Precinct Conventions Are Set for Saturday, May 4th

Notices announcing precinct conventions which will be held at polling places in conjunction with the May 4 Democratic Primary in Foard County were posted last week by Ray Shirley, chairman of the Foard Democratic Executive Committee.

Precinct conventions, according to Texas election laws, are primaries. Time set for the meetings is 2 p. m. Shirley says that a person must vote in the primary Saturday in order to be qualified for the precinct convention. On the following Saturday, the county convention will be held and only those who required in conjuction with the attended the precinct conventions will be qualified to attend April 24th the county convention.

Precinct conventions will select delegates to and approve possible resolutions to the county convention, which will set the stage for participation by local delegates in a state convention. "Apathy within the Democratic Party caused a minority group to control the selection of a presidential candidate in 1972," Shirley said. "It is most important that the wishes of the majority rule the destiny of our country. "This can be brought about by participation at the precinct level of the people of this county. Jeff Brown

Jeff Brown, 68, a resident of Foard County for 53 years, died at his home in Crowell Wednesday, April 24, after a brief illness.

Funeral services were held at Womack Funeral Home Friday afternoon, April 26, at 2:30 o'clock conducted by Rev. Joe Ainsworth, pastor of First Baptist Church, and Rev. M. L. Crosby, pastor of the Free Will Baptist Church. Music was provided by Mrs. Ainsworth, vocalist, and Mrs. Walter Stapp, pianist.

Bearers were John Brown Jim Brown, George Brown, Baylor Weatherred, Roscoe Pierce and Robert Kincaid.

Mr. Brown was born January 14, 1906, in Union County Ga., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James E. Brown. He moved to Foard County with his parents in 1921, and had been a farmer here since that time.

He is survived by four sisters, Mrs. C. L. Hopkins of Pomona. Ca., Mrs. L. O. Howard of Monahans, Mrs. O. Chapman of El Paso and Miss Betty Brown of Crowell.

Foard County voters can cast ballots on offices all the way from the precinct level to the national Congress in the first Democratic primary to be held Saturday. In addition, they can voice their opinion as to whether they do or do not want the 64th Legislature to enact a law to permit pari-mutuel wagering on horse races by local option.

Only county offices to have more than one candidate are the commissioners posts in precincts 2 and 4. In No. 2, five candidates are running: A. L. [Arnold] Cox, C. V. [Jiggs] Barker, R. P. [Shorty] Gidney, Lovd Black and John Rader. In Precinct No. 4, there are three candidates seeking the commissioners post: Warren Everson. Glendon [Rusty] Russell, and T. D. [Dovle] Sparks.

A four-way race for governor has the incumbent, Dolph Briscoe, opposed by Steve S. Alexander, W. H. (Bill) Posey, and Frances Tarlton (Sissy) Farenthold. For state treasurer, Jesse James is opposed by Donald B. Yarbrough and in the race for comptroller of public accounts, Bob Bullock and Hugh Edburg are candidates.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White is opposed by Herbert A. (Peanut) Schroeder. C. A. Kelly and Mack Wallace are seeking the railroad commissioners post.

To replace Jack Hightower as State Senator, Ray Farabee is opposed by Charles Finnell. Hightower, along with Ray Ruffin and Louis A. Finney M. D. are seeking the U. S. Representative, 13th District, post. The winner will contest the incumbent, Rep. Bob Price of Pampa, in November.

Veteran State Legislator W. S. "Bill" Heatly is opposed in his bid for re-election by L. Max Courtney of Southland.

Voting hours are from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m. Voting will be at the following locations:

Precinct 1: county clerk's office, Walter Ramsey, judge. Precinct 2: county judge's office, Cecil Carroll, judge. Precinct 3: sheriff's office, Kenneth Halbert, judge.

Precinct 4: county attorney's office, James Sandlin, judge. Precinct 5: Margaret community house, H. L. Ayers, Jr.,

BILLIONTH BUSHEL of grain over the Santa Fe in a twenty-month period, Miss Kansas Wheat joined me at Hutchinson, Kansas, March 20, 1974.

When this record grain movement started in mid-1972, many predicted the rail industry would not be able to handle the job. Despite no advance warning and severe problems of port congestion that hampered the handling of cars with export wheat, Santa Fe and many other railroads have set records of moving grain while keeping

This great transportation job was accomplished by skillful, dedicated Santa Fe people, and Grain continues to move in a big way and a bumper crop is expected at harvest time. ## Moving a BILLION bushels of grain in 20 months

Big moves are not unusual on the Santa Fe. Citrus, potash, coal, sulphur and various manufactured products move by the trainloads. But grain tops

This year marks the one hundredth anniversary of Turkey Red Wheat in the United States. Through the efforts of the Santa Fe back in 1874, the Mennonities emigrated from Russia and brought with them a few sacks of their wheat, it thrived in the Midwest and parts of the Southwest to develop that area into the breadbasket of the world. The past twenty months have been the most strenuous period in Santa Fe's one hundred year history of moving grain. A billion bushels have been handled since the heavy movement associated with the sale of grain for export, and the bumper harvests began in July, 1972. Within this period of time, Santa Fe has moved over 350,000 carloads of grain. While moving grain is a top job, Santa Fe is busy with an equally important project of moving fertilizer to nurture the new wheat crop, for the success of this year's harvest will offset concerns about a wheat shortage. Keeping ready for big moves is not easy. The Santa Fe freight fleet of 78,000 cars includes 16,000 covered hoppers, 12,000 of them jumbo 100-ton cars, which are ideal for moving grains, potash and other bulk commodifies. Big moves also require modern diesel power, automated yards and skillful people to get the job done. All of this is now at work as Santa Fe continues at a record pace moving billions of the many things needed and used every day by the people of our nation.

HELPING HOUSE PLANTS

House plants that aren't growing well are often suffering from such things as foliar and root diseases, restricted root growth, improper watering, and poor light and fertility management. A brief check of the plants can help find the problem, suggests a plant pathologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Applying nitrogen and repotting can help if leaves are yellowing and dying. Overwatering causes yellowing of the entire plant as does root That in Colonial America beef rot. Fungicides can help prevent

It's Time to Plant Bermudagrass

Even under the best conditions, new plantings of coastal bermudagrass will occasionally fail to become established, according to Thomas W. Shinn, Soil Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service. Adverse weather conditions may cause a failure when everything has stand before considering weed been done in a workmanship way. However, the great it may take years to get that majority of poor stands can be stand. traced to conditions which are under the control of the landuser. To insure the best possible chance of making a planting successful, a few simple rules may be followed:

Plan ahead. Be ready when planting time comes. If you jump into the job with no forethought and unprepared, you will probably be disappoint-

Prepare a good seedbed in advance of planting. Waterways, after shaping should be chiseled, followed by sweeping or discing.

When planting cropland fields, plow the land deep enough to break-up and loosen any hardpan that might be in the soil. A plow such as a moldboard will also bury annual grass and weed seed. If such seeds are left on or near the soil surface, they will sprout and produce severe competition for the coastal or other grass you are trying to establish.

Use fresh, healthy sprigs that have been fertilized and managed properly the preceding year if possible. Poor quality sprigs cause many failures. Sprigs dug and left exposed to the sun and wind for longer than two hours make poor planting material. Research has shown that up to 97 per cent of the sprigs will die if exposed for four hours to the sun and wind in the heat of the day. To the contrary, sprigs that were kept covered and moist in the field for eight hours showed no kill or reduction in germination. A years to get to your table. fresh supply should be dug each day, preferably in the early morning hours or late afternoon. They should be kept moist and covered in a shade until used. When hauled, sprigs should be tightly packed, wet thoroughly, and covered with a tarp. Baled sprigs are easier to handle and transport than bulk sprigs. Plant sprigs in moist soil. Pack soil firmly around the sprigs to cut out the air. Sprigs planted this way will remain alive for several days or even weeks. When planted in a dry soil, they must have rain within a few days. Plant about two

ROADSIDE MARKETING

Roadside fruit and vegetable markets may do a booming business this year if planned and managed properly, believes a marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Such markets can add to the diversity of a farming operation. Locate the market near a much-traveled highway and place signs well in advance of the location. Buildings should be neat and attractive, in good repair and painted. Use wood, concrete, clean shavings or sawdust for the floor. Provide attractive displays at a convenient level. A cold storage unit is a necessity. Advertise effectively and never overlook personal service.

"The biggest business in America today," remarks Ira A. Lipman, president of Guardsmark, Inc., in The Wall Street Journal, "is not even listed in the Fortune 500. It is the business of crime. Crime is the nation's greatest problem; it follows, as night follows day, that the second greatest problem is crime prevention. As you know all too well, crime is not limited to city streets, dark hallways, and underworld hangouts. It is spreading with epidemic speed thoughout industry-taking the shape of vandalism; of theft of monies, of raw materials, and of finished merchandise: of threats of violence and vengeance bombing; and in the insidious infiltration of drugs and narcotics into industry. #### WARNING!

Leaving your pet in a parked car during the hot summer months, even for a short period, can result in the death of the animal.

Even though windows may be open (making the animal an easy prey for the pet-napper), a parked car becomes unbearably hot in a very short time, and the animal faces a cruel death from heat prostration. Air conditioned cars are just as likely to become death traps when the cooling system is shut off.

For the sake of your pet, do not leave the animal in your

No Substitute For Experience

The budget for the state of Texas for the current biennium is $9.7 billion. This is big business by any standard of classification. Bill Heatly has been identified with budget and revenue throughout his years of service in the Legislature, and is recognized as an authority in all phases of the State's business. It is important to the entire state but more especially the 101st Legislative District to renew his commission to serve. Re-election of Bill Heatly in 1974 means his constituents will have a direct voice in shaping State policy in the crucial years of 1975-76.

VOTE FOR MAX COURTNEY

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Max Courtney is a Conservative Democrat. I was born, raised, and have lived my entire life in northern and western Texas. My family is mostly farmers, stockmen, and independent businessmen. We've been in the area since shortly after the turn of the century. Our economy is basically cattle, cotton, wheat, maize, and oil production. I have spent my life in this environment and know the problems and virtues. I am not obligated or controlled by any special interest groups, organizations, or lobby, and will not be. My only obligation will be to you, the people of this district.

I will work for such items as a Right to Work Law in any new constitution, increased benefits for the elderly, and a water plan for our part of the state.

I will oppose other items such as a State income tax, provisions in the proposed constitution that would endanger many of the districts school and welfare, except in the cases of the elderly, orphans, disabled and some widows.

Democratic candidate for Con- on the trip by Paige Carruth of polls in the primary Saturday, when he met with a number of Foard County residents last Friday afternoon.

Hightower of Vernon, Democratic candidate for Congress, expressed concern that a light turnout of voters will go to the polls in the primary Saturday, attending the constitutional when he met with a number of Foard County residents last Friday afternoon.

Hightower was on a whirlwind tour of the area that day and had visited Memphis, Silverton, Quitaque, Turkey, Spur, Roaring Springs and

Jack Hightower of Vernon, Matador. He was accompanied gress, expressed concern that a Canyon, pilot of the plane, and light turnout of voters will go to also Keith Vaughn and Joe Meador, former Foard County

Speaking informally to the group, Hightower said he had received considerable encouragement during his campaign which has been handicapped by necessity of his convention in Austin most of the time since the first of the year. Commenting that Congress is not looking ahead as it should, he blamed the current economic crisis on inflation. He added that interest rates are at an all time high, and that both inflation and high interest rates are a serious threat to farmers and ranchers. In commenting on the energy crisis, Hightower said all Congress has done is change the nation to daylight savings time and lower the speed limit to 55 miles per hour, both of which he termed feeble efforts. He pledged to be constantly looking ahead if he is said Leeper. The shape of the TAMU Saladette (for Texas A&M University) depends on the temperature. The scientist added, "Ideal temperatures yield a rounder fruit, while the fruit tends to be more plum-shaped as the temperature increases."

Concentrated fruit set, more uniform maturity and fruit toughness enable Saladette to sell either as a fresh market or processing variety. Small vines are another advantage of Saladette. Vine height is 12 to 14 inches and width is 14 to 16

Thus the new variety can be planted one foot apart in the row rather than the usual three, with two rows on a bed 60 to 80 inches wide. This results in greater yields. Saladette's vields have been about equal to vields produced by TAMU Chico III and about twice as large as the normal fresh market

Bullock, formerly Texas' Secretary of State, said the chief concerns of his campaign have centered on a multi-million dollar a year loss of tax revenue because of faulty collection methods and the need for reforms in the comptroller's handling of city sales tax

"As much as $82 million a year may be going out the window because of horse-andbuggy collection practices and failure to aggressively prosecute delinquents," Bullock said. He said the tax leakage could be stopped by improved technology and by more active personal direction from the Comptroller and his chief assistants. On the city sales tax Bullock called for the Comptroller to rebate cities their money monthly instead of quarterly, for the Comptroller to charge cities only actual costs of handling the tax instead of the present $4 million a year, and for cities to be given the right to sue delinquent accounts.

These findings came from studies conducted by the zine. Highway Safety Research Center at the University of North Carolina.

'For both belted and non-belted drivers," the study shows, "serious injuries in subcompacts are one and one-half times more frequent' than they are in standard sized cars.

'Small car drivers should be aware of the extra hazards they face," according to TSA. While we urge all drivers to buckle up and drive defensively, drivers of sub-compacts should be doubly cautious."

Photogenic Puppy

Irene was so captivated by her new puppy that she took him to a neighborhood photographer for a sitting. The pictures were knockouts. In fact, the photographer decided to sell copies to an advertising agency.

Learning of his intentions, Irene hastened into court for a stop order. And the court granted her request. The judge said that when a customer hires a photographer to take pictures, the pictures become the exclusive property of the customer.

This is the usual rule. While the photographer may retain possession of the negatives, he ordinarily has no right to sell copies without the customer's consent.

It is a different story, however, if the photographer, instead of being hired for the job, takes the picture on his own initiative. Consider this case:

A free lance photographer, putting together an exhibit of his work, took pictures of a prominent businessman. The pictures were his own idea, and he charged nothing for taking them.

Under these circumstances, a court held that the businessman -even though he bought several prints for himself-had no right to pass them along for use in a maga-

And a free lance photograph of a street scene would not give ownership rights to people who happened to appear in the picture.

A borderline case arose when a photographer was asked to take pictures of a high school graduating class. Was he entitled to the copyright?

Admittedly, the initiative for the picture had come from the students. Still, they had not promised him anv payment at all. He could cash in only if the students should decide, afterward, to order prints.

A court ruled that in all fairness, the copyright did belong to the photographer. Since he was taking that much risk, reasoned the court, he was entitled to that

Michael Eubanks and Miss Wade Wed in Arlington April 20

The marriage of Miss Susan Lynn Wade of Arlington and Michael Lyndale Eubanks also of Arlington, was solemnized in a candlelight ceremony at 2 p.m. Saturday, April 20 in the First United Methodist Church in Arlington.

Dr. Jack Payne, pastor, officiated at the double ring

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William James Wade of Arlington and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eubanks of Crowell.

Church decorations were pink and white floral arrangements at the front of the church and pew. Wedding music was presented by the church organist.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of embroidered silk organza trimmed with imported Venetian lace around the neck, sleeves and bottom of the gown. The long veil with head piece of white roses was trimmed with pink baby breath. She carried a nosegay of pink roses and baby breath. She wore a pearl necklace which had been worn by her mother at her wedding. Mrs. Barbara Donaldson of Arlington was matron of honor. Miss Susan Schwab of Columbus, Ohio, was bridesmaid.

Both attendants wore formal identical dresses of pink dotted swiss organza and pink flower headdresses. They carried nosegays of a floral arrangement. Billy Wade, brother of the bride, carried the rings on a heart shaped white satin pillow trimmed in lace, which was made by the mother of the Serving as best man was

Jerry Eubanks of Euless, brother of the groom. Groomsman was Tom Knipstein of Dallas. Ushers wee Jesse Adams and Ronnie Eavenson, both of Dallas.

The bride's mother selected a formal gown of white lace over green satin, with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a formal length yellow satin gown. The bodice and cuffs were white lace, and the full sleeves and overskirt were of vellow chiffon. She chose white accessories. Both wore white cymbidium orchid

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception in their home

A GOOD LANDSCAPE PAYS A well-planned landscape is a good investment, believes a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. In addition to providing beauty, a $200 investment in trees and shrubs can bring a return of $1,000 within 10 years. And on the real estate market, a well-landscaped house or apartment building sells faster and at a higher price than one that is not landscaped. Base landscape plans on simplicity. Allow trees and shrubs adequate growing room to reach their full potential. Give major emphasis to the outdoor living area.

Freezing is one of the simpliest and least time-consuming ways to preserve food at home. It retains the natural color, flavor, texture, and food value of most fruits, vegetables, meats, and baked goods. Successful freezing depends upon selection of good quality food, careful preparation, and proper packaging, Freezing will not improve low grade food. Improper packaging can cause undesirable flavor and appearance. Packaging should be moisture-proof to prevent evaporation and retain quality of food. Glass, metal, rigid plastics, freezer wrapping material, waxed cartons, and bags are recommended for use because they are moisturevapor resistant. Ordinary waxed paper, household aluminium foil, and cottage cheese or ice cream cartons are not advisable for freezing.

Packages should be air tight. Freezer hurn, a surface discoloration on meat and poultry, often results when meat or poultry dry inside the packaging.

One pride of the freezer are strawberries-sliced, sweetened with dry sugar, and frozen. Select firm, ripe strawberries, about 2/3 qt. fresh berries are needed for each pint frozen. Wash berries in cold water then drain. Remove the hulls; slice berries into shallow pan. Sprinkle sugar over berries-3/4 c. to each qt. of berries. Turn berries over until sugar is dissolved and juice is formed. Pack berries in a heavy plastic container-leaving 1/2 in. head space in the wide mouth pint container. Press lid on firmly to seal. Label container with the Freeze immediately and store at

COUNTY AGENT AND 4-H

The county Extension agent is the key to an effective 4-H and youth program, contends a 4-H and youth specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The agent combines community needs with local resources and involves the youth, parents, neighborhood leaders, volunteers and 4-H para-professionals in the 4-H program. The county agent is a leader in turning plans into reality and provides guidance for workshops, group meetings and informal training. He also has input into broadening the overall scope of the 4-H program.

About 90 to 95 per cent of the cotton, rice and peanuts is treated today. Crops that must compete with weeds for an entire season suffer yield losses from 40 to 90

HOW MANY GALLONS OF GASOLINE DID CONGRESS PRODUCE?

"Just how many gallons of gasoline did Congress and governmental bureaucrats produce last year? Zero gallons, That's how many. Politicians and bureaucrats do not produce; They consume. But the question asked and answered sheds some much needed light on the shortage problem and its solution, too. If politicians and bureaucrats did not produce a single gallon of gasoline last year and are, in fact; consumers, not producers, how can anyone capable of thinking in a straight line possibly believe that the government can solve the gasoline shortage with further decrees?"-Odessa American.

Of The Texas Department of Agriculture

SHORTAGES ARE the worry of farmers already worried with spring planting of crops; but the fuel shortage is reported bad in only a few Texas counties. Hartley, Wichita, and Sherman Counties reported tight diesel situations; and Lamb, Wichita, Hartley, Denton, Randall and Mitchell report tight gasoline supplies. High prices are the main concern of fertilizer users. Anhydrous ammonia was reported selling at around $180 a ton, ammonium nitrate $140, 32% nitrogen solution $135, and mixed fertilizer (12-12-12) $130 ... Counties reporting short supplies of baling wire and twine expect to have the back orders filled by baling time. There were 105 counties reporting short supplies of baling wire, and 100 counties reporting short supplies of baling twine. In some places, wire averages $29 a bundle, and twine $26 a bundle, LACK OF MOISTURE plagues the High Plains area. and hopes of subsoil moisture for dryland cotton planting are dim. Dryland wheat is in bad condition except in the eastern part of the Northern High Plains where rain has revived wheat crops. Despite an expected increase of about 10 per cent in cotton acreage on the High Plains, the 1974 cotton crop is not expected to be as good as was the 1973 crop. Irrigated wheat is reported in good conditions on the High Plains, Irrigated cotton has usually been about 60 per cent of the total on the High Plains.

THE 1973 RURAL Environmental Assistance Program (REAP) has been reinstated, which means $225,500,000 is authorized for cost-share payments to the nation's farmers participating in approved conservation measures. Texas' share in the REAP funds is $19,330,000. Farmers may apply at their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) offices for more information about the program.

THE GRAPEFRUIT and Valencia orange harvest is almost over in the Valley. Grapefruit production was reported by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service to be about 11 million boxes, seven per cent below last season's production, Early and mid-season oranges were estimated at 4.3 million boxes, 14 per cent below last season; and Valencia oranges were estimated at 2.3 million boxes, down four per cent. The United States grapefruit production was forecast at 64.1 million boxes, down two per cent from last season; and the orange crop was expected to be 215 million boxes, down four per cent from last season.

MOHAIR AND wool production are other Texas crops showing decreases in 1973. Mohair production fell to 9,930,000 pounds, the lowest since 1925, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, And the 1973 clip was three per cent less than in 1972. The average price began in 1910. Texas produces about 97 per cent of the nation's mohair. The wool clip for 1973 totaled 26.4 million pounds, also the lowest since 1925. The 1973 production was 10 per cent less than in 1972 and 13 per cent less than in 1971. In the nation, the 1973 wool production was 153.9 million pounds, grease basis, down eight per cent from 1972.

Congressman Price Meets with USDA

WASHINGTON-Congressman Bob Price met Friday with U.S. Department of Agriculture officials here to discuss the administration of programs for assisting dryland wheat growers suffering drought crops.

'In my recent our through Northwest Texas, I found a number of wheat growers with complaints regarding the system used by USDA inspectors for determining the yield on drought out wheat under the 1974 Farm Act," Price told the Price, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, reported that under the new farm Act, farmers can be reimbursed at the rate of 68 cents per bushel for the difference between the farmers's average per-acre yield and the estimated yield assessed by USDA field inspectors.

Seemed to Be Raining White Pelicans

WACO-Like Chicken Little, a Bosque County rancher thought the sky was falling lawn during the height of a

The alarmed rancher called Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologist Joe Stevens of Clifton to the scene and Stevens found 33 of the large white birds, five of which bore leg bands of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Stevens postulated that the birds had been killed by the concussion from a tremendous clap of thunder since there was no indication that the pelicans had been hit by lightning or struck by hailstones. White pelicans are coastal
