REID CONVICTED.

THE CASE WILL BE TAKEN TO THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT

E. H. Reid of the Flato Commission company of Omaha was arrested charged with bringing into Colorado twenty-seven cars of cattle from below the twenty-sixth parallel in Texas after having refused to submit to an inspection by a Colorado inspector and declining to pay an inspection fee, as is provided for by the Colorado statute, he maintaining that his Federal bill of health was sufficient to carry his cattle through any state in the Union.

Mr. Reid was taken before the United States court, where he was defended by Ralph Talbot, who represented the National Livestock association. The prisoner was convicted and sentenced to six months in jail.

Judge Hallett of the United States district court will hear an application for his release on a writ of habeas corpus. It is the intention to carry the case to the supreme court of the United States with a view of having a law to apply on shipments of this kind.

W. P. Anderson of Amarillo in commenting on the matter said: "I see that this is a test case, which I presume is being made by the National Livestock association. That body has for some time protested against this fee and has done no little in an effort to have it abolished. Just why the cattlemen should be held up as he has been on this state inspection fee matter is something that the cattlemen over the country are not able to understand, unless it be, as has been contended, that the principal reason has been for the fees incident thereto. The inspection fee collected by the state of Colorado or any other state on cattle destined to points through and beyond the state in question is simply a continuation of the semi-barbaric tribute levied by the savages of the wild tribes of Indians who did the same thing years ago in the western part of the Indian Territory. The inspection by the animal industry bureau assumes the character of their freedom from infectious ticks and prompts him to take his chances in shipping, while neither one kind of an inspection nor another relieves him from the responsibility of the law for damages, etc. The railways or the individual are relieved from criminal conviction when they do not knowingly handle cattle thus infected, and the payment of a fee to the state inspector, who does not see the cattle, would appear more like a species of legal bribe than anything else rather than a protective legitimate transaction for the safety of commerce. The inspection of any kind guarantees absolutely nothing except the assurance that to their best knowledge and belief the cattle are not likely to spread infection. It is to be hoped that the matter will be taken to the supreme court of the United States and its legality tested. Certain it is, that it affects the interests of the cattlemen over the west and south to a great extent."

Texas Congressman's Work.—Representative J. H. Stephens has been informed by the department of the interior that the Comanche and Kiowa country will be opened as provided by the act of congress and choice of land will be made by lot. All the particulars will be found in the president's proclamation, which will be out in a few days. Twenty or thirty days will be given for parties who want to settle in the reservation, to look at lands, etc.

The congressman also called on Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and requested that the department send a competent man to the Panhandle of Texas to study the "lolo" plant that is increasing in that country and killing many horses and cattle. Dr. Salmon promised that he would take up the subject and investigate it fully. He stated that he had failed so far to find an antidote for lolo poison and that he would have a chemical analysis of the plant made to try to find a remedy.

Governor Sayers Helps.—As a result of the visit of Congressman Slayden and Messrs. John W. Kokernot and T. A. Coleman of San Antonio, the governor has sent the following wire message:

"To the Honorable, the Secretary of the Interior, Washington, D. C.: I have to respectfully and earnestly request that the proclamation for the opening of the Apache, Kiowa and Comanche and Caddo Indian reservations be delayed until the return of Mr. J. O. Ordway from Europe, which will be about July 15. Mr. Scott understood, and while it was the opinion of Mr. Scott that Fort Worth would get both the plants, he said he personally had favored closing the first Armour deal, for he was a firm believer in the idea made and trust that it may be favorably considered. If wire fences be destroyed and cattle removed before October 1, next, enormous losses will be entailed, not only upon the cattle industry, but through the demoralization of the market. All the owners ask is a reasonable time within which to move their herds. The drought prevailing makes it impossible to move the cattle without great loss. Added to this, the quarantine regulations prevent their removal at this time to the north or west."

"JOS. D. SAYERS, Governor."

No Help For Cattlemen.—Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock has decided that there is no authority of law permitting a delay until October 1 in the opening of the Wichita reservation in Oklahoma, as desired by certain interests.

The secretary's announcement followed a hearing which he had given to representatives of lessees and companies which loaned money on reservations cattle owned by the lessees. The cattlemen have paid the lease money up to the 1st of October, and said injustice would be done them if the reservation is opened at the date proposed.

There was a very full and free discussion, but the secretary did not feel he had authority to grant the delay asked for. While he announced no formal decision on the matter, his views are to the effect stated, and preparations will be made for opening the lands for settlement next month.

Plants Poisonous to Stock.—The Montana agricultural experiment station in co-operation with the department of agriculture at Washington and the State veterinarian at Helena, is attempting during the present season to make a study of the plants poisonous to stock in this State. In order to fully determine the conditions under which this poisoning normally occurs, and the plants to which it may be referred, it is desired that detailed reports be made to this station of losses which may have occurred in the past, noting, as far as practicable, (1) the exact locality in the State in which such poisoning occurred and the local conditions; whether low land or upland, foot hills or mountains; about springs or along streams; (2) the time of the year of such poisoning; (3) stock affected whether horses, cattle or sheep; (4) the number poisoned, their symptoms and treatment pursued, as well as relative proportion of deaths; and (5) the plants suspected, with descriptions or specimens. It is only by the compilation of such data that the dangerous zones in the State can be accurately determined, as well as the time when they must be avoided. By the co-operation of the stock men of the State in this work, particularly in reporting promptly for investigation, all new cases of poisoning that may occur, it is hoped that definite results may be secured and the present loss due to this cause prevented.

A Plague of Millers.—Never in the history of the country, says the Miles City Stockgrowers' Journal, have the millers been so predominant as they are this season. There are millers in the house, under the house, out top of the house, everywhere. The water holes are swarming with them and at the least disturbance they will arise in flocks of millions, striking one in the eye, ear, nose, mouth or any old place. The woods are full of them by day, and at night they seek the light and will crawl through the smallest possible space, and in the morning the house is full of them. They originate from the cut worm and the large numbers of these pests last spring accounts for the unprecedented crop of millers. They are much worse in the country than in town and have become a nuisance. Early this week a rancher in passing a pool of water on his way to town, had his team so badly frightened that a runaway was narrowly averted by millers flying up and surrounding the team. Mrs. Alonzo McNeal of Blackfoot, was in town last week to have a miller extracted from her ear. In opening a door a flock of millers came at her, one crawling in her ear and necessitating a trip to Miles before it could be removed. Joe Swerdiger, Thursday evening furnished temporary lodging in his ear for one of the varmints, and it required the efforts of a doctor to remove it. A number of the N. P. bridge gang had a similar experience.

Packinghouse Plans.—Winfield Scott, who has taken such an intense interest in the Fort Worth packing house matter that he was the largest subscriber to the Armour bonus fund, who went to Chicago and spent a week with the Swift and Armour people, and who has returned from the trip, and tells of his efforts to help induce the location of the two packing houses in Fort Worth.

He said while he was in Chicago not a day passed that he did not see some of the Swift or Armour people. Finally a new proposition was made that would induce both to come and the old Armour proposition was "off."

An agreement was finally reached between the Swift and the Armour's representatives of the Fort Worth packing house and the Union stock yards by which they are to have a two-third interest in the capital stock of the Fort Worth Union stock yards, and were to buy the packing house here. Then one was to take the old packing house and the other was to build a new plant—they to decide which was which.

While this agreement was final, Mr. Favorite, Mr. Armour's representative, preferred to wait the return of Mr. J. O. Ordway from Europe, which will be about July 15. Mr. Scott understood, and while it was the opinion of Mr. Scott that Fort Worth would get both the plants, he said he personally had favored closing the first Armour deal, for he was a firm believer in the idea made and trust that it may be favorably considered. THE TUBERCULIN TEST.

PROF. SHAW OF MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY PRESENTS ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF THE TEST.

Prof. Thomas Shaw, of the University of Minnesota, is making a very hard fight against the action of some of the livestock associations in declaring against the tuberculin test. In the following communication to the Rural World he presents his side of the case: At the present time there is no mistaking the attitude of breeders toward the tuberculin test. As noticed in a previous paper that attitude is decidedly hostile, as indicated by the trend of public sentiment as expressed in the agricultural press, and in the resolutions passed by many livestock associations with reference to the question. It has also been indicated in another way, in a sense which may be looked upon as negative. No breeder, so far as known to the writer, has ever tried commercially to profit by the existence of the tuberculin test; that is to say, no one has had her herd tested from time to time and has then advertised the fact with a view to increase sales and enhance the value of his animals. The fact is significant, as it shows a want of absolute faith in the wisdom of such a course. In all these ways, therefore, breeders have answered the question does the test pay breeders? and they have answered it negatively, and in many instances the negative has been very emphatic. And among those who openly avow an unbelief as to the wisdom of applying the tuberculin test, strange to say, there is now and then a veterinarian, a man who is usually reluctant to write his real name under his production.

Notwithstanding this unmistakable expression of view, I am glad that the opportunity exists to put myself on record as being in entire disagreement with the view held by so many of the stockmen with reference to this question. Most unhesitatingly do I say that I believe, in the light of self-interest and in justice to the public, the breeders of pure-bred cattle should test their herds. Most unreservedly do I say that the breeder who does not do this test their herds to advertise to the public, and to the detriment of their commercial advantage. The future will determine the wisdom or the unwisdom of all these propositions, as expressed above, and so satisfied I am as to what the verdict of the future shall be that I want to go on record thereto, notwithstanding that the current of public sentiment at the present time should carry the matter a thousand miles seaward. And now, let the propositions be further analyzed. The first proposition claims that, in the light of self-interest breeders should periodically test their herds. It is not meant that they shall go on testing them forever with the same frequency, but they should test them with sufficient frequency to assure themselves that their herds are free from the great bovine destroyer. That they ought to do so in the light of self-interest is evident from the fact, first: That tuberculosis is a communicable disease and once in a herd, if not detected and removed by some curative means, like the tuberculin test, it will go on forever. 2. That there is no way of eradicating a disease like tuberculosis, which burned the villages and killed numbers of the natives. In one native arsenal 1100 skulls were found. It was ascertained the missionaries and eleven companions had been murdered and the bodies cut into pieces. Part of the bodies were sent around to various villages and eaten by the natives with great ceremonial rites.

When it is remembered that we are the greatest consumers of sugar in the world and that we annually import over four billion pounds, valued at a hundred million dollars, the prediction of Secretary Wilson that in ten years the United States will produce all the sugar it consumes will strike many people as being over-optimistic, says the Chicago Record-Herald. The prediction of the secretary, however, is based upon information that is in possession of the department of agriculture, and which relates almost entirely to the remarkable development of beet sugar culture in this country in the last few years. The department has already demonstrated that there is a wide area of soil stretching across the continent from New England to the states of the great West that is adapted to beet sugar growing. The secretary's investigations have shown, in fact, that any one of the states of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Nebraska could produce from beets all the sugar needed in the United States.

The only problem to be solved, therefore, is a rotation of crops and a utilization of the by-products of beet sugar manufacture that will make beet culture profitable for the farmer. American ingenuity can be depended upon to solve this problem. It has already improved the manufacture in such a way that the pulp of the beet, from which the juice has been extracted, is compressed into cakes and used by the farmer for feeding his cattle and other live stock. It is found to be more profitable also to extract the juice by diffusion and send it to central factories through pipes than it is to ship the beets. It is noted also that it is more economical to build factories costing $350,000 and upward than to build small ones. That American inventive skill is rapidly solving the problem of making beet sugar culture profitable is shown by the fact that over forty factories will be at work this fall, many of them having large capacity. The possibilities of this industry are full of promise for the capitalist and the farmer.

Dr. W. C. Bailey, of California, has purchased four Arizona goats in Turkey for exportation to the United States. Dr. Bailey is pursuing medical studies in Vienna, Austria, and made the trip to the Sultan's realm expressly to procure these four goats for the Bailey goat ranch in California.

TEXAS RICE CROP.

SOME SERIOUS DAMAGE THAT WILL CUT THE CROP DOWN ONE-HALF.

Burt Hopes, who has charge of the Big Hopes rice farm on Hillbrandt's Bayou, was in Beaumont Friday and reports that the rain Tuesday was general down in that neighborhood and that it perhaps rained more there than it had elsewhere, but the amount of water that fell was insignificant compared to what is needed to help the rice crop. All the farmers in the Hillbrandt and Taylor's Bayou country have been abandoned the pumps. Mr. Hopes says he has not the slightest hope that they will harvest a sack of rice this fall. The only possible thing that could save any part of the crop would be a regular flood rain which would wash out the bayou and so flood the country that the water would not be absorbed for weeks. It would take a rain which would bring the water from the head waters of the bayou, said Mr. Hopes, and they have little hope of anything of that sort. Last year the storm ruined all but half the crop, and this year they will not harvest at all.

"It makes one thing absolutely certain," said Mr. Hopes, "and that is we must have that canal from the mouth of the Neches River to the bayou. The cost of the canal will be in the hundreds of thousands of dollars of value to the land, which will be necessary to be of little value save for grazing purposes."

Mr. Hal Aldridge has returned from his large rice farm near Sour Lake station and reported that much of his rice was doing fairly well, but that a portion of it was not doing very well. Mr. Aldridge waters his rice from wells which he sunk there during last fall and before that. He reports that there is plenty of water in the wells, but he is experiencing a deal of trouble getting pumps which will meet the demand. By the failure of the pumps to work just when they are needed much of his rice crop has been ruined. His harvest, however, unless something unforeseen happens, will be more than 75 per cent of a crop.

A report comes from Chambers county rice farmers that salt water has got into Turtle Bayou. To this is added that Port Arthur farmers are experiencing trouble with salt water on account of the low water in the river and they are uncertain what the result will be. The only rice which seems to be doing well is in the northern part of the county, where the source of water supply is from Pine Island Bayou. Of course the exceedingly dry weather has some effect on this rice, but so far there have been no reports of a lack of water.

Taken all around, the rice men claim that there will not be an average of 50 per cent of this crop harvested in Texas this year. It is, of course, an exceptional year and may not happen again in many seasons.

New York Gets Our Peaches.—Texas is shipping peaches north in immense quantities. Residents in New York are beginning to realize that Texas is capable of producing more peaches than almost any other State in the Union.

New Oil Refinery.—The Texas and Indian Territory Cotton and Oil company Monday, began the erection of an oil refinery in Sherman with a capacity of 500 tons to handle the output of the mills both in Texas and Indian Territory and will be located on East street, contiguous to the yards of the Katy, Frisco, Cotton Belt and Santa Fe Railways.

Money In Tomatoes.—Including express consignments there have been shipped this season from Jacksonville, Dialville and Craft more than 200 cars of tomatoes. The shipping continues, averaging from ten to fifteen cars daily. Never before has the price of tomatoes and the profit to the growers equaled this season. As a result of sales already made there is now circulating among the growers something over $150,000. Car lots sell on the track here at 75 cents per two-basket crate. Citizens who are now in the northern markets representing the growers report that Texas tomatoes are much more in demand and command a better price than tomatoes grown in any other State.

In Northeast Missouri.—C. E. Schee writing from Chambersburg, Mo., says: Recent rains have greatly encouraged the farmers and stockmen of this section.

Corn will be a good crop and pastures are coming on again. Oats and hay about half a crop. The Polled Short-horns are taking steadily gaining in favor generally. A great many of them are going to Texas. If it was not for the fever a great business would be done with Texas breeders. The most satisfactory plan so far tried is to buy calves at six to twelve weeks old and have them expressed through. They are then given a native cow for milk and have the advantage of a milk diet during the fever season. Have sent several this way and have yet to hear of one that did not do well.

The cost of sending of a young calf by express is less than an older one by freight, and everything considered, I think, by far the better plan. Some parties are buying yearling heifers

Rice Near Orange.—On all of the rice canals in Orange county rice is growing rapidly and at present looks very promising. It is eighteen to twenty inches high, is forming ample stools, has perfect color and where water is kept on it there is every prospect for a full average crop. Providence rice is not doing well, but as the acreage of that class is small there is but little said in regard to it. The water in the Sabine river and in all the bayous in this country is free from ice. It is hoped the crop will go through without injury from salt water.

Pumps are kept very busy night and day, so that the water going out into the fields is covering land eight to twelve inches in most places. At present the bayous are muddy and the river water is dark. When salt water enters these streams all sediment is quickly precipitated and the water at once clears up. Then the irrigation pumps only run after the job of every tide so as to catch the fresh water.

Important Land Decision.—The supreme court of Texas has decided that the state had no right to minerals upon school lands when sold to actual purchasers as agricultural lands. This is one of the most important decisions ever handed down by the supreme court, as it embraced the question of ownership of the minerals upon a large area of the public free school, university and asylum lands of Texas. The test case was brought to the attention of the court by the filing of the petition of August Schendell against Land Commissioner Charles Rogan for a writ of mandamus to compel the land commissioner to issue a patent to fractional section 62 of the public free school land situated in Fort Bend county. The court granted the application for a writ of mandamus to a large area of the public free school, university and asylum lands of Texas. The court held that in the purchase of lands classified as agricultural lands it is not necessary for the purchaser to make affidavit to the effect that he is a bona fide purchaser for the best price he can get and at the same time he gets the protection of the special agent in the large market to which his stuff was sent. The growers tried this plan last year in a measure and were so well pleased with general results that a larger number than ever have gone into it this season. Other growers will watch the outcome of the plan with great interest.

There are about 250 acres in tomatoes at Craft and 200 at Dialville. There are two associations at Craft and one at Dialville. Mr. Shoemaker is manager of one of the Craft associations. Mr. Jarratt will handle the crop of the Dialville association. Hodges & Love will handle the crop from 125 a. tomatoes at Dialville and 70 a. at Jacksonville. The same firm may get about 10 a. from Craft. Craft will ship about eighty cars, Dialville sixty cars and Jacksonville fifteen cars. When it comes to peaches, Jacksonville is going to break the record this year. The outlook is for 400 cars of Elbertas from that point. There will be twenty cars from Craft but not over a car from Dialville. The growers bring tomatoes and peaches to the car already crated where they are inspected and loaded. They are then forwarded upon orders which have already been received and there is no delay. The shipments are checked up so that each grower knows how much of his stuff went in each car. Settlements are made at regular periods and express paid on all quality according to the amount of their shipments. This gives the small shipper the benefit of car lot rates and at the same time he gets the protection of the special agent in the large market to which his stuff was sent. The growers tried this plan last year in a measure and were so well pleased with general results that a larger number than ever have gone into it this season. ### BLACK LEAF SHEEP DIP.

The Black Leaf Sheep Dip is a pure extract of tobacco and the most reliable dip on the market for killing scab on sheep and perfecting a cure for same and is perfectly harmless to the sheep when diluted according to our directions. Tobacco makes the best sheep dip on earth. It will promote the growth of wool. I have in the past 15 years dipped hundreds of thousands of sheep at the Kansas City stock yards in the Black Leaf Sheep Dip and it has given the best of satisfaction to our customers. I have been agent for the Black Leaf Sheep Dip at this point for the past nine years. Satisfactory results have been obtained in every instance when properly used. From personal experience I know this is the best dip a sheep can be dipped in. Send for pamphlet of the association to W. T. McINTIRE, Agent, Kansas City Stock Yards.

INDIGESTION AND CONSTIPATION

These are twin evils which work serious mischief in the human body. They sap the strength, destroy energy and impoverish the blood. As a result of these ailments, the system gradually becomes disordered and the constitution weakened so that the body loses vitality and is unfit to stand the strain of hard or continuous labor; thus, the victim offers a shining mark for kidney disease, lung trouble or the life-crushing malaria fever.

An easy and certain means of warding off this condition is within the reach of every one.

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS

The System Regulator, is the remedy. A few doses whenever the digestion is disturbed, or when the bowels fail to move regularly, will remove the difficulty and stimulate the vital organs to a better and more complete performance of their duties. With vigor and regularity in the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, there can be no loss of strength or energy, the blood will be pure and nourishing, and the capacity of the body for work thereby maintained at the highest standard.

Send for a bottle today. Keep it always in the house. A half wine-glassful when the stomach feels bloated, when the breath is bad, or the bowels constipated, will quickly restore the feeling of vigor and cheerfulness.

FIGHTING FLIES.—This is getting to be about the time of year when the humane man and more especially the woman of tender sympathies takes note of the myriad insect pests of the animal kingdom and seeks for some alleviation from the suffering entailed upon the cattle of the farm, says Farmers' Review. But at the same time there are many doctored folks who say they would not see their animals suffer if they could help it, but who are not at all sure that flies cause any very great irritation to cattle and are not convinced that it pays them to go to any great expense or trouble to ward off insect attacks. What they are beginning to figure up is the possible loss of flesh, or milk, or growth, or possible decrease of such commodities as wool, losses which may be properly set down as being the result of fly attacks and constant irritation during the summer months. It must be confessed that they are quite unable to arrive at any definite conclusion as to the amount of loss entailed in actual marketable products when flies are allowed to practice their tactics unopposed nor are they able to set down a figure showing a profit from treatment with various dopes and devices intended for the destruction of flies or their prevention from attacking. This being the case they are very apt to argue that as the fly preventing work does not show a palpable profit it is scarcely worth following year after year and we believe candidly that this would be found true if we were to figure up the expense and bother and time utilized in attempting to smear, or dip, or scorp or scrape or blanket, or otherwise protect or treat cattle during fly time with the object of protecting them against insect pests. It then simmers down to almost pure humanitarianism, this business of fly destruction or prevention. And surely that is worth all of the trouble and expense, and without any elaborate calculations as to the cost in time and money we think the pleasure of knowing that the poor dumb beasts are more comfortable than they would otherwise be more than offsets the cost and trouble. And there are advantages in fly prevention that are not usually taken into account. For instance it must be concluded that as every animal eats a certain amount of grass and other food daily a certain increment should be expected from their consumption but when flies bother milk is reduced in amount, fat is wasted in fighting and running, lack of peace in summer means wholesale waste of flesh put on in times of peace and plenty during winter time, hides are injured materially by punctures the best part of which where the back has been infested by the "warble" of the insect known as hypodermis bovis and considered from every aspect flies are an abomination and injury and torment to animals that deserve the protection and sympathy and attention of their owners. Fly destruction is then in the opinion of

THE NEW SOURCE OF FUEL FOR INDUSTRIAL enterprises offered by the oil wells will prove a very strong stimulus to industrial development.

THE BRINGING IN OF THE HOGG GUSHER at Beaumont ought to materially aid the ex-governor in his plan of operating with petroleum the furnaces in the East Texas iron field.

THE TRUCK FARMERS AND FRUIT GROWERS who are now shipping their products to markets, are ready to join in any kind of a good roads movement.

SOME OF THE CATTLEMEN OF TEXAS would be glad to trade for a small cloudburst.

UNITED STATES INSPECTION REGULATIONS do not follow the flag in Colorado and Kansas.

There is no disputing the fact that there is now plenty of hot air in Texas.

Her Last Word.

BY HESTER GREY.

Queries intended for this department should be addressed to HESTER GREY, care of the Journal.

POLLY'S POSING. Polly's in the garden, Bravin' all the best, Leanin' o'er the roses, Tip-toed on her feet!

MARTHA, Decatur, Tex.—The newest furniture is that made without the use of polish or varnish.

DAMON MOUND.—If you desire any land in DeLeon county, West Columbia, Angleton or Yelasko, write me.

SCHOOL LANDS FOR HOMESEEKERS.—I have published a pamphlet which gives the following information:

FRANCEE, Wharton, Tex.—A very pretty custom and one much appreciated by the bride-to-be is that of giving her a "line shower."

ROOMER, Fort Worth, Tex.—There is a trunk called the "dresser" trunk made in drawers so that you can get one article out of your trunk without disturbing the others.

A. BEE, Center, Tex.—Yes, Richard Harding Davis is a son of Rebecca Harding Davis, the writer.

MILLIE T., Temple, Tex.—June is usually held to be the most popular month for marriages.

FOR THE HOUSEKEEPER. To get rid of roaches, sprinkle pulverized borax in the places where they are accustomed to congregate.

USE BORAX OR SODA FOR WASHING hair brushes. Stand the brushes up so they will drain while drying or the bristles will be soft.

USE BROWNED FLOUR when making gravies. The addition of a spoonful of coffee to gravy while cooking enriches both color and flavor.

FOR THE SAKE OF VARIETY, the next time you cook corn give it a salad dressing and arrange on a bed of lettuce or parsley leaves.

ONE CAN BOIL EGGS just right by "Rock of Ages," instead of the clock. While the cook sings the first verse, the eggs soft-boil.

HOUSEKEEPER.—Liquid gum arabic added in small quantities to the starch causes garments to retain their stiffness and gives them an appearance of newness not possible by the use of ordinary starch.

MARY, Ardmore, I. T.—Were you raised and educated in a convent, or have you just dropped down from Mars?

OUR TRUCK GROWERS are becoming more and more interested in the subject of good roads.

WITH HUNDREDS OF SHORT TERM convicts, that it is stated by state authorities are now an expense to the state, Texas has the poorest system of public roads in the Union.

NEAR SEYMOUR, in Baylor county, highly improved leased ranch of 2,500 acres, excellent tract of 2,500 acres, abundance of living water, 200 acres in cultivation, large two story dwelling, etc.

NO FINER LAND lies out doors than the ranch properties which we represent. These desirable tracts are of any size to suit purchasers, and together with a long list of improved and unimproved farming lands, are located in Wilbarger county and throughout the famous Panhandle country.

CITY, SUBURBAN AND RANCH LANDS, improved and unimproved, in and near Canyon City, Texas. Address L. C. LAIR, County Judge of Randall county, Canyon City, Texas.

RANCH BARGAIN.—Fort sections, 1/2 time lived, unencumbered, 4,000, 1/2 land, time lived, 25 leased, 25 miles fencing, 5 room dwelling, orchard, lots, barns, small pastures, 10 acre farm, 4 new Eclipse windmills, inexhaustible water 90 feet.

MISS FLORA McFLIMSBY, Dallas, Tex.—Such a costume as you describe is suitable only for the carriage though such styles are worn on the street by many who should know better.

There is no disputing the fact that there is now plenty of hot air in Texas.

SPECIAL NOTICES

Advertisements inserted in this department in the four Journals at two cents per word. This pays for publication one time in:

The Texas Farm Journal; The Texas Stock Journal; The Fort Worth Journal; Dallas County Farm Journal.

The combined circulation of the four Journals secures by far the largest circulation in Texas, and also the best circulation in Texas, offering the best medium in the state to get good results from "want," "for sale," and "advertisements."

Only one black line can be used in notices in this department, and it counts as twenty words.

Matter paragraphed will be charged according to space occupied.

A SURE, SAFE AND PROFITABLE INVESTMENT within the reach of all. The small balance left of the Treasury Stock of the Grayson Stock and Land Company will be sold at fifty cents per share, the Company having advanced the price. This price will prevail but a short time as the Company contemplates making rapid advances on the stock until it reaches par, at which time it should be sold so on it merits from the start.

The rapidity with which this stock has been subscribed shows that the public know a good thing when they see it. It is offered for a fraction of its value. We have a large number of small houses in New York one hundred thousand dollars worth of stock, which insures in operation a return by the water. To accommodate every one, the balance of the stock, which is very limited, will be sold at a price that will give the small buyer a chance to secure part of the stock. The stock is being sold in small lots, and the price is being advanced in order to accommodate the small buyers as well as the large. CHICKS IN HOT SUN.—There is no objection, in my opinion, to hatching chickens in summer, if you take care of them. Says Mary Travers in the Epitomist. I have hatched chickens up to September, and have never had any trouble with them.

I have seen water stand in an inverted can in the hot sun for half a day. It was as hot as if it had been on a stove with a hot fire in it. It was entirely unsuitable for drink for chicks.

RAISING GEESSE AND DUCKS.—Mrs. C. M. Robertson of Higginsville, Mo., says: I know of no fowl that will yield more profit or the care and feed than geese.

BLENDING USE AND FANCY.—There is a general belief that the pure-bred fowl is only a fancy fowl and one that has been bred more for ornament than for utility.

green food cut up fine. After they are a month old they need no food at all and will graze like sheep. Shut the goslings up every night in their coop, and after they feather shut in a pen.

Plucking may be done every six weeks when not laying. A common goose will yield a pound of feathers a year, while the Penelope and Embledon greatly exceed that.

Ducks are a very pleasing feature of the barnyard, but do not bear neglect as well as geese; neither will they forage for themselves, foolishly dropping their eggs anywhere on the premises.

I have seen water stand in an inverted can in the hot sun for half a day. It was as hot as if it had been on a stove with a hot fire in it. It was entirely unsuitable for drink for chicks.

DAIRY

TWO HOME TESTS FOR OLEOMARGARINE.—Household tests for the detection of oleomargarine and renovated butter, which will enable housekeepers to tell whether they are getting pure butter.

Take a sample about the size of a chestnut, put in an ordinary tablespoon and hold it over the flame of a kerosene lamp, turned low, with the chimney off.

Following are the rules for the waterhouse test: Half fill a small beaker with sweet milk, heat nearly to the boiling point, and add a small piece of butter or oleomargarine.

THE DAIRY MARKETS IN CUBA AND PORTO RICO.—R. A. Pearson, assistant chief of the dairy division of the department of agriculture, recently returned from Cuba.

As soon as the pigs are old enough they will begin to eat this slop and it is a good plan to have a small enclosure, in which is a shallow trough, in which the pigs can run into and eat by themselves.

SUMMER CARE OF SOWS AND LITTER.—Ray Sessions writes to the Michigan Farmer as follows: The sow should be a good mother, gentle in disposition, well developed and capable of easily caring for eight or eleven pigs.

BREEDING HINTS.—W. S. Hanna of Richter, Kan., writes to the Swineherd: Thoroughbreds will produce more pounds of pork than scrubs, and consume only three-quarters of the feed in doing it.

TWO HOME TESTS FOR OLEOMARGARINE.—Household tests for the detection of oleomargarine and renovated butter, which will enable housekeepers to tell whether they are getting pure butter.

Take a sample about the size of a chestnut, put in an ordinary tablespoon and hold it over the flame of a kerosene lamp, turned low, with the chimney off.

Following are the rules for the waterhouse test: Half fill a small beaker with sweet milk, heat nearly to the boiling point, and add a small piece of butter or oleomargarine.

THE DAIRY MARKETS IN CUBA AND PORTO RICO.—R. A. Pearson, assistant chief of the dairy division of the department of agriculture, recently returned from Cuba.

As soon as the pigs are old enough they will begin to eat this slop and it is a good plan to have a small enclosure, in which is a shallow trough, in which the pigs can run into and eat by themselves.

How Strong Are You?

The dial of the punching machine won't answer that question. Strength depends on nutrition. When the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased, the body fails to receive its full supply of nourishment.

"I was troubled with indigestion for about two years," writes Wm. Bowker, Esq., of Duluth, La. Okla. "I tried different doctors and remedies but to no avail, until I wrote to you and you told me what to do. I suffered with a pain in my stomach and left side and thought that it would kill me. Now I am glad to write this and let you know that I am all right. I can do my work now without pain and I don't have that tired feeling that I had before. I have five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and two vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets' cured me."

SHEEP--GOATS

ANGORAS AND SHEEP.—Prof. Thos. Shaw, of Minnesota, thus compares sheep and Angora goats: 1. There is not much difference in the size of the two animals when matured, but the sheep matures much more quickly than the goat.

2. The goat lives to a much greater age than the sheep. Some authorities claim that the average length of age of a goat is about twice that of a sheep.

3. The goat is a browser and will from choice gather its living from leaves, twigs, barks of trees and weeds, whereas sheep prefer pastures, although they will eat many weeds also, but will also eat leaves and brush, but not in preference to pasture.

4. The meat of the sheep is as yet preferred on the whole in the market, but the goat meat is coming more and more into favor.

5. The goat produces hair and the sheep wool. The fleece of the latter weighs more on the average than the fleece of the former, and will probably bring more on the market.

Whatever dip is selected, the farmer should not forget that there are two ways to use that dip. One way is to prepare and use it in accordance with the directions given on the other way is to attempt to economize time, labor or money by using the dip in weaker proportion than advised, by burying the sheep through the swim, or by later placing the dipped sheep under unfavorable conditions. If the former method is adopted with any of the established dips, the treatment ought to be followed with favorable results.

MARKETS

DALLAS.

(Reported by National Livestock Commission Company.)
Dallas, Tex., July 1.—Receipts of hogs last week and the general quality was better than usual. The market was strong throughout the week, closing about 5c higher than Monday's opening, while the Northern markets showed a 10c decline for the same period. Three loads of hogs brought $3.50, which is the highest price hogs have sold for on the Dallas market for years. W. C. Stephenson of Rockwall marketed two cars of fancy 1st and 1st pound hogs that topped the market at $5.50, and T. A. Merrifield of Duncanville marketed forty head of fancy wagon hogs averaging 250 pounds that sold for $5.75. This demonstrated that it pays the farmer and shipper to finish their hogs before sending to market, even at the high price of corn. Some badly mixed loads of hogs, running largely to light-weight and rough heavy hogs, were sold at $3.00 to $4.00. The light half-fat hogs are a drag on the market and we advise you to hold them back. Stock hogs are hard to sell at any price on account of the poor prospects for corn. The Cudahy Packing company's buyer shipped five cars from here during the week. Northern markets reported steady. The receipts of cattle were liberal, there being a fair amount on the market. The quality was not very good and the bulk of sales averaged from 10c to 15c lower. The decline was caused by lower markets in the North, and too many half-fat cattle coming in. Our market is in need of more finished cattle, and they would find ready sale at satisfactory prices. We believe this is your best cattle market and invite you to compare our sales with the markets of Texas and the Northern markets, and think you will be convinced your cattle will not sell more here than in any other market. If you will take into consideration the expense of shipping, some half-fat 500 pound steers brought $3.50, and several loads of half-fat steers averaging from 700 to 800 pounds sold at $3.00 to $3.25. Yearlings and feeders sold at $2.50 to $2.75. Fancy cows $3.00 to $3.25. The sheep market was dull, one load averaging 92 pound bringing $2.15; about half the load was good enough to bring the half.

Quotations today as follows: Prime steers, 500 pounds and up, $2.50 to $2.75; choice fat steers, 700 to 900 pounds, $3.00 to $3.25; medium fat steers, 500 to 600 pounds, $2.50 to $2.75; feeders and stockers, $2.00 to $2.25; choice cows and heifers, $2.50 to $2.75; fair cows and heifers, $2.00 to $2.25; medium fat cows, 200 to 300 pounds, $2.00 to $2.25; choice hogs, 175 pounds and up, $5.00 to $5.25; mixed hogs, 150 pounds and up, $4.50 to $4.75; rough hogs, $3.50 to $3.75; light fat hogs, $4.50 to $5.25; stock hogs, $3.00 to $3.25.

(Reported by S. M. Sample.)
Dallas, July 1.—Receipts of cattle entirely too liberal last week; results, a paralyzed market and every body full, and anything shipped here for the next ten days will prove disastrous to the shipper. It would be something fancy in the cow line to bring 3 cents.

We quote: Choice steers, 800 to 900 lbs., $2.50 to $2.75; medium fat cows, $2.50 to $2.75; common cows, $2.00 to $2.25; fat bulls, $2.50 to $2.75; fair to good bulls, $2.00 to $2.25; choice hogs, $4.50 to $5.25; choice light veal, $2.50 to $3.00; heavy veal, $2.00 to $2.50.

HOUSTON.

(Reported by T. B. Saunders, Jr.)
Houston, June 25.—Choice beefs $3.00 to $3.25; medium cows and heifers $2.15 to $2.40; bulls and steers $1.75 to $2.00; work oxen $2.00 to $2.25; Texas and Indian steers $1.50 to $1.75; Texas grass steers $1.50 to $1.75; cows and heifers $1.50 to $1.75; mixed packers $3.50 to $3.75; light fat hogs $4.50 to $5.25; stock hogs $3.00 to $3.25.

HORSE

The Mexican government is preparing to take decided steps to improve the breed of horses in that country. By a law which has just been passed, President Diaz is empowered to enter into contracts with persons who will establish breeding farms. On its side the government offers freedom from taxes for terms of five to fifteen years, a suspension of the import duties on all stock and on all materials which may be needed in the construction of the buildings or for the maintenance of the farm. It offers, too, to buy fine stock and distribute it among the farms, this stock to be paid for by breeders in horses which they raise and which shall be suited for army purposes. On their part the breeders are required to invest at least $100,000 in their farms, to give a guarantee for the performance of their contracts and to submit to an official inspection, the expenses of which are to be met by them. The contracts with the breeders are to run from five to fifteen years, according to the amount of money invested in the farms. On and after July the Mexican government has given out that the duty will be taken off and that horses, mules, mares and jacks will be allowed to enter the republic free.

THE FEET OF THE HORSE.—When the horse roams the prairie in its natural condition nature provides it with the necessary moisture to nourish its feet, and when driven on the soft and muddy roads, but little attention is required so far as the feet are concerned, says the Field and Farm. Now, mark the change when the horse is brought into our large cities and driven over hard and slippery pavements and shod by an unskillful man, and the feet neglected by those in charge. The result is that they become dark, dry and eventually the animal becomes lame from one of the diseases to which the foot is subject. If the groom would pay more attention to horses' feet there would be fewer lame horses. It is an admitted fact that the country is on the verge of evolution in the horsemanship business. Depression in the farmer's winter trade is partly due to so many men letting their horses stand too long in the barn without enough exercise to wear out the hooves. In time the wall of the foot may grow over the shoe. When spring comes and the owner wants to take a drive in the park he finds his horse lame. The hooves have become contracted, too grow out too long and the shoe is resting heavily and pinching on the sole or perhaps on the side, causing chafes, which come to the horse's foot just as they do on the human foot—by a pinch, a bruise or a bad fitting shoe, and the best way to cure them is by letting them alone, only putting them in condition when nothing can bear on them. There are more cures where high heels and top heels are used than low calks or flat shoes. A shoe set on so as to press upon the sole or quarter, or one that has been on too long is that the walls have overgrown until the heels rest upon the sole or bars, then it becomes a direct cause of corns. Upon removing the shoes five out of eight will be found worn off at the heel, and more on one side than on the other. The operation of paring out the foot is a matter which requires both skill and labor, connected with good judgment, when properly performed. It would be impossible to frame a rule applying to the paring out of all horses' feet, for a horse with upright feet and high heels grows spangly, and the toes of such feet are most always weak. They must each in turn be varied to meet the degree of division from what may be called a perfect foot. In the state of nature the bones of the foot are so nicely balanced and adjusted by the tendons and ligaments of the limb that there is no unequal strain brought upon any part, but each assists the other. Raising or lowering inner or outer quarters would produce a lateral strain. If the shoe remains on traveling will cause a corn to form.

RACING ABILITY IN TROTTERS.—For many years a fast record has been taken as an indication of true greatness in a trotter and pacer, and doubtless will be for some time to come, at least by the majority of horsemen; yet every year is seen some horse, or in fact a horse that although possessing of tremendous speed, and when pitted against those of their own class, says the Kentucky Stock Farm. Whenever one fast trotter is beaten by another, the supposition is that he has been out-trotted; and yet this may not have been the case, for he may have been beaten by one who was not possessed of the same great flight of speed, but who had more class, bottom, stamina—all that you will. It is a bad horse indeed that cannot defeat one that cannot begin to trot as fast as he, and consequently no horse can be said to have won his laurels fairly or have stood the crucial test in such a manner that he can be termed great unless he has beaten a really good horse. The time has almost arrived when instead of asking how fast a horse can go it will be asked of him, what can he beat? Racing ability is rare even among fast horses, for it comes from another source, and merely because a horse is capable of a fast mile it does not entitle him to be classed among the truly great, even though he may approximate the record itself. At one time trotters were bred with no other object in view than that of obtaining a fast record. To-day, however, unless a horse can race successfully, either on the track or road, he is considered more or less of a failure, and he is one absolutely. Winning from ordinary fields is not indicative of merit or capacity, for any fast horse can beat a slow one, and the winner is merely a good horse by comparison; he may even be the best of a bad lot. If one hundred and fifty years of breeding the thoroughbred should produce a breed of horses in which there are hundreds of selling plates to one stake horse, although all possessed nearly the same flight of speed, why should not the same condition prevail in the trotting family that is the result of only a few years of intelligent breeding? It would seem that the time test is no longer the crucial one, for while a horse without speed cannot be a great one, even though possessed of this necessary quality, he may be lacking in other requisites and prove worthless for racing purposes.

There have been several instances of trotters and pacers, more frequent among the latter, that although campaigned for some time never won enough to pay for their training, although acquiring very fast records. All things being equal, those of this type must be considered failures as race horses and entitled to little credit for having obtained a record, even though it might be a 2:10 or better.

When a horse of great speed campaigns for a whole season and fails to win a heat, one or two things is true. He is either a bad horse or else he had a bad trainer or manager. A horse that can start in thirty heats without winning a single one has little to commend him, even though his speed is not uncommon. Great horses come by decades, not by years; they are rare, indeed, and when one hears his horse or that called a great one the expression is misapplied in ninety-nine cases out of one hundred. When horses cannot beat each other they are none of their first class, as they cannot all be great.

He eats heartily in the hottest weather who uses PRICKLY ASH BITTERS. It keeps the stomach, liver and bowels in perfect order.

IT IS FINISHED.
The great CLOUDCROFT LODGE has been completed, formally opened, and is now in full swing. It is a splendid hotel, splendidly furnished and offering an incomparable cuisine, under the management of Mr. J. Fishburne, of the famous Hotel Sheldon of El Paso, Texas.

You want an enjoyable summer. You want to get away from the oppressiveness of the city and low altitudes. GO TO CLOUDCROFT, N. M., 3,900 feet above sea level, on the summit of the loftiest peak of the Sacramento mountains, 119 miles northwest of El Paso. Wonderful climate, tennis courts and golf links, dancing pavilion. In fact everything desired or expected in an up-to-date, healthful summer resort.

Cloudcroft is known as the "Breathing Spot of the Southwest." There is but one way to go comfortably and quickly, and that is to avoid more than one change of cars; by one way to enjoy reclining chair-cars (seat free) and sleeping cars all the way through daily to El Paso. That way is via the Texas & Pacific Railway.

Fifty-Seven Cents per Day per Each To San Francisco "The Denver Road"

This mere pittance also includes lodging in Denver over Saturday and Sunday. You see, it's like this—having noticed a fondness for tourist sleepers with many accommodations to all wishing them. On Friday, July 12th, following the Dallas State convention, we will offer our Special Pullman Tourist Equipment to be run through to Frisco, stopping in Denver Saturday and Sunday, reaching San Francisco Wednesday afternoon, July 17th. The cost is but $1.50 for double berth, $3.00 less than standard Pullman rate (and double berth hold two people, you know). The party will be personally conducted, making a bee line for Colorado and the Rockies, which will be constantly in sight after the first night; and will pass en route, Spanish Peaks, Colorado Springs, Denver, Manitou, Ute Pass, "Over Pike's Peak," Cripple Creek, Lake George, Evering Vista, Leadville, Hagerman Pass, Hill Gate, Glenwood Springs—in short, the wildest and best scenery in Colorado traversed by any transcontinental line; then on past Cascade Gate and Soldier Summit to Salt Lake City (direct line, side trip unnecessary), through the wonders and beauties of Utah, via Ogden, the Desert and the Sierra Nevada to San Francisco.

THE TWIN TERRITORIES Judge Clayton has heard the petition of the people at Atoka for and against incorporation. The sentiment of the voters was about equally divided. He granted the town authority to incorporate.

Secretary Grimes has issued the charter of the Oklahoma, Colorado and Chickasaw Railroad company, capital stock $60,000,000. It will run a line of road 1000 miles long, from Colorado in a southeasterly direction to Fort Smith, Ark. The road passes through Guthrie.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe company has decided to extend the Eastern Oklahoma railway southeast from Ripley to Shawnee, crossing the Frisco at Chandler, and a corps of surveyors has been ordered into the field at once to make the survey and will be followed right up by the right of way men.

The excitement caused by the discovery of oil at Red Fork, I. T., has reached Muskogee. All day long the land offices of the Dawes commission has been crowded with Creek citizens, wanting to file on land adjacent to the well.

George Daily, who has been at Washington for some time in the interest of the Otoe tribe of Indians, has returned and brings them the good news that they will receive early in July the long delayed payment of $50,000 to them on account of lands they sold at the old Nebraska reservation, near Wynome, before they were removed to the present reservation. The Otoes will also have about $10,000 paid them soon on lease account and nearly as much on annuity account.

A Sapulpa, I. T., dispatch says: Oil was struck Tuesday morning at Redfork, Creek nation, ten miles east of this place on the Frisco, at a depth of 537 feet. Streams come out at thirty-second intervals, reaching a height of 10 to 12 feet at times. The oil is said to be of a fine quality. The well was bored by Col. Heydrick, of Butler, Pa. The land is owned by Mrs. Bland, a Creek citizen, wife of Dr. J. C. W. Bland, but is leased by Eastern capitalists.

ELK CITY TRADING.—As I never see anything in your columns from our part of the country, I will try you with one little communication. We are needing rain at present. Crops will be cut short if we don't get rain soon, but have plenty of stock water yet. Cattle are in fine condition and will soon be ready for market. There has been some trading in cattle lately. We sold to C. M. Wade of Ural, O. T., 71 head of year-old steers and heifers at $14 per head; also to J. M. Allee of this place 43 head of cows at $20 per head; also a number of cows to other parties in small lots at $20. Mr. J. T. Gibbons of Ural, and W. H. Walker are now delivering to Mr. Jones of Canadian, Tex., about 200 head of year-old steers at Cheyenne City, O. T., at $15 per head. S. A. ELLIOTT, Elk City, Okla., June 25.

CATTLE LEASES.—The Lone Wolf case in the supreme court of the District of Columbia, in which Judge Bradley recently denied an application for a temporary injunction, was submitted to Judge Bradley last week for final decision on its merits and he rendered a decree against the Indians, the decree following in its character his former ruling of the application for a temporary injunction. Judge Springer, Lone Wolf's attorney, will now take an appeal from this final decree to the court of appeals of the District of Columbia.

Heretofore Judge Springer was unsuccessful in an attempt to appeal to the court of appeals from the interlocutory order of Judge Bradley denying the temporary injunction. The result of all this is that the interior department has not been enjoined and can not be enjoined by any further proceedings in the case, short of an adverse decision by the supreme court of the United States; as that court does not meet until October, and as the time fixed by the statute for opening is August 6, it is thought the injunction proceedings are not likely to have any influence on the further steps connected with the opening.

Many cattlemen who have the lands leased in the Indian reservation soon to be opened to settlement are under the impression that it is necessary for the government to give them ninety days' notice before compelling them to vacate. This is not the case, the clause in the form of lease reads as follows: "And it is further agreed between the parties hereto, that the privilege of holding cattle upon the lands hereinafter specified is heretofore and is hereby agreed upon the express condition that if the Indian title to any portion of the lands herein described shall be extinguished before the expiration of the time herein stated, then and in that decision strictly on the finding of facts. Nearly everybody in the lower valley is more or less familiar with the main features of this case. John W. Rush has been in possession and was considered the owner of the Geysers Springs property for more than ten years past, but comparatively recently Thomas J. Fletcher filed on the Rush property, claiming title to it in Texas, and that the survey of the Texas-New Mexico line had been tampered with by removing certain section corners. Fletcher proceeded to act on these rights by attempting to haul rock to build a home near the Geysers Springs and immediately in the neighborhood of the Rush home, and the result brought this suit to quiet title and enjoin Fletcher from taking possession.

STUTTERING RANDOLPH IN AUSTIN. We are pleased to state to our readers that Rev. G. W. Randolph and Dr. McCullough, the noted voice specialists from St. Louis, have returned to Texas for a few months. They are now at 209 W. 9th St., Austin, curing many stutters. You will remember that they were in Dallas last winter and cured hundreds. You will also remember that we published many letters from those who were cured in direct connection with the new medicine and heard them talk. We published this for the good of the afflicted but quite a number failed to go and get cured until they left Dallas; but having seen so many who were actually cured they are now anxious to be cured themselves and have prevailed on these doctors to give them another chance. As they have been so kind as to return to Texas, we hope that no stutterer will fail to be cured. We know them personally and leading papers, both religious and secular, are loud in their praise. Address Randolph & McCullough, 209 W. 9th St., Austin, Texas. Please hand this to a stutterer.

THE TEXAS WONDER. Dr. Duncan's Private Sanatorium and College of Combined Science. Dr. W. E. Duncan is sole proprietor and manager, and conducts his sanatorium with high moral and professional ethics. He is the president of the Druggists' Association of Texas, having been twice honored by the association with the important and responsible position as a recognition of his high standing in his profession. His success in the treatment must be recognized by friend and foe alike, and is past criticism by any one. Dr. Duncan's reputation is among the best, being a man of correct habits, and his success in curing the worst human flesh is held to be a forgone conclusion and places him at the head of the druggists' profession. His untold success guarantees a new lease of happy life to the so-called incurable suffering public. For three years he has successfully treated hundreds of the worst forms of diseases in Fort Worth and successfully maintained his sanatorium, which is one of the most comfortable places in the city, at all seasons of the year. Hundreds of the best and most responsible people of Texas and adjoining States have been successfully treated by him, and they are loud in their praise of his profession and success. The doctor stepped in advance of all professions, opened a new field and a new and more successful profession and has proved it with his own hands and knowledge, and placed it beyond successful criticism. It is sure to become the future profession in curing diseases. When one has been treated for months and years without apparent relief and after all this delay and mistreatment are also cured by Dr. Duncan in thirty days, must be proof absolute, and opens new hopes, advanced thought and suggests a change in the public mind as to diseases and their treatment. Dr. Duncan is armed with every science successful in the cure of all diseases and deformities and treats every malady successfully in from four to six weeks, regardless of age or condition. Our reporter again gives a new list of reliable references to the public who dare not dispute their veracity: Mrs. E. Arnold, Midland, Texas, palsy of long standing cured by Dr. Duncan; Mrs. J. E. Rosson, Fort Worth, Texas, blood poison and general debility of long standing cured by Dr. Duncan; Mrs. M. J. Woodard, O. T., excess of the liver long standing, cured in three weeks; Mrs. W. T. Simmons, Decatur, Tex., cyrosis of the liver, ten years standing, tried every other method, could not find relief—was completely cured by Dr. W. E. Duncan; Mrs. M. J. Mertz of San Angelo, Tex., was a total constitutional wreck that tried every other known method and was cured by Dr. Duncan in six weeks; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Greenhouse of Decatur, Tex., with unlimited wealth could not find relief in this country or Europe and were pronounced absolutely incurable by every other doctor, were completely cured by Dr. Duncan in six weeks. Mrs. H. C. Babb of Decatur, Tex., who had suffered for years and was pronounced incurable by all her physicians, went to Dr. Duncan and was absolutely cured in thirty days, after spending hundreds of dollars with all other methods of practice. All the above references are only a select few out of the hundreds being cured every year at Dr. Duncan's private sanatorium, 300 East Fourth street, Fort Worth, Tex. These names given, and many more might be given, are among the wealthiest and most conservative people of Texas and adjoining States. No one dare dispute their statements, and as Dr. Duncan stands high as a gentleman of integrity and professional knowledge, and a man that is almost perfect in honor and above deception, no one can run any risk by going to him for treatment. He is one of the deepest thinkers now engaged in any profession. All afflicted could do nothing better than go to him for treatment. Any hack or 'bus line in the city will carry you to his sanatorium, 300 East Fourth street.

LIBERTY LADIES COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT. The school year of Liberty Ladies' college and American Mozart conservatory, three months closed with a series of delightful exercises, all of which were marked by such excellences as attest painstaking and skillful training on the part of the teachers, and zealous for faithful work on the part of students.

The conservatory work as exhibited in the piano recital, May 27th, and commencement evening embodied a program comprising grades in very high order which were executed to the full satisfaction of competent judges.

The piano contest, in which eight young ladies were entered for the prize, was the center of deepest interest, perhaps. The contest was won by Miss C. M. Major Rondo, op. 1. The eight contestants each played the piece. All had received three months of special training for the occasion, under Prof. Louis Versel, the musical director. All did nobly. The Brabury upright piano was awarded to Miss Eva Benson of Kansas City, Mo. Miss Bessie Williams being second.

The chorus class, well trained under Prof. Versel, rendered "Ferdinand Hiler's" "Coo-coo and Wagoner's Spinning Song" with thrilling effect. The piano recital, Miss Bess Fox, sang Kucken's celebrated song, "Die Wassenrose." The piano recital, Miss Woodin's vocal department, Miss Bess Fox, sang Kucken's celebrated song, "Die Wassenrose." The piano recital, Miss Woodin's vocal department, Miss Bess Fox, sang Kucken's celebrated song, "Die Wassenrose."

A DAY ON A PARLOR CAFE CAR FOR 50 CENTS. You can ride all day on a Cotton Belt Parlor Cafe Car for only fifty cents extra; have your meals at any hour you wish, and nothing to pay for them. You can have a porterhouse steak or a spring chicken down to a sandwich, take as long as you wish, and you will only have to pay for what you order.

WHAT HE THINKS. W. H. Dean of Helena, O. T., says: "As it is now, when a man commits a crime he has a long expensive trial and the costs are charged up to the county and the culprit sent to prison. Not one chance in ten but what the man comes out of jail worse than when he went in, and what good has his imprisonment done anyone? It has cost the county from $500 to $1000, perhaps, and the money goes for food and salaries of—who? I would put Mr. Prisoner to building roads and working out his fine and costs right in his own county where his neighbors could see him and where he could pay the people what he had cost them, and my opinion is that one term would cure him. I see the New York state authorities are in favor of raising $10,000,000 to build roads. The officials will get one-half, a few contractors the balance, and the people left to 'hold the sack.' Their prisoners there, if put out on the roads and made to work out their sentences, could build more roads in one year than the legislature will with their Texas for a few months. They are now at 209 W. 9th St., Austin, curing many stutters. You will remember that they were in Dallas last winter and cured hundreds. Fletcher filed on the Rush property, claiming title to it in Texas, and that the survey of the Texas-New Mexico line had been tampered with by removing certain section corners. Fletcher proceeded to act on these rights by attempting to haul rock to build a home near the Geysers Springs and immediately in the neighborhood of the Rush home, and the result brought this suit to quiet title and enjoin Fletcher from taking possession.

STUTTERING RANDOLPH IN AUSTIN. We are pleased to state to our readers that Rev. G. W. Randolph and Dr. McCullough, the noted voice specialists from St. Louis, have returned to Texas for a few months. They are now at 209 W. 9th St., Austin, curing many stutters. You will remember that they were in Dallas last winter and cured hundreds. You will also remember that we published many letters from those who were cured in direct connection with the new medicine and heard them talk. We published this for the good of the afflicted but quite a number failed to go and get cured until they left Dallas; but having seen so many who were actually cured they are now anxious to be cured themselves and have prevailed on these doctors to give them another chance. As they have been so kind as to return to Texas, we hope that no stutterer will fail to be cured. We know them personally and leading papers, both religious and secular, are loud in their praise. Address Randolph & McCullough, 209 W. 9th St., Austin, Texas. Please hand this to a stutterer.

THE TEXAS WONDER. Dr. Duncan's Private Sanatorium and College of Combined Science. Dr. W. E. Duncan is sole proprietor and manager, and conducts his sanatorium with high moral and professional ethics. He is the president of the Druggists' Association of Texas, having been twice honored by the association with the important and responsible position as a recognition of his high standing in his profession. His success in the treatment must be recognized by friend and foe alike, and is past criticism by any one. Dr. Duncan's reputation is among the best, being a man of correct habits, and his success in curing the worst human flesh is held to be a forgone conclusion and places him at the head of the druggists' profession. His untold success guarantees a new lease of happy life to the so-called incurable suffering public. For three years he has successfully treated hundreds of the worst forms of diseases in Fort Worth and successfully maintained his sanatorium, which is one of the most comfortable places in the city, at all seasons of the year. Hundreds of the best and most responsible people of Texas and adjoining States have been successfully treated by him, and they are loud in their praise of his profession and success. The doctor stepped in advance of all professions, opened a new field and a new and more successful profession and has proved it with his own hands and knowledge, and placed it beyond successful criticism. It is sure to become the future profession in curing diseases. When one has been treated for months and years without apparent relief and after all this delay and mistreatment are also cured by Dr. Duncan in thirty days, must be proof absolute, and opens new hopes, advanced thought and suggests a change in the public mind as to diseases and their treatment. Dr. Duncan is armed with every science successful in the cure of all diseases and deformities and treats every malady successfully in from four to six weeks, regardless of age or condition. Our reporter again gives a new list of reliable references to the public who dare not dispute their veracity: Mrs. E. Arnold, Midland, Texas, palsy of long standing cured by Dr. Duncan; Mrs. J. E. Rosson, Fort Worth, Texas, blood poison and general debility of long standing cured by Dr. Duncan; Mrs. M. J. Woodard, O. T., excess of the liver long standing, cured in three weeks; Mrs. W. T. Simmons, Decatur, Tex., cyrosis of the liver, ten years standing, tried every other method, could not find relief—was completely cured by Dr. W. E. Duncan; Mrs. M. J. Mertz of San Angelo, Tex., was a total constitutional wreck that tried every other known method and was cured by Dr. Duncan in six weeks; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Greenhouse of Decatur, Tex., with unlimited wealth could not find relief in this country or Europe and were pronounced absolutely incurable by every other doctor, were completely cured by Dr. Duncan in six weeks. Mrs. H. C. Babb of Decatur, Tex., who had suffered for years and was pronounced incurable by all her physicians, went to Dr. Duncan and was absolutely cured in thirty days, after spending hundreds of dollars with all other methods of practice. All the above references are only a select few out of the hundreds being cured every year at Dr. Duncan's private sanatorium, 300 East Fourth street, Fort Worth, Tex. These names given, and many more might be given, are among the wealthiest and most conservative people of Texas and adjoining States. No one dare dispute their statements, and as Dr. Duncan stands high as a gentleman of integrity and professional knowledge, and a man that is almost perfect in honor and above deception, no one can run any risk by going to him for treatment. He is one of the deepest thinkers now engaged in any profession. All afflicted could do nothing better than go to him for treatment. Any hack or 'bus line in the city will carry you to his sanatorium, 300 East Fourth street.

LIBERTY LADIES COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT. The school year of Liberty Ladies' college and American Mozart conservatory, three months closed with a series of delightful exercises, all of which were marked by such excellences as attest painstaking and skillful training on the part of the teachers, and zealous for faithful work on the part of students.

The conservatory work as exhibited in the piano recital, May 27th, and commencement evening embodied a program comprising grades in very high order which were executed to the full satisfaction of competent judges.

The piano contest, in which eight young ladies were entered for the prize, was the center of deepest interest, perhaps. The contest was won by Miss C. M. Major Rondo, op. 1. The eight contestants each played the piece. All had received three months of special training for the occasion, under Prof. Louis Versel, the musical director. All did nobly. The Brabury upright piano was awarded to Miss Eva Benson of Kansas City, Mo. Miss Bessie Williams being second.

WHAT HE THINKS. W. H. Dean of Helena, O. T., says: "As it is now, when a man commits a crime he has a long expensive trial and the costs are charged up to the county and the culprit sent to prison. Not one chance in ten but what the man comes out of jail worse than when he went in, and what good has his imprisonment done anyone? It has cost the county from $500 to $1000, perhaps, and the money goes for food and salaries of—who? I would put Mr. Prisoner to building roads and working out his fine and costs right in his own county where his neighbors could see him and where he could pay the people what he had cost them, and my opinion is that one term would cure him. I see the New York state authorities are in favor of raising $10,000,000 to build roads. The officials will get one-half, a few contractors the balance, and the people left to 'hold the sack.' Their prisoners there, if put out on the roads and made to work out their sentences, could build more roads in one year than the legislature will with their Texas for a few months.
