WAR.
"Wife! then shouldst be living at this hour,
England hath need of thee."
WORDSWORTH.

They are who count it glorious to subdue
By conquest far and wide, to o'er-run
Large countries, and in fields great battles win,
Great cities by assault: what do these warriors,
But rob and burn, slaughter and enslave
Possessing of treasure,
Made captive, yet deserving freedom more
Than those their conquerors, who have behind
Nothing but ruin wherever they rove,
And all the flourishing works of peace destroyed?
Then swell with pride, and murmur be still'd Gods,
Great benefactors of mankind! Deliverers,
Worshipp'd with temples, priests and sacrifices!

GENERAL NEWS.

President Kruger's principal condition for immediate peace is that he be allowed to stay in the country. There are 2000 British sick and wounded at Pretoria.

Joe Perry, a brakeman on the International road, was shot from ambush while he was standing on top of a freight car in the railroad yards at Palestine Monday afternoon.

Present indications are that on July 1 a strike involving 20,000 men will occur in the Birmingham, Ala., district. They are promulgating demands which the operators claim cannot be granted.

The Boxers have posted inflammatory cards in some of the cities in China in which they say: "Kill all Germans, French, Americans and English. To have peace prevail in the hearts of the people all foreigners should be driven out. This end can be attained in a few days if we unite our strength."

Now that the elections are sufficiently over in Cuba, General Wood will recommend the removal of an infantry regiment from the island. Cavalry are needed in the event of any trouble occurring, but General Wood feels that the troops could be reduced by removing almost the entire infantry.

A strike has occurred at Havana among the laborers employed by the Havana Electric company, Cubans and Spaniards, on the ground that they do not receive the same wages as Americans who do similar work. They claim that the Americans received 40 cents more a day. To this the contractors reply that Americans are worth far more than the Cubans as workmen.

Annie Trueheart Dillon, a pretty Kiowa girl, about 14 years old, daughter of Black Wolf, a noted chief of his tribe, is sole heiress to the entire fortune of $1,000,000 and more left by John Trueheart, her father.

Thomas Stevens and Frank Moody have left Fort Worth for Chihuahua, Mexico, to close a contract for nearly 3,000,000 acres of ranch property, for which the sum of 50 cents per acre is to be paid. The ranch is now stocked with 10,000 blooded cattle and the new purchasers propose adding 30,000 blooded cows and will conduct cattle raising on a mammoth scale. The deal will require the transfer of something like $2,500,000.

A passenger train on the Macon branch of the Southern railway ran into a washout one and a half miles north of McDonough, Ga., Sunday night and was completely wrecked. The wreck caught fire and the entire train, with the exception of the sleeper, was destroyed. Every person on the train except the Pullman porter perished. Not a member of the train crew escaped. Thirty-five in all were killed.

Charles Mefford, a maniac at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Sunday morning killed James Fitzsimmons, fatally injured Joseph Drake, seriously and possibly fatally injured Mrs. James Fitzsimmons, slightly injured Miss Kate Fitzsimmons and then ended his own life. He was not generally considered dangerous.

Those Texas "capitalists" who are reported to be contemplating the opening of a big bank in the City of Mexico do not appear to be much afraid of a free silver country. More new money is going into Mexican development than in our own great west, as strange as the fact may seem, and all the practical progressive Americans who exchanged their United States gold for Mexican silver to invest in Mexican industries are perfectly satisfied with the turns from their investment in the free silver republic.—Houston Post.

Rock-a-Bye Baby

These are sweet words, but how much pain and suffering they used to mean. It's different now. Since Mother's Friend has become known expectant mothers have been spared much of the anguish of childbirth. Mother's Friend is a treatment to be applied externally. It is rubbed thoroughly into the muscles of the abdomen. It gives elasticity and strength, and when the final great strain comes they respond quickly and easily without pain. Mother's Friend is never taken internally. Internal treatment at this time does more harm than good.

woman is supplied with this splendid treatment she need never fear rising or swelling breasts, morning sickness or any of the discomforts which usually accompany pregnancy. The proprietor of a large hotel in Tampa, Fla., writes: "My wife had an awful time with her first child. During her second pregnancy, Mother's Friend was used and the baby was born easily before the doctor arrived. It's certainly great."

IF HE IS DEFEATED.
The following old "gag" on candidates has been published by country papers since the time when the memory of man runneth not to the contrary: "He cometh up like a flower and reiroth from the race busted. His friends fill him with false hopes and atmospheres. He swelth like a toad and thinketh the earth his'n. He smiloth upon mankind and sloppeth over with good humor. He kiseth the children and scattereth his microbes among the innocent babes. He privily chaweth a clove when he meeteth a preacher, and as he converseth with him in pious tones he standeth to leeward and curbeth his breath as with a strong bit. He riseth up bedimes and hikeh forth without his breakfast saying, 'I go to see a man.' The deadbeat lyeth in wait and pulth his leg to the queen's taste. He 'nalleth a lie,' but before election day comes he runneth short of nails. He giveth liberally to the church; he subscribeth a goodly sum to the band; he contributh to the man whose barn was burned; he signeth his friend's note; he sendeth a small keg hither and a large keg thither; he yieldeth up his substance with apparent alacrity. After the election he goeth out back of the barn and kicketh himself and teareth his hair and enlith him with a dam fool. He roppeth out the rind of his bones, and is in his shop shaving a stranger. The shot came from the sidewalk, passing through a window. Simmons fell and badly out the man he was shaving. Brown voluntarily surrendered, waived examination and was sent to the St. phenville jail.

At Dublin Monday afternoon D. F. Simmons, a barber, was shot and instantly killed. M. A. Simons, a machinist, is under the rind of his bones. Simmons was in his shop shaving a stranger. The shot came from the sidewalk, passing through a window. Simmons fell and badly out the man he was shaving. Brown voluntarily surrendered, waived examination and was sent to the St. phenville jail.

COTTON PICKING MACHINE.

An improved cotton picker has been invented by William J. Dyer of Shreveport, La., which is arranged to insure a clean and thorough removal of the bolls from high or low cotton bushes or plants, without tearing the fibers of the lint or the growing plant.

The machine comprises a horse drawn, wheel-supported box, at the sides of the open front end of which vertical shafts are journaled, carrying picking-disks. Each picking-disk is formed with a solid core, whose top and bottom diverge from the edge to the center. Between these picker-shafts, two other vertical shafts are journaled, provided with brushes beveled at top and bottom to conform with the toothed picking-disks.

On the lower ends of these four vertical shafts beveled pinions are carried which mesh with beveled gears on a forward transverse shaft geared with the traction axle. The beveled gears are so proportioned with respect to the pinions that the picker-shafts will rotate at a lower rate of speed than the brush-shafts.

As the machine is drawn forward, the outer sides of the picking-disks pass between adjacent branches of the bushes, and the teeth remove the lint from the bolls. The cotton-lint thus picked is carried in ward as the picker-shafts rotate, and swept off the disks by the brushes into the box.

In order to prevent the lint from flying sidewise and outward from the brushes and pickers, and to prevent clogging of the brushes and pickers by the lint, angularly disposed canvas flanges are arranged on the forward ends of the sides of the box, which flanges are provided with cut-out portions for the passage of the picking-disks.

It is in Republican politics in all Southern states.

The American consul at Cape Town has written to the secretary of state in regard to the American boys who accompany shipments of mules to South Africa and are left there destitute. The consul says the towns are full of these boys and they are in need of food and money to pay their passage home. He says he helps them as much as he is able, but he can not feed and care for them all and he wants others warned not to come there. He says the relatives of these boys write to him to look after them and send them home, just as though he had no other business to attend to and had the treasury of the United States to draw on to care for them, while, as a fact, every cent he gives them comes out of his own pocket.

A college of journalism is not needed, simply because the average American citizen already knows how a newspaper ought to be run. The only exceptions to this rule are the unfortunate people whom a mistake of providence has assigned to the direction and control of the newspapers. The editor may have and generally does have grave doubts as to his judgement and wisdom and ability, but to every one else the management of a newspaper is as easy as the presidential office is to the mind of Dewey. How then, can a college expect to teach the world that which it knows already, and especially when this knowledge comes by nature.—New York World.

The international troops now in China aggregate nearly 20,000 and Japan is preparing to send 20,000 more. With British, American and other troops ordered to go, probably 30,000 men will be available in a month. The foreign engineers at Chee Foo estimate the Chinese troops now in the field as 25,000 drilled troops; at Lu Tai, 25,000; at Shuang Hai Wai, 15,000, driven off from Tien Tain, and 150,000 at Pekin. A late dispatch received by the foreign legations states that the foreign legations were required to leave Pekin within a specified time, and this is interpreted in some quarters as tantamount to giving the ministers their passports and a declaration of war.

WHY THE SOUTH IS SOLID.
The Mobile Register makes a timely and sensible statement as to why the south is solid. It says: "Thoughtful people of the north will find in the decision of the Republican committee to deny the Alabama delegations seats in the convention the reason why the South is solid. Two factions presented themselves at Philadelphia, each edgy, as Chairman Vaughan very cleverly put it, to swear to anything to sustain its side in the controversy. Neither party cared anything for the good of the Republican organization; each faction is on the lookout for influence in order that the new federal offices in Alabama may be apportioned to its side. This is all there is in Republican politics in any Southern state."

THE BICYCLE IN WAR.

The first real test of the bicycle as a war machine is now being made in Africa, and the general verdict seems to be that it has come to stay. Swifter, more stealthy, and more enduring than horse or foot, it leaves next to no track, and that little such as it has passes so quickly that it is not noticed. It has been regularly introduced into the armies of Great Britain, France, Germany, Austria and our own country, and the ornaments and competitions in its use are part of the regular order in military drills and exhibitions.

The Cuban was very little used in the wheel and other Spanish-American campaigns because of the poor roads, but both Boers and British are using it in South Africa for transportation and dispatch purposes.

As a dispatch and scouting vehicle the wheel is invaluable. A good rider can cover distance from seventy-five to a hundred miles a day over ordinary roads being comparatively easy. For scouting, the small target presented by the rider, and the almost perfect invulnerability of his steed, covered with his rapid motion, make him very safe, and the silence of his progress makes him very stealthy.

But the surprising point is the value of the bicycle in action. Of course, saber and lance drill, shooting both with rifle and pistol while in motion, and riding in usual positions are feats that a very little practice would make easy to any fairly expert rider, but the military cyclist goes further.

Our cyclist corps are rained as artillery and hospital detachments. They are provided with light machine guns, suitably mounted and with bicycle ambulances. Two men with their wheels, rifles and an overcoat will extemporize an ambulance and carry a comrade out of danger at a speed of fifteen miles an hour and without as much disturbance to a wounded man as the swaying of an ordinary stretcher would cause.

One of the regular feats which the rank and file are trained in for a dismounted man to sit on the handle bars of a comrade's wheel, facing backwards, and while the other carries him quickly but of reach, to cover the retreat with his rifle, using his comrade's shoulder as a rest. The experts are not satisfied with this sort of thing, though, and one man, Sergeant Rule, of the Twenty-sixth Middlesex Volunteer Rifle corps (British) has performed the feat of picking up a wounded comrade without dismounting, lifting him to the handle bars, and then, supporting him and guiding his wheel with one hand and using his revolver with the other, carrying him to the hospital receiving station.

Of course the bicycle is of no advantage in a charge. It has no "shock of action" because of its light weight; but on the other hand it is safe against cavalry attack. A line of grounded bicycles forms an obstruction which a horse will no more ride over than he will a solid wall of bayonets. Altogether, then, a cycle corps is swifter than cavalry, full as dangerous as infantry, or even as light artillery, and silent as a body of naked savages.

Most of the wheels in military use are of the ordinary diamond frame type, and the wheels shipped to Africa by the British authorities are peculiar only in their enamel, it being the color of kahlki. In fact, most of the officers have their own pet wheels of various standard makes. There have been several special military cycles made, however, the general object being portability and unpuncturable tires.—Baptist-Herald.

SHADOWED BY NEMESIS.

Broken in health and spirit, ex-Gov. W. S. Taylor, of Kentucky, has gone to Niagara Falls. He was accompanied by Mrs. Taylor, and four detectives followed close at their heels. Two of the officers represent the state of Kentucky and bear warrants for the arrest of Mr. Taylor upon charges growing out of the assassination of Gov. Goebel. The other two are employed by Mr. Taylor to guard his person.

His stay in this city was devoid of personal pleasure. He accepted but one invitation and that upon him at the hotel where he made his headquarters.

He came here to attend the Republican national convention as delegate at large only after having been assured that no requisition calling for his enforced return to Kentucky would be honored.

The strain is telling on both Governor and Mrs. Taylor. All the time they were in the city their rooms were closely guarded and Mrs. Taylor personally answered every rap on the door. She denied herself to all callers and was on the verge of collapse several times.

It is understood that Mr. Taylor will not be surrendered to the Kentucky authorities by Gov. Roosevelt, and that he will be immune from arrest until he shall return to Indiana, where he is now making his home, or until such time as he shall return to Kentucky of his own volition.—Philadelphia Special.

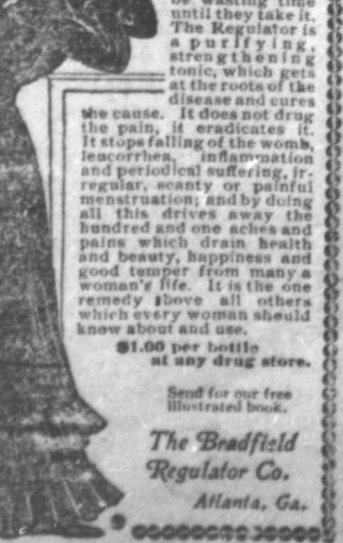

MR. BRYAN SPEAKS.

"I say, as I have said so many times," said Mr. Bryan when asked what he thought the platform and issues this year would or should be, "that I think the three big questions before us are money, trusts and imperialism. The money question, of course, includes the question of silver and of paper money; the question of imperialism includes militarism and the policy of which our national administration's work in the Philippines and the attitude on the Boer question are samples. "I believe the principles adopted in the platform of 1896 were adopted as a part of the creed never to be departed from. I do not think they should or can be departed from this year. That platform must, however, be added to as new issues arise. I do not expect to be a delegate to the national convention and I can not presume to discuss the form in which these principles shall be stated in the platform to be adopted. "I can not undertake to say which will be the paramount issue. No man can. One thinks one is the biggest and another man thinks another is. "What do I think should be done in the Philippines? I think this country should tell those people that we are there for only the purpose of establishing a stable government and that when we have done so we should turn the islands over to the people there and protect them against foreign aggression as we have protected the South American republics.

wants to put out a fire she doesn't heap on oil and wood. She throws on water knowing that water quenches fire. When a woman wants to get well from diseases peculiar to her sex, she should not add fuel to the fire already burning her life away. She should not take worthless drugs and poisons composed of harmful narcotics and opiates. They do not check the disease—they do not cure it—they simply add fuel to the fire.

Bradford's Female Regulator should be taken by every woman or girl who has the slightest suspicion of any of the ailments which afflict women. They will simply be waiting time until they take it. A purifying, strengthening, and health-giving tonic, which gets at the root of the disease and cures it.

DEERING CORN HARVESTER.

REMEMBER that the DEERING Ball Bearing Corn and Cane Binder is absolutely the only machine on the market built on correct principles. It is without a rival. It is in a class by itself.

Our competitors are still experimenting at the expense of the farmers, while the DEERING "Horizontal" Corn and Cane Binder has proved itself a practical machine and worthy of a place at the head of the procession with the peerless "Light Draft Deering Ideals." We also have Deering Mowers and Hay Rakes.

MINISTER'S WORK.

"There is no limit whatever to the minister's work," writes Ian MacLaren of "The Minister and His Vacation," in the Ladies' Home Journal. "The merchant knows what he can do in eight hours because he is dealing with affairs, but the minister never knows what he can do because he is dealing with ideas. It is the necessity of production, even when the mind will not produce, which grates upon the nerves of a minister and is apt to break down his health. The journalist writes every day, but he has something new to write about; the literary man writes when he is inclined; the minister has to write on an old subject—although the greatest which can engage the mind—and he has to write whether his mind is bright or dull. It is only by patient reading and unceasing prayer that he can accomplish his duty, and then he is ever strained to the utmost, and never knows the rest of the map who does his work with time and strength and ideas to spare. When the minister in active service lies down to die he will be given directions in his last conscious moments about a letter that had not been answered, and sending explanations to a family that has not been visited, and when his mind begins to wander, it will be among texts with which he has struggled and efforts which he has made in vain."

A LIFE AND DEATH FIGHT.
Mr. W. A. Hines of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed day and night. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which wholly cured me. Hundreds have used it on my advice and all say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at Barton & Lowe's drug stores.

CARD TO VOTERS.

Owing to the severe, and I fear fatal illness of my mother, I have not been able to make a canvass of the county in the interest of my candidacy for the Populist nomination for public weigher, but I hope the voters will favor me with their support, and if I am nominated I promise to make a thorough canvass of the county, and do all I can to secure the office, and also to assist the other nominees.

I know it is customary for candidates to call on the voters in person and solicit support, but under the circumstances I am sure no one could expect me to leave home, and I must depend on my friends to take care of my interests. Again soliciting the support of the Populists in the primary Monday, I am Faithfully yours,

H. M. CRYER.
