Federal Government Spent $1,651 For Every Texas Citizen In 1977

AUSTIN—Federal expenditures in Texas came to $20.2 billion, or $1,651 for every person in the state, during the last state budget year. Comptroller Bob Bullock calculated the outlays increased 14 percent over the previous fiscal year, when they totaled $17.7 billion or $1,446 per person. Overall, Bullock said 5.1 percent of all federal spending during the 1977 U.S. fiscal year went into Texas—an increase of 4.9 percent over 1976. As usual, the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare accounted for the biggest chunk of federal spending in the state—about $6.8 billion. The HEW outlays were up 19 percent in Texas, primarily because of increased social security benefits, an increase in medical assistance grants and higher Medicare costs. Department of Defense spending also increased, by 13 percent to $6.35 billion, and Department of Agriculture spending jumped 19 percent.

Texas retained its 35th place ranking among all states and the District of Columbia in per capita federal funds obtained. Bullock said state governmental revenues totaled $597 million in January, boosting total income for the current fiscal year to $2.96 billion, a 14 percent increase over the first five months of fiscal 1977. Spending through January came to $3.34 billion, an increase of 17 percent over last year.

Calif. Proposition 13 Makes Splash In Texas Political Arena

AUSTIN—Landslide passage of the California Proposition 13 property tax slash referendum set off political shock waves throughout Texas and the nation. Candidates for governor promptly picked up the battle cry of "slash taxes." Republican nominee Bill Clements pledged to work for a constitutional amendment providing ironclad limitations on taxation and the growth of government spending. Democratic candidate John Hill stopped short of all-out endorsement of California's Proposition 13 (which would limit property taxes to one per cent of fair market value, a cut of 57 per cent in California). But Hill said the concept is appealing. Sensing a taxpayer's "rebellion," he urged a legislative committee to study implications for Texas in similar tax ceiling measures. And he pledged anew to work for modest tax cuts for the elderly, small farmers and ranchers and small homeowners. House Speaker Bill Clayton expressed support of a "realistic" tax limit, taking into consideration inflation and population growth. He said he thinks Texas voters would support a ceiling overwhelmingly. There is no question the legislature will be considering a version of Proposition 13, said Clayton, since more than a dozen representatives and a senator have indicated they will introduce proposals, and several already are being drafted.

Comptroller Bob Bullock's office warned that a one per cent state property tax ceiling would reduce revenue in the state's largest counties (Harris, Tarrant, Dallas, Bexar and Travis) by $600 to $700 million a year. Texas has no provision for adoption by voters of legislative initiatives like Proposition 13. A tax ceiling here would have to be ordered as a constitutional amendment

AUSTIN—The number of cattle and calves on feed increased in Texas during May, as dry ranges, meager stock water supplies and healthy beef prices sent many head to auction, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported. There were 1,740,000 head of cattle and calves on feed during the month, Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service figures show, up 18 per cent from a year ago and three per cent above the month of April. "Cattle movement in many areas of the state was very active during that period," commented Brown, "mainly because ranchers simply couldn't afford to keep up the heavy feeding schedule caused by the drought. With cattle prices strong, it was a matter of survival for ranchers to market their herds whether they wanted to or not. "During the past few weeks, we have had good rains in most parts of the state," he continued. "Now ranchers needing to restock those herds will be facing the same strong market when buying replacement cattle."

Brown said demand for beef had remained strong despite higher retail prices with cattle feeders marketing 435,000 head of fed cattle during May. Marketings were 35 per cent above a year ago but only two per cent above those of the previous month. Feeders placed 504,000 head into lots during the month, 33 per cent above May, 1977, and 44 per cent above the previous month.

Texas—Size Eggs Needed!

AUSTIN--Texas egg producers can help keep intact the state's reputation for having the biggest of everything by entering the "World's Largest Egg Contest," urges Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

The contest is being held in conjunction with the Sixth Annual Central Maine Egg Festival in Pittsfield, Maine on July 22.

"There has never been a winner from Texas, although our state produces some of the finest eggs in the nation," Brown said. "If any Texas egg producers think they have award winning eggs, I urge them to enter. The contest usually evokes spirited competition among the states, and the state which produces the winning egg receives recognition."

Entries must be chicken eggs only, and must be shipped uncooked to arrive at the World's Largest Egg Contest, Hitchner Hall, University of Maine, Orono, Maine, 04473, prior to July 20. Each entry should be accompanied by a label indicating the town and state of origin, date of production, breed of chicken and name and address of owner. Entries must have been produced on or after Aug. 1, 1977.

Judging will be based on water displacement, Brown noted. Last year's winner displaced 174 cubic centimeters of water, he added.

Lawyers Sue

Lawyers are suing lawyers over the State Bar's plan to levy $150 assessments on 29,000 attorneys to pay notes on the $8 million Texas Law Center building in Austin.

The charge was approved 12,696 to 8,686 in a state-wide referendum, but opponents say lawyers were misled.

Lawyers who don't pay Bar dues and fees by September 1 can be barred from practice in the courts.

Opponents argue the Law Center was constructed without consultation with Bar membership, and directors promised membership fees would not be used to pay the notes.

Lands Leased

The State School Land Board netted another $19.1 million last week from lease sales on Texas public lands.

High bid of $1.7 million was submitted by Superior Oil Company for an offshore tract in Matagorda County. Other high bidders were Rutherford Partnership, bidding $868,320 on two offshore Kleberg County tracts; Mobil Oil Corporation, bidding $748,800 for offshore tracts in Brazoria County; and Kennedy and Mitchell Inc., with a bid of $612,000 for a tract owned by the Texas Department of Corrections.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong said average per acre bonuses were $92.34, and offshore acreage went for $105.63 an acre. In addition, the state receives a royalty of one-fifth the value of oil and gas produced.

Now, That's A Fish Story!

The following story was written by Catherine Pulpifer, mother in law of Ben Casbeer, of Portland, Ore. The article was published in the Northwest Senior Advocate recently. The author is in her middle 80's and is currently taking a writing course in a college in Portland.

THE BIG UN
Breathes there a fisherman who does not set out in hopes of catching the "big un"? I recall one fishing trip when this wish came true in a most unexpected way. I was living at the time on the banks of the Skagit River, a stream known world-wide for its steelhead fishing. We were visited by friends, dedicated steelheaders, who had an equally dedicated teenage grandson named Mickey.

Eager for a cast, Mickey persuaded his grandmother and me to show him my secret bank casting spot. Taking a back road through deep timber, then a faintly outlined trail to the river bar, we traveled happily along, two middle-aged housewives, an excited boy and a red Cocker Spaniel. This was to be the adventure of adventures for the city youngster—today he would catch the "big un" he had heard his elders brag about.

Mickey began casting immediately while we watched in anticipation. The Cocker, prowling nearby, growled and then barked loudly. He was such a distraction to our fishing party that I went to see what the noise was about. Horrified, I found the dog and a huge mountain lion confronting one another, warily watching to see who would get in the first blow of the battle.

No cougar had been seen in part of the Skagit for years and the appearance of this one was bone-chilling. Even more so was the menacing attitude of the cat. With loud yells, I grabbed the cocker on whatever part of his hide I could get a good hold and took to my heels down the trail. The others who had come running at my hollering also beat a swift retreat. Mickey grabbing up his dropped pole and reeling in his line as he fled.

The long end suddenly whipped out of the water and the hook caught on the ear of his grandmother who was hustling along in the rear. She screamed, "Mickey, Mickey", but the boy thought she meant for him to run faster and his feet gained momentum. My friend, hanging on to her ear with one hand and the fish line with the other, breathlessly followed. The mountain cat puzzled as to all the commotion padded behind, curiosity getting the better of caution. Unknown to us the animal stopped when the forest trail broke into the highway, but we only ran the faster on the smooth surface.

I, well in the lead and hanging desperately onto the raging dog, forgot all politeness to guests as I lapped along in oversize waders. Mickey, his untied tennis shoes flapping and his fishing had hanging on one ear, struggled to reel in his taut line. This suddenly slacked as his grandmother loosened the hook and her hold on the leader at the same time. Though freed, she still panted after us not wanting to become acquainted with the cougar on her own.

We burst into the cabin where the men folks were lazing about the fire. When they had disentangled our garbled three-way story about the big cat, my husband phoned the local predatory hunters. These men drove in shortly with their trained hounds. The cougar was quickly trailed and treed. A well aimed shot brought it to the ground. Neither of the hunters could understand why such a large wild animal, usually found only on our highest mountain tops, would come down to civilization.

Examination of the dead cat showed it to be an old, toothless female with broken claws. She could no longer hold down the deer she hunted to make her kill and was searching the river bank for salmon carcasses. Her luck had run out when she encountered three dauntless fishermen all set to catch the "big un".

The man who remembers what he learned at his mother's knee, was probably bent over it.

Indemnity Rate Hike Proposed

AUSTIN--Separate brucellosis indemnity rates for female calves and non-registered dairy cattle have been proposed, as well as increases in the indemnity rate for registered cattle, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has noted.

The new rates now under consideration by the U.S. Department of Agriculture are: $250 for registered cattle, $150 for non-registered dairy cattle and $25 for female calves destroyed because of brucellosis infection or exposure. The $50 rate for other non-registered cattle would remain unchanged, Brown added.

"The changes would bring indemnities closer to the animals' true market values," Brown said. "This should encourage greater participation by cattle owners in the cooperative state-federal brucellosis eradication program."

There were over 185 million broilers raised in Texas during 1977, making the state the seventh highest producer in the nation, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown reports.

HEARING TESTS ARE IMPORTANT

If you have a hearing problem of any kind, you owe it to yourself to have an Electronic Hearing test made to find why, and what can be done to help you before it is too late. The tests are free and will only take about 20 minutes of your time.

We explain in plain English what can be done to help you, then make your own decision. We never try to high-pressure you into buying anything.

There are thousands of people today suffering from hard of hearingness (even some who wear hearing aids) just because they waited too late to do something about it. - don't let this happen to you.

Mrs. Treadway will hold a regular Hearing Aid Workshop at the Mauney Courts in Goldthwaite, Monday, July 10, from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m.

We invite you to come in for your free test. We do repair service on most makes of Aids, and have a full service on cleaning, tubes, batteries for your Aid, and can always save you money. We are licensed by the State of Texas to fit and dispense Hearing Aids.

We are always close by when you need us. We are in the Hamilton office every Friday to run special tests and assist you in every way. You can pick up your batteries at the Mauney Courts if you need them before I get there.

Texas Food and Fiber

Texas Department of Agriculture
Reagan V. Brown, Commissioner

AGRICULTURE COMMISSIONER REAGAN V. BROWN termed the recent decision to increase foreign beef imports "very unwise and shortsighted," adding he is disappointed that no effort was made to consult with cattlemen or officials in Texas, the largest cattle producing state in the nation.

"Just when cattlemen are regaining the losses of four years and are trying to get out of debt is no time to bring in more beef," Brown said. "It will do more harm than good by discouraging them from rebuilding their herds, thus keeping supplies short."

Brown stated that he feels the Administration is only giving lip service to allowing supply and demand to govern market conditions. "This move to allow 200 million more pounds of beef into the country will not reduce beef prices by much, and will damage cattlemen's confidence in the future."

THE TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE will soon reorganize its district offices to offer better and more convenient services to the people of Texas, Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has announced.

"By combining district headquarters in some cases, and adding new offices in others, we can expedite the many agricultural and consumer services conducted from these facilities," Brown said. "We want to have offices convenient to the largest number of citizens so they can make better use of the services we provide."

Brown noted that one function of the Department is to inspect for accuracy all gasoline pumps and commercial scales in the state. The TDA also administers regulatory laws covering many segments of the Texas agriculture industry, and conducts marketing campaigns to help boost demand for Texas agricultural products.

BEEF FOR FATHER'S DAY is a natural, and this was the theme of the latest beef promotion by the Texas Department of Agriculture, Commissioner Reagan V. Brown reports.

"The Texas Cattle Feeders Association, the Texas CowBelles and various retailers helped make this the biggest beef promotion ever in the state," Brown said. "However, with demand for beef remaining steady even as prices rise, there seems to be no danger of the consuming public abandoning one of the mainstays of its diet."

Accent On Health

Warning signals are the same as those for sun-related skin cancers.
So, it is very important to see your doctor if you see any of the warning signs.

Many people think a suntan makes them look more attractive. It certainly is the fashion today to have a tan, but it wasn't always so. Fifty years ago Americans prized fair, delicate-looking skin.

Some people think soaking up the sun makes them healthy. In general, this isn't true, according to the Texas Department of Health. State health officials say the benefits of the sun are mostly psychological and are heavily outweighed by the dangers.

Almost all of the 30,000 cases of skin cancer developed by Americans each year are considered to be sun-related. Fortunately, if treated in time, most skin cancers are curable.

Skin cancer has early, visible warning signs.
These include a sore that doesn't heal, a change in size or color of a wart or mole, or the development of any unusual pigmented area.

There is a rare form of skin cancer called melanoma, which accounts for most of the nation's skin cancer deaths each year. Even though it is not primarily sun-related, the don't tan well. These are the people who should take special precautions.

Despite the possible damage to their skin, most people are unwilling to give up their sun-centered life styles. If you are one of these, learn to sun safely.

Sun before 10 a.m. and after 3 p.m., when the ultraviolet rays are the weakest. If this is too restrictive, lie out a maximum of 15 minutes during the danger hours.

Debbie Wilcox, Dale Page Repeat Wedding Vows In Church Ceremony

Debbie Deneise Wilcox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby L. Wilcox, Rt. 3, Goldthwaite, and Owen Dale Page, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Page, Priddy Star Rt., Goldthwaite, were united in marriage June 24, 1978 at 8:00 p.m. with Rev. Dan Connally performing the ceremony in the First Baptist Church of Goldthwaite.

Vows were exchanged under an arch entwined with greenery and blue, yellow, and white flowers, flanked by candelabra with white candles and greenery, with baskets of white, blue and yellow flowers on each side of the candelabras. Blue satin bows marked the family pews.

Music was by Sybil Head and Carol Matthews. Carol accompanied Harry Matthews who sang The Wedding Song, We've Only Just Begun, and Always and Forever.

Given in marriage by her father who wore a black tux, the bride was attired in a floor length gown of white chiffon over satin with an empire bodice of Chantilly lace over satin, accented with seed pearls. The lace sleeves featured wide cuffs of lace covered satin. The A-line skirt fell into a chapel trim with lace and her nylon illusion veil edged in lace was attached to a beaded caplet of lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue carnations, baby's breath, yellow daisies and white roses.

For something old the bride wore a necklace borrowed from the groom's grandmother; something new was her dress and a gold heart necklace given to her by the groom; something blue was a garter; and a penny in her shoe.

Delilah Wilcox attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Priddy Wilcox, sister of the bride and Kimberly Miller, cousin of the bride. Their dresses were blue chiffon over taffeta with ruffled neckline and ruffled skirt that made a bustle bow in back. They carried nosegays of yellow daisies, blue carnations and white roses.

The flower girl was Deidra Bramblett, cousin of the bride, her dress was blue eyelet and she carried a white basket with flower trim and rose petals.

The ring bearer was Phillip Miller, cousin of the bride, dressed in a white tux with baby blue ruffled shirt.

The candlelighters were Stacy Hampton, cousin of the bride, and Damon Bramblett, also a cousin. Stacy wore a blue eyelet dress and Damon wore a black tux.

Tim Spradley served as best man and Hugh Taylor and Donny Humphries were groomsmen. They wore black tuxedos with baby blue ruffled shirts, with boutonnières of blue carnations.

Ushers were Troyce Wilcox, brother of the bride, Mark Lawrence, Mike Connally and Tommy Howard. They were dressed in black tuxedos with white and black shirts, with white boutonnières. The groom wore an ice blue tux with blue boutonnières.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wilcox chose a floor length gown of baby blue knit with jacket and beaded lace trim. The groom's mother wore a floor length gown of chiffon beige blouse and floral print skirt. The mothers wore white carnation corsages.

The honor guests were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Bramblett and Mrs. Arthur Wilcox and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. C. A. Page. The grandmothers wore floor length gowns and had white carnation corsages. Debbie's grandfather wore a chapel suit with a white boutonniere.

Following the ceremony the reception was held in the Youth Center of the church. The bride's table was covered with floor length satin and net white cloth. A silver and crystal tiered candelabra centered the table with yellow daisies, blue carnations and baby breath and greenery. The bride's four-tiered white cake was decorated with blue and white roses. The tiers were separated by white columns and the top was blue satin wedding bells. Sherbet punch was served, from a crystal punch bowl.

The groom's table was covered with floor length white satin and net cloth. A silver vase centered the table with an arrangement of yellow daisies and blue carnations. The groom's two-tiered chocolate cake was decorated with chocolate roses and lattice work on a silver tray. It was topped with a cluster of chocolate roses.

Amy Page, sister of the groom, served the bride's cake, and Sheila Thomas, cousin of the groom, served punch. Elva Corona served the groom's cake and Laura Goekel served the coffee from the silver coffee service. Other members of the house party were Hazel Brooks, Bonnie Rush, Jo Spradley, Laverne Hale, Patty Johnson, Coleman Taylor, Geraldine Goekel, and Geneva Eubanks.

Tracy Hampton, Billie Wallace, and Teresa Tiemann passed out the blue and white rice bags from crystal bowls.

After a wedding trip to Galveston and Houston the couple will reside in San Angelo where they will attend school at Angelo State University. A 1978 graduate of Goldthwaite High School, the bride will attend Angelo State starting in July. The bridegroom is a 1975 graduate of Goldthwaite High School and is currently attending Angelo State University where he is a senior physical education major.

REHEARSAL DINNER

The rehearsal dinner was hosted Friday night by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Page at their home. Relatives and members of the wedding party attended. The bride and groom presented gifts to their attendants at this time.

'Pixie' Won't Rest on Her Laurels

At 71 years of age, Isabella Charbneau Warren isn't about to let any grass grow under her feet.

"You know what happens when you start thinking you're over the hill?" Mrs. Warren told a writer from The National Council on the Aging. "There's a special epitaph for people like that: 'Died at 40, buried at 80.'"

Together with her husband, Clair Warren, Isabella owns and manages Charby's Pixies, a cozy antique shop in Wenatchee, Washington. The Warrens handle miniatures, art and antiques of every description.

In addition to the shop, Mrs. Warren is a well-known antique and estate appraiser, possessing a special talent for establishing the worth of household belongings, paintings, antiques—you name it, she'll tell you how much—merely by looking at them.

As a testimony to Mrs. Warren's expertise as an appraiser, a quick look at her list of past clients demonstrate why she has such a fine reputation as an appraiser. She's appraised the toy collection of Danny Kaye's wife and the homes of Jack Benny, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Leo Durocher and Claudette Colbert, among others.

"That was a lot of fun," Mrs. Warren said, "but it was a while ago. I'm more interested in the present and the future."

Ironically, although Mrs. Warren is wedded to present-day society, she's recently been very busy appraising family heirlooms and hand-me-downs for Wenatchee residents.

"Ever since 'Roots' was on television, people are digging into their family origins," she said. "I've been telling area people to have their family heirlooms appraised. You never know when you'll find something of considerable value, especially in this part of the country. A lot of people don't realize it, but Wenatchee is the site of many historical events. There's a real treasure trove of antiques around here."

Clair Warren retired in 1964 after a long career in the insurance business. Although he's less vocal than his wife, Mr. Warren also believes in staying active.

"Of course, a lot of my activity revolves around the shop," he said, "but I'm also very active in the local Lions Club and we both enjoy traveling."

Seconding her husband's comment on travel, Isabella said, "We travel all the time. And we've got a special trip planned for 1978—we're going to spend our wedding anniversary at Palm Springs where we were married. Isn't that nice?"

Hints for HOMEMAKERS TIPS TO HELP YOU

By Samantha
Fixing up the children's room? Make it fun and for them—and easy on you—with these tips from the Lestoi Home Service.

• Paint it bright. Why not pink or blue? Sunny low (especially in a room that's stingy on windows) snappy red, white and blue can be much gayer—and quickly outgrown.

• Play it safe. Make scatter rugs have a non-slip backing, light bulbs are protected from inquisitive fingers and flying objects, windows have good locks and no nails.

• Plan a room that grows. An adjustable clothesline moves up as your child adds inches; shelves and storage cubes hold toys, books and records later.

• Use "comforting" items. Kids love snugly blanket, plushy rugs (cozy for sitting), cuddly toys—indulge them. Just be sure to look for a "Washable" tag.
