Official Proclamation
BY
James W. Ledbetter
County Judge, Mills County
Goldthwaite, Texas

GREETINGS:
An adequate supply of food and natural fibers is essential to our Nation. Many of our citizens of Mills County are directly or indirectly dependent upon agriculture for their livelihood. All of our citizens benefit from the advancements made in the agricultural industry.

Our farmers and ranchers have learned the value of promoting their industry through organization. Four out of five agricultural producers in the Nation are members of Farm Bureau.

Farm Bureau seeks to improve the social and economic conditions of farm and ranch families and the Nation as a whole. It is an independent, voluntary organization.

Therefore, I, James Ledbetter, County Judge of Mills County, do hereby designate February 6 - 11, 1978 as FARM BUREAU WEEK in Mills County and urge our citizens to give due recognition to this observance honoring the Mills County Farm Bureau.

In official recognition thereof, I hereby affix my signature this 27th day of January, 1978.

CYNTHIA CARR
...Candidate for County and District Clerk

We've had 100% humidity for several days now, and a net rainfall of only a couple of tenths. All the ingredients are there, but the right stimulus hasn't come along to let loose the big rain. Maybe it'll happen soon. This part of the greatest state in the union (unfrozen) sure looks dead, with all the cold and the lack of water last year.

Clean Water Still A Problem City Holds Public Meeting; Water System Scrutinized

A good group of Goldthwaite citizens turned out for the City Council meeting Tuesday night, that had been called to gather input to try to solve some of the water problems currently experienced by the city. Darrell Johnson, an engineer and representative of Rady and Associates of Fort Worth, was present at the meeting and answered numerous questions posed him about ideas for getting and maintaining water supplies.

CITY MANAGER Dale Allen opened the meeting with a slide presentation of the existing off channel storage facilities adjacent to the Colorado River, about eight miles from Goldthwaite. Their general eroded condition was easily seen by the group assembled. The dirt used to construct the levees has not held, and the reasons for this are many, ranging from the fact that the company who conducted the samples was at fault, to reasoning that no site in this area would do the job much better.

- Johnson estimated that the alternatives to repairing the eroded reservoirs would be:
1. Concrete the entire inner walls of the two tanks, at a total cost of about $200,000.00
  2. Preparing the walls with rock wrapping. Cost of this would vary greatly due to availability of rock and transportation.
  3. Using some form of clay soil to dump onto the sides to keep them from eroding, and sodding with grasses. Again, cost is undeterminable unless source of soil can be found.

THE SOURCE of the city's water is, of course, the Colorado River, and the inherent "turbidity" (dirt) problem poses problems on filtering. This will always be present, according to experts, since the Colorado River is the source. Well water does not have to be so treated in most cases, and can be injected directly into the system. This led to the second stage of the discussion, water wells. The city had used well water for more than 50 years, when the system was completely scrapped recently. The water table here is uncertain, and the table drops in the summer, rendering wells useless. Engineering studies show that increased wells have little effect on the outcome, since most are in the same level of water. The river system was built in 1964 to ease the city's dependency on the unstable wells. Continued growth by the city, and its accompanying increase in water usage has caused the system, made for both the river and well system, to become overloaded with the "dirtier" river water, and therefore cause the filter station to be ineffective in curtailing the "turbidity." The filter system was designed to filter about 350 gallons per minute, and the last several years have seen that amount reach over 500 gallons per minute, outdistancing the filters and causing little effect on the cleanliness of the water.

THE ALTERNATIVE to this over-capacity filtering, is to run the river pumping operation at a lesser rate but for more hours per day. City Manager Allen estimates 20 hours per day pumping, seven days a week, using the 350 gallons per minute figure. Backwashing of the filters to clean them results in much of the difference of the total. The city uses about 200,000 gallons per day in the winter, and 500,000 in the summer. The 350 gallons per minute figures over 400,000 gallons per day on the 20 hour basis, but the down time due to starting and stopping to clean results in the net figure being much lower.

Sand samples are being collected to check the filter's working capacity, and pumps repaired to insure the inflow of the 350 gallons per minute. The filter plant was designed for this amount, according to the original report from Rady, the designers of the river water system.

"THIS CHANGE in filtering operation may not bring the water to standards of cleanliness," Johnson said. "Chemicals, oxidation or other methods may need to be utilized," he added.

He pointed out that at the present time, there is no answer to the water problem. Further studies will have to be conducted in order to evaluate the best possible solutions.

CM Allen pointed out that up to 30,000 gallons per day have been leaking from the system, and the leaks have eluded all efforts to find them. This amount would improve the filtering capacity of the plant, because of less water having to go through the sand and gravel filters.

Mayor J. D. Harper thanked all those present for their participation and interest, and assured everyone that the city would try to the best of its ability to give the citizens the best water possible at the least expensive cost.

The filing deadline for the Democratic Primary on May 6 is next Monday, for the benefit of any aspiring political personalities in Mills County. Several local races are contested and the prospects for a good voter turnout are enhanced by the competition.

Our local system has been strengthened over the years by echoing the true sentiments of the people of the county. It's pretty hard to escape the confrontation with the voters here, leading the office holder to a position of consideration to the feelings of the public, not just those of his own. This again, separates the local scene from the national, and even the state. The larger the office, the more widespread the opinion, and the more watered-down the public's input. Government works best one-to-one.

I doubt if there is a person in the United States who wants to see the United States enter into another year of huge deficit spending and rampant federal programs that accomplish little. But, alas, the wheel keeps on turning, grinding out more legislation, and at costs that stagger the imagination. The adage of government "by the people" seems to have been locked away in a Capitol closet and the key lost... and even worse, stolen.

Had the opportunity to visit a while Monday night with the Emergency Medical Training School being conducted here. About 30 men and women from this area are taking the course, designed to educate the participants in both the theory and the application of first aid and emergency medical treatment.

Those taking the training are very serious about their work, and it's certainly refreshing to find a group of people that concerned about what they are doing.

Something else that was refreshing was the fine number of people who attended the City Council special session Tuesday night. The men who sit down there need this kind of attitude in order to wade through the tide.

Eagles Win, Lose games — Basketball Wrap-Up

The Eagles, in a 3-way tie for the first half of district, are working toward winning the second half, as they baffled the Cross Plains Buffaloes on Tuesday night, January 24, in the Eagle gym.

Coach "Smookey" Brister had his boys moving around more than ever for a win of 60-39. With a slight change of pattern, the Eagles were driving the ball right to the basket and made points after points.

With Mike Jenkins, Kenneth Lawrence, Randy Benningfield, and Kip Welch contributing points, rebounds and steals, the mighty Eagles are 1-0 in the 2nd half of district play.

In the Cross Plains game, the Eagles had only 5 fouls in the whole game.

The score by quarters was 21-8, 26-23, 48-27, 60-39.

Volunteers For Arts & Crafts Teachers Wanted

Since there is such little opportunity for arts and crafts in our school after the sixth grade, an attempt is being made to remedy this; but it will take the cooperation of many people.

Workshops of 1-4 weeks in length could be offered to our Jr. High-Senior High students one afternoon a week after school, from 3:30-5:00, in the High School Library. The school has given permission.

The workshops would teach the skills needed for charcoal - pastel drawing, knitting, crocheting, decoupage, quilting, rub-outs, toiling, etc. The need is to find volunteers in the community willing to share their skill in these areas with a small group of students who want the opportunity and who would pay for their own materials.

Therefore, if you are a skillful person in any of these or other areas in the arts and crafts field, please contact Winn Welch, 648-3275, right away and help open up an important part of life to our youth.

Letter To The Editor —

The Carter Budget!

An article in the Star Telegram, page 2a, on January 26, 1978 pointed out some of our usual unsound economic doings that are very disturbing. It was under the title, "Carter Budget Is Called Thorn To Urban Strategy".

Spokesmen for the U. S. Conference of Mayors noted that the budget allocated only seventeen percent of the $500.2 billion to State and Local governments, which is over $85 billion, and they wanted much more allocated through the revenue sharing program.

Mayor Lee Alexander of Syracuse, President of the conference, said "You cannot develop a national urban policy while cutting back on the Government's share of the Gross National Product. You have to spend more money. If the president adheres to this policy, we will not have full employment, we will not have national health insurance."

The mayors became the third major group of state or local officials to find fault with the budget. Earlier in the week, the National Governors Association and the National Association of Counties said the budget would not meet their needs.

This sort of spending is what is causing inflation, taking away from our national defense preparedness, crippling our social security, devaluating our dollar and definitely plunging our country into bankruptcy.

The most discouraging aspect of this is the fact that our major news media is controlled by the advocates of big spending and say nothing against it. In other words, the big spending program is the product of the people who really run our country which is not the democratic nor republican party, the President nor the U.S. Congress. We are controlled by in international group that does not adhere to any ideological belief nor to any party affiliation—except to control the world economy through controlling the world governments by buying off the leaders and politicians and by supplying the armaments of war to both sides in a war. Then they control the peace proposals.

We are presently reaching the stage where Russia is going to tell us what our country can and cannot do by ultimatum. Only a few days ago the Russian premier bluntly told the NATO countries of western Europe not to accept any of the B1 cruise missiles from the United States.

It is high time that public forums are created everywhere to discuss what to do about the situation and to create an association with chartered principles for action.

Hwy, Maintenance Men

Due Note Of Thanks

A maintenance man is a person who usually is at work at 8 a.m. and gets off at 5 p.m., five days a week. His regular job is to keep the highways repaired, mow the rights of way, fight soil erosion, pick up litter, keep signs and warning devices in good working order, and maintain our beautiful roadside parks. In addition he helps stranded motorists, whether the problem is a mechanical breakdown or an injury to the person.

But what we are the proudest of is his loyalty and sense of duty during bad weather or any type of disaster. Most of the time we don't even have to call him. He either calls in himself, or comes in voluntarily to the section warehouse and starts to work.

Maintenance men perform all kinds of jobs, such as sanding roads and posting additional warning signs, clearing wreck debris, doing whatever is necessary to help keep our highways safe. They may work any time, day or night, twenty-four hours a day and in any kind of weather. They do their jobs in spite of possible injury to themselves or possibly even death. All of this is done to help the traveling public, while the rest of us are home in a nice, warm place -- and they do it for regular pay, not overtime.

Thank you Maintenance Men of Mills County, District 23. We are proud of you.

WE'LL HELP PAY YOUR RENT IF YOU QUALIFY

Under Section 8 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, families or individuals with low incomes and/or who are elderly (62 or older), disabled, displaced or handicapped may qualify for financial help with their monthly rent payments provided the rental unit meets the "fair market rents" established for the program by H.U.D. You may rent a privately owned apartment, a single family home, a duplex or a mobile home.

The maximum income limits for families and individuals who may qualify for rent assistance in the CTHAPP area are shown below:

Texas Highway Dept. Will Issue Mowing Contracts

District 23 of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation will accept bids on mowing the right of ways of State and U. S. Highways for its nine (9) counties. The Legislature has appropriated additional highway money, but at the same time has frozen the number of employees at a figure below where we normally operate. By using hired mowers, it releases permanent employees for other duties. It also helps the local economy by keeping the money at home.

Each county is broken down into several tracts. Bids must be made for an entire county.

Advertisement for bidders will appear in local newspapers during the 2nd and 3rd weeks of February.

For further information concerning the location and sites of the tracts, contact Mr. James A. Morgan, Maintenance - Construction Foreman, Goldthwaite, Texas, after the 1st of February. He will make the Plans and Proposals available and will show the tracts upon request. All inquiries and interest will be appreciated. Bids will be opened at the District Headquarters in Brownwood, Texas at 10:30 A.M., on February 23, 1978.

Whether advocating a strong national defense, better health care, less governmental interference in our daily lives, more fiscal responsibility, a strong agriculture or a sound and productive energy program—when Bob Krueger takes a stand he is a tough, intelligent fighter for his beliefs.

Col. V. Z. Cornelius Honored — Mohair Council Of America Votes To Keep Promoting

Members of the Mohair Council of America, meeting in San Angelo on January 19, voted to expend $190,000 during fiscal year 1978-79 to promote their product, passed a by-law change realigning the organization's districts, and elected a number of new directors to serve during the coming year.

Ozona ranch Bob Childress is the Council's new president, succeeding Sid Harkins of Sanderson. Other officers elected during the annual session are Herman L. Moore of Brownwood, vice president; and Robert L. Pfluger of San Angelo, secretary-treasurer.

The Council meeting was the first conducted since the organization had curtailed its New York operations and reduced its staff. According to Harkins, general operations expenditures have been cut approximately 50 percent but funds for promotion and advertising remain about the same as those expenditures that were made in 1976-77.

The by-law change approved by the membership was recommended by the Council's directors and Executive Committee in order to bring the Council's districts more in line with the current production area. Under the change the Council's previous 21 districts set up originally in 1966 have been reduced to 10 districts with one director allowed for each $3,000 or more collected by the Texas Mohair Producers Board during a calendar year.

Growers continued to hear optimistic reports from the market place. The Council's new executive director, Fred Campbell, reported demand still high for the fiber with strong prices expected for Spring, 1978.

In other action, the Council passed a special resolution honoring the late V. Z. Cornelius of Goldthwaite, who was one of the Council's founders, and gave appreciation awards to two employees, Mary L. Hagelstein and Ross McSwain, who will be leaving the Council staff this month.

Mills County Farm Bureau Newsletter

Everyone in Mills County knows the plight of today's farmer and rancher. Nearly every citizen of the County has now, or has had in the past a hand in the farming or ranching business.

We know that something has to be done to change this situation if we are to continue the standard of living we now enjoy.

Strikes and yelling at the government to give us something is probably not the answer. A fellow Farm Bureau member had this to say on the subject, "There are those that keep saying we must keep on hollering till they do something, the wheel that squeaks the loudest gets greased first is often reasoned."

Now, I've never known a wheel to be greased for the benefit of the wheel. Wheels are only greased for the benefit of the greaser! So, if you insist on squealing so as to be greased, you should be prepared to be ridden by the greaser. At least that's how it looks from the field or the pasture. By Charlie Dolerel.

Letter to The Editor

Jan. 21, 1978

Editor of The Goldthwaite Eagle: I am enclosing $1.00 and I would like to have a copy of The Eagle - probably the Sunday Edition (whatever my dollar will pay for) if it will pay for 2 copies, then send me the second copy of next week's paper.

I lived in Mills County years ago when I was a little girl. My father ran a cotton gin and corn mill in Mullin when I was a little girl, and later, he owned a farm 3 miles north of Mullin, and ran a dairy in town for a while, or rather, I think it was called a "creamery". We shipped butter in 2 directions - always on the night train - one box of butter, packed in ice, went to San Angelo - another box went east to Belton, as well as I remember.

The trains met in Mullin I think it was at 8:30 p.m. Anyway, I do not hear from that part of the world very often now, and would really like seeing a copy, or two, of the local newspaper.

Sometimes, at Christmas time, I get a Christmas card from Jessie (Crockett) and Willie Wasserman, out from Mullin, and Jessie has sent me a copy, or a clipping from "The Eagle" a time or two, which I thoroughly enjoyed. There are so few of the people I used to know there any more that I am not going to subscribe to the paper, but just for fun, thought I would enjoy seeing a copy or two of the local newspaper to see if there are any names I recognize.

The only two left of our family of seven are my youngest sister, Nannie Mae and me. So we will be looking forward to seeing a copy of the local paper soon.

Thank you and Happy 1978 to all of you.
