets by persons dressed in wild costumes and making as much noise as possible supposedly drew in the good and frightened off the bad.

Community celebrations of a wide variety have long been Fourth of July favorites. One of the first was the Greeley, Colorado, "Spud Rodeo."

TEXAS FOURTH

But Alaska cannot surpass the celebrations of Texas. The Lone Star State has its own unique ways of marking the Fourth of July. Here the day sees quarter-horse races and shows in Stamford and Columbus. And rodeos in Belton and Pecos. And old-fashioned festivals in Brady, Taylor, and at Round Top and Winedale. There's a fishing festival in Brazosport. Golf tournaments tee-off statewide. And good old-fashioned fireworks explode in Carrollton and many other Texas home towns.

No matter how the Fourth is celebrated in Texas, it is always marked with friendliness and good cheer. Go somewhere and celebrate this Fourth of July. And as you go, remember to spread friendliness on the highways, too. The Governor's Committee on Traffic Safety urges all Texans, native and transplant, and all visitors, to DRIVE FRIENDLY during this happy, frivolous holiday.

Remember that DRIVE FRIENDLY means keeping your speed in check, observing all traffic laws, and—most important of all—letting someone else drive if you have had a drink.

The "Spirit of '76" is the July Fourth spirit that we commemorate. The "Spirit of '72" is the friendly spirit behind the wheel that will also live on forever.

Miss Workman Becomes Bride of Clyde E. Bingham

Candlelight illuminated the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church in Ninneka, Okla., at 8 p. m. Friday, June 2, when Miss Janet Sue Workman became the bride of Clyde E. Bingham. Rev. Kenneth E. Bingham, father of the bridegroom and pastor of the First Assembly of God Church in Anadarko, officiated during the ceremony. The Bingham family formerly resided in Crowell and Rev. Bingham is a former pastor of the Crowell Assembly of God Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Agnes Workman of Ninneka and the late Oscar Workman, and the bridegroom is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Bingham.

The altar of the church was adorned with a greenery-entwined archway trimmed with white bows and centered with a white priedeu. The bridal path was lined with candles and the altar was flanked with candelabra.

Mrs. Rosa Lee Bush of Chickasha, organist, played the prelude and "Wedding March." Miss Peggy Castleberry, pianist, accompanied Mrs. Lois Freeman as she sang "Twelfth of Never," "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her brother, Jerry Workman of Oklahoma City, the bride was attired in a formal length gown of embossed satin overlaid with embroidered and embossed lace. The lace was sent to her by her brother, who is stationed in Tripoli, Libya, Africa. It was purchased in Venice, Italy.

The gown was fashioned with an empire waist trimmed with a satin bow and ribbon and long lace sleeves. The full length train and shoulder length veil of silk illusion was held in place with satin roses. The bride carried a bouquet of pink and white flowers reentered with an orchid atop her father's Bible. She carried out the traditional something old, new, borrowed, blue and a penny in her shoe.

Mrs. Barbara Curtis of Dallas served her sister as matron of honor. She wore a formal length white flocked veil gown with pink velvet flowers featuring colonial sleeves accented with velvet buttons and ribbons. Her head piece of white veil was trimmed with velvet ribbons and bows. She carried a single long stem carnation tied with ribbon streamers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Joyce Smith of Chickasha, Mrs. Jo Ann

Henderson of Dalhart and Miss Diane Workman, all sisters of the bride. They were attired identically to the matron of honor except their gowns were of lavender flocked veil with pink flowers.

Mark Smith of Chickasha and Curt Curtis of Dallas, both nephews of the bride, were candlelighters. Steffanie Henderson of Dalhart, niece of the bride, was flower girl, and ring bearers were Mike and Shanna Riddle, cousins of the bridegroom, of Wichita Falls. The flower girl was dressed identically to the honor attendants.

Allen Bingham of Anadarko, served his brother as best man. Groomsman were Dan Adams of Sherman, cousin of the bridegroom, and John David White and Jimmy White, both of Anadarko. Ushers were James Workman of Tuttle, brother of the bride, and Jimmy White and John White.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a lavender crepe dress with white accessories and lavender orchid corsage. The mother of the bridegroom wore a pink crepe dress with white accessories and a pink orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. Reception assistants were Mrs. Fern Workman of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Laverda Workman of Tuttle, and Mrs. Nancy Workman of Chickasha, all sisters-in-law of the bride. Mrs. Melody Workman of Chickasha, a sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the guest book. Rice attendants were Randy Smith of Chickasha, nephew of the bride, and Donna Weaver.

The bride's table was covered with satin overlaid with pink net, centered with an arrangement of pink roses and illuminated with white tapers in crystal candelabra. The tiered wedding cake was trimmed with pink roses and topped with a miniature bridal couple beneath an archway centered with miniature wedding bells.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a family heirloom of hand embroidered and hem-stitched linen cloth, which was purchased in London, England, in 1934 by the bridegroom's maternal grandfather, the late Odie Riddle, and used at his parent's wedding. The double ring cake was trimmed with pink rosebuds. A pink floral arrangement accented the table.

For her wedding trip to Texas, the bride chose a navy blue and white double knit empire waisted dress with navy and white accessories. She wore the orchid taken from the bridal bouquet.

The couple plan to reside in Chickasha where the bridegroom is the owner and manager of the Imperial Beauty Supply.

Gafford Family Has Reunion Here Saturday, June 24th

Relatives of the late Thomas Mayfield and Mary Marshall Gafford met in Crowell Saturday, June 24, for their annual reunion. Hosts for the occasion were Bill and Bettie K. Gafford, Otis and Betty B. Gafford, George and Mary Gafford Davis, Moody and Jim Lois Gafford Bursey.

Those who came early Friday, June 23, had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gafford and later in the evening the group enjoyed visiting together in Clint White's home.

Saturday morning, relatives and friends gathered at the community center for fellowship until 4 p. m., when they drove out to the McAdams Ranch, home of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Gafford and enjoyed several hours of touring the Foard County Museum.

A charming western setting was created on the front lawn of the ranch home with a chuck wagon decorated in cattle brands, chuck box, iron pots and cook vessels. Bales of hay served as seats and tables. To further enhance the western atmosphere, Charles Branch and his band furnished appropriate music which delighted the guests.

A delicious chuck wagon dinner was catered by Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Henry and staff of the Dairy Bar.

Sunday morning, the group was invited for coffee at the Moody Bursey farm.

Out of town relatives attending were Moe and Rose Lindley Kraker and Mrs. Ellis Gafford of Sulphur Springs, Texas, Gordon and Jo Gafford and Frenchie and Cloe Ramey Thomas of Wichita Falls; Mrs. Opal Jackson Slaton and Joe Slaton of Afton; Mrs. Pauline Ramey Phillips of Dallas; Mrs. Vera Gafford Campbell of Winnsboro; Jimmy Gafford of Memphis, Tenn.; L. E. Gafford of Gallaway, Tenn.; Ronald and Carolyn Bursey Price and sons, Brian and Mark, of Amarillo; Tom Sid and Dude Gafford of Oklahoma City; Weldon and Iva Ruth Gafford Hammonds of Floydada; Raymond and Zerne Gafford Lance and daughter, Lanica and Miss Michelle Gafford of Fort Worth; Chun and Ginny Gafford and children, Laura, Quinten and Heather of Dallas.

Crowell relatives included Edward Gafford, Mrs. Jim Riley Gafford, Glyndon and Georgeann Davis Johnson and daughters, Lessley and Lynne, Jim Mac and Gaye Gafford and children, Mac and Jodi, and the hosts and hostesses.

The only living child of the T. M. Gaffords, Mrs. Lizzie Baucum of Oklahoma City, was not able to attend.

4th of July to Bring More Than 500 Highway Fatalities

The Fourth of July week end will bring fun, fireworks . . . and more than 500 highway fatalities.

Statistics coldly, but clearly tell the recurring tale of highway tragedy. Last year, 635 died in highway accidents during the July 4th week end. The National Safety Council reports that an additional 215 people have died since who were involved in auto accidents last July 4th week end.

The smart driver is the one who will concentrate on the estimated 20 driving decisions which must be made each mile. To help the smart driver, an insurance company suggests 5 basic tenets of a decision driving program which the firm has taught throughout the country:

- expand your look-ahead capacity.
- size up the whole scene
- signal intentions early
- plan an escape route
- take decisive action

Expanding your look-ahead capacity simply means to watch for potentially dangerous situations developing ahead on the road. A problem developing hundreds of yards ahead could be a full-grown hazard for you in just a few seconds. The time gained by early recognition of potential problems could add a lot of time to your life.

In sizing up the whole scene, a driver evaluates his total environment, as it is constantly changing. Changes in weather, visibility, traffic patterns, road conditions, and such demand immediate and accurate response, especially when driving at high speeds. If a driver is travelling along at 60 miles per hour and a light rain starts or he sees traffic congested a quarter of a mile ahead, his preparation for the situation developing will help him avoid the need to make a split-second decision.

Even the best decision may be of no value if the driver does not communicate with other drivers. In order to safely share the road with other vehicles, a driver should clearly signal his intentions as early as possible. Use hand signals to warn of sudden stops or slowdowns, in addition to four-way flashers. Lightly tap your horn before passing, when entering a blind intersection or when backing into traffic.

The decision driver will always leave an "escape route" or way out of trouble, if the unexpected develops. One way to leave a margin of safety is to allow proper following distance, which means at least one car length for each ten miles per hour of travelling speed. Another way to keep yourself out of trouble is to try not to get "boxed in" on both the adjoining traffic lanes.

Finally, the driver must be ready to take decisive action. If the driver has kept in mind the above four principles, his decision-making should be easy. If the driver thinks about what he is doing and concentrates on his driving environment, he will have the needed knowledge to make decisions which will safely get him where he is going.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Attorney General of Texas

There are presently over 300 million credit cards in use in this country. This provides a bonanza for the swindler and thief. Losses each year from unauthorized use of such cards total an estimated 200 million dollars.

The ready acceptability of credit cards by merchants and dealers without demanding any identification from the user and the sending of unsolicited credit cards by mail have been the greatest causes for such losses.

Recently enacted federal legislation has effectively limited liability of the card holder and should help to alleviate some of the more serious problems.

Under the new law the credit card owner is liable for unauthorized use of his card only if it is an accepted card. An accepted card is one which the owner requested and actually received, or one he has signed and used.

Even where an accepted card is stolen or lost and unlawfully used, the owner's liability is now limited to a $50 maximum, and then only on certain conditions.

For any liability to attach at all, the card issuer must notify the holder as to his potential liability. The issuer is also required to provide the card holder with a stamped self-addressed notification to be mailed to the issuer in case of loss or theft.

The card issuer must also furnish the owner with a method of identifying himself as the person authorized to use it.

No liability for any card issued on or subsequent to January 25, 1971, exists unless all the above conditions are met.

Furthermore, any unauthorized use must occur before the card holder notifies the issuer of loss or theft.

As a further restriction, no credit card can now be issued unless it is in renewal of, or in substitution for, a previously accepted card, or unless a specific request or application is made. The burden of proof is on the issuer to show that the card was authorized or, if it was not, to prove that the above mentioned conditions for liability have been met.

The passage of this law by Congress should help to stem the tide that has allowed credit cards to become a relatively easy means of larceny in the United States.

Truscott 4-Hers Sponsor "Fun Night" Friday, June 23rd

"Bingo! Bingo! Everybody and play Bingo!" This was a sample of the "doin'" Truscott community house Friday night. The Truscott 4-Hers gathered in full force for their "Fun Night" a sponsored by the Truscott 4-Hers. So did many other residents of Truscott and Gilliland. A variety of prizes were won in their bingo, and almost everyone went home with at least one. Enjoyed playing 42, or just sitting around talking while sipped Kool-Aide or coffee. Listened to country music, best, played by several music makers from Truscott and Gilliland.

The 4-Hers made almost dollars from their fun night plan to use it on a trip to over Texas. They wish to everyone for coming and out, and hope that those attended had as much fun as 4-Hers did.

Why Do We Stand When the Flag Goes By?

(Editor's note: With July 4 upcoming, we print the following patriotic release prepared by Reagan Brown, sociologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, after he heard a young boy ask his dad, "Why do we stand when the flag goes by?")

At Texas A&M University home football games, the Corps of Cadets always marches in to the music of the Aggie Band. At one of these events, recently, I heard a young boy ask his Dad, "Why do the people stand up when the flag goes by?" I didn't hear the father's answer, but I began to wonder how I would have answered him.

I think I would have begun by pointing to the live oak trees around the university drill field planted in memory of Texas A&M University students who gave their lives in World War I. After the game I would have taken him by the Memorial Student Center built in memory of over 900 Aggies, whose names are on a bronze plaque at the entrance. They gave their lives in the World Wars and those since. I would have also pointed out other memorials on the campus, those that remind us of sacrifices in the most recent wars.

Later, when I could have a quiet time with him, I would talk about Concord's Bridge, Shenandoah Valley, Flanders Field, St. Lo, Guadalcanal, Bastogne, Korea and Viet Nam. I would mention to him my young Aggie friend James Ray '63 of Conroe, who has been a prisoner of North Viet Nam for more than five years. And, of course, all the other young men imprisoned over there.

I would then talk of what our flag represents, what kind of country it flies over. I would remind him that America is the land of the refugee, the land of "the huddled masses longing to be free," and a land dedicated to justice, tranquility, and the general welfare of its people.

I would tell him of the average man and woman and the hundreds who have conquered the mountains, prairies, and plains. I would discuss with him how the very lines of the maps have been marked by the blood of hundreds who plowed and planted and fought and planned, and whose offspring have poured their abundance around the world to lift others. Then I would talk of the slant eyes, black faces, Nordic color,

Irish enthusiasm, Italian grace, German laughter, Baptists, Catholics, Methodists, Texans, Yankees, Republicans, Democrats, and a thousand and one other tall, short, fat and thin people who call themselves Americans.

We would discuss the "land of the free," "home of the brave," the opportunity to climb the ladder of success according to ability and desire. Then we would talk of the philosophy of "how you play the game" and about "not who your Mama or Papa is," but what's your "life game plan." I would remind him how each man worships God as he pleases, sing, whistle, dance, and cheer as his conscience dictates. Next we would discuss our responsibility to our neighbor, to our environment, to the minority, sick, lame, orphans, and those in their golden years.

Yes, as I thought about how I could answer, as I began to enumerate why we stand when the flag goes by, I caught myself standing there in the quietness of my office. The thoughts caught me up in a reverent respect and I wanted to cry out how much I love the land that has done so much for me. I thought of the nine boys in our company, Company G, 272 Infantry, 69th Division, two of them black, who were killed in World War II. I thought of all the schools, jobs, homes, hospitals, and families that make our country not perfect, but far ahead of any other country in the world.

That is the reason why we stand, my boy. So we can get a good look at the red, white, and blue as it passes by, representing all of those sacrifices, all those hopes, all of those things we want for future Americans. This flag going by gives you the privilege to keep sitting, if you want to. But if you are part of the fabric of those who have made it possible for you to rise up in respect, by your actions will trigger a standing ovation. So stand tall when the flag goes by, so it can always pass your way again.

More than half the drowning victims in pools are youngsters under the age of ten. Children should be closely supervised when in or around the water. A few seconds of neglect could lead to a lifetime of regret.

THANK YOU!!

To all the postal patrons on Route 1 and Route 2, I wish to express my thanks and appreciation for all the nice things you have done for me while I was your mail carrier.

For the times you pulled me out of the mud, or helped change a flat tire, and for the nice things you left in the mail boxes for me, and for your cooperation, I sincerely thank you. You shall long be remembered.

Deadline Set for Materials for Foard History

Another reminder this week from the Foard County Historical Survey Committee that a July 1 deadline has been set for acceptance of historical information which is presently being assembled for a second edition of a Foard County history.

Family histories must be typed in the exact form in which they are expected to appear in the new edition. Old pictures are requested and will be returned to the owners, the committee says.

Area Farmers to Receive Questionnaire

Questionnaires Will Be Mailed Out Early in July

Certain farmers in Foard County will be receiving in early July an acreage and production questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin. Some 22,000 questionnaires are being mailed statewide.

"This information will be the basis for determining harvested acreage and production of early harvested crops for the state and each county," points out county agent Joe Burkett.

"Reports are needed from all farmers so that each of the 254 counties in the state will be well represented."

The extension service says that accurate estimates are of great importance to farmers in planning production and marketings and in providing an unbiased picture of Texas agriculture. The Texas legislature has provided a program of estimates for each county. Texas covers such a wide area that state totals alone don't provide adequate information on our most basic industry—agriculture.

Installation of the new windows at the high school and grade school have been completed. After three weeks of work by the school employees, 33 windows were installed on the north and west side of the high school and 11 were installed in grade school. The total material cost was slightly over $4,000, according to Supt. Larry Jones.

School employees installing the windows were Allen Taylor, who was superintendent for the work; Ray Quintero, Jimmy Quintero, B. E. Henry and the Neighborhood Youth Corps employees.

"The administration is sure the windows will help keep the rooms warmer in the winter time," Supt. Jones said.

Jones also said that the band practice field has been sowed and "is in good shape."

Relative of Crowell Woman Almost Hijacked Airplane

Two flights from St. Louis, Mo., leaving for Tulsa, Okla., the same time; the plane in question makes an uneventful flight to Tulsa; the other plane is hijacked.

That's luck, either good or bad depending on whether or not you would like to be on a plane that is hijacked causing you to be an unexpectedly-long flight.

Anyways, that's what happened to M. L. Downey of Baltimore, Md., who is married to Mrs. J. Roberts' granddaughter, former Joan Roberts.

Mrs. Roberts had Mrs. Downey and daughter from Baltimore, guests last week and they all flew to Tulsa last week to meet Downey who flew in at 3:45 p. m. Friday from St. Louis.

The plane had landed, passengers were informed that the plane had been hijacked.

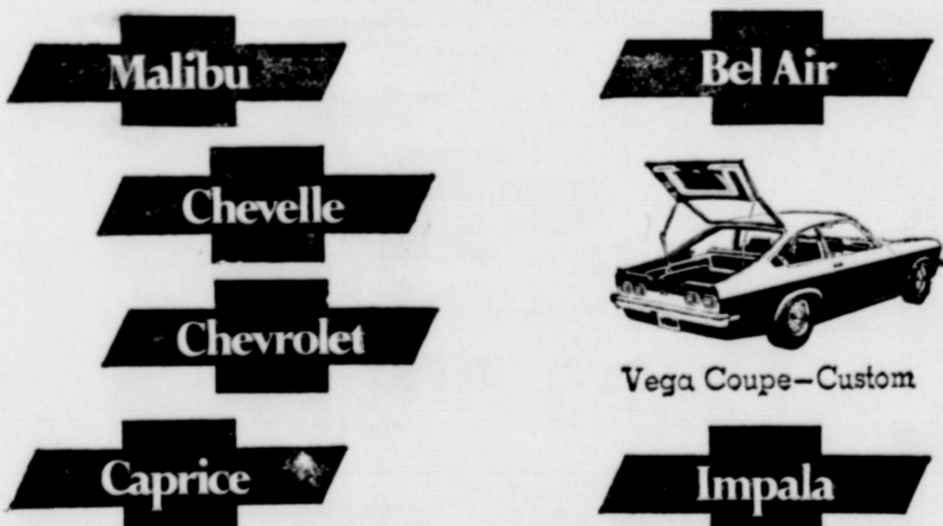

As of Tuesday of this week the half million dollars and the gun used by the hijacker had been found, but the hijacker had not been located.

While in Texas, the Downey family will visit in Fort Worth and Dallas and will also visit his parents at Hawley.
