Available to Foard Residents

Services of Outreach Service Center Explained at Meeting Here Thursday

Mrs. Elaine Nichols, director of the Outreach Service Center in Quannah, was in Crowell Thursday afternoon and told a group of Crowell residents how the center can be utilized to assist residents of Foard County that have a need.

Calling the Quannah center a "problem solving center," Mrs. Nichols said help in the fields of marriage counseling, learning disabilities in children, drinking problem, drug problem, and any problem that affects an individual or family can be treated.

The center was set up to serve Foard County as well as Hardeman, but until recently no information about the services offered had been made available locally.

She said that psychologists, psychiatrists and social workers from the Vernon center are all available for counseling and treatment of Foard County residents.

It was announced that Dale Frederick of Quannah, a psychiatric social worker, will be at the neighborhood center on May 17 for counseling and is scheduled to be in Crowell every other Thursday.

The Quannah center is located in a remodeled house at Sixth and King Streets in Quannah. In addition to regular counseling the center has a "satellite" school in which children with learning disabilities are taught in the mornings and retarded adults are taught in the afternoons.

It was announced at the local meeting that anyone having a need relative to any of the aforementioned problems is asked to call 684-4511, Crowell, and assistance will be given as quickly as possible.

The center was organized as a co-operative effort between Hardeman and Foard Counties in June 1970.

Attending the meeting Thursday were Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. Moody Bursey, Foard County's member on the board of directors; Mrs. David Johnson, Mrs. Lee Black, Mrs. Henry Borchardt, Mrs. A. R. Sanders, Mrs. Loraine C. ... W. O. Rucker and ...

Mother of Margaret Resident Has Old Bottle Collection

(Editor's note: The following article appeared in the Sunday edition of The Vernon Daily Record. Mrs. Jack Carey, the subject of the story, is the mother of Mrs. Bobby Bond of Margaret and Mrs. Carey has been a frequent visitor at the flea markets held in Crowell in past years.)

"Save your Confederate money, the South will rise again," is an oft-quoted statement of unrepentant rebels who still relish the time and traditions of earlier years.

The admonition could well be applied to old items, whether old newspapers or old medicine bottles or almost anything else.

Once they have become scarce enough, it is inevitable that they should become collector's items and appreciate considerably in value, if not from the standpoint of cash worth, at least from a sentimental point of view.

Mrs. Jack Carey of 1716 Loma Linda, for instance, has a collection of old medicine bottles from early drug stores, as well as accompanying newspapers in which the early-day "medicine men" advertised their products.

For instance, she has specially-made bottles bearing the inscription of J. H. Pendleton, Druggist, Vernon, Texas; Eagle Drug Store, T. L. Pierce, proprietor; The Eagle Drug Company, Vernon, Tex., Dr. S. D. Bettes, proprietor; and T. M. Ferguson, druggist, among others.

The early newspapers include a June 27, 1896, edition of The Vernon Hornet, which carries a T. M. Ferguson advertisement.

Mr. Ferguson apparently believed in advertising in all the newspapers of the day, because the much larger (by page size) publications, the Wednesday, June 24, 1896, edition of the Vernon Call, and the Vernon Globe of Tuesday, June 23, 1896, also included his advertisements.

The Vernon Hornet carried be-

Call Leotis Roberts

LICENSED EXTERMINATOR
For your next tree spraying, termites, roaches, ants, etc.

neath its masthead the motto: "Tall Oaks from Little Acorns Grow." The Vernon Globe could have had something in mind in its own motto relative to the Hornet's oak: "How to the line, let the chips fall where they may."

The Vernon Call was a bit more political, carrying beneath its masthead, "Democratic in Principle, But Independent in Party Methods."

D. D. McConnell was listed as editor and proprietor of that early-day Vernon Call. E. Spratt Hendrick was publisher of the Vernon Hornet, which was "published every Saturday from offices over the Vernon Drug Store." J. P. Orr was editor and proprietor of "The Vernon Weekly Globe."

The Hornet subscription price was 25 cents per year. Mr. Orr charged $1 a year for The Globe. Subscription price for The Call was "One Dollar Per Year, six months 75 cents, in advance."

Little stories were the trademark especially of The Vernon Hornet. Some samples:

"T. J. Gilliam shipped to St. Louis Monday 1 car of beef cattle."

"J. B. Ralston returned Monday from the Republican Convention."

"Conn, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Huff, had the misfortune one day last week to break his collar bone."

"All crops that have been threshed have yielded at least one-third more than expected. People who thought that they would make 10 to 12 bushels are threshing out 15 to 24 bushels."

"According to the Hornet's announcement column, there are only three candidates for assessor, one district attorney and nobody wants to be constable."

County Agent Gets Special Recognition

A special recognition award has been made to county extension agent Joe Burkett of Foard County by trustees of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation in cooperation with the Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program.

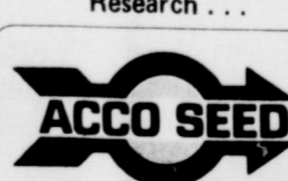

Burkett received a tie tac (or lapel pin) bearing the unique "Sterile Steve" design or sterile fly emblem of the eradication program.

In commenting on the presentation, directors of the screwworm eradication program told Burkett: "We say thank you for past and for future educational programs for the livestock industry, with special emphasis on the screwworm eradication program."

Don't Think Through . .

"Many citizens do not take the time to think through the processes involved in government handouts, rebates, revenue sharing and the like. There is the inclination to regard these monies as a government gift to the people, or the local government. Actually, that is far from true." — Fort Mills, S. C., Times.

MERL KINCAID PARK DEDICATED SUNDAY

A beautiful site on rolling hills on the south shores of Lake Greenbelt was dedicated in appropriate ceremonies Sunday afternoon at the J. Merl Kincaid Park. The park was named in honor of Crowell's first member on the Greenbelt Water Authority's board of directors. The park site is complete with numerous picnic tables, outdoor seating facilities, and had modern room facilities on the site. A. A. Yarborough of Childress, president of the Greenbelt board of directors, served as master of ceremonies for the occasion, and Leslie Thomas was the principal speaker, as he briefly cited the many accomplishments and works of Mr. Kincaid. He also introduced Mr. Kincaid's three children: Mrs. Paul (Marcia) Johnson of Lubbock, Mrs. Frances Coker of Dallas and Robert Kincaid of Crowell.

 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Tex.—The first overall revision of the Texas penal code in more than a century is nearing final passage as the legislature plows through its last full week of regular session duties.

House members promptly went to work on the bill after the Senate passed it last week.

The revision is the product of a seven-year study ramrodded by the State Bar of Texas.

Generally, the code pulls together the thousands of criminal laws scattered through the statute books.

It groups felonies and misdemeanors into classes, ranging from most severe to minor offenses and insanity as applied to defense in criminal cases. The new definition terms insanity as a mental disorder or defect that prevents one from conforming his conduct to requirements of the law. The old "M'Naghten rule" terms a person insane who does not know right from wrong or understand the nature and consequences of his acts.

Lawmakers went into Friday and Saturday sessions in an effort to reduce the tremendous pile of unfinished legislation. Much of it will remain unacted on.

OPEN RECORDS BILL PASSED—The Senate passed its version of open records legislation, returning it (HB 6) to the House for consideration of amendments.

The bill would require most records to be available for public inspection and that copies be provided promptly at cost.

An amendment would allow agencies to require prepayment for copying records of many pages.

Exceptions are provided for private correspondence and communications of elected officials and information related entirely to personnel matters within the agency.

OIL ALLOWABLE RETAINED—Texas Railroad Commission for the 15th straight month set the June oil allowable at 100 per cent.

Commissioners responded to soaring, record demands for crude oil.

Purchasers requested 3.8 million barrels a day for June, an increase of 33,931 over May.

EXXON announced plans to increase refining capacity by 350,000 barrels daily, due mainly to additions to its Baytown refinery.

A former commissioner, William Murray, said the city of San Antonio may not be able to get through the summer unless it can obtain additional oil for its electrical service.

SOMEBODY TAKES UP FOR THE RANCHERS

(Editor's Note: The following article appeared in a recent issue of the Kerrville paper. The News was furnished a copy by Joe Don Brown. Charles Talbert, former game warden here, sent the article to Mr. Brown.)

There's still an occasional defender of the rancher, even in the big cities.

This story was printed in the Cincinnati Enquirer recently, and written by Bob Brunfield.

It would serve this country's whining, complaining, penny-wise and pound-foolish housewives right if all the farmers started selling everything they produce to foreign countries.

The same goes for all the other food producers, processors and distributors.

The typical modern American urban housewife, for all of her virtues—real and imagined—is a short-sighted, lazy, pampered little ingrate, whose primary interests are her underarms, her hair, her hands, her hips, her overindulged and over-educated children, her overweight and overpaid husband and the next thrilling episode of "General Hospital" in that order.

A hard day's work in a grocery or a bakery would do her a lot of good. So would taking over the duties of a farm wife for a while. Maybe then she'd realize that these people have a right to make a decent living just as much as her union-scale husband.

Whoever gave the urban housewife the idea that she's the only damned person in the world having a hard time making ends meet? When was the last time she had to send her kids off to school with a couple of cold biscuits and a hunk of fatback to hold them until suppertime, or flopped down, bone-weary after working from sunup to sundown, and worried about whether the frost was going to kill the money crop?

While milady of the suburbs is soaking in her tub in her Better Homes & Garden bathroom, thousands of farm wives are scraping off the dirt of an honest day's toil in a galvanized laundry tub.

And while Miss Citybriches is spraying on $10 worth of deodorant skin softener, hair spray and assorted beauty crop, the average farm wife is counting her blessings because she was able to swing for a bottle of Cornhusker's lotion and some Absorbine Junior.

If the urban housewife would stop organizing food boycotts and shovel a little cow manure, maybe she'd learn where milk comes from and how much work is involved before she strains herself ripping open that little waxed carton.

Boycott a grocery? Not me, sister. I still can remember how many people would have starved in this country if the independent grocers hadn't carried them on credit during the Depression.

Wise up! All that pretty food and those nice cuts of meat didn't just appear in the markets in a blinding flash of sparkledust. Millions of people worked their tails off to put it there for you—butchers, bakers, clerks, laborers, farmers, truck drivers, accountants, filling station attendants and hundreds of other occupations.

These people have dreams, too. They pay rent and taxes just like you do. And they deserve to make just as good a living as you do. Why single them out for destruction.

Why not your husband, the accountant executive? Why not your husband, the plumber? Why not your husband, the lawyer? Or why not your husband, the doctor? Or why not—God help you—your husband, the newspaper editor?

You sit here in front of your color TV set, with a $3,000 car in the garage, smelling like the garden of Eden and looking 10 years younger than you are. You take a vacation every year. Your insurance premiums are paid up. Your children are healthy. You don't have any chains around your ankles and the bombers won't come tonight! And you're going bananas because bread went up a penny a loaf! You make me sick.

Joe Chapman Is Subject of School Newspaper Article

(Editor's note: The following article appeared in the Roosevelt (Lubbock) High School newspaper the article's subject is a Crowell native and has many relatives and friends living here. The article follows:
 Joe Chapman is a big man, following in his father's footsteps doing a big job.
 Every afternoon the 240-pound senior reports to work for his father, H. C. Chapman, as a carpenter. He drives nails, saws lumber, and builds structures.
 Mr. Chapman has been in this line of work for some 25 years and he is presently employed at Rodgers Construction Co. He also takes on small jobs on the side and has Joe assisting.
 Because Joe does not care for books, research papers, or homework, he enjoys Vocational Ag III.
 "In ag you are able to learn something through physical practice or work rather than from a book," Joe remarked.
 His hardest decision was whether or not to attend college, for it means four more years of school. But he is going and will major in animal science.
 The 6-footer has been a member of the "high-flying" Eagle football team, FFA, FTA, and Speech Club while attending school here three years. Joe was born in Crowell and attended CHS before coming here.
 His like-list includes steak, blue, the Bible, and movies with John Wayne and Raquel Welch. Keith Stone is his ideal person, and Mrs. Ann Franklin, his favorite teacher.
 Joe wants his friends to be "honest and not self-centered."
 "Be your own self, and don't let other people influence you a great deal" is the advice "Big Joe" gives to all the "smaller" people.
 At the conclusion of the school article, Big Joe wrote the following:
 Joe's great desire was to move back to Crowell and graduate from CHS.
 Now that this phase of his life is coming to an end, he's very sad. He's leaving many friends. He has been teacher's aide the past three years. He wants to send his sincere thanks and appreciation to Crowell people. Roosevelt School has an enrollment of some 1200 students. Graduation was May 22.

Are You One of the 24,000? . . . Harvest Slows In One Area, Nearing Peak In Another . . . Hog Cholera Strikes Again . . . Sheep On Feed Is Down But Up.

Now being distributed by the mailmen are 24,000 crop questionnaires to that many number of farmers throughout the state. If you get one of the questionnaires you are requested to fill it out as accurately as possible and return it as soon as possible.

These questionnaires form the basis of information about Texas crops. The information is also used in making decisions on farm programs. None of the reports will be used on an individual basis. They are compiled into county, district, and state totals.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service urges you to fill out and return the crop questionnaire so that a complete and accurate picture of Texas agriculture can be put together.

If you are one of the 24,000, you'll be doing yourself and all other farmers in the state a good turn, too, by answering and returning the questionnaire.

WHILE harvest of Texas onions has peaked in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, the Winter Garden-San Antonio area is in the midst of onion harvest.

Based on May 1 reports, the Texas early spring onion crop is five percent below last year's crop; the yield is reduced 15 percent from last year due to weather.

Harvesting has also been completed in the Coastal Bend area. In the San Antonio area, the crop remains in generally excellent condition with good yields being reported.

TEXAS broke a nationwide 83-day free period of hog cholera recently when two counties were quarantined due to a verified case of that swine disease.

Hidalgo and Cameron counties in the Lower Rio Grande Valley are now under state and federal quarantines. They are designed to sharply limit swine movements until veterinary medical officers and livestock inspectors can verify the health of all swine herds in the vicinity.

Hog cholera is a highly infectious virus disease usually fatal to swine, but it does not affect other animals or humans.

Federal import regulations already prohibit the entry of live hogs, fresh pork and pork products into this country from Mexico. The new quarantines restrict swine movements within the state and between Texas and other states.

Meanwhile, the national hog cholera advisory committee is currently looking at ways to speed up the eradication of hog cholera. A total of 43 states are now classified as "hog cholera free" under the nationwide eradication program.

SHEEP feeders with a lot capacity of 2,000 head or more had 87,000 sheep and lambs on feed as of May 1, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service reports.

Current intentions to market the 87,000 head are: May 40,000; June 29,000; and July 18,000.

The number on feed is six percent below the number a month ago but 36 percent above the number on feed last year.

Placements during April totaled 34,000 head with a total of nine feeders reporting 1,000 or more head on feed as of May 1.

Mercury Climbs to Over 100 Degrees

Weather that is conducive to maturing and drying the small grain crop has kept Foard County residents sweltering during most of the past week.

A weak cool front held the mercury down some Sunday and another one pushing through Tuesday brought a few sprinkles, high winds and cooler weather Tuesday. Electrical service was off for a few minutes during the early morning hours Tuesday.

Miss Veda Lynn Everson Becomes Bride of Mr. Walkup

In a candlelight ceremony held in the Bethel Church at 7 p. m. Saturday, Miss Veda Lynn Everson became the bride of Billy James Walkup. Rev. Warren Everson, pastor of the church, and uncle of the bride, officiated for the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Everson of Crowell and the bridegroom is the son of Tots Walkup and grandson of Mrs. J. H. Walkup, both of Quanah.

Vows were repeated before an archway entwined with salal greenery and flanked by arched candelabra decorated with swags of English ivy and centered by white pompons. A matching swag and pompon arrangement accented the prie dieu.

Candlelighters and ushers were Ike Everson, brother of the bride, and Richard Kubicek of Vernon, the bride's brother-in-law.

Miss Rhonda Vecera, pianist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied a quartet composed of Misses Trudy Bird, Babs Streit, Karen Gray and Darla Bell as they sang "Wedding Song" and "The Twelfth of Never."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white bridal satin with long full sheer sleeves banded with white satin embroidered with lace. The waist, beaded with seed pearls, had a high sheer poke banded with white satin and lace. The tiered cathedral length veil of imported bridal illusion flowed from a satin flowerlet crown embroidered with seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a diamond drop necklace. The bride carried a colonial nosegay of white pompons centered by white roses.

Mrs. Richard Kubicek of Vernon was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a formal blue satin A-line dress highlighted by white lace embroidered with matching blue flowers.

Her headpiece was a puff of blue net caught by a matching satin Dior bow. She carried a small nosegay of white pompons.

Bridesmaids were Misses Lee Meads and Betty Collins. Their dresses and flowers were identical to the honor attendant.

Ring bearer was Terry Boren, cousin of the bride, and flower girl was Miss Brenda Henry.

Serving as best man was Danny Foerster of Vernon. Groomsmen were Larry Everson of Paducah, brother of the bride, and Jim Glover of Crowell.

For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother wore a navy blue ensemble with white accessories. The bridegroom's grandmother selected a sky blue A-line dress with white accessories. Each wore a corsage of white pompons.

Parents of the bride hosted a reception in the friendship hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. The table was laid with a full length white lace cloth and was centered by an arrangement of a bridal doll ascending a flight of stairs which was encircled with English ivy. The three tiered wedding cake was accented by blue pompons and topped by a traditional bride and groom.

Members of the house party were Mmes. Dale Henry, Duane Boren and L. H. Wall, Jr.

For her going-away costume, the bride selected a blue and white western suit with white accessories. She wore a corsage of white roses from her bridal bouquet.

Students Report on CHS Activities

by Babs Streit and Rhonda Vecera

Thursday was the final day of twelve years for all the graduating seniors. First of all, they were honored at an assembly where they came in to one of their class songs, "We've Only Just Begun." Then, various awards were given, the room mothers were recognized and the class history and poem were read.

The conclusion came when senior class president Babs Streit passed the senior key to the junior class president, Julie Streit. Then, they left singing their other class song, "School's Out," and all loaded up and went to the river for their last class picnic.

The climax of the day came that night when the class was honored at a barbecue given by Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Bell.

Senior spot light this week is Lance Worley, the 5'11" brown-eyed, auburn haired, senior. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Worley.

Lance was vice president of the Student Council last year, and is who's who in science this year. He was a member of the band three years.

Library Committee Has Meeting May 21

The Library Committee of the Foard County Federation of Women's Clubs met in a called meeting Monday, May 21, at 2:30 p. m. in the Foard County Library. Mrs. Clarence Garrett, chairman, presided.

The treasurer, Mrs. Hubert C. Brown, reported that $207.90 was collected in the Patrons for the Library drive held during National Library Week in April. She made particular note that two ex-Crowell residents, Jimmy Claude Cates of Austin and Mildred Neal of Las Cruces, N. M., sent in contributions. Mr. Cates also sent sixty-five adult and children books from his family's personal library. Other contributors not previously announced were Mrs. John S. Ray and Darwin Bell.

The library treasury now has a balance of $327.70. The committee voted to have additional shelves built and Mmes. Brown, Garrett and Ray Shirley were appointed to care of those details. A book selection committee composed of Mmes. Andrews, Ray and Ed Huskey was also appointed. Patrons are invited to suggest books they would like to have in the library by contacting Mrs. Veatrice Brock, librarian.

The resignation of Mrs. Garrett as chairman was regretfully accepted and Mrs. Huskey was elected in her place.

The Library Committee is composed of representatives from each of the federated clubs of Foard County and the librarian. Seven members attended the called meeting Monday.

Two Minutes with the Bible

God—A Just Judge

How just are the judgments of God! In Romans 2:16 St. Paul says "God shall judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ according to my gospel." Notice carefully what this means:

1. He will judge "the secrets of men." In human courts there is often a miscarriage of justice because all the facts are not brought to light. But at the "Great White Throne" there will be a Judge with "eyes like a flame of fire" (Rev. 19:12), before whom no secret will remain hidden. (See also Hebrews 4:13).

2. He will judge the secrets of men "by Jesus Christ." Not the Father but the Son will preside at the judgment to come. John 5:22 declares that "the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son" and verse 27 adds that the Father has given the Son this authority "because He is the Son of man." This insures just judgment, for men will be judged in that day by the One who loved them enough to become a man that He might understand and help them, and even die for their sins.

3. He will judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ "according to my gospel," says Paul. He is eminently fair and just. He judged men according to the Law of Moses no one ever was saved, for all of us have broken the law. Moreover the children of fallen Adam cannot continually keep the law. How then will it be just to hold them accountable for that which they were unable to live up to? This is why He will judge men according to the good news proclaimed by Paul which is the great truth that salvation is denied to no one who takes God at His Word and approaches Him in His way. His way for today? "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved."

797 Barrels a Day

Foard County Produced 291,553 Barrels of Crude Oil During 1972

In the fact of unprecedented demand, Texas oil fields last year produced almost 1.3-billion barrels of crude oil, an all-time record for the state. This figure was tops among the nation's oil-producing states and represented some 38 per cent of total U. S. production, according to statistics compiled by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

These figures show an increase of more than 67.8-million barrels over production in 1971. They reflect that during the last nine months of the year, the Texas Railroad Commission maintained a maximum efficient production rate for Texas fields. This marked the first time Texas wells had produced all-out since 1948.

Last year's crude oil production, recorded in 203 of the state's 254 counties, was valued at some $4.5 billion.

In 83 years of recorded production, Texas has produced nearly 37 billion barrels of oil, about 36 per cent of total U. S. production. Foard County, which has had recorded production since 1929, last year produced 291,553 barrels of oil at the rate of 797 barrels a day. Production in 1922 boosted Foard County's production total through the end of the year to 14,838,209 barrels.

Some 32 counties last year produced more than 10 million barrels of crude oil. The top half dozen, all with production in excess of 50 million barrels, include:

Scurry, 85.4 million barrels; Ector, 71.4 million barrels; Andrews, 65.2 million barrels; Yoakum, 55.2 million barrels; Gregg, 53.4 million barrels and Gaines, 52.5 million barrels.

Gregg County, the only Texas county to produce more than two billion barrels of oil in the history of recorded production, remains the all-time leader with a cumulative production total of over 2.3 billion barrels. Others with over one billion barrels of production include:

Ector, 1.8 billion barrels; Andrews, 1.6 billion barrels; Rusk, 1.5 billion barrels, and Harris, Crane and Scurry, 1 billion barrels each.

Pat Cates Doubly Honored at Alpha Psi Omega Banquet

Pat Cates, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Cates of Thalia, was doubly honored at the third annual Alpha Psi Omega awards banquet held recently at the University Theatre at Texas Tech University.

Alpha Psi Omega, the national collegiate dramatic fraternity, sponsors the annual event to climax the University Theatre season. Pat was recognized as an Outstanding Sophomore for "Achievement in Theatre Arts," by Dr. Richard Weaver, Director of the Tech Department of Theatre. At the close of the banquet, Pat was again recognized, this time as recipient of a scholarship provided by Sock and Buskin, Tech's departmental dramatic organization. This scholarship, its winner selected by the Theatre faculty, was awarded on the basis of Pat's past theatre work and in recognition of his potential.

Pat appeared in two major productions at Tech this year, including a lead role in an experimental production, "The Attendant." This play also won two awards for excellence in student productions. He has been in several other productions in past semesters and in many production staff positions. Pat will be a junior at Tech next fall.
