The coolest place in the United States now is the signal station on the top of Mount Washington. On Wednesday the temperature ranged between 34 and 40 degrees, and on the day following a thin film of ice was formed, the mercury having fallen to thirty-one degrees.

A distinguished private party sat down to a dinner at Hotel Wenwood, Newcastle, N. H., on Wednesday. Included in the number were Gov. Head, Secretary of State Thompson, ex-Gov. Cheney, Senator Rollins, Representative Farr, Representative Briggs, Naval Officer Daniel Hall, Col. John Bracewell together with a large number of representative people of Dover, Portsmouth and other cities.

In Bartow county, Georgia, Mrs. J. C. Sprunells recently gave a barbecue to all her old servants. Invitation were duly extended, and on the appointed day eighty negroes of both sexes and of all sizes assembled on the plantation, and were feasted to their heart's content. At night a dance was indulged in by the negroes, and several speeches were made, and jollity and merriment reigned supreme.

A girl astonished an audience in the Gaiety theater, London two years ago by jumping from a high bridge at the back of the stage, landing gracefully on the floor, and then executing a dance, which was varied by leaps of twenty feet in the air. The performance of Ariel, as she was called, were for a while the theatrical wonder of the town. They were done by means of a jumping apparatus invented by her husband, Walter Dando. He subsequently applied the machinery to other dancers in London and Paris, and next season several duplicates of Ariel will be seen in this country.

PASSENGERS on the Pennsylvania railroad, between Philadelphia and Pittsburg, have been puzzled to know what occasions the green carpet along one track the greater portion of the distance, while along the other track there is scarcely a vestige of vegetation. The eastward bound freight trains, laden with grain, scatter it more or less along the track, and it soon takes root, and being enabled to grow a few inches high, the roadbed presents a verdant appearance, while along the other track used by the westward bound trains, which carry no grain, this feature is wanting.

The American Consul at Geneva, says American beef and live stock have penetrated as far as that region and the value of choice cattle, raised in large numbers in Switzerland for Paris and French markets, has been sensibly diminished by the importation from America. Preserved meats and fruits from the United States are so well established and advertised they may be left to take care of themselves, but butter and cheese could be sold in much larger quantities in Central and Southern Europe, and a profitable market for the more nutritious brand of American flour could be found.

Admiral Wyman, who recently proceeded to Santiago de Cuba to investigate the alleged indignity offered the American flag in Cuban waters by the Spanish gunboat Canot, reached Washington this afternoon. After calling upon Commander Jeffers, acting Secretary of the Navy, the Admiral visited Secretary Evans and explained to him in detail the position of the Canot at the time of the introduction of the American schooners Merritt and Newcomb, as laid on charts prepared by the officers of the Canot. Admiral Wyman reiterates the statement made in his report that the Spanish authorities made no secret of the matter, but fully extended to him the privilege of examining the report of the commander of the Canot, and unequivocally disavowed any intention at least to our flag or commission of any act at variance with its usages of civilized countries.

This disclosure prostrated her, and, after a painful interview with him at Mobile, where she made oath that she had not been married to him, in order to secure his retention in the service, she returned to Cincinnati. HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW.

He stood on his head by the wild seashore, And danced on his hands a jig; In all his emotions, as never before, A wildly hilarious gig.

And why? In that ship just crossing the bay His mother-in-law had sailed For a tropical country far away, Where tigers and fevers prevailed.

Oh! how he might hope for a peaceful life! And even be happy yet, Though owning no end of neuralgic wife, And up to his collar in debt.

He had borne the old lady through thick and thin, And she lectured him out of breath, And now, as he looked at the ship she was in, He howled for her violent death.

He watched as the good ship cat the sea, And bumpishly up and down, And thought if already she squashed might He'd consider his happiness again.

He watched till beneath the horizon's edge The ship was passing from view. And he sprang to the top of a rocky ledge, And prayed like a kangaroo.

He watched till the vessel became a speck That was lost in the wandering sea, And then, at the risk of breaking his neck, Turned somersaults home to tea.

PATRIOTIC DECLARATIONS.

The Words of Hancock Which Will Live Through All Ages. Indianapolis Sentinel.

General Hancock, in his letter dated December, 1876, to General Sherman, made a number of declarations which should find a conspicuous place in every Democratic newspaper in the land. If it were possible they should be written in letters as vivid as lightning, and to span the heavens like a covenant bow.

Wherever they are read they will kindle a patriotic fire in the hearts of every patriot. They ring out clear and full. Since the days of the fathers of the Republic no words have been spoken better calculated to arouse every latent energy of the mind or create a deeper detestation of Republican rule.

In South Carolina troops were used by the Republican party to determine who were the lawful members of the Legislature of the State. Bayonets, not ballots, decided the question. No greater outrage was ever committed. No more flagrant act of despotism was ever recorded. No greater crime against civil liberty was ever perpetrated. It was done in the interest of fraud and to elevate R. B. Hayes, in defiance of the will of the people.

Under Grant the army has been used to steal the Presidency. Under cover of bayonets Republican managers had concocted and consummated it. The frauds and forgeries had been prepared while the army stood guard over the plotting crew, and General Hancock clearly conceived the greater crime and the degradation to which the army had been subjected, and says:

Our regular army has little hold upon the affections of the people of to-day, and its superior officers should certainly, as far as lies in their power, legally, and with righteous intent, aim to defend the right, which to us is the law, and the institution which they represent. It is a well-meaning institution, and it would be well if it should have an opportunity to be recognized as a bulwark in support of the rights of the people.

General Hancock knew the duty of the army. To defend the right is its mission—to uphold the law, not to crush it—and he was brave enough, and patriotic enough, to point out to General Sherman the infamous wrongs the army had been required to support.

General Hancock looked to the constitution for guidance; to the principles of civil liberty; to the rights of the people, and, having the great charter for his chart, was certain to commit no crime against the rights and liberties of the people. He further says:

The army is laboring under disadvantages and has been used unlawfully at times in the judgment of the people (in mine certainly), and we have lost a great deal of the kindly feeling which the community at large once felt for us. "It is time to stop and unload."

Here we have the direct declaration that the army had been used unlawfully; that it had been used to maintain legislatures never lawfully elected, and to disperse legislatures that had been lawfully elected. To use the army unlawfully is a wrong under all circumstances, but to use it to beat down the liberties of the people is a crime of such fearful proportions as to defy exaggeration.

How a Painter Succeeded.

One of the most successful paintings in this year's Paris Salon was Henner's "Sleep," and a pretty little story is told of how he came to paint it. He worked hard one day last summer, but to little purpose, and finally threw down his brush in disgust and told his model, a girl of sixteen, to break her pose. The tired girl threw herself upon a sofa and was soon fast asleep, while the moody artist strode up and down the studio in a brown study. By and by he noticed the unusual grace of the sleeping girl's position, and the beauty of her flushed face and half open lips. On tip toe he walked to his easel, and while the enthusiasm was fresh upon him, and before the girl awoke, he fixed on the canvas the idea of his charming picture.

"Now Well and Strong."

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear Sir—I wish to state that my daughter, aged 18, was pronounced incurable and was fast failing, as the doctors thought, with consumption. I obtained a half dozen bottles of your Discovery for her, and she commenced improving in force, and is now well and strong. She took the Discovery last fall. Very truly yours,

REV. ISAAC N. AUGUSTIN.

An Only Daughter Cured of Consumption.

When death was hourly expected from consumption, all remedies having failed and Dr. H. James was experimenting, he accidentally made a preparation of Indian Hemp, which cured his only child, and now gives this recipe on receipt of two stamps to pay expenses. Hemp also cures night sweats, nausea at the stomach, and will break a fresh cold in 24 hours. Address Craddock & Co., 1032 Race street, Philadelphia, Pa. Naming this paper.

Vegetine Cured His Daughter.

CALLIESVILLE, Chilton Co., Ala., May 15, 1878.

Dear Sir—My daughter has been afflicted with nasal catarrh, affection of bladder and kidney, and is of a scrofulous diathesis, and after having exhausted my skill and the most eminent physicians of Selma, I at last resorted to the use of your VEGETINE, without confidence, and to my great surprise, my daughter has been restored to health. I write this as a simple act of justice, and not for any other selfish or ostentatious purpose. Respectfully,

T. E. CALLIER, M. D.

Worked Like a Charm—Cured Salt Rheum and Erysipelas.

75 COURT ST., Rome, N. Y., July 10, 1879.

Dear Sir—One year ago last fall my little boy had a breaking out of Erysipelas and Salt Rheum, his face being one matted sore of the worst description. Noticing your advertisement in the papers, I purchased two bottles of your VEGETINE, without confidence, and to my great surprise, I never saw anything like the VEGETINE; it worked like a charm. I have been city watchman at Rome for years, and his testimonial is gratuitous. Yours, respectfully,

THORATTO GRIDLEY.

Remarkable Cure of Scrofulous Face.

Dear Sir—I testify to the good effect of your Medicine. My little boy had a scrofula sore break out on his head as large as a quarter of a dollar, and it went down his face from ear to the other, under his neck, and was one solid mass of sores. FOR PRESIDENT, GEN. W. S. HANCOCK, Of Pennsylvania. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, HON. WM. H. ENGLISH, Of Indiana.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

A delegate Convention of the Democratic party of the State of Kansas is hereby called to meet in the Hall of the House of Representatives, in the city of Topeka, at 9 o'clock, a. m., on Thursday, August 26th, 1889, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following named offices:

Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor of State, Treasurer of State, Attorney-General, Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Five Presidential Electors, and also for the purpose of selecting a State Central Committee.

The basis of representation in the State Convention will be three Delegates from each Representative District and three Delegates from each unorganized county, not included in a Representative District.

We earnestly urge upon the Democrats of Kansas the absolute importance of prompt and thorough organization of the party in every county and township in the State, in order that every district may be fully represented in the State Convention, and an active and effective organization obtained at once, for a vigorous campaign the coming fall.

We respectfully request every Democratic newspaper in the State to publish this notice, and editorially call special attention to the importance of complying with the suggestions herein made.

We avail ourselves of this opportunity to congratulate the Democracy of Kansas upon the grand results of the National Convention, held at Cincinnati, on the 22d of June, in presenting to the country, as our standard bearer in the approaching campaign, the names of Winfield S. Hancock and William H. English, a ticket that must meet the cordial approval of every patriotic heart in the United States; and we have no reasonable doubt of their election to the high offices for which they have been nominated. Democrats, be up and at work everywhere, for the victory and glory are yours.

By order of the State Central Committee, at Topeka, July 1, 1889.

J. H. WATKINS, Chairman.

H. MILES MOORE, Secretary.

THE REPUBLICAN RULE.

HEADS, I WIN; TAILS, YOU LOSE. 1877. 1879.

(When Democrats were to be rejected.) (When Republicans were to be counted in.) It is to be regretted that by negligence of the Representatives the obvious remedy is not to be deprived of his right choose such a "boss" as will perform their duty, and know they will perform it.

John Appleton, Chas. W. Walton, John A. Peters, Artemus Libby, Wm. G. Barrows, Wm. Wirt Virgin, J. G. Dickinson.

"That the maintenance of the principles promulgated in the Declaration of Independence and embodied in the Federal Constitution is essential to the preservation of our Republican institutions; and that the Federal Constitution, the Rights of the States, and the Union of the States, must and shall be preserved."

"That the maintenance inviolate of the rights of the States, and especially of each State to order and control its own domestic institutions according to its own judgement exclusively, is essential to that balance of power on which the perfection and endurance of our political fabric depends; and we denounce the lawless invasion by armed force of the soil of any State or Territory, no matter under what pretext, as among the gravest of crimes."—Republican Wigwag Platform of 1860.

Hancock and English means New York and Indiana certain.

Old John Bender and wife were recently captured at Fremont, Nebraska, and have been taken to Cherryvale, Kansas, the scene of their murders.

It is becoming evident that Gen. Hancock will grow in favor till the day of the election, just in proportion to the efforts of the opposition to belittle his brave, unselfish, patriotic, splendid services during the war.

The Democratic Convention that met in Wichita, on Wednesday, nominated for Congressman from his district, that patriot and soldier, as well as brilliant orator, J. Wade McDonald, of Cowley county, who bears upon his person many scars from wounds received while fighting in defense of the Union, in the late war.

The great question to be determined at the coming election is not, as the Republican press and orators say, whether the North or South shall rule in this country, but whether the North or the entire people shall rule in this Union; whether peace and prosperity shall exist among a truly united people, or whether sectional animosity and hatred shall still continue to rule supreme in the land.

Maine Democrats and Greenbackers have come to an understanding, and that State is to be flooded with speakers by each branch of the party. A genuine coalition has been effected, and the State of Maine's Electoral vote will be divided between Gen. Hancock and Mr. Weaver. It is believed Massachusetts will adopt the same plan, thus dividing the Electoral vote of the Bay State.—Atchison Patriot.

Would it not be a good idea for the Democrats and Greenbackers in this State to go and do likewise?

"It depends on whose ox is gored." When Gov. Blackburn was a candidate before the people of Kentucky the Radical press of the country could hardly find vile enough language to use against him; but now, when he drops a crumb of comfort for Garfield, he is a "respectable Democrat," while those who say aught against Garfield "are confined to the worst element of the Democratic party." There are a great many Republicans just now who belong to this "element of the Democratic party."

A few days ago the Democrats held a ratification meeting in New York, that was the grandest affair of the kind that has taken place during this campaign, yet not a word in regard to it appeared in the Associated Press dispatches sent over the country. The other day Garfield arrived in New York, and the most minute description was given of his reception there, as also at all points along his route. We had never supposed that the Associated Press dispatches were used for party influence, but it looks that way now.

In March, 1873, Mr. Garfield used his influence as Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations to engineer through Congress what is known as the "salary grab." By that embezzlement Congress appropriated $25,000 to Gen. Grant, and over a million to themselves.

Mr. Garfield's share of the plunder was $4,548, which amount he stuck down in his pocket and went home. It was one of the last acts of the 42d Congress. In forty-eight hours after Congress had adjourned the whole country was boiling with indignation. At a Republican convention held in his own county, some weeks afterwards, Mr. Garfield was requested to resign forthwith. To palliate the disgrace he returned the money to the Treasury, and claimed in a speech that he did it as a matter of conscience.

If, while "holding the keys of the Treasury," he managed to get $4,548 "grab" money, $5,000 DeGoler, and $329 Credit Mobilier, what could be expected if he had the Treasury itself under his control?

Newspapers are the cheapest and best reading any man can put in his family. They are a medley of everything. If you wish your children to be informed on practical subjects, by all means subscribe for a newspaper. More real, substantial, every-day news can be found in a county newspaper than is generally found in a two-dollar book—matter which will benefit all through life. Few men ever give the editor credit for what he really deserves; but on the contrary abuse him, because he does not agree with some particular whim of theirs. No man is too poor to pay for his county paper. Men often get rich by a paper; but we have never heard of one getting poorer.

When the editor or his agent asks you to subscribe, don't, for pity's sake, begin to make excuses that you are taking more papers than you can read, or that you will subscribe after while, etc.; but let him take your name and send the paper right along—money is more acceptable to editors than to most men.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE CHASE COUNTY SUNDAY-SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

Held at the Cottonwood Falls M. E. Church, on Thursday, July 29. The Association was opened at about 11:30, a. m., with music; scripture reading by Rev. E. Cameron, President of the Association, and prayer by Rev. H. Jones; music by the congregation.

Rev. J. W. Hancher was a committee to enroll delegates, officers and teachers that were present. On motion, all persons who were present who were interested in Sabbath school work were enrolled.

On motion, Jessie F. Shaft was elected Secretary. Owing to the lateness of the hour, a motion was made that the President's opening address be deferred until 1:45, p. m.

Adjourned to meet at that hour. The afternoon session was opened with music—Mr. L. W. Dickinson, organist; prayer, by Rev. J. G. Freeborn, Vice-President of the Association.

Rev. J. W. Hancher, Roll Committee, read his report, and, on motion, the report was left open for further enrollment.

As the hour had now passed for the President's address, and he began to call for the regular exercises in the programme, a motion was made that the address by the President be heard yet. The address was listened to with interest. Afterwards music. The regular afternoon programme was then taken up.

Rev. J. W. Hancher conducted a teachers' class drill, an exercise in which nearly the whole Association took part, by either answering or asking questions in regard to the duties of a Sabbath-school teacher.

Prof. J. F. Kirker conducted a pupils' class drill, taking the Sabbath-school lesson for the following "Call of Abraham;" Gen. 11: 31-32 and 12: 1-10.

Duties of parents to Sunday-school work was talked upon by Rev. Harvey Jones.

Miss L. M. Ridgeway not being present to read an essay upon Sabbath-school work and its workings, the time was occupied by singing led by Mr. W. G. Patten, practicing the three pieces of music, "Coronation," "Demris" and "We are Rising as a People," to be sung at the picnic, the following day.

On motion, the Sabbath-schools were to meet at the church at 11, a. m., on the next day, and go in procession to the grove.

On motion, a collection was taken up to defray the expenses of the picnic, for printing songs, hauling lumber from depot, putting up seats, &c.; amount of subscription, $7.50; amount collected, $6.00.

On motion, the Secretary was instructed to furnish credentials for those who could attend the State Sunday-school Convention.

A motion was made that the Secretary prepare abstracts of the minutes of the meeting and the Roll Committee's report, and to have them published in the county papers. The following is the report of the Roll Committee:

BEST IN THE WORLD. ARM WITH HAMMER BRAND. CHURCH & CO'S. SOLE AGENTS. NEW YORK.

Inquire for Church & Co's Soda or a slightly dirty white color. It may appear white, examined by itself, but a COMPARISON WITH CHURCH & CO'S "ARM WITH HAMMER" BRAND will show the difference. See that your Baking Soda is white and PURE, as should be ALL SIMILAR SUBSTANCES used for food. Housekeepers who prefer bread made with yeast will improve its quality, make it rise better and prevent it from souring by adding one-half teaspoonful of Church & Co's Soda or Salarsatus. Be sure and use too much. The use of this with sour milk in preference to baking powder, saves twenty times its cost. See one pound package for valuable information, and read carefully. Literary Revolution and Universal Knowledge.

An Encyclopedia in 20 volumes, over 16,000 pages, 10 per cent. more matter than any Encyclopedia ever before published in this country, and sold, handsome and well bound, in cloth for $10, in half morocco for $15, and printed on fine heavy paper wide margins, bound in half Russia, gilt top, for $20—at an enterprise so extraordinary that its success, beyond all precedent in book publishing, may be fairly claimed to inaugurate a Literary Revolution. THE LIBRARY OF UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE is a reprint entire of the last (1879) Edinburgh edition of "Chambers' Encyclopedia," with about 40 per cent. of new matter added, upon topics of special interest to American readers, thus making it equal in character to any similar work, better than any other suited to the wants of the great majority of those who consult works of reference, and altogether the latest Encyclopedia in the field. Specimen Volumes in either style will be sent for examination, with privilege of return, on receipt of proportionate price per volume. Special Discount to all early subscribers, and extra discount to clubs. Full particulars, with descriptive catalogue of many other standard works equally low in price, sent free. Leading principles of the AMERICAN BOOK EXCHANGE: I. Publish only books of real value. II. Work upon the basis of present cost of making books, about one-half what it was a few years ago. III. Sell to buyers direct, and save them the 50 and 60 per cent. commission commonly allowed to dealers. IV. The cost of books when made ten thousand at a time is but a fraction of the cost when made 500 at a time—adopt the low price and sell the large quantity. V. Use good type, paper, etc., do careful printing, and strong, neat binding, but avoid all "padding," fat and heavily-leaded type, spongy paper and gaudy binding, which are so commonly resorted to to make books appear large and fine, and which greatly add to their cost, but do not add to their value. VI. To make $1 and a friend is better than to make $5 and an enemy.

GROWING SORGHUM IN KANSAS. One of the most important features of the Second Quarterly Report of the State Board of Agriculture is the article on Growing Sorghum Cane in Kansas, which occupies over 30 pages of the volume. The paper opens with a statistical table showing the acreage, by counties, of 1880 compared with 1879, which is followed by the experience and recommendations of over 100 growers in various counties of the State. The value and importance of the crop will be a surprise to most readers. Prof. Penopoe, the entomologist of the Board, makes a very interesting report on the Web Worm, its habits and its transformations, which will greatly interest counties where farmers have suffered from the ravages of this pest. The report also contains meteorological data for the three months ending June 30, and the usual full and varied information upon the staple crops, condition of farm animals, etc. The papers upon the Summer and Fall Treatment of Orchard and Vineyards, occupying over 20 pages, are particularly timely, and of a practical character. Late information is also presented regarding location and price of public lands, a list of the district and county fairs, and an extract from the Railroad Assessor's Report, showing the number of miles of railroad, and value in each county, etc. The statistical information given in the tables from the Assessors' Returns for 1880, of population, crops, fruit trees, farm-buildings erected, etc., will be found interesting to all readers. The report may be had by addressing the Secretary, J. K. Hudson, Topeka, Kansas.

THE CURRENCY QUESTION. Notwithstanding the fact that thousands of our people are worrying themselves almost to death over the vexed question, even to the extent of neglecting their business, their homes and their duties to their families, there are still thousands upon thousands of smart, hard working, intelligent men pouring into the great Arkansas Valley, the Garden of the West, where the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad offers them their choice of 2,500,000 acres of the finest farming land in the world at almost their own prices. If you do not believe it write to the undersigned, who will tell you where you can get a cheap land exploring ticket, and how, at a moderate expense, you can see for yourself and be convinced.
