Lions Club Hears Chamber Of Commerce Program; Response Seen As Enthusiastic

Members of the Goldthwaite Lions Club heard several people echo the same sentiments at the group's regular meeting last Tuesday night here.

Danny Long, County Extension Agent, got the ball rolling with a report on the Chamber of Commerce ground work being done by the County Program Building Committee, a group of men and women interested in community betterment and growth. The Building Committee met recently and heard reports from citizens and organizations voicing the need for a chamber of commerce in Goldthwaite and Mills County. The group was at the Lions Meeting to get the support of the organization, made up of many of the businessmen and leading individuals of our area.

Texas organization has a strong Legislative arm and makes the wishes of the West Texas area known in Austin on pieces of legislation that would affect this part of the United States.

"We will have a county-wide developmental meeting in the near future for a chamber of commerce," Long said. "Working together for the benefit of all our county citizens is our primary purpose," he added.

The investigation of all the pros and cons of such an undertaking will be done at that developmental meeting, as well as the research into areas that need chamber of commerce type support, such as youth related promotions and better development of natural resources. The enlightenment of business and community leaders in areas that need assistance and work will be basic to the meeting.

Long presented Jesse Miles, a director in the San Saba Chamber of Commerce. Miles is owner of the Miles Motors, and has had a lot of experience in Chamber of Commerce circles.

"I am delighted with the turnout and the enthusiasm shown here tonight," Miles told the gathering. "Your enthusiasm will be caught by others in the community. I am sure," he said.

"The influx of people from other areas of the United States to Central Texas is fantastic. Our communities need to bring out the positives we all take for granted. We don't need to dwell on the negatives," Miles explained.

He said the involvement is growing each time the chamber meets in San Saba. As the group does more, the membership increases. The group now has a secretary to handle the numerous phone calls and letters directed at the chamber.

Miles told the group that organizations like the Lions Club cannot fully function as a chamber of commerce. The local organization may try, but visitors and interested persons always address inquiries to the chamber of commerce officials, it's just the system used in most places.

"An inquiry to the Goldthwaite Chamber of Commerce at the present time is a 'hit or miss' deal," Miles added. "It usually ends in someone's file thirteen because it's not their job to handle the question," he expressed.

Getting the questions and inquiries into the proper hands is essential, and the education of the persons involved is necessary to the fulfillment of this duty. The communities need to work out their fulfillment of this duty. The communities need to work out their ideas and have them in a good form to present to newcomers, Miles related to the group.

Miles turned the platform over to John Barnes, a representative of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He is membership director for the organization and lives in Abilene.

Barnes told those assembled that the West Texas Chamber can add a lot of input into the organizational efforts of a new chamber for Mills County. The West

W. P. Duren, president of the Mills County State Bank, and a long-time member of the West Texas Chamber told the citizens at the meeting: "We need to get the whole county involved, and if we do then a chamber will work and we'll all benefit."

Barnes defined a chamber of commerce. He said it is not a social or welfare organization but a group put together to enhance the business community, and therefore strengthen life as a whole in our communities.

Barnes likes the idea of ladies working in chamber of commerce endeavors. He responded with that statement after questions were raised about Lions Clubs and Chamber work being overlapping. Women are not usually members of Lions Clubs.

Extension Agent Long closed the meeting with some remarks of unity in order for the organization to get started. He announced at the session that a countywide meeting has been tentatively set for May 3rd to discuss the situation. He voiced appreciation to the Lions Club for its hospitality and willingness to seek new areas to add to the betterment of our area.

The charred Ford pickup, belonging to F. W. Lewis of Goldthwaite, lies under the burned out wreckage of the truck and trailer that were in collision last Friday, fatally injuring Mr. Lewis, and his wife, Kay. Their daughter Kathryn was pulled from the wreckage and is still listed in critical condition at an Abilene Hospital. The driver of the large truck was not injured.

Daughter Kathryn Critical

'Nubbin' And Kay Lewis Fatally Injured In Crash

The small community of Goldthwaite was rocked back on its heels last Friday afternoon, following the tragic car-truck collision which claimed the lives of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Lewis, and placed their 17-year-old daughter, Kathryn, in critical condition.

The collision occurred about two miles south of the early "Y" on U.S. Highway 33, when an empty cattle truck apparently veered over the center stripe and collided with the Lewis pickup. The Goldthwaite family was on their way to participate in the Brownwood FFA Rodeo that night.

Units from both the Early and Brownwood Fire Departments answered calls to the scene to extinguish the tremendous inferno that erupted when gasoline, diesel and other combustibles burst into flame following the crash. Kathryn, who is now hospitalized in Abilene, with multiple bone breaks, internal injuries and lacerations, was pulled from the wreckage before it exploded by passers-by. She was transported to Brownwood Hospital and then to Abilene later.

The driver of the cattle truck, Garrison Cagle of Comanche, was not injured in the accident. Investigating Texas Highway Patrolman Jim Byars said the truck driver apparently lost control due to the rainy weather and the slick road conditions at that point on the highway. The cattle truck was southbound, and the Lewis vehicle was northbound, toward Brownwood.

Fannie Kathleen "Kay" Lewis, 47, was born July 30, 1931 in Gorman, Texas to L. and Kinzie Sparkman Kemp. She was secretary at the First Baptist Church in Goldthwaite.

Mrs. Lewis is survived by daughter, Kathryn of the same; her father, G. L. Kemp, two sisters, Mira Lee Mager of Goldthwaite and Irene Bradley of Brownwood; two brothers, W. M. Kemp of Jal, N.M. and James Kemp of El Paso.

Frank Winston "Nubbin" Lewis, 48, was born September 14, 1930, in San Saba County. He had served in the U.S. Navy and was foreman of the Highway Department in Goldthwaite at the time of death.

Mr. Lewis is survived by daughter, Kathryn; his father, Pearl Lewis of Brownwood; one brother, Walter Lewis of Del Rio; four sisters, Lucile Hardman of Abilene, Juanita Turner of Brownwood, Ruth Cunningham of San Angelo, and Lillian Ball of Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis were married in April, 1948, in Goldthwaite and had lived there all their married life. They were members of the First Baptist Church. Funeral services were conducted Monday, April 23, 1979 at 2:00 p.m., in the First Baptist Church of Goldthwaite, with Rev. Doug Holtzclaw and Rev. Dan Connally officiating. Burial was in the Goldthwaite Memorial Cemetery.

Serving as pallbearers for

Mrs. Lewis were Hawley Jernigan, John Davidson, Arnold Roberts, J. D. Harper, Wencil Page, and Allen Moreland.

Pallbearers for Mr. Lewis were Richard Morrow, Houston Duren, N. S. Ward, Danny Long, Truett Auldridge, and Duane Turner.

Lions Program Snapshot

John Barnes, standing at the right, gives the Goldthwaite Lions Club members a few words of encouragement about individual participation in a chamber of commerce organization for Mills County. Barnes is a representative of the West Chamber of Commerce. He followed Jesse Miles, center, on the program. Miles, owner of Miles Motors in San Saba, is a moving force in the chamber there. He also gave the people at the meeting a superb pep talk concerning the operations and procedures of a chamber of commerce organization. Seated at the left is Goldthwaite Lions Club member Bob Steen. Bob is a charter member of the local club.

The lessons will be on four consecutive Mondays of May, beginning May 1 at 3:30 p.m. John Ingram, the tennis professional at Lost Creek Country Club in Austin, will be teaching. By scheduling the lessons one week apart, John feels the students will make greater progress because of practice times in between. Each class of 6 to 8 will last 1 1/2 hours and will be divided according to ability; so beginners, intermediates, and advanced players will get the maximum return. The Tennis Association feels this is a great opportunity for residents of this area to acquire skills in a very popular sport. Please enroll by May 1, 1979, by calling either Mary Louise Banks 648-3272, or Winn Welch 648-3275.

MHMR Director Guest Speaker At April FHA Meeting - Topic-Marriage

By Suzy Muse

The FHA girls had as guest speaker at their April meeting Mr. Chester Moore, program director of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. Mr. Moore talked about some of the most important things to a successful marriage. Including:

(1). Communication - If you can't communicate how do you know what the other wants or expects. For a marriage to be successful you have to talk to your partner on how you feel, how you like things done, and you have to let your partner know what is expected of them.

(2). Having something in common - If you have something in common that you can do together, then you will likely become closer. A marriage where two people have nothing in common usually ends up in disaster. More marriages succeed where the interests are the same.

Your partner has to be your friend besides being your husband or wife.

If you need professional advice for your problems, don't hesitate to go to a counselor. This is nothing to be ashamed of. Or go to a friend. If you have a problem that you can't work out find someone who can help you.

Mr. Moore said he did not believe in divorce, although he said sometimes it is the only solution. You can always work a problem out if you try hard enough.

This year the FHA girls sold cookbooks to raise money for a $100 scholarship to be given to the most outstanding FHA senior. The FHA made a little over $100. A contest was held and Tracy Kincheloe won first prize, Tana Allen won second, for selling the most cookbooks.

Every quarter the FHA chapter chooses a special student. The second quarter student for 1979 is Phyllis Oltroge.

FHA officers for the 1979-80 year are:

Joy Truitt, President
 Roberta Doak, 1st Vice Pres.
 Jana Duncan, 2nd Vice Pres.
 Sunnye Sims, Sec.-Treas.
 Kathryn Lewis, Reporter
 Kelli Connally, Historian
 Cheryl Elliott and Sandy Davis - Civil Defense
 Melanie Vaughan, Song Leader
 Beverly Carothers, Pianist

JUNIOR CLASS HONORS SENIORS

On Thursday evening the Junior Class gave a banquet to honor the Senior Class. It was held at Traveler's Steak House in Early. The theme carried out was "Friday Night Fever". The dinner was a steak dinner, of course. The program included a pictorial presentation of funny incidents in the lives of the seniors. Following this was a musical program presented by a Rock Band from Richland Springs. Glenda Rhoades and Phillip Hartley presented the class prophecy. Natalie Whitlock, Dawn Kincheloe, and Nanette Norwood read the Senior Will. A group of about 70 persons enjoyed the evening.

"E" FOR EFFORT TO GIRLS TRACK TEAM

The Star High School girls Track Team went to Abilene for the Regional Meet. The Mile Relay team did not do quite as well as they had hoped to. None of the girls will be going to state, but they did very well and we are proud of their achievements for the season.

TWO MEN SUFFER FROM BURNS

Two men in the Star community suffered severe burns this past week. Mike Hall was burned on the face and head and was reported to be doing O. K. Junie Horton, was burned about the face and neck, with more severe burns to the neck. His wife was quoted as saying "He is doing better, but still does not look better." We want to remember these men in our prayers.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR WORSHIP

Star Baptist Church will hold a series of preaching services each evening of May 3rd, 4th, and 5th, and a morning service of May 6. Scooter McCurdy, a former pastor at the Star Church, will be the speaker. You will want to attend as many of these services as possible.

Star Baptist Church held a fellowship and furnished a Hot Dog Supper for the young people of the community last Sunday evening. They ate, played volleyball, flew kites, and all had a good time. If you did not go, you missed a good time.

The Mills Minister

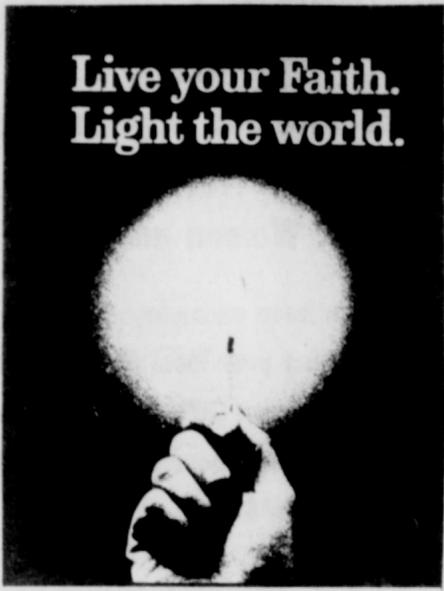

Don Vlasak, Pastor Zion Lutheran - Priddy

What a marvelous spring-time after a hard winter! And Christ's resurrection from the dead is the promised springtime for those who have recently experienced the harsh, cold winter of death.

The events of this past week make me say this. But now I turn to the subject of sharing that multiplies the harvest of good things. Folks all over are sharing. One fellow has gotten a good stand of cabbage plants from a 45c package of seed. He bought them from some youngsters who went around peddling them for some coveted prize. He is sharing plants with anyone who will take. Another has hefty tomato plants to supply all the neighbors. Ladies are sharing their excess flower seedlings, snapdragons, moss roses and clematis.

These fine, hardy plants give promise (if the rain continues to bless our rain) of baskets of healthy vegetables and fruits. Our flower fillers are apt to remind us of Paradise to come.

Sharing multiplies and multiplies an abundant fruitful yield. So we are enriched by new insights into the Scriptures and applications of the cherished truths - share with me and with you. Be filled with the word of Christ dwelling (and us) richly. Col.

The Moline Menace . by Bob Altenloh

OH THOSE STUDENTS!... If you ever see an ambulance careening through traffic with its siren wide open, and it turns down a residential street on two wheels, I can tell you from here what it is all about—They overpaid a piano teacher, it went to his heart and he keeled over.

There are other uses for an ambulance, however. I had so many students that it was next to impossible to allow make-ups. Because the parents were so worried about paying for a lesson Herbert missed, they'd bring him out of a hospital bed, prop him up with 2 by 4's, and let him wheeze through his piano lesson. They would rush him back to the hospital.

Small boys were the most interesting characters. I had one sitting on a bench, not quite ready for the Prokofieff concerto, but adequately eager. On this particular day he sat with his finger in his nose. I waited. Pick Pick Pick! He didn't take his finger out. I waited. I waited some more in silence. Finally I asked him, "Do you suppose it's on the other side?"

I presumed he lost a steam shovel while out playing in his yard.

Another small boy sat the same way. He had his hand cupped over the other hand. "Guess what I got?", he asked, looking up with a broad grin. I assumed that he had something in his cupped hands. "A marble," I said. No. "A piece of paper?" No. "A rock?" No. Then I went imaginative knowing they like this. "A horse?", I asked. "Nope," he said. Finally after a long list I said, "I give up. What have you got?" He replied, "Tonsillitis."

I had victims for the piano, sitting there like a Buddha, for 20 years. They ranged from the nose picker to budding concert pianists, from little Alley Cat tunne-smiths to pros who wanted bookings. I had blind children because nobody else would take them. At first it was the blind leading the blind, but by watching their problems they taught me how to teach them. Together we made it many times. Some wrapped up Moonlight

Sonatas, Chopin works, and a few, whole piano concertos.

Most difficult at times were the mothers. One would ask her little Cedric, "Well, does mother's little man think he'd like to take up the piano? Hmmm?" I told her quickly that his answer is no. I argued that she didn't ask him if he wanted to enroll in school.

Other mothers deserved medals for bravery in action. One, I had, arrived promptly at 3:30 every Tuesday afternoon. Little Mike Gruber would leap out of the car and run all over the lawns. She would get out of the car and chase him all over the neighborhood! It was like an early silent movie comedy. She would capture him, then drag him in. She would invariably say, "I'll leave him here. I have to shop." I fought desperately. "Nononono," I said. "That would destroy every other student's lesson until you returned. He'd run around the walls!" I admired Mike, though. He pulled a clever con on me. I admired his "straight shootin'". He said, "Why don't you tell my mother you quit teaching. The other students wouldn't need to know. Then I could get out of these crummy piano lessons."

I liked him because I must have seen in him a lot of myself. It takes one to know one.
