Tigers Defeat Wildcats 14-13 Friday Night

The Crowell Wildcat football team scored 13 points in the second quarter of last Friday night's game with the Electra Tigers here at Dick Todd Field. However, in the last half, the Wildcats offensive unit could not push across for any more points, while the Tigers generated two TD drivers in the last half, were successful on both conversion attempts, and handed the Cats their second consecutive loss by a 14 to 13 score. The Tigers had been winless going into last week's game.

Following a scoreless first period and early in the second quarter, Rocky Glasscock, who was playing quarterback in place of Steve Graves, who was injured in the Memphis game, passed to Melvin Westover who ran in for the score. The pass-run play covered some 35 yards. Philip Bell split the uprights for the extra point.

Just minutes after the first score, Bell ran an Electra punt back to the Tiger 35-yard line. Twelve plays later, with just seconds left in the half, Bell carried the ball in from the 3rd. Try for extra point failed and the Cats held a 13-0 lead at halftime.

Two big plays by the Tigers were the main factors in the Electra win. One came in the third period when Tiger lineman Van Hogle broke through the Wildcat line and blocked a Philip Bell punt which Electra recovered on the Cat 3. The Tiger's powerful running back, Johnny Green, whom the Wildcats contained most of the night, carried the ball in for the score. Electra quarterback Thaggard added the extra point.

The other big Electra play came late in the game when speedy Electra running back

County Has Third Wettest September

A heavy shower last Wednesday morning, September 26, brought additional moisture to Foard County and further delayed sowing and planting of small grains. Official measurement here was .73 inch while most other areas of the county reported an inch or more.

The wettest September ever recorded here was in 1936 when 13.10 inches fell after one of the driest summers on record. Then in 1965, a total of 9.62 inches fell during September.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Bill Boykin TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Tex.—“There’ll be no ‘right-to-work’ law in the proposed new Texas constitution,” predicted Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and Bill Hartman, Beaumont Enterprise-Journal, at a meeting of the Texas Daily Newspaper Association last week.

Answering a question from a newspaperman at the summer meeting of the Texas Daily Newspaper Association in Guadalajara, Mexico, Hobby and Hartman said the Texas Constitutional Revision Commission will not have “right-to-work” in the proposed constitution which will be submitted to the legislature in November. Hartman is a member of the commission.

“It will be impossible for ‘right-to-work’ advocates to get the two thirds vote necessary to get it back in the constitution at next year’s Texas Constitutional Convention,” Hobby added.

The convention -- beginning in January -- will be writing a new constitution to present to Texas voters in 1974.

Hobby also told the Texas publishers that the most important change for the commission and Concon is reorganization of the executive branch. “Texas state government now spends $5 billion a year with no one in charge,” he concluded. “Under our present constitution we have the weakest ‘office of governor’ in the nation.”

the wake of recent “semi-riots” at Gatesville Boys School and a court finding that discipline is too harsh at several state institutions for youth.

Dr. James A. Turman resigned as TYC executive director, a post he has held since 1957, and Robert Kneebone quit as chairman. The Board named W. Forrest Smith of Dallas as new chairman of TYC and Ron Jackson, 33, of Brownwood as acting executive director.

Smith told the House Committee on Human Resources TYC “needs a little settling time and a little of the pressure taken off” before it can move toward new goals. Smith said the council will comply fully with the rulings of Federal District Judge William Wayne Justice at Tyler that it end certain disciplinary practices used against youth school inmates.

NEW GAS RATE GRANTED
The Railroad Commission granted Lo-Vaca Gathering Company, which sells natural gas to many Texas cities, a fluctuating interim rate of about 29.55 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas.

The increase is five cents above the present weighted average cost of gas to the company as of last June. A commission order also provides that the weighted average cost of gas be adjusted up or down each month to reflect the current cost Lo-Vaca is paying.

Lo-Vaca sought an interim rate of 34.9 cents per mcf. The commission said the interim rate was designed to allow the company to purchase gas and recoup operating, but that it does not provide a rate of return on investment. Granting the temporary rate may prevent or mitigate gas shortages to the public during winter heating months, the Commission order said.

COURTS SPEAK
A Dallas man sentenced to death for murder during armed robbery won a reversal of his conviction in the Court of Criminal Appeals on grounds his arrest was not based on sufficient information and conflicted with court-set standards.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the 35-year prison sentence assessed a Houston man for rape, because arresting officers illegally seized negatives showing the man having sex relations with a child.

The Texas Supreme Court refused to hear the appeal of a military captain’s ex-wife that she was entitled to part of his future retirement benefits.

The High Court also denied a motion for rehearing by Houstonian Candace Mossler in her court suit to avoid paying a $250,000 legal fee to famed Houston Attorney Percy Foreman successfully defended her and a nephew seven years ago on charges of murdering her husband.

Gillespie County landowners got their commissioners court on their side in claiming a 32-acre ranch condemned for the Lyndon B. Johnson State Park is worth $303,667 instead of $165,445 offered them by the State Parks and Wildlife Department.

AG OPINIONS--The Parks and Wildlife Department may contract with utility or water districts for water sewage services in state parks, Attorney General Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: The State Department of Public Welfare must continue to license child care institutions for the emotionally disturbed.

State employees must receive merit salary increases in both years of the fiscal period, but 10 a.m. Monday at St. Joseph’s can never exceed the monthly maximum no matter how much money is available.

Beaumont has authority to donate park land to the State Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation for use in building a hospital, without need for an election, but public hearings are required.

Out-of-state and out-of-county witnesses can be paid reasonable expenses for their appearances in court cases.

APPOINTMENTS--Governor Briscoe reappointed Mrs. Gus Wortham, Aaron J. Farfel and Mack H. Hannah Jr. of Houston to the University of Houston board of regents.

Briscoe reappointed Alton O. Bowen of Austin to the Governor’s Committee on Aging and designated him to continue as committee chairman.

Dr. David T. Kelly of South Carolina will head the Division of Program Development of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System.

Clyford T. Grimm of Austin will serve as managing director of the Texas State Building Materials and Systems Testing Laboratory, a consortium of nine state universities seeking to find innovative materials and methods in building.

SHORT SNORTS
Some 420 Texas cities collecting sales taxes received $52.8 million from the source during the quarter which ended June 30.

The federal government probably won’t approve Texas water quality standard, but the state won’t lose anti-pollution funds, according to the Environmental Protection Agency regional director.

Texas Offshore terminal Commission set December as target date for completion of its report on feasibility and location of offshore deepwater ports for oil-carrying supertankers.

Hearings have been rescheduled for October 3 in Houston and October 4 in Corpus Christi on locations of proposed liberty ship fishing reefs.

Texas city, county and other political subdivisions will receive the entire allocation of local funds from the Land and Water Conservation Fund Program for the next fiscal year -- about $1.7 million.

Seguin has American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Texas executive committee endorsement as a Texas Bicentennial Community.

Next year’s Southern Governors Conference will be held in Texas. The host city has not been selected.

The constitutional Revision Commission wrapped up its work amid predictions the legislature may not pay much attention when it convenes as a constitutional convention next January.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

“Reasonable Wear and Tear”

Because the rent for his apartment was high, Henderson figured he could do pretty much as he pleased with the elegant furnishings. During his occupancy he broke two valuable lamps, lost a costly pitcher and a painting, and spattered the antique furniture with unremovable stains.

When the landlord demanded reimbursement for the damage, Henderson said he could not be held liable for “reasonable wear and tear.” But a court saw things the landlord’s way and ordered Henderson to make good.

If you are renting a house or an apartment, chances are that somewhere in your lease there is a clause about reasonable wear and tear. This puts common-sense limits on the use you can make of the premises. In other cases, courts have held it wrongfully when:

- 1) a man chopped wood indoors, ripping the wallpaper, splintering the woodwork, and punching holes in the plaster;
- 2) a woman let her bathtub overflow, causing extensive water damage;
- 3) a man, trying to chisel open a stuck window, gouged great holes in the sill;
- 4) a couple permitted their pet poodle to soil the living room rug at will.

On the other hand, the law recognizes that a certain amount of deterioration—scuffed floors, worn carpets, nicked chairs—can come from normal, everyday use.

Nor is the tenant usually liable for harm done by the elements. Accordingly, in another case, the

What One Person Can Do

Dorothy Day, Friend of the Poor

In the depths of the Great Depression, a young woman named Dorothy Day and a middle-aged French peasant named Peter Maruin opened a soup kitchen for homeless men on New York’s Lower East Side. They saw this as a literal carrying out of Jesus’ words: “I was hungry and you gave Me to eat.”

The two also distributed cast-off clothing to men and women who would otherwise have had to spend the winter barefoot and coatless. Around the same time, they and a handful of volunteers began distributing a newspaper called “The Catholic Worker.” The message of that paper was that to be a follower of Christ requires that we work to meet the human needs He spoke of in the Gospels.

The group that formed around them came to be known as the Catholic Worker Movement. The soup kitchen is still open daily. Cast-off clothing is still distributed. “The Catholic Worker” continues to call for voluntary poverty, to urge radical change in the capitalistic system, to oppose war and to plead for the settlement of weathering and weakening of porch railings and outside shutters were held not the tenant’s responsibility.

As one judge put it: “Reasonable wear and tear contemplates that deterioration will occur by reason of time and use despite ordinary care. A tenant is not required to renovate the premises at the expiration of his lease.”

international disputes by non-violent means. Some have called Miss Day’s words and actions outrageous—even subversive. Others have taken lessons learned at the Catholic Worker and gone on to find their own ways of working for social justice. No one has ever accused Dorothy Day of failing to practice what she preaches.

Dorothy Day is now in her mid-seventies. Her hair is grey; her face, lined with the years. She continues to believe that “God can take the loaves and fishes, if that is all we have, and multiply them. But the thing is to want to give all.” The question is what are you and I willing to give?

One hour of farm labor in 1972 produced over twice as much food as it did in 1957-59. During this same time, output per manhour on non-farm work has increased 78 per cent.

Tour Made of County Historical Markers

Mrs. Virgil Johnson stated "the history of Foard County is as interesting and colorful as any in the state" when she conducted a tour to the historical markers in Foard County Thursday afternoon, Sept. 27, for the Home Demonstration Club members. Members of the Westside H. D. Club, the Gambleville H. D. Club and their guests gathered at the home of Mrs. Milburn Carroll, then journeyed to the marker at the site that was once Peace City. Mrs. Johnson gave a brief history of the post office that was located there. The mail was brought from Harrold to this post office and the door was never locked and the cowboys would come in, go through the mail to see if there was anything for them.

The group continued to the marker at the site of Old Margaret. This marker was erected in 1936. Mrs. Johnson gave a brief history of the town. It was typical of the wild west in their saucions, there were shootings. The Wesley and Dunn families were the first permanent settlers and there are descendants of these families still living in the county. One, Mrs. Melvin Moore, was on the tour. When the battle for the county seat of Hardeman County started, this was part of Hardeman County at the time. The people this side of the river wanted the county seat here and the people across the river wanted Quanah to be the county seat. From this dispute, Foard County was organized.

The next place of interest visited was the marker at the site of the Peace River Battlefield. The history of the re-capture of Cynthia Ann Parker, wife of Peta Nocona, famous Comanche Indian chief, was given. This story is the most touching of the county's history. Here, Mrs. Carroll served refreshments to eleven club members and six visitors. The tour then continued to the home of George T. Crowell for whom Crowell was named. It was built in 1908 and presently is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Loraine Carter. Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Walter Ramsey conducted a tour through the home. This house is one of the best examples of architecture of the early 1900's. Mrs. Johnson said. She said the Crowell family came to this area in 1886 and their first home was a dugout on a lot three blocks west of the southwest corner of the courthouse square. The town organizers met in this home and it was here the new town was named Crowell and after much discussion it became the county seat of Foard County. The tour ended here in Crowell with 20 present for the first county-wide meeting of the H. D. Clubs' new year.

Miss Karen Gray, student in West Texas State University at Canyon, was a weekend visitor with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Gray.

Mr. and Mrs. Foy McRae and Bruce and Dirk Gentry went to Fort Worth Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rettig and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Gentry went to Fort Worth Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rettig and family. They were met there by their brother, Tommie McRae of Hutchins. Mr. and Mrs. Foy McRae and Dirk Gentry returned home with them.

GOVERNOR LAUNCHES SCOUT ROUNDUP

AUSTIN—The Governor's Roundup for Scouting in Texas—aimed at recruiting 50,000 new members in Scouting this fall—has been officially launched by Governor Dolph Briscoe.

Governor Briscoe pinned the first Governor's Roundup pocket patch on Paul Carr of Troop 233, Uvalde, for recruiting another young man into Scouting.

Troop 233 is sponsored by St. Phillip's Episcopal Church. Dr. Howard Carr, Paul's father, is the scoutmaster.

Governor Briscoe has been active in Scouting in the Concho Valley Council for many years. He is presently a member of the Council's executive board and on the board of directors of the South Central Region, which serves five Southwestern states.

During the Governor's Roundup, which will end December 13, every youth member who recruits a new member will receive a Governor's Roundup pocket patch. Every unit leader who meets his goal will receive a Governor's Roundup coffee mug. Units meeting their goals will receive a Governor's citation and every Explorer recruiting another Explorer post member will receive a personalized citation from Governor Briscoe.

"The most important thing, of course, is that every eligible youth in Texas have the opportunity to join Scouting and to participate in this program of adventure and development," the Governor said.

"Young people in Scouting are learning about today's world, not the world in which Scouting's early images were formed. Tomorrow's Scout will be better prepared to meet the demands of his age than ever before. All of our programs are meaningful for today's youth.

"During the Roundup for Scouting, we are asking every Cub pack, every Scout troop and every Explorer post to open their doors and invite every eligible non-member in their neighborhoods to join them."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sharp and children of Detroit, Tx., were weekend visitors here in the home of her father, Leotis Roberts, and Mrs. Roberts.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Doc Callaway over the weekend were Mrs. Henry Evans and children Betty and Joe of Brownwood, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Johnson and daughter Pam of Vernon and their son, Dan, of Lemoore, Ca., and Sandra Skalsky of Lemoore.

Mrs. Woodrow Williams of Ft. Worth, Mrs. Glen Bishop of Gainesville and Mrs. Ruth Middleton of Vernon visited their sister, Mrs. O. C. Allen, and Mr. Allen Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. John Bradford of Vernon visited the Allens Sunday.

When sorting laundry, separate "lint-givers" from "lint-holders." Turning "lint-holders" inside out also helps. Launder heavy linters alone, suggests Lynn Bourland, home management specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Hints for Homemaker

Hints for the Homemaker
by Rhonda Ward, C.E.A.

"Make Your Winter Coat"

Make your own coat to keep you warm this winter. If you select just the right pattern and fabric, sewing a coat should not be difficult. Avoid collars, lapels, bound buttonholes and extra bulky fabrics—these are trouble makers, if you're not a good seamstress.

Some of the new fall looks feature capes and hooded and wrapped coats. Capes are a great fashion item, yet are easy to make. Selection of a hooded style will eliminate collar and buttonhole construction. And even though the wrap coat has a collar and lapels, you can forget about buttonholes.

The fabric you choose may also create sewing problems. Select material with an interesting look, such as a tweed or tapestry. A flannel or gabardine material can make an easy coat pattern hard to construct. These very plain fabrics will show every stitching or pressing mistake.

Bonded fabrics deserve consideration if you make a cape, but avoid using them to mold and shape a coat. Look for a closely-woven fabric. It's more stable and easier to handle than soft stretchy fabrics. Many fabrics sold for coats are thick and spongy, thus difficult to sew and press.

Even if you're not the most experienced seamstress, your coat-making can be a success if you select the proper pattern and fabric.

Miss Betty Leija, of Crowell, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and Ruben Castro, Jr. of Lawton, Ok., was the best man.

The bride's sisters, Mrs. Mary Gallegos of Quannah and Miss Bertha Leija of Crowell were the bridesmaids. The groomsmen were Lee Gallegos of Quannah and Junior Suniga of Vernon.

Dedication Set at Tech Museum

LUBBOCK, Tex.—The Matador Office Building, which once was the business office for a ranch grazing its cattle over more than one-and-a-half million acres, will be dedicated at the Ranch Headquarters outdoor exhibit of the Museum of Texas Tech University in Lubbock Oct. 6 during the annual meeting of the Ranch Headquarters Association.

Two men who had business and personal associations with the famous Matador will participate in the dedication. Chas A. Guy, former editor of the "Lubbock Avalanche Journal," will introduce Douglas Meador, editor of the "Matador Tribune," who will make dedicatory remarks.

The Matador began with foreign capital, and the original holdings have shifted owners, but the Matador Cattle Co. of 1973 operates ranches in six states, still making cattle history in the United States. It is this company which gave the Matador Office to the Ranch Headquarters to add to other buildings on the site, each authentically depicting some phase of ranching history.

The office, a small and sparsely furnished two-room frame house, will stand restored at the Ranch Headquarters to tell the success story of a venture in ranching which began in 1879, during the free range era when H. H. Campbell and four others established the original Matador Cattle Co.

In reconstructing Texas the only source of capital for expansion was foreign money, and in 1882 the Matador was sold to a Scottish syndicate. The headquarters was transferred from the half-dugout at Ballard Springs, Tex., to Dundee, Scotland. Campbell remained as manager. When the foreign owners visited the Matador, they stayed in a guest house built for them, called the "Scotsmen's Dive" by the Matador cowboys. This was the building that later became the office.

The success story of the Matador continued when windmills and tank dams and barbed wire changed the free range to the fenced range era. In the early 1900's the Matador name symbolized the range cattle industry in America and its herds represented the best in beef throughout the west.

MATADOR GENERAL MANAGER

The office building to be dedicated Oct. 6 joins 12 other structures at the site, plus two windmills, in a projected total of 22 buildings interpreting the history of the ranching industry in the American West.

Although the Ranch Headquarters is not officially open, corporations were purchased by individuals or groups of individuals. The headquarters of the Alamositas Division was the large tract purchased by R. H. Fulton of Lubbock.

Fred Chase Koch purchased the brand and 110,000 acres of the ranch, including the original headquarters at Ballard Springs, and his matador Cattle Co. gave the Matador Office in honor of this founder of the current company.

Today's Matador Cattle Company produces Hereford breeder cattle of national reputation and operates feedlots. In addition to the Matador Division, the company owns and leases other ranches in Texas, Montana, Wyoming, Kansas, Nevada and New Mexico. Offices are in Wichita, Kan., where the parent company, Koch Industries, is located, and in Plainview, Tex., with John Lincoln as general manager.

Charles, Bill and David Koch, sons of Fred Chase Koch are board members for the company which, inheriting the proud tradition, moves the cattle industry into the future.

The whole story of the Matador depicts western history after the cattle industry exploded dramatically into the free range era. The break-up of the original Matador into smaller ranches and farms marked the end of an era, and the end of a way of life for scores of people, including the cowboys who took pride in claiming they "rode for the Matador."

MATADOR GENERAL MANAGER

The office building to be dedicated Oct. 6 joins 12 other structures at the site, plus two windmills, in a projected total of 22 buildings interpreting the history of the ranching industry in the American West.
