7TH YEAR: NO. 15.

Mother in Israel Gone to Her Reward

Mrs Amanda Walters, mother of our own Fate Walters, died at her home in Bowie Saturday night. Pastor R E Bell preached the funeral at the Baptist church, of which she had long been a member. A large crowd was present. The service was touching, remarks being based on 2 Tim 4:6-7 and upon the dying statement of the deceased. Rev W L Ayres, county missionary and a near neighbor, very tenderly talked as to the good qualities and lovable Christian character of Sister Walters. He also sang "Growing Sweeter and Sweeter." The choir, led by Miss Rudy, sang impressively.

The old Confederate soldiers, headed by Capt Jim Cummins, had charge of the burial.

"No greater tribute can be paid to the memory of Sister Walters than the fact that she led all of her children to Christ," said Pastor Bell.

Rich floral offerings were tenderly placed upon the casket by sympathizing friends. A beautiful wreath was furnished by Mr and Mrs L B Moore, Mr and Mrs J I Hannon, Mr and Mrs N T Gaines, Mr and Mrs C W Boner, Jeff Hendrix and Geo Welch, of Bellevue.

Virgil Harbison took in his car L B Moore, Jeff Hendrix, George Welch and C W Boner. Mr and Mrs G E Gault took in their car Mr and Mrs J I Hannon and Bud Hannon. M J White took in his car Rev J W Beck, T H Hood, J M Chenault and N T Gaines. R S Gowan and family in their car.

All Bellevue sympathies with Fate and the other children.

The following beautiful message was dictated to her youngest son, March 8, and The News rejoices to publish it as a living testimony to Christianity by one just about to enter the heavenly gates ajar. "All is well" was here farewell. "All is well with my soul" was sung by the choir.

MOTHER'S MESSAGE

"I never can get well again and realize that I can't live long; but I have no fear of death, in the least. I have trusted in Jesus; and in my own quiet way, I have worked for Him the best part of my life. Had it not been for the sweet peace and comfort that Jesus gave me, I would have died before now, because fear and uneasiness are often worse than the disease. Hence my life has been prolonged and made happy by trusting in Jesus. I wanted to do more for Jesus than I did, but I had a family to care for and lead to Christ; and it has been the joy of my heart and life to know that they are all saved. I feel like that I fought the good fight, therefore there is no doubt. It is well with my soul."

IN THIS DAY of progress the man who would succeed must be informed about the world's doings. The local paper gives him local information which is needful, but it cannot cover the whole field. Hence the man who would keep step with the march of the times will take a general newspaper also.

The Fort Worth Semi-Weekly Record has taken front rank among the great publications of the South and West. It is specially prepared for the reader who has not the time or the opportunity to read a daily paper.

First of all, it is a newspaper. The editor believes that the people of the country and the village are as much interested in current events as the people of the city.

In the next place, it carries features suitable for all members of the family—women and children as well as men.

Last, but by no means least, the Record's editorial policy comprehends the economic welfare of the farmer and stock raiser. The Record is an acknowledged leader in the discussion of public questions in their relation to agricultural production.

In subscribing through this office you can get the Fort Worth Semi-Weekly Record together with The Bellevue News, both papers one year, for only $1.75. Accept this remarkable offer today.

Card of Thanks.—To my many friends, kind and true: I beg to thank you for your acts of kindness, for your sympathy and kind words; and especially, I wish to thank those that visited me and my brothers and sister in the saddest hours of our lives. Your presence was greatly appreciated; and that beautiful wreath of flowers, the prettiest one I ever saw; that sweet token of true and tender love will never be forgotten by us. We have a warm place in our hearts for you. All of the above mentioned lightened the burdens of our aching hearts. You have laid up for yourselves treasures in heaven and we pray that God will take care of you.—Fate Walters.

In compliance with the above call, the Democrats of Clay county who favor Col. Chronic Stomach Trouble Cured.

There is nothing more discouraging than a chronic disorder of the stomach. Is it not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle? "About one year ago," says P H Beck of Wakelee, Mich, "I bought a package of Chamberlain's Tablets and since using them I have perfectly well. I had previously used any number of different medicines, but none of them were of any lasting benefit."

THE WOMAN IN THE FIELD
The Farm Woman Needs Relief More Than Her City Sister.

By Peter Radford.

Much has been said and more written about the woman in the factory and behind the counter, but how about the woman who works in the field? I want to say a few words in her behalf. I regret a necessity that compels woman to work for a livelihood and I favor not only shortening her hours, but freeing her from manual labor entirely. I crave for society that high standard of excellence where the home is woman's throne and her life is devoted to molding the character and elevating the thought of the rising generation. But so long as want, greed and misfortune prevail in this world, women, through choice or necessity, will work and perhaps they will work at one task or another as many hours per day as they please.

We may pity the weak and admire the strong in their struggle, but the farm woman is entitled to her share of sympathy and reward.

All Must Toil.
The labor problem, as relates to men, is a most vexatious one and when we apply it to women it becomes more seriously complicated. We will always have to work unless some political genius can put a law on the statute book that will enable us to live without labor. So long as every person must meet toil face to face, the best we can do is to equitably distribute the burdens and reward of labor, and if there is to be a revision of wages and a shortening of hours, I want the farm woman to get her share. She has more reason to complain than any other class of toilers. She has, as a rule, fewer comforts, fewer pleasures, less recreation and less opportunity for enjoyment than her sister in the city. She has not so many conveniences and fewer luxuries and less to be thankful for than women who live in the town, but she toils on, a model of consistency, patience and womanly devotion. Certainly she should be the first to be rewarded.

The Real Labor Problem is on the Farm.

The great dailies with flaming headlines deplore the lot of women who toil in the cities, the city pulpit thunders with sympathy for her and the legislators orate in her behalf, but not a line is written in the interest of the million women who labor on the farm. Where one woman works in the cities in Texas, there are a hundred mothers toiling in the field, and no mention is made of it. Is the woman in the city entitled to any more consideration than the woman on the farm? I contend that she is not. The city woman may be more easily restrained by legislation and she may have a more attentive audience when she cries aloud, but the real labor problem, insofar as it relates to women and children, is on the farm. It is there we find the mother, drenched in perspiration, and the child, its lips wet with mother's milk, wielding the hoe and gathering the harvest, toiling day in and day out without hope of reward.

The City Life Puny.

The farm women work from sun until sun. They do their housework and lull a half million babes to sleep after the chickens go to roost and they get breakfast and milk the cows before the lark sings. The city woman frequently chafes under hardships that the farm women would consider a blessing. The city people are great talkers and oftentimes greatly magnify their troubles and enlarge their accomplishments. This characteristic permeates organized society as well as enters into the individual life of cities. There are orphan asylums which are doing commendable work and should be encouraged, that boast of their accomplishments, but I have seen widows in the country make a crop, drink branch water and eat corn-bread and molasses and raise more children and better children than many of these city orphan asylums. The cities need to get back to the soil with their ideals. They are hysterical, puny and feeble in their conception of life, its requirements and its opportunities.

A Fable For Critics

Once there was an Ox. He was a fine, hefty Ox. He could pull a big load. He never balked, but always liked to go straight ahead.

But the Ox had enemies.

There was the Flea and his whole big Family. "We don't care whether this Ox travels or not," said the Flea and his Folks. "All we want is some of his blood." Whereupon the Fleas eternally pestered the Ox and gave him That Tired Feeling.

Then there was the Tom Cat and his brothers—the Doubling Thomases. "We don't know whether this Ox is going the right way or not," said the Thomases. "Anyhow, we'll scratch his back for him." Whereupon the Felines jumped on the back of the Ox and scratched him for fair, which made the Ox exceedingly sorrowful.

Then there was the Fiste Pup and his Fellow Fistes—a whole litter of Fistes. "We don't care how slow the Ox goes," said the Fistes; "the slower the merrier for us. All we want is to lag behind him and bite his Tail." Whereupon the Fistes snapped continually at the Tail of the Ox, which gave the Ox a mighty mournfulness.

Finally the Ox, pestered constantly with the Fleas and the Felines and the Fistes, got to looking sickly. He stopped and lay down on his job, and there was no more going forward for him.

KEY TO THE SITUATION: The town is the Ox. The Fleas and the Felines and the Fistes are those citizens who criticize every progressive movement and do everything they can in their petty ways to make the Ox quit pulling in the right direction.

MORAL: Give the Ox a chance to pull. Everybody holler, "Git up!"
